The Meeting of States Parties,

Recalling the responsibility of all States parties to fulfil in good faith the obligations assumed by them under the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea,

Recalling also that the rights of the coastal State over the continental shelf do not depend on occupation, effective or notional, or any express proclamation,

Noting the importance of the delineation of the outer limits of the continental shelf beyond 200 nautical miles and that it is in the broader interest of the international community that States with a continental shelf beyond 200 nautical miles submit information on the outer limits of the continental shelf beyond 200 nautical miles to the Commission on the Limits of the Continental Shelf for examination in accordance with article 76 of the Convention,

Recalling the importance of the work of the Commission for coastal States and the international community as a whole,

Mindful of the increasing workload of the Commission owing to an increasing number of submissions and the need to ensure that the Commission can perform its functions under the Convention effectively and maintain its high level of quality and expertise,

(c) Preliminary information submitted by a coastal State in accordance with subparagraph (a) is without prejudice to the submission in accordance with the requirements of article 76 of the Convention and with the Rules of Procedure and the Scientific and Technical Guidelines of the Commission, and the consideration of the submission by the Commission;

(d) The Secretary-General shall inform the Commission and notify member States of the receipt of preliminary information in accordance with subparagraph (a), and make such information publicly available, including on the website of the Commission;
