a/ In addition, there are 23 staff members on loan from UNESCO (14), UNICEF (2) and WHO (7); and UNRWA employs 18,800 locally-recruited staff.

29B.1 The United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees in the Near East (UNRWA) was established by the General Assembly by its resolution 302 (IV) of 8 December 1949; its present mandate extends until 30 June 1993, in accordance with Assembly resolution 44/47 A of 8 December 1989. The work of the Agency is supervised by an Advisory Commission consisting of representatives of 10 Member States. The Commissioner-General reports annually to the General Assembly.

29B.2 The overall strategy for the biennium 1992-1993 is to provide needed assistance to the Palestine refugees until their problem can be resolved in accordance with the relevant resolution of the General Assembly. This assistance involves the provision of essential educational, health, and relief and social services to eligible Palestine refugees living in Jordan, Lebanon, the Syrian Arab Republic and in the occupied West Bank and Gaza Strip. The ability of the Agency to provide this assistance is entirely dependent on sufficient voluntarily contributed funds being made available to it annually.

29B.3 The implementation of the overall strategy will involve the provision of:

(a) Educational services: to meet the basic educational needs of Palestine refugees and to enhance their educational opportunities;

(b) Health services: to meet the basic health needs of the refugees and improve their overall state of health;

(c) Relief and social services: to provide refugees with assistance in meeting their needs, in maintaining a reasonable standard of existence and in improving their capacity to become more self-reliant, thereby reducing their dependence on such assistance.

29B.4 Since 1982, the Agency has provided emergency assistance to Palestine refugees affected by the political turmoil in Lebanon. Similar emergency measures have been furnished to refugees in the occupied territories of the West Bank and Gaza Strip since the beginning of 1988. In addition, the Agency has initiated an expanded programme of assistance in order to improve social and economic conditions for the refugees in the occupied territories. All three programmes, including extra staff costs, are financed mainly from specially solicited voluntary funds.

29B.5 In accordance with General Assembly resolution 302 (IV), the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) and the World Health Organization (WHO) have entered into agreements with UNRWA, under the terms of which these organizations assume responsibility for the technical aspects of the Agency's education and health subprogrammes. UNESCO makes available the services of the UNRWA Director of Education, as well as 13 other UNESCO specialists; and WHO provides the Director of Health and 6 other WHO specialists on a non-reimbursable basis. The Agency currently employs some 18,800 locally-recruited staff, all of whom are paid out of the voluntary contributions for operational activities.

29B.6 The activities of UNRWA correspond to subprogramme 6 of Programme 36, International protection of and assistance to refugees, of the medium-term plan for the period 1992-1997. In view of the nature of this Programme, no designation of priority was made among the six subprogrammes. Similarly, no priorities are proposed among the activities of UNRWA, which are described below:

Activities:

1. Education

(a) General education: the Agency currently provides elementary and preparatory level education to some 365,000 eligible refugee children; this figure is expected to grow by 2.5 per cent per annum to about 397,000 children by the end of the biennium 1992-1993. In addition, the Agency currently provides assistance to some 9,700 refugee children who are enrolled in government and private schools; no change is expected in this number during the biennium;

(b) Vocational and professional training: the Agency currently provides 5,146 vocational, technical and teacher training places in eight training centres. The number of training places is expected to grow to about 5,526 by the end of the biennium, provided that sufficient special contributions are forthcoming for the establishment of new courses. The Agency is currently providing 540 university scholarships to eligible refugee children; no change is anticipated during the biennium.

2. Health

(a) Preventive and curative medical services: the Agency is currently providing preventive and curative medical services to 2.450 million eligible refugees. These services cover the control of communicable diseases, maternal and child health care, school health services, health education, out-patient treatment at Agency health centres and the subsidizing of in-patient treatment at government and private hospitals. It is expected that the number of refugees eligible for treatment will grow by 2.0 per cent per annum to about 2.580 million by the end of the biennium and that the number of patient visits to UNRWA health centres will increase from 4.6 million to 5.6 million per annum;

(b) Nutrition and supplementary feeding services: the Programme provides nutritional support to vulnerable groups, namely, infants and pre-school children, pregnant and nursing women. The Agency is currently providing these services to an average of 159,700 recipients and the number is expected to increase to about 164,000 by the end of the biennium;

(c) Environmental health services: basic environmental health services are currently being provided to 850,000 eligible registered refugees living in camps. The number of registered camp dwellers is expected to grow by 3.5 per cent per annum to 950,000 by the end of the biennium.

3. Relief and social services

(a) Relief services: relief services are provided by the Agency in the form of food rations (consisting of flour, rice, sugar, cooking oil and other protein supplements), blankets and clothing for children, and cash assistance and shelter to destitute refugees. The Agency is currently providing assistance to 154,000 beneficiaries, which is expected to grow by 5 per cent per annum to 178,000 by the end of the biennium;

(b) Social services: nearly all registered refugees are eligible to benefit from social services, which provide income-generating programmes for the economically disadvantaged, social counselling, youth and women's activities centres, training in skills, and assistance to the disabled. The present number of eligible refugees stands at 2.547 million and is expected to grow by 2 per cent per annum to 2.714 million by the end of the biennium.

Resource requirements (at revised 1991 rates)

Established posts

29B.7 The estimated requirements for established posts ($13,524,000) and common staff costs ($6,492,500) include increases of $741,600 and $552,800, respectively, which relate to the transfer of five Professional posts from the extrabudgetary resources of UNRWA to the regular budget and to the net redeployment of four posts from Vienna to the field offices.

29B.8 By resolution 3331 B (XXIX) of 17 December 1974, the General Assembly decided that "the expenses for salaries of international staff in the service of the United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees in the Near East which would otherwise be a charge on voluntary contributions should with effect from 1 January 1975 be financed by the regular budget of the United Nations for the duration of the Agency's mandate". The Agency currently employs 16 international staff financed under its budget. It is proposed to transfer 5 of these 16 posts to the United Nations regular budget in 1992-1993 and to continue reviewing the situation. The five posts now proposed for inclusion under the United Nations regular budget are: three P-4 posts, consisting of the Head of the Information Systems Project, a Legal Officer and a Senior Auditor; and two P-3 posts, consisting of a Field Engineering Officer and a Supervising Engineer.
