In a letter dated 24 November 1967 (S/8262) to the President of the Security Council, the representative of Cyprus requested the convening of an "immediate emergency meeting of the Security Council, as a matter of the utmost urgency, in view of the clear threat of imminent invasion of the territory of the Republic of Cyprus by Turkish forces" in order to "take forthwith appropriate measures, under the relevant provisions of the Charter, for the purpose of averting the imminent invasion and protecting and safeguarding the territorial integrity of the Republic of Cyprus".

At its 1383rd meeting on 24/25 November 1967, the Security Council decided without objection to include the complaint in its agenda. The President, with the consent of the Council, invited the representatives of Cyprus, Turkey and Greece, pursuant to their requests, to participate without vote in the discussion.

Following a debate and consultations with members of the Council, the President read out the following text of a consensus which was agreed upon by the members of the Security Council:

"After holding consultations with the members of the Council, I have been authorized to make the following statement on behalf of the Security Council:

The Council has now acquainted itself with the position of the parties directly concerned. It is gravely concerned in view of the tense and dangerous situation with regard to Cyprus. The Council notes with satisfaction the efforts undertaken by the Secretary-General to help maintain peace in the region and calls upon all the parties concerned to show the utmost moderation and restraint and to refrain from any act which might aggravate the situation in Cyprus and constitute a threat to the peace. The Security Council further requests all concerned urgently to assist and co-operate in keeping the peace and arriving at a permanent settlement in accordance with the resolution of the Security Council of 4 March 1964."

At the 1381st meeting on 20 November 1967, the representative of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics introduced a draft resolution (S/8253). Under the operative paragraphs of this resolution the Council would:

(1) declare that peace and final solutions to this problem can be achieved within the framework of the Charter of the United Nations; (2) urge that the following steps should be taken: (a) the parties to the conflict should immediately withdraw their forces to the positions they held before 5 June 1967 in accordance with the principle that the seizure of territories as a result of war is inadmissible; (b) all States Members of the United Nations in the area should immediately recognize that each of them has the right to exist as an independent national State and to live in peace and security, and should renounce all claims and desist from all acts inconsistent with the foregoing; (3) deem it necessary in this connexion to continue its consideration of the situation in the Middle East, collaborating directly with the parties concerned and making use of the presence of the United Nations, with a view to achieving an appropriate and just solution of all aspects of the problem on the basis of the following principles: (a) the use or threat of force in relations between States is incompatible with the Charter of the United Nations; (b) every State must respect the political independence and territorial integrity of all other States in the area; (c) there must be a just settlement of the question of the Palestine refugees; (d) innocent passage through international waterways in the area in accordance with international agreements; (4) consider that, in harmony with the steps to be taken along the lines indicated above, all States in the area should put an end to the state of belligerency, take measures to limit the useless and destructive arms race, and discharge the obligations assumed by them under the Charter of the United Nations and international agreements.

At its 1382nd meeting, on 22 November 1967, the sponsors of the draft resolutions contained in documents S/8227, S/8229 and S/8236 having indicated that they would not press for a vote at that stage, the Council proceeded to vote on the United Kingdom draft resolution circulated in document S/8247 and adopted it unanimously (resolution 242 (1967)). The representative of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics then stated that he would not press for a vote at that stage on the USSR draft resolution contained in document S/8253.
