Dear Sirs,

The people in Belau are against the testing of nuclear weapons. Just because the United States of America pays a few million dollars, it is not fair to those people to poison their air and earth with radiation. It is sad that the people have nothing to say. It is the leaders who take the bribery money and get rich, while the poor people get sick from radiation. The United States is also planning to test star wars there. I read that in a British newspaper. It is not fair that the people of countries have no rights. They cannot say anything in their own country. The testing of all nuclear weapons in the world should be stopped.

Sincerely,

(Signed) Ann FLEMING
