7. Urges the Secretary-General to ensure that the lessons learned from the implementation of previous reforms are taken into consideration in the formulation of new proposals;

8. Stresses that such initiatives must be guided by decisions of the General Assembly;

9. Requests the Secretary-General to issue a progress report on the implementation of ongoing human resources management reforms, including those approved in its resolutions 63/250 and 65/247 and in the present resolution, at the main part of its sixty-ninth session, with a particular focus on whether these reforms are yielding the expected benefits and other efficiencies and concrete improvements;

10. Stresses the importance of ensuring coherence among various ongoing human resources management initiatives in order to enhance their efficiency and effectiveness and to avoid duplication and contradiction;

11. Requests the Secretary-General to ensure that proposals presented for consideration by the General Assembly should be as detailed and comprehensive as possible and should aim to go beyond identifying broad principles, overall direction and key elements;

12. Recalls paragraph 67 of the report of the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions, and requests the Secretary-General to work with the relevant non-Secretariat entities, as appropriate, to amend all administrative service arrangements to ensure that the Secretariat, as the administrating entity, cannot be held financially liable for administrative decisions taken by employing entities;

II

Recruitment and staffing

32. Requests the Secretary-General, in the context of the ongoing human resources management reforms and business transformation projects, to continue to ensure the equal treatment of candidates with equivalent educational backgrounds during the recruitment process, taking fully into account the fact that Member States have different education systems and that no education system shall be considered the standard to be applied by the Organization;

38. Notes the implementation of the new young professionals programme, and requests the Secretary-General to monitor its progress towards achieving improved geographical representation of underrepresented and unrepresented Member States;

39. Requests the Secretary-General to continue to provide adequate and effective training for young professionals, taking into account the important role of the young professionals programme in improving the geographical representation of underrepresented and unrepresented Member States and in ensuring the continued rejuvenation of the Secretariat;

41. Requests the Secretary-General to conduct a comprehensive review of the method and format of the young professionals programme examination, including its cost implications, while ensuring a level playing field for candidates of all parts of the world, in order to ensure that it is conducted in the most efficient, effective and equitable manner possible, and to report thereon, with concrete proposals, to the General Assembly at its sixty-ninth session;

III

Comprehensive assessment of the system of geographical representation
