1. Christian Children's Fund

Special consultative status granted in 1985

Aims and Mission

Christian Children's Fund (CCF) is an international child development organization which works for the well-being of 10.5 million children in 33 countries worldwide regardless of race, creed or gender. CCF understands that poverty is a complex problem, and has more than 65 years of experience in identifying and addressing its root causes. Within the context of alleviating child poverty, vulnerability and deprivation, CCF creates programs in a variety of different areas that provide practical assistance to impoverished communities, and plant the seeds of self-sufficiency. CCF's integrated development model is made up of interventions in six primary sectors: Early Childhood Development, Education, Family Income Generation, Health & Sanitation; Nutrition; Emergency and Disaster Relief.

Summary

CCF contributes to the work of the United Nations in a number of ways. Representatives of the organization participate in United Nations forums, events, conferences and commissions such as the Commission on the Status of Women (CSW), Commission for Social Development (CSD), and the Permanent Forum for Indigenous Peoples. CCF has also organized workshops at United Nations (UN) conferences on specific issues to promote awareness of issues or best examples from the field. CCF has collaborative relationships with a number of UN agencies including UNICEF, WFP, and UNHCR. Regularly, CCF cooperates through various forums such as the Board of the NGO Committee on UNICEF and the NGO Committee on Social Development.

2001/2002

In 2001 and 2002, CCF continued to serve as the President of the NGO Committee on UNICEF. CCF organized and participated in the NGO Steering Committee of the NGO Committee on UNICEF for the UN General Assembly Special Session on Children (UNGASS). This NGO Steering Committee in collaboration with UNICEF facilitated the meaningful participation of hundreds of NGOs in the three Preparatory Meetings (First Prepcom: May 2001; Second Prepcom: January 2001; Third PrepCom: 11-15 June 2001) and in UNGASS (8-12 May 2002) in New York. The NGO Steering Committee facilitated regional and issue-based caucuses, the publication of a daily newsletter, orientation sessions as well as workshops in New York. CCF representatives participated in all PrepComs and the UNGASS session. Ms. Margery Kabuya, CCF Regional Representative for Eastern Africa, was one of 15 NGO representatives to make an oral presentation on the well-being of children to the delegates at UNGASS.

2003

In 2003, CCF was elected Vice-chair of the NGO Working Group on Girls (WGG) of the NGO Committee on UNICEF in New York. The WGG promotes the implementation of Section L of the Beijing Platform of Action. Within this framework CCF provided leadership in preparation, publishing and distribution of a brochure on girls and HIV/AIDS entitled Empowering Girls to Beat HIV/AIDS.

CCF staff also participated in the 56th Annual DPI/NGO Conference entitled “Human Security and Dignity: Fulfilling the Promise of the United Nations” 8–10 September 2003 in New York. The CCF Senior Advisor for Protection, made a presentation at a luncheon workshop on “Community-based Healing for Survivors of Sexual Violence--A View from Sierra Leone”.

As a contribution to Millennium Development Goal (MDG) No. 1 (Eradication of Poverty) and to understand in greater depth how children experience poverty, CCF launched a study on children and poverty. Rather than build on normative ideas and assumptions, CCF chose to develop a framework for child poverty based on a combination of recent theoretical understandings in social science and the actual experiences of children in the communities in which CCF operates. Findings of this research were published in a series of three papers: 1. Children and Poverty: Shaping a Response to Poverty: A Conceptual Overview and Implications for Responding to Children Living in Poverty. 2. A Review of Contemporary Literature and Thought on Children and Poverty: Rethinking the Causes, Experiences and Effects. 3. Voices of Children: Experiences and Perceptions for Belarus, Bolivia, Kenya and Sierra Leone. CCF has presented key findings of the Study in panels, workshops, conferences within the UN structure and outside. For example, CCF organized a workshop on children and poverty entitled “Children and Millennium Development Goal No. 1 - Eradicating extreme poverty and hunger. How do children perceive poverty? Are the usual income poverty measures gender and child sensitive? Actions from the field” for the 57th Annual DPI/NGO Conference “Millennium Development Goals: Civil Society Takes Action”, 8-10 September 2004 at United Nations Headquarters. A UNICEF staff and NGO representatives participated in the panel.

To continue to promote the needs and rights of girls, CCF undertook the following activities:

1. During the 48th Session of the Commission on the Status of Women (1-12 March 2004) in New York, CCF in collaboration with other NGOs sponsored two workshops on the following themes: 1. Men and Boys - Obstacles or Partners in Girls’ Empowerment and 2. Conflict Resolution. CCF also supported the Statement Number E/CN.6/2004/NGO/20 on the girl child and rights.
2. During the Third Session of the UN Permanent Forum on Indigenous Issues (10 - 21 May 2004) at the United Nations, NY, CCF collaborated with WGG in organizing a workshop entitled “Turning the Spotlight on the Needs and Rights of Indigenous Girls”. On 10 May 2004, four indigenous girls from Africa, Central America, United States of America and Canada described their roles in their communities. They talked about the obstacles they face and how they can surmount these challenges.

In June 2004 CCF was elected again as a member of the Board of the NGO Committee on UNICEF and took on the role of Co-chair.

At the Third Session of the UNICEF Executive Board (13-17 September 2004) in New York, CCF presented an oral statement on Early Childhood Development (ECD). CCF described the nature of comprehensive, community based, flexible ECD programmes. The statement emphasized the need to build upon local traditions and resources. It also encouraged governments to continue to invest in such ECD programmes.

In celebration of the Tenth Anniversary of the International Year of the Family, on 14 September 2004, UNICEF hosted an informal consultation entitled “The Child in the Family” at the UN Secretariat Building. The panelists included Ms. Carol Bellamy of UNICEF, Mr. Johan Scholvinck of the Division for Social Policy & Development and Mr. John Scultz, of CCF. His presentation was entitled “Family as a Foundation for Care”.

During 2001-2004, CCF continued to have collaborative partnerships in humanitarian assistance with the following UN agencies: UNICEF in Timor-Leste, Afghanistan, Liberia, and Sierra Leone; UNHCR in Afghanistan and Sierra Leone; UNDP in Afghanistan, Honduras, Sierra Leone, Ukraine and Liberia; and WFP in Kenya, Uganda, and Honduras.

Special status granted in 2001

Part I

Areas of Activity

Intervida’s daily work is performed in accordance with the objective of improving the living conditions of the communities we support, according to the Millennium Goals. Fundación Intervida’s main areas of work, performed in association with local partners, are structured upon three fundamental axes:

Education: Intervida generates educational material to support national education networks. As part of this area of activity, it runs material distribution campaigns and campaigns to improve educational infrastructure (building classrooms, hygiene facilities, perimeter walls, patios, etc.). It also provides training for teachers in new pedagogical areas, as well as providing training for parents.

Health and nutrition: Our projects are aimed at improving health indices by means of curative and preventive action. In addition, our efforts are directed towards promoting the quality of the aid network in each country via training for nurses and other health professionals involved in rural healthcare and by supporting national public health institutions. Similarly we build drinking water systems to meet communities’ water needs. We supplement nutritional requirements, when the need arises, by distributing food supplies.

Production: Based on the needs of the community, production projects are oriented towards generating financial earnings via the creation of cooperatives in areas such as agriculture, livestock farming, forestry and artisan trade. The objective is to ensure the financial self-sufficiency of these groups over the medium and long term by commercializing production surpluses.

Similarly we employ various lateral axes, the main ones being:

- Infrastructure
- Community organization and training.
- Culture.
