Australia: Draft Resolution (E/1382)

Financial and Administrative Implications

The proposed Committee, meeting at headquarters, would not involve the UN in any travelling or per diem expenses for delegates or Secretariat. Any further financial implications would depend upon the extent of the work required by the Committee, but the Secretary-General would try to absorb such requirements so far as possible within existing appropriations.

As regards times of meeting, the only periods up to the end of 1949 in which technical services (interpretation, translation, documents production) could be provided are as follows:

- (i) September 6 - 16 with only light documentation, with a possible few days' extension into the first week of the General Assembly;
- (ii) December 5 - 23 (normal services).
