* Act XLII of 1999 on the regional structuring in Hungary ruled that these changes will take place at one occasion in four years at the time of the general elections for the local governments. Therefore all above decisions announced by the President of the Republic of Hungary will enter into force on the day of the elections for the local governments due to be held later this year. Its probable (and latest possible) date will be 27 October 2002.

For further development can be given about the new statistical-planning regions set up in 1998 and reported in WP No. 55 on the 20th Session of UNGEGN. Comprising 3 counties each with the exception of the Central Region around the capital city of Budapest, they cannot be regarded as administrative units in the strict sense. Set up for regional statistical data supply and eventual competition for regional projects in the European Union, the present regions can still be regarded as provisional.
