“The Council expresses support for the proximity talks and voices concern that this incident took place while the proximity talks are under way and urges the parties to act with restraint, avoiding any unilateral and provocative actions, and all international partners to promote an atmosphere of cooperation between the parties and throughout the region.”

At the same meeting, in accordance with the understanding reached in its prior consultations, the Council also decided to extend invitations, under rule 39 of its provisional rules of procedure, to Mr. Alain Le Roy, Under-Secretary-General for Peacekeeping Operations, and Ms. Susana Malcorra, Under-Secretary-General for Field Support.

At the same meeting, following consultations among members of the Security Council, the President made the following statement on behalf of the Council:<sup>45</sup>

“The Security Council reaffirms the recommendations made in its resolutions 1327 (2000) and 1353 (2001) and in the statements by its President of 3 May<sup>46</sup> and 4 November 1994,<sup>47</sup> 28 March 1996,<sup>48</sup> 31 January 2001<sup>49</sup> and 17 May 2004<sup>50</sup> and the note by its President of 14 January 2002<sup>51</sup> and confirms its intention to strengthen further efforts to implement fully those recommendations. The Council recalls, in particular, from the statement by its President of 3 May 1994, the appropriate factors that should be taken into account when the establishment of a new peacekeeping operation is under consideration.

“The Council believes that United Nations peacekeeping is a unique global partnership that draws together the contributions and commitment of the entire United Nations system. The Council is committed to strengthening this partnership. The Council recognizes the important work conducted by the Special Committee on Peacekeeping Operations of the General Assembly, the Security Council Working Group on Peacekeeping Operations, the Fifth Committee of the Assembly and the Secretariat to ensure that peacekeeping efforts provide the best possible results.

“The Council has endeavoured in the past six months to improve its dialogue with the Secretariat and with troop- and police-contributing countries on the collective oversight of peacekeeping operations and to develop the following practices:

- “(i) Regular dialogue with the Secretariat on the general challenges of peacekeeping;
- “(ii) Efforts to deepen consultations with troop- and police-contributing countries, including through the Working Group on Peacekeeping Operations and the debates organized on 23 January<sup>52</sup> and 29 June 2009;<sup>53</sup>
- “(iii) Organization of political-military meetings on specific operations to improve the shared analysis of operational challenges;
- “(iv) Encouraging regular updating of planning documents by the Secretariat to ensure consistency with mandates;
- “(v) Improved monitoring and evaluation, through the use of benchmarks, as and where appropriate, that enable progress to be charted against a comprehensive and integrated strategy.

“The Council has identified several areas where further reflection is required to improve the preparation, planning, monitoring and evaluation, and completion of peacekeeping operations:

“(i) Ensuring that mandates for peacekeeping operations are clear, credible and achievable and matched by appropriate resources. The Council stresses the need regularly to assess, in consultation with other stakeholders, the strength, mandate and composition of peacekeeping operations with a view to making the necessary adjustments where appropriate, according to progress achieved or changing circumstances on the ground;

“(ii) Better information-sharing, particularly on the military operational challenges, through, inter alia, systematic consultation by the Secretariat with Member States in advance of the deployment of a technical assessment mission on its objectives and broad parameters, and debriefing on its main findings on its return. The Council encourages the practice of holding meetings between Council members and the Secretariat at the political-military expert level prior to discussion of mandate renewals. The Council recognizes the need to improve its access to military advice, and intends to pursue its work on mechanisms to that effect. The Council will continue to review the role of the Military Staff Committee;

“(iii) The Council intends to increase its interaction with the Secretariat in the early phase of mandate drafting and throughout mission deployment on the military, police, justice, rule of law and peacebuilding dimensions of an operation;

“(iv) Earlier and more meaningful engagement with troop- and police-contributing countries before the renewal or modification of the mandate of a peacekeeping operation. The Council welcomes practical suggestions to deepen such consultations. It recognizes that, through their experience and expertise, troop- and police-contributing countries can greatly contribute to effective planning, decision-making and deployment of peacekeeping operations. In this regard, the Council welcomes the interim report of its Working Group on Peacekeeping Operations<sup>54</sup> and encourages the Working Group to continue to address the issue of cooperation with troop- and police-contributing countries and other stakeholders. The Council commits to making progress on this issue and to reviewing its progress in 2010;

“(v) Greater awareness in the Council of the resource and field support implications of its decisions. The Council requests that, where a new peacekeeping mission is proposed, or where significant change to a mandate is envisaged, an estimate of the resource implications for the mission be provided to it;

“(vi) Enhanced awareness in the Council of the strategic challenges faced across peacekeeping operations. The Council welcomes the briefings to that effect received from the Department of Peacekeeping Operations and the Department of Field Support of the Secretariat since January 2009, which should continue on a regular basis.

“The Council recognizes the need to weigh the full range of responses when addressing a situation which may endanger international peace and security, and to deploy United Nations peacekeeping missions only as an accompaniment, not as an alternative, to a political strategy. The Council recognizes the importance of mobilizing and maintaining the political and operational support of all stakeholders.

“The Council recognizes the urgent need to increase the pool of available troop and police contributors and welcomes efforts of Member States to coordinate bilateral assistance to them. The Council supports efforts to improve cooperation and coordination throughout the life of a mission with relevant regional and subregional organizations and other partners. The Council recognizes the priority of strengthening the capacity of the African Union, and the role of regional and subregional organizations, in maintaining international peace and security in accordance with Chapter VIII of the Charter of the United Nations.

“The Council welcomes efforts by the Secretariat to review peacekeeping operations and to provide enhanced planning and support, and encourages the Secretariat to deepen those efforts. In this regard, the Council takes note of the assessments and recommendations provided in the non-paper entitled ‘A new partnership agenda: charting a new horizon for United Nations peacekeeping’ and the support strategy contained therein, and intends to give them careful consideration.

“The Council recognizes that further debate is required among Member States, including in the Special Committee on Peacekeeping Operations, to develop a wider consensus on a range of issues, including the robust approach to peacekeeping and the implementation of protection of civilians mandates. The Council reaffirms the relevant provisions of its resolution 1674 (2006) and in this regard looks forward to reviewing the implementation of protection of civilians mandates later in 2009.

“The Council recalls the statement by its President of 22 July 2009 on post-conflict peacebuilding<sup>55</sup> and, in particular, re-emphasizes the need for coherence between, and integration of, peacemaking, peacekeeping, peacebuilding and development to achieve an effective response to post-conflict situations from the outset. The Council requests the Secretary-General to provide in his reports on specific missions an indication of progress towards achieving a coordinated United Nations approach in-country and, in particular, on critical gaps to achieving peacebuilding objectives alongside the mission.

“The Council remains committed to improving further the overall performance of United Nations peacekeeping and will conduct a further review in early 2010.”

At its 6270th meeting, on 12 February 2010, the Council decided to invite the representatives of Bangladesh, Egypt, India, Italy, Jordan, Morocco, Nepal, Pakistan, the Philippines, Rwanda and Uruguay to participate, without vote, in accordance with rule 37 of its provisional rules of procedure, in the discussion of the item entitled:

“United Nations peacekeeping operations

“Transition and exit strategies

“Letter dated 3 February 2010 from the Permanent Representative of France to the United Nations addressed to the Secretary-General (S/2010/67)”.

At the same meeting, in accordance with the understanding reached in its prior consultations, the Council also decided to extend invitations, under rule 39 of its provisional rules of procedure, to Mr. Alain Le Roy, Under-Secretary-General for Peacekeeping Operations, Ms. Susana Malcorra, Under-Secretary-General for Field Support, Mr. Alan Doss, Special Representative of the Secretary-General for the Democratic Republic of the Congo and Head of the United Nations Organization Mission in the Democratic Republic of the Congo, Ms. Ellen Margrethe Løj, Special Representative of the Secretary-General for Liberia and Head of the United Nations Mission in Liberia, and Mr. Michael von der Schulenburg, Executive Representative of the Secretary-General for Sierra Leone and Head of the United Nations Integrated Peacebuilding Office in Sierra Leone.

At the same meeting, in accordance with the understanding reached in its prior consultations, the Council further decided to extend an invitation, under rule 39 of its provisional rules of procedure, to Mr. Peter Wittig, Permanent Representative of Germany to the United Nations and Chair of the Peacebuilding Commission.

At the same meeting, in accordance with the understanding reached in its prior consultations, the Council decided to extend invitations, under rule 39 of its provisional rules of procedure, to Mr. Tête António, Permanent Observer of the African Union to the United Nations, and Mr. Pedro Serrano, Acting Head of the Delegation of the European Union to the United Nations.

At the same meeting, following consultations among members of the Security Council, the President made the following statement on behalf of the Council:<sup>56</sup>

“The Security Council reaffirms the statement by its President of 5 August 2009<sup>45</sup> and its continued commitment to enhance further the overall effectiveness of United Nations peacekeeping.

“The Council stresses, in particular, its commitment ‘regularly to assess, in consultation with other stakeholders, the strength, mandate and composition of peacekeeping operations with a view to making the necessary adjustments where appropriate, according to progress achieved or changing circumstances on the ground’. The Council stresses that the overarching objective should be to achieve success by creating the conditions for sustainable peace on the ground, thereby allowing for reconfiguration or withdrawal of the United Nations peacekeeping mission.

“The Council underlines that an advanced peace process is an important factor in achieving successful transition from a peacekeeping operation to other configurations of United Nations presence. It also highlights the importance of a host State protecting its population, managing political disputes peaceably and providing for basic services and long-term development.

“The Council recognizes the importance of supporting political processes and national institutions, in particular for the rule of law, security and peacebuilding assistance, at the earliest stage. In this regard, the Council reiterates the urgency of improving United Nations peacebuilding efforts and achieving a coordinated United Nations approach in-country, as highlighted in the statement by its President of 22 July 2009<sup>55</sup> and in the report of the Secretary-General on peacebuilding in the immediate aftermath of conflict.<sup>57</sup>

“The Council underlines the importance of national ownership, constructive dialogue and partnership between national authorities and the international community in helping to address priority peacebuilding needs and the underlying causes of recurring instability.

“Further improvement can be made in Council practice, supported by the Secretariat, to ensure successful transitions, by developing clear, credible and achievable mandates, to be matched by appropriate resources. The Council:

- Undertakes, whenever possible, to include in peacekeeping mandates a desired outcome of the implementation of mandated tasks and a clear prioritization of tasks to achieve it, reflecting the need to create favourable conditions for sustainable peace;
- Stresses the importance of an appropriate level of military expertise for the decisions of the Council;

- Stresses the need for precise and clear recommendations to be made available by the Secretariat, at least a month before mandate renewals, on the content of the mandate and any necessary adjustments, taking into account developments on the ground and the views of the host country, relevant troop- and police-contributing countries and other parties, as appropriate;
- Requests the Secretariat to plan military, police and other peacebuilding tasks in phases with clear objectives and taking into account local conditions that should be attained to allow mission success and transition from a peacekeeping operation, taking also into account the recent lessons learned from transitions to integrated peacebuilding offices;
- Recognizes the utility of strategic workplans and will consider extending their use in peacekeeping operations. Progress in achieving priority tasks laid down in Council resolutions should be measured, as appropriate, through benchmarks that can be easily monitored by the Council;
- Recognizes the importance of ensuring that mandated peacebuilding tasks are implemented as early as possible in a peacekeeping operation in coordination with the United Nations country team and with due respect for security concerns and the priorities of the host Government, taking into account pre-existing programmes and policies implemented before the inception of the operation. In this regard, the Council reaffirms the need to fully implement the integrated mission planning process and also notes the importance of the integrated strategic frameworks. The Council also notes the importance of the civilian capacities review currently being undertaken by the Peacebuilding Support Office;
- Undertakes to enhance coordination with the Peacebuilding Commission and looks forward to the 2010 review of the Commission and the recommendations on how its role can continue to be enhanced;
- Welcomes the adoption by the Security Council Working Group on Peacekeeping Operations of its programme of work, and commends, in particular, its decision to address key lessons learned from past and current missions about the successful implementation of transition strategies, with a view to improving Council practice;
- Recalls the necessity to take into account the protection of civilians in situations of armed conflict, as and when mandated, throughout the life cycle of United Nations peacekeeping and other relevant missions, in line with Council resolution 1894 (2009).

“The Council commits to regularly monitoring progress and achievement of the different stages of a given peacekeeping operation. The Council stresses the importance of maintaining an efficient reporting and information collection system.

“The Council reaffirms its belief that United Nations peacekeeping is a unique global partnership that draws together the contributions and commitment of the entire United Nations system. The Council is committed to strengthening this partnership and acknowledges the key role of the Special Committee on Peacekeeping Operations of the General Assembly and the Fifth Committee of the Assembly in that regard. The Council recognizes the need for continuous review of the military planning, police, judicial, rule of law and institution-building capabilities of the Secretariat to ensure their effective utilization and coordination.

“The Council recognizes the contribution of regional and subregional organizations to transition. The Council calls upon all Member States and subregional, regional and international partners to promote coherence and coordination of their peacebuilding plans and programmes with those of the United Nations peacekeeping operation and the wider United Nations presence on the ground.

“The Council undertakes to provide the political support necessary to ensure the effective implementation of peace processes in order to promote the success of United Nations peacekeeping operations.

“The Council stresses the importance of considering early peacebuilding in its own deliberations and of ensuring coherence between peacemaking, peacekeeping and peacebuilding to achieve effective transition strategies. The Council looks forward to discussing further the implementation of this integrated approach and requests the Secretary-General to intensify his efforts in this regard.

“The Council remains committed to improving further the overall effectiveness of United Nations peacekeeping, including through the recognition and enhancement of linkages with wider peacebuilding efforts, and will conduct a further review of progress in this regard in late 2010.”

“The situation in Somalia

<sup>77</sup> Resolutions or decisions on this question were first adopted by the Security Council in 1992.

Resolution 1897 (2009)
of 30 November 2009

The Security Council,

Recalling its previous resolutions concerning the situation in Somalia, especially resolutions 1814 (2008) of 15 May 2008, 1816 (2008) of 2 June 2008, 1838 (2008) of 7 October 2008, 1844 (2008) of 20 November 2008, 1846 (2008) of 2 December 2008 and 1851 (2008) of 16 December 2008,

Continuing to be gravely concerned by the ongoing threat that piracy and armed robbery at sea against vessels pose to the prompt, safe and effective delivery of humanitarian aid to Somalia and the region, to international navigation and the safety of commercial maritime routes and to other vulnerable ships, including fishing activities in conformity with international law, and the extended range of the piracy threat into the western Indian Ocean,

Reaffirming its respect for the sovereignty, territorial integrity, political independence and unity of Somalia, including Somalia's rights with respect to offshore natural resources, including fisheries, in accordance with international law,

Further reaffirming that international law, as reflected in the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea of 10 December 1982,<sup>78</sup> sets out the legal framework applicable to combating piracy and armed robbery at sea, as well as other ocean activities,

Again taking into account the crisis situation in Somalia, and the limited capacity of the Transitional Federal Government to interdict or, upon interdiction, to prosecute pirates or to patrol or secure the waters off the coast of Somalia, including the international sea lanes and Somalia's territorial waters,

Noting the several requests of the Transitional Federal Government for international assistance to counter piracy off the coast of Somalia, including the letters dated 2 and 6 November 2009 from the Permanent Representative of Somalia to the United Nations expressing the appreciation of the Transitional Federal Government to the Security Council for its assistance, expressing the willingness of the Transitional Federal Government to consider working with other States and regional organizations to combat piracy and armed robbery at sea off the coast of Somalia, and requesting that the provisions of resolutions 1846 (2008) and 1851 (2008) be renewed for an additional twelve months,

Commending the efforts of the European Union operation Atalanta, which the European Union is committed to extending until December 2010, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization operations Allied Protector and Ocean Shield, the Combined Maritime Forces' Combined Task Force 151 and other States acting in a national capacity in cooperation with the Transitional Federal Government and each other to suppress piracy and to protect vulnerable ships transiting through the waters off the coast of Somalia,

Noting with concern that the continuing limited capacity and domestic legislation to facilitate the custody and prosecution of suspected pirates after their capture has hindered more robust international action against the pirates off the coast of Somalia, and in some cases has led to pirates being released without facing justice, regardless of whether there is sufficient evidence to support prosecution, reiterating that, consistent with the provisions of the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea concerning the repression of piracy, the Convention for the Suppression of Unlawful Acts against the Safety of Maritime Navigation of 10 March 1988<sup>79</sup> provides for parties to create criminal offences, establish jurisdiction and accept delivery of persons responsible for or suspected of seizing or exercising control over a ship by force or threat thereof or any other form of intimidation, and stressing the need for States to criminalize piracy under their domestic law and to favourably consider the prosecution, in appropriate cases, of suspected pirates, consistent with applicable international law,

Commending the efforts of Kenya to prosecute suspected pirates in its national courts, and noting with appreciation the assistance being provided by the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime and other international organizations and donors, in coordination with the Contact Group on Piracy off the Coast of Somalia, to support Kenya, Somalia and other States in the region, including Seychelles and Yemen, to take steps to prosecute or incarcerate in a third State after prosecution elsewhere captured pirates, consistent with applicable international human rights law,

Noting the ongoing efforts within the Contact Group on Piracy off the Coast of Somalia to explore possible additional mechanisms to effectively prosecute persons suspected of piracy and armed robbery at sea off the coast of Somalia,

Noting with appreciation the ongoing efforts of the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime and the United Nations Development Programme to support efforts to enhance the capacity of the corrections system in Somalia, including regional authorities, to incarcerate convicted pirates, consistent with applicable international human rights law,

Welcoming the adoption of the Code of Conduct concerning the Repression of Piracy and Armed Robbery against Ships in the Western Indian Ocean and the Gulf of Aden (Djibouti Code of Conduct),<sup>80</sup> and the establishment of the International Maritime Organization Djibouti Code Trust Fund (a multi-donor trust fund initiated by Japan), as well as the international trust fund supporting initiatives of the Contact Group on Piracy off the Coast of Somalia, and recognizing the efforts of signatory States to develop the appropriate regulatory and legislative frameworks to combat piracy, enhance their capacity to patrol the waters of the region, interdict suspect vessels and prosecute suspected pirates,

Emphasizing that peace and stability within Somalia, the strengthening of State institutions, economic and social development and respect for human rights and the rule of law are necessary to create the conditions for a durable eradication of piracy and armed robbery at sea off the coast of Somalia, and further emphasizing that Somalia's long-term security rests with the effective development by the Transitional Federal Government of the National Security Force and the Somali Police Force, within the framework of the Djibouti Agreement and in line with a national security strategy,

Determining that the incidents of piracy and armed robbery at sea off the coast of Somalia exacerbate the situation in Somalia, which continues to constitute a threat to international peace and security in the region,

Acting under Chapter VII of the Charter of the United Nations,

1. Reiterates that it condemns and deplores all acts of piracy and armed robbery against vessels in the waters off the coast of Somalia;

2. Notes again with concern the findings contained in the report of the Monitoring Group on Somalia of 20 November 2008 that escalating ransom payments and the lack of enforcement of the arms embargo established by resolution 733 (1992) of 23 January 1992 are fuelling the growth of piracy off the coast of Somalia,<sup>81</sup> and calls upon all States to fully cooperate with the Monitoring Group;

3. Renews its call upon States and regional organizations that have the capacity to do so to take part in the fight against piracy and armed robbery at sea off the coast of Somalia, in particular, consistent with the present resolution and international law, by deploying naval vessels, arms and military aircraft and through seizures and disposition of boats, vessels, arms and other related equipment used in the commission of piracy and armed robbery at sea off the coast of Somalia, or for which there are reasonable grounds for suspecting such use;

4. Commends the work of the Contact Group on Piracy off the Coast of Somalia to facilitate coordination in order to deter acts of piracy and armed robbery at sea off the coast of Somalia, in cooperation with the International Maritime Organization, flag States and the Transitional Federal Government, and urges States and international organizations to continue to support those efforts;

5. Acknowledges Somalia's rights with respect to offshore natural resources, including fisheries, in accordance with international law, and calls upon States and interested organizations, including the International Maritime Organization, to provide technical assistance to Somalia, including regional authorities, and nearby coastal States upon their request, to enhance their capacity to ensure coastal and maritime security, including combating piracy and armed robbery at sea off the Somali and nearby coastlines, and stresses the importance of coordination in this regard through the Contact Group on Piracy off the Coast of Somalia;

6. Invites all States and regional organizations fighting piracy off the coast of Somalia to conclude special agreements or arrangements with countries willing to take custody of pirates in order to embark law enforcement officials ("shipriders") from the latter countries, in particular countries in the region, to facilitate the investigation and prosecution of persons detained as a result of operations conducted under the present resolution for acts of piracy and armed robbery at sea off the coast of Somalia, provided that the advance consent of the Transitional Federal Government is obtained for the exercise of third State jurisdiction by shipriders in Somali territorial waters and that such agreements or arrangements do not prejudice the effective implementation of the Convention for the Suppression of Unlawful Acts against the Safety of Maritime Navigation;<sup>79</sup>

7. Encourages Member States to continue to cooperate with the Transitional Federal Government in the fight against piracy and armed robbery at sea, notes the primary role of the Transitional Federal Government in the fight against piracy and armed robbery at sea, and decides to renew, for a period of twelve months from the date of the present resolution, the authorizations as set out in paragraph 10 of resolution 1846 (2008) and paragraph 6 of resolution 1851 (2008) granted to States and regional organizations cooperating with the Transitional Federal Government in the fight against piracy and armed robbery at sea off the coast of Somalia, for which advance notification has been provided by the Transitional Federal Government to the Secretary-General;

8. Affirms that the authorizations renewed in the present resolution apply only with respect to the situation in Somalia and shall not affect the rights, obligations or responsibilities of Member States under international law, including any rights or obligations under the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea,<sup>78</sup> with respect to any other situation, and underscores, in particular, that the present resolution shall not be considered as establishing customary international law, and affirms further that such authorizations have been renewed only following receipt of the letters dated 2 and 6 November 2009 conveying the consent of the Transitional Federal Government;

9. Affirms also that the measures imposed by paragraph 5 of resolution 733 (1992) and further elaborated upon in paragraphs 1 and 2 of resolution 1425 (2002) of 22 July 2002 do not apply to weapons and military equipment destined for the sole use of Member States and regional organizations undertaking measures in accordance with paragraph 7 above or to supplies of technical assistance to Somalia solely for the purposes set out in paragraph 5 above, which have been exempted from those measures in accordance with the procedure set out in paragraphs 11 (b) and 12 of resolution 1772 (2007) of 20 August 2007;

10. Requests that cooperating States take appropriate steps to ensure that the activities they undertake pursuant to the authorizations in paragraph 7 above do not have the practical effect of denying or impairing the right of innocent passage to the ships of any third State;

Decision

At its 6301st meeting, on 27 April 2010, the Security Council decided to invite the representative of Somalia to participate, without vote, in accordance with rule 37 of its provisional rules of procedure, in the discussion of the item entitled:

“The situation in Somalia

Resolution 1918 (2010)
of 27 April 2010

The Security Council,

Recalling its previous resolutions concerning the situation in Somalia, especially resolutions 1814 (2008) of 15 May 2008, 1816 (2008) of 2 June 2008, 1838 (2008) of 7 October 2008, 1844 (2008) of 20 November 2008, 1846 (2008) of 2 December 2008, 1851 (2008) of 16 December 2008 and 1897 (2009) of 30 November 2009,

Continuing to be gravely concerned by the threat that piracy and armed robbery at sea against vessels pose to the situation in Somalia and other States in the region, as well as to international navigation and the safety of commercial maritime routes,

Reaffirming that international law, as reflected in the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea of 10 December 1982 ("the Convention"),<sup>78</sup> in particular articles 100, 101 and 105 thereof, sets out the legal framework applicable to combating piracy and armed robbery at sea, as well as other ocean activities,

Reaffirming also that the authorizations renewed in resolution 1897 (2009) apply only with respect to the situation in Somalia and shall not affect the rights, obligations or responsibilities of Member States under international law, including any rights or obligations under the Convention, with respect to any other situation, and underscoring, in particular, that resolution 1897 (2009) shall not be considered as establishing customary international law,

Stressing the need to address the problems caused by the limited capacity of the judicial system of Somalia and other States in the region to effectively prosecute suspected pirates,

Noting with appreciation the assistance being provided by the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime and other international organizations and donors, in coordination with the Contact Group on Piracy off the Coast of Somalia, to enhance the capacity of the judicial and the corrections systems in Somalia, Kenya, Seychelles and other States in the region to prosecute suspected, and imprison convicted, pirates consistent with applicable international human rights law,

Commending the role of the European Union operation Atalanta, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization operations Allied Protector and Ocean Shield, the Combined Maritime Forces' Combined Task Force 151 and other States acting in a national capacity in cooperation with the Transitional Federal Government and each other, in suppressing piracy and armed robbery at sea off the coast of Somalia, including by bringing persons suspected of piracy to justice,

Commending also the efforts of Kenya to date to prosecute suspected pirates in its national courts and imprison convicted persons, and encouraging Kenya to continue these efforts, while acknowledging the difficulties that Kenya encounters in this regard,

Commending further the efforts to date of other States to prosecute suspected pirates in their national courts,

Acknowledging the decision of Seychelles to engage in the prosecution of suspected pirates, and welcoming in particular its decision on 6 February 2010 to consider hosting a regional prosecution centre,

Commending the decision of the Contact Group on Piracy off the Coast of Somalia to create the international trust fund supporting initiatives of the Contact Group, administered by the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, to defray the expenses associated with the prosecution of suspected pirates and to support other counter-piracy initiatives, welcoming the contributions of participating States, and encouraging other potential donors to contribute to the fund,

Welcoming the adoption of the Contact Group on Piracy off the Coast of Somalia regional capability needs assessment report, and urging States and international organizations to provide the fullest possible support to enable early implementation of the recommendations contained therein,

Commending those States that have amended their domestic law in order to criminalize piracy and facilitate the prosecution of suspected pirates in their national courts, consistent with applicable international law, including human rights law, and stressing the need for States to continue their efforts in this regard,

Noting with concern, at the same time, that the domestic law of a number of States lacks provisions criminalizing piracy and/or procedural provisions for effective criminal prosecution of suspected pirates,

Acknowledging the ongoing efforts within the Contact Group on Piracy off the Coast of Somalia to explore possible mechanisms to more effectively prosecute persons suspected of piracy and armed robbery at sea off the coast of Somalia,

Emphasizing that peace and stability within Somalia, the strengthening of State institutions, economic and social development and respect for human rights and the rule of law are necessary to create the conditions for a durable eradication of piracy and armed robbery at sea off the coast of Somalia, and further emphasizing that Somalia's long-term security rests with the effective development by the Transitional Federal Government of the National Security Force and the Somali Police Force, within the framework of the Djibouti Agreement and in line with a national security strategy,

Concerned over cases in which persons suspected of piracy are released without facing justice, and determined to create conditions to ensure that pirates are held accountable,

1. Affirms that the failure to prosecute persons responsible for acts of piracy and armed robbery at sea off the coast of Somalia undermines anti-piracy efforts of the international community;
2. Calls upon all States, including States in the region, to criminalize piracy under their domestic law and to favourably consider the prosecution of suspected, and imprisonment of convicted, pirates apprehended off the coast of Somalia, consistent with applicable international human rights law;
3. Welcomes, in this context, the progress being made to implement the International Maritime Organization Code of Conduct concerning the Repression of Piracy and Armed Robbery against Ships in the Western Indian Ocean and the Gulf of Aden (Djibouti Code of Conduct),<sup>80</sup> and calls upon participants to implement the Code fully as soon as possible;
4. Requests the Secretary-General to submit to the Security Council within three months a report on possible options to further the aim of prosecuting and imprisoning persons responsible for acts of piracy and armed robbery at sea off the coast of Somalia, including, in particular, options for creating special domestic chambers, possibly with international components, a regional tribunal or an international tribunal and corresponding imprisonment arrangements, taking into account the work of the Contact Group on Piracy off the Coast of Somalia, the existing practice in establishing international and mixed tribunals, and the time and the resources necessary to achieve and sustain substantive results;
5. Decides to remain seized of the matter.

Adopted unanimously at the 6301st meeting.

Acknowledging that the implementation of resolution 1612 (2005) has generated progress, resulting in the release and reintegration of children into their families and communities and in a more systematic dialogue between the United Nations country-level task forces and parties to armed conflict on the implementation of time-bound action plans, while remaining deeply concerned over the lack of progress on the ground in some situations of concern, where parties to conflict continue to violate with impunity the relevant provisions of applicable international law relating to the rights and protection of children in armed conflict,

3. Recalls paragraph 16 of resolution 1379 (2001), and requests the Secretary-General also to include in the annexes to his reports on children and armed conflict those parties to armed conflict that engage, in contravention of applicable international law, in patterns of killing and maiming of children and/or rape and other sexual violence against children, in situations of armed conflict, bearing in mind all other violations and abuses against children, and notes that the present paragraph will apply to situations in accordance with the conditions set out in paragraph 16 of resolution 1379 (2001);

4. Invites the Secretary-General, through his Special Representative for Children and Armed Conflict, to exchange appropriate information and maintain interaction from the earliest opportunity with the Governments concerned regarding violations and abuses committed against children by parties which may be included in the annexes to his periodic reports;

“The Council reaffirms its decision, in paragraph 11 of its resolution 1882 (2009), to continue to include specific provisions for the protection of children in the mandates of all relevant United Nations peacekeeping, peacebuilding and political missions, encourages the deployment of child protection advisers to such missions and calls upon the Secretary-General to ensure that such advisers are recruited and deployed in line with the relevant country-specific resolutions of the Council and the Department of Peacekeeping Operations Policy Directive on Mainstreaming the Protection, Rights and Well-being of Children Affected by Armed Conflict. “The Council expresses its readiness to consider specific recommendations of the Working Group on violations and abuses committed against children by parties listed in the annexes to the reports of the Secretary-General, whenever they occur, with a view to considering action on them, without prejudging or implying a decision by the Council as to whether or not to include a situation in its agenda.

Welcoming the report of the Secretary-General of 15 July 2009,<sup>239</sup> but remaining deeply concerned over the lack of progress on the issue of sexual violence in situations of armed conflict, in particular against women and children, notably against girls, and noting, as documented in the report of the Secretary-General, that sexual violence occurs in armed conflicts throughout the world,

Reiterating its deep concern that, despite its repeated condemnation of violence against women and children, including all forms of sexual violence in situations of armed conflict, and despite its calls addressed to all parties to armed conflict for the cessation of such acts with immediate effect, such acts continue to occur, and in some situations have become systematic or widespread,

Recalling the commitments contained in the Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action<sup>240</sup> as well as those contained in the outcome documents of the twenty-third special session of the General Assembly entitled “Women 2000: gender equality, development and peace for the twenty-first century”,<sup>241</sup> in particular those concerning women and armed conflict,

Recalling that international humanitarian law affords general protection to women and children as part of the civilian population during armed conflicts and special protection due to the fact that they can be placed particularly at risk,

Recalling also the responsibilities of States to end impunity and to prosecute those responsible for genocide, crimes against humanity, war crimes and other egregious crimes perpetrated against civilians, and in this regard noting with concern that only limited numbers of perpetrators of sexual violence have been brought to justice, while recognizing that in conflict and in post-conflict situations national justice systems may be significantly weakened,

Having considered the report of the Secretary-General of 15 July 2009, and stressing that the present resolution does not seek to make any legal determination as to whether situations that are referred to in the report of the Secretary-General are or are not armed conflicts in the context of the Geneva Conventions of 1949<sup>247</sup> and the Additional Protocols thereto, of 1977,<sup>248</sup> nor does it prejudice the legal status of the non-State parties involved in those situations,

Recalling its decision, in resolution 1882 (2009), to expand the list of parties in situations of armed conflict engaged in the recruitment or use of children in violation of international law annexed to the annual report of the Secretary-General on children and armed conflict to also include those parties to armed conflict that engage, in contravention of applicable international law, in patterns of killing and maiming of children and/or rape and other sexual violence against children in situations of armed conflict,

Noting the role currently assigned to the Office of the Special Adviser on Gender Issues and Advancement of Women to monitor the implementation of resolution 1325 (2000) and to promote gender mainstreaming within the United Nations system, the empowerment of women and gender equality, and expressing the importance of effective coordination within the United Nations system in these areas,

2. Reiterates its demand for the complete cessation by all parties to armed conflict of all acts of sexual violence with immediate effect;

3. Demands that all parties to armed conflict immediately take appropriate measures to protect civilians, including women and children, from all forms of sexual violence, including

The Security Council,

Reaffirming its commitment to the continuing and full implementation, in a mutually reinforcing manner, of resolutions 1325 (2000) of 31 October 2000, 1612 (2005) of 26 July

<sup>249</sup> Azerbaijan submitted a request to be invited to participate, which it subsequently withdrew.

2005, 1674 (2006) of 28 April 2006, 1820 (2008) of 19 June 2008, 1882 (2009) of 4 August 2009 and 1888 (2009) of 30 September 2009 and all relevant statements by its President,

Guided by the purposes and principles of the Charter of the United Nations, and bearing in mind the primary responsibility of the Security Council under the Charter for the maintenance of international peace and security,

Recalling the resolve, expressed in the 2005 World Summit Outcome,<sup>250</sup> to eliminate all forms of violence against women and girls and the obligations of States parties to the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination Against Women<sup>242</sup> and the Optional Protocol thereto,<sup>243</sup> and the Convention on the Rights of the Child<sup>244</sup> and the Optional Protocols thereto,<sup>245</sup> recalling also the commitments contained in the Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action<sup>240</sup> as well as those contained in the outcome documents of the twenty-third special session of the General Assembly entitled “Women 2000: gender equality, development and peace for the twenty-first century”,<sup>241</sup> in particular those concerning women and armed conflict,

Having considered the report of the Secretary-General of 16 September 2009,<sup>251</sup> and stressing that the present resolution does not seek to make any legal determination as to whether situations that are referred to in the report of the Secretary-General are or are not armed conflicts in the context of the Geneva Conventions of 1949<sup>247</sup> and the Additional Protocols thereto, of 1977,<sup>248</sup> nor does it prejudice the legal status of the non-State parties involved in those situations,

Welcoming the efforts of Member States in implementing resolution 1325 (2000) at the national level, including the development of national action plans, and encouraging Member States to continue to pursue such implementation,

Reiterating the need for the full, equal and effective participation of women at all stages of peace processes, given their vital role in the prevention and resolution of conflict and in peacebuilding, reaffirming the key role that women can play in re-establishing the fabric of recovering society, and stressing the need for their involvement in the development and implementation of post-conflict strategies in order to take into account their perspectives and needs,

Expressing deep concern about the underrepresentation of women at all stages of peace processes, in particular the very low numbers of women in formal roles in mediation processes, and stressing the need to ensure that women are appropriately appointed at decision-making levels, as high-level mediators, and in the composition of the mediators’ teams,

Remaining deeply concerned about the persistent obstacles to women’s full involvement in the prevention and resolution of conflicts and participation in post-conflict public life, as a result of violence and intimidation, lack of security and lack of rule of law, cultural discrimination and stigmatization, including the rise of extremist or fanatical views on women, and socio-economic factors, including the lack of access to education, and in this respect recognizing that the marginalization of women can delay or undermine the achievement of durable peace, security and reconciliation,

Recognizing the particular needs of women and girls in post-conflict situations, including physical security, health services, including reproductive and mental health, ways to ensure their livelihoods, land and property rights, employment, as well as their participation in decision-making and post-conflict planning, particularly at early stages of post-conflict peacebuilding,

Noting that despite progress, obstacles to strengthening the participation of women in conflict prevention, conflict resolution and peacebuilding remain, expressing concern that the capacity of women to engage in public decision-making and economic recovery often does not receive adequate recognition or financing in post-conflict situations, and underlining that funding for early recovery needs of women is vital to increase the empowerment of women, which can contribute to effective post-conflict peacebuilding,

Noting also that women in situations of armed conflict and post-conflict situations continue to be considered often as victims and not as actors in addressing and resolving situations of armed conflict, and stressing the need to focus not only on the protection of women but also on their empowerment in peacebuilding,

Recognizing that an understanding of the impact of situations of armed conflict on women and girls, including as refugees and internally displaced persons, adequate and rapid response to their particular needs and effective institutional arrangements to guarantee their protection and full participation in the peace process, particularly at early stages of post-conflict peacebuilding, can significantly contribute to the maintenance and promotion of international peace and security,

Welcoming the United Nations initiative to develop a system similar to that pioneered by the United Nations Development Programme to allow decision-makers to track gender-related allocations in United Nations Development Group Multi-Donor Trust Funds,

Welcoming also the efforts of the Secretary-General to appoint more women to senior United Nations positions, particularly in field missions, as a tangible step towards providing United Nations leadership on implementation of resolution 1325 (2000),

Welcoming further the upcoming establishment of a United Nations steering committee to enhance visibility and strengthen coordination within the United Nations system regarding the preparations for the tenth anniversary of resolution 1325 (2000),

Encouraging relevant actors to organize events during the period 2009–2010 at the global, regional and national levels to increase awareness about resolution 1325 (2000), including ministerial events, to renew commitments to “Women and peace and security” and to identify ways to address remaining and new challenges in implementing resolution 1325 (2000) in the future,

1. Urges Member States and international and regional organizations to take further measures to improve the participation of women during all stages of peace processes, particularly in conflict resolution, post-conflict planning and peacebuilding, including by enhancing their engagement in political and economic decision-making at early stages of recovery processes, by, inter alia, promoting women’s leadership and capacity to engage in aid management and planning, supporting women’s organizations and countering negative societal attitudes about the capacity of women to participate equally;

2. Reiterates its call for all parties to armed conflicts to respect fully international law applicable to the rights and protection of women and girls;

3. Strongly condemns all violations of applicable international law committed against women and girls in situations of armed conflict and post-conflict situations, demands that all parties to conflicts cease such acts with immediate effect, and emphasizes the responsibility of all States to put an end to impunity and to prosecute those responsible for all forms of violence committed against women and girls in armed conflicts, including rape and other sexual violence;

4. Calls upon the Secretary-General to develop a strategy, including through appropriate training, to increase the number of women appointed to pursue good offices on his behalf, particularly as Special Representatives and Special Envoys, and to take measures to increase the participation of women in United Nations political, peacebuilding and peacekeeping missions;

5. Requests the Secretary-General to ensure that all country reports to the Security Council provide information on the impact of situations of armed conflict on women and girls, their particular needs in post-conflict situations and obstacles to meeting those needs;

6. Also requests the Secretary-General to ensure that relevant United Nations bodies, in cooperation with Member States and civil society, collect data on, analyse and systematically assess the particular needs of women and girls in post-conflict situations, including information on their needs for physical security and participation in decision-making and post-conflict planning, in order to improve system-wide response to those needs;

8. Urges Member States to ensure gender mainstreaming in all post-conflict peacebuilding and recovery processes and sectors;

9. Urges Member States, United Nations bodies, donors and civil society to ensure that the empowerment of women is taken into account during post-conflict needs assessments and planning and factored into subsequent funding disbursements and programme activities, including by developing transparent analysis and tracking of funds allocated for addressing the needs of women in the post-conflict phase;

10. Encourages Member States in post-conflict situations, in consultation with civil society, including women's organizations, to specify in detail the needs and priorities of women and girls and to design concrete strategies, in accordance with their legal systems, to address those needs and priorities, which cover, inter alia, support for greater physical security and better socio-economic conditions, through education, income-generating activities, access to basic services, in particular health services, including sexual and reproductive health and reproductive rights and mental health, gender-responsive law enforcement and access to justice, as well as enhancing capacity to engage in public decision-making at all levels;

11. Urges Member States, United Nations bodies and civil society, including non-governmental organizations, to take all feasible measures to ensure women and girls' equal access to education in post-conflict situations, given the vital role of education in the promotion of women's participation in post-conflict decision-making;

12. Calls upon all parties to armed conflicts to respect the civilian and humanitarian character of refugee camps and settlements and ensure the protection of all civilians inhabiting such camps, in particular women and girls, from all forms of violence, including rape and other sexual violence, and to ensure full, unimpeded and secure humanitarian access to them;

13. Calls upon all those involved in the planning for disarmament, demobilization and reintegration to take into account the particular needs of women and girls associated with armed forces and armed groups and their children, and provide for their full access to these programmes;

14. Encourages the Peacebuilding Commission and the Peacebuilding Support Office to continue to ensure systematic attention to and mobilization of resources for advancing gender equality and the empowerment of women as an integral part of post-conflict peacebuilding, and to encourage the full participation of women in this process;

15. Requests the Secretary-General, in his agenda for action to improve the peacebuilding efforts of the United Nations, to take account of the need to improve the participation of women in political and economic decision-making from the earliest stages of the peacebuilding process;

16. Also requests the Secretary-General to ensure full transparency, cooperation and coordination of efforts between the Special Representative of the Secretary-General for Children and Armed Conflict and the Special Representative of the Secretary-General on sexual violence and armed conflict whose appointment has been requested in resolution 1888 (2009);

17. Further requests the Secretary-General to submit to the Council within six months, for consideration, a set of indicators for use at the global level to track implementation of resolution

“The Security Council notes with concern the postponement of the first round of the presidential elections, scheduled for 29 November 2009 in the communiqué of 18 May 2009 of the Permanent Consultative Framework of the Ouagadougou Political Agreement,<sup>273</sup> which was endorsed by all the main Ivorian political actors.

“The Council welcomes the positive steps taken by the Ivorian actors, in particular the publication of the provisional voters list and the list of candidates. It further welcomes the communiqué of 3 December 2009 of the Permanent Consultative Framework.<sup>274</sup> It commends the Facilitator, President Blaise Compaoré of Burkina Faso, for his continued efforts to support the peace process in Côte d’Ivoire.

“The Council notes that the Permanent Consultative Framework considered, on the basis of a presentation by the Independent Electoral Commission, that the postponement of the elections was due to technical and financial constraints and that the first round of the presidential elections would be organized by the end of February or the beginning of March 2010. It urges the Ivorian actors to address the remaining tasks and to hold open, free, fair and transparent presidential elections in accordance with international standards at the earliest possible date.

“The Council notes again that the publication of a final voters list certified by the Special Representative of the Secretary-General for Côte d’Ivoire is crucial for the holding of open, free, fair and transparent presidential elections. It urges the Ivorian stakeholders to meet their commitments to support the elections and to facilitate this process without delay, in particular during the 38-day phase during which the provisional list can be challenged before local independent electoral commissions and courts. It again urges the Ivorian authorities to allow equitable access to public media, consistent with the Code of Good Conduct for Elections. It reiterates its intention to react as appropriate, consistent with its resolution 1880 (2009), towards those who would block the progress of the electoral process.

“The Council welcomes the signing by President Laurent Gbagbo on 17 November 2009 of several military rules and regulations, including seven decrees. It urges the Ivorian parties to make further concrete progress, before and after the elections, to advance the reunification and disarmament processes.

“The Council recalls that it will review the mandate and the troop level of the United Nations Operation in Côte d’Ivoire by 31 January 2010. It reiterates its determination to bring its full support to a credible electoral process in Côte d’Ivoire. The Council requests the Secretary-General to provide to it, in the report referred to in resolution 1880 (2009), options for the future direction of the United Nations Operation in Côte d’Ivoire, in particular in the light of the publication of the final voters list and of a credible electoral time frame, including preliminary indications on timing, benchmarks and modalities for a possible drawdown of the Operation.”

On 10 December 2009, the President of the Security Council addressed the following letter to the Secretary-General:<sup>275</sup>

Combat and Eradicate the Illicit Trade in Small Arms and Light Weapons in All Its Aspects<sup>303</sup> and takes note of the process towards an arms trade treaty.

“The Council is gravely concerned about the illicit manufacture, transfer and circulation of small arms and light weapons and their excessive accumulation and uncontrolled spread in many regions of the world, particularly in the subregion of Central Africa, which have a wide range of humanitarian and socio-economic consequences, in particular for the security of civilians, by fuelling armed conflict, which in turn exacerbates the risks of gender-based violence and recruitment of child soldiers and poses a serious threat to peace, reconciliation, safety, security, stability and sustainable development at the local, national, regional and international levels.

“The Council, while acknowledging the right of all States to manufacture, import, export, transfer and retain conventional arms for self-defence and security needs consistent with international law and the Charter of the United Nations, underlines the vital importance of effective regulations and controls of the transparent trade in small arms and light weapons in order to prevent their illegal diversion and re-export.

“The Council reiterates that Member States should comply with existing arms embargoes and export bans and take the steps necessary to effectively implement these measures imposed by the Council in its relevant resolutions.

“The Council is alarmed that illicit transfers of small arms and light weapons in contravention of arms embargoes and export bans to or by criminal organizations or other irresponsible actors, including those suspected of engaging in terrorist acts, are linked with illicit trafficking in drugs, illegal exploitation of natural resources and illicit trade in such resources. The Council encourages all Member States that have not yet done so to accede to, ratify and implement the United Nations Convention against Transnational Organized Crime and the Protocols thereto,<sup>304</sup> including the Protocol against the Illicit Manufacturing of and Trafficking in Firearms, Their Parts and Components and Ammunition.

“The Council welcomes the various initiatives that are currently under way within the subregion, notes the efforts to establish a subregional register of small arms and encourages the Central African countries to take the measures necessary to build up the capacity of the Economic Community of Central African States through the establishment of a subregional register of arms dealers as well as the elaboration of a subregional legally binding instrument on the control of small arms and light weapons, their ammunition and all equipment that might serve for their manufacture.

“The Council reaffirms the importance of addressing illicit arms trafficking, in particular of small arms and light weapons, through an approach of common and shared responsibility, and encourages the States of the subregion to fully implement relevant measures adopted at the national, subregional, regional and international levels and to consider appropriate steps in this regard.

“The Council calls upon the States of the subregion to strengthen efforts to establish mechanisms and regional networks among their relevant authorities for information-sharing to combat the illicit circulation of and trafficking in small arms and light weapons. The Council also stresses the need for the States of the subregion to strengthen their cooperation, including through regional and subregional organizations, in particular the African Union, in order to identify and take appropriate measures against individuals and entities that engage in illegal trafficking in small arms and light weapons in the Central African subregion.

“The Council emphasizes the need for national authorities in the subregion to fully participate in the practical implementation of the Programme of Action adopted on 20 July 2001 by the United Nations Conference on the Illicit Trade in Small Arms and Light Weapons in All Its Aspects, and the International Instrument to Enable States to Identify and Trace, in a Timely and Reliable Manner, Illicit Small Arms and Light Weapons adopted on 8 December 2005<sup>305</sup> and encourages Central African countries to regularly submit national reports to the Secretary-General, in accordance with the above-mentioned instruments.

“The Council encourages the Economic Community of Central African States to assist Central African countries in ensuring the effective implementation of arms embargoes imposed by the Council and, in this context, to establish measures such as inquiries into illicit arms trafficking routes, follow-up of possible violations and cooperation in border monitoring, in consultation with the countries concerned. In this regard, the Council encourages the committees in charge of monitoring arms embargoes in Central African countries and neighbouring countries, consistent with their mandates, to continue to include in their annual reports a substantive section on the implementation of arms embargoes and on possible violations of the measures reported to the committees, with recommendations, as appropriate, for strengthening the effectiveness of arms embargoes. This information could also be shared with the International Weapons and Explosives Tracking System of the International Criminal Police Organization (INTERPOL).

“The Council encourages the committees in charge of monitoring arms embargoes in Central African countries and neighbouring countries, consistent with their mandates, to establish channels of communication with the Economic Community of Central African States and its member States, and with the United Nations Standing Advisory Committee on Security Questions in Central Africa.

“The Council supports the action of the United Nations missions present in the subregion, consistent with their mandates, to assist disarmament processes within the framework of disarmament, demobilization and reintegration programmes, and calls upon international partners to assist the Central African countries to build and strengthen their capacities to set up and implement measures relating to the prevention of the illicit proliferation of small arms and light weapons, and the security and management of stockpiles of arms, especially small arms and light weapons.

“The Council recognizes the importance of the forthcoming Fourth Biennial Meeting of States to Consider the Implementation of the Programme of Action to Prevent, Combat and Eradicate the Illicit Trade in Small Arms and Light Weapons in All Its Aspects, to be held in June 2010, and encourages Member States, including those in the subregion of Central Africa, to fully cooperate with the Chair to ensure a successful outcome of the meeting.

“The Council encourages Member States to undertake vigorous actions aimed at restricting the supply of small arms and light weapons and ammunition to areas of instability in Central Africa.

“The Council requests the Secretary-General to take into account in his biennial report, as a follow-up, the content of the present statement.”

to the United Nations, in response to the request dated 14 April 2010 from the Permanent Representative of Uganda to the United Nations addressed to the President of the Council.

At the same meeting, following consultations among members of the Security Council, the President made the following statement on behalf of the Council:<sup>330</sup>

“The Security Council recalls the statements by its President,<sup>331</sup> and emphasizes the critical importance of post-conflict peacebuilding as the foundation for building sustainable peace and development in the aftermath of conflict. The Council highlights the need for effective peacebuilding strategies to ensure durable peace and development.

“The Council recognizes that sustainable peacebuilding requires an integrated approach, which strengthens coherence between political, security, development, human rights and rule of law activities. The Council recognizes the important role that the United Nations can play in supporting national authorities in the development of peacebuilding strategies that incrementally and comprehensively address priority needs. The Council encourages international partners to align their support behind these strategies at the international, regional, national and local levels.

“The Council reaffirms the importance of national ownership and the development of national capacity, and underscores that peacebuilding strategies should be considered in a country-specific context. In this regard, the Council recognizes the need for national authorities to take responsibility as soon as possible for reconstituting the institutions and functions of government, with a view to addressing all key peacebuilding needs. The Council emphasizes that support for democratic, transparent and accountable governance is essential in order to achieve durable peace.

“The Council highlights the importance of the peaceful settlement of political disputes in a post-conflict State and addressing the sources of violent conflict as essential elements for achieving sustainable peace. The Council recognizes the importance of advancing the peace process and peaceful co-existence through inclusive dialogue, reconciliation and reintegration. The Council reaffirms that ending impunity is essential if a society recovering from conflict is to come to terms with past abuses committed against civilians affected by armed conflict and to prevent such abuses in the future. The Council underlines the importance of holding free, fair and transparent elections for sustainable peace.

“The Council recognizes security sector reform as essential to the peacebuilding process and affirms that security sector reform should be nationally owned. Effective security sector reform requires developing a professional, effective and accountable security sector, in particular national police and military capacities under the civilian oversight of a democratic Government. The Council highlights the importance of a sector-wide approach for security sector reform, which enhances the rule of law, including through the establishment of independent justice and corrections systems. The Council requests the Secretary-General to include, where appropriate and mandated, in his reports on specific missions an indication of their progress in supporting national authorities towards achieving coordinated and comprehensive international support for nationally owned security sector reform programmes.

“The Council recognizes the importance of pursuing political stability and security alongside socio-economic development for the consolidation of peace. The Council stresses the importance of delivering early peace dividends, including the provision of basic services, in order to help to instil confidence and commitment to the peace process. The Council recognizes that the reintegration of refugees, internally displaced persons and former combatants, in coordination with security sector reform and disarmament, demobilization and reintegration, should not be seen in isolation, but should be carried out in the context of a broader search for peace, stability and development, with special emphasis on the revival of economic activities. The Council notes in this regard that high levels of youth unemployment can be a major challenge to sustainable peacebuilding.

“While recognizing the importance of developing State capacity, the Council also emphasizes the importance of increased attention and coherent policies for the reconstruction of conflict-affected communities and the empowerment of affected people, in particular vulnerable civilians, such as children, the elderly, refugees and internally displaced persons. The Council takes note of the need for assistance for victims. The Council, in accordance with its resolutions 1325 (2000) and 1820 (2008), underlines the key role that women and young persons can play in re-establishing the fabric of society, and stresses the need for their involvement in the development and implementation of post-conflict strategies in order to take account of their perspectives and needs.

“The Council notes that drug trafficking, organized crime, terrorism, illegal trafficking in arms and trafficking in persons could constitute transnational threats with an impact on the consolidation of peace in countries emerging from conflict, and underlines the importance of increasing international and regional cooperation on the basis of common and shared responsibility to address them effectively.

“The Council reiterates the importance of launching peacebuilding assistance at the earliest possible stage. The Council recognizes the critical role of the Peacebuilding Commission in addressing peacebuilding priorities, particularly by marshalling support and resources and improving planning and coordination for peacebuilding efforts. The Council further recognizes the need for greater coordination with the Commission and looks forward to the 2010 review of the Commission and the recommendations on how its role can be enhanced.

“The Council recognizes the importance of enhancing coordination among relevant bilateral and multilateral donors to ensure predictable, coherent and timely financial support for post-conflict peacebuilding. The Council underscores that funding mechanisms for addressing immediate post-conflict needs, in particular the Peacebuilding Fund, should play a catalytic role, which should be followed by more substantial, longer-term finance as soon as possible for the recovery and reconstruction efforts. The Council encourages greater synergy between the Peacebuilding Fund and the Peacebuilding Commission.

“The Council recognizes the need to broaden and deepen the pool of civilian experts, in particular experts from developing countries and women, to help to develop national capacity, and encourages Member States, the United Nations and other relevant partners to strengthen cooperation and coordination in building such capacities. The Council looks forward to the recommendations of the United Nations civilian capacity review in the report of the Secretary-General, to follow up his report on peacebuilding in the immediate aftermath of conflict.<sup>332</sup>

“The Council emphasizes the need for the United Nations system to strengthen strategic partnership with other international, regional and subregional organizations, as well as financial institutions, in particular by promoting coherence and coordination among their plans and programmes. In this connection, the Council looks forward to further strengthening of the cooperation between the United Nations and the World Bank at both the headquarters and the field levels, and to the Secretary-General including in his follow-up report details of the steps that have been taken in generating more timely, predictable and accountable responses for the key peacebuilding sectors as requested.”

Letter dated 13 December 2009 from Mr. Nuri Kamel al-Maliki, Prime Minister of Iraq, to the President of the Security Council

I refer to my letter dated 7 December 2008 addressed to the President of the Security Council, in which I made it clear that Iraq is committed to finding a satisfactory solution to the problem of the debts and claims that it inherited from the previous regime. In that letter, I expressed the wish of the Government of Iraq that the temporary assistance provided by the international community should continue, in order to permit that goal to be achieved. I also made it clear that the Government of Iraq recognizes that the Development Fund for Iraq plays an important role in ensuring that oil and gas revenues are employed in the best interests of the Iraqi people, and that the International Advisory and Monitoring Board helps to ensure that those resources are managed in a transparent and responsible fashion. In 2010, the Government of Iraq will make appropriate arrangements for the Development Fund for Iraq and the International Advisory and Monitoring Board, with a view to ensuring that oil revenue continues to be used fairly and in the interests of the Iraqi people. Such arrangements will be in keeping with the Constitution and with international best practices with respect to transparency, accountability and integrity. Here I should like to affirm that in 2009, the Government of Iraq made great progress in settling the above-mentioned debts and claims, including by concluding agreements on the reduction of sovereign debt and other bilateral agreements concerning certain claims.

During the remainder of 2009 and in 2010, we will take action to recover the international financial standing of Iraq while at the same time managing oil and gas revenues in order to benefit the people of Iraq.

Those goals cannot be achieved without the continued assistance of the international community by means of the adoption of a Security Council resolution whereby the conditions and arrangements provided for in resolution 1859 (2008) are extended. That resolution concerned the extension of the mandates of the Development Fund for Iraq and the International Advisory and Monitoring Board for a period of 12 months. A review of the new extension should be conducted before 15 June 2010 at the request of the Government of Iraq.

I should be grateful if you would circulate this letter to the members of the Security Council as soon as possible and include it as an annex to the resolution currently being drafted on the extension of the mandates referred to above.

THREATS TO INTERNATIONAL PEACE AND SECURITY<sup>345</sup>

At its 6277th meeting, on 24 February 2010, the Security Council considered the item entitled:

“Threats to international peace and security

At the same meeting, in accordance with the understanding reached in its prior consultations, the Council decided to extend an invitation, under rule 39 of its provisional rules of procedure, to Mr. Antonio Maria Costa, Executive Director of the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime.

At the same meeting, following consultations among members of the Security Council, the President made the following statement on behalf of the Council:<sup>346</sup>

“The Security Council reaffirms its primary responsibility for the maintenance of international peace and security, in accordance with the Charter of the United Nations.

“The Council notes with concern the serious threats posed in some cases by drug trafficking and transnational organized crime to international security in different regions of the world. These transnational threats are a source of growing concern.

“The Council, in this context, further notes with concern the increasing link, in some cases, between drug trafficking and the financing of terrorism, including through the use of proceeds derived from illicit cultivation of, production of and trafficking in narcotic drugs and their precursors, as well as illegal arms trafficking.

“The Council notes that these transnational crimes may threaten the security of countries on its agenda, including post-conflict States, and expresses its intention to consider such threats, as appropriate.

“The Council notes with concern that drug trafficking and transnational organized crime contribute to undermining the authority of States.

“The Council notes that, in a globalized society, organized crime groups and networks, better equipped with new information and communications technologies, are becoming more diversified and connected in their illicit operations, which in some cases may aggravate threats to international security. In this context, the Council expresses concern at the increase in incidents of kidnapping and hostage-taking, in some areas of the world with a specific political context, with the aim of raising funds or gaining political concessions. The development of cybercrime is another source of particular concern.

“The Council calls upon Member States to increase international and regional cooperation, on the basis of a common and shared responsibility, as well as their cooperation with the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime and the International Narcotics Control Board, in order to counter the illicit production of, demand for and trafficking in drugs, and to identify emerging trends in drug trafficking. It welcomes relevant initiatives, such as the Paris Pact.<sup>347</sup> The Council also encourages Member States to undertake further action and to consider, on the basis of concrete proposals by the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime and the International Narcotics Control Board, through the Commission on Narcotic Drugs, possible new international initiatives aimed at strengthening the fight against illicit trafficking in chemical precursors.

“The Council encourages the coordination of United Nations actions, including those of its agencies, funds and programmes, in order to enhance the effectiveness of appropriate international efforts.

“The Council reaffirms and commends the important work of the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, in collaboration with other relevant entities of the United Nations.

“The Council encourages States to strengthen international, regional and subregional cooperation to counter drug trafficking, transnational organized crime, terrorism and corruption and to investigate and prosecute, as appropriate, persons and entities responsible for these crimes, consistent with international law. Through compliance with their obligations under international law, including the relevant resolutions of the Council, Member States can help to strengthen international peace and security. The Council notes relevant international conventions, such as the Single Convention on Narcotic Drugs of 1961 as amended by the 1972 Protocol,<sup>348</sup> the Convention on Psychotropic Substances of 1971,<sup>349</sup> the United Nations Convention against Illicit Traffic in Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances of 1988,<sup>350</sup> the United Nations Convention against Transnational Organized Crime of 2000 and the Protocols thereto,<sup>351</sup> the United Nations Convention against Corruption of 2003<sup>352</sup> and the relevant international conventions and protocols related to terrorism.

“The Council expresses its concern about the number of victims of acts of terrorism in various regions of the world. The Council further reiterates that acts, methods and practices of terrorism, as well as knowingly financing, planning and inciting terrorist acts, are contrary to the purposes and principles of the United Nations. The Council calls upon States to continue to condemn in the strongest terms all terrorist acts, irrespective of their motivation, whenever and by whomsoever committed, as well as the incitement of terrorism.

“The Council invites the Secretary-General to consider these threats as a factor in conflict prevention strategies, conflict analysis, and integrated missions assessment and planning and to consider including in his reports, as appropriate, an analysis of the role played by these threats in situations on its agenda.

“The Council welcomes further briefings, as necessary, on a more regular basis, by the Executive Director of the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime.”

Reaffirming that outstanding issues can be best resolved and confidence built in the exclusively peaceful nature of the Islamic Republic of Iran's nuclear programme by the Islamic Republic of Iran responding positively to all the calls which the Council and the Board of Governors of the Agency have made on the Islamic Republic of Iran,

Noting with serious concern also that the Islamic Republic of Iran has constructed an enrichment facility at Qom in breach of its obligations to suspend all enrichment-related activities, and that the Islamic Republic of Iran failed to notify it to the the Agency until September 2009, which is inconsistent with its obligations under the subsidiary arrangements to its safeguards agreement,<sup>375</sup> construction at Qom and to clarify the facility's purpose, and chronology of design and construction, and calls upon the Islamic Republic of Iran to confirm, as requested by the Agency, that it has not taken a decision to construct, or authorize construction of, any other nuclear facility which has as yet not been declared to the Agency,

Noting with serious concern that the Islamic Republic of Iran has enriched uranium to 20 per cent, and did so without notifying the Agency with sufficient time for it to adjust the existing safeguards procedures,

Noting with concern that the Islamic Republic of Iran has taken issue with the right of the Agency to verify design information which had been provided by the Islamic Republic of Iran pursuant to the modified Code 3.1, and emphasizing that, in accordance with article 39 of the Islamic Republic of Iran's safeguards agreement, Code 3.1 cannot be modified nor suspended unilaterally and that the right of the Agency to verify design information provided to it is a continuing right which is not dependent on the stage of construction of, or the presence of nuclear material at, a facility,

Reiterating its determination to reinforce the authority of the Agency, strongly supporting the role of the Board of Governors of the Agency, and commending the Agency for its efforts to resolve outstanding issues relating to the Islamic Republic of Iran's nuclear programme,

Expressing the conviction that the suspension set out in paragraph 2 of resolution 1737 (2006) as well as full, verified Iranian compliance with the requirements set out by the Board of Governors of the Agency would contribute to a diplomatic, negotiated solution that guarantees that the Islamic Republic of Iran's nuclear programme is for exclusively peaceful purposes,

Emphasizing the importance of political and diplomatic efforts to find a negotiated solution guaranteeing that the Islamic Republic of Iran's nuclear programme is exclusively for peaceful purposes, and noting in this regard the efforts of Turkey and Brazil towards an agreement with the Islamic Republic of Iran on the Tehran Research Reactor that could serve as a confidence-building measure,

Emphasizing also, however, in the context of these efforts, the importance of the Islamic Republic of Iran addressing the core issues related to its nuclear programme,

Stressing that China, France, Germany, the Russian Federation, the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland and the United States of America are willing to take further concrete measures on exploring an overall strategy of resolving the Iranian nuclear issue through negotiation on the basis of their proposal of June 2006<sup>377</sup> and their proposal of June 2008, contained in annex IV to the present resolution, and noting the confirmation by those countries that, once the confidence of the international community in the exclusively peaceful nature of the Islamic Republic of Iran's nuclear programme is restored, it will be treated in the same manner as that of any non-nuclear weapon State party to the Treaty on the Non-Proliferation of Nuclear Weapons,

Welcoming the guidance issued by the Financial Action Task Force to assist States in implementing their financial obligations under resolutions 1737 (2006) and 1803 (2008), and recalling, in particular, the need to exercise vigilance over transactions involving Iranian banks, including the Central Bank of Iran, so as to prevent such transactions contributing to proliferation-sensitive nuclear activities or to the development of nuclear weapon delivery systems,

Recognizing that access to diverse, reliable energy is critical for sustainable growth and development, while noting the potential connection between the Islamic Republic of Iran's revenues derived from its energy sector and the funding of the Islamic Republic of Iran's proliferation-sensitive nuclear activities, and further noting that chemical process equipment and materials required for the petrochemical industry have much in common with those required for certain sensitive nuclear fuel cycle activities,

Having regard to the rights and obligations of States relating to international trade,

Recalling that the law of the sea, as reflected in the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea of 10 December 1982,<sup>378</sup> sets out the legal framework applicable to ocean activities,

Calling for the ratification of the Comprehensive Nuclear-Test-Ban Treaty<sup>379</sup> by the Islamic Republic of Iran at an early date,

Determined to give effect to its decisions by adopting appropriate measures to persuade the Islamic Republic of Iran to comply with resolutions 1696 (2006), 1737 (2006), 1747 (2007) and 1803 (2008) and with the requirements of the Agency, and also to constrain the development by the Islamic Republic of Iran of sensitive technologies in support of its nuclear and missile programmes, until such time as the Council determines that the objectives of those resolutions have been met,

Concerned by the proliferation risks presented by the Iranian nuclear programme, and mindful of its primary responsibility under the Charter of the United Nations for the maintenance of international peace and security,

Stressing that nothing in the present resolution compels States to take measures or actions exceeding the scope of the present resolution, including the use of force or the threat of force,

Acting under Article 41 of Chapter VII of the Charter,

1. Affirms that the Islamic Republic of Iran has so far failed to meet the requirements of the Board of Governors of the International Atomic Energy Agency and to comply with resolutions 1696 (2006), 1737 (2006), 1747 (2007) and 1803 (2008);

2. Affirms also that the Islamic Republic of Iran shall without further delay take the steps required by the Board of Governors of the Agency in its resolutions GOV/2006/14<sup>356</sup> and GOV/2009/82,<sup>376</sup> which are essential to build confidence in the exclusively peaceful purpose of its nuclear programme, to resolve outstanding questions and to address the serious concerns raised by the construction of an enrichment facility at Qom in breach of its obligations to suspend all enrichment-related activities, and in this context further affirms its decision that the Islamic Republic of Iran shall without delay take the steps required in paragraph 2 of resolution 1737 (2006);

It calls upon the international community to bring its support to the Guinean authorities led by interim President Sékouba Konaté and Prime Minister Jean-Marie Doré, including with regard to comprehensive security and justice sector reform, upon request from the Guinean authorities.

At the same meeting, following consultations among members of the Security Council, the President made the following statement on behalf of the Council:<sup>416</sup>

“The Security Council reaffirms its primary responsibility for the maintenance of international peace and security in accordance with the Charter of the United Nations. The Council recalls Articles 33 and 34 of the Charter and reaffirms its commitment to the settlement of disputes by peaceful means and the promotion of necessary preventive action in response to disputes or situations, the continuation of which is likely to endanger the maintenance of international peace and security.

“The Council recalls that the prevention of conflict remains a primary responsibility of Member States. As such, actions undertaken by United Nations entities within the framework of conflict prevention must be designed to support and complement, as appropriate, the conflict prevention roles of national Governments.

“The Council notes that, consistent with its functions in relation to international peace and security, it seeks to remain engaged in all stages of the conflict cycle and in exploring ways of preventing the escalation of disputes into armed conflict or a relapse into armed conflict, and recalls that, in accordance with Articles 99 and 35 of the Charter, the Secretary-General or any Member State may bring to the attention of the Council any matter which is likely to endanger the maintenance of international peace and security.

“The Council recalls that early warning, preventive diplomacy, preventive deployment, mediation, practical disarmament measures and post-conflict peacebuilding are interdependent and complementary components of a comprehensive conflict prevention strategy. The Council notes the importance of creating and maintaining peace through inclusive dialogue, reconciliation and reintegration.

“The Council reaffirms the important role of women in the prevention and resolution of conflicts and in peacebuilding, and reiterates its call to increase the equal participation, representation and full involvement of women in preventive diplomacy efforts and all related decision-making processes with regard to conflict resolution and peacebuilding, in line with resolutions 1325 (2000), 1820 (2008), 1888 (2009) and 1889 (2009).

“The Council recognizes the importance of a comprehensive strategy comprising operational and structural measures for the prevention of armed conflict, and encourages the development of measures to address the root causes of conflicts in order to ensure sustainable peace. The Council reaffirms the central role of the United Nations in this regard.

“The Council recalls the previous statements by its President concerning the various factors and causes that play a role in inciting, worsening or prolonging conflicts in Africa and, in particular, the factors and causes that have been highlighted and addressed by the Council. The Council also notes that, especially in the context of Africa, implementation of effective security sector reform programmes, strengthening of human rights and the rule of law, protection of civilians, ensuring accountability, meaningful progress in sustainable economic development and poverty eradication, support for elections and the building of democratic institutions and effective control of small arms, inter alia, have become important elements of conflict prevention.

“The Council also recognizes the increased material, human and financial resources required by peacekeeping operations over the last decade. Accordingly, the Council acknowledges the potential benefits and efficiencies that could be achieved through an integrated approach to preventive diplomacy efforts similar to the approach to peacekeeping and peacebuilding methods, which underscores the interrelationship between political, security, development, human rights and rule of law activities.

“The Council encourages the development of peaceful settlement of local disputes through regional arrangements in accordance with Chapter VIII of the Charter and reiterates its support for the efforts of regional and subregional organizations, in particular the African Union, the Economic Community of West African States, the Southern African Development Community, the East African Community, the Intergovernmental Authority on Development and the Economic Community of Central African States, as regards conflict prevention. The Council acknowledges the need for closer and more operational cooperation between the United Nations and regional and subregional organizations in Africa to build national and regional capacities in relation to the preventive diplomacy tools of mediation, information-gathering and analysis, early warning, prevention and peacemaking, and in this context the Council recognizes the important role that regional United Nations offices, such as the United Nations Office for West Africa, can play and stresses the valuable contribution of mediation capacities such as the Council of Elders, the Panel of the Wise and the good offices of the Secretary-General and his special envoys, and of regional and subregional organizations, to ensuring the coherence, synergy and collective effectiveness of their efforts.

“The Security Council underlines the importance of continually engaging the potential and existing capacities and capabilities of the United Nations Secretariat, regional and subregional organizations as well as national Governments in preventive diplomacy efforts, including mediation, and welcomes the promotion of regional approaches to the peaceful settlement of disputes.

“The Council further reiterates its support for the work of the Peacebuilding Commission and recognizes the need for greater coordination with the Commission. The Council further recognizes the need for greater coherence with all relevant United Nations entities in relation to the most effective use of preventive diplomacy tools at their disposal. The Council recognizes the important role of the United Nations Integrated Peacebuilding Offices in supporting national efforts to prevent conflicts and in addressing cross-border threats. The Council also recognizes the value that the Ad Hoc Working Group on Conflict Prevention and Resolution in Africa continues to add to the process of embedding preventive diplomacy practices into the conflict management architecture of the Organization. In this connection, the Council recalls the role of the Special Adviser to the Secretary-General on the Prevention of Genocide in matters relating to the prevention and resolution of conflict. The Council emphasizes the need for the full engagement of all relevant actors, including civil society, to sustain the momentum and perspective for a meaningful preventive diplomacy framework.

“The Council recognizes the importance of enhancing efforts, including coordination among relevant bilateral and multilateral donors, to ensure predictable, coherent and timely financial support to optimize the use of preventive diplomacy tools, including mediation, throughout the conflict cycle.

“The Council requests the Secretary-General to submit, within twelve months of the adoption of the present statement, a report containing recommendations on how best to optimize the use of preventive diplomacy tools within the United Nations system and in cooperation with regional and subregional organizations and other actors.”

“I. Agenda

“1. The provisional agenda for formal meetings of the Security Council should be included in the Journal of the United Nations provided that it has been approved in informal consultations.

“2. The members of the Council recall the desirability, whenever possible, of using descriptive formulations of agenda items at the time of their initial adoption to avoid having a number of separate agenda items on the same subject. When such a descriptive formulation exists, consideration may be given to subsuming earlier agenda items on the same subject under the descriptive formulation.

“II. Briefings

“3. The members of the Security Council agree that the President of the Council or his or her designate should provide substantive and detailed briefings to Member States in a timely manner. Such briefings should take place shortly after informal consultations of the whole. The members of the Council encourage the President of the Council to provide the attending Member States with copies of statements that he or she makes to the media following the informal consultations, if appropriate.

“4. The members of the Council encourage the President of the Council to hold an informal briefing on the programme of work open to all Member States, after its adoption by the Council.

“5. The members of the Council invite Chairs of the subsidiary bodies of the Council or their designates to give, on a regular basis, informal briefings, when appropriate, on their activities to interested Member States. The members of the Council agree that the time and place of such briefings should be published in the Journal of the United Nations.

“6. The members of the Council intend to continue to consider requesting the Secretariat to give an ad hoc briefing at Council meetings in cases in which an emergent situation which justifies a briefing arises.

“7. The members of the Council intend to request the Secretariat to give ad hoc briefings at informal consultations on a daily basis, if necessary, when a situation justifies such briefings.

“8. The members of the Council invite the Secretariat to continue its practice of circulating the briefing texts at ‘briefings’.

“9. The members of the Council invite the Secretariat, as a general rule, to provide a printed fact sheet, presentation materials and/or any other relevant reference materials, whenever possible, to Council members on the day prior to the consultations, when briefings in the Council consultations room are not given on the basis of a written report.

“III. Documentation

“10. The members of the Security Council intend to intensify their efforts to publicize decisions and other relevant information of the Council and its subsidiary bodies to the Member States and other organizations through correspondence, websites, outreach activities and other means, when appropriate. The members of the Council intend to continue to examine ways to enhance its activities in this regard. The members of the Council encourage subsidiary bodies of the Council to continue to review periodically policies concerning access to their documents, as appropriate.

“11. The members of the Council agree that reports of the Secretary-General should be circulated to Council members and made available in all official languages of the United Nations at least four working days before the Council is scheduled to consider them. The members of the Council also agree that the same rule should apply to making such reports available to relevant participants in Council meetings at which those reports are discussed, including the distribution of the reports on peacekeeping missions to all participants in meetings of troop- and police-contributing countries.

“12. The members of the Council agree to consider setting a six-month interval as the standard reporting period, unless the situation provides reason for shorter or longer intervals. The members of the Council also agree to define reporting intervals as clearly as possible when adopting resolutions. The members of the Council further agree to request oral reporting, which does not require submission of a written report, if the members of the Council consider that it would serve the purpose satisfactorily, and to indicate that request as clearly as possible.

“13. The members of the Council encourage the Secretary-General to include a section in his reports where all recommendations are listed when presenting recommendations to the Council regarding the mandate of a United Nations mission.

“14. The members of the Council encourage the Secretary-General to make reports as concise as possible and to give ample cut-off time in order for the reports to be issued in a timely manner. The Secretariat is encouraged to supplement and update information contained in reports of the Secretary-General by including information about the most recent developments during briefings.

“15. The members of the Council intend to request the Secretary-General to include policy recommendations on long-term strategy in his reports, if appropriate.

“16. Reports of the Secretary-General will specify the date on which the document is physically and electronically distributed in addition to the date of signature by the Secretary-General.

“17. The Council agrees to cooperate with other organs of the United Nations in synchronizing reporting obligations of the Secretariat on the same subject, if appropriate, while giving priority to the effective work of the Council.

“18. The members of the Council request the Secretariat to update the Council towards the end of each month on the progress in the preparation of the reports of the Secretary-General to be issued the following month. The members of the Council also request the Secretariat to communicate with the Council immediately if it expects reports to be delayed beyond their deadlines or if reports that have not been requested by the Council are expected to be issued.

“19. The members of the Council encourage the Secretariat to ensure that all information provided to Council members is transmitted electronically, including by fax.

“IV. Informal consultations

“20. The members of the Security Council encourage the President of the Council to suggest, through consultations with interested members and/or the Secretariat, as appropriate, a few areas for Council members and the Secretariat to focus on at the Council’s next informal consultations, without the intention of prescribing the scope of discussion, at least one day before the consultations are to be held.

“21. The members of the Council agree that, when briefings are being provided to the Council members by senior Secretariat officials, the number of staff members accompanying those officials in the consultations should be kept to a strict minimum. Unless otherwise decided, the Secretariat staff from offices other than those of the designated briefer or from United Nations agencies will normally not be invited to attend consultations. Unless otherwise decided, the Security Council Affairs Division of the Department of Political Affairs will be responsible for keeping the Office of the Spokesperson for the Secretary-General informed of matters which may require its action.

“22. As a general rule, the purpose of initial remarks or ad hoc briefings delivered by members of the Secretariat is to supplement and update written reports of the Secretary-General or to provide members of the Council with more specific on-the-ground information on the most recent developments, which may not be covered in the written report. The members of the Council encourage members of the Secretariat to focus on key issues and to provide the latest information, as necessary, without repeating the content of written reports already available to members of the Council.

“23. The members of the Council intend, where they agree with a previous speaker, in part or in whole, to express that agreement without repeating the same content.

“24. The members of the Council agree that, as a general rule, the President of the Council should adhere to the prescribed speakers’ list. The members of the Council encourage the President to facilitate interaction by inviting any participant in the consultations to speak at any time, irrespective of the order of the prescribed speakers’ list, when the discussion requires it.

“25. The members of the Council encourage speakers to direct their questions not only to the Secretariat, but also to other members.

“26. The members of the Council do not discourage each other from taking the floor more than once, in the interest of making consultations more interactive.

“27. The members of the Council invite the Secretariat to continue its practice of circulating all press statements issued by the Secretary-General or by the Spokesperson for the Secretary-General in connection with matters of concern to the Council.

“V. Meetings

“Conduct of meetings

“28. In order to increase the transparency of its work, the Security Council reaffirms its commitment to increase recourse to open meetings, particularly at the early stage in its consideration of a matter.

“29. The Council encourages, as a general rule, all participants, both members and non-members of the Council, in Council meetings to deliver their statements in 5 minutes or less. The Council also encourages each briefer to limit initial remarks to 15 minutes, unless otherwise decided by the Council.

“30. The Council encourages participants in Council meetings to express agreement without repeating the same content, if they agree, in part or in whole, with the content of a previous statement.

“31. The Council agrees that, when non-members are invited to speak to the Council, those who have a direct interest in the outcome of the matter under consideration may speak prior to Council members, if appropriate.

“32. In line with paragraph 170 (a) of the 2005 World Summit Outcome<sup>470</sup> and Council resolution 1631 (2005), the members of the Council agree to continue to expand consultation and cooperation with regional and subregional organizations, including by inviting relevant organizations to participate in the public and private meetings of the Council, when appropriate.

“33. In order to further encourage substantive discussions with troop- and police-contributing countries, in accordance with Council resolution 1353 (2001), the members of the Council encourage the attendance of appropriate military and political officers from each participating mission at meetings with troop-contributing countries. The members of the Council emphasize the importance of consulting with troop- and police-contributing countries, including holding meetings, preferably one week before the Council considers mandate renewals or modifications. The members of the Council encourage the President of the Council to provide sufficient time for the meetings and to provide to the other members of the Council a summary of the meetings with troop- and police-contributing countries that are held before the Council discusses mandate renewals or modifications.

“34. When non-members of the Council are invited to speak at Council meetings, they will be seated at the Council table on alternate sides of the President, the first speaker being seated on the President’s right.

“Notification

“35. The members of the Council invite the Secretariat to notify Member States of unscheduled or emergency meetings not only by e-mail but also through the Council website and by telephone as necessary.

“Format

“36. In an effort further to advance the resolution of a matter under consideration, the members of the Council agree to use a range of meeting options from which they can select the one best suited to facilitate specific discussions. Recognizing that the provisional rules of procedure of the Council and their own practice provide them with considerable flexibility in choosing how best to structure their meetings, members of the Council agree that meetings of the Council could be structured according to, but not limited to, the following formats:

“(a) Public meetings

“(i) Functions

“To take action and/or hold, inter alia, briefings and debates.

“(ii) Presence and participation

“The presence and participation of non-members of the Council in public meetings should be in accordance with the provisional rules of procedure. The practice of the Council, as described below, is understood as being in accordance with the provisional rules of procedure, although it should not under any circumstances be understood as replacing or substituting for the provisional rules of procedure.

“a. Any Member of the United Nations that is not a member of the Security Council may be present at its delegation’s designated seats in the Council Chamber;

“b. On a case-by-case basis, any Member of the United Nations that is not a member of the Security Council, members of the Secretariat and other persons may be invited to participate in the discussion, including for the purpose of giving briefings to the Council, in accordance with rule 37 or 39 of the provisional rules of procedure.

“(iii) Descriptions in the provisional monthly programme of work

“The members of the Council intend to continue to include the following formats for public meetings in the provisional monthly programme of work (calendar) when they plan to adopt, in general, the corresponding procedures:

“a. ‘Open debate’: briefings may or may not be conducted, and Council members may deliver statements; non-members of the Council may also be invited to participate in the discussion upon their request;

“b. ‘Debate’: briefings may be conducted, and Council members may deliver statements; non-members of the Council that are directly concerned or affected or have a special interest in the matter under consideration may be invited to participate in the discussion upon their request;

“c. ‘Briefing’: briefings are conducted, and only Council members may deliver statements following briefings;

“d. ‘Adoption’: Council members may or may not deliver statements before and/or after adopting, inter alia, resolutions and presidential statements; non-members of the Council may or may not be invited to participate in the discussion upon their request.

“(b) Private meetings

“(i) Functions

“To conduct discussion and/or take actions, for example, recommendation regarding the appointment of the Secretary-General, without the attendance of the public or the press.

“(ii) Presence and participation

“The presence and participation of non-members of the Council in private meetings should be in accordance with the provisional rules of procedure. The practice of the Council, as described below, is understood as being in accordance with the provisional rules of procedure, although it should not under any circumstances be understood as replacing or substituting for the provisional rules of procedure:

“On a case-by-case basis, any Member of the United Nations which is not a member of the Security Council, members of the Secretariat and other persons may be invited to be present or to participate in the discussion, including for the purpose of giving briefings to the Council, in accordance with rule 37 or 39 of the provisional rules of procedure.

“(iii) Descriptions in the provisional monthly programme of work

“The members of the Council intend to continue to include the following formats for private meetings in the provisional monthly programme of work (calendar) when they plan to adopt, in general, the corresponding procedures:

“a. ‘Private meeting’: briefings or debates may be conducted, and Council members may deliver statements; any Member of the United Nations which is not a member of the Security Council, members of the Secretariat and other persons may be invited to be present or to participate in the discussion, upon their request, in accordance with rule 37 or 39 of the provisional rules of procedure;

“b. ‘TCC meeting’: briefings may be conducted, and Council members may deliver statements; parties described in resolution 1353 (2001) are invited to participate in the discussion, in accordance with the resolution.

“Distribution of statements

“37. Texts of statements made at the meetings of the Council will, at the request of the delegation making the statement, be distributed by the Secretariat inside the Council Chamber to Council members and other Member States and permanent observers to the United Nations present at the meeting. A delegation requesting the distribution of its statement is encouraged to provide a sufficient number of copies (200) to the Secretariat in advance of the statement. When a delegation does not provide to the Secretariat a sufficient number of copies of its statement, the copies provided will be placed outside the Council Chamber at the end of the meeting. Delegations are requested not to make statements otherwise available during the meeting.

“VI. Programme of work

“38. The members of the Security Council encourage the President of the Council to publish a streamlined tentative monthly forecast of the programme of work on the Council website as soon as it has been distributed to Council members.

“39. The forecast should be made available in all official languages ‘for information only/not an official document’, and there should be a cover note which reads:

‘This tentative forecast of the programme of work of the Security Council has been prepared by the Secretariat for the President of the Council. The forecast covers in particular those matters that may be taken up during the month pursuant to earlier decisions of the Council. The fact that a matter is or is not included in the forecast carries no implication that it will or will not be taken up during the month: the actual programme of work will be determined by developments and the views of members of the Council.’

“40. The members of the Council have agreed that the following reminder should be placed in the Journal of the United Nations each month:

‘The monthly tentative forecast has been made available on the website of the Security Council, in accordance with the note by the President of the Security Council dated 26 July 2010 (S/2010/507). Copies of the tentative forecast have also been placed in the delegations' boxes and may be collected at the delegations' pick-up areas, as of [date].'

"41. The members of the Council agree that the President of the Council should update the provisional monthly programme of work (calendar) and make it available to the public through the Council website each time it is revised and distributed to Council members, with appropriate indication of the revised items.

"VII. Resolutions and presidential statements

"42. The members of the Security Council reaffirm that all members of the Council should be allowed to participate fully in the preparation of, inter alia, the resolutions, presidential statements and press statements of the Council. The members of the Council also reaffirm that the drafting of all documents such as resolutions and presidential statements as well as press statements should be carried out in a manner that will allow adequate participation of all members of the Council.

"43. The members of the Council intend to continue to informally consult with the broader United Nations membership, in particular interested Member States, including countries directly involved or specifically affected, neighbouring States and countries with particular contributions to make, as well as with regional organizations and Groups of Friends, when drafting, inter alia, resolutions, presidential statements and press statements, as appropriate.

"44. The members of the Council agree to consider making draft resolutions and presidential statements as well as other draft documents available, as appropriate, to non-members of the Council as soon as such documents are introduced in informal consultations of the whole, or earlier, if so authorized by the authors of the draft document.

"45. The President of the Council should, when so requested by the Council members, and without prejudice to his or her responsibilities as President, draw the attention of the representative(s) of the Member State(s) and regional organizations and arrangements concerned to relevant statements to the press made by the President on behalf of Council members or decisions of the Council. The Secretariat should also continue to bring to the knowledge of those concerned, including non-State actors, through the relevant Special Representatives, Representatives and Envoys of the Secretary-General and United Nations Resident Coordinators, resolutions and presidential statements of the Council as well as statements to the press made by the President of the Council on behalf of the Council members, and ensure their promptest communication and widest possible dissemination. The Secretariat should further issue, as United Nations press releases, all written statements to the press made by the President of the Council on behalf of the Council members, upon clearance by the President.

"VIII. Subsidiary bodies

"46. The members of the Security Council encourage the Chairs of all subsidiary bodies to continue to report to the Council on any outstanding issues, when necessary and in any event on a regular basis, in order to receive strategic guidance from the Council.

"47. The members of the Council encourage subsidiary bodies of the Council to seek the views of Member States with strong interest in their areas of work. The members of the Council in particular encourage sanctions committees to seek the views of Member States that are particularly affected by the sanctions.

"48. The members of the Council encourage the Secretariat to provide administrative and substantive support to the subsidiary bodies of the Council.

“49. The members of the Council encourage the Chairs of the subsidiary bodies of the Council to make the schedules of meetings of subsidiary bodies available to the public, when appropriate, through their websites and the Journal of the United Nations.

“50. The members of the Council welcome the participation in the meetings of the Security Council Working Group on Peacekeeping Operations of the Secretariat, troop- and police-contributing countries and other major stakeholders, and encourage this practice in order to foster closer cooperation between the Council and those actors.

“IX. Matters of which the Council is seized

“51. Rule 11 of the provisional rules of procedure of the Security Council provides that the Secretary-General shall communicate each week to the representatives on the Security Council a summary statement of matters of which the Security Council is seized and of the stage reached in their consideration.

“52. The practice of including an agenda item in the summary statement once it has been adopted at a formal meeting of the Council will remain unchanged.

“53. At the beginning of each year, the Council will review the summary statement in order to determine if the Council has concluded its consideration of any of the listed items, in particular those items that were considered for the first time during the preceding year, and whether, consequently, such items should be deleted from the statement. Further, except as provided herein, any item which has not been considered by the Council during the preceding three calendar years will also be deleted.

“54. The preliminary annual summary statement on matters of which the Council is seized issued in January of each year by the Secretary-General will identify the items to be deleted from the list. The first summary statement issued in March of each year will reflect the deletion of those items, unless a State Member of the United Nations notifies the President of the Council by the end of February of that year that it requests that an item remain on the summary statement, in which case such item will remain on the statement for one year, unless the Council decides otherwise.

“55. The deletion of an item does not imply that such item cannot be taken up by the Council as and when it deems it necessary in the future.

“56. The summary statement will be presented in the format of two sections, as follows: one section comprising items which have been considered by the Council at a meeting during the preceding three-year period, and another section comprising items which have not been considered at a meeting during the preceding three-year period but which the Council has decided to retain at the request of a Member State.

“57. The Council reconfirms that the first summary statement of each month will contain a full, updated list of items of which the Council is seized. For intervening weeks, a weekly addendum to the summary statement will be issued listing only those items on which further action has been taken by the Council during the previous week or indicating that there has been no change during that period.

“58. The Council reconfirms that references given for each item listed in the summary statement will be the date when the item was first taken up by the Council at a formal meeting and the date of the most recent formal meeting of the Council held on that item.

“X. Communication with the Secretariat and outside

“59. The members of the Security Council intend to seek the views of Member States that are parties to a conflict and/or other interested and affected parties. For that purpose, the Council may, inter alia, utilize private meetings when public meetings are not appropriate, in which case invitations are also to be extended in accordance with rules 37 and 39 of the provisional rules of procedure of the Council. The Council, when it deems it appropriate, may also utilize informal dialogues.

“60. The members of the Security Council intend to continue to maintain regular communication with the General Assembly and the Economic and Social Council for better coordination among the principal organs of the United Nations. To that end, the members of the Security Council encourage the President of the Council to continue holding meetings with the Presidents of the General Assembly and the Economic and Social Council on a regular basis.

“61. The members of the Security Council also intend to maintain regular communication with the Peacebuilding Commission. As appropriate, the members of the Council intend to invite the Chairs of country-specific configurations of the Commission to participate in formal meetings of the Council at which the situation concerning the country in question is considered, or, on a case-by-case basis, for an exchange of views in an informal dialogue.

“62. The members of the Council are encouraged to prepare a monthly assessment of their presidency in a timely manner, which can be utilized by the member of the Council preparing the annual report.

“63. The members of the Council intend to make the best use of all mechanisms available, as appropriate, to convey policy guidance to the Secretary-General, including dialogue, letters from the President, the adoption of resolutions or presidential statements, or any other means deemed appropriate.

“64. The members of the Council, through the Secretary-General, invite new Special Representatives of the Secretary-General to engage in dialogue with members of the Council before assuming their duties under new mandates, including in the field, in order to obtain the views of Council members on the objectives and the mandates.

“65. The members of the Council intend to utilize ‘Arria-formula’ meetings as a flexible and informal forum for enhancing their deliberations. To that end, members of the Council may invite on an informal basis any Member State, relevant organization or individual to participate in ‘Arria-formula’ informal meetings. The members of the Council agree to consider using such meetings to enhance their contact with civil society and non-governmental organizations, including local non-governmental organizations suggested by United Nations field offices. The members of the Council encourage the introduction of such measures as lengthening lead times, defining topics that participants might address and permitting their participation by video teleconference.

“XI. Security Council missions

“66. The members of the Security Council underline the value of Security Council missions for understanding and assessing particular conflicts or situations on the agenda of the Council. Council missions should be planned as early as practicable with the members of the Council that will be participating in the mission. Members of the Council will designate a member or members to coordinate a particular mission.

“67. The designated member or members will draft terms of reference for the mission as early as possible in consultation with Council members and the Secretariat. The terms of reference should outline the dates of the mission, its purpose, the proposed agenda and the composition of the mission. The terms of reference should be issued as a document of the Council.

“68. The members of the Council encourage Council missions to continue to avoid restricting their meetings to those with governmental interlocutors and interlocutors of conflict parties and to hold, as appropriate, meetings with local civil society leaders, non-governmental organizations and other interested parties.

“69. Upon the return of the mission, the designated member or members should brief the Council on the mission orally and/or with a written report which should be issued as a document of the Council.

“XII. Annual report

“70. The Security Council will take the necessary action to ensure the timely submission of its report to the General Assembly. For that purpose:

“(a) The Council will continue with the existing practice whereby the annual report is submitted to the General Assembly in a single volume. The period of coverage for the reports shall be from 1 August of one year to 31 July of the next;

“(b) The Secretariat should continue to submit the draft report to the members of the Council no later than 30 September, immediately following the period covered by the report, so that it may be discussed and thereafter adopted by the Council in time for consideration by the General Assembly during the main part of the regular session of the Assembly.

“71. The report shall contain an introduction, to be prepared in accordance with the following guidelines:

“(a) The draft introduction to the report should continue to be prepared under the leadership and responsibility of the President of the Council for the month of July of each calendar year and should continue to be approved by all current members of the Council and the immediate past elected members who served on the Council during the reporting period covered;

“(b) While drafting the introduction to the report, the President for the month of July may, when necessary, seek advice from other members of the Council;

“(c) The introduction to the report should contain concise information about the nature of all decisions taken by the Council during the period covered, in particular all resolutions and presidential statements;

“(d) The member of the Council preparing the introduction is encouraged to consult for reference the monthly assessments described in paragraph 62 above.

“72. The remainder of the report shall be prepared by the Secretariat and shall be approved by all current members of the Council and the immediate past elected members who served on the Council during the reporting period covered, and shall contain the following parts:

“(a) Part I shall contain a brief statistical description of the key activities relating to all questions considered by the Council under its responsibility for the maintenance of international peace and security during the period covered by the report, including a list of each of the following, with document symbols, as appropriate:

“(i) All decisions, resolutions, presidential statements and official communiqués adopted by the Council;

“(ii) Meetings of the Council, including meetings with troop- and police-contributing countries;

“(iii) Meetings of subsidiary bodies, including counter-terrorism committees, sanctions committees and working groups;

“(iv) Reports of panels and monitoring mechanisms;
