رسالة الإحالة

١٠ أيلول/سبتمبر ١٩٨٦

سيدي ،

تشرف اللجنة الخاصة المعنية بالتحقيق في الممارسات الاسرائيلية التي تمس حقوق الانسان لسكان الاراضي المحتلة بأن تحيل اليكم وفق هذه الرسالة تقريرها الثامن عشر ، الذي أعد وفقا لقرارات الجمعية العامة المتعلقة باللجنة الخاصة ، ولاسيما القرار ٢٤٤٣ (د - ٢٣) المؤرخ في ١٩ كانون الاول/ديسمبر ١٩٦٨ ، الذي أنشئت اللجنة الخاصة بموجبه ، والقرار ١٦١/٤٠ دال المؤرخ في ١٦ كانون الاول/ديسمبر ١٩٨٥ ، وهو أحدث قرار جددت الجمعية العامة بموجبه ولاية اللجنة .

ويتناول هذا التقرير الغثرة من ٣٠ آب/أغسطس ١٩٨٥ ، وهو تاريخ اعتماد التقرير السابق ، الى ٣١ آب/أغسطس ١٩٨٦ . ويستند التقرير الى معلومات تلقتها اللجنة الخاصة من خلال إفادات شفوية أدلى بها أشخاص لهم خبرة مباشرة بحالة حقوق الانسان في الاراضي المحتلة . وكذلك معلومات مكتوبة جمعت من مصادر مختلفة . واختارت اللجنة من مصادر المعلومات الشفوية والمكتوبة هذه مقتطفات وملخصات ذات صلة تنعكس في هذا التقرير . ولجمع الإفادات الشفوية رتبت اللجنة الخاصة أمر عقد جلسات استماع في نيويورك وجنيف وعمان . وواصلت اللجنة الخاصة رصد البيانات التي أدلى بها أعضاء حكومة اسرائيل والتي تمثل سياسة تلك الحكومة في الاراضي المحتلة ، والتقارير التي تتناول التدابير المتخذة لتنفيذ تلك السياسة . وأحاطت اللجنة الخاصة علما بالرمائل الموجهة اليكم والى رئيس مجلس الأمن خلال الفترة التي يشملها هذا التقرير والمتعلقة بولاية اللجنة الخاصة والمعممة بوصفها من وثائق الجمعية العامة ومجلس الأمن . وتلقت اللجنة الخاصة معلومات من بعض المنظمات عن مختلف جوانب الحالة في الاراضي المحتلة . وتخص بالذكر سلسلة من الوثائق والاحصائيات قدمت الى اللجنة الخاصة دائرة شؤون الوطن المحتل ودائرة شؤون التربية والتعليم . والدراسات العليا

الى سعادة السيد خافيير بيريز دي كوييار

الامين العام للأمم المتحدة

نيويورك

في منظمة التحرير الفلسطينية في عمان ، وهي تعكس جوانب مختلفة من الممارسات والسياسات التي تمس حقوق الانسان للسكان المدنيين في هذه الاراضي .

ولم تغير حكومة اسرائيل موقفها تجاه اللجنة الخاصة على الرغم من الجهود التي بذلت في هذا الاتجاه . غير أن اللجنة الخاصة استفادت من التعاون مع حكومات جمهورية مصر العربية والمملكة الاردنية الهاشمية والجمهورية العربية السورية في أداء مهام ولايتها . إلا أن اللجنة تأسف لأنها لم تتمكن ، بسبب القيود المالية التي وضعت عليها ، وهي معروفة جيداً لديكم ، من عقد جلسات استماع في دمشق والقاهرة لأداء مهام ولايتها .

ولقد حاولت اللجنة الخاصة ، لدى إعداد تقريرها ، أن تقدم اليكم الصورة الكاملة للواقع في الاراضي المحتلة من حيث مساهمته بحقوق الانسان للسكان المدنيين . وتود اللجنة الخاصة ، بهذه الرسالة ، أن تلفت انتباهكم الى عدد من الجوانب يستحق الذكر بوجه خاص .

فكما يتبين من المعلومات الواردة في التقرير ، استمرت السلطات الاسرائيلية في تنفيذ سياسة الضم والاستيطان . واللجنة الخاصة قلقة أشد القلق على مصير السكان المدنيين الذين طردوا من أرضهم الأصلية . ومن أبرز صور ذلك الطرد مصير سكان عمواس وبيت نوبا ويالو الذين تحولوا الى لاجئين هائمين على وجوههم منذ أن مسحت سلطات الاحتلال قراهم من على وجه الأرض في عام ١٩٦٧ . وترى اللجنة الخاصة من دواعي القلق العميق أن سكان هذه القرى مازالوا محرومين بإصرار من العودة الى أرضهم التي أقام عليها الصندوق القومي اليهودي الكندي "حديقة كندا" ، وتفيد التقارير بأن السلطات الاسرائيلية تنوي زراعة غابة فيها بدلاً من السماح بإعادة بناء القرى المهدامة .

وتعكس المعلومات الواردة في هذا التقرير عوامل جديدة تزيد محنة السكان المدنيين سوءاً على سؤيها . واللجنة الخاصة قلقة لتساعد أعمال العنف الناتج عن تنفيذ حكومة اسرائيل لسياسة "القبضة الحديدية" التي بعثت من جديد ، كما أعلنت تلك السلطات ذاتها . وتتجلى هذه السياسة في عدد من التدابير القاسية التي تمس حقوق الانسان لسكان الاراضي المحتلة الفلسطينيين ، كزيادة عدد الاعتقالات والمحاكمات التي تؤدي الى احتجاز كثير من المدنيين (بما في ذلك الاحداث) الذين يسجدون بجرائم سياسية أو أمنية ، وكذلك فرض تدابير الحجز الإداري . وثمة جانب آخر مقلق للبال من جوانب سياسة "القبضة الحديدية" ، وهو استئناء سياسة الطرد والإبعاد على نطاق واسع .

وقد أدت الحالة التي خلقتها هذه السياسة في الضفة الغربية وقطاع غزة ، إلى جانب النظام القاسي المفروض على مرتفعات الجولان إلى تهديد أي أمل في تحسن حالة حقوق الإنسان في الأراضي المحتلة في الفترة المشمولة ، بهذا التقرير .

فمجل الحياة اليومية للسكان المدنيين ، كما تتبدى من الإفادات الشفوية والمعلومات المكتوبة التي جمعتها اللجنة ، يبين بوضوح وجود انتهاكات خطيرة للحقوق والحريات الأساسية ، فالمدنيون يتعرضون لمختلف أشكال المضايقة ، بما في ذلك تدابير العقوبة الجماعية كهدم المنازل ، والسلوك المعادي من قبل المستوطنين الذين يوسعون نطاق سلطتهم كلما لاحت فرصة ، والقيود التي تفرض على حرية الحركة ، كما يتبين من زيادة عدد حالات فرض الإقامة الجبرية في المنزل أو البلدة ، وفرض قيود على حرية التعليم ، ويتجلى ذلك بوجه خاص في طرد عدد من المدرسين وأساتذة الجامعات تمسقا . وفي هذا الصدد تعرب اللجنة الخاصة عن أملها في أن يعاد هؤلاء المدرسون ، الذين طردوا دون وجه حق ، إلى أماكنهم ووظائفهم في أسرع وقت ممكن .

وأدلى المسؤولون الإسرائيليون بعدد من البيانات حول إعادة البلديات في الأراضي المحتلة إلى الزعماء المحليين . وعلى الرغم من التصريحات التي كثيرا ما أعلنت حول هذا الموضوع ، وبعض الخطوات التي قيل أنها اتخذت لتنفيذها ، تجد اللجنة الخاصة صعوبة في تقدير الدوافع الكامنة وراء هذه التصريحات في المرحلة الراهنة .

ومازال هذا الوضع يسبب عددا من حالات الاعتقال بجرائم سياسية أو أمنية ، ويديم مشاكل أحوال السجون ومحنة المحتجزين على اختلاف أعمارهم ، ويؤدي إلى تدفق سيل متصل من الادعاءات ذات الطبيعة الخطيرة المتعلقة بمعاملة المحتجزين .

وبالنظر إلى هذه التطورات ، سعت اللجنة الخاصة إلى إعطاء صورة واضحة وانعكاس دقيق لحالة حقوق الإنسان السائدة في الأراضي المحتلة . وإن خطورة هذه الحالة وتدهورها المستمر يتطلبان بذل جهود مجددة من قبل المجتمع الدولي في معيئه إلى تخفيف شدة حال السكان المدنيين في الأراضي المحتلة .

وكما تعلمون بإسادة الأمين العام ، وافقت اللجنة الخاصة ، عملا منها بروح التعاون البناء على الحد من أنشطتها استجابة للطلب الموجه منكم إلى جميع هيئات الأمم المتحدة ، في مساعدكم للتغلب على الازمة المالية التي واجهت المنظمة هذه السنة . وقد بذلت أنا وزملائي كل ما في وسعنا للنهوض بأعباء ولايتنا على خير وجه

نستطيعه في حدود هذه القيود . ونأمل ألا تستمر هذه القيود ، وإذا جددت ولاية اللجنة ، نأمل أن يسمح لها بممارسة مهامها على نحو لا يقلل من كفاءتها في أداء عملها .

وتفضلوا سيدي ، بالنيابة عن زملائي وبالأصالة عن نفسي ، بقبول فائق الاحترام .

ثانيا - تنظيم الاعمال

٩ - واصلت اللجنة الخاصة أعمالها بموجب النظام الداخلي الوارد في تقريرها الاول إلى الأمين العام^(٣) . وواصل السيد ن . ويجيواردانية (سري لانكا) عمله كرئيس للجنة .

١٠ - وعقدت اللجنة الخاصة أول جولة من سلسلة اجتماعاتها في الفترة من ٢ إلى ٦ كانون الأول/ديسمبر ١٩٨٥ في نيويورك ، بعد أن وافقت الجمعية العامة على طلبها في الظروف الخاصة المقدمة لعقد الاجتماعات ريثما تقوم الجمعية العامة بتجديد ولايتها ، وقررت اللجنة الخاصة مواصلة نظامها القائم على رصد المعلومات المتعلقة بالأراضي المحتلة وأن تعتمد ، عملاً بالفقرة ١٧ من القرار ١٦١/٤٠ دال ، إلى إيلاء اهتمام خاص للمعلومات المتعلقة بمعاملة المدنيين المحتجزين . ودرست اللجنة الخاصة المعلومات المتعلقة بالحالة في الأراضي المحتلة في الفترة التي تبدأ منذ موعد اعتماد تقريرها إلى الجمعية العامة (A/40/702) في ٣٠ آب/أغسطس ١٩٨٥ ، ودرست كذلك عدداً من الرسائل التي أحيلت إليها فيما يتعلق بحالات فردية عن ادعاءات بانتهاك حقوق الإنسان في الأراضي المحتلة . وبثت في تنظيم أعمالها للسنة . ووافقت اللجنة الخاصة على الاتصال بحكومة إسرائيل وبحكومات الأردن والجمهورية العربية السورية ومصر ، بهدف التماس تعاونها في تنفيذ مهام ولاية اللجنة . ووافقت اللجنة الخاصة أيضاً على الاتصال بمنظمة التحرير الفلسطينية ، واستمعت اللجنة إلى الشهادات التي أدلى بها شهود عاديون لتوهم من الأراضي المحتلة حيث كانت لهم خبرة مباشرة في النظر في حالات صدرت فيها أوامر بإبعاد ضد عدد من المدنيين . وفي الختام قررت اللجنة أن تعقد خلال سلسلة اجتماعاتها المقبلة جلسات استماع لشهود في المنطقة بغية تسجيل أية معلومات أو أدلة ذات صلة بالموضوع . وفي ١٦ كانون الأول/ديسمبر ١٩٨٥ ، اعتمدت الجمعية العامة القرار ١٦١/٤٠ دال ، الذي قررت الجمعية العامة بمقتضاه أن :

١٦ - تتوجه من اللجنة الخاصة أن تواصل ، إلى حين انتهاء الاحتلال الإسرائيلي في وقت مبكر ، التحقيق في السياسات والممارسات الإسرائيلية في الأراضي العربية التي تحتلها إسرائيل منذ عام ١٩٦٧ ، وأن تتشاور ، حسب الاقتضاء ، مع لجنة الصليب الأحمر الدولية بغية ضمان حماية رفاه سكان الأراضي المحتلة وما لهم من حقوق الإنسان ، وأن تقدم تقريراً إلى الأمين العام في أقرب وقت ممكن ، وكلما دعت الضرورة بعد ذلك .

١١ - وفي ١٩ كانون الاول/ديسمبر ١٩٨٥ وجهت اللجنة الخاصة رسالة إلى الممثل الدائم لإسرائيل لدى الأمم المتحدة تنص على ما يلي :

"عقدت اللجنة الخاصة سلسلة من الاجتماعات ، واتخذت بعض القرارات فيما يتعلق بتنفيذ مهام ولايتها . وقد قررت اللجنة الخاصة الالتزام بالحكومات المعنية طالبة تعاونها ، لاسيما تعاون المصادر التي لديها معرفة وخبرة مباهرتان فيما يتعلق بحالة حقوق الانسان في الاراضي المحتلة .

"واللجنة الخاصة على علم بالموقف الذي اتخذته حكومة سعادتكم في الماضي والذي انعكس في الوثائق الرسمية للجمعية العامة عند النظر في تقارير اللجنة الخاصة . وعلى الرغم من أن هذا الموقف صلب ، فقد ارتأت اللجنة أن تواصل بذل جميع الجهود الرامية إلى ضمان تعاون حكومة سعادتكم . وترى اللجنة أنه يجب إعادة النظر في سياسة حكومة إسرائيل بحيث تسمح للجنة الخاصة بزيارة الاراضي المحتلة ، مما يمكنها من تنفيذ مهام ولايتها بالكامل . وتنوي اللجنة الخاصة عقد سلسلة من الاجتماعات في الفترة من ٢٠ نيسان/أبريل إلى ١٠ أيار/مايو ١٩٨٦ ، وسينظر بعين التقدير إذا أتيحت للجنة إمكانية الاستفادة من الأدلة المباشرة التي ستصبح متاحة على هذا النحو .

"وتناشد اللجنة الخاصة حكومة إسرائيل أن تعيد النظر في موقفها ، وأن تسمح للسكان المدنيين في الاراضي المحتلة بالاستفادة من الحماية التي يمنحها لهم القانون الدولي" .

١٢ - وفي ١٩ كانون الاول/ديسمبر ١٩٨٥ ، وجهت اللجنة الخاصة رسالة إلى الممثلين الدائمين للأردن والجمهورية العربية السورية ومصر لدى الأمم المتحدة تنص على ما يلي :

..."

"عقدت اللجنة الخاصة سلسلة من الاجتماعات واتخذت بعض القرارات فيما يتعلق بتنفيذ مهام ولايتها . وقررت اللجنة الخاصة الاتصال بالحكومات المعنية طالبة تعاونها ، خاصة تعاون المصادر التي لديها خبرة ومعرفة مباشرتان فيما يتعلق بحالة حقوق الانسان في الاراضي المحتلة .

"وقد عقدت اللجنة الخاصة في الماضي ، بالتعاون مع حكومة سعادتكم جلسات استماع في (المملكة الاردنية الهاشمية ، الجمهورية العربية السورية ، جمهورية مصر العربية) حيث تمكنت من استقبال أشخاص من الاراضي المحتلة . وقد أثبتت شهادة هؤلاء الأشخاص انها ذات قيمة كبيرة لاعمال اللجنة الخاصة . وتخطط اللجنة لعقد جلسات استماع من هذا القبيل في المنطقة في الفترة من ٢٠ نيسان/ابريل إلى ١٠ أيار/مايو ١٩٨٦ . فإذا لم يكن لدى حكومة سعادتكم أي اعتراض ، فإن اللجنة الخاصة تتوقع عقد جلسات استماع في (المملكة الاردنية الهاشمية ، الجمهورية العربية السورية ، جمهورية مصر العربية) في وقت مناسب خلال هذه الفترة" .

١٣ - وقد وجهت في نفس اليوم رسالة مباشرة إلى منظمة التحرير الفلسطينية .

١٤ - وفي ٦ شباط/فبراير ١٩٨٦ وجه الممثل الدائم لإسرائيل لدى الأمم المتحدة الرسالة التالية إلى رئيس اللجنة الخاصة بصفة الممثل الدائم لسري لانكا لدى الأمم المتحدة :

"فيما يتعلق برسالتكم G/SO 234(16-2-3) المؤرخة في ١٩ كانون الاول/ديسمبر ١٩٨٥ ، فإن حكومة إسرائيل استعرضت مرة أخرى سياستها تجاه اللجنة الخاصة المعنية بالتحقيق في الممارسات الاسرائيلية التي تمس حقوق الانسان لسكان الاراضي المحتلة ، وتؤكد من جديد موقفها القائم .

"ويستند هذا القرار الى الاسباب التي أوضحت مرارا في الماضي ، ويمكن العثور عليها في الوثائق الرسمية للجمعية العامة لدى النظر في تقارير اللجنة الخاصة .

"ولن يؤدي القرار ١٦١/٤٠ دال إلا إلى تعزيز تصميم إسرائيل على عدم تغيير سياستها الحالية تجاه اللجنة الخاصة . والقرار ١٦١/٤٠ دال ، مخلصه

مثل جميع القرارات السابقة للجنة الخاصة ، يتضمن وقائع محرّفة تقوم على افتراضات متحيزة تصدر أحكاما مسبقة على حالة السكان في الأراضي التي تديرها إسرائيل . ولذلك فإن حكومة إسرائيل ترى من المستحيل أن تتعاون مع هيئة تشكل هذه الافتراضات المتميزة والمحرّفة مبادئها التوجيهية .

"ففي مجتمع إسرائيل المفتوح وفي ظل الديمقراطية المزدهرة فيها تقوم صحافة حرة بنشر شروة من المعلومات الدقيقة عن الأراضي . وهذه المعلومات متاحة لكل من يهتم الأمر . إلا أن اللجنة للأسف لا تختار المواد المحفية إلا على أساس انتقائي لاثبات ادعاءاتها ، بينما تبدو وأنها تتجاهل عن عمد جميع المعلومات التي لا تعكس استنتاجها المقررة ملغا . وتستمر حكومة إسرائيل في نشر المعلومات عن الأراضي في مجالات مثل التعليم والصحة والسكان والزراعة والري وغيرها من المجالات .

"وبالإضافة إلى ذلك ، فإن الديمقراطية الإسرائيلية تتيح الفرصة لكل من يهتم الأمر لزيارة الأراضي لكي يرى مباشرة التطورات والتحسينات الإيجابية التي حدثت في تلك المجالات تحت الإدارة الإسرائيلية خلال فترة الـ ١٩ عاما الأخيرة" .

١٥ - وردت حكومات الأردن والجمهورية العربية السورية ومصر بعد ذلك على اللجنة الخاصة ، مؤكدة من جديد اعتمادها لمواصلة التعاون معها .

١٦ - وفي ١٨ شباط/فبراير ١٩٨٦ وجه المراقب الدائم لمنظمة التحرير الفلسطينية لدى مكتب الأمم المتحدة في جنيف رسالة إلى أمين اللجنة الخاصة يؤكد فيها تعاون منظمته مع اللجنة ويبلغها اعتماد منظمة التحرير الفلسطينية لتسهيل قيام اللجنة بمقعد جلسات استماع .

١٧ - وفي ١٤ كانون الثاني/يناير ١٩٨٦ ، وجه الأمين العام رسالة إلى رئيس اللجنة الخاصة أشار فيها إلى ما تواجهه الأمم المتحدة من مشاكل خطيرة متعلقة بالميزانية ، وطلب إلى اللجنة أن تعيد النظر ، في ضوء الحالة ، في جدول اجتماعاتها وأماكن انعقادها لضمان أن يكون استخدام موارد السفر والتكاليف الأخرى المتعلقة به في نطاق الحد الأدنى . وفي رسالة أخرى موجهة إلى رئيس اللجنة الخاصة في ١١ نيسان/أبريل ١٩٨٦ ، أشار الأمين العام إلى احتمال إلغاء اجتماعات اللجنة المتوخى عقدها في جنيف في آب/أغسطس وذلك بغية تخفيض النفقات .

١٨ - وفي ٢٦ آذار/مارس ١٩٨٦ ، وجهت اللجنة الخاصة رسالة إلى الممثلين الدائمين للجمهورية العربية السورية ومصر لدى مكتب الأمم المتحدة في جنيف تنص على ما يلي :

"... بالنظر إلى ما حدث من تطورات عامة متصلة بأعمال اللجنة الخاصة ، فقد قامت اللجنة باستعراض أنشطتها في الفترة المقبلة وقررت ، بناء على ذلك ، تأجيل جلسات الاستماع المقترح عقدها في (الجمهورية العربية السورية/جمهورية مصر العربية) إلى موعد لاحق . ومما لا شك فيه أن اللجنة ستبلغ حكومة معادتكم بتحديد أية مواعيد أخرى لعقد هذه الجلسات ، وتأمل باخلاص أن تتعاون حكومة معادتكم معها مرة أخرى في تلك المرحلة" .

١٩ - وفي اليوم نفسه ، وجهت اللجنة الخاصة رسالة إلى الممثل الدائم للأردن لدى مكتب الأمم المتحدة في جنيف ، تنص على ما يلي :

"... بالنظر إلى ما حدث من تطورات عامة متصلة بأعمال اللجنة الخاصة ، فقد قامت اللجنة باستعراض أنشطتها في الفترة المقبلة ، وقررت بناء على ذلك أن تعقد الآن جلسات الاستماع المقترحة في المنطقة في عمان في الفترة من ٢٤ نيسان/أبريل إلى ١ أيار/مايو ١٩٨٦ . وستغدو اللجنة ممتنة لو تلقت تأكيداً من حكومة معادتكم يفيد بأنها ستتعاون مع اللجنة أثناء عقد جلساتها في عمان خلال هذه الفترة" .

٢٠ - وقد وجهت رسالة مماثلة إلى منظمة التحرير الفلسطينية .

٢١ - وعقدت اللجنة الخاصة سلسلة من الاجتماعات في جنيف وعمان في الفترة من ٢١ نيسان/أبريل إلى ١ أيار/مايو ١٩٨٦ . وفي هذه الاجتماعات درست اللجنة الخاصة المعلومات التي وردت إليها عن التطورات الحاصلة في الأراضي المحتلة في الفترة بين كانون الأول/ديسمبر ١٩٨٥ ونيسان/أبريل ١٩٨٦ . وكان معروضا عليها عدد من الرماثل الموجهة إليها من الحكومات والمنظمات والأفراد فيما يتعلق بولايتها . وأحاطت اللجنة الخاصة علماً بعدة رسائل موجهة إليها من المراقب الدائم لمنظمة التحرير الفلسطينية

لدى مكتب الأمم المتحدة في جنيف ، وبعدد من الرسائل الموجهة إلى الأمين العام من الممثلين الدائمين للأردن وإسرائيل والجمهورية العربية السورية بشأن مسائل تتمثل بتقريرها . وفي جنيف وعمان استمعت اللجنة الخاصة إلى شهادات أشخاص يقيمون في الضفة الغربية وقطاع غزة فيما يتعلق بالحالة في هذه الأراضي .

٢٢ - وفي عمان ، استقبلت اللجنة الخاصة وزير شؤون الأرض المحتلة ، السيد مروان دودين . وقدمت إلى اللجنة الخاصة تقارير عن الحالة في الأراضي المحتلة ، أعدتها وزارة شؤون الأرض المحتلة ، وبحثت اللجنة مختلف جوانب ولايتها خلال اجتماعها مع الوزير . كما تلقت اللجنة الخاصة من دائرة شؤون الوطن الممثل ودائرة التربية والتعليم والدراسات العليا في منظمة التحرير الفلسطينية سلسلة من التقارير والاحصاءات المتعلقة بالحالة في الأراضي المحتلة . وترد في المرفق الثاني من هذا التقرير قائمة بالوثائق التي قدمتها منظمة التحرير الفلسطينية .

٢٣ - وفي ١٧ حزيران/يونيه ١٩٨٦ ، وجهت البعثة الدائمة للجمهورية العربية السورية لدى الأمم المتحدة رسالة إلى اللجنة الخاصة بواسطة الأمين العام تنص على ما يلي :

"يهدى القائم بالأعمال بالنيابة للجمهورية العربية السورية تحياته إلى الأمين العام للأمم المتحدة ويعرب عن أصد حكومته لتقصير مدة اجتماعات اللجنة الخاصة المعنية بالتحقيق في الممارسات الإسرائيلية التي تمس حقوق الإنسان لسكان الأراضي المحتلة ، ولعدم قيام اللجنة الخاصة بزيارة الجمهورية العربية السورية وفقا للبرنامج السنوي المقرر . وقد حال ذلك دون انجاز اللجنة للمهام التي أسندتها إليها الجمعية العامة ، وخاصة الاستماع إلى شهود من مرتفعات الجولان المحتلة واستجواب الشهود القادمين من مرتفعات الجولان المحتلة مباشرة ، حيث تقوم سلطات الاحتلال الصهيوني بتكثيف ممارساتها القمعية والوحشية ضد السكان..."

٢٤ - وفي ٧ آب/أغسطس ١٩٨٦ ، وجهت البعثة الدائمة للجمهورية العربية السورية لدى مكتب الأمم المتحدة في جنيف ، مذكرة شفوية إلى مساعد الأمين العام لحقوق الإنسان تنص على ما يلي :

"تهدي البعثة الدائمة للجمهورية العربية السورية لدى مكتب الأمم المتحدة في جنيف تحياتها إلى مساعد الأمين العام لحقوق الإنسان وتتشرف بإيداعه البيان الذي أعدته وزارة الخارجية عن الممارسات الاسرائيلية ضد السكان العرب السوريين في الجولان المحتل راجية تقديمه إلى اللجنة الثلاثية الخاصة بالتحقيق في الممارسات الاسرائيلية التي تمس حقوق الإنسان لسكان الأراضي المحتلة ، بالنظر إلى أنه لم يتح لها زيارة دمشق هذا العام ، والطلب منها ارفاقه بتقريرها الذي ستقدمه إلى الجمعية العامة كما جرت العادة" .

وقد نظرت اللجنة الخاصة في هذا التقرير في حينه ، وينعكس أدناه في الفرع الرابع جيم .

٢٥ - وعقب تبادل للرسائل بين رئيس اللجنة الخاصة والأمين العام (رسالتان بتاريخ ٢٧ نيسان/ابريل و ٨ أيار/مايو ١٩٨٦) تم الاتفاق على إجراء يتيح عقد مشاورات فيما بين أعضاء اللجنة ، قصد تمكينهم من النظر في التقرير واستكمالها وإقراره ، دون عقد دورة رسمية مدتها اسبوعان ، كان من المقرر أصلاً أن تعقد في جنيف في شهر آب/أغسطس . وبناء على ذلك اجتمع أعضاء اللجنة الخاصة في جنيف في الفترة من ٨ إلى ١٠ أيلول/سبتمبر ١٩٨٦ حيث تمت دراسة هذا التقرير واعتماده .

ثالثاً - الولاية

٢٦ - قررت الجمعية العامة في قرارها ٢٤٤٣ (د - ٢٣) المعنون "احترام حقوق الإنسان وإعمالها في الأراضي المحتلة" ، انشاء لجنة خاصة معنية بالتحقيق في الممارسات الاسرائيلية التي تمس حقوق الإنسان لسكان الأراضي المحتلة ، تتألف من ثلاث دول أعضاء .

٢٧ - وكانت ولاية اللجنة الخاصة ، كما وردت في القرار المذكور أعلاه وقرارات لاحقة ، هي "التحقيق في الممارسات الاسرائيلية التي تمس حقوق الإنسان لسكان الأراضي المحتلة" .

٢٨ - وقررت اللجنة الخاصة ، عند تفسير ولايتها ، ما يلي :

(أ) أن الأراضي التي تعتبر أراضي محتلة هي المناطق الواقعة تحت الاحتلال الاسرائيلي ، أي مرتفعات الجولان والضفة الغربية (بما فيها القدس الشرقية) وقطاع غزة وشبه جزيرة سيناء . وبعد تنفيذ الاتفاق المصري الاسرائيلي بشأن فض الاشتباك القوات ، المؤرخ في ١٨ كانون الثاني/يناير ١٩٧٤ ، والاتفاق بشأن فض الاشتباك بين القوات الاسرائيلية والسورية المؤرخ في ٣١ أيار/مايو ١٩٧٤ ، تغير تحديد حدود المناطق الواقعة تحت الاحتلال على النحو المبين في الخرائط المرفقة بهذين الاتفاقين . وعدلت مرة أخرى حدود مناطق الأراضي المصرية الواقعة تحت الاحتلال العسكري الاسرائيلي ، وفقا لمعاهدة السلام بين جمهورية مصر العربية ودولة اسرائيل الموقعة في ٢٦ آذار/مارس ١٩٧٩ والتي بدأ نفاذها في ٢٥ نيسان/ابريل ١٩٧٩ . وفي ٢٥ نيسان/ابريل ١٩٨٢ ، أعيد ما تبقى من الأراضي المصرية الواقعة تحت الاحتلال الاسرائيلي الى حكومة مصر وفقا لاحكام الاتفاق المذكور آنفا . ومن ثم فإن الأراضي التي تعتبر أراض محتلة ، لأغراض هذا التقرير ، هي الأراضي التي لا تزال باقية تحت الاحتلال الاسرائيلي ، وهي مرتفعات الجولان ، والضفة الغربية (بما فيها القدس الشرقية) وقطاع غزة ؛

(ب) إن الأشخاص الذين يشملهم القرار ٢٤٤٣(د - ٢٢) ، والذين هم بناء على ذلك ، موضوع تحقيق اللجنة الخاصة ، هم السكان المدنيون الذين يعيشون في المناطق التي احتلت نتيجة لأعمال القتال التي نشبت في حزيران/يونيه ١٩٦٧ ، والأشخاص الذين كانوا عادة يقيمون في المناطق الواقعة تحت الاحتلال ولكنهم تركوا هذه المناطق بسبب القتال . غير أن اللجنة الخاصة لاحظت أن القرار ٢٤٤٣(د - ٢٢) قد أشار الى "السكان" ، دون أي تحديد لاية فئة من فئات سكان الأراضي المحتلة ؛

(ج) إن "حقوق الانسان" لسكان الأراضي المحتلة تتكون من عنصرين ، هما أولا الحقوق التي أشار اليها مجلس الامن بوصفها "حقوق الانسان الاساسية وغير القابلة للتصرف" وذلك في قراره ٢٣٧(١٩٦٧) المؤرخ في ١٤ حزيران/يونيه ١٩٦٧ ، وثانيا الحقوق التي تقوم على أساس الحماية التي يوفرها القانون الدولي في ظروف معينة مثل الاحتلال العسكري ، والاسر في حالة اسرى الحرب . ومطلوب من اللجنة الخاصة أيضا ، وفقا لقرار الجمعية العامة ٣٠٠٥(د - ٢٧) ، أن تحقق في الاتهامات المتعلقة باستغلال موارد الأراضي المحتلة ونهبها ؛ وسلب التراث الاثري والثقافي للأراضي المحتلة ؛ والمساس بحرية العبادة في الأماكن المقدسة الموجودة في الأراضي المحتلة ؛

(د) ان "السياسات" و "الممارسات" التي تمي حقوق الانسان والتي تقع في نطاق تحقيقات اللجنة الخاصة ، تشير ، في حالة "السياسات" الى أي نهج عمل تعتمده وتتبعه حكومة اسرائيل عامدة ، بوصفه جزءا من نيتها المعلنة أو غير المعلنة ، في حين أن "الممارسات" تعني الاعمال التي تمثل نمطا من السلوك من جانب السلطات الاسرائيلية نحو السكان العرب في المناطق المحتلة ، سواء أكانت تلك الاعمال تنفيذا لسياسة أم لم تكن .

٣٩ - وقد اعتمدت اللجنة الخاصة ، منذ انشائها ، على المكوك الدولية التالية في تفسير ولايتها والاطلاع بها :

(أ) ميثاق الأمم المتحدة ؛

(ب) الاعلان العالمي لحقوق الانسان ؛

(ج) اتفاقية جنيف المتعلقة بحماية المدنيين وقت الحرب ، المؤرخة في ١٢ آب/أغسطس ١٩٤٩^(٤) ؛

(د) اتفاقية جنيف المتعلقة بمعاملة أسرى الحرب ، المؤرخة في ١٢ آب/أغسطس ١٩٤٩^(٥) ؛

(هـ) اتفاقية لاهاي لحماية الملكية الثقافية في حالة نشوب نزاع مسلح ، المؤرخة في ١٤ أيار/مايو ١٩٥٤^(٦) ؛

(و) اتفاقيتا لاهاي المعقودتان في ١٨٩٩ و ١٩٠٧ بشأن قوانين وأعراف الحرب البرية^(٧) ؛

(ز) العهد الدولي الخاص بالحقوق المدنية والسياسية ، والعهد الدولي الخاص بالحقوق الاقتصادية والاجتماعية والثقافية^(٨) ؛

٣٠ - واعتمدت اللجنة الخاصة أيضا على القرارات ذات الصلة بحالة المدنيين في الأراضي المحتلة التي اتخذتها أجهزة الأمم المتحدة ، الجمعية العامة ومجلس الأمن والمجلس الاقتصادي والاجتماعي ولجنة حقوق الانسان ، وكذلك القرارات ذات الصلة التي

اتخذتها منظمة الأمم المتحدة للتربية والعلم والثقافة ومنظمة الصحة العالمية ومنظمة العمل الدولية .

رابعاً - المعلومات والأدلة التي تلقتها اللجنة الخاصة

٣١ - اعتمدت اللجنة الخاصة على المصادر التالية :

(أ) شهادات الأشخاص الذين لهم علم مباشر بحالة السكان في الأراضي المحتلة ؛

(ب) الأنباء المنشورة في الصحافة الاسرائيلية عن تصريحات صادرة عن مسؤولين في حكومة اسرائيل ؛

(ج) الأنباء المنشورة في وسائط الإعلام الأخرى ، بما في ذلك الصحف الصادرة باللغة العربية في الأراضي المحتلة وفي اسرائيل والصحافة الدولية ؛

(د) التقارير المقدمة إليها من الحكومات والهيئات غير الحكومية والأفراد عن الحالة في الأراضي المحتلة .

وتلقت اللجنة الخاصة بيانات كتابية من حكومتي الأردن والجمهورية العربية السورية ومن منظمة التحرير الفلسطينية .

٣٢ - وعقدت اللجنة الخاصة سلسلة من جلسات الاستماع في نيويورك وعمان أثناء اجتماعاتها في الفترة من ٢ إلى ٦ كانون الأول/ديسمبر ١٩٨٥ وفي الفترة من ٣١ نيسان/أبريل إلى ١ أيار/مايو ١٩٨٦ على التوالي . وفي هذه الاجتماعات استمعت اللجنة إلى شهادات من أشخاص لديهم معرفة مباشرة بحالة حقوق الإنسان القائمة في الأراضي المحتلة . وترد هذه الإفادات في الوثائق A/AC.145/RT.441 و RT.445 إلى RT.453 وتنعكس فيما يلي أدناه .

٣٣ - وقد حرمت اللجنة الخاصة حرصاً شديداً على الاعتماد على المعلومات المنشورة في الصحف الاسرائيلية التي لم تناقشها حكومة اسرائيل أو التي تعتبرها حكومة اسرائيل في العادة موثوقاً بها .

٣٥ - يحتوي المرفق الثالث أدناه (وهو متوفر باللغة الانكليزية فقط) ، الذي يضم الفرعين ألف وباء من الفصل الرابع ، على موجز للمعلومات التي تفحصتها اللجنة الخاصة ، على النحو التالي :

سياسة اعادة البلديات الى الزعماء المحليين

معلومات مقدمة من دائرة شؤون الوطن المحتل في منظمة التحرير الفلسطينية

٣٧ - قدم الى اللجنة الخاصة ، أثناء وجودها في عمان ، تقرير مؤرخ في ١٧ آذار/مارس ١٩٨٦ من اعداد دائرة شؤون الوطن المحتل في منظمة التحرير الفلسطينية بشأن البلديات في الضفة الغربية . وقد تناول التقرير الدور الاساسي الذي تقوم به

البلديات في الضفة الغربية في تأمين الخدمات الاساسية للسكان المدنيين . وأشارت الى أن ملطات الاحتلال اتخذت منذ أيام الاحتلال الاولى في عام ١٩٦٧ تدابير خاصة ، كسلسلة من الاوامر العسكرية ، تمثلا خرقا للقانون الدولي والتشريع الاردني كذلك . وأشارت الى انتخابات البلديات التي جرت في عام ١٩٧٦ وأكدت فوز القوائم الانتخابية الوطنية المؤيدة لمنظمة التحرير الفلسطينية . وأضاف التقرير قائلا :

ونظرا للدور الوطني الذي قامت به هذه المجالس ، في خدمة المواطنين والدفاع عن حقوقهم والتصدي لمخططات التهجير والتطهير والمصادرة وفرض التبعية والتجويج فقد كشفت السلطات العسكرية من أفعالها قمعها ضد رؤساء وأعضاء المجالس البلدية والبلديات تارة بالاعتداء على هؤلاء الاعضاء وتوجيه التهم الصورية لهم وتارة بمحاولة اغتيالهم ، ومرة ثالثة بممارسة سياسة الإبعاد ، كما شددت السلطات العسكرية من قبضتها على تلك البلديات والتضييق عليها وإغلاق سبل الدعم لها .

٣٨ - وفيما يتعلق بالسياسة الاسرائيلية المتمثلة في تعيين رؤساء بلديات جدد ، نقل التقرير عن السيد بسام الشكعة قوله :

إن دعوة الحكومة الاسرائيلية الى تعيين رؤساء بلديات جدد هي محاولة لايجاد بدائل عرب لرؤساء البلديات المنتخبين ، للعمل على تنفيذ سياسة اسرائيل بدلا من الحكام العسكريين ، وذلك بتطبيق قوانين الادارة المدنية وتهويد الاراضي المحتلة وتوسيع الاستيطان وتضييق الخناق على أهلنا لإخضاعهم وتهجيرهم .

أما ابراهيم الطويل ، فعندما علم بالانفجارين اتصل بالشرطة ، ليثور لغم ثالث في وجه خبير الالغام الذي حاول فكه ، ودلت الاعترافات التي أدلى بها الجناة ، أعضاء التنظيم السري الارهابي اليهودي الذين لم يلق القبض عليهم إلا بعد مرور ٤ سنوات من الحادث الاثيم بعد محاولة اعتداء أخرى على ثلاث باصات للسياح ، بأن ما قاموا به تم بالتنسيق مع سلطات الحكم العسكري في الضفة الغربية ومعرفتها التامة .

١٤' الجوانب الاقتصادية

معلومات مقدمة من دائرة شؤون الوطن المحتل في منظمة التحرير الفلسطينية

٥٠ - قدم الى اللجنة الخاصة أثناء إقامتها في عمان تقرير أعدته دائرة شؤون الوطن المحتل في منظمة التحرير الفلسطينية بشأن البطالة في هذه الأراضي . وقدمت هذه الوثيقة تحليلا للعوامل التي تؤدي الى أزمة اقتصادية في هذه الأراضي ، لاسيما فيما يتعلق بمشكلة البطالة . وأشار التقرير الى أنه منذ عام ١٩٦٧ "صودر أكثر من ٥٢ في المائة من الأراضي الزراعية في الضفة الغربية ، بالإضافة الى المنطقة التي تسيطر عليها السلطات الإسرائيلية بصورة غير مباشرة والتي تحظر فيها الزراعة أو البناء" . وعلاوة على ذلك ، وضع ٤٢ في المائة من مجموع مساحة قطاع غزة تحت السيطرة المباشرة للسلطات الإسرائيلية .

٥١ - وذكرت أيضا عوامل متنوعة من العوامل التي تضر بنمو قطاع الصناعة وتحول بالتالي دون استيعاب الصناعة المحلية لليد العاملة المتوفرة في السوق . وأكد التقرير علاقة التبعية بين هذه الأراضي والاقتصاد الاسرائيلي ، وكذلك التغييرات العميقة في الهياكل الاجتماعية والديمقراطية الناجمة عن ذلك . وأورد جداول تصف الحالة الراهنة لليد العاملة في الأراضي المحتلة ، مما تكشف عن علاقة تقوم على استغلال اليد العاملة الفلسطينية . ولاحظ التقرير كذلك ان الازمة الاقتصادية الراهنة التي يواجهها الاقتصاد الاسرائيلي منذ بضع سنوات تؤثر تأثيرا خطيرا على سكان الأراضي المحتلة ، حيث تتأثر الطبقة العاملة تأثرا شديدا بوجه خاص . وهناك عنصر آخر يؤثر في حالة توفر الوظائف في الأراضي المحتلة وهو ، كما يحدده هذا التقرير ، سياسة الطرد الجماعي التعسفي من جانب المؤسسات الاسرائيلية ، بما فيها منظمة الهستدروت . وتطبق هذه المؤسسات مفهوم "العمل العبري" بخلاف "العمل العربي" ، وذلك بتشجيع ودعم من الدوائر الحاكمة الاسرائيلية .

٥٣ - وذكر التقرير كذلك أن السلطات الاسرائيلية ، كما كتبت مجلة فلسطين الشبورة في ٢١ شباط/فبراير ١٩٨٥ ، فرضت على العمال العرب لزوم حيازة اذن عمل ودخول وحددت تواجدهم في اسرائيل بأوقات النهار فقط . وأنيطت بالمحاكم الاسرائيلية سلطة تنفيذ هذه السياسة ، بالتعاون مع مكاتب العمل ، ولا يسمح بموجبها للعمال العرب بعبور "الخط الأخضر" الا عندما يكون في حوزتهم جميع الاذن . وقد وضعت أنظمة الاذن بغية زيادة تقييد فرص العمل للعرب ، مما يزيد صفوف العاطلين عن العمل . ويشهد على ذلك رفض مكاتب العمل إصدار اذن بحجة أن الطلبات قد سبق رفضها من جانب السلطات العسكرية . وعلاوة على ذلك ، رفضت هذه السلطات تجديد الاذن الحالية التي يحملها العمال الفلسطينيون دون إعطاء أية أسباب . وصرح ناطق باسم الهستدروت أن عدد العمال الذين طردوا من وظائفهم تجاوز ١٠ ٠٠٠ عامل . وأشار كذلك الى أن هؤلاء العمال لن يتلقوا أية مخصصات بطالة رغم أن ما يصل الى ٥٠ في المائة من أجورهم قد اقتطع كمساهمات في بعض الاحيان . وأورد التقرير بضع حالات من حالات الطرد التعسفي للعمال العرب بدون أي تعويض .

(ب) معلومات عن التدابير التي تمس الحريات الأساسية

١١' حرية الحركة

معلومات أحوالها دائرة شؤون الوطن المحتل في منظمة التحرير الفلسطينية

٥٤ - كما ذكر آنفاً ، قدم الى اللجنة الخاصة أثناء زيارتها الى عمان تقرير أعدته دائرة شؤون الوطن المحتل في منظمة التحرير الفلسطينية بشأن حالة المدنيين في الأراضي المحتلة خلال عام ١٩٨٥ والربع الاول من عام ١٩٨٦ .

٥٥ - وتشير هذه الوثيقة الى تقارير نشرت في الصحف المحلية خلال هذه الفترة بشأن حالات فرضت فيها الإقامة الجبرية على أفراد أو مجموعات من المواطنين الفلسطينيين أو منعوا من السفر . وقد أدرجت بعض الحالات المشار اليها في هذه الوثيقة في الجزء الفرعي المناظر المتعلق بالتقارير المنشورة في الصحف الاسرائيلية وفي الصحف الصادرة باللغة العربية في الأراضي المحتلة (انظر المرفق الثالث أدناه ، وهو متوفر بالانكليزية فقط) ، الفقرة (٢٧٥) .

٥٦ - وفيما يتعلق بالإقامة الجبرية ، قدم الى اللجنة الخاصة أيضا أثناء إقامتها في عمان تقرير شامل من دائرة شؤون الوطن المحتل في منظمة التحرير الفلسطينية بشأن الأشخاص الذين كانوا قيد الإقامة الجبرية أثناء الفترة ١٩٨٠ - ١٩٨٥ . ويورد هذا التقرير أسماء ١٨٦ شخصا كانوا قيد الإقامة الجبرية لفترات زمنية متفاوتة . وتورد القائمة أسماء المناطق المعنية ، ومدة أمر الإقامة الجبرية ، وتاريخه ، ومهنة الضحية وغير ذلك من الملاحظات ذات الصلة .

١٢' حرية التعليم

معلومات مقدمة من دائرة التربية والتعليم العالي في منظمة التحرير الفلسطينية

٥٧ - قدمت الى اللجنة الخاصة أثناء إقامتها في عمان سلسلة من التقارير والاحصاءات أعدتها دائرة التربية والتعليم العالي في منظمة التحرير الفلسطينية تتعلق بحالة التعليم في الأراضي المحتلة . وبالنظر الى حجم المعلومات التي وردت الى اللجنة ، كان من الصعب ايرادها كلها في هذا التقرير . وبالتالي فان المعلومات الواردة أدناه هي خلاصة تقوم على أساس الوثائق الواردة وتعطي موجزا عاما للحقائق والمشاكل الرئيسية المتعلقة بالتعليم في الأراضي المحتلة .

٥٨ - وتشير المعلومات التي وردت الى أن الحالة العامة فيما يتعلق بالتعليم في الأراضي المحتلة تدهورت بسبب عوامل متعددة مثل التدخل في مناهج المدارس والكتب

المدرسية ، وحظر توزيع كتب معينة ، وتأخير توزيع الكتب المدرسية في بداية كل سنة دراسية ، وممارسة الرقابة في المكتبات ، وعدم كفاية مباني ومعدات المدارس ، وإغفال المؤسسات التعليمية بصورة متكررة بحجة اتخاذ التدابير الامنية ، وتعليق الدورات الدراسية . وترد أمثلة عديدة على هذه المعوقات ، بما في ذلك وصف عدم ملاءمة مباني المدارس في الضفة الغربية وقوائم مرتبة ترتيبا زمنيا بالمناسبات التي علقت فيها الدورات الدراسية نتيجة لإغفال جامعات بير زيت ، والنجاح ، وبيت لحم ، وغزة ، والخليل ، وكذلك إغفال عدد من المدارس .

٥٩ - ويستعري الانتباه أيضا الى أن تنفيذ الاوامر العسكرية يشكل خرقا خطيرا للحريات الاكاديمية في المؤسسات التعليمية ، وانتهاكا صارخا لنصوص ذات الصلة في الاعلان العالمي لحقوق الانسان ، ودستور منظمة الامم المتحدة للتربية والعلم والثقافة (اليونسكو) ، وقرارات ومقررات الجمعية العامة للأمم المتحدة ، والمؤتمر العام والمجلس التنفيذي لليونسكو . ويورد التقرير أحكام الاوامر العسكرية ٣٤ ، و ٦٥ ، و ٨٥٤ و ٩٣٨ الصادرة عن قوات الدفاع الاسرائيلية والتي تنطبق على التعليم ، والثقافة ، وحرية الإقامة والتنقل ، واذن التعليم كأمانة على القيود المفروضة الى الحق في حرية التعليم في الاراضي المحتلة .

٦٠ - وفي وصف حالة المدارس في الضفة الغربية خلال السنة الدراسية ١٩٨٥/١٩٨٤ ، حدد أحد التقارير المشاكل الرئيسية التالية :

- ١ - الانضباط .
- ٢ - التسرب (تسرب الطلبة الى سوق العمل) .
- ٣ - الاشراف التربوي والتوجيه الفني المحدود - من الجوانب الفنية - وعدم فعاليته .
- ٤ - مستوى الكفاءة العلمية لأعضاء هيئة التدريس .
- ٥ - عدم توافر المرافق الفنية : المختبرات ، المكتبات ، الاجهزة .

- ٦ - عدم توافر المرافق العامة : الملاعب ، الاثاث ، الوحدات ، القاعات ، الغرف الصيفية اللازمة والمناسبة .
- ٧ - عدم توافر الامن والاستقرار النفسي للعاملين في التدريس .
- ٨ - المعاناة المادية بسبب محدودية الدخل وانفجار الاسعار والارتفاع المتزايد في تكاليف المعيشة وانخفاض قيمة الشيكال المستمر .
- ٩ - الهمود المهني (عدم تحمس المعلم لمهنته وتفاعله معها والمدق في عطائه والاخلاص في عمله واللامبالاة بما يحدث نتيجة عدد من الاحباطات أدت الى مثل هذا الهمود المهني في العملية التربوية) .
- ويورد التقرير احصائيات مختلفة بعدد المدارس ومعدلات الالتحاق بها .
- ٦١ - وفيما يتعلق بحالة المعلمين ذكر أنه يطلب منهم في كثير من الاحوال أن يتعاونوا مع سلطات الاحتلال ، وأنه يمكن اخضاعهم لممارسات مثل النقل الى مدارس نائية عن أماكن اقامتهم أو فصلهم تعسفا أو اعتقالهم .
- ٦٢ - وأشار التقرير أيضا الى وضع المعلمين بالقول :
- ان تردى الوضع المهني للمعلمين والوضع المعيشي الصعب الذي يعيشه العاملون في المدارس الحكومية ناتج عما يتعرض له المعلمون من ممارسات تعسفية كالفصل من العمل والنقل التعسفي والتقاعد القسري ، وفرض الإقامة الجبرية ، وختم أيام الاضراب من رواتبهم وتجميد درجاتهم وعلاواتهم المهنية ، واضهاد عائلاتهم واستدعائهم على فترات الى مقر الحاكم العسكري .
- ٦٣ - ويلاحظ أن عدد المعلمين الذين فعلوا فعلا تعسفيا يزداد باطراد ، وقد ارتفع من ٨ معلمين في عام ١٩٨٠ الى ٢٩ معلما في عام ١٩٨٤ . وترد قائمة مرتبة زمنيا بأسماء المعلمين الذين فعلوا في العام الدراسي ١٩٨٥ - ١٩٨٦ وكذلك أسماء المعلمين الذين تعرضت منازلهم للتفتيش .

٦٤ - وتوجد بين الوثائق قائمة بأسماء المعلمين الذين اعتقلوا في عام ١٩٨٥ وأوائل عام ١٩٨٦ .

٦٥ - وفيما يتعلق بأوضاع التعليم في قطاع غزة ، يقول التقرير :

ان ادارة التعليم في غزة مرتبطة مباشرة بضابط التربية والتعليم في جهاز الحاكم العسكري للقطاع ، الذي يتلقى الاوامر من المؤسسات الصهيونية العليا داخل فلسطين المحتلة .

وفي استطاعة ضابط التربية أن يصدر الاوامر والتعليمات التي تأخذ الطابع العسكري ، كإغلاق المدارس وتعطيلها عن أداء رسالتها ونقل أو سجن أو فصل أو إبعاد أي تلميذ أو معلم أو موظف في جهاز التعليم بتهمة مقاومة السلطات المحتلة . ان مؤسسات شعبنا التعليمية تتعرض يوميا لتلك الممارسات التعسفية .

أما فيما يتعلق بمناهج التعليم فان الواقع يصبح أشد مرارة حيث أصدرت سلطات الاحتلال أوامرها بمنع تدريس عشرات الكتب في موضوعات التربية الاسلامية واللغة العربية والتاريخ والجغرافيا وعلم الاجتماع .

ان التعليم في قطاع غزة يعتمد في تمويله على مصادر مختلفة من بينها ما تقدمه وكالة الامم المتحدة لاغاثة وتشغيل اللاجئين الفلسطينيين "الاونروا" التي تضم مؤسساتها من الطلاب ما يفوق ما تستوعبه المدارس الحكومية والخاصة . وقد بدأت "الاونروا" في تصعيد تهديداتها بتخفيض أنشطتها وإغلاق بعض مراكزها . أما المصدر الثاني للنفقات فهو رسوم التعليم التي يدفعها الطلاب في مؤسسات التعليم التي تشرف عليها سلطات الاحتلال الصهيوني . ويأتي مصدر التمويل الثالث من القطاع الخاص ، "التعليم الخاص" ، الذي يعتمد على نفقات ورسوم التعليم في مؤسسات التعليم التابعة لإدارته .

ان المقدمات السابقة توضح لنا أن مؤسسات التعليم في قطاع غزة المحتل تعاني من الظروف المادية السيئة مما يؤثر على سير عملية التعليم ، كعدم توفر المباني المدرسية والمعامل والمختبرات والتجهيزات ، وتكدس الطلاب بأعداد كبيرة داخل الصف الواحد ونظام الدوام الصباحي والمسائي . وتؤثر تلك

الأوضاع على رواتب المعلمين ، ويؤدي ذلك الى ظروف نفسية واقتصادية لها آثار سلبية على عملية التعليم .

٦٦ - وقدمت أيضا بيانات احصائية مختلفة عن أوضاع التعليم في قطاع غزة .

٦٧ - وكانت أوضاع التعليم العالي في الأراضي المحتلة موضوع تقرير مفصل جاء فيه :

أن ممارسة السلطات الصهيونية المحتلة ، وأساليبها في محاربة العلم والتعلم بالضفة الغربية وقطاع غزة كان لها رد فعل من الأهل في الضفة الغربية المحتلة ، يتمثل في توجيههم للتعليم الجامعي .

...

وقد ترتب على هذا التوجه للتعليم الجامعي فتح عدد من المؤسسات الجامعية والتوسع في هذا الحقل لاستيعاب ما أمكن من الطلاب في المحتل من أرضنا لتسليحهم بسلاح جديد هو سلاح العلم . ولذلك كله فإن التعليم العالي داخل الوطن المحتل يحظى بالرعاية من قبل الأهل والمؤسسات التربوية في المحتل من أرضنا . ومن جميع المؤسسات العربية خارج الأرض المحتلة ، وبخاصة اللجنة الاردنية - الفلسطينية المشتركة والأمانة العامة لاتحاد الجامعات العربية .

...

وفي غياب السلطة الوطنية في الأرض المحتلة ، بادرت الهيئات والمؤسسات التربوية والتعليمية بهدف التعامل والتنسيق وإقامة الجسور بين الجامعات الى عقد عدد من المؤتمرات انبثق على إثرها في عام ١٩٧٧ مجلس التعليم العالي كصيغة عملية وكأطار واقعي أخذ على عاتقه مهمة توحيد عمل الجامعات والتنسيق فيما بينها من أجل تطويرها الى مستويات أرفع ، والعمل على انشاء مؤسسات جديدة وتوفير الدعم المالي لكافة المؤسسات الأكاديمية وإعداد الكوادر وتأهيلها . ومنذ تأسيسه ، استطاع المجلس من خلال لجنته التنفيذية فرض حضوره المادي والمعنوي وانتزاع الاعتراف الواقعي بوجوده .

هذا ولابد من الإشارة الى أن مجلس التعليم المالي يتعرض لكثير من المضايقات من قِبَل سلطات الاحتلال التي لاتزال ترفض الاعتراف به وتفرض الإقامة الجبرية على أعضائه كجزء من السياسة التمسكية التي يمارسها العدو ضد الجامعات والتي يمكن ايجازها بالاجراءات التالية :

٢ - رفض السماح باعطاء إدونات اقامة لأعضاء هيئات التدريس الوافدين من الخارج للعمل في الجامعات إلا إذا كانت هذه الاذونات مقرونة بالتوقيع على وثيقة سياسية تحيل مخيونا معاديا لمنظمة التحرير الفلسطينية .

٣ - فرض الإقامة الجبرية على أعضاء هيئات التدريس والطلبة على السواء بالإضافة الى عمليات الاعتقال .

٤ - اعاقة عملية التوسع بعدم السماح بإنشاء أبنية جديدة في الحرم الجامعي .

٥ - فرض الضرائب الباهظة على المواد التعليمية والادوات المخبرية المستوردة المعفاة من الجمارك حسب القوانين السائدة قبل الاحتلال ١٩٦٧ .

٦ - منع تداول عدد كبير من الكتب والدوريات ، تبليغ آخر احصائية لقائمة الكتب الممنوعة أكثر من خمسة آلاف كتاب في كافة التخصصات .

٧ - تقنين منح رخصة العمل للجامعات لمدة سنة واحدة ، تجدد سنويا حسب تعليمات الحكم العسكري ، الامر الذي يخضع الجامعات في حالة عدم استقرار .

٨ - اصدار الاوامر العسكرية باغلاق الجامعات لفترات مختلفة ومنع أعضاء هيئة التدريس والطلبة من الى جامعاتهم .

٦٨ - ويورد التقرير بيانات مختلفة بشأن موارد الجامعات :

تمول الجامعات في الضفة الغربية وقطاع غزة من اللجنة الاردنية - الفلسطينية المشتركة ويهذل المشرفون على هذه المؤسسات الجامعية جهودا فردية للحصول على المزيد من الدعم والتبرعات من المفتربيين من أبناء فلسطين ومن الدول العربية والاجنبية والمؤسسات العالمية ، بالاضافة الى دفع مبلغ مائة دينار من الجهات المعنية بالدعم - لكل طالب مساهمة منها في الرسوم الجامعية التي تتقاضاها الجامعات من الطلبة . (تم دفع ١٠٠ دينار لكل طالب في الارض المحتلة في العام ١٩٨٣ فقط) بالاضافة الى الاعفاءات المحدودة في عدد من الجامعات في الارض في الاعوام التي تلت .

وتورد الوثيقة أيضا معلومات عن الاشراف على الجامعات وعدد الطلبة فيها (٤٥٤ ١١ طالبا في الضفة الغربية و ٦٣٠ ٥ طالبا في قطاع غزة) ، وكذلك معلومات مفصلة عن تنظيم مختلف الجامعات في الاراضي المحتلة ومناهجها . وتعطي الوثيقة أسماء الاساتذة الذين ابعدوا من جامعة النجاح منذ العام الدراسي ١٩٨٣/١٩٨٢ ، والاساتذة الذين منعوا من التدريس ، والذين يحملون جوازات سفر اجنبية ولا يسمح لهم بالاقامة في فلسطين ، وقائمة بالاساتذة الذين لم يتمكنوا من الحصول على تصاريح لدخول الضفة الغربية وقائمة ب ٣٤ استاذًا ابعدوا من الجامعة الاسلامية في غزة في شهر آب/اغسطس ١٩٨٥ .

٧٠ - وتشتمل المعلومات الواردة أيضا على تفاصيل للتدابير القمعية التي تتخذ ضد الطلبة . وتوجد قائمة مفصلة بأسماء الطلبة العرب الذين اعتقلوا في الضفة الغربية أثناء العام الدراسي ١٩٨٥ وحتى بداية عام ١٩٨٦ .

٧١ - وتشير الوثائق التي قدمتها منظمة التحرير الفلسطينية أيضا الى أوضاع التعليم في مدارس الاونروا أثناء العام الدراسي ١٩٨٦/١٩٨٥ . وقد أعطيت معلومات عن

عدد الطلاب والمدارس والمعلمين في الضفة الغربية وقطاع غزة . وتؤكد الوشائيق ان السلطات الاسرائيلية ترفض في بعض الحالات استيراد الكتب المدرسية . ويرد وصف لبرنامج تدريب المعلمين ونظام المنح لدورات التأهيل . وذكر في النهاية عدد من المشاكل التي تمس المؤسسات التعليمية التي هي تحت اشراف الاونروا . وفيما يلي موجز لها :

تحاول وكالة الفوق تقليص الخدمات التعليمية لابناء اللاجئين الفلسطينيين وما يشبت ذلك تذبذب ارقام الطلبة بين عام وآخر . ففي سنة ١٩٨٣/١٩٨٢ بلغ عدد الطلبة ٢٠٧ ٢٣٦ ، علما بأنه في السنة التي قبلها بلغ ٢٢٨ ٢٨٦ وفي سنة ١٩٨٤/١٩٨٣ بلغ عدد الطلبة ٨٤٤ ٢٤٥ .

تفرض وكالة الفوق حالة نفسية على المعلمين في مدارسها اذ تشجع في كل عام انها تنتهي خدمات مجموعة كبيرة منهم نتيجة عجزها المادي ، وهذا ما يؤثر على نفسية المدرس وعطائه .

ان عدد المدارس في وكالة الفوق يتذبذب كاعداد الطلبة فبدلا من ان تزداد المدارس نراها تتناقص ففي سنة ١٩٨٣/١٩٨٢ بلغ عدد المدارس ٦٥١ مدرسة وبلغ في العام الدراسي ١٩٨٤/١٩٨٣ ، ٦٤٠ مدرسة ، بنقص مقداره ١١ مدرسة . وهذا يؤثر على اكتظاظ اعداد الطلبة في المدارس وفي الصفوف مما يؤثر على التحصيل العلمي والاستيعاب . كما لمسناء مواءمات مباني مدارس الوكالة ، وخاصة في قطاع غزة المحتل اذ بقيت المدارس في هذا العام ١٩٨٥/١٩٨٦ بسقوف حديدية (صاج) ، وتداعي بعض الغرف الصفية في الجمهورية العربية السورية وقطاع غزة ، والضفة الغربية الى الانهيار ، وعدم تجديدها ، وهذا باعتراف المفوض العام لوكالة الانقاذ في تقريره الى المدير العام ، متذعرا بنقص الميزانية .

تشرى وكالة الفوق فقط على المرحلة الابتدائية والاعدادية وتهمل ما قبل الابتدائي والمرحلة الثانوية والجامعية

وفي المرحلة بعد الثانوية تخصص الوكالة بعض المنح الجامعية للطلبة . ففي سنة ١٩٨٣/١٩٨٢ قدمت الوكالة ٢٤٩ منحة ، منها ٢٧٢ منحة مستمرة و ٧٧ منحة جديدة . وفي سنة ١٩٨٤/١٩٨٣ قدمت الوكالة ٢٥٢ منحة منها ٢٧١ منحة مستمرة و ٨٢ منحة جديدة . ويكاد يكون هذا الرقم ثابتا من بداية رعاية

وكالة الاغاثة لمصالح اللاجئين مما يدل على تقليص هذه الخدمة وعدم تلبيتها للاحتياجات الحقيقية .

تضع الوكالة ٥٠ طالبا في كل غرفة صفية علما بان الاردن تخصص ٢٨ طالب لكل معلم ، وبريطانيا ٢٠ طالبا ، والسويد ١٦ طالبا ، والكوييت ١٥ طالبا

تعتمد الوكالة في تعليمها النظام المزدوج في مدارسها اذ تبلغ نسبة المدارس التي تمارس النظام المزدوج والثلاثي ٩٥ في المائة من مجموع المدارس التي تشرف عليها الوكالة .

في السنوات الاخيرة اخذت وكالة الاغاثة تطلب من اولياء الامور دفع ثمن القرطاسية وشراء الكتب متذرة بعجزها .

٧٢ - وقدم الى اللجنة الخاصة أيضا تقرير عن أوضاع التعليم المهني والتقني في الأراضي المحتلة خلال العام ١٩٨٥/١٩٨٦ . وأعطت الوثيقة صورة شاملة للأوضاع في الضفة الغربية وقطاع غزة فيما يتعلق بالتدريب المهني . وفيما يتعلق بالضفة الغربية ، عدت الوثيقة مؤسسات التدريب المهني والصناعي ، أي المدارس الثانوية الصناعية والتعليم المهني والتقني في كليات المجتمع المتوسطة ، ومؤسسات التدريب المهني التي تشرف عليها الاونروا ، والمؤسسات التي تشرف عليها دائرة العمل التابعة للسلطات العسكرية ، بالإضافة الى عدد من مؤسسات التدريب المهني المختلفة . وأورد التقرير معلومات مفصلة وبيانات احصائية عن كل مؤسسة ، كخلفتها التاريخية وعدد الطلبة والمدرسين فيها ، وعدد الطلبة في كل واحد من التخصصات ، وشروط القبول ، ومدة الدراسة . وأوردت أيضا جداول احصائية مقارنة للتعليم الاكاديمي والمهني والسلطات المشرفة . ويخلص التقرير من الأرقام الواردة في الجداول التي تبين النسبة المئوية للطلاب الذين اجتازوا الشهادة الثانوية العامة والذين جلسوا لامتحانات الشهادة الثانوية العامة التقنية والمهنية خلال الفترة ١٩٧٩ - ١٩٨٤ ، الى النتائج التالية :

٣ - من هنا نرى أنه يجب أن تكون هناك مراكز ومعاهد فنية مهنية لتأهيل نسبة معقولة من هؤلاء الخريجين مهنيا .

يعتبر المستوى الأكاديمي للطلاب الخريجين من المعهد حاليا أقل من المتوسط . وهو لا يؤهلهم للعمل في القطاع الزراعي العام كفنيين أو مرشدين زراعيين ، ذلك لأن المناهج غير متطورة والأجهزة والمعدات قديمة والامكانيات محدودة ولقلة التطبيقات العملية . كما أن المزرعة بأقسامها ، والمفروض أن تكون أماكن للتطبيق والتدريب العملي ، غير مزودة بالآلات والأدوات والأساليب العصرية . كما أن يد التطوير لم تصل إليها منذ عام ١٩٦٧ . ومما يضعف المستوى أيضا قبول الطلاب من ذوي المعدلات المنخفضة ومن الطلاب الذين ليس لهم حافز ذاتي للدراسة . كما أن التعليم المختلط في الجامعات والمعاهد العليا الأخرى والمنشرة في الضفة الغربية والقطاع يدفع الطلاب بالاتجاه إليها وعدم التفكير بالدراسة في معهد فلا يقبل على المعهد إلا الطلاب من ذوي المعدلات المنخفضة .

كما لاحظت من مقابلتين لعدد من المهندسين في المعهد عدم الرغبة بالبقاء في المعهد ، وهم يبحثون عن مصدر جديد للعمل بهدف تحسين مستواهم

المادي ، حيث أن مستواهم المادي ضعيف ، مما يجعلهم في وضع غير مستقر . وهذا بدوره ينعكس على عطائهم ، إضافة إلى جملة المعوقات التي تضعها السلطة في سبيل تطوير المعهد .

٧٤ - وخلص التقرير المتعلق بالتعليم الزراعي في الضفة الغربية إلى النتيجة التالية :

هذا وإن التعليم الزراعي حالياً في الضفة الغربية بجميع عناصره ومكوناته هزيل للغاية وهو في حكم العدم ، سواء أكان في كلية الحسين الزراعية أم في مدرسة العروب الزراعية أم في النشاط الزراعي في المصداري والحدائق المدرسية . وذلك بسبب عزوف الطلاب عن دراسة الزراعة لأسباب كثيرة تقدم ذكرها ، ولأن مزارع تلك المؤسسات الزراعية بأقسامها عاجزة عن أداء دورها . إذ أن المفروض أن تكون هذه الأقسام أماكن للتطبيق والتدريب العملي ، إلا أنها غير مزودة بالآلات والأشياء والأدوات والأساليب المعاصرة ، كما أن يد التطوير لم تعمل إليها منذ عام ١٩٦٧ .

٧٥ - وذكر التقرير أيضاً ، مؤسسات التعليم المهني والتقني في قطاع غزة . وأشار إلى السلطات الثلاث التي تشرف على التعليم المهني الصناعي في قطاع غزة ، وهي مديرية التربية والتعليم ، ومديرية الشؤون الاجتماعية والأونروا ، وقدم معلومات عن مختلف مراكز التدريب المهني التي تشرف عليها هذه السلطات . وأشار التقرير في النهاية إلى أوضاع التدريب المهني في الزراعة والتجارة في قطاع غزة ، وقدم بعض البيانات الإحصائية في هذا الصدد . وفيما يتعلق بالمدرسة الثانوية الزراعية في قطاع غزة ، خلى التقرير إلى نتيجة مفادها أنه :

(ج) معلومات عن أنشطة المستوطنين التي تمس السكان المدنيين

معلومات مقدمة من دائرة شؤون الوطن المحتل في منظمة التحرير الفلسطينية

٧٦ - كما ذكر آنفا ، قدم الى اللجنة الخاصة أثناء وجودها في عمان تقرير ، أعدته دائرة شؤون الوطن المحتل في منظمة التحرير الفلسطينية ، يتعلق بحالة المدنيين في الأراضي العربية المحتلة خلال عام ١٩٨٥ والربع الاول من عام ١٩٨٦ . ويشير هذا التقرير الى الممارسات والانشطة المختلفة التي يقوم بها المستوطنون الاسرائيليون وتمس السكان المدنيين في الأراضي المحتلة :

يقوم المستوطنون باستمرار بالتجوال في المدن والقرى الفلسطينية مدججين بسلاحهم يطلقون النار على المارة ، وينلقون المحال التجارية ويحطمون الممتلكات ويقتحمون البيوت ويحاصرون المخيمات ، ويصادرون البيوت والأراضي ويقيمون نقاط الامتيطان ويعتدون على المواطنين العرب .

ويورد التقرير قائمة مرتبة ترتيبا زمنيا بممارسات المستوطنين الاسرائيليين ضد العرب وممتلكاتهم خلال عام ١٩٨٥ . كما تشير هذه الوثيقة أيضا الى أنشطة المستوطنين الاسرائيليين التي تمس السكان المدنيين خلال الربع الاول من عام ١٩٨٦ ، مثل طلاء الجدران بشعارات معادية للعرب ، وعقد اجتماعات لاعداء الحركات العنصرية بالقرب من الاماكن الاسلامية المقدسة ، ومهاجمة المدنيين العرب ، مما يؤدي الى اصابتهم بجراح واصابات أدت في بعض الحالات الى الوفاة ، فضلا عن احراق السيارات واقتحام بيوت المدنيين . وهذه المعلومات ، تستند الى تقارير نشرت في الصحف المحلية ، وتدعمها في عدد من الحالات ، وثائق شهودية ، مثل نسخ من شهادات موقعة تتعلق بالحوادث موضع السؤال ، وبيانات مكتوبة صاغها محامون ، ونسخ من شهادات الوفاة ، ومور لسيارات محروقة أو بيوت مصابة بأضرار ، وكذلك تقارير رسمية عن تلك الحوادث . وبعض هذه الحالات وارد في البند الفرعي المناظر المتعلق بالتقارير التي نشرت في الصحف الاسرائيلية والصحف الناطقة باللغة العربية في الأراضي المحتلة (انظر المرفق الثالث (وهو متوفر باللغة الانكليزية فقط) ، الفقرات ٣١٩ - ٣٤٤) . وتشير الوثيقة أيضا الى المظاهرات الاستفزازية التي ينظمها المستوطنون أمام الجامعات ، وكذلك الى اقامتهم حواجز على الطرق لمنع الوصول الى الجامعات ، وما الى ذلك .

معلومات مقدمة من دائرة شؤون الوطن المحتل في منظمة التحرير الفلسطينية

٧٧ - قدم الى اللجنة الخاصة ، اثناء وجودها في عمان تقرير من اعداد دائرة شؤون الوطن المحتل في منظمة التحرير الفلسطينية ، فيما يتعلق بمسألة القدس . وفي هذا التقرير ، ذكر أن أكبر تهديد للقدس العربية هو سياسة الاستيطان التي تمارسها سلطات الاحتلال ، التي انشأت ٢٦ مستوطنة خلال الثمانية عشر عاما الماضية . ويشير التقرير علاوة على ذلك الى الممارسات المختلفة التي تطبق لضمان تهويد القدس ، مثل قتل المدنيين ، وهدم المباني العربية ، واغلاق المحاكم الاردنية ، وسيطرة السلطات الاسرائيلية على الميادين التعليمية والطبية والاجتماعية ، وتهويد خدمات المياه والطاقة ، وإبعاد الشخصيات ، وتشجيع الهجرة اليهودية الى القدس العربية ، وسياسة الاستيطان . ويذكر التقرير أيضا ممارسات الاضطهاد وانتهاك حرمة الاماكن الاسلامية والمسيحية المقدسة في القدس التي تقوم بها سلطات الاحتلال أو من خلال منظمات مثل غوش أمونيم ، أو "كاخ" أو "الارهاب ضد الارهاب" أو "جبل البيت" . ويعالج التقرير في النهاية مشروع القدس الكبرى ، الذي أعلن عنه عام ١٩٨٢ بوصفه آخر جزء في سلسلة من العمليات الادارية ، والتشريعية والاستيطانية ، التي بدأت في وقت مبكر يعود الى عام ١٩٤٨ ، والتي تنعكس مراحلها الرئيسية على النحو اللازم بالفعل في التقارير السابقة للجنة الخاصة . وفيما يتعلق بمشروع القدس الكبرى ، يذكر التقرير :

ويجب تفسير العملية المذكورة أعلاه بأنها مقدمة لضم وتهويد بقية مناطق الضفة الغربية التي تضم محافظتي نابلس والخليل من جهة ، وقطاع غزة من جهة أخرى .

ولم يحدد تاريخ معين لهذا المشروع الذي بموجبه تفوض ملاحيات التنظيم والبناء وفق الطرق وتنظيم الحداثق وملاحيات أخرى الى لجنة منطقة صهيونية لتمارس هذه الملاحيات بهدف أساسي هو تيسير تنفيذ المخطط الصهيوني التوسعي وممارسة الخطط على مكان هذه المنطقة العرب ، كما هو حادث فسي المناطق الأخرى من الأراضي المحتلة . وينص المشروع الآنذ الذكر على توزيع الأراضي المشمولة به ، والتي تزيد مساحتها على ٤٤٦ ٠٠٠ دونم ، على النحو التالي :

النسبة المئوية	الاستعمال
١٣,٠٠ في المائة	مساكن للعرب
١٧,٠٠ في المائة	مساكن لليهود
٦,٥٠ في المائة	حداثق عامة
٤,٠٠ في المائة	طرق
٥٩,٥٠ في المائة	زراعة

والواقع ان الاحصاءات المذكورة أعلاه تعني تقليصا لمساحة الأراضي الزراعية ، مما يحسم في زيادة تدهور مركز الانتاج الزراعي في الضفة الغربية .

...

ويمثل "مشروع القدي الكبرى" الاسرائيلي تنفيذ التخطيط الاقليمي داخل اسرائيل ، أي بعبارة أخرى توسيع اسرائيل . والهدف الرئيسي لمد شبكة الطرق فيها عبر الخط الأخضر هو تحقيق الاهداف التالية :

(١) تشديد قبضة سلطة الاحتلال على المنطقة العربية المحتلة ؛

(ب) منع الشعب العربي الفلسطيني من إقامة دولته الوطنية المستقلة على ترابه الوطني ؛

(ج) تطويق المدن والقرى الفلسطينية ؛

(د) نهب الفرد الفلسطيني نفسه ومحاصرته ؛

(هـ) تدمير الهياكل الأساسية للانتاج الفلسطيني كخطوة أولى نحو اقتلاع الشعب الفلسطيني وطرده من أرضه ؛

(و) ضم المنطقة الوسطى الى الجزء الذي احتل عام ١٩٤٨ من فلسطين مع تجاهل الاحوال الاجتماعية والمعيشية للسكان في المنطقة المذكورة .

وتتبع أهمية منطقة القدس الكبرى (المنطقة الوسطى) من كونها تمثل مركزا وسطا في الضفة الغربية ومن كونها حلقة الوصل بين المنطقتين الشمالية والجنوبية ، وبين الجزء الذي احتل في عام ١٩٤٨ من فلسطين ومناطق وادي الاردن . أما الاهداف الفورية للمشروع المذكور فهي التالية :

(١) زيادة عدد السكان اليهود الى ثلاثة أمثال عدد السكان العرب ؛

(ب) تخصيص مساحات واسعة للأغراض الزراعية بهدف التخطيط المستقبل ؛

(ج) مد شبكة طرق رئيسية تصل المنطقة الشمالية بالجنوبية وتصل الاجزاء المحتلة من فلسطين بمنطقة وادي الاردن ؛

(د) توسيع حدود مدينة القدس (القدس الكبرى) .

٨٤ - وأشار التقرير الى القيود المفروضة على القرويين الذين منعوا من فلاحه اراضيهم أو رعي مواشيهم في المراعي :

جميل نايف مرعي من قرية مسعدة يروي قصة شبيهة بقصة كافكا . ففي الصيف الماضي استولى موظفو سلطة حفظ الطبيعة على قطيعه وهو في المرعى وباعوه . وبعد بضعة أيام تمكن من العثور على قطيعه في بيتاح تيكفا ، وكان ناقصا نحو ٤٠ رأسا من الغنم . فاشترى قطيع الغنم من الشخص الذي وجده ففي حوزته وعاد به الى قريته . وأثناء النقل نفق بسبب رداءة الأحوال نحو ٤٠ رأسا أخرى . وقد كلفه البحث عن القطيع ونقله مبلغا طائلا من المال ، طبعا ، بالإضافة الى المبلغ الذي اضطر الى دفعه لشراء قطيعه من جديد . وبمساعدة من أحد أعضاء الكنيسة ، تمكن جميل نايف مرعي من الوصول الى ادارة سلطة حفظ الطبيعة ، وبعد المناقشة اعترفت السلطة بأن الاستيلاء على القطيع لم يكن له مبرر . وردت اليه السلطة المبلغ الذي كانت قد أخذته من الرجل الساكن في بيتاح تيكفا ثمنا للقطيع . ومن الواضح أن الرجل مُني بخسارة . فقد فقد نحو ٨٠ رأسا من الغنم ، ودفع تكاليف البحث عن القطيع ونقله ، ناهيك عن الهم والاسى اللذين أصاباه بسبب هذه الحادثة .

٨٣ - وذكر التقرير أيضا ممارسات تستخدمها سلطات الاحتلال كشكل من أشكال العقوبة الجماعية :

في اليوم الذي قام فيه فريق من الرابطة الاسرائيلية لحقوق الانسان والحقوق المدنية بزيارة الجولان ، تحدث سكان مجدل شمس مع اللاجئين من قرية زعورة وعين فيت وبانياس ، التي هدمها الجيش الاسرائيلي بعد الاحتلال . وتتم المحادثات صراخا (فهذا المكان يسمى منطقة الصراخ) وبالإشارات من على جانبي الخط ، والناس على جبلين يفصل بينهما واد - هو عبارة عن منطقة حرام مُسيجة . هذه المحادثات الصاخبة بين الناس على جانبي الخط ، نتيجة للتفريق المفجع بينهم الذي فرضه الاحتلال قبل ١٩ سنة ، تقطعها السلطات الاسرائيلية بين الحين والآخر كنوع من العقوبة الجماعية .

٨٤ - وأخيرا يورد التقرير قائمة جزئية بأسماء سكان مرتفعات الجولان المعتقلين ، مبينا أعمارهم .

خامسا - النتائج

٨٥ - أعد هذا التقرير وفقا لولاية اللجنة الخاصة حسبما جددتها الجمعية العامة بقرارها ١٦١/٤٠ دال المؤرخ في ١٦ كانون الاول/ديسمبر ١٩٨٥ .

٨٦- ويتضمن الفصل الثاني وصفا لتنظيم اللجنة الخاصة لأمّالها خلال الفترة من ٢٠ آب/أغسطس ١٩٨٥ ، وهو تاريخ اعتماد تقريرها السابق (A/40/702) . وكما يمكن التحقق مما ورد في الفصل الثاني ، استمرت حكومة إسرائيل في الامتناع عن التعاون مع اللجنة الخاصة . بيد أن اللجنة الخاصة أفادت من تعاون حكومات مصر والأردن والجمهورية العربية السورية ومنظمة التحرير الفلسطينية . ويوضح الفصل الثالث ولاية اللجنة الخاصة كما تحدت في السنوات السابقة ويشمل هذا توسيع نطاق ولاية اللجنة الخاصة لتشمل التحقيق في الادعاءات المتعلقة بـ "استغلال ونهب موارد الأراضي المحتلة" ، و "نهب التراث الأثري والثقافي للأراضي المحتلة" و "التدخل في حرية العبادة في الأماكن المقدسة الموجودة في الأراضي المحتلة" ، وهو ما جاء في قرار الجمعية العامة ٣٠٠٥ (د-٢٧) المؤرخ في ١٥ كانون الأول/ديسمبر ١٩٧٢ .

٩٠- وتستنتج اللجنة الخاصة ، استنادا الى المعلومات والأدلة المعروضة عليها ، أن السياسة التي تتبعها اسرائيل في الأراضي المحتلة ، مازالت ، كما كانت عليه الحال في الماضي ، تقوم على مبدأ أن الأراضي التي احتلتها اسرائيل في عام ١٩٦٧ تشكل جزءا من دولة اسرائيل . وهذا هو أساس سياسة الضم واقامة المستوطنات في الأراضي المحتلة ، التي تشكل خرقا صارخا للالتزامات اسرائيل الدولية كدولة طرف في اتفاقية جنيف الرابعة المتعلقة بمعاملة المدنيين وقت الحرب (انظر المرفق الاول أدناه) . ومما يذكر أن اتفاقية جنيف الرابعة تنص على أنه يجب اعتبار الاحتلال العسكري حالة مؤقتة ، قائمة بحكم الواقع ، لا تعطي أي حق كان للسلطة القائمة بالاحتلال على السلامة الاقليمية للأراضي المحتلة . وترد ايضاات مختلفة لهذه السياسة في هذا التقرير ، كما يتبدى بوجه خاص في الفقرات ٣٧٨ الى ٣٨٣ من المرفق الثالث أدناه (وهو متوفر بالانكليزية فقط) ، مثل موافقة لجنة المالية في الكنيست على ميزانية تبلغ نحو ٣,٥ مليون دولار للاستيطان في الأراضي المحتلة ، كما ذكرت صحيفة هآرتس في ٣١ كانون الاول/ديسمبر ١٩٨٥ ، وتصريح وزير الطاقة والهيكل الاساسية ، موشيه شاهال ، بأن "وادي الأردن سيظل جزءا من دولة اسرائيل في أي ترتيب يعقد مع الأردن في المستقبل" ، الذي أوردته هآرتس في ١٥ كانون الثاني/يناير ١٩٨٦ . وتجدر الإشارة في هذا الصدد أيضا الى البيانات الصادرة بشأن مفاوضات "الحكم الذاتي" و "السيادة المشتركة" في قطاع غزة ، كما ينعكس في الفقرات ٧٨ و ٧٩ و ٨٤ من المرفق الثالث أدناه (وهو متوفر بالانكليزية فقط) .

٩١- وقد أسفرت هذه السياسة عن تصاعد أعمال العنف واعتماد "سياسة القبضة الحديدية" التي تميزت بتنفيذ ترتيبات أمنية جديدة في الأراضي المحتلة وزيادة حدة التوتر بين قوات الدفاع الاسرائيلية والسكان المدنيين ، مما يؤدي في بعض الحالات الى الشكاوي والاضرابات من قبل السكان المدنيين . ومن الأمور ذات الدلالة الخاصة في

هذا المقام حالة أصحاب المحلات التجارية في بخاية هداما في الخليل الذين يتعرضون للضغط المستمر من قبل السلطات ، كما جاء في الفقرة ٢١١ من المرفق الثالث أدناه (وهو متوفر بالانكليزية فقط) . وتبين المعلومات والأدلة التي درستها اللجنة الخاصة أشكالاً مختلفة من المضايقة ، أدت في عدد من الحالات إلى وقوع أصابات خطيرة أو وفيات في صفوف المدنيين في الأراضي المحتلة ، وكذلك إلى توسيع نطاق ممارسة الانتقام والعقوبة الجماعية كهدم بيوت المشتبه بهم أو إغلاقها . وتبين المعلومات المعروضة على اللجنة بوضوح أن الحجج الرئيسية المقدمة من السلطات الإسرائيلية لتبرير هدم البيوت وإغلاقها لأسباب "أمنية" مزعومة عارية عن الصحة . ففي الحالة المذكورة ، مثلاً ، في الفقرة ٢٤٢ من المرفق الثالث أدناه (وهو متوفر بالانكليزية فقط) - حالة هدم ثلاثة بيوت في قرية برقة في شهر نيسان/أبريل ١٩٨٦ ، مما أسفر عن ترك أحد عشر شخصاً غير المشتبه بهم دون مأوى ، لم يكن أي من المشتبه بهم قد أدين عندما هدمت البيوت . ولذلك تلاحظ اللجنة مع الأسف ، الطبيعة اللاشرعية لهذه الممارسات التي تمثل حالات من العقوبة الجماعية وغير القضائية . ومن بين التدابير القمعية الأخرى حملة أخرى من حملات فرض الإقامة الجبرية في المنزل أو البلدة ، مما يعوق إلى حد خطير التمتع بالحقوق في حرية الحركة ، وكذلك زيادة ملحوظة في عدد حالات الإبعاد والطرود . وتوجه اللجنة الخاصة الانتباه بوجه خاص إلى الطبيعة اللاشرعية لإجراء الإبعاد الذي تنفذه السلطات العسكرية ، ولا يترك فرصة أمام الأشخاص المراد إبعادهم للاطلاع على الادعاءات المقدمة ضدهم ، ويبدو أنه مدفوع بعوامل سياسية محضة لا بأسباب أمنية مبررة . وكذلك تأثر الحق في حرية التعبير بعدد من التدابير التي اتخذتها سلطات الاحتلال . فقد لاحظت اللجنة الخاصة أن عدداً من المحفّ أُلغيت لتدابير الرقابة والإغلاق ، كما صدرت أوامر بتقييد حركة الصحفيين الفلسطينيين . وكذلك قيدت حرية التعليم بطرق كثيرة . وفي هذا الصدد قدمت إلى اللجنة الخاصة ، بالإضافة إلى المعلومات والأدلة الأخرى ، سلسلة وثائق وإحصائيات أعدتها دائرة التربية والتعليم العالي في منظمة التحرير الفلسطينية أكدت ، كما ذكر في الفقرات ٥٧ إلى ٧٥ أعلاه ، تدهور نظام التربية والتعليم في الأراضي المحتلة نتيجة لعدة عوامل ، كتعديل الكتب والمناهج المدرسية ، مثلاً ، وعدم كفاية المواد والمباني المدرسية ، واكتظاظ غرف الصفوف ، وقلة المعلمين ، وما أشبه ذلك . وتشير المعلومات الواردة إلى وجود انتهاكات مختلفة للحقوق في حرية التعليم كإغلاق المدارس وإساءة الجامعة من عملهم وإبعادهم تعسفاً ، وحملات القمع والاعتقالات الموجهة ضد المعلمين والطلبة ، وإغلاق المدارس والجامعات .

٩٢- وتميزت الفترة المشمولة بهذا التقرير أيضا بزيادة ملحوظة في عدد الاعتقالات وأوامر الحجز الإداري . وقد صدرت عن المحاكم العسكرية أحكام على كثير من المدنيين الفلسطينيين ، بما فيهم أحداث ، بتهمة أمنية . أما أعضاء المنظمات السرية اليهودية والإسرائيليون الآخرون المتهمون بقتل المدنيين العرب أو إساءة معاملتهم فتعاملهم السلطات معاملة لينة نسبيا . ومما يدل على هذه الحالة ، العفو الذي صدر عن إبراهيم شالوم وثلاثة من موظفي الأمن العام كانوا متورطين في قتل اثنين من المختطفين العرب في عام ١٩٨٤ .

٩٤- ويحتوى تقرير اللجنة الخاصة أيضا على معلومات قدمها إليها مجنأ سابقون ادعوا بأن معاملة المحتجزين مازالت مخالفة للأحكام ذات الصلة في اتفاقية جنيف . وثمة جانب مشير للقلق بوجه خاص ، ألا وهو مشكلة الأحداث المعتقلين الذين تمارس عليهم ممارسات مهينة وهم في معسكرات الاعتقال . ومن المشاكل الأخرى ازدحام الزنزانات وسوء المعاملة البدنية والنفسية ، وعدم وجود المرافق الصحية الملائمة . وهذه الأحوال السيئة تؤدي في كثير من الأحيان إلى إضرابات عن الطعام .

٩٥- وخلال الفترة قيد النظر ، واصلت حكومة إسرائيل سياسة الضم ، وهي ماضية بنفس التصميم الذي كانت عليه في السنوات السابقة ، على إقامة وتوسيع المستوطنات الإسرائيلية في الأراضي المحتلة . وتنفيذ مشروع القدس الكبرى الذي يهدف إلى ضم وتهويد منطقة تصل مساحتها إلى ٨ في المائة من مجموع مساحة الضفة الغربية ، وتخصيص الكنيسة مبالغ كبيرة لتوسيع المستوطنات وإقامة مستوطنات جديدة ، ومصادرة الأراضي العربية والاستيلاء عليها بطرق غير مشروعة ، مما أدى في الضفة الغربية إلى ظهور شبكة واسعة جدا من المعاملات المزييفة المتعلقة ببيع الأراضي ، كما ذكر في الفقرة

٢٨٧ من المرفق الثالث أدناه (وهو متوفر بالانكليزية فقط) ، كلها تبين الالهية التي تعلقها السلطات الاسرائيلية على اتباع هذه السياسة التي تشكل ، كما قيل آنفا ، خرقا صارخا لاتفاقية جنيف الرابعة .

٩٧- وتؤكد اللجنة الخاصة مرة أخرى مسؤولية المجتمع الدولي في تغيير هذه الحالة ، وتناشد الاطراف المعنية أن يعملوا جاهدين على منع زيادة التدهور ، وأن يتخذوا تدابير لضمان الحماية الفعالة لحقوق الانسان الاساسية للسكان المدنيين في الاراضي المحتلة .

سادسا - اعتماد التقرير

٩٨- اعتمدت اللجنة الخاصة هذا التقرير ووقعت عليه في ١٠ أيلول/سبتمبر ١٩٨٦ ، وفقا للمادة ٢٠ من نظامها الداخلي .

"لا يحرم الاشخاص المتمتعون بالحماية في الاقليم المحتل ، بأي حال من الاحوال أو بآية طريقة كانت من فوائد هذه الاتفاقية بأي تغيير يدخل ، نتيجة احتلال الاقليم ، على مؤسسات ذلك الاقليم أو حكومته ، ولا بأي اتفاق يبرم بين سلطات الاراضي المحتلة ودولة الاحتلال ، ولا بأي ضم من جانب الاخيرة للاقليم المحتل سواء أكان الضم كلياً أو جزئياً" .

٢ - المادة ٤٩ ، فيما يتصل بنقل المستوطنين الاسرائيليين الى الاراضي المحتلة ، وفيما يلي نصها :

"إن اجراءات النقل بالقوة الفردية أو الجماعية ، وكذلك إبعاد الاشخاص المتمتعين بالحماية من الاقليم المحتل الى اقليم دولة الاحتلال أو الى اقليم أي بلد آخر ، سواء أكان محتلاً أو لم يكن ، محظورة بصرف النظر عن دوافعها .

"على انه يجوز لدولة الاحتلال أن تقوم باخلاء منطقة معينة ، كلياً أو جزئياً ، اذا اقتضت ذلك أسباب تتعلق بأمن السكان أو ضرورة عسكرية . ولا يجوز أن تنطوي حالات الاخلاء هذه على تشريد الاشخاص المتمتعين بالحماية خارج حدود الاقليم المحتل إلا اذا أصبح من المتعذر لأسباب مادية تجنب هذا التشريد وبعاد نقل الاشخاص الذين تم اجلاؤهم على هذا النحو الى منازلهم بمجرد توقف الاعمال العدائية في المنطقة المعنية .

"وتضمن دولة الاحتلال التي تقوم باجراءات النقل والاجلاء هذه ، الى أقصى حد ممكن عملياً ، توفير أماكن مناسبة لايواء الاشخاص المتمتعين بالحماية ، ومباشرة عمليات النقل هذه في ظروف تستوفي الى حد مرض متطلبات

"وتبلغ دولة الحماية باية عمليات نقل أو اجلاء بمجرد حدوثها .

المادة ٥٣

"يحظر قيام دولة الاحتلال بأي تدمير للممتلكات العقارية أو الشخصية المملوكة بصفة فردية أو جماعية للأشخاص العاديين أو للدولة أو غيرها من السلطات العامة أو للمؤسسات الاجتماعية أو التعاونية ، ما لم يكن ذلك التدمير ضرورة مطلقة تقتضيها العمليات العسكرية".

٥ - المادتان ٦٤ و ٧٦ ، فيما يتصل بمعاملة المسجونين المحتجزين . وفيما يلي نصهما :

المادة ٦٤

"تظل قوانين العقوبات الخاصة بالاقليم المحتل نافذة ، غير انه يجوز لدولة الاحتلال أن تلغي هذه القوانين أو توقف نفاذها في الحالات التي تشكل فيها تهديدا لأمن تلك الدولة أو عائقا يحول دون تطبيق هذه الاتفاقية . ورهنا بهذا الاعتبار وبضرورة تأمين تنفيذ العدالة بصورة فعالة ، تستمر محاكم الاقليم المحتل في أداء وظائفها فيما يتعلق بجميع الجرائم التي تشملها القوانين المذكورة .

"ومع ذلك ، يجوز لدولة الاحتلال أن تخضع مكان الاقليم المحتل لما يلزم من الاحكام لتمكين دولة الاحتلال من الوفاء بالتزاماتها بموجب هذه الاتفاقية ، ومن الحفاظ على الحكم النظامي للاقليم ، ومن كفالة أمن دولة الاحتلال وأفراد قوات أو ادارة الاحتلال وممتلكاتهم ، وبالمثل ما يستخدمونه من منشآت وخطوط اتصال".

المادة ٧٦

"يحتجز في البلد المحتل الأشخاص المتمتعون بالحماية المتهمون بارتكاب جرائم ، وتنفذ فيه الاحكام الصادرة ضدهم في حالة ادانته . ويجري ، اذا أمكن ذلك ، فصلهم عن بقية المحتجزين ويتمتعون بالظروف التفدوية والمخية الكافية لبقائهم في صحة جيدة ، والتي تعادل على الأقل ما يتوفر منها في سجون البلد المحتل .

"ويكون لهؤلاء الأشخاص الحق في أن يتلقوا طرد اغاثة واحدا على الأقل شهريا" .

٦ - وبالإضافة الى هذه المواد ، توجه اللجنة الخاصة الانتباه الى المادة ١٤٦ من اتفاقية جنيف الرابعة ، والتي تتوخى من تشريع لغرض عقوبات جنائية على الأشخاص الذين يرتكبون انتهاكات جسيمة للاتفاقية . ويرد في المادة ١٤٧ تحديد الافعال التي تعتبر انتهاكات جسيمة .

وتنص المادة ١٤٦ على ما يلي :

"تتعهد الاطراف المتعاقدة السامية بأن تمن ما يلزم من التشريعات لغرض عقوبات جنائية فعالة على الأشخاص الذين يرتكبون أو يأمرن بارتكاب أية انتهاكات جسيمة لهذه الاتفاقية مما يرد تحديده في المادة التالية .

"ويلتزم كل طرف من الاطراف المتعاقدة السامية بالبحث عن الأشخاص الذين يدعى أنهم ارتكبوا أو أمروا بارتكاب مثل تلك الانتهاكات الجسيمة ،

ويقوم باحضارهم أمام محاكمة بصرف النظر عن جنسيتهم . ويجوز له أيضا ، اذا رأى ذلك ، أن يقوم وفقا لاحكام تشريعه الخاص بتسليم هؤلاء الاشخاص الى طرف معني آخر من الاطراف المتعاقدة السامية بغية محاكمتهم ، بشرط أن يكون ذلك الطرف قد أقام دعوى صحيحة مبدئيا .

"ويقوم كل طرف من الاطراف المتعاقدة السامية باتخاذ ما يلزم من التدابير لقمع أي فعل مخالف لاحكام هذه الاتفاقية غير الانتهاكات الجسيمة المحددة في المادة التالية .

"ويتمتع الاشخاص المتهمون ، في كافة الظروف ، بضمانات المحاكمة والدفاع اللازمة والتي لا تقل في ملاءمتها عن الضمانات المنصوص عليها في المادة ١٠٥ ، وفي اتفاقية جنيف المتعلقة بمعاملة أسرى الحرب والمؤرخة في ١٢ آب/أغسطس ١٩٤٩" .

وتعلن المادة ١٤٧ ما يلي :

"الانتهاكات الجسيمة التي تشير اليها المادة السابقة هي التي تنطوي على فعل من الافعال التالية ، اذا ارتكبت ضد شخص أو مال يتمتع بالحماية بموجب هذه الاتفاقية : القتل العمد ، والتعذيب والمعاملة اللاإنسانية ، بما في ذلك التجارب البيولوجية ، والقيام عمدا بما يسبب ألما شديدا أو اصابة جسيمة أو محبة خطيرة لشخص متمتع بالحماية ، والإبعاد أو النقل أو الاحتجاز غير المشروع ، واجبار شخص متمتع بالحماية على الخدمة في قوات دولة معادية ، أو القيام عمدا بحرمان شخص متمتع بالحماية من الحقوق المتعلقة بتلقي المحاكمة العادلة والقانونية المنصوص عليها في هذه الاتفاقية ، وأخذ الرهائن والتدمير الشامل للممتلكات ومصادرتها بطريقة تعسفية وغير مشروعة ، دون أن تكون شمة ضرورة عسكرية تبرر ذلك" .

A. Oral evidence

1. As has been the practice of the Special Committee, hearings were conducted in the course of which the Special Committee received information from persons having first-hand experience of the situation in the occupied territories. The records of the testimonies received by the Special Committee are contained in documents A/AC.145/RT.441 and 445 to 453. The following paragraphs contain a selection of excerpts of these testimonies that the Special Committee considered illustrative of several aspects of the situation of human rights in the occupied territories. Where these aspects correspond to excerpts reproduced in the part dealing with written information an appropriate cross reference is made. They are subdivided according to the subject-matter, as follows:

1. General situation;
2. Information concerning the administration of justice;
3. Treatment of civilians, including fundamental freedoms;
4. Treatment of detainees.

1. General situation

(see paras. 85-102 below and sect. IV.C, paras. 37-39 above)

Policy of returning municipalities to local leaders

2. Some witnesses referred to the question of municipal councils. Dr. Azmi As Shweibi, who had been elected in 1976 to the municipal council of El Bireh and held this position until 1982, when the council was disbanded by order of the Israeli Minister of Defence, replied to a question on the profound aspirations of the Arab population in the occupied territories regarding the municipalities issue as follows:

"Generally speaking, the Arab population in these areas, the taxpayers, prefer to be represented by the duly-elected mayors, councils and mayors. Most of these municipal councils were democratically elected in 1976 by the population itself. But in response to pressure from the settlers, and due to the fact that the Israeli authorities were not sympathetic to the political aspirations of the population, the Arab population which had expressed itself clearly, its preference for municipal elections, for elected mayors, the Israeli authorities preferred to do away with these municipal councils. The municipal councils were asked by Peres - who at that time was Minister of Defence - to accept a kind of civil or civilian administration which would be under the authority of the occupation officials in place. When we refused, the Israeli authorities started to get rid of the municipal councils, and this was started in 1980, against Mohammed Milhem of Halhul and Kawasme of Hebron. And in addition, I believe, they bombed the cars of Bassam Shaka'a and Karim Khalaf and Ibrahim Tawil, the mayors of Nablus, Ramallah and El Bireh.

Following this, the municipal councils were disbanded immediately. The civilian population in El Bireh, which is what I am talking about, prefer that the members of the municipal council be directly elected by them. The Israeli authorities informed us - and I personally was informed - that there would be no elections for municipal councils in the West Bank because any elections would bring to power people who would not accept the occupation policies of the authorities. This is simply a confirmation of the desire of the people in the occupied territories to uphold their right of self-determination, their right to a State and their right to a free life. No agent of the Israeli occupation authorities could possibly succeed in any of these elections. What happened in El Bireh was that, under pressure from the authorities, the civilian population accepted a choice - not elections but a choice - of people to represent them from two lists, one headed by A-Tarifi and the other by Walid Hamad - not Ibrahim A-Tawil. As far as the other municipalities are concerned, the people would not accept the Israeli-imposed nominees to represent them." (A/AC.145/RT.446)

3. On the same subject, Dr. Shweibi had stated earlier:

"The object of controlling these municipalities in the main Arab cities of the West Bank is to plan the infrastructure of these towns and cities in such a way as to limit considerably the land given to Arabs to construct or to live on, while considerably expanding the land provided for the Israelis. This could not have happened in the presence of Arab-elected municipal councils. The Israelis completely reject the question of election to municipal councils for these cities, and what the Israeli authorities are trying to do now is substitute for the Israeli military officers, who are in charge of these municipalities, agents who would be, let us say, open to applying Israeli policy in these cities. In El Bireh, the military commander, Josef al Kukhbar, who is known as "Maurice", has been appointed administrator of this municipal council. What the Israeli officers are now doing is to mismanage and spend the budget of these municipal councils and spoil their organization and finance and the administrative framework to such an extent that, even if the Arabs were to be elected eventually to these municipal councils, they would have a difficult time in setting them up correctly again." (A/AC.145/RT.446)

4. Another witness, Dr. Mohamed A. Saker, the expelled President of the Islamic University of Gaza, referring to the fact that the autonomy issue had been raised with him several times by the Israeli authorities, said:

"... They tried to sell the idea of autonomy to me. What is meant by 'autonomy' in the Israeli mind? Autonomy means leaving things as they are but to persuade Arabs to play the game for the Israelis. Land will not be the responsibility of the 'autonomy' authorities, nor water, nor police, etc. 'Autonomy' is just an Arab face covering Israeli policy, no more, no less. The Arabs would not be allowed to take any serious decision in the actual affairs of the State." (A/AC.145/RT.453)

2. Information concerning the administration of justice

5. Several witnesses described various aspects of the constraints hindering the administration of justice in the occupied territories. One particularly preoccupying problem mentioned was the practice of arresting and detaining minors.

6. Mr. Ali Abu Hilal stated in the course of his testimony:

"On the imprisonment of children or adolescents, in 1984 - and I'm talking about the area that I know, Abu Dis - there was imprisonment of children who were in the preparatory stage, aged between 10 and 15. They were imprisoned in a military camp called Al Fara'a, which is near my village of Abu Dis, near Nablus. One of the boys is called Ziyad Jafal, another Khalil Maksen, and a third Taysir Jafal. All of them are in the preparatory stage of education." (A/AC.145/RT.446)

7. The absence of juvenile courts was mentioned, in her testimony, by a lawyer practising in the occupied territories:

"There is no juvenile court. The judge who passes sentence on a man of 40 does the same thing for a boy of 12. I attended the sentencing of two children, one was 14 and one was 15 years old, from Dheisheh camp in Bethlehem. The charge was that they threw fire bombs at Meir Kahane when he tried to break into the camp. The Israeli authorities did not arrest Meir Kahane, they arrested the two boys. The two bombs did not cause any damage. The younger boy was sentenced to four years and the elder boy to four and a half years. They are serving their sentences now in Al Fara'a prison." (A/AC.145/RT.449)

8. The same witness referred to the various difficulties that the Arab lawyers confronted in the exercise of their profession in the occupied territories:

"Because I am a lawyer I shall speak on the situation of Arab lawyers in those territories occupied in 1967. They are subjected to provocations and annoyances in their work by the occupying military authorities. For instance, they are prevented from meeting their clients, namely, Palestinian detainees in Israeli prisons. The lawyers are bodily searched outside the Israeli prisons and prior to entering courtrooms. They are obliged to raise their hands as they are being searched, and their briefcases are also searched and papers thrown about, and there are also attempts to read the papers and files they are carrying. Arab lawyers are forced to remain for hours in the courts of the prisons, frequently without being given permission to meet their clients, the Palestinian detainees, even when a date had been set by the general prison administration.

"Another matter which is of concern to the lawyers is Military Order 1164 issued by the military authorities to prevent them from exercising their basic right to set up a committee of Arab lawyers. ... In the occupied Arab territories there are 200 practising lawyers, and they work without any legal framework. They have no professional association or syndicate. So the lawyers met and set up a committee and raised the matter before the High Court of Justice in Jerusalem in order to have a licence to set up their own organization. This case was several times postponed, and it was during this period of postponement that the Military Order 1164 was issued which provided that the administrative officers of that committee be appointed. In other words, instead of having elections, which is the legitimate right of lawyers in setting up their own organization, the civil administration officer would appoint that committee. The lawyers rejected that provision, insisting on their right to hold elections for their legitimate representatives.

"Lawyers in Israel have their professional association which defends them, like any lawyers' syndicate anywhere in the world, but we do not have such a legal framework for our profession. We have no right to present a defence before an Israeli court in Jerusalem, but Israelis can practise in the West bank and in any Israeli court. Some Arab lawyers have asked for the same treatment as the Israeli lawyers within Israel, but that request was refused." (A/AC.145/RT.449)

9. In reply to a question concerning the illegal enforcement by the occupying Power of the British Emergency Regulations of 1945, the witness stated:

"I know that the civilian population and the organizations representing them in the occupied territories have objected to them. Statements by lawyers before Israeli military courts have rejected these regulations and have asked for their deletion. Amongst the legal statements made by the lawyers before the Israeli courts has been the request for these regulations to be deleted because they are null and void." (A/AC.145/RT.449)

10. Mr. Wilhelm Joseph, a United States attorney, member of a delegation of American lawyers who spent one week in Israel in November 1985 to investigate the deportation order issued against four Palestinian leaders, referred to the discrimination in the administration of justice:

"We understand that when a Palestinian in the West Bank is charged with a violation - and this is also documented in the annual report on human rights which is presented by the United States Trade Department to the Senate and House Committees on Foreign Relations, that is, when a Palestinian is alleged to have committed an offence in the West Bank - the military authorities may choose whether that person is tried in a military court or a regular criminal court. Of course, if you are tried in a criminal court you are afforded all the usual protections of due process: evidence against you, the charges against you and the opportunity to cross-examine witnesses. However, if they choose to prosecute you in military proceedings you are not afforded these protections. On the other hand, any Israeli citizen who commits the same offence in those territories can only be tried in a criminal court and in fact has the choice of being tried in a criminal court nearest his or her home, or one near the scene of the alleged incident. For example, if such a citizen is a resident of Tel Aviv, he may elect to be tried in a criminal court in Tel Aviv even though the offence may have been committed in the West Bank." (A/AC.145/RT.441)

3. Treatment of civilians, including fundamental freedoms

(see paras. 199-344 below and sect. IV.C, paras. 43-76 above)

(a) General information

(i) Harassment of civilians

11. Several witnesses gave an account of the daily harassment suffered by the civilian population. Hereunder are a few relevant excerpts from their testimonies:

"In a nutshell, this is a picture of the very long ordeal, the suffering of my people, the suffering which we still undergo every day under occupation. This suffering takes diverse forms and I have lived through them during the seven months which I spent in freedom. There are daily exactions in the street by the armed forces, by the police force. For example, we live in a very conservative, very traditional way in the southern part of Palestine, and the Israeli soldiers provoke our women. When the Palestinian men try to defend their dignity they are constantly set upon by the Israeli forces. Palestinian citizens are constantly being harassed. They knew the names of the people who had been freed; they knew my name, and they set little traps for us. They tried to kidnap us, they even set ambushes. I informed the police. Of course, I had to go to the police station to complain, so they got to know me. I did not have the right to drive a car and so I used a bicycle. The frontier guards in their car, they knew me personally, and they tried to knock me over. Once they threw a sort of fake Molotov cocktail, an empty beer bottle, at me to frighten me and to intimidate me." (Hassan Mohammed Al-Ammoudi - A/AC.145/RT.448)

"Now I shall tell you what I have seen of the practices of the occupation authorities against the population in the occupied territories during the seven months I spent there. The 'iron fist' policy was announced by the responsible Israeli authorities. In September 1985 the forces of the occupation provoked the population in Gaza, in particular, in Palestine Square. Unfortunately I was there. The occupation forces forced some of the civilian population to climb upon tables like these ones here in the middle of the Square and made some of them dance. They told some of the young people to hit the old men. Some of the young people obeyed this order. Those who did not were beaten and kicked until they fainted, and I saw them. Another occurrence to which I was witness was when some soldiers in Unity Street on 11 November 1985 stopped cars, ordered the people out of the cars and started to beat them, for no reason, just like that."

(Jallal Hafez Aziza - A/AC.145/RT.448)

"I should now like to say a few words about some aspects of oppression that we see practised daily against us by the Israeli military authorities. For instance, two weeks ago two young men were walking on the road between Jerusalem and Ramallah near Al 'Amari camp when an Israeli military patrol passed. One of the Israeli soldiers fired at the two young men. One was killed immediately and the other was wounded. The soldiers prevented a doctor, who lived nearby, from reaching the two young men in order to treat the wounded one. The man who died was Naser Ferukh." (A lawyer practising in the occupied territories - A/AC.145/RT.449)

"After I left prison I lived three and one half months in the occupied territories. I had already seen these things in prison, but also in camps, in villages and in towns I saw in practice the policies of the Zionist soldiers against the Palestinian people, the children, the women, old people, young people, the way in which they forcibly entered houses by night and by day without any pretext whatsoever, without any reason whatsoever; arbitrary arrest of a number of members of the same family, to such an extent that a mother, whose three children had been taken away, said to the police, 'Since you have taken my three children, why not put me in jail?'. " (Mahmud Amdan Altamre - A/AC.145/RT.449/Add.1)

(ii) Collective punishment, including demolition of houses

12. In the course of its hearings, the Special Committee heard various accounts of the general atmosphere of repression illustrated by the practice of collective punishment against the civilian population in the occupied territories.

13. A former detainee, Mr. Mohammed Mahmud Hanini, described the problems that affected his family while he was detained:

"The WITNESS (interpretation from Arabic): They blew up the house.

"The CHAIRMAN: Whose house?

"The WITNESS (interpretation from Arabic): My family's.

"Mr. SENE (Senegal) (interpretation from French): Could you tell us where this was?

"The WITNESS (interpretation from Arabic): In the village of Beit Dajan in the Nablus area.

"Mr. SENE (Senegal) (interpretation from French): Have you made any claim for indemnity?

"The WITNESS (interpretation from Arabic): Would the same people who blew up our house pay compensation for it?

"Mr. SENE (Senegal) (interpretation from French): And what happened to the land where the house was?

"The WITNESS (interpretation from Arabic): At the time they would not allow us to rebuild the house, but later on we did." (A/AC.145/RT.446)

14. Mr. Hassan Abd Jawad referred to the situation in Dheisheh refugee camp:

"... Often there was collective punishment of the inhabitants of the camp. There were 13,000 people in that camp in an area of 1 sq. km. near Bethlehem. The authorities imposed about 24 curfews per year on us. Last year, about 19 entrances leading to the main road were closed and now all we have is one single entry, a back entrance which leads to a mountain road and which forces the inhabitants to cover three kilometres in order to reach Bethlehem. The gateways are closed with barbed wire, with cement and with barrels being placed across them. Of course, all these operations have complicated the lives of the inhabitants, and in particular have lengthened the time necessary for people wishing to go out of the camp, in order to go to Bethlehem, including sick people who wish to see a doctor in Bethlehem, especially as in this camp there are no basic or primary health care services available. There is a social centre at the camp, there was a youth centre, but what is most important is that this camp has always been the victim of repression. The houses are always invaded by the occupation authorities, they force their way in and the inhabitants are compelled to go to the UNRWA school at night as a refuge. Sometimes more than 3,000 people between 12 and 75 years of age had to take refuge in the school. They were usually males, and this was done on rainy nights." (A/AC.145/RT.447)

15. Another witness, Mr. Zaki Abu Steita, referred to the practices of house demolitions and collective home arrest, stated:

"... The daily practices which I have personally witnessed in Gaza are arrests, confiscation of land, demolition of houses under the pretext of constructing new roads. They demolished several houses in order to construct a road 150 m wide. Of course, those who lived in those houses were homeless afterwards. Also among Israeli practices is collective punishment. They would force people to stay in their homes for 24 hours consecutively, allowing them to go out for one hour per day." (A/AC.145/RT.452)

(iii) Expulsion and deportation

16. The Special Committee heard several statements on the practice of deportation and expulsion of Palestinians from the occupied territories. In the course of the hearings on this subject, many witnesses stressed the illegal nature of the deportation procedure and referred to the fact that it was a military process and that the intended deportees were not given the opportunity to see the allegations presented against them.

17. Mr. Wilhelm Joseph stated in that connection:

"On the question of the process, we are told that the intended deportee first learns of his intended deportation when the knock comes. He or she then has 48 hours in which to find a lawyer and file objections with a military advisory committee comprising three members, one of which has to have - I think he said - a legal connection or law connection. He didn't specify if this person had to be a lawyer, in fact, but we understand that one may be a lawyer and two would have to be lawyers. These are military men. You file objection to deportation because you still don't have any evidence against you or any charges. Then that advisory committee can either affirm the deportation orders or reverse them. If they are in fact affirmed, the defendant through his lawyer may appeal to the Israeli High Court, which examines whatever evidence is presented to them in camera. The attorneys have no idea what is being presented to the Court and the Court in its turn may affirm or revoke these orders." (A/AC.145/RT.441)

18. Another witness, Mr. Bahget Mustafa Geiussy, said:

"... On 28 August 1985 I was again arrested. I was handed a deportation order issued by the commander in chief, Amnon Shahak. I was asked to sign my deportation order, which I refused to do because I could not accept to be deported. Later on, my case was put to a military appeals committee. I appeared for 14 hours before that committee to no avail. At the end, through my lawyers, Lea Tsemel and Felicia Langer, I submitted a petition to the High Court in Jerusalem. I was present during five sittings of the court but the court endorsed the recommendation of the military committee." (A/AC.145/RT.445)

19. Dr. Azmi As Shweibi described the conditions prevailing at the military committee hearings:

"On 27 October 1985, the commander of the region, Amnon Shahak, ordered the deportation of three persons, myself included, from the occupied territories. He based his decision on British emergency regulations which date back to 1945. We were given the right to present our point of view in front of a consultative military committee, which presents its opinion to the Minister of Defence and to the commander of the central region. The members of the consultative military committee are appointed by the commander of the region himself; it is composed of military men, and at these committee hearings we were not given the right to see the allegations presented before the committee. Foreign lawyers were prevented from participating in the hearing or defending us before the committee. The hearings were carried out in very inhuman conditions, sometimes extending until past midnight, and even some of the members of the committee, the three military men, fell asleep during these long hearings. Although the committee recommended a review of my particular deportation, nevertheless the commander of the central region refused that recommendation, because the committee is merely consultative and it has no right to take decisions. We appealed to the Israeli High Court of Justice and asked the Court to provide us with a copy of the articles or the material which was used in the allegations against us. But the Court refused. The Minister of Defence sent letters to the Court and presented his case in front of the Court, and said that the situation in this region is particularly dangerous and therefore he urged the Court to speed up our deportation. The Court forbade various lawyers from different parts of the world, internationally known, to come and defend us or even to meet us. The Court also refused the adjudication of international law in this sense, that people in occupied territories should not be deported from the territory held by the occupation régime. My medical condition was also not taken into consideration, although I was being treated by an Israeli doctor at Hadassah, who presented his report about the dangerous situation of my health, but the Israeli High Court of Justice refused and said that they were not mandated to consider my health situation. In view of these events, we withdrew our appeal from the Israeli Court on the basis that there would be no just sentence passed against us. We refused to go on with this case because we considered that the deportation law was a racist law, practised purely against the Arab population - it is not practised against the Jewish population - and as such, there was no question of the case being judged fairly before that Court, because the law which was applied was a racist one. We were held in prison for 100 days before they deported us." (A/AC.145/RT.446)

20. Other testimonies were given to the Special Committee by Mr. Ali Abu Hilal and Zaki Abu Steita who were also deported under similar conditions. In the same connection, Mr. Mahmud Dei'is, asked why he was deported, stated:

"... I and my lawyers asked this question of the military court, the fictitious court, which was set up by the commander in chief of the West Bank. The request as stated by the lawyers was: would the members of the military court please sentence the accused on any charge and if, according to their laws, they should pass a sentence of one year against him, then we ask you to sentence him to 10 years. The answer of the military prosecutor was that they had a secret file which neither the accused nor his lawyer is allowed to study, and in that file there were sufficient justifications for deporting the accused. My lawyer and I repeated the same request - my lawyers were Ali Khuzman and Lea Tsemel - and we asked that a representative of the Red Cross or any legal or humanitarian international organization attend the sittings of the court as an observer: but this, too, was rejected. The military court then immediately ratified the deportation order of the military commander and the sitting came to an end." (A/AC.145/RT.447)

21. Another witness, Mr. Adnan Mohammed Bliedi, replied to questions concerning his deportation:

"The CHAIRMAN: Can you also tell us about your deportation, how it came about?

"The WITNESS (interpretation from Arabic): Well, on 14 September 1985 I was told to go to the Tulkarm centre. There I was informed of my deportation in the morning. On 15 September I was deported to the East Bank.

"The CHAIRMAN: Did you appeal against your deportation order?

"The WITNESS (interpretation from Arabic): We had no possibility of appealing. I was informed on the 14th and deported on the 15th.

"The CHAIRMAN: You didn't make any appeal at all to the military committee?

"The WITNESS (interpretation from Arabic): I did not meet the military committee; it was the civilian administration that received me.

"The CHAIRMAN: Was the deportation order made by the military commander?

"The WITNESS (interpretation from Arabic): Yes, it was the military commander, but on behalf of an officer of the civilian administration.

"The CHAIRMAN: They did not give you 48 hours in which to appeal?

"The WITNESS (interpretation from Arabic): No, I was not given 48 hours." (A/AC.145/RT.447)

22. The difficult physical conditions of the actual expulsion were also described by a number of witnesses:

"A few days before we were deported, my colleagues and I were separated and put in single cells in the prison. We were handcuffed and leg shackled as well as having bands covering our eyes so that we couldn't see anything. During the deportation we were taken like that and put in the back of an army truck. We asked the officers in charge to be allowed to see our wives and children before being deported. The judges in the High Court had asked that we be allowed to see our families before deportation, but this permission was not granted. We also asked that a Red Cross representative should come to see us, to see the conditions in which we were being deported, to see if this was appropriate for the health of the prisoners, since our deportation should be carried out in humane circumstances and conditions. While we were in the army truck we were told that we would be deported to the South of Lebanon, but knowing from the topography of the road that we were going down, rather than up, we knew that we were going to the South of Jordan rather than the South of Lebanon. The deportation began at 8 a.m. on 31 January in the morning, and we reached Wadi Araba, which is in the desert area of Jordan, near Aqaba, at the end of the day. The bandages were removed from our eyes and a military doctor carried out a sort of routine examination, listening to heartbeats. We were asked to follow a road between barbed wire on both sides. We were told to proceed forward in a straight line, because the whole area was mined. We were picked up at the end of that road by the Jordanian army, and they brought us to Amman." (Dr. Azmi As Shweibi - A/AC.145/RT.446)

"... We were moved to Hebron in the south of the West Bank, and the next morning we were sent to Wadi Araba in Jordan: we were deported, in fact. During that period we were refused permission to meet with a representative of the Red Cross or to meet with any member of our families. The process of deportation itself was very tiring: it lasted from the middle of Friday,

30 January 1986 to the evening of 31 January 1986, over 24 hours, in fact. This is briefly a summary of the Israeli practices against me personally." (Mr. Ali Abu Hilal - A/AC.145/RT.446)

23. The political motives lying behind the policy of deportation, which has recently been reactivated on a large scale were analysed by some witnesses. Mr. Joseph stated in that connection:

"The Israeli authorities also sought to justify this extreme and cruel form of punishment on the grounds that acts of violence were on the increase in the occupied territories. But they have not charged any of these men with being either directly or indirectly linked to any acts of violence. All of these men are the principal breadwinners in their families. One is in fact responsible for the upkeep not only of his wife and two children but also his aged father and mother and his cousin and her children. We believe that his and the other expulsions constitute another component of the Israeli Government's policy of 'collective punishment', other manifestations of which we witnessed in the West Bank in Gaza and which we will be prepared to share with you during the question and answer period.

"... I want to say, and firmly say, that there is unequivocally widespread and official discrimination practised by the Israeli authorities against Palestinians in the West Bank and Gaza. I believe that none of these forms of discrimination is necessary or justified. You should note that this view is also shared by a significant segment of the Israeli community, including members of the Knesset with whom we spoke, and other prominent individuals." (A/AC.145/RT.441)

Mr. Mike Smith, a New York City attorney who participated in the one-week fact-finding trip of the delegation of American lawyers to Israel, also stated:

"Well, what did they do wrong? That was the question that we asked all the Israeli officials that we had the opportunity to meet and we finally were able to meet Renato Janack who was the man responsible for prosecuting these deportations and he told us, very succinctly and forthrightly and frankly, what these men did wrong. He said that they were advocating pre-state formations. ... All these people are popular political and cultural leaders and I suppose that if and when a Palestinian state were organized they would be figures in the Government, and seeing that they are popular leaders now, the charge in a very perverse way does make sense, that they are part of a pre-state formation. Put a different way, these are simply leaders of the Palestinian people and that was what we concluded was their crime. We were told at first that they were arrested in response to a number of random killings of civilians that occurred late in the summer. But when we pressed the various officials - and this goes from the Minister of Justice on the West Bank down to the three colonels we met with who are attached to the army - they said, 'Well, we can't exactly prove that they did this, we can only say that these acts of violence occurred and they profited by it.' So we asked them, 'Well, how is it that they profited by these acts of violence since they are now getting deported?' They had no answer for us on that, so we concluded that charging them generally with acts of violence was just a red herring, it was a smokescreen, that it wasn't in fact true, and that if they had one shred of evidence that these men were in any way connected with any act of violence they should have criminally tried them." (A/AC.145/RT.441)

24. Mr. Griussy said in the course of his testimony:

"... my deportation had a political purpose, and I was not deported for any crime against law and order. The measures taken by the Israeli authorities against me were part and parcel of the general policy aiming at emptying the land and evacuating its inhabitants. The basic problem is not the measures applied but it lies in the occupation of our land."
(A/AC.145/RT.445)

25. Another witness, Mr. Jallal Hafez Aziz, stated:

"The main reason for the deportations is that the Israeli occupation authorities feel that any militant, any person who is attached to his nationhood, is a danger to it. They are aware, for instance, of the activities that I carried out before my first imprisonment. Had they not been forced to release me, they would never have done so. The policy of deportation of the Israeli authorities is intended to get rid of those people who are strongly nationalistic, who adhere to their nationhood. As the intelligence officer told us, 'If you are outside the occupied territories then we are in safety, then we have no problems.' And during this fictitious trial prior to our deportation, they told us, 'We don't want to imprison you because you carry out your activities in prison, and we don't want you outside of the prison walls because you constitute a danger. Therefore we shall just get rid of you completely and thus get rid of your danger and people like you.' That is the real reason." (A/AC.145/RT.448)

(iv) Economic aspects

26. Some witnesses described the interference of the occupying authorities in various aspects of the economic life. Replying to a question on eventual signs of improvement of living conditions of the Arabs in the occupied territories, Mr. Ali Abu Hilal stated:

"With regard to what Shimon Peres said about improving the living conditions of the Arabs in the occupied territories, there is nothing new in this. A year ago he said exactly the same thing. He said they would open the door to United States and European financial assistance to the Arab population in order to ameliorate the conditions of the Arabs in the West Bank. So far nothing has materialized.

"As a matter of fact, things are getting worse because Israel has started to apply firmly 1945 laws regarding city arrest and deportations - this is the law which is applied on deportations - while simultaneously there is the economic and financial crisis in Israel, and the people who suffer most from this crisis are the Arabs. In addition, last year newspapers were closed in the West Bank and action was taken against freedom of expression, university faculties were closed.

"So how can we believe what Peres has said now as an intention of positive action? There has also been the expropriation of Palestinian land. There were great expectations indeed that Shimon Peres would try to alleviate the conditions of the Arab population, especially since his policy is more flexible than that of the Likud, as a matter of fact the policy which is implemented by Shimon Peres is more rigid than was expected, and this is something that the ordinary man in the street can feel. It is exemplified in the 'iron fist' policy, in the expropriation of land and in the severe economic conditions suffered by the ordinary people." (A/AC.145/RT.446)

27. Another witness, Dr. Azmi As Shweibi, referred to the role of the Israeli authorities in hampering development projects in the occupied territories:

"The Israeli authorities have not only blocked the development plans of the UNDP but they have also put a stop to assistance projects being carried out by American churches in some villages and towns in these areas, projects aimed mainly at laying down a road network, providing drinking water, services of that kind to the population. The Israeli authorities have now asked that any assistance provided by these American churches or any other benevolent societies be given to the Israeli authorities for dispensation as they choose. Even the Arab assistance, provided by Arab countries, Jordan, for instance, the Israelis have declared that it should be put in a special fund which is administered and dispensed by the Israeli military authorities according to their own wishes."

28. Mr. Walid Nazzal, a former agricultural worker, referred in the course of his testimony to the difference of status between Arab and Israeli workers. This discriminatory aspect was also outlined by another witness, Mr. Ali Abu Hilal, who stated:

"... There are certain economic measures, provocative measures, taken against the workers at their places of work. For example, there is the great difference between the salaries given to Arab workers and Israeli workers in the same work place. The average Arab salary ranges between 30 and 40 per cent of the salary given to an Israeli worker. At the same time, with regard to tax, the cut-off point in the salary of an Arab worker is exactly the same as that of an Israeli worker. The Arab worker never has health insurance or family insurance or other benefits enjoyed by the Israeli worker. The Arab worker is also given what is called 'black' work or 'cruel' work, in other words, work which the Israeli worker refuses to carry out. One of the factors in Israel is the increasing unemployment, and the Arab workers have the lion's share so far as unemployment is concerned." (A/AC.145/RT.446)

29. Dr. Saker, former President of the Islamic University of Gaza, described measures affecting agriculture and industry in Gaza and the West Bank:

"Agriculture, for instance, in Gaza is being destroyed. We have citrus fruit production: citrus fruit is a vital item in our economy. We are not allowed to sell these on the Israeli market or on foreign markets. If they give permission, it is only to export a few, and permission will come late, so our agriculture is being destroyed. Our industry is also under stress. Taxation is so high, very high taxation on production, and income tax, etc. We are being made dependent on the Israeli economy. We supply the cheap labour force. Perhaps 80,000 workers from Gaza go daily to Israel. Their salary is almost one fourth of that of an Israeli worker. We are not permitted to import from foreign countries. It is very difficult to import, say, from Britain, from Switzerland, etc. We have to import from the Israeli market. Our imports last year almost reached $800 million from Israel. We import 90 per cent of our requirements from Israel, so we are very important for them as a market for their products. In the same way, we cannot export our items to them. Gaza tomatoes are not allowed to go to the Israeli market. In spite of all that, we are better producers and cheaper producers in certain lines. Our economy is a ghetto economy, a closed economy, in order to absorb their own products and supply them with certain materials.

"Israel is short of water: now Israel is getting between 500 to 800 million cubic metres per year from our own water reservoir, our reserve, from Gaza and the West Bank. It is being drained from our reserves and piped to Israeli settlements and Israeli industries. In practice, they are getting hold of all our basic resources." (A/AC.145/RT.453)

(b) Information on measures affecting certain fundamental freedoms

(i) Freedom of movement

30. The Special Committee heard several statements on the limitations affecting the right to freedom of movement. Mr. Joseph mentioned the particularly objectionable use of pass books:

"... A Palestinian must have a pass book on him at all times. That pass book restricts their freedom of movement. For example, they are not allowed to be in Israel, even though they may work there during the day, after midnight. Workers in the West Bank can be caught in Jerusalem after midnight. We were having dinner one evening with a lawyer in this case in Jerusalem and he said, 'I have to run. It's close to midnight. If I'm caught I could face any degree of punishment'." (A/AC.145/RT.441)

31. Another witness, journalist Hassan Abd Jawad, stated:

"... To go from Jordan to the West Bank you need a special permit from the military governor which costs JD 33. That is the cost of the permit; there is also the return fare per person. So Palestinian families in the West Bank in most cases cannot come here more than once a year, or perhaps once every two years because this is a very expensive trip. Moreover, there are searches morning, noon and night in the north and south of the West Bank and including Gaza. All these searches limit the freedom of people to move about and prevent them from going to work and carrying out their daily activities."

32. Former detainees who had been released in May 1985 as the result of an exchange of prisoners referred to the restrictions that were imposed on their movements:

"In May 1985 I was released with a large number of my friends in an exchange of prisoners between the PLO and the Israeli authorities, under the umbrella of the Red Cross. I was released in the occupied territories, and the Israeli authorities placed me under town arrest in Ramallah. I had to report to the police station twice a day, once in the morning and once in the afternoon. I was under house arrest from 6 p.m. to 7 a.m. I was not allowed to leave the city of Ramallah. The Israeli authorities informed me that my presence in the occupied territories was temporary, and that following that they would deport me." (Adnan Ghanem - A/AC.145/RT.445)

"... I went to the headquarters of the military commander of the region and he told me that I had a permit for 20 days but under town arrest. I have a copy of the order in Hebrew. Under this order, I was not allowed to drive a car, I was not to meet members of the press, I could not leave Hebron, I had to prove my presence twice a day, at eight o'clock in the morning and at two o'clock in the afternoon at the police station. Therefore this town arrest is a sort of burden on somebody who has just been released from prison and who wants to live a normal life. But this is what they insisted upon. The conditions of this town arrest were very difficult: I was not allowed to leave Hebron, but I had family in other places, places I wanted to visit, but I was not allowed to. All this was forbidden." (Bader Darwish Kawasme - A/AC.145/RT.450)

33. Another witness, Dr. Azmi As Shweibi stated:

"... I was placed under house arrest or city arrest from 1980 until I was deported. I was told to report to the police station every day and sign a register to say that I had passed by. I was of course prevented from travelling outside the country, and I was placed under what is called administrative detention seven times; I would be released for a couple of months and then I would be called again and put in prison for another few months, and then released, and so on. There was no charge as regards security made against me.

"The city arrest was renewed every six months without any particular action being taken. It was just renewed every six months. At one time I was sick, in Hadasseh hospital where I stayed for six months, and during that period the time of renewal came and it was renewed automatically again, routinely. In 1983 I was ill and asked to be sent to hospital in Jerusalem, which is only 15 km away from El Bireh, my home town, but I was not given permission to go to the hospital in Jerusalem because I was under city arrest in El Bireh." (A/AC.145/RT.446)

/...

34. In the same context, Mr. Ali Abu Hilal mentioned restrictions imposed on relatives of deported Palestinians:

"As a result of our deportations, there is a sort of snowballing, automatic deportation of our families as well. As far as my family is concerned, up to now my wife has been refused permission by the Israeli authorities to come and visit me here in Jordan. They have said to her, 'If you leave the West Bank you will never be permitted to return again'." (A/AC.145/RT.446)

(ii) Freedom of expression

35. A number of witnesses appearing before the Special Committee mentioned the various restrictions curtailing the right to freedom of expression. The problems confronting the Arab press, faced with severe Israeli censorship and restrictions, were evoked by the journalist Hassan Abd Jawad in the course of his testimony:

"Concerning journalism in the occupied territories, and speaking now in my capacity as journalist, I should like to say that Israeli censorship every day tries to prevent Arab newspapers from printing news. The censorship imposed upon us is quite severe. Even obituaries and congratulations must be submitted to the military censor every day beforehand. Likewise, newspapers do not have the right freely to publish notices of the civil administration of the occupied territories. Newspapers are very often prevented from appearing by the occupation authorities. The newspapers A-Shir'a and Al Garb had their licences revoked, and Asha'b and Al-Fajr and other newspapers a number of times were prevented from bringing out an edition. A number of press offices and press agencies have been shut down, like my own agency, which was raided a number of times by the occupation authorities. Many papers and magazines have been expropriated, and journalists placed under house arrest in camps, villages or towns. ... Very often the occupying authorities confiscate the newspapers and prevent them from appearing and reaching their readers. Naturally, costs become higher, papers become more expensive, and you can easily imagine the damage which the owners suffer and all who work in the press and the various papers.

"An Arab from the West Bank cannot work in a foreign press agency.

"...

"There is no newspaper in the West Bank nor in the Gaza Strip, apart from Al Bashir which was closed in 1980. That newspaper was published, one issue came out, when Karim Khalaf returned after being treated abroad."
(A/AC.145/RT.447)

36. Another witness, Mr. Ali Abu Hilal, referred to the particularly negative attitude of the Israeli settler movement toward the Arab press:

"... They have threatened some Arab newspapers which printed some facts about people who were in prison, or something like that. They have threatened some people, they went into the streets and demonstrated against the Arabs. They have asked the Israeli Government to increase its firm stand against the Arab population." (A/AC.145/RT.446)

37. The attorney Mr. Mike Smith referred to the problem of censorship of books and also cited other restrictions limiting the right to freedom of expression relating in particular to all kind of nationalist Palestinian aspirations:

"... We learned that there is a list of censored books in the West Bank. It used to be a list of 3,000 censored books; it has now shrunk to 300. It is illegal to have any of these books. We do have that list, Sir. If you would like it we can make it available to you. We heard an amusing anecdote from Israel Shahah regarding the censorship of things. As you know, it is illegal in Israel to display any manifestation of sympathy or support for Palestininans, including using the colours of the Palestinian national flag, red, white, black and green. If those colours are displayed by anybody together, that's a crime. Mr. Shahak told us the story of a Palestinian who, along with his friends, was able to build a new house and to celebrate the construction of the house, they ordered a cake and they frosted the cake with the four colours. Well, the soldiers heard of this and they came over. They arrested the man and they confiscated the criminal cake and the man - and I have documentation of this which I will share with you - the man did six months in prison for baking that cake." (A/AC.145/RT.441)

(iii) Freedom of association

38. Some witnesses drew the attention of the Special Committee to obstacles limiting trade union rights. Mr. Walid Nazzal stated:

"Groups of 40 members could apply to the officer in charge in order to set up a trade union. Within 40 days of the submission of this request the officer in charge was bound to give an answer, whether he allowed the setting up of this trade union or not. But when we came to set up this trade union of which I was President, after 40 days from the time we submitted an application, we had not received an answer, so this trade union has been functioning ever since without being legally or officially recognized by the authorities. It could be closed at any time and all its property confiscated, and the responsible officers of that trade union could be arrested at any time. Its President was arrested and deported. I should have preferred to be imprisoned rather than deported. There are at least 1,000 members of that trade union. There were other trade unions in the region which had obtained a licence before the Israeli occupation. They were closed by the Israeli authorities and up to now they have not been recognized and they have not been able to resume their activities. We have tried constantly to set up trade unions in each village, representing the workers in the village, but the intelligence service constantly interferes and places obstacles in the way, although there is no justification for this repression. Workers wanted to set up trade unions to defend their interests, and nothing more." (A/AC.145/RT.446)

39. Another witness, Mr. Ali Abu Hilal, stated:

"I shall now refer to the actions of the Israeli occupation authorities against the trade union movement and against the trade unions themselves. Amongst these practices are the fact that since 1979 the Israeli authorities have refused to issue licences for the setting up of new trade unions. New trade unions are threatened with closure. They are warned that their headquarters will be blown up, their premises will be searched, documents pertaining to the trade union would be seized. The leaders of the trade unions themselves are threatened with apprehension and imprisonment over a period of time, in order completely to restrict their activities. I have a great deal of proof of these things.

"In July 1985 there was a Military Order to prohibit workers from meeting in Jerusalem, and some 60 trade unions were supposed to participate in this meeting. On the day of the conference they surrounded the hall where the meeting was supposed to take place. Some of the workers were told not to enter the hall, and some of them were imprisoned. One of the people who was imprisoned was a trade unionist from Jerusalem called Ismail Tabanja, and there were others. Many of the international federations of trade unions denounced and condemned this action of Israel, and amongst them the American Peace Council which sent a message to the Israeli Government asking it to release those trade unionists who had been imprisoned and to permit the convening of the conference.

"As a result of all this pressure, the Israeli Government actually released the trade unionists three days after this event and we were able to hold our conference." (A/AC.145/RT.446)

(iv) Freedom of education

40. Several witnesses provided the Special Committee with information on problems and restrictions affecting the right to freedom of education. Mr. Jihad Karashouli and Mr. Mohammed Heneidi, respectively Director General and Deputy Director General for the Occupied Territories in respect of Education, Palestine Liberation Organization, provided the Special Committee with a detailed account of the difficulties that educational institutions, teachers and students were facing in the occupied territories. They also submitted to the Special Committee a number of documents and statistics on the situation of education in the occupied territories, the contents which are reflected in section IV, C below. In the course of their testimony, Mr. Karashouli and Mr. Heneidi explained the background of the establishment of educational institutions in the occupied territories:

"What the Palestinians have done in the occupied territories is to set up universities: Bir Zeit, Al-Najah, Jerusalem University, Hebron University, the Islamic University in Gaza and a polytechnic institute in Hebron. This is to provide opportunities for secondary school leavers to join the universities and to continue their higher education process." (Mr. Jihad Karashouli - A/AC.145/RT.452)

"How did these universities come into being and how are they playing their present role? Inside, in the occupied areas, as well as outside in the Arab world as a whole, education is regarded as a part of religion.

"Any money put into education from Zakkar - which is the God-assigned tax on the rich, which is considered in religion as a share of the poor in what the rich own - comes from the petroleum-producing countries and other countries, and actually contributed to the wellbeing of those universities, and it ran into millions. How it happened to reach inside, this is something which is related to the means and methods to overcome the confiscations of the Israelis. The people inside and outside have been co-operating in order to get that money into the area and make it fruitful in terms of education. As a result of that money, those institutions came into being. That takes care of the premises." (Mr. Mohamed Heneidi - A/AC.145/RT.452)

41. They further referred to efforts made by the occupying authorities to modify curricula in accordance with their own interest:

"... There is a very wicked approach by the Israelis, weakening the infrastructure of preparatory, secondary and university education, which is a prime objective of the Israeli authorities." (Mr. Mohamed Heneidi - A/AC.145/RT.452)

"... The occupation authorities have changed the curriculum, they have deleted some things and particularly such subjects as history, geography and science, but mainly agricultural studies, because the occupation authorities consider these as a dire threat and menace to them, educating students in agricultural matters. What they have done is to void the agricultural curriculum of its basic content. They have taken away a number of important topics, and agricultural education in the schools is now extremely lightweight. They would rather not allow faculties of agriculture to be set up in the universities: they make difficulties over the laboratories and the equipment which is needed for those faculties, because once a student is involved in this kind of education and in the kind of job that he will do, he will become a person who cultivates the land and thus will become more attached to it, and this is something that they don't want, so they cause problems with the laboratories and with the equipment, to the extent that students are no longer eager to enter the faculties of agriculture in the universities. Al-Najah wanted to set up a faculty of agriculture but permission was refused by the occupation authorities, so it had to be done in a roundabout way." (Mr. Jihad Karashouli - A/AC.145/RT.452)

42. The problem of the interference in curricula was also mentioned by another witness, Mr. Mahmud De'is, a school teacher:

"... If we deal with the school curriculum, we find, for instance, that the basic topic relating to the Palestinian question has been removed: the history of Palestine and its relationship with the other Arab States throughout history, and all other elements relevant to the characteristics of the Palestine State have been removed. Within the context of teaching geography, Palestine has always been considered part of the Arab nation; whereas at the present time it is being claimed to be part of the State of Israel and cut off from what is called the Arab nation." (A/AC.145/RT.447)

43. Mr. Heneidi gave a detailed account of daily problems such as the lack of adequate equipment or the difficult situation of teachers and students:

"... Many schools, simply through wear and tear, are dangerous, but the pupils have nowhere else to go. If the people of the village want to build a new school they have to get a licence. And who gives that licence? Of course, the Israeli authorities. And that licence for educational purposes is delayed, and delayed, and delayed until the people are cheesed off and forget about it, and it is never issued. In a few cases, two or three, the licence has been issued, but the Israeli authorities never paid a single cent. The schools were built, but just for the purposes of the mass media, to take photographs and videotapes, to indicate the interest of the Israelis in the education of the Arabs.

"With regard to laboratories and attracting students to science courses, to the love of science and experimentation, which are commonplace in any school in any country, in the occupied territories the laboratories receive a decreasing amount of finance for breakages and damage rather than any kind of increase. In many of the schools the laboratories are closed, and the facilities are no longer available to teachers to help in giving their courses.

"...

"Apart from the school building, there is the teacher himself. They get in touch with him. Either he must be co-operative with the occupation authorities and be an 'eye' for them on any security matter, or he is transferred away from his home to another school. In this case, since the salary he is drawing is minimal, that will cost him extra for food and shelter, and that will make his economic situation more miserable. It will cause him anxiety, and that will devastate and kill the education process, whether in the learning or the teaching stage. Or he may be deported: if he is active, he is against the security laws - away with him. Or he may be expelled from the school. If so, he joins the thousands of unemployed and, although a teacher and a qualified, educated young man, in a very limited occupied area under Israeli authority he will have to do any menial work to earn something to gain his daily bread. Or he may be put in jail. If he is one of those put in jail, then God knows when and in what state he will come out. Many of them come out physically handicapped, maybe a hand or a leg.

"...

"The military authorities are in command in the West Bank and in the Gaza Strip, and it is they who issue the orders and rules to be followed by the population. Every professor in the university was requested - if he wanted to stay - to sign a statement that he considered the PLO a terrorist organization and promised not to co-operate with it. That was an order. Of course, this resulted in 24 professors leaving their courses because they refused to sign this statement. Many such orders exist.

"...

"And for the student it is no better. They are children: usually they leave high school at about 17, they have had about six years there. First of all they are confronted with the checkpoints that are set up everywhere to check demonstrations and anything that might release the pressure for the student. They feel it, they live it, they want to express it, but that expression is taboo. They cannot do it. It is inculcated in every school everywhere else in the world, that self-expression, but there it is not, it is taboo. If they demonstrate, the authorities are around, checkpoints are established, and every passer-by - whether teacher or student or child - is subjected to a severe search which is intended to humiliate the person concerned. A boy of 10 or 12 may be expelled from his school and only accepted in a school far away. That is more difficult for him and he may not go, or his parents' financial situation may not permit him to do so.

"...

"... There are limitations of movement: many students are restricted to their village or to their home, and may not leave it on certain occasions. We collect this information from people who come from there." (A/AC.145/RT.452)

44. Other witnesses also referred to the problems faced by teachers and students in the occupied territories. Dr. Mohamad Mahmud Asrur, former professor at the Islamic University of Gaza, stated:

"... On 1 December 1980, the Islamic University of Gaza advertized for a professor of geology. I applied, and received a permit to teach there, renewable each year. I therefore resigned from Kuwait University and my residence permit there was withdrawn. I went to Gaza hoping that I would be able to rejoin my family, since my mother was there, one of my brothers and other relatives, under the provision for 'family reunion', and since I am from Gaza. I remained in Gaza until 1 August 1985 and my permit was renewed each year without difficulty, although I could not have a driver's licence and I was not entitled to sickness insurance or other benefits normally provided. At the end of five years, my permit was revoked.

"... I am an academic and I continued my work in the Faculty of Science. Therefore there was no reason whatsoever to deprive me of my permit after five years.

/...

"The reason given for revoking my permit was a dispute which had arisen between the university authorities and the Israeli authorities, a dispute over finance. The Islamic University is supported financially by the joint committee in Amman, but the Israelis wanted those funds to be put into an Israeli bank so that they could benefit from the interest. Sometimes our salaries were withheld for three or four months, sometimes as long as seven months: teachers were left without pay." (A/AC.145/RT.453)

45. Mr. Mahmud De'is, a teacher, stated:

"... There is the imprisonment of students. If a student is imprisoned he is prevented from returning to any school in which he was previously enrolled. So he is deprived of getting an education. Appointment and assignment of teachers is completely controlled by the officer in charge of education and training. He has the final word on the appointment or dismissal of a teacher and this directly affects the education procedure: the students will pass three or four months with one teacher, then he is kicked out of school or removed to another place, and a new teacher is brought in." (A/AC.145/RT.447)

46. A student from Al-Najah University, Mr. Geiussy, mentioned the problems created by the promulgation of Military Order No. 854:

"As a matter of policy the Israeli authorities interfere with the activities in universities and schools, whether the students are activists or not. It was part of the policy of the Israeli authorities. For instance, an Israeli officer is in charge of the education programme, and this applies to primary and secondary schools as well as to universities and other high schools. There is a very well known law issued by the Israeli authorities, Military Order 854, which allows the authorities to interfere in the internal life of universities and other educational institutions, either through changing the curriculum or through dismissing professors. This even applies to students. While I was in prison, I was prevented from continuing my university studies. There is plenty of evidence to illustrate this. The university was closed more than once, and many obstacles were put in the way of students entering the university. Students were told to present their university cards in order to be admitted. This shows how much the Israeli authorities want to interfere in the life of students. There is also the demographic aspect: in Al Najah university, for instance, they need new buildings, but the authorities forbid any new construction so that the university cannot expand." (A/AC.145/RT.445)

47. Another Al Najah University student, Mr. Amin Ramwi Makbul, described the treatment of Palestinian students by the Israeli authorities:

"... Each student was asked to show his or her university card as well as his Israeli identity card. Of course, this took a great deal of time because there were some 4,000 students and teachers, and this delayed classes. We refused to do this, and we would gather before the barriers set up by the Israeli forces and we would try to get into the university despite these barriers. Shots were fired at the students, and tear gas was thrown to disperse the students who were then forced to go back home. Among the events that I personally witnessed were attempts by the forces to enter the university, and this happened on several occasions." (A/AC.145/RT.448)

48. Another witness, Mr. Mahmud Fennoun, referring to the period when he was a student at Bethlehem University, gave a detailed and elaborated description of life at that University. Hereunder are excerpts from his testimony:

"The students' movement at Bethlehem University fully understands the laws of the occupying authorities. The movement is aware of what human rights are about. It is aware of the need for legal expression of our views, and we do not overstep the bounds; we don't provoke the occupying authorities except in very rare cases when they started by provoking us. As for the rest of our activities, they are totally normal cultural, academic, humanitarian activities and one can on no account say that we provoked the authorities. We are of the view that the occupying authorities are holding the sword of Damocles over our heads, and at any time they can close the university and prevent us from going to classes. They sometimes declare the university to be 'a military area', access to which is restricted to just a few people. When they want to prevent a student from continuing his studies at the university, they take a decision to this effect, saying that the university is a 'military region' and that the student in question may not enter the university. When they want to prevent students from studying without closing down the university, a military officer decides that the area of the university is a military area and is therefore closed. When the university administration tries to find out whether or not the university is closed, they are told, 'No, the university is not closed, everything is quite normal, the university is open'. But it is clear that, since it is a military area, it is closed and no one may enter. The situation may last for hours, sometimes for days on end. Sometimes they threaten the university administration and demand that the administration itself close down the university, the underlying threat being that if you do not close the university we shall force our way in.

"... Once, when we had a book exhibition, they came in the night before the opening of the exhibition and confiscated many books. They couldn't even say that these were banned books. Those who came in and did this were ordinary soldiers, and many of them did not know Arabic, so how could they seize a book and say that it was banned when they didn't even know what it was about? They confiscated paintings, even when the paintings were imported from Europe and had no special link with the Palestinian cause. They confiscated religious books, cultural works, but there were no specific criteria governing the confiscation. They did, however, have serious repercussions for the cultural level of the students. This destroyed our exhibition, quite apart from the fact that they entered the university by force: they had no right to do so, they had no permission to do so. They came in during the night, they destroyed the exhibits: we had costumes, books, they destroyed these and they prevented students from meeting in the daytime." (A/AC.145/RT.450)

49. Dr. Mohamed Saker, former President of the Islamic University of Gaza, provided a very detailed account of the evolution of that University. He also submitted a number of documents to the Special Committee, the contents of which have been reflected in section IV.C above. In the course of his testimony, Dr. Saker stressed that in spite of his continuous efforts to keep the atmosphere at the university strictly academic and remote from political agitation and disturbances, he could not prevent the occupying authorities from interfering:

"... We built almost 40 classrooms, but before we had finished the classrooms, the Israeli authorities summoned me and said, 'What are you doing?'. I said, 'What am I doing?'. He said, 'You are putting up buildings without permission'. I said, 'We don't need permission, because this is the land of the University and, secondly, these are not permanent buildings and, thirdly, any university, within its compass, can do anything within reasonable limits'. He said, 'No, you should stop'. Well, we stopped. I told them, 'I am doing that because we shall have full-day education next semester'. They said, 'No, we will not allow you to have such a type of education'. I shook myself, because after all the hours and hours I had spent with them, I thought they had agreed. I told them, 'This is in your interests because you can control the students, because instead of being in the street all morning and only coming to us in the afternoon, they will be with us from 8 o'clock in the morning'. They said, 'No, we shall not permit you to have full-day education'. Well, I realized at that time that the Israelis are not interested in real education, they would like us to have only mediocre universities without real education." (A/AC.145/RT.453)

50. Dr. Saker also referred to the unjustified nature of the expulsion measures he and a number of his colleagues had been the victims of:

"... There was a recent statement by Mr. Itzhak Rabin, the Defence Minister, a few days ago - I can give it to you - when one Knesset member asked why the President of the Islamic University of Gaza was not permitted to come back, because he is wanted by his own people and by his own University. Mr. Rabin replied that when Mr. Saker was President of the University a lot of agitation took place, and demonstrations - which is false, actually. That happened before I went there. This is Israeli policy, destroying our institutions. I play the game differently, actually. 'And since he went out the University has been so quiet and peaceful. We shall not permit him to come back because the Israeli authorities are very much afraid that there will be agitation and demonstrations.' Unfortunately, the whole Government is afraid of having one single academic go to Gaza. If I have done anything wrong, let them put me in jail. They are not being serious about this.

"Last year they expelled 35 staff members from the University. We sent to various institutions, to UNESCO, and so on, for help, and finally Israel permitted most of them to go back. There are still eight people outside." (A/AC.145/RT.453)

/...

51. In this connection, Dr. Saker submitted copies of documents and correspondence relating to this collective expulsion to the Special Committee at its 453rd meeting, held in Amman on 1 May 1986.

(c) Information on settlers' activities affecting the civilian population

52. Some witnesses drew the attention of the Special Committee to the harassment of civilians by the Israeli settlers. Mr. Ali Abu Hilal said in the course of his testimony:

"... We have noted the particularly rigid attitude in some settlers, in some Israelis, such as the Kach movement of Kahane. He has pressed the Israeli Government to expel the Arab people from Israel and he has concentrated especially on two villages in Galilee, Taibeh and Tera, and he demands that the Israeli Government adopt a sort of racist, fascist, anti-Arab trend in Israel, in its actions against the Arab populations."
(A/AC.145/RT.446)

53. Another witness, Mr. Mahmud Fennoun, referred to the situation in the village he lived in, Al Nahalin:

"... From the outset the settlers have been provoking the inhabitants and now the village is like a virtual prison. The settlers, of course, have the support of the occupation authorities. They are accompanied by soldiers when they go to uproot the trees. They take out olive trees, poplars, all trees that are cultivated. They destroy the crops. When they find children they beat them, and chase them. If they come across shepherds they beat them as well and prevent them from taking care of their animals in peace. These are daily harassments, and all the complaints addressed to the authorities and to the settlers themselves have remained futile." (A/AC.145/RT.450)

4. Treatment of detainees

(see paras. 345-377 below)

54. In the course of its hearings the Special Committee heard extensive evidence on the treatment of detainees in the occupied territories. Many witnesses who had been imprisoned for various periods, often exceeding 10 years, and had experienced severe conditions in several detention centres and prisons (such as Sarafand, Tulkarm, Ramla, Jenin, Jericho, Kfar Yona, Ashkelon, Beer Sheba, Jneid, Nablus, Al Fara'a etc.) informed the Special Committee about the harsh treatment they had been subjected to.

55. Most testimonies denounced the overcrowding of cells, the various forms of ill-treatment such as physical violence, psychological intimidation and humiliating practices, solitary confinement etc. The lack of sanitary facilities and adequate health services, malnutrition and inadequate clothing were also mentioned and illustrated in the course of the hearings.

56. One particular aspect mentioned by some witnesses was the problem of detained minors. Mr. Bader Darwish Kawasme, a released prisoner, described in the course of his testimony, the humiliating practices and sexual harassment that 14- and 15-year-old detainees were submitted to in Al Fara'a prison.

57. The testimonies also referred to the withholding of educational, cultural and information material, to the censorship of private correspondence, to the denial of the right to receive visits and to the deprivation of the right to practice religion in common.

58. According to a number of witnesses such conditions of detention often gave rise to hunger strikes aiming at the amelioration of the treatment of prisoners. It was stated in this connection that the attempts at forced feeding of hunger strikers had in some cases led to the death of prisoners.

59. These testimonies may be found in documents A/AC.145/RT.441 (Mr. Wilhelm Joseph and Mr. Mike Smith); A/AC.145/RT.445 (Mr. Adnan Ghanem, Mr. Mohammed Ahmad Beyrut and Mr. Bahget Mustafa Geiussy); A/AC.145/RT.446 (Mr. Azmi As Shweibi, Mr. Walid Nazzal and Mr. Mohammed Mahmud Hanini); A/AC.145/RT.447 (Mr. Ahid Daoud Radad and Mr. Adnan Mohammed Bliebi); A/AC.145/RT.448 (Mr. Hassan Mohammed Al-Ammoudi, Mr. Jallah Hafez Aziza and Mr. Amin Ramzi Makbul); A/AC.145/RT.449 (a lawyer practicing in the occupied territories); A/AC.145/RT.449/Add.1 (Mr. Mahmud Amdan Altame); A/AC.145/RT.450 (Mr. Mahmud Ibrahim Fennoun and Mr. Badar Darwish Kawasme) and A/AC.145/RT.452 (Mr. Zaki Mohammad Abu Steita).

B. Information gathered from the Israeli and the Arab language press published in the occupied territories

1. General situation

(see paras. 2 to 4 above, and sect. IV.C, paras 37-39 above)

(a) General policy developments

60. On 11 August 1985, Mr. Shmuel Goren, the Co-ordinator of Activities in the territories, said in a radio interview that Israeli civilians entering densely populated Arab localities should be advised to be armed and accompanied. Mr. Goren, who was interviewed after a Kiryat-Arba settler had been stabbed in the old market in Hebron, said that the authorities could not prevent attacks on Jews who walked alone and unarmed through places such as the old market in Hebron. An aide to Goren later reportedly said that people going to an Arab market or travelling a remote road in the Gaza Strip at night must take some "minimal" precautions. "We are not saying everyone should take an armoured vehicle along but something should be done. Personal security in the centre of Hebron is different from Tel Aviv," he said. (Jerusalem Post, 12 August 1985)

61. It was reported that on 31 August 1985 eight Israeli political activists were arrested during a demonstration in Ramallah by a group calling itself "Jews Against

Occupation". Reportedly, the group's demonstration was in protest against the recently revived "iron fist policy". One Arab bystander and three Israelis were wounded as soldiers broke up the demonstration. Gideon Spiro, a spokesman for the group reportedly stated that the demonstration was planned to protest the recent harsh Israeli measures against the Palestinian population of the occupied territories. These measures included the administrative detention of more than 40 Palestinians and planned deportation of three others. (Al-Fajr, 6 September 1985)

62. On 4 September 1985, the inner cabinet reportedly decided that the military government in the West Bank should be empowered to suppress any institutions or organizations seen as serving as agencies of PLO. It also agreed that roads in the West Bank should be widened to hamper petrol-bomb and stone throwing, wherever the security authorities found this measure to be essential. The inner cabinet rejected, by a vote of five to one, several operational proposals by the Industry Minister, Mr. Ariel Sharon, to stamp out terrorist activity in the territories. These proposals included the construction of a new road through the Casbah area of Old Hebron to facilitate movement between Kiryat Arba and the Hadassa building, a proposal to permit Jewish residence in all properties owned or purchased by Jews in Hebron, and a request to shorten and simplify deportation procedures. A security source later declared that "nothing will change in the methods and steps we use to combat terror in the areas as a result of the inner cabinet meeting. We shall continue our existing practice of administrative detentions and deportation wherever this is required and we shall maintain a heavy hand". (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 5 September 1985)

63. On 9 September 1985, it was reported that, as from the previous weekend new security arrangements were operative in the West Bank and the Gaza Strip, principally consisting of a stepped up presence of regular Israel Defence Forces (IDF) units in the area, sudden searches, combing of areas, setting up road blocks, checking of passing cars not only at road blocks and stepped up patrols in town centres. In the same context, a military source was quoted as saying that "instructions have been issued to prevent all demonstrations by Jews, Arabs, rightists or leftists. All measures will be taken to disperse any demonstration immediately - including the use of rubber bullets, tear gas and water hoses. The army will try to avoid using excessive force, but if there are signs it is losing control, it will use all measures against anyone who demonstrates". However, the army source maintained this was not an "iron-fist" policy because it did not call for collective punishment. Following instructions from the Defence Minister, Mr. Rabin, the troops who were deployed in the region were reportedly instructed to stop passers-by, demand their identification papers and search them. People were ordered to stand against walls as soldiers frisked them for knives, scissors and other objects which could be used for terrorist attacks. The troops were also instructed to be on the lookout for settler patrols. In that context, the Cabinet Secretary, Mr. Yosef Beilin, on 8 September 1985, declared that the settlers, who had been issued weapons by the appropriate authorities, were fully entitled to patrol their own localities and protect their settlements and to carry arms while travelling on the roads, but they must not try and usurp the functions of the security authorities in Arab localities. (See also paras. 319-344 below). (Jerusalem Post, Yediot Aharonot, 8 September 1985; Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, Yediot Aharonot, 9 September 1985)

64. On 11 September 1985, during a press conference in Jerusalem, the Israeli League of Human and Civil Rights urged for an immediate reversal of the recent government measures concerning administrative detention, deportation of Palestinians and curfews in the occupied territories. The League also condemned the encouragement given by the Israeli Government to settlers. Advocate Felicia Langer said that 70 Palestinians were presently detained under administrative orders without any charge filed against them except for "their being Palestinians ...". Mr. Jacob Shai, a member of "There is a limit" Movement, who was arrested three times for refusing to serve in Lebanon, said that the Movement would encourage its members to refuse to serve in the occupied territories. (Al-Tali'ah, 12 September 1985)

65. On 19 September 1985 it was reported that the Central Region Commander, Aluf (Major-General) Amnon Shahak had argued in a petition submitted to the High Court of Justice the previous day that "operative military reasons" outweighed other considerations for the establishment of a court of appeals to review decisions by the military courts in the West Bank. Aluf Shahak's statement, submitted by the State Attorney's office, came in advance of a hearing on 22 September 1985 on a petition by Jerusalem advocate Darwish Nasser, who won an interim injunction ordering the State to show cause why it should not establish an appeals instance in the military courts system in the territories. Under military regulations operative in the territories since 1967 only the officer commanding the area is entitled to review the decisions of the military courts. (Jerusalem Post, 19 September 1985)

66. On 2 October 1985, a senior defence source charged with maintaining security in the West Bank said that soldiers on duty in that region were "quicker on the trigger" recently, and that this had resulted in some innocent civilians being shot. He said that "this is what happens where people are nervous". Their instinct to shoot is "natural" and consequently more people were injured. The source said that the army investigated all incidents in which soldiers had opened fire. In all cases in which civilians were hurt the soldiers were found to have acted in accordance with standing orders. Many of the injured people were mentally ill and their behaviour had aroused the soldiers' suspicions. In some cases, however, soldiers fired into the air and at car wheels without justification. They were tried and punished, he said. (Jerusalem Post, 3 October 1985)

67. On 15 October 1985, a senior IDF officer told a group of journalists on tour in the Gaza Strip that since January 1985, 58 terrorist acts were carried out in the region. In the previous six weeks alone there were four attempted murders of Israeli civilians in Gaza. The senior officer revealed that, in addition to Fatah and Popular Front cells operating against Israel, groups of youths aged 14 to 18 whose nick-name was Shabiba, were engaged in what he described as "unplanned terrorist activity", using improvised material such as petrol bombs and improvised charges. Referring to allegations of ill treatment of Arab civilians by IDF soldiers, the officer said that no cases of irregularity had been found, and no one had come to complain about such cases. (Ha'aretz, 16 October 1985)

68. On 21 October 1985, speaking at a Knesset debate on current security problems, the Defense Minister, Mr. Rabin said that, in the framework of the preventive activities in the territories 88 alleged inciters had been detained under an administrative detention order and three others had been expelled abroad. Several newspapers were closed as well as one university, which was shut down temporarily. As a result of these activities no political figures had been invited to the end-of-year ceremony of one of the universities and no inciting speeches had been pronounced. The civil administration also barred the entrance to the region to students and lecturers from abroad known as inciters. Mr. Rabin said that since April 1984 the General Security Service had uncovered over 300 terrorist cells responsible for over 350 various acts. The Defense Minister said that in the struggle against such activities the use of "environmental punishment" should be avoided, since most of the population was not involved in terrorist activity, and such punishment could increase the number of those engaged in such activity. (Ha'aretz, 22 October 1985)

69. The Islamic Trust Authorities (Waqf) in the West Bank reportedly ordered various mosque Imams (preachers) to stop mixing politics and religion. The order No. 8-5-8/8172 called on preachers to "not politicize religion" and to discuss only religious topics in their Friday sermons. The order directly followed a similar statement by the Jordanian Waqf made about 10 days earlier. (Al-Fajr, 29 November 1985)

70. On 12 January 1986, the Co-ordinator of Activities in the territories, Shmuel Goren, said in a press conference in Tel Aviv that since the lifting of restrictions on the introduction of funds from the Arab States over the bridges with Jordan, more than $1 million a day was being brought in. The authorities were reportedly encouraging the municipalities, the universities and other organizations to bring in funds. Goren pointed out that negotiations were under way to expand the telephone network in the West Bank. Restrictions on direct dialling and telex communications had been almost eliminated and contact could be made from the territories with anywhere in the world. Some $3 million had been invested to provide electricity to Nablus - some two thirds of which was sold by the Israel Electric Corporation. Some 30 villages in the surrounding area had asked to be linked up with the supply. Referring to the security situation in the territories, Goren said that following an increase in the use of home-made bombs, pharmacists in the Gaza Strip had recently been assembled by security authorities and warned to be careful about selling materials that could be used to make explosives. Goren added that, following the reintroduction of measures such as administrative arrests (96 persons were being held at present) and expulsions (four persons had been expelled by the time the report was published), there had been far fewer disturbances. (Jerusalem Post, 13 January 1986)

71. On 20 January 1986, a group of Israeli Knesset members met in an East Jerusalem hotel with a group of some 20 West Bank public figures, some of whom described as "close to the PLO". Among the Palestinian participants were the former mayor of Hebron, Dr. Hamzi el-Natshe, Professor Medin Ruhana of the Al-Najah university, Redwan Abu-Ayesh, chairman of the Arab Journalists' Association in the West Bank, the lawyer Jonathan Kuttub from Ramallah, Dr. Ahmed Taibeh, Ibrahim el-Karim, director of the Palestinian Press Bureau and Professor Maudeh, one of the leading West Bank intellectuals. Lawyer Jonathan Kuttub said at the meeting that since August 1985 the IDF carried out 130 arrests in the territories, expelled 40 residents to Jordan and demolished 30 houses. According to Kuttab, since August 1985 the attitude of the security authorities toward the West Bank residents has "worsened radically". Knesset member Shulamit Aloni promised to look into the matter. According to the press report the heads of the Palestinian group proposed to the Israeli Knesset members to arrange a meeting between them and the PLO chairman Yasser Arafat, but the Knesset members declined the offer, saying the time was not yet ripe for such a meeting. (Ha'aretz, 22 January 1986)

72. On 29 January 1986, Meron Benvenisti, director of the West Bank Data Base project, presented a report on West Bank developments in 1984-1985. Benvenisti noted that the rate of population growth in the territories had increased in the period under consideration because of a drop in net emigration to about 3,000 people annually, combined with a high and growing rate of natural increase. By the end of 1984 the population of the West Bank was 787,000 - 32 per cent more than in 1967. In the economic sector, Benvenisti noted a continuing decline in Palestinian agriculture and a stagnation in industry. Of a work force of 154,000 in 1984, about one third were working in Israel and the remainder in the West Bank or abroad. Dependence on sources of income outside the territories had significantly increased. By April 1985, Israeli authorities had gained control over 52 per cent of the land in the West Bank. Of this, 1.7 million dunams, or 41 per cent of the total, were under direct Israeli control, while the use of another 11 per cent, or about 500,000 dunams was "severely restricted". The pace of Jewish settlement had slowed down. In 1984-1985 the number of settlers had grown by 9,400, to reach 52,000 - about 6,000 less than the previous year's growth. Benvenisti pointed out that the Israeli occupation had been economically beneficial to Israel, providing a protected market for local goods and a pool of cheap labour. In addition, Israel collected some $50 million annually in value-added tax (VAT) on Israeli goods sold in the territories and from the duties paid on imports passing through Israeli ports. Government enforcement policies in the territories were harsher under the national unity government. Strong-arm tactics, such as deportation, the demolition and sealing of houses and administrative detention, had proliferated. According to Benvenisti, the national unity government had no clear-cut ideology towards the West Bank, and the continuation of past trends manifested "the bankruptcy of pragmatism". (Al-Tali'ah, 9 January 1986, Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 30 January 1986) Referring to this report, the New York Times was reported as stating that the revenues from taxes levied on Arab residents - about $US 700 million - exceeded what the Israeli authorities spend in the West Bank and the Gaza Strip.

73. It was reported that the Israeli Defence Minister, Mr. Yitzhak Rabin described the town restriction procedures as limiting activities of those who were dangerous persons to the security. He reportedly claimed that the Israeli security authorities used these measures against those activists when they escalated their activities to a level that the authorities could not accept. According to Mr. Rabin, 23 persons from the West Bank, six from the Gaza Strip and 42 from the Galilee and the Triangle had been subjected to town restriction orders since 10 February 1986. (Al-Fajr, 28 February 1986)

74. On 5 March 1986, the Knesset defeated a bill proposed by Knesset member Geula Cohen (Tehiya) to apply Israeli law to "Judea, Samaria and the Gaza District". Only four coalition members, of the Likud and religious parties, joined the Tehiya party in voting for the bill. The Prime Minister, Mr. Peres said before the vote that Israel had three basic goals: to maintain a sovereign, democratic state with a Jewish character, not to subject Israel's territorial achievement to a demographic danger; and to strive for peace. The Israeli policy rested on acceptance of the Camp David accords, Mr. Peres said. (Jerusalem Post, 6 March 1986)

75. On 13 March 1986, a military source, briefing reporters in Nablus, said that under a policy initiated by the Central Region Commander, Ehud Barak, IDF troops were keeping a low profile during patrols of West Bank towns, and that soldiers had been ordered to avoid interfering in events in the cities unless there was a threat to security and public order. The source held the briefing at the wake of incidents in which two residents of the Balata refugee camp were killed by IDF soldiers. (See table of incidents following para. 453 below.) The source said these incidents did not signal a toughening of security policy in the territories, and denied Palestinian claims that the IDF had become "trigger-happy". (Jerusalem Post, 14 March 1986)

76. On 26 March 1986, military sources revealed that over the past year there had been an increase by 80 per cent in the number of "serious acts of terrorism" in Samaria, including shooting, throwing of petrol bombs, planting of explosive charges and stabbing. In the Judea and Binyamin area there had been an 11 per cent drop in the number of such incidents. In the West Bank as a whole there had been an increase of over 30 per cent in the number of serious terrorist acts. With regard to other incidents affecting public order, such as stone throwing, waving Palestinian flags, tyre burning and slogan painting, there had been a 34 per cent drop over the past year in the West Bank. (Ha'aretz, 27 March 1986)

77. On 2 April 1986, Shmuel Goren, the Co-ordinator of Activities in the territories said that Israel would approve offers by private and government-supported United States agencies to fund $600 million in projects in the West Bank over the next few years. The projects would reportedly include vocational training programmes, construction of factories and housing, health programmes and water and sewerage development schemes. Mr. Goren, who recently visited the United States to discuss the proposed aid, said Israel would only accept offers that did not conflict with the country's economic and security interests and that did not go to industries that competed with Israeli manufacturers. Goren stressed that the dozens of projects under discussion with the United States agencies did not form an overall economic development plan for the territories. (Jerusalem Post, 3 April 1986)

78. On 8 April 1986, the Prime Minister, Mr. Shimon Peres, addressing the Labour Party's national convention in Jerusalem, affirmed that Israel recognized the Palestinians "as a nation" and said Israel was ready for both interim arrangements and a permanent settlement in the West Bank. Addressing the residents of the territories, Mr. Peres said that Israel would make an effort to create interim conditions for an interim arrangement, and he added that it would be prepared to grant them additional self-rule. He suggested that the Gaza Strip could be granted such a self-rule as a first step. On 13 April 1986, it was reported that Mr. Peres had elaborated a secret plan under which a joint Egyptian-Israeli "condominium" would be set up in the Gaza Strip and would be responsible for defence and police activities in the region. The plan was reportedly discussed in Washington between Mr. Peres and United States Secretary of State George Shultz. The latter reportedly approved the plan. On 21 April 1986, Defense Minister, Mr. Yitzhak Rabin met with Palestinian civil servants in the Gaza Strip and told them that Israel's intention was to turn over more positions and administrative functions to officials from Gaza, within the framework of the military government and the civil administration. Mr. Rabin rejected the idea of autonomy in the Gaza Strip. (Ha'aretz, 13 April 1986; Jerusalem Post, 9 and 22 April 1986)

79. On 14 April 1986, Israeli and Palestinian representatives met in Hebron to discuss mutual recognition between the two peoples and self-determination for the Palestinians. Some 200 participants attended the meeting, including Knesset members from Labour and left-wing parties, as well as Palestinian public figures such as Hanna Seniora, the editor of Al-Fajr, who called for mutual Palestinian-Israeli recognition on the basis of equal rights, and Mustafa Abdel Nabi Natshe, the deposed mayor of Hebron. The meeting coincided with the convention of the Tehiya party, held in Kiryat Arba. The meeting was approved by Mr. Rabin. It was also reported from the Defence Minister's office that the policy concerning the holding of meetings and rallies in the territories was being changed into a more liberal one, and that decision on holding meetings would be taken on the merits of each request. (Ha'aretz, 10, 15 April 1986; Jerusalem Post, 13, 15 April 1986)

80. On 22 April 1986, it was reported that the Defence Minister Mr. Rabin had banned demonstrations and meetings planned by Gush Emunim and Peace Now in Hebron during the Passover holiday. Gush Emunim was refused its request to hold a ceremony in Hebron marking the eighteenth anniversary of Jewish settlement in the town. Peace Now had planned a tour of the town on the same day to counter the Gush Emunim ceremony. On 25 April 1986, it was reported that after meeting with six Gush Emunim and Kiryat Arba leaders, including rabbi Moshe Levinger and freed Jewish terrorist Ze'ev Friedman, Mr. Rabin finally approved the settlers' plan to hold what was described as "spring tours" around Hebron and a fund-raising dinner at the Jewish restaurant outside the Patriarch's cave with the Vice Premier Mr. Shamir as guest speaker. Another rally planned in front of the cave was banned. On 27 April 1986, it was reported that stepped up military, border guards and regular police units were being deployed in Hebron to protect the thousands of people expected to take part in the "tours" organized by Gush Emunim. (See also paras. 319-324 below). (Ha'aretz, 25 April 1986; Jerusalem Post, 22, 25 and 27 April 1986)

81. On 22 April 1986, senior military sources at the IDF Central Command said they believed at least four armed terror groups were operating in the West Bank and the Jerusalem area. The sources said that since January there had been a drop in the number of attacks in the territories, as compared with the four previous months. There were 67 incidents of shooting, planting explosive devices and throwing hand grenades and petrol bombs, as against 104 from August to December 1985. There were also fewer stone throwing incidents, probably due to the influence of the Al-Faar'a detention camp, through which over 2,000 youths reportedly passed in 1985. At present, the camp inmates included 33 students of the Hebron polytechnic school who attacked the security authorities and raised a Palestinian flag earlier in the week. According to the sources, most of the serious attacks in the territories were perpetrated by followers of George Habash, Nayef Hawatmeh and, to a lesser extent, Ahmed Jibril. (Jerusalem Post, 23 April 1986)

82. On 25 and 26 May 1986, a new report on the situation in the Gaza Strip was published by the West Bank Data Base Project, headed by Meron Benvenisti. According to the report, the population of the Gaza Strip, which at present stood at 525,000 (40 per cent of all the Palestinian population of the territories), could reach 850,000 to 900,000 by the end of the century. A third of the Gaza Strip lands had already been declared state land or confiscated for Jewish settlement. Health conditions in the region were described as catastrophic. According to the report Gaza workers employed in Israel (some 45,000 or 50 per cent of the local working population) paid, in addition to local taxes, income tax and national insurance in Israel. The area's economy was becoming increasingly dependent on Israel, but at the same time its per capita gross national product remained one fifth of Israel's. Schools in the Gaza Strip were overcrowded and were deteriorating physically. There were 18 Jewish settlements in the Gaza Strip, with a population of 2,150, occupying 22,250 dunams of land. The location of most of the settlements in the south of the Strip, near its water sources, effectively gave the settlements a large degree of control over Gaza's water resources. In some cases the settlements physically impinged on Arab towns and refugee camps, blocking their expansion. The town of Khan Yunis was "virtually enveloped" by settlements. On 27 May 1986, the civil administration convened a press conference in Gaza with the participation of Palestinian and Israeli doctors in an attempt to refute some of the criticism contained in the report. On 1 June 1986, the deputy co-ordinator of activities in the territories A/M Colonel Freddy Zach commented on the report by Dr. Meron Benvenisti's West Bank Data Base Project. Speaking on Israel Radio A/M Zach denied that a third of the Gaza Strip had been declared state land and was allocated solely to Jewish settlement. He said state land had also been used to settle 10,000 refugee families outside the camps, as well as for industrial and municipal projects. Unemployment in Gaza was only 2 per cent and new industrial parks had been created in the region, A/M Zach said. He also denied that $3.5 million a year in tax revenues from the Gaza Strip exceeded the government budget for services there. Tax revenues accounted for only two thirds of what the Government spent in the region, he said, while the remaining third came from Israeli taxpayers. In a related development it was reported on 5 June 1986 that a branch of the Palestine Bank would be opened shortly in Khan Yunis. (Ha'aretz, 25 May, 1 and 5 June 1986; Jerusalem Post, 25, 26, 28 May 1986 and 1 June 1986; Ma'ariv, 28 May 1986)

83. On 10 June 1986 a spokesperson for the Association for Civil Rights in Israel, Professor Ruth Gavison, said that in the past year there had been a "drastic increase" in what she described as administrative punishments. She noted that at present there were about 50 people in administrative detention, compared with 126

earlier in the year. Other administrative punishments included expulsions and demolition and sealing up of houses of terror suspects. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 11 June 1986)

84. On 27 June 1986, it was reported that, according to the East Jerusalem weekly Al Biadar as-Siassi, senior officials from Israel, Egypt, Jordan and the United States were holding contacts aimed at returning the Gaza Strip to Egyptian administration in accordance with a plan elaborated by, Rashad A-Shawa, former mayor of Gaza. According to the report the Israeli officials expressed willingness to withdraw from Gaza and from large areas of the West Bank, in the framework of an overall political settlement. As a first step Israel reportedly proposed to A-Shawa the establishment of self-rule in the Gaza Strip. In another development, it was reported that Defence Minister Rabin had proposed to Jordan to hold elections to the Jordanian parliament in the West Bank. (Ha'aretz, 27 June 1986)

(b) Policy of returning municipalities to local leaders

(i) General policy

85. On 25 October 1985, it was reported that immediately upon his return to Israel Prime Minister Mr. Peres would undertake a series of unilateral steps to improve the quality of life of the inhabitants of the West Bank and the Gaza Strip. The first and most significant step would reportedly be the appointment of Palestinian mayors to towns such as Nablus and Hebron, where Israeli officials at present hold the post of mayor. It was reported on 27 October 1985 that according to officials dealing with that subject, it was possible to introduce changes in the administrative structure of the West Bank "within weeks", should the political echelon so instruct, with a view to increasing Jordan's influence in the region. According to the officials "the infrastructure has already been prepared over the past year, far from the spot-lights, towards any change in the structure of the civilian and municipal administration in the West Bank". (Yediot Aharonot, 25 October 1985; Ha'aretz, 27 October 1985)

86. On 14 November 1985, it was reported that the head of the West Bank civil administration, A/M (Colonel) Efraim Sneh, had declared at a press conference the previous day: "Our policy has always been to return the municipalities to local leaders. This is the first time that a serious proposal is being made by the Chamber of Commerce of Nablus and its president, Zafer el-Masri. The two submitted their offer last week. I met with Zafer el-Masri yesterday and I expect that a decision will be taken shortly". He added that similar activity was also taking place regarding Ramallah, El-Bireh and Hebron, but that no proposal, similar to el-Masri's in Nablus, had been submitted to the civil administration. On 26 November 1985, A/M Sneh convened el-Masri and the members of the Chamber of Commerce to his office and told them that the Israeli authorities had granted their request to manage the administration of the Nablus municipality. A/M Sneh later told reporters that the appointment had no political significance, but he acknowledged that the decision had been taken with the approval of the Prime Minister and the Defence Minister. (Ha'aretz, 13, 14, 17 and 27 November 1985; Jerusalem Post, 13 November 1985; Ma'ariv, 27 November 1985)

87. On 10 February 1986, the Prime Minister Mr. Shimon Peres, speaking before the Knesset Foreign Affairs and Defence Committee, said he was not proposing to the Palestinians in the territories a unilateral autonomy, since such a plan required a Jordanian-Palestinian support, but that he was in favour of an "expanded self rule". He said Arab mayors should be appointed in Ramallah, El-Bireh and Hebron; local residents should run the various civilian departments and a vast development plan should be undertaken. He added that he was not in favour of removing the IDF from the territories. On 13 February 1986, Mr. Peres, speaking on the Israeli Television Arabic programme, further elaborated his plan for "home rule" to the territories. He said Israel was ready to increase the powers given to the Arab mayors in the municipal field. Israel was also ready to let local residents be in charge of education, agriculture and trade, and it approved of creating more industrial plants in the territories, stepping up investment, both from inside and outside the territories, and developing water resources. Israel reduced the number of banned books and gave more freedom of expression to universities and newspapers, Mr. Peres said. (Ha'aretz, 11 and 14 February 1986)

88. On 25 February 1986, the Defence Minister Mr. Yitzhak Rabin met with 30 public figures from the West Bank and explained to them that the Israeli policy did not aim at imposing on them unilateral autonomy, but at transferring powers and tasks to local residents without prejudicing the overall framework of the Israeli administration. (Ha'aretz, 26 February 1986)

89. On 4 March 1986, it was reported that officials in the Prime Minister's office were elaborating a detailed plan for the application of self rule in the Gaza Strip. Under that plan it was reportedly proposed to reduce to minimum the number of Israeli officials running the civil administration of the region; to re-appoint Rashad A-Shawa as mayor of Gaza and one of his sons as his deputy and to approve the construction of a citrus-processing plant. (Ha'aretz, 4 March 1986)

90. On 5 March 1986, the Defence Minister Mr. Yitzhak Rabin, speaking on Israel radio, said that if the Arabs in the territories did not take responsibility for their municipal affairs, then the civil administration would continue running the municipalities. (Jerusalem Post, 6 March 1986)

91. On 3 August 1986, the Prime Minister Mr. Shimon Peres met at his office with 25 mayors and businessmen from the territories. The Palestinian participants were described as "moderates". But Israel did not intend to impose its proposals for the territories, Mr. Peres said. He also promised that in the future all the taxes levied in the West Bank and the Gaza Strip would be invested only in those areas. (Jerusalem Post, Ma'ariv, 4 August 1986)

The Defence Minister Mr. Yitzhak Rabin approved the appointment of Hafez Tukan, who was el-Masri's deputy, as new mayor of Nablus. (See also table of incidents following para. 453 below). A group of persons who had asked to form a new municipal council in El-Bireh, including Walid and Sabir Suleiman a-Tawil, also announced that they were withdrawing their list so as not to widen the divisions of

194. On 29 August 1985, the Supreme Court ruled that Alan Goodman, who in April 1982 had killed one Arab guard and wounded two others on the Temple Mount, would serve his jail terms concurrently, thereby reducing by up to 20 years the time he would spend in prison. Goodman was convicted in 1983 of murder and four counts of attempted murder and sentenced to life imprisonment and two 20-year jail terms, only one of them to run concurrently with the life term. Goodman appealed against his conviction and the severity of the sentence. The court rejected the appeal against the conviction but decided that all the terms would run concurrently since the crimes he committed were not isolated but the result of a continuous action. (Jerusalem Post, 30 August 1985)

On 11 October 1985, it was reported that Harnoi had been sentenced to 10 years imprisonment and a five-month suspended sentence, and Pinhas Mahrabi was sentenced to five months imprisonment. On 13 October 1985, it was reported that Harnoi had been set free on 11 October 1985 for a month-long leave to prepare his son for his Bar Mitzva (age of 13 - when Jewish boys assume religious obligations). It was alleged that following the killing of an IDF soldier in the Kasbah area, in September 1985, IDF soldiers ill treated the civilian population of the area. The allegations led to an inquiry by the Investigating Military Police, which had completed the inquiry file and handed it to the judge-advocate of the Central Region Command. The latter ruled that a disciplinary trial be held against the military personnel involved in the alleged ill treatment incidents. (Ma'ariv, 24 March 1986)

The affair of the killing of the two hijackers in the Gaza Strip in April 1984 and its aftermath

198. On 14 April 1984, IDF forces seized control of a civilian bus that had been hijacked by four Arabs. Two of the hijackers were killed in the course of the operation. The other two were taken away from the bus alive. It was later reported that they had died.

On 26 April, the Defence Minister Mr. Moshe Arens appointed a commission of inquiry headed by Aluf (Major General) (reserve) Meir Zorea to investigate the affair.

On 28 May, the Commission determined that the two hijackers who had been taken away from the bus alive died as a result of fractures of the skull caused by beating. It recommended that a further investigation be carried out.

On 15 June, the Attorney-General appointed a commission of inquiry headed by State Attorney Yona Blattman. In August 1985, the Blattman commission reached the conclusion that no instruction had been given to kill the two hijackers. The commission determined that five General Security Service (GSS) men, three border guards and two soldiers had resorted to violence against the two hijackers and that T/A (Brigadier General) Yitzhak Mordekhai, Chief Infantry and Paratroop Officer, had beaten the two hijackers with his pistol butt after they had been captured. The Judge Advocate General decided to put T/A Mordekhai on trial.

On 18 August 1985, Aluf (Major General) (reserve) Haim Nadel acquitted T/A Mordekhai and determined that when he had handed the two hijackers to the GSS they were still alive. Three GSS agents who also stood trial on charges stemming from the same incident were also acquitted.

In December 1985, three senior GSS officials, Reuven Hazak, Rafi Malka and Peleg Raddai, protested to the head of the GSS against what they claimed was "perversion of the inquiry". They approached the Prime Minister Mr. Peres but he dismissed their allegations as an attempt to get rid of the head of the GSS and have him replaced by Hazak. After the three approached the Prime Minister they were discharged from the service and then decided to appeal to the Attorney General Yitzhak Zamir.

On 18 May 1986, it was reported that senior ministers had instructed Mr. Zamir to stop the investigation against a senior official.

On 25 May, the United States television network ABC uncovered the identity of the senior official: the head of the GSS Avraham Shalom. According to the report he was suspected of lying to the commission of inquiry and inducing other witnesses to perjury.

On 28 May, the Attorney General demanded that Avraham Shalom be suspended as head of the GSS during the course of the investigation.

On 1 June, it was reported that Mr. Zamir, who had announced his intention to resign four months earlier, had been replaced as Attorney General by Tel Aviv district court judge Yosef Harish. The new Attorney General announced he would have to study the case before taking any decision.

On 25 June, it was announced that Avraham Shalom and three GSS officials involved in the case had asked for and were granted pardon by the president of the State Haim Herzog. Avraham Shalom resigned as head of the GSS.

3. Treatment of civilians, including fundamental freedoms

(see paras. 11-53 above and sect. IV.C, paras. 43-76 above)

(a) General developments

(i) Harassment of civilians

199. On 29 July 1985, two Arab youths from the town of Toubas, near Jenin, were found dead and charred remnants of their bodies scattered near the settlement of Elon Moreh in the Nablus region. (Al-Fajr, 2 August 1985)

200. It was reported that the army reserve units on duty in Ramallah had harassed Palestinian children and destroyed their kites claiming that the kites exhibited the four colours of the Palestinian flag. The soldiers also stopped several passers-by in the downtown area and forced them to wipe off political graffiti. (Al-Fajr, 30 August 1985)

201. On 26 August 1985, Israeli soldiers reportedly shot and wounded a Qalqilya resident after he walked away from soldiers who were harassing him. (Al-Fajr, 30 August 1985)

202. In a press conference held on 1 September 1985 at Soroka Hospital in Beer Sheba, Dr. Yair Shapira, the hospital director, said that local Jewish youths from Dalet neighbourhood attacked a group of Arab male nurses and a doctor near their dormitories in the hospital vicinity the night of 30 August 1985. Some of the employees were injured. (Al-Fajr, 6 September 1985)

203. The West Bank Military Commander reportedly ordered the closure of six shops in Jenin for three days after a stone throwing incident against a government office. Part of the road was also closed until the evening. In the same context 45 shops were allegedly sealed off with wax in the old "Iskafia Market" in Hebron after the incident concerning the house occupied at al-Qasaba district by Israeli settlers. The 45 shops reportedly provide income for 450 people. (Al-Tali'ah, 19 September 1985; Al-Fajr, 20 September 1985)

204. On 19 September 1985, it was reported that Gaza Strip residents had been complaining over the past few days against what they alleged was "harsh and unbearable" conduct by IDF soldiers in Gaza. Allegations regarding harassment of civilians by regular IDF soldiers included various forms of humiliation forced by the soldiers on the civilians under the pretext of checking ID cards. Ramallah residents also alleged that regular IDF soldiers were harassing and ill treating the local population: persons were being forced to stand against a wall with their arms raised above their head for a long time, during security checks. West Bank residents also alleged that investigators' attitude following arrest had become much harsher and they often resorted to intimidation, and sometimes to violence. Security forces were reported to have reacted to these allegations, which had been registered over the preceding fortnight. (Ha'aretz, 19 September 1985)

205. On 20 September 1985, it was reported that the Investigating Military Police had set up a special investigating team, as of 19 September 1985, to look into dozens of complaints by residents of Hebron alleging ill-treatment and harassment by soldiers over the past few days. Dozens of complaints about violent and harsh treatment by soldiers, towards women, elderly people and youths - mostly alleging beating - reached the police and the civil administration. (Ha'aretz, 20 September 1985)

206. On 22 September 1985, it was reported that seven soldiers had been dismissed from an IDF company commanders course after it appeared they had ill-treated Gaza residents. In a related development it was reported that Advocate Felicia Langer had filed a complaint with the head of the West Bank civil administration about the "shameful conduct by IDF soldiers against local residents". On 26 September 1985, dozens of Gaza Strip lawyers held a strike to protest over the alleged ill-treatment of the civilian population by IDF soldiers. The strike was general and trials were postponed. (Ha'aretz, 22 and 27 September 1985)

207. On 16 October 1985, it was reported that an Al-Fajr editor, Hassan Abdel Halim Fakia, from Bidu, had been missing for almost two weeks. He was reportedly last seen on 2 October 1985 when he left his office to go to Hebron where he was collecting material on fraudulent land sales. His colleagues said on 15 October 1985 they thought his disappearance might be connected to that story. A Jerusalem police spokesman said an enquiry had been opened into the disappearance. (Jerusalem Post, Ma'ariv, 16 October 1985; Jerusalem Post, 22 October 1985)

208. On 23 October 1985, it was reported that tension prevailed in Ramallah and El Bireh following the explosion of a bomb near a house in the area of Mount Tawil (El Bireh - on the road to the settlement), which killed a 15-year old boy (see table of incidents following para. 453 below) and seriously mutilated another. The dead boy was ordered to be buried the same night of the incident and only 10 elderly of his relatives were authorized to attend the funeral. (Al-Tali'ah, 24 October; Al-Fajr, 25 October 1985)

209. A Palestinian youth was allegedly assaulted by Israeli soldiers in Gaza because he wore a T-shirt with the following sentence written on it: "I love Palestine". The soldiers tore the T-shirt and drove the youth to the police station. (Al Tali'ah, 7 November 1985)

210. Israeli forces uprooted some 500 olive trees in the village of Ubaidiya in the Bethlehem area alleging that the trees were planted on "military land". An Israeli military advisory board had allowed the landowners to cultivate their land a short while earlier. (Al-Fajr, 13 December 1985)

211. On 30 January 1986, the Jerusalem Post published a report about the situation of Arab shopowners whose businesses were located below the newly-built sections of Hadassa house - the centre of Jewish settler activity in the heart of Hebron. According to Mustafa Natche, the town's deposed mayor, who accompanied a group of members of the Knesset from the Citizens Rights Movement to the place, a large number of people depended on the shops for their livelihood. The authorities had decided they could not legally evict the owners, who had lived there for almost 50 years, so they were allegedly trying to overcome the legal obstacle by putting pressure on the shopowners. On 5 February 1986, three Hebron residents owning shops in the basement of the Hadassa building in Hebron appealed to the High Court of Justice to order the IDF to remove a fence erected recently in front of their shops, withdraw the troops stationed there and cease pressing them to sell their shops. On 13 March 1986, the High Court of Justice considered the petition submitted by the shopowners. In its response to the petition, the State Attorney's Office said that the shops were a "real danger" to the lives and security of the Jewish tenants on the upper three floors. Arguing that the military commander of the West Bank was acting within his authority in ordering the adoption of the security measures, the deposition asked the court to reject the shopowners' petition. On 20 April 1986, it was reported that the IDF judge advocate general had ordered the suspension of a military police investigation into alleged criminal offences and abuses by soldiers and their commanders against the local population in Hebron and in particular shopowners at the Hadassa building. The judge advocate general said he had found no evidence of improper behaviour by the soldiers, and said they had acted according to instructions. On 29 May 1986, some 40 members of an "Arab-Jewish group for non-violence, fraternity and peace" went shopping in the three fenced-off shops situated at the ground floor of the Hadassa building in Hebron. The operation was held in sympathy with the shopkeepers. Security forces did not interfere with the solidarity visit, but told the group members to refrain from distribution of leaflets or any other form of demonstration. Heavy reinforcements of troops and police patrolled around the area for fear that the operation may lead to disorders. On 18 June 1986, during a tour of the Hadassa house area by three High Court justices, Central Region Commander Aluf (Brigadier General) Ehud Barak said that the army intended to replace the high barbed-wire fence blocking passage to three Arab shops in the building with a lower barrier that would leave a wider path. The High Court justices dealing with the complaint visited the area to inspect the situation. One judge suggested at the tour that policemen replace the soldiers to improve the atmosphere, but Aluf Barak explained this was not possible since the site had become a symbol in Hebron and was therefore a target for terrorists. Explosives could be smuggled into the shops to blow up the entire building, he said. The justices also examined the complaint of 14 shopowners whose shops were demolished in 1980 following a terrorist attack in which six settlers were killed. The building from which the attackers fired was razed and the owners have been denied permission to rebuild it. Aluf Barak told the judges that rebuilding the shops would pose a security risk for the settlers because it could again become a base for an attack. 212. On 22 January 1986, the weekly magazine of the Israeli communist party "Zu Haderekh" had published a report on a case of a refusal by the authorities to approve a family reunion in the territories. On 30 January 1986, the High Court of Justice had issued an order nisi against the military commander of the Gaza Strip, ordering him to show cause within 45 days why he should not authorize a woman from Amman to join her husband, Hijazi Saad, from Gaza, and settle in the region. On 14 February 1986, it was reported that the deputy commander of the Gaza Strip, Rav-Seren (Major) Yosef Avraham, said in an affidavit to the High Court of Justice that, in 1985, 2,937 requests for family reunion had been filed in the West Bank, and that only 10 had been granted. In the Gaza Strip, 171 requests had been filed and only 45 were granted. The affidavit was submitted in response to an application by two Gaza Strip residents whose requests to be authorized to bring their wives to the region were rejected. "Israel has no interest to allow any resident of the territories who wishes to marry abroad, to bring his wife here. The decision on who may enter and settle in Judea, Samaria and Gaza, is a matter for decision by the authorities, and the residents cannot impose their private opinion on the authorities"; the military authorities nevertheless allowed the departure of local residents to be united with their families abroad, the affidavit stated. On 10 June 1986, it was reported that the civil administration in the West Bank had granted 109 requests for family reunion by West Bank residents whose family members in Jordan would now be able to join them. The requests were granted on the occasion of the Id el-Fitr holiday. In another development it was reported that the High Court of Justice had upheld, on 10 June 1986, a decision by the military authorities to refuse a family reunion request for three couples consisting of resident husbands and wives living abroad. The names of the three wives were reported as Raja Arabeya, Najah Sawafiri and Suad Shahin. (Zu Haderekh, 22 January 1986; Ha'aretz, 31 January and 14 February 1986; Ma'ariv, 10 June 1986; Al-Fajr, 13 June 1986)

213. On 15 February 1986, it was reported that Israeli troops shot and killed a Gaza resident as he walked in the street. According to the report, he was the second person to be shot by Israeli soldiers in a week. Sha'ban Saleh Al-Aqlaq, aged 30, a father of six children, was shot shortly after being stopped by an army patrol in Gaza. Israeli military sources claimed that the man was shot after he refused to obey army orders to stop for an ID check. (Al-Fajr, 21 February 1986)

214. On 18 March 1986, it was reported that the Jerusalem District court had ordered the Defence Ministry to pay NIS 110,000 (approximately $73,000)

compensation to the family of a West Bank resident who was killed by an IDF soldier during manoeuvres. (Jerusalem Post, 18 March 1986)

215. On 28 May 1986, military sources reported that the chief of staff, Rav-Aluf Moshe Levy, had given an instruction to improve the life conditions of inhabitants of the Balata refugee camp, near Nablus. The civil administration in the West Bank was instructed to widen roads in the camp and to set up public facilities, kindergardens and parks. Similar measures had been taken in the Dheisheh refugee camp, near Bethlehem, and reportedly resulted in a decline in the level of hostile activity. The same sources reported that from the beginning of April until 25 May 1986 only 28 hostile terrorist acts were reported in the West Bank, a figure considered as very low in comparison with previous years. (Ha'aretz, 29 May 1986)

216. On 10 June 1986, it was reported that Siham Barguti, the wife of Abu Hilal, a West Bank resident who was expelled to Jordan at the beginning of 1986, was told she could go to Jordan to visit her husband provided that she stayed away for three years at least. Her lawyer, Advocate Abd Assali, asked the legal adviser of the West Bank military government for an explanation but received none. Siham Barguti served a prison sentence in the years 1982 to 1984 after being convicted of membership and activity in a terror organization. Her husband Abu Hilal was a prominent trade-union activist who was accused of subversive activity and deported to Jordan. (Ha'aretz, 16 June 1986)

217. On 19 June 1986, 1,000 olive trees were uprooted by State Lands Administration agents in the West Bank village of Midya, close to the Green line. The operation gave rise to violent demonstration and clashes between villagers and security personnel. A policeman and a State Land Administration warden were injured by stones. A 21-year-old village woman was detained. The village was placed under curfew and the road leading to it was closed off. Midya is one of several West Bank villages adjacent to former no-man's-lands that in 1967 were declared state land. According to the State Land Administration, the uprooted trees had been planted on the Israeli side of the Green line and the purpose of the operation was to prevent the takeover of state land by unauthorized tree planting. A similar operation had been carried out earlier in the year in the village of Katana, and other West Bank villages near the Green line were reportedly targeted for similar operations. The Midya villagers claimed that the trees had been planted on West Bank land. "We planted on our side, the Jewish National Fund planted on the other side. Now they have taken this as well. Why did they wait so long if it was theirs?" Other villagers said the destruction of the olive groves had destroyed their major source of livelihood and that some might now have to leave the village. On 24 June 1986, the High Court of Justice issued an interim injunction prohibiting the Minister of Agriculture, the State Land Administration and the Defence Minister from demolishing houses or uprooting trees in Midya. The injunction was given at the request of eight villagers who applied to the High Court, and it would remain in force pending a final decision on the application. On 26 June 1986, members of the Civil Rights Association and left-wing activists went to Midya to express sympathy with the villagers. The latter showed their visitors uprooted trees that were much older than four or five years, as claimed by the Land Administration. They also showed maps and documents proving that the lands where trees had been uprooted were not state-owned but belonged to them. (Ha'aretz, 20-25 June 1986; Jerusalem Post, 20 June 1986)

218. On 29 June 1986, it was reported that troops in Hebron had, since 6 June 1986, following the stabbing of an Israeli citizen in the Casbah area, confiscated and destroyed some 60 identity cards of Hebron residents during security checks carried out at the entrances to the Casbah and near the Hadassa building. The holders of the destroyed ID cards had to go to the Interior Ministry offices to apply for new cards, losing several working days and having to pay NIS 20 (approximately $15). An IDF spokesman explained that the IDF policy during routine controls was to confiscate ID cards that were "in a poor shape and where details such as a photograph or a name could be changed. These cards were confiscated by the troops, marked with an X, and their owners were given an application letter for a new card. IDF troops did not destroy cards in a good shape". But according to Arab residents their cards were in a perfect shape and had nevertheless been destroyed by troops. Following an investigation by Yediot Aharonot the affair reached the high echelons of the military authorities in the region and the practice of destruction of ID cards has reportedly been stopped. (Yediot Aharonot, 29 June 1986)

219. On 1 August 1986, members of the Gaza Strip Medical Assistance Committee held a press conference in Jerusalem in which they reported about alleged harassment and detentions without reason by the security forces in the Gaza Strip. The press conference was sponsored by the Alternative Information Center of Jerusalem. At the press conference, participants alleged that on 18 July 1986, the Israeli military governor of Jabaliya refugee camp, accompanied by a number of soldiers, raided the house where Committee members were treating residents. The military ordered the six doctors who were there to stop working and summoned them for interrogation. The doctors were told by the military governor that their work was illegal and that medical assistance should not be given voluntarily without a special permit. (Ha'aretz, 1 August 1986; Al-Fajr, 8 August 1986)

220. On 5 August 1986, female ex-prisoner, Nimeh al-Helu, from the Jabaliya refugee camp in Gaza, held a press conference in East Jerusalem in which she alleged to be the victim of Israeli harassment. She said her house in Jabaliya was the target of several surprise raids. On one occasion 100 armed soldiers came to search the house and confiscated magazines and other written material. She also received continuous summonses from the Israeli military governor in Gaza. On 3 August 1986, al-Helu was brought before a military court in Gaza and charged with possessing "inciting materials". The court session was postponed until the prosecutor could prepare the case against her. (Al-Fajr, 8 August 1986)

(ii) Collective punishment, including demolition of houses

221. On 1 August 1985, it was reported that following the murder in Nablus of an Israeli civilian, Albert Bukhris, on 30 July 1985, three stores had been shut by order of the military governor of the area where the attack took place. An adjacent alley through which the attacker apparently made his escape was also sealed with concrete blocks. (Jerusalem Post, 1 August 1985)

222. On 13 August 1985, Israeli authorities demolished an Arab house in Isawiyya, east of Jerusalem, alleging that it was illegally built. Reportedly that was the fourth house demolished in the area on the same grounds. (Al-Tali'ah, 15 August; Al-Fajr, 16 August 1985)

223. On 22 August 1985, the Israeli army demolished two houses and sealed a third in the town of Anabta in the Tulkarem district. According to an army spokesman, the three houses belonged to members of an armed Palestinian cell who were recently detained for anti-Israeli attacks. (Al-Tali'ah, Al-Fajr; 30 August 1985)

224. Following the killing of an Israeli citizen in Tulkarem and the wounding of another one in Jenin, both towns were placed under curfew, roadblocks were set up on major roads in the area and residents of the region, including Nablus, were barred from crossing the Jordan bridges. (Jerusalem Post, 25 August 1985)

225. On 30 August 1985, it was reported that expulsion orders had been issued against three men described as "terrorist leaders": Amin Ramzi Makbul from Nablus area, Walid Ahmad Nazal from Kabatiya in the Jenin area and Bahjat Mustafa Jayussi from Tulkarem. (Ma'ariv, 30 August 1985)

226. On 11 September 1985, the curfew imposed nine days earlier on the Casbah area of Hebron was lifted. Before the lifting of the curfew security forces sealed two of the entrances to the Casbah, one in the direction of the Patriarchs' Cave and the other, to the Romano house. (Yediot Aharonot, 12 September 1985)

227. On 8 October 1985, security forces demolished the homes of five members of a gang allegedly responsible for the murder of five Israelis and the wounding of 18 others over the previous 17 months. Three of the houses that were demolished were in the village of Surif, north of Hebron. The village was placed under curfew during the bulldozing operation. All the houses were reportedly empty and the demolitions were carried out without any incident. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 9 October 1985)

228. It was reported that Israeli troops had sealed off the main entrance to Balata refugee camp near Nablus after residents staged a demonstration to protest Israel's air raid on the PLO headquarters in Tunis. Three residents of the camp were said to be among those killed in the attack. (Al-Fajr, 11 October 1985)

229. Israeli bulldozers reportedly razed 16 Arab residences in Bayarit Anan, west of Gaza, claiming that they were built without a licence. The owners, however, affirmed that they had obtained a licence to build their houses from Jabaliya local council. (Al-Fajr, 25 October 1985)

230. On 28 October 1985, it was reported that in the framework of the new measures carried out in the West Bank in recent months, large forces of IDF, border-guards and police on 25 October 1985 during the night surrounded the village of Yatta, in southern Mount Hebron. They imposed a curfew and carried out house-to-house searches during 60 hours from Friday, 25 October 1985, at 2 a.m. until Sunday, 27 October 1985, at 2 p.m. In the course of the operation two houses were demolished by the IDF. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 28 October 1985)

231. On 5 November 1985, the security forces sealed off the houses of two suspected terrorists in Shu'fat, north of Jerusalem. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 6 November 1985)

232. On 6 November 1985, the security forces sealed off two houses belonging to a member of a terrorist group, located in A-Ram, near Qalqiliya, and in Hebron. Two other houses belonging to two members of the same group had already been sealed off previously. (Ha'aretz, 7 November 1985)

233. On 17 November 1985, the security forces destroyed the home of an alleged member of the terrorist cell that had operated in the southern West Bank for several months before being uncovered on 4 October 1985. On 19 November 1985, the security forces had sealed three houses in the village of Si'ir, several hours after the demolition of the house in Jaba. The reason given for the sealing of the houses was that their occupants had fired at civilian and military vehicles. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 18 November 1985; Jerusalem Post, 19 November 1985)

234. On 23 November 1985, security forces conducted house-to-house searches in Balata refugee camp near Nablus and came up with an IDF gun and a number of hand grenades. During the operation the camp was placed under a total curfew and telephone links were cut off. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, Ma'ariv, 24 November 1985)

235. On 26 November 1985, security forces sealed two homes and parts of two other houses in the Askar refugee camp outside Nablus. The houses belonged to local residents accused of firebombing a police station. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, Ma'ariv, 28 November 1985)

236. On 20 December 1985, the occupation authorities reportedly sealed off two rooms in the houses of two youths in Jenin. The youths were allegedly involved in throwing an incendiary bottle at the military command headquarters in the town few months earlier. (Al Tali'ah, 27 December 1985)

237. On 27 December 1985, at dawn, security forces sealed six houses in the Bethlehem area belonging to members of a local cell believed to be responsible for the murder of two local residents suspected of collaboration with the Israeli authorities. In a related development, it was reported that East Jerusalem circles were complaining of the "iron fist" policy allegedly adopted by the authorities since the Defence Minister Mr. Yitzhak Rabin took office. According to these circles, in addition to the sealing of six houses, the security authorities carried out over the past week a thorough search at Azhar University in Gaza where inciting material was allegedly found, but no weapons or sabotage materials. It was also reported that a former chairman of the Bir Zeit University student council, Naif a-Sweitat from Jenin, was detained under an administrative order. According to the same sources 15 inhabitants of the territories were detained in recent weeks under an administrative order. They included Dr. Munzer a-Sharif, a Ramallah physician considered as one of the Fatah central figures in the region, and Adnan Mansur, who was released from jail in the prisoners exchange with Ahmad Jibril's organization. Another security prisoner, Khaled Tantash, who was released in the same exchange, was allegedly expelled to Jordan. Over 90 suspects were reportedly held at present in administrative detention, the highest figure in over 10 years. (Ha'aretz, Ma'ariv, 29 December 1985)

238. The Israeli military authorities reportedly ordered shut for two months the al-Birah youth institution, a local youth club. The order, which was signed by the Israeli army commander of the central region, was justified by "security reasons". (Al-Fajr, 31 January 1986)

239. On 18 February 1986, it was reported that the Police Minister, Mr. Haim Bar-Lev, had asked the Attorney-General, Mr. Yitzhak Zamir, to seek legal means to demolish the homes of suspects being held for the murder of Avraham Bayazi, the chief intelligence officer in the police station of Jerusalem's old city. (Jerusalem Post, 18 February 1986)

240. On 6 March 1986, the security authorities sealed a house and three rooms belonging to four residents in the Tulkarem area who had allegedly thrown petrol bombs at Israeli vehicles, in November 1984. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 7 March 1986)

241. On 16 March 1986, the security forces demolished the apartment of Abbas Ahmed Suleiman, aged 29, from the village of Beit Ur A-Tahta, suspected of stabbing the Israeli cab driver Avraham Levi. (Ha'aretz, 17 March 1986)

242. On 15 April 1986, the security forces demolished the homes of three residents of Burka, near Nablus, who had confessed to the killing of a tourist guide near Sebastia in October 1985. The High Court of Justice had earlier rejected a petition filed by Advocate Felicia Langer, arguing that the demolition order was contrary to the international law and constituted collective punishment. (Ha'aretz, 16 April 1986)

243. On 7 May 1986, the High Court of Justice issued an interim injunction forbidding the security authorities from demolishing the home of a detainee. The injunction was issued at the request of a detainee's father, Salem Abdallah Arabni, a worker from Beit-Hanina, Jerusalem. In his application Arabni claimed that 15 persons were living in his house and that the demolition of the house or its sealing or confiscation would cause an irreparable damage and would seriously prejudice the 15 persons living in the house. He said his son was innocent as long as he was not convicted and that the family members were innocent and should not be subjected to a collective punishment. In another development, it was reported on 8 May 1986 that the Central Region Commander, Major General Ehud Barak, said in an affidavit to the High Court of Justice that the army intended to demolish two houses where the families of the suspected murderers of the soldier David Manos lived unless the High Court opposed that measure. Major General Barak was replying to an application filed by the suspects' relatives. On 29 May 1986, the security forces reportedly dynamited the two houses following the rejection of the application by the High Court of Justice. On 2 June 1986, the High Court of Justice issued an interim injunction prohibiting the Defence Minister from ordering the demolition of three houses in the Ram suburb of Jerusalem. The houses belonged to three families whose sons had been accused of placing a road-side bomb near a military camp north of Jerusalem. The device went off 15 metres in front of a car driven by two officers. The three families had applied to the High Court requesting that the security authorities be prevented from destroying or sealing their houses. According to the petitioners the security authorities had recently embarked on a policy of demolishing suspects' houses even in cases where no damage was caused by their alleged offences. (Ha'aretz, 8, 30 May 1986; Jerusalem Post, 8 May 1986; Ma'ariv, 30 May 1986; Ha'aretz, 3 June 1986)

244. On 17 June 1986, two houses were demolished in Gaza on the pretext they were located too close to a military camp. (Al-Fajr, 20 June 1986)

245. On 9 July 1986, the families of the two hijackers killed in April 1984 after being overpowered and detained by security personnel (in the No. 300 bus hijack affair) appealed to the governor of Gaza to be authorized to rebuild their houses, which were demolished immediately after the hijacking. The families' lawyer, Advocate Felicia Langer, said in the appeal that after it was ascertained that the two hijackers were murdered after being detained, their families considered the demolition of their houses as a continuation of their harassment, for no guilt. The families later reportedly registered a complaint with the police and asked for an investigation into the role of the political echelon in the killing of their sons. (Ha'aretz, 10 July 1986; Jerusalem Post, 13 July 1986)

246. On 14 and 15 July 1986, the military government in Hebron placed iron gates at the entrances to the town's Casbah area. Iron gates were also placed at a site in the Casbah near which two reserve soldiers had been stabbed one year earlier. At the time an entrance was sealed off with a wall; the iron gates have now replaced that wall. (Ha'aretz, 15 and 16 July 1986)

247. On 8 August 1986, Supreme Court Justice Gabriel Bach issued an interim injunction prohibiting the demolition or sealing of houses belonging to five residents of the Kalandiya refugee camp who had been arrested on suspicion of throwing hand grenades on a bus and other offences, including membership in Fatah. Three families from Jericho also obtained an interim injunction against the demolition or sealing of their houses. Their sons were arrested at the beginning of August 1986 on suspicion of membership in Fatah, throwing hand grenades and possession of arms. (Ha'aretz, 10 August 1986; Al-Fajr, 14 August 1986)

248. On 13 August 1986, the IDF took down the last of three barriers it had erected years earlier to seal off main roads into the Dheisheh refugee camp following attacks on vehicles on the adjacent Jerusalem-Bethlehem road. The measure was taken following the recent period of calm at the camp. A military source noted that several infrastructure improvements had been made at the camp recently and that the number of family-reunion permits involving local residents had increased. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 14 August 1986)

249. During the last week of August 1986, there were almost daily reports of sealing of rooms belonging to persons arrested on suspicion of involvement in terrorist acts. The following cases were reported:

(a) On 21 August, security forces sealed rooms in houses in Hussan, near Bethlehem, belonging to Redwan and Yasser Hamamreh and Ednan Shawsheh (Ha'aretz, 22 August 1986);

(b) On 23 August, security forces demolished the house of a member of a suspected terrorist group in the village of Deir Abu-Mash'al in southwestern Samaria (Ha'aretz, 24 August 1986);

(c) On 24 August, security forces sealed two rooms in the Hebron area that belonged to Abd el-Any Sultan and to Wahil Mussa Sa'adeh (Ha'aretz, 25 August 1986);

(d) On 25 August, security forces sealed three rooms in the territories, including one belonging to Fawaz Bahtan, from the village of A-Ram, on the Jerusalem-Ramallah road (Ha'aretz, 26 August 1986);

(e) On 26 August, security forces sealed two rooms in Hizma, near Anatot. They belonged to Suleiman Saïd Iyad al-Khatib and to Ahmad Salem Suleiman al-Khatib. The two suspects were aged, respectively, 14 and 16. Also on 26 August 1986, the High Court of Justice issued an interim injunction against the demolition of the home of Muhammad Abu-Harizat, from Deir Abu-Mash'al (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 27 August 1986);

(f) On 27 August, security forces sealed a room in East Jerusalem belonging to Ala a-Din Bazayan, the blind ringleader of a group charged with the murders in April 1986 of a British tourist and an Israeli businesswoman (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 28 August 1986);

(g) On 28 August, security forces sealed two rooms in Shu'fat, in northern Jerusalem, in the house of Nabil Awad Dib'i, aged 16 (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 29 August 1986);

(iii) Expulsion and deportation

250. On 6 August 1985, it was reported that nine Palestinians, released in the prisoner exchange and who remained in the West Bank, would be expelled from the area later in the month. The nine belonged to a group of 31 released prisoners who had no ID cards of the West Bank or the Gaza Strip. On 9 August, it was reported that 22 released prisoners were found to be non-residents and were thus being forced to leave. (Ha'aretz, 6 August 1985; Jerusalem Post, 11 August 1985)

251. On 9 August 1985, it was reported that Khalil Abu Zayad, who was detained the previous day on the basis of an expulsion order against him issued by the Central Region Commander, would appeal the order before a military review board. The decision to revive expulsion of residents of the territories, which had been abandoned five years earlier, was reportedly taken at the highest levels in the Government and the defence establishment. Abu Zayad was placed under a six-month town-arrest order and, as a result, "the security forces have decided that the measures taken against him to date do not prevent his activities and he should be deported". On 12 August, it was reported that the military review board, which considered Khalil Abu Zayad's appeal against his expulsion on 11 August 1985, recommended that the Central Region Commander reconsider his decision to order his expulsion. After a day of hearings in the Ramallah military court, the tribunal found that "in spite of the legal and justified reason for issuing the expulsion order, and although the evidence we have heard links the petitioner to the Fatah organization, there is nothing to link him directly with terrorist attacks". On 15 August, it was reported that the Central Region Commander and the IDF Commander in the West Bank had reached the conclusion that they could not reconsider their decision to deport Abu Zayad, despite the recommendation by the military review board. On 27 August, it was reported that an agreement had been reached between Abu Zayad and the military authorities. Under the agreement the expulsion order against him would be cancelled, and he would leave the country voluntarily for a period of three years, during which he undertook not to take part in any activity against the security of the State. After three years he would submit a request to return; the military authorities would consider the request and would try to respond favourably if Abu Zayad had met the terms of the agreement. With the cancellation of the expulsion order, Abu Zayad's appeal to the High Court of Justice has also been withdrawn. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, Ma'ariv; 9 August 1985; Jerusalem Post, 12 August 1985; Ha'aretz, 14 August 1985; Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, Yediot Aharonot; 27 August 1985)

252. On 10 September 1985, Central Region Commander, Aluf (Brigadier) Amnon Shahak, appeared before the High Court of Justice to reply to petitions submitted by three West Bank residents against their expulsion orders, issued three weeks earlier. On 2 October, the three West Bank residents were deported to Jordan after the High Court of Justice had upheld the expulsion orders. It was revealed that they were Amin Ramazi Dawish-Makboul of Nablus, Walid Ahmad Mahmoud Nazal, of the Jenin area, and Bahajat Mustafa Hassan al-Biyada Jayousi from the Tulkarem district. (Jerusalem Post, 11 September, 3 October 1985)

253. On 12 September 1985, the High Court of Justice upheld military deportation orders against 11 of the 1,150 detainees released in May in exchange for three Israeli soldiers held by Ahmad Jibril's group. The court ruled that the 11 men had infiltrated into the area following the June 1967 war. On 15 September, in the early morning hours, the 11 men together with seven other released prisoners were deported to Jordan at a remote border-crossing. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 13 September, 18 September 1985)

254. On 2 October 1985, it was reported that the High Court of Justice had rejected the petition of three West Bank residents against whom an expulsion order was issued to transfer their petition against the expulsion order to a five-justice panel. The three were identified as Walid Nazal from Kabatiya (Jenin area), Amin Makbul from Nablus and Bahjat Jayussi from the village of Jayus in Tulkarem area. (Ha'aretz, Ma'ariv, 2 October 1985)

255. On 3 November 1985, the High Court of Justice ordered the military advisory board in the West Bank to stay its discussion of an appeal by three West Bank residents against expulsion orders. The three were Ali Mahmoud Hilal from Abu Dis, Dr. Azmi As Shweibi from El Bireh and Hassan Mahmoud Fararjeh from Dheisheh, against whom deportation orders were issued for alleged engagement in hostile activity. The court ordered the stay pending its decision on a petition by the three men against the working of the advisory board. The court ordered the security authorities not to expel the three until the case had been decided, and also to stay the expulsion of a fourth man, Zaki Mahmoud Abu Steita from Jabaliya in the Gaza Strip, against whom a deportation order had also been issued. In their petition to the High Court, the West Bank men complained that the advisory board refused to let their lawyer see the classified evidence of their alleged hostile activities. The fourth applicant, of the Gaza Strip, claimed in his petition that the information on the basis of which the expulsion order against him was issued was incorrect and did not justify his expulsion. On 13 November, the High Court of Justice stayed the expulsion of the three men pending the results of their application to the court. In his petition Hilal claimed that he was being expelled for his activities in a West Bank labour union. He denied that he did anything illegal. Fararjeh argued he was a journalist and that the activities for which he was being expelled were carried out within the framework of his job. Dr. Shweibi said he was suffering from a rare lung disease and asked that the expulsion order against him be cancelled on humanitarian grounds. On 27 November, Aluf (Major-General) Amnon Shahak told the High Court of Justice in his response to the petition by Hilal and Fararjeh against their expulsion that the two were senior members of terror organizations and their expulsion was necessary to eradicate terrorism in the territories. On 30 January 1986, the three West Bank residents against whom expulsion orders had been issued annulled their application to the High Court of Justice against the expulsion and were reportedly about to be expelled shortly. The three applicants, who could make a statement, argued that their expulsion was politically motivated and said that the court could not reach a just decision as long as they were denied access to the confidential material on the basis of which it was decided to expel them and make their comments on that material. The judges decided to cancel the application and cancelled the interim injunction suspending the expulsion of the three applicants until the end of the legal proceedings. On 2 February, it was reported that the security authorities had, on 31 January, expelled Dr. Shweibi, Hilal and Fararjeh. Their attorney, Felicia Langer, complained that the prison authorities' promise to let them see their families before the deportation had not been honoured. The three were taken from the central prison at Juneid to a point in southern Israel and were ordered to cross the border to Jordan. (Ha'aretz, 4 and 14 November 1985; Jerusalem Post, 4, 8, 12, 14 and 28 November 1985 and 2 February 1986; Ha'aretz, Yediot Aharonot, 31 January 1986)

256. Four visiting lawyers from Greece, Spain, the Federal Republic of Germany and France reportedly condemned the Israeli use of the British Emergency Regulations of 1945 to suppress Palestinians in the occupied territories. The four arrived in Jerusalem to investigate and report on Israeli plans to deport four Palestinians for their political activities. In a press conference held at the Israeli Government Press Office in West Jerusalem on 14 November 1985, the lawyers said that they tried to meet with Israeli Defence Minister Mr. Yitzhak Rabin to urge him to stop the deportations, but were not successful. They also learned that the Israelis based their allegations on "secret evidence". (Al-Fajr, 15 November 1985)

257. On 29 November 1985, Hamis Hussein Hassan Nasrallah, who was released in the prisoner exchange with Ahmad Jibril's organization, was expelled to Jordan. He was one of the group of 18 whom the Israeli authorities said were not residents of the territories. He had petitioned to the High Court of Justice against his expulsion but his petition was rejected. (Ha'aretz, 1 December 1985)

258. On 9 December 1985, it was reported that the two West Bank residents jailed the previous week pending their expulsion, Yunes Rajub and Mahmud Dis, had announced that they would not appeal the deportation so as not to take part in a "show" staged to give the expulsions "a semblance of legality". The two were due to be expelled to Jordan on 9 December. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 9 December 1985)

259. On 26 January 1986, it was reported that the military government had served expulsion orders on four Arabs who were reportedly suspected of hostile activity on behalf of the PFLP. The four were named as Mahmoud Fa'anoun, aged 38, of Nahalin, near Bethlehem; Adnan Anem, aged 42, who lived in Jordan before infiltrating to Israel; and Hafez Hashem Aziza and Hassan Mohammed el-Amudi, both from Gaza. The lawyer for the four men, Ms. Lea Tsemel, said she would appeal the orders. On 29 January 1986, Aziza and el-Amudi appeared before a military appeal committee composed of senior officers and announced they had no faith in the committee and would not appeal the expulsion. It was announced that their expulsion to Jordan was imminent. The two West Bank residents have not yet appeared before the appeal committee. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 26 January 1986; Ha'aretz, 30 January 1986; Ma'ariv, 31 January 1986)

260. On 5 February 1986, three West Bank residents, allegedly affiliated with George Habash's PFLP, were expelled to Jordan. They were identified as Mahmoud Fa'anoun, Hassan Mohammed Ahmad el-Amudi and Jalal Hafez Hashem Aziza. The three had in the past served prison sentences for security offences. Military sources pointed out that since August 1985, 12 convicted terrorists had been expelled from Israel to Jordan. Most of them were West Bank residents and the rest were from the Gaza Strip. A senior member of the International Red Cross delegation in Israel, Jean Jacques Fresard, reportedly sharply criticized the government for the deportation of the three, which he described as "completely illegal", since it violated article 49 of the Fourth Geneva Convention. A military government spokesperson said that the deportations were based on the Emergency Regulations of 1945, which permitted the deportation of people believed to have endangered security. She pointed out that the High Court of Justice had approved the validity of the regulations in such cases. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 6 February 1986)

261. On February 1986, Israeli authorities deported Mr. Ahmed Billo, aged 69, from Beit Fajjar village near Bethlehem, after he completed his 16-year prison sentence on political charges. Billo, who has a family of 11, was reportedly given the option to be deported in 1976 in exchange of forfeiting his residency, but he refused, insisting on completing his prison sentence in the hope of staying with his family. He completed his prison term in January 1986, but instead of releasing him the Israel authorities reportedly decided to deport him. (Al-Tali'ah, 6 February; Al-Fajr, 14 February 1986)

262. On 10 February 1986, the High Court of Justice authorized the security authorities to expel from Israel Ahad Mahmud Radad, who was released in the prisoner exchange with Ahmad Jibril's organization. (Ha'aretz, 11 February 1986)

263. On 22 June 1986, the High Court of Justice determined that Zaki Abu-Steita, who was released from jail in the framework of the prisoner exchange agreement with Ahmad Jibril's organization, could be expelled from the country. Abu-Steita applied to the High Court several months earlier after the military authorities decided to expel him for alleged hostile activity. He argued in his application that the authorities had no right to expel him since such a move contradicted the terms of the prisoner exchange agreement. On 22 June, Abu-Steita announced that he was withdrawing his application for "personal motives", and he was immediately declared as liable for expulsion. In a related development, it was reported on 26 June that the security authorities had notified the Red Cross representatives in Israel of their intention to deport shortly three more released prisoners of the exchange agreement: Muhammad Hussein Abu-Saadi from Khan Yunis, Ahmed Hassan Mahana from the village of Krara, near Khan Yunis, and Yussef Abd el-Hamid from Kalandiya refugee camp. Since the prisoner exchange agreement was reached, 26 released prisoners were deported and 21 were rearrested. (Ha'aretz, 26 June 1986; Yediot Aharonot, 23 June 1986)

(iv) Economic aspects

264. It was reported that in early July 1985 the municipality of Jerusalem had cut off the water supply from a number of houses in Isawiyya village east of the city on the grounds that residents had not paid their municipality tax. (Al-Fajr, 2 August 1985)

265. Customs officers reportedly raided the shoe shop of Mr. Sa'di Nayef al-Sa'di in Gaza and requested him to pay IS 8 million as income tax. The shop was closed when the owner declared he could not afford to pay such a heavy tax. (Al-Fajr, 30 August 1985)

266. It was reported that the Bank of Palestine planned to file suit in the Israeli High Court against Israeli Gaza military authorities. The suit was in protest of a recent 50 per cent increase in income tax levied on Gaza's "troubled business community". (Al-Fajr, 29 November 1985)

267. Shopowners and craftsmen reportedly staged a one-day sit-in at the offices of the Chamber of Commerce in Jerusalem to protest against raids carried out by Israeli tax and customs officials. They asked the Chamber to intervene in order to put an end to the practices. According to the shopowners, Israeli tax authorities imposed exorbitant taxes on them, exceeding in some cases IS 20 million (approximately $13,000). In a related development it was reported that customs officials launched a new tax campaign on Nablus quarry owners who were asked for the first time to pay 300 dinars for each load. It was also reported that the tax department has levied a 600 dinar income tax on quarry owners and intended to deduct it from their salaries. (Al-Tali'ah, 12 December 1985)

268. Income tax officials reportedly closed down five shops in the Bethlehem area on the grounds that owners had not settled the interest on income tax. In a related development, it was reported that income tax officials launched a campaign against Arab traders in the city of Qalqilya. According to the shopowners such a sum represented the whole of their capital which made it impossible for them to pay. It was also reported that income tax officials ordered the confiscation for 20 days of a car owned by a villager of Hebron district. The car contained second-hand clothes worth less than IS 100,000 (approximately $65). (Al-Tali'ah, 6 February 1986)

269. On 19 March 1986, the co-ordinator of activities in the territories, Shmuel Goren, told Israeli correspondents in Washington that the civil administration in the territories would allow investments "worth $1 billion and more" in public and private enterprises in the territories. The civil administration allowed residents to bring in unlimited sums of money and its origin "was not being examined with a microscope". Unlike the situation one year earlier, when the amount of money allowed into the territories was restricted and its origin scrupulously examined. Mr. Goren said Israel would approve any enterprise, providing it did not harm Israel's economic interests, but he did not elaborate on the nature of such interests. Mr. Goren met with United States businessmen to whom he presented a long list of projects in the territories. He invited them to take part in financing those projects. Mr. Goren added that United Nations bodies had been invited to set up offices in the West Bank and that the United Nations Development Fund had for the first time opened such a representation. He said United Nations agencies were sending $50 to $70 million to the territories. (Ma'ariv, 20 March 1986)

270. On 17 April 1986, the Jerusalem Post reported the publication of a report on economic developments in the territories from 1983 to mid-1985 by Dan Zakai of the Bank of Israel. According to the report the territories were at present entering a period of relative recession and increased unemployment, due to the drop in oil prices, leading to a reduction in foreign Arab demand for products from the territories. Exports from the territories reportedly dropped by 5 per cent during the years covered by the report after having risen by a similar percentage in the previous two years. The economic slow-down was aggravated by accelerated population growth. The population of the territories, which grew by 2.9 per cent per year during the period studied, at present stood at about 1.3 million. At the same time, falling demand for workers in Jordan and the oil States resulted in a drop in emigration from the region. (Jerusalem Post, 17 April 1986)

271. On 22 April 1986, a survey was published by the civil administration in the West Bank on living standards in the region. The survey found that living standards had risen significantly in the region: 22 per cent of the city dwellers in the West Bank owned private cars, compared to only 6 per cent 10 years earlier. The comparable figures for villagers were 2 per cent at present and 1 per cent a decade earlier. Thirty-three per cent of the town dwellers owned colour television sets, 94 per cent had refrigerators, 75 per cent owned washing machines and 63 per cent of the total population in the West Bank owned solar heaters. (Jerusalem Post, 22 April 1986)

272. On 16 April 1986, the Labour and Social Affairs Minister, Mr. Moshe Katzav, revealed that some 40,000 West Bankers and 20,000 Gaza Strip residents were employed in Israel illegally, in an unorganized way and without any social benefits. (Ha'aretz, 17 April 1986)

273. On 11 June 1986, the Israeli authorities approved the establishment of a chamber of industry in the West Bank. It would serve as a recognized union of factory owners, allowing them to co-ordinate their activities with the Israeli authorities. (Al-Fajr, 13 June 1986)

274. On 19 August 1986, bailiffs accompanied by dozens of policemen raided the offices of the East Jerusalem Electric Company. The raid was carried out on the last day of the Muslim holiday of Id al-Adha. The raid was reportedly carried out by a court order after the Jerusalem District court had issued on 31 July 1986 an attachment order for the funds of the company, which owed NIS 20 million (approximately $13 million) to the Israel Electric Corporation. Company safes were reportedly forced open during the raid but no money was found therein. Documents and checks were found and taken away. On 20 August, the company workers held a strike and several East Jerusalem businesses closed down in protest over the raid. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 20, 21 and 22 August 1986)

(ii) Freedom of worship

276. On 4 December 1985, the Israeli military court in Gaza reportedly sentenced the Imam of Al Katjba mosque to one-and-a-half years in prison and two-and-a-half years suspended term on charges of incitement during a religious speech made for the celebration of 27 Ramadan in April 1985. (Al-Tali'ah, 5 December 1985)

277. It was reported that the Israeli military court in Gaza had sentenced Sheikh Muhammad Abu Jamé, from Khan Yunis, to six months imprisonment and two-and-a-half years suspended sentence. He was reportedly charged and convicted of "incitement". The charge sheet said that the Sheikh had used his job as a mosque preacher to incite against the Israelis. (Al-Fajr, 17 January 1986)

278. On 3 February 1986, it was reported that East Jerusalem was shut down in another day of protest against Israel's attempt to turn Al-Aqsa mosque into a synagogue. The strike reportedly coincided with a call by the Morocco-based Jerusalem Committee for a 30-minute work stoppage in all Muslim nations in protest against Israeli measures against Muslim holy sites in the occupied territories. The general strike in East Jerusalem was the third of its kind since mid-January when Israel's Knesset members and other hardline Israelis attempted to hold "defiant" prayers on the mosque compound. The first two strikes were accompanied by demonstrations. The first strike occurred when the Israelis for the first time attempted to pray on the premises. The second occurred a week later when the Israeli parliamentarians returned for another "defiant" visit to the mosque area. (Al-Fajr, 7 February 1986)

279. The Israeli weekly Koteret Rashit reported in one of its February issues that Jewish settlers of Kiryat Arba and Hebron were still trying to take over Al-Ibrahim mosque in Hebron. (Al-Fajr, 14 February 1986)

280. It was reported that residents of Abu Ghosh village in Jerusalem were told not to call for prayers through loudspeakers at dawn. The Israeli authorities reportedly claimed that the prayer calls caused disturbance to the Jewish residents at settlements. (Al-Fajr, 21 February 1986)

(iii) Freedom of expression

281. On 2 August 1985, it was reported that the printing plant of the East Jerusalem newspaper Asha'b had been ordered closed for three days by the military censor. The newspaper had published, in defiance of a military censor's order, two articles on the death of two Nablus residents whose bodies were found in a car near Nablus after they had disappeared the previous week. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post; 2 August 1985)

282. On 13 September 1985, it was reported that the Al-Manar press agency in East Jerusalem was ordered closed for six months by the Central Region Commander. The agency was allegedly linked with the "Democratic Front". (Ha'aretz, 13 September 1985)

283. On 15 September 1985 it was reported that the Interior Ministry intended to close the East Jerusalem newspaper a-Darb, for its alleged support of the Democratic Front for the Liberation of Palestine. On 29 September, it was reported that a closure order had been handed down by Rafi Levy on 27 September. No reason was cited in the closure order. The Association for Civil Rights in Israel reportedly condemned the closure, calling it a "blow against the freedom of expression". On 15 October, the Supreme Court ordered the state attorney to explain within 10 days why a-Darb should be closed. (Jerusalem Post, 15, 29 September 1985, 2, 11 and 16 October 1985; Yediot Aharonot, 15 September 1985; Ma'ariv, 29 September 1985)

284. The New York-based committee to protect journalists expressed to Mr. Peres its concern over recent measures against members of the Palestinian press in the occupied territories. In the letter the Committee said "we have the impression that (these measures) are condoned by the highest level of the Israeli Government." The measures included vandalism at Al-Fajr Arabic daily on 8 July 1985, requiring Palestinian newspapers to publish military advertisements, the three-day closure of Al Sha'ab Arabic daily on 1 August 1985 and the restrictions on Palestinian journalists. The letter also listed six journalists as being under town restrictions or having their movements restricted in one way or another. (Al-Fajr, 6 September 1985)

285. On 17 October 1985, the security authorities closed for 14 days the West Bank weekly magazine Al-Biadar As-Siasi, for alleged censorship violations. (Ha'aretz, Ma'ariv, 18 October 1985)

286. On 29 November 1985, it was reported that the IDF had, the previous day, prevented East Jerusalem newspapers from reaching the West Bank. The newspapers affected by that measure were Al-Fajr, Al Quds, A'shab and Al-Mithaq. (Jerusalem Post, 29 November 1985)

287. On 7 March 1986, it was reported that a new weekly newspaper, a-Nahar, was being published in East Jerusalem as from that day. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 7 March 1986)

288. On 30 March 1986, it was reported that the civil administration in the West Bank had convened the newspaper distributors in the West Bank towns and ordered them not to distribute newspapers on Land Day, due on 30 March 1986, unless they were given a special authorization by the civil administration. (Ha'aretz, 30 March 1986)

289. On 19 June 1986, the civil administration banned distribution of the East Jerusalem newspaper Al-Fajr in the West Bank and the Gaza Strip for the following three days. The order cited "recurrent violations of censorship and endangering public safety" as reasons for the measure. Several days earlier the newspaper published an article quoted from the Hebrew daily Hadashot without submitting it to the censor. The article carried a report by Agence France Presse that the "Force 17" terror organization was claiming responsibility for an army bus accident in the Jordan Valley. (Ha'aretz, 22 June 1986; Jerusalem Post, 20 June 1986)

290. On 3 July 1986, the civil administration banned the distribution of two East Jerusalem newspapers, Al-Fajr and Al-Mithaq, in the West Bank and the Gaza Strip. The distribution of two others, Al-Quds and A'shab, was delayed by several hours. Sources in the civil administration said the reason for the banning and delay of distribution was the newspapers' failure to submit material to the censor. (Ha'aretz, 4 July 1986)

291. On 7 July 1986, it was reported that an Interior Ministry official, Raphael Levy, had notified the East Jerusalem newspaper Al-Mithaq and the magazine Al-Ahd, that he was considering their closure because they were "directed and operated" by the PFLP of George Habash. Representatives of the publications were ordered to appear the following week at Levy's office to answer the charges. On 10 July, it was reported that the editor of Al-Mithaq, Mahmoud al-Khatib, had met with the heads of the journalists' association in Jerusalem and explained that his newspaper did not call for the destruction of Israel and that it had no contacts or links with any hostile organization. On 13 July, the Association of Israel Journalists in Jerusalem urged the Interior Ministry not to close down Al-Mithaq and Al-Ahd. On 15 July, Israeli and Palestinian journalists made separate appeals to the Interior Ministry against the closure of the two newspapers. At a press conference held in Jerusalem the editor of Al-Mithaq and the head of the Arab Journalists' Association, Radwan Abu-Ayash, accused Israel of trying to undermine the Palestinian press for political reasons. Al-Mithaq lawyer, Elias Khoury, challenged the Government to produce evidence to back up its charges. The Interior Ministry deputy director-general and spokesman, Yitzhak Agassi, said the ministry's position remained unchanged; "The ministry would not have taken this step if it were not convinced that the paper was funded and directed by George Habash's organization", he said. On 12 August, the Interior Ministry official in charge of the Jerusalem district, Rafael Levy, closed Al-Mithaq and Al-Ahd. The closure order was based on the 1945 Emergency Regulations. On 13 August, the two publications applied to the High Court of Justice against the closure order. On 14 August, the High Court of Justice issued an order nisi asking the Interior Ministry officials to show cause within five days why they should not refrain from closing the two publications. At the High Court, Interior Ministry official Rafael Levy agreed to postpone the closure order for the following 10 days in exchange for the petitioner's promise not to insist on an interim order. Supreme Court Deputy President Miriam Ben Porat criticized at the hearing the "hasty, ill-conceived" manner in which the two publications were closed. On 20 August, the High Court of Justice examined a file prepared by the General Security Service, designed to prove that the two publications were financed by the PFLP. A request by Advocate Elias Khoury, counsel for the publications, to be allowed to examine the file, was rejected by the three judges. On 24 August, it was reported that the High Court of Justice had determined that Al-Mithaq and Al-Ahd should be closed, after it was proved that the PFLP was financing and controlling both publications. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 7, 10, 13, 14 and 16 July 1986; Ha'aretz, 13, 14, 15, 21 and 24 August 1986; Jerusalem Post, 13 and 15 August 1986; Yediot Aharonot, 15 August 1986)

292. On 10 July 1986, the civil administration in the West Bank, for the third time in two weeks, delayed the distribution of four East Jerusalem newspapers in the West Bank and the Gaza Strip for alleged failure to submit material to the censorship. East Jerusalem journalists on 10 July protested what they described as the "new Israeli policy of oppression against the Palestinians' freedom of expression". On 14 July, it was reported that East Jerusalem journalists had been complaining about an alleged "heavy-handed attitude" by the censorship. (Ha'aretz, 11 and 14 July 1986)

293. On 17 July 1986, it was reported that all the journalists who had taken part in a meeting with notables from the territories, following the meeting on 26 May 1986 in East Jerusalem between the notables and the British Prime Minister Mrs. Thatcher, were summoned to the police for questioning. This followed reports that following the meeting with Mrs. Thatcher the notables, including Hana Seniora, Faiz Abu-Rahma, Rashad A-Shawa, Mustafa Natshe and Zair ar-Rais, had made declarations to the journalists that were clearly identical with the PLO and its objectives. (Yediot Aharonot, 17 July 1986)

294. On 9 August 1986, Central Region Commander Aluf (Major General) Ehud Barak issued a 24-hour closure order for the East Jerusalem theatre Al-Hakawati. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 10 August 1986)

295. On 11 August 1986, the spokesman of Al-Najah University, Saeb Erakat, and political science lecturer Abdel Sattar Kassem were called into the Nablus police headquarters and charged with incitement on the basis of materials seized during an IDF search at the University on 3 June 1986. Erakat said that the material included university public relations bulletins, student council publications and articles on the university from local and foreign press. Erakat added that the lecturer Kassem had been charged in connection with his book The Prison Experience about the life in prison of Palestinians. Both men were released on bail of NIS 1,000 (approximately $660) each. (Jerusalem Post, 12 August 1986)

296. On 21 August 1986, the East Jerusalem Al Mawqef press and the Arab Council for Public Affairs were closed for three months by order of Central Region Commander Aluf Barak, following the seizure at the press of leaflets signed by Fatah. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 22 August 1986)

(iv) Freedom of education

Al-Najah University

297. On 2 August 1985, the civil administration ordered the closure for two months of Al-Najah University in Nablus. The closure reportedly followed the murder the previous week of an Israeli civilian in the town and the discovery on campus of material the military authorities termed as "likely to incite". It was reported that 32 students at Al-Najah University in Nablus had been affected by harsh Israeli measures, including imprisonment, possible deportation and town restriction orders. On 3 October 1985, Al-Najah University was re-opened. (Ha'aretz, 3 August 1985; Jerusalem Post, 4 August 1985; Al-Fajr, 4 and 11 October 1985)

298. On 17 December 1985, the security authorities closed Al-Najah University for one day. (Ha'aretz, 18 and 19 December 1985)

299. On 1 January 1986, the administration of the Al-Najah University reportedly decided to close the University until the end of the week for fear of disturbances linked with "Fatah day", which occurred that day. On 8 January, the University was again closed for one day by order of the security authorities in order to prevent Fatah supporters from holding a rally. (Ha'aretz, 2 and 9 January 1986)

300. On 7 May 1986, it was reported that security forces had placed roadblocks on access roads to the University over the previous couple of days, thus preventing classes from being held. The purpose of the roadblocks was to bar entry to people who did not hold student cards. (Ha'aretz, 7 May 1986)

301. On 4 June 1986, during the night, security forces raided the University and confiscated a large quantity of material described as propaganda material of nationalist character, including flags and pamphlets calling for an armed struggle against the occupation. Over 20 students were arrested on suspicion of preparation and distribution of inciting material. On the morning following the operation the army set up roadblocks at the entrances to the campus and allowed access only to holders of student's cards and faculty members. A University spokesman, Dr. Said Erakat, said the soldiers behaved brutally in the campus, broke furniture and beat two students. He also said that many students were prevented from entering the campus although they were holders of student's cards. (Ha'aretz, 5 June 1986)

302. On 28 July 1986, the IDF set up roadblocks at the access roads to the University and only holders of student cards were allowed to enter. On 30 July, roadblocks were again placed near the University banning entry to all students and faculty members. Military sources said the move was taken to prevent efforts to enlist students in hostile organizations during registration for the coming academic year. (Ha'aretz, 29 July 1986; Jerusalem Post, 31 July 1986)

Islamic University of Gaza

303. It was reported that 34 faculty and administration members at the Islamic University of Gaza, including its president, Mr. Mohammed Saker, were forced to leave the country a week earlier after the Israeli military authorities made renewal of their work and stay permits conditional on University acceptance of military interference in the university affairs. The permits in question were not renewed as the University refused to accept the conditions stipulated by the authorities. Israeli authorities reportedly agreed in September to allow 16 out of 34 teachers at the University who were deported in July 1985 to return to the Gaza Strip. (Al-Fajr, 9 August and 6 September 1985)

304. On 27 December 1985, it was reported that occupation soldiers and border guards had cordoned off and raided the University. (Al-Tali'ah, 3 January 1986)

Hebron University

305. Seven lecturers at Hebron University were reportedly notified that their contract would not be renewed for the next academic year. No reasons were given for the decision. Two of these lecturers were allegedly removed from their posts six months earlier after they had attempted to organize a union. They were later reinstated under the pressure of national institutions in the occupied territories. (Al-Tali'ah, 15 August 1985)

306. It was reported that students had stepped up actions of protest during the week of 19 to 26 September 1985 following the dismissal of seven teachers by the Hebron University Board. Three teachers went on an unlimited hunger strike on 18 September 1985 to protest the measure. They reportedly indicated that their dismissal was due to an attempt in November 1984 to organize a union to defend teachers' rights. (Al-Tali'ah, 26 September 1985)

307. On 14 July 1986, the head of the students' council at the University, Mahmud Sakussa, was arrested following an anti-Jordanian demonstration held on 12 July 1986 in the campus. (Ha'aretz, 15 July 1986)

308. On 28 July 1986, the IDF set up roadblocks at the access roads to the University and only holders of student cards were allowed to enter. (Ha'aretz, 29 July 1986)

Bethlehem University

309. Three Bethlehem University students were recently informed by the military authorities that they could not enter the university campus for six months. They were allegedly charged with inciting other students to nationalistic expression. (Al-Tali'ah, 15 August; Al-Fajr, 16 August 1985)

310. On 30 October 1985, it was reported that Israeli occupation forces launched a repression campaign against students of Bethlehem University, using tear-gas to disperse a large number of students who were protesting the deportation orders and other repression measures carried out by the Israeli authorities in the occupied territories. As a result, students were stopped at checkpoints placed by the army at the entrances of Bethlehem University and banned from entering the campus. (Al-Tali'ah, 7 November 1985; Al-Fajr, 8 November 1985)

Bir Zeit University

311. On 30 October 1985, it was reported that Bir Zeit University students held a demonstration during which they set fire to tyres and erected stone-barricades on the road to the University and stoned Israeli cars. (Al-Tali'ah, 7 November 1985; Al-Fajr, 8 November 1985)

312. On 2 August 1986, security forces set up roadblocks at the entrance to Bir Zeit University, preventing students from entering the campus. (Al-Fajr, 8 August 1986)

Other educational institutions

313. In the period between August 1985 and April 1986, the following teachers were notified by the Israeli authorities of their decision to dismiss them from their job without being provided any specific reason for such measure:
Iman Ihsan al Taher from Ramallah Teachers' Government College,
Antisar al-Sheikh Qassem, Mahmud Odeh from Dheisheh refugee camp, Amira Adawi from Kufur Malek in the Ramallah area and nine teachers from the Bethlehem area.
(Al-Tali'ah, 22 August 1985; Al-Fajr, 16, 23 August, 13 September 1985, 14 February and 25 April 1986)

314. It was reported that Israeli military authorities had distributed a memorandum to the headmasters of West Bank governmental schools. The memorandum ordered them to cancel the registration of new non-resident pupils of the 1985-1986 academic year. The headmasters were also ordered to forbid others to register next year. (Al-Fajr, 11 October 1985)

315. The Israeli authorities had reportedly ordered a blind youth to leave Bethlehem where he attended school and to return to his home town in the Gaza Strip. The blind student had lived eight years in Beit Al-Rajaa Institute for the Blind in Bethlehem. According to the report, that measure would prevent the youth from sitting for his final-year examination. (Al-Tali'ah, 24 October 1985)

316. On 18 January 1986, the Israeli authorities reportedly prevented all students of the Al-Aqsa Islamic School from entering classrooms on the grounds of avoiding a clash between students and the members of Kakh movement who were present in the premises of Al-Aqsa that day. (Al-Tali'ah, 23 January 1986)

317. On 17 April 1986, the Central Region Commander, Aluf (Major General) Ehud Barak issued an order closing for 14 days the Hebron Polytechnic school following violent riots there. (Ha'aretz, 17 April 1986)

318. On 20 April 1986, the Israeli authorities reportedly decided to close down indefinitely two preparatory schools in the Jalazun refugee camp near Ramallah following stone-throwing incidents there. (Al-Fajr, 25 April 1986)

(c) Information on settlers' activities affecting the civilian population

319. On 15 August 1985, four members of Knesset of the right-wing Tehiya party, Geula Cohen, Yuval Ne'eman, Eliezer Waldman and Gershon Shafat, reportedly entered the flat in the Casbah area of Hebron that had earlier been occupied by nine Kiryat Arba settlers. The members of Knesset were accompanied by a group of settlers. The area was later declared a closed military area and the IDF evicted the settlers, but not the members of Knesset, who reportedly remained in the flat and were allowed to bring in food, chairs and mattresses. On 18 August, the inner cabinet decided not to permit Jews to inhabit the house in the Hebron Casbah where six members of Knesset were in their fourth day of a sit-in. On 19 August, Rabbi Moshe Levinger, accompanied by eight settlers, blocked the entrance to the Casbah, protesting that closing the area to Jews only "constituted racism". On 20 August, at dawn, the IDF evicted without incident the Knesset members who were holding a sit-in in a flat in the Casbah area of Hebron. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 16 and 18 August 1985; Jerusalem Post, 19 and 20 August 1985; Yediot Aharonot, 20 August 1985; Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 21 August 1985)

320. On 4 September 1985, it was reported that, following the murder of a reservist and the wounding of another in the Hebron market, settlers in the town attempted to expand the Jewish presence in Tel Rumeida. The attempt was foiled by the security forces. The settlers of the Hebron Jewish quarter also cut open a passage from the "Abraham the Patriarch" area near the wholesale vegetable market into the Casbah. After they had cut open the passage they were evicted from the area, but the passage remained open. In a consultation between the heads of the Jewish councils in the West Bank and Gaza, the heads of Kiryat Arba and the Hebron settlers it was decided to set up the headquarters of the Jewish Councils in the territories in the Jewish quarter of Hebron until the Government took a decision with regard to the deteriorating security in the region. On 5 September, it was reported that the army had sealed the passage. The settlers later complained they were being placed in a ghetto. When the army lifted the curfew in the Casbah to allow residents to buy supplies the settlers intervened in an attempt not to allow a resumption of normal life only 24 hours after the murder of the reservist. Fifteen settlers, including Rabbi Levinger, entered the Casbah and clashes were reported with the security forces. Several settlers attempted to re-occupy the house in the Casbah in front of which the reservist was murdered, but they were forcibly evicted by a border guard. According to one report, Hebron settlers attacked two houses of released prisoners on the night of 4 September. (Ha'aretz, 4 September 1985; Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, Ma'ariv, 5 September 1985)

321. On 6 September 1985, it was reported that armed groups of Gush Emunin settlers had held "presence-demonstrations" in the streets of Ramallah and Nablus the previous day. Settler sources described the armed patrols as "helping to step up security" in the region and said that the settlers intended to continue holding such patrols in the following days. Military sources said that "patrolling the streets in West Bank towns with legally held weapons is not an offence, and therefore there is no reason to act against the settlers". On 8 September, the Defence Minister Mr. Yitzhak Rabin said at the weekly cabinet meeting that the Government would not permit armed settlers to patrol through Arab areas in the West Bank, but West Bank and Gaza Strip settlers said that despite the army and border police clampdown on the region, they had continued their armed patrols in major Arab towns. One of the organizers of these patrols in Hebron told the Jerusalem Post that settlers in groups of 6 to 10 men patrolled Tulkarem, Nablus and Jenin and were outside the Damascus Gate in Jerusalem. The settlers were armed with pistols. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, Yediot Aharonot, 6, 8 and 9 September 1985)

322. On 7 September 1985, during the night, unidentified persons believed to be Kiryat-Arba and Hebron settlers tried to set fire to a house in Dura belonging to Mahmud Mohammad Atrash, whom they suspected of being a released prisoner. It later turned out that the man was a released prisoner's relative and that the released prisoner, Azmi Atrash, did not live in that house. Material damage was caused. Settlers also smashed windows in a house in the Balata refugee camp near Nablus belonging to a released prisoner. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, Yediot Aharonot, 9 September 1985)

323. On 8 September 1985, after midnight, Hebron settlers led by Rabbi Moshe Levinger occupied a house in the Casbah area bordering on the Jewish quarter. The settlers were forcibly evicted from the house by border guards. Four settlers were detained. (Ha'aretz, 9 September 1985)

324. On 12 September 1985, it was reported that following the suspension of the armed settlers' patrols in Arab towns, due to widespread criticism, the settlers adopted a different method. On 11 September, a group of settler women with little children or prams walked through Hebron "to demonstrate Jewish presence". The women were unarmed, but were accompanied by soldiers. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 12 and 13 September 1985)

325. On 27 September 1985, dozens of Kiryat Arba settlers, including "Kach" members, reportedly rioted and caused extensive damage in Halhul following an attack on an Egged bus in the area. An Israeli television crew that arrived on the scene to film the rioting was attacked by the settlers. In the rioting windows and windshields were smashed, including the windows of the local mosque. Settlers were also reported to fire shots in the air and to set fire to several shops. (Ha'aretz, 29 September 1985; Jerusalem Post, 4 October 1985)

326. On 2 October 1985, it was reported that settler leaders in the West Bank had been given permission by the Defence Minister Mr. Rabin to hold a religious ceremony near Joseph's Tomb in Nablus, provided that no political speeches were held, that the number of participants be very small and that they should not remain in the site over night. It was also reported that the settlers intended, on the same occasion, to occupy several houses in Nablus that they had purchased from Arabs over the past two years. (Ha'aretz, 2 October 1985)

327. A number of Arab drivers operating in al-Arqoub village near Bethlehem reported that settlers from Hadar Bitar settlement established on Husan village land had begun to harass the Arab drivers by crowding them off the road, which was narrow and dangerous. (Al-Fajr, 15 November 1985)

328. On 17 November 1985, it was reported that Knesset member Matti Peled (Progressive List for Peace) had requested that the Knesset hold an emergency session to discuss revelations that West Bank settlers were holding large quantities of weapons over which the IDF and the security bodies had no control. According to the military correspondent of Ha'aretz, Zeev Schief, the Central Region Command had attempted to control the individual weapons held by the settlers, but its efforts were of no avail. Mr. Peled said that "that stupefying revelation should not go unheeded ... today (the settlers) disobey the army and tomorrow they will hold arms against the Government", he said. (Ha'aretz, 17 November 1985)

329. A group of anti-occupation Israelis were allegedly attacked by armed settlers while in Dheisheh refugee camp. (Al-Fajr, 29 November 1985)

330. On 14 December 1985, the eighth day of the Jewish holiday of Hanukka, settlers in the West Bank and the Gaza Strip carried out a co-ordinated "candle-lighting operation" at Joseph's Tomb in Nablus, the ancient Jewish synagogue in Jericho, the Patriarchs' Cave in Hebron and the ancient Jewish synagogue in Gaza. Settler spokesmen said the operation was designed to symbolize the link between those parts of the land of Israel and the return to the sources and the roots. The IDF authorities reportedly did not interfere with the candle-lighting. (Ha'aretz, 15 December 1985)

331. On 19 January 1986, Israeli settlers from Ne'ot Adumim settlement allegedly uprooted 130 olive trees belonging to Hamdan Jaafreh of al-Sawahreh al-Sharqiyeh village. They also reportedly obliged him, under the threat of the gun, to remove the barbed wire surrounding his land. The landowner filed a complaint at the Bethlehem police station against the settlers action. The landowner said that he received clearance to plant his land from the Israeli authorities before he started planting. (Al-Tali'ah, 23 January 1986, Al-Fajr, 31 January 1986)

332. According to Al-Fajr, settlers of Arya'el and Yakeer had intensified their harassment against Arab residents of Deir Hareth and Istya. Settlers allegedly use weapons to threaten them, they also detain them and set fire in their fields. (Al-Fajr, 21 February 1986, Al-Tali'ah, 27 February 1986)

333. On 26 March 1986, it was reported that several Kiryat Arba settlers on 24 March 1986, after midnight, entered the Patriarchs' Cave in Hebron, knocked down wooden partitions between a synagogue and a mosque and desecrated Muslim prayer rugs by treading them while wearing shoes. They reportedly attacked soldiers and policemen who tried to evict them. Three settlers were finally arrested while others reportedly eluded the police. The three were released on bail later in the day. On 26 March 1986 Jewish settlers in Hebron held a noisy carnival procession in the centre of the town. (Ha'aretz, 27 March 1986; Jerusalem Post, 26 March 1986)

334. On 3 April 1986, it was reported that representatives of the Hebron Jewish settlers had requested the authorities to extend the validity of the order authorizing them to pray on Friday nights in a room situated in the Muslim section of the Patriarchs' Cave. The room, known as "Isaac's Tent", was reportedly used by Muslim worshippers as a mosque. (Ha'aretz, 3 April 1986)

335. On 10 April 1986, it was reported that the Gaza district council of Jewish settlements had decided to step up their struggle against the resettlement of 8,000 refugees from "Canada camp" in Sinai to Tel-Sultan, which is adjacent to the Jewish settlement of Rafiah-Yam. On 14 April, it was reported that the Tel-Sultan area had been declared closed military area following a rally held by Gaza district settlers on a hill overlooking the site to protest against the planned resettlement of refugees there. (Ha'aretz, 10, 11, 14 and 15 April 1986; Jerusalem Post, 16 April 1986)

336. On 13 April 1986, Kiryat Arba settlers reportedly warned residents of Hebron not to attend a Peace Now meeting due to be held in the town the next day. Settler sources said they would use all possible means to prevent the meeting from taking place. On 14 April, some 100 settlers set up road blocks on roads leading to Hebron in an attempt at preventing the participants in the Peace Now meeting from reaching the town. On 15 April, police detained several settlers, most of them from Kiryat Arba, who had reportedly rioted after the Peace Now meeting was over. (Ha'aretz, 14, 15, 16 and 17 April 1986; Jerusalem Post, 14 and 15 April 1986)

337. On 22 April 1986, it was reported that, in reaction to a decision by the Defence Minister Mr. Rabin not to approve the holding of a rally on 27 April 1986 to commemorate the eighteenth anniversary of Jewish settlement in Hebron, the Gush Emunim secretariat announced that if it could not have the decision cancelled by political means, the rally would be held even without a permission. The rally was planned to be held outside the Patriarch's Cave, with the participation of the Foreign Minister Mr. Yitzhak Shamir, but Mr. Rabin decided not to authorize the Gush Emunim rally and a counter-rally planned by Peace Now. On 28 April, it was reported that over 10,000 people had answered the Gush Emunim call to visit Hebron in a show of support for the settler movement. Gush Emunim organized the "tours" of Hebron following the Defence Minister's refusal to allow it to hold a rally in the town. A settler armed with a submachine-gun led a group of visitors to sites which, he said, proved that Jews had lived in the town in the past. (Ha'aretz, 22 April 1986; Jerusalem Post, 28 April 1986)

338. On 7 May 1986, during the late evening hours, some 100 settlers from Gaza Strip settlements set up tents on the site of the resettlement of Palestinian refugees from "Canada camp" to Tel-Sultan. The Council of Jewish settlements in the territories announced that the purpose of that settlement was to protest against the intended resettlement of Arab refugees in the area. The council called for an immediate extension of the Israeli law to the Gaza Strip. The IDF reportedly did not prevent the settlers from reaching the site. On 9 May, it was reported that during the night reinforced IDF troops had evacuated the settlers from the Tel-Sultan site. The evacuation operation was carried out without using force and the settlers were taken to the Rafah police station, where criminal files were opened against 32 of them, for illegally entering into a closed area. (Ha'aretz, 8 and 9 May 1986)

339. On 12 May 1986, it was reported that the security authorities had authorized the march planned by Gush Emunim to be held on Independence Day to commemorate the tenth anniversary of Jewish settlement in Samaria. The authorization was given on condition that the participants in the march undertook not to alight from their vehicles inside the town of Nablus and not to gather in large groups near Joseph's Tomb and near Tel-Balata, close to the Balata refugee camp. In addition to the march and visits the settlers were organizing a festive assembly in Eilon Moreh. On 15 May, it was reported that thousands of supporters had taken part in the Gush Emunim organized events. The tours and visits in the Nablus area gave rise to serious incidents in which several people were injured (see table of incidents). (Ha'aretz, 12 May 1986; Jerusalem Post, Ma'ariv, 15 May 1986)

340. On 2 June 1986, the Jerusalem police refused to allow Gush Emunim to hold a nocturnal march around the Temple Mount to mark Jerusalem Day on 5 June 1986. On 4 June, it was reported that the police authorized Gush Emunim to hold its march around the Temple Mount on condition that certain modifications in the itinerary were accepted. It was also agreed that at the end of the march a rally would be held at the northern area of the Mount of Olives. A Gush Emunim spokesperson, Daniela Weiss, told the Ha'aretz correspondent that her movement would hold "study tours" in Jewish sites in the Muslim quarter of the Old City. "We shall explain to the visitors that the name 'Muslim Quarter' is only provisional", she said, adding that Gush Emunim intended to mark Jerusalem Day yearly with similar operations. On 5 June, it was reported that the Jerusalem police had barred Gush Emunim from marching through the Muslim quarter. The Gush Emunim march coincided with Muslim prayers marking the last Friday of the Ramadan. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 3, 4 and 5 June 1986)

341. On 12 June 1986, a group of unauthorized settlers reportedly took over an empty structure overlooking Nablus. Spokesmen for the squatters said they moved in after the Defence Ministry refused them permission to spend the night of the Jewish holiday of Shavu'ot at Joseph's Tomb. On 16 June, IDF troops evicted four Gush Emunim squatters from the slopes of Mount Gerizim where they had put up tents. Military sources said the settlers packed their gear and left without incident after being ordered to evacuate the area. (Ha'aretz, 17 June 1986; Jerusalem Post, 15 and 17 June 1986)

342. On 1 July 1986, it was reported that the Hebron police had arrested for questioning several settlers, some of whom were activists of the Kach movement from Hebron and Kiryat Arba on suspicion of having set fire, several days earlier, to an Arab resident's car and having attempted to set fire to his home. The Hebron police reportedly continued its investigation. No suspects had so far been detained, although several Kach activists had been questioned. (Ha'aretz, 1 and 2 July 1986)

343. On 7 August 1986, a group of Kiryat Arba settlers allegedly attacked Abdul Rahim Jaber, aged 95. A large stone one settler allegedly hurled at him struck his head and passersby rushed him to a hospital in Hebron. (Al-Fajr, 14 August 1986)

344. On 7 August 1986, it was reported that some 200 Gush Emunim members who wanted to pray at the ancient synagogue in Jericho were prevented from reaching the site by IDF troops. Following the attempt the area was declared a closed military zone. On 8 August, it was reported that members of the Tehiya settlement group and Gush Emunim, accompanied by Knesset member Geula Cohen and Rabbi Moshe Levinger, had succeeded in getting through IDF roadblocks and reaching the vicinity of the Jericho synagogue. On 8 August, members of the Gush Emunim Jericho settlement group, led by Rabbi Moshe Levinger of Kiryat Arba, reportedly held prayers in the synagogue. An army spokesman said the group had camped out at the army roadblocks near the synagogue the previous night and was allowed into the synagogue the following day. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 7 and 8 August 1986; Jerusalem Post, 10 August 1986)

4. Treatment of detainees

345. Forty Palestinian prisoners, including 10 teenagers, detained in the Russian Compound at Jerusalem, reportedly decided to continue a hunger strike started on 21 July 1985 to protest poor living conditions in the prison. (Al-Tali'ah, 2 August 1985)

346. On 6 August 1985, it was reported that lawyer Lea Tsemel had filed a complaint with the head of the General Security Service and with the legal adviser of the West Bank civil administration, alleging that her client Khaled Mahmud Daleisha, a 31-year-old engineer from El-Bireh, had been tortured and beaten during his interrogation. (Ha'aretz, 6 August 1985)

347. The Jneid prison administration at Nablus reportedly opened a special section to house about 70 youths from different parts of the West Bank who were detained under administrative orders. (Al-Tali'ah, 12 September 1985)

348. It was reported that Palestinian women imprisoned at Neve Tertza on political charges were demanding separate quarters from criminal prisoners. (Al-Fajr, 13 September 1985)

349. On 26 September 1985, it was reported in the weekly Zu-Haderekh that the situation in the Ashkelon prison was extremely tense. According to the report on 11 September 1985, following the inmates' refusal to be counted while standing up, the prison authority allegedly set border guards at the inmates. The guards allegedly carried out "vindictive searches", confiscated objects from the inmates, beat them, used tear gas and denied the inmates food and water. Inmates who were injured from the beatings received medical treatment only two days later. Some 400 security prisoners from the territories were held in the Ashkelon gaol, according to the report, in conditions of extreme overcrowding. (Zu-Haderekh, 26 September 1985)

350. On 15 October 1985 it was reported that, according to advocates Felicia Langer and Lea Tsemel, 46 administrative detainees had gone on hunger strike four days earlier at the Nablus prison, to protest against the transfer of some of them to Beersheba prison. On 17 October 1985 dozens of women, mothers, sisters and wives of administrative detainees reportedly held a sit-in strike at the Red Cross offices at East Jerusalem, in protest against alleged ill-treatment and harsh prison conditions of the detainees. (Ha'aretz, 15 October 1985; Zu-Haderekh, 23 October 1985)

351. On 21 October 1985, Police Minister Haim Bar-Lev said after visiting the Gaza prison that the severe overcrowding in the prisons "forces us to consider releasing prisoners who are not leaders and who were not convicted of bloody crimes, who had already served most of their prison terms, so that more space is available for other prisoners". Police sources said that the release of security prisoners could be carried out gradually, after the security authorities confirmed that the released prisoners would not be a security risk. According to one report the density in Gaza prison was 1.8 square metres per prisoner, as compared to between 2.8 and 3.5 metres in Israeli prisons. There was insufficient room for beds in all the cells and, as a result, many slept on mattresses on the floor. In one instance 60 to 80 detainees were arrested one night and were kept in a cell so small there was only standing room for them. Some cells reportedly lacked showers and toilets. In the case of security prisoners who refused to go out to work prisoners were locked in their cells for more than 21 hours a day. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 22 October 1985)

352. On 5 November 1985, lawyer Jawad Boulos visited the section for juveniles in the Russian Compound, Jerusalem, where he met two boys - 14 and 12 and a half years old - who had been allegedly tortured during interrogation without confessing to any of the charges against them: demonstrating and manufacturing and throwing an incendiary bottle. (Al-Tali'ah, 7 November 1985)

353. On 10 November 1985, it was reported that 80 out of 90 administrative detainees from the territories had recently been transferred from prisons in the West Bank to the detention ward in the Beersheba prison. Mr. Shimon Malka, spokesman for the Prisons Service, said that the reason for the transfer was to try and improve the detainees' conditions and to overcome the problem of overcrowding. In a reply to a question as to whether the transfer was a violation of the Geneva Convention, Mr. Malka said that the Central Region Commander had enacted emergency regulations in the territories and, therefore, holding the detainees inside the boundaries of the State of Israel constituted no violation of the Geneva Convention. On 27 November 1985 the High Court of Justice reportedly ordered the military commanders of the West Bank and the Gaza Strip, and the prisons commissioner, to show cause within 30 days why they should not return 60 administrative detainees held at the Beersheba prison to prisons in the territories. In their petition the detainees argued that since they were residents of an occupied territory, Israel, the occupying Power, was barred from transferring them to its own territory. (Ha'aretz, 10 November 1985; Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 28 November 1985)

354. On 18 November 1985, lawyer Jawad Boulos was reported as saying that no reason had been provided for the confinement of administrative detainee Samir Sbeihat in isolation. Sbeihat, a former student council head at Bir Zeit University, had been held in isolation for nearly one month. (Al-Fajr, 22 November 1985)

355. It was reported that living conditions for Palestinian political detainees in Nafha prison, in the Negev desert, were extremely harsh. Prison authorities had reportedly stepped up provocative measures against inmates in Nafha and confiscated books in their possession. (Al-Tali'ah, 21 November 1985; Al-Fajr, 22 November 1985)

356. On 10 December 1985, it was reported that hundreds of security prisoners in the central prison at Nablus (Jneid) and in the Jenin prison were on a partial hunger strike over the previous week. On 11 December 1985 it was reported that some 1,500 security prisoners in Ashkelon gaol and in several West Bank gaols had been on a hunger strike the previous day, and that for some of them it was the sixth day without food. The existence of the hunger strike was confirmed on 10 December 1985 by a senior Red Cross official. According to one report the prisoners were protesting against an "iron-fist policy" allegedly introduced by the wardens following the release of 1,150 prisoners in May 1985. Their main complaints concerned humiliating practices they were submitted to, physical violence, overcrowded cells, bad living and health conditions, as well as the denial of the right to receive visits from their lawyers. The Prisons Commissioner told the lawyers that he would not give in on any demands concerning security arrangements, but that he was willing immediately to improve the quality of food and raise sanitation standards if the strike ended. On 13 December 1985 it was reported that the prisoners had suspended their strike the previous night. (Ha'aretz, 10 December 1985; Jerusalem Post, 11, 12 and 13 December 1985)

357. Palestinian detainees at Al-Fara'a detention centre reportedly launched a warning strike to be followed by an open hunger strike if their demands were not met. Their four major complaints concerned malnutrition, ill-treatment, lack of medical care and the detention of children in the same premises as adults. (Al-Ittihad, 20 December 1985)

358. On 25 December 1985, two security prisoners, Abu Khaled Sami Mussa and Azat Mahmud Zaki, both 19, were strangled to death in their cell in the Gaza central prison. On 30 December 1985 it was reported that two security prisoners serving life sentences had confessed to the murder. The two victims were reportedly suspected of collaboration with the authorities. Prisons Service Commissioner Rafi Suissa appointed a committee to inquire into the killing. (Jerusalem Post, Ma'ariv, 27 December 1985; Ha'aretz, 30 December 1985)

359. It was reported that prisoner Jibril Rajub from the village of Dura, Hebron district, has ended the opened hunger strike he started 40 days earlier after the prison authorities agreed to his demands. The demands included the permission to meet his lawyer and an end to intensive interrogation as well as physical and psychological torture. (Al-Tali'ah, 2 January 1986, see also A/AC.145/R.336, para. 21)

360. On 19 January 1986, Palestinian prisoners held in Al-Fara'a detention camp went on a one-day hunger strike to protest against malnutrition and lack of medical care. (Al-Tali'ah, 23 January 1986)

361. On 28 January 1986, it was reported that the IDF had decided to transfer, within one month, some 500 security prisoners from prisons in Israel to a military prison. The decision was reportedly taken due to the severe overcrowding in the civilian prisons. According to the report, with 8,200 criminals and security prisoners held in the civilian prisons, the overcrowding reached an unprecedented point, and the transfer of 500 security prisoners would alleviate the overcrowding. (Ha'aretz, 28 January 1986)

362. On 4 February 1986, the police commander in charge of the West Bank south of Shilo described prison conditions in his district. He said, at a meeting summarizing the Judea police activities in 1985, that detention cells in his district were not fit for human occupation. He said that the cells were designed for 36 detainees but, on average, 87 people were detained in them. (Jerusalem Post, 5 February 1986)

363. On 5 February 1986, the weekly magazine Zu-Haderekh reported several cases of alleged ill-treatment of Arab detainees. Hussam Abdul Rahman Othman from the Balata refugee camp, Ahmed Zaki al-Ariri from Jenin and Ayad Yusef Mahmud Salameh from Bidia complained, through Adv. Felicia Langer, of being badly beaten by their interrogators in Nablus and Jenin gaols. (Zu-Haderekh, 5 February 1986)

364. On 23 February 1986, a prisoner in Jenin prison, Walid Greifat, aged 25, from the Nur a-Shams refugee camp, was beaten and strangled to death in his cell by inmates who suspected him of collaboration. The prisoner was serving a one-year term for hostile terrorist activity. (Ha'aretz, 24 February 1986)

365. On 23 February 1986, a lawyer delegation from Gaza reportedly visited Kfar Yona prison and met prisoners there. Kfar Yona prisoners reportedly went on strike for two days in protest against the "unbearable crowdedness in gaol". Eighty-seven Palestinian political prisoners were transferred to Kfar Yona prison after the Israeli authorities reconverted it to a prison for political as well as criminal detainees. (Al-Fajr, 28 February 1986)

366. On 24 February 1986, it was reported that a group called Centre for Alternative Information and lawyers dealing with defending accused West Bank and Gaza residents, had prepared and published a report on the use of torture during interrogation of security detainees in the territories. According to the report there was a significant drop in the number of complaints of torture during interrogation in the years 1977-1984, but in the past year their number has again risen considerably. Adv. Lea Tsemel said in a press conference at Jerusalem that most of the complaints came from detainees who denied the charges against them. The report contained detailed complaints of 27 detainees. Most of the complaints concerned General Security Service interrogators. The situation in Gaza was, according to the report, worse than in the West Bank. (Ha'aretz, 24 February 1986)

367. On 28 February 1986, it was reported that following an application by seven Arab prisoners, the High Court of Justice ordered the director of the central prison of the West Bank, in Nablus, to improve conditions in the prison by creating employment for inmates and providing tables, so that inmates should not eat on the floor. After the three Supreme Court judges had visited and examined the detention conditions, they rejected the application. They nevertheless realized that the cells were overcrowded and that prisoners had to eat on the floor, since there were no tables in the cells. (Ha'aretz, Yediot Aharonot, 28 February 1986)

368. On 30 March 1986, it was reported that a student at the Al-Najah University had petitioned the High Court of Justice, asking it to order the military commander in the West Bank to stop torturing him. The petitioner, Hamza Ahmed Hussein Abu-Hafisa, from the village of Illar, in the Tulkarem area, said he was arrested on 17 March 1986 and held in the Jenin prison. He alleged that, during the first two days of his detention, he had been tortured. (Ha'aretz, 30 March 1986)

369. On 21 April 1986, it was reported that the High Court of Justice would hear, in a three-Justice bench, a petition by two Al-Najah University students who alleged that they had been tortured during their interrogation by General Security Service (GSS) agents. The applicants asked the High Court to instruct the authorities to refrain from torturing them and to release them from detention. (Ha'aretz, 21 April 1986)

370. On 23 April 1986, political prisoners in Hebron gaol reportedly suspended their hunger strike, which had lasted for eight days, after some of their demands were met. The prisoners' demands were principally aimed at putting an end to alleged brutality by prison guards and to collective punishment, and at improving detention conditions. (Al-Fajr, 25 April 1986)

371. On 7 May 1986, it was reported that a police staff sergeant-major from the Samaria sub-district had been charged in the police disciplinary court in Petah-Tikva with beating a prisoner with electric cords to force him to confess to a murder. (Jerusalem Post, 7 May 1986)

372. On 13 June 1986 it was reported that Samir Murad Ba'ba', 35, from Tulkarem, detained in Jenin prison pending trial on charges of membership in PFLP, was complaining of torture and being denied family visits. (Al-Fajr, 13 June 1986)

373. On 20 June 1986, Palestinian female prisoners in Neve Tirtza prison demonstrated, by shouting and destroying furniture following a scuffle between them and Israeli criminal female prisoners. A Palestinian detainee, Ilham Muhammad al-Qutub, was beaten by Israeli prisoners, and was later put in solitary confinement. The Palestinian prisoners also demonstrated against the transfer of five of them to solitary confinement in Abu-Kabir prison in Tel Aviv. Following the violent demonstration the prisoners were sprayed with tear gas, and were later made to sleep the night in the tear-gassed room. The next day the Palestinian female prisoners at Neve Tirtza went on a two-day hunger strike. (Ha'aretz, Ma'ariv, Yediot Aharonot, 24 June 1986; Ma'ariv, 25 June 1986; Al-Fajr, 27 June 1986)

374. On 26 June 1986, it was reported that Adv. Walid al-Fahoum, head of the legal department of the Prisoners' Friends Committee, had submitted a report on prison conditions in Jneid and Kfar Yona gaols. According to the report Palestinian prisoners in both prisons were severely beaten and tear-gassed in mid-June 1986. Several of the prisoners' leaders were put in solitary confinement. At the source of the unrest were prisoners' protests against overcrowding, bad conditions and transfers of prisoners to other prisons. Prisoners in Kfar Yona also protested against the administration's refusal to allow them to pray together on the Al-Adha Muslim holiday, and to allow inmates in various sections to visit each other on the holiday occasion. (Al-Fajr, 27 June 1986)

375. On 27 June 1986, it was reported that Palestinian political detainees in Beersheba prison had sent a letter to the local press the previous week, alleging that they were attacked in their cells by Israeli soldiers. They were allegedly tear-gassed, clubbed and beaten harshly. Many were locked in solitary confinement and the personal belongings of others were destroyed or confiscated. The attacks reportedly followed protest actions by the prisoners in order to obtain improved conditions. (Al-Fajr, 27 June 1986)

376. On 3 August 1986, the High Court of Justice decided that Prisons Service officials were authorized to hold an inmate in solitary confinement "in order to ensure that individual's safety", even though he may be prepared to take his chances in a general prison wing. The decision came in response to a petition filed by a West Bank Arab at Nablus prison. The State argued that the prisoner, who had co-operated with authorities in the past, would be harmed by terror organizations operating within the prison, and should therefore be kept apart. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 4 August 1986)

377. On 21 August 1986, representatives of prisoners' families from the Hebron jail demonstrated outside the Red Cross offices at Jerusalem to protest against the conditions prevailing in that prison and in sympathy with the inmates who were reportedly on hunger strike since 18 August 1986. The prisoners were striking in protest over several recent measures taken by the prison authorities: holding security prisoners together with criminal prisoners in the new wing opened in the Hebron jail; use of violence and torture against the inmates, bad food, confiscation of a special delivery of candy to the inmates on the occasion of the Id al-Adha holiday and shortening visiting time from 30 to 10 minutes. A spokesman for the Prisons Service denied that there was a hunger strike at Hebron jail and said he was not aware of the problems mentioned by the prisoners' families. According to one report the prisoners were also protesting against the lack of drinking water. Hot water for bathing was non-existent, prisoners were denied any medical treatment and were also subject to arbitrary attacks by the guards and frequent attacks with tear gas in their cells. They were also allegedly denied the right to pray together and to meet together for congratulations on the feast. (Ha'aretz, 21 August 1986; Al-Fajr, 22 August 1986)

5. Annexation and settlements

(see sect. IV.C, paras. 77 and 78 above)

(a) Policy

378. On 25 November 1985, it was reported that Meron Benvenisti said at a press conference that most of the Jewish settlements in the West Bank were too weak to sustain themselves, and that if the Government stopped supporting them they would collapse. According to the West Bank Data Base Project, the number of settlers in the West Bank increased by 10,000 over the past year and at present reached 52,000. The increase was mostly in settlements close to Tel Aviv or Jerusalem. Three-quarters of the settlers lived within 20 kms of Jerusalem, or within a 40-minute drive from the Tel Aviv area. Benvenisti said that the 52 settlements established by Gush Emunim, with a population of some 10,000 settlers, stagnated over the past year. Benvenisti found that the Government was spending large amounts on keeping the settlements going. According to Benvenisti, if the present rate of settlement should continue, the forecast of 100,000 Jewish settlers in the West Bank by the end of the decade should remain unaltered. On 27 November 1985, it was reported that the Gush Emunim rejected Dr. Benvenisti's findings as "distorted and erroneous". There were at present 62,000 Jewish settlers in the West Bank, and not 52,000, and the potential for more settlers was not weakening. The decline in construction was similar to the one felt in other parts of the country, and 19 new settlements were established recently in tough locations, peopled by "ideologically motivated" groups, numbering some 150 families. These settlements are: Beit-Hagai, Maaleh-Levona, Eli, Yitzhar, Peduel, Nahliel, Sanur, Rafiah-Yam and Netzarim. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, Ma'ariv, 25 November 1985; Ha'aretz, 27 November 1985)

379. On 30 December 1985, the Knesset Finance Committee approved a budget of IS 5 billion (approximately $3.5 million) for settlement in the territories, following an agreement between the representatives of the Alignment and Likud and the Committee chairman. (Ha'aretz, 31 December 1985)

380. On 10 January 1986, it was reported that, according to a study by Michael Romann published earlier in the week by the West Bank Data Base Project headed by Dr. Meron Benvenisti, the future development area of Kiryat Arba would totally surround Hebron, and would be larger than the entire municipal area of jurisdiction of the Arab town. The process of locating state-owned lands for Kiryat Arba was still under way. When completed, it could reach 4,000 to 6,000 dunams, allowing for the construction of 5,000 housing units - including the existing flats - and for a population of 21,000. According to the study, there were at present 3,000 Jews in Kiryat Arba and Hebron, and some 6,000 Arabs in Hebron. According to the plan, all the State-owned lands within that area were designed for Jewish construction; access and connection roads, would reportedly be expropriated from their Arab owners. The Arab areas within that zone would be restricted for farming, open areas or future development, and urban construction there would be prohibited. In a related development, the Committee for the Renewal for Jewish Settlement in Hebron published a blue-print providing for the seizure of 70 dunams of formerly Jewish property inside Hebron, in the sites of the wholesale market, bus terminal and Tel-Rumeida. Under the plan 500 flats would be built in that area, with a Jewish population of 3,000. At a later stage, the plan proposed to connect the three sites inside the old town (Hadassa House, Romano House and "Abraham the Patriarch" compound), by buying or expropriating lands, and to create a continuous Jewish settlement similar in its dimensions to the Jewish quarter in the old city of Jerusalem. As a long-term plan it was proposed to connect the Jewish quarters with the Patriarchs' Cave through the Casbah of Hebron. (Ha'aretz, 10 January 1986)

381. On 14 January 1986, the Minister of Energy and Infrastructure, Moshe Shahal, told members of the Jordan Valley local council that the Jordan Valley would remain part of the State of Israel in any future arrangement with Jordan. (Ha'aretz, 15 January 1986)

382. On 15 January 1986, the Minister of Housing and Construction, David Levy, told a meeting of his Herut movement, held at Maaleh-Adumim, that 13 new settlements would be set up in the West Bank and the Gaza Strip during 1986. Finance Minister Yitzhak Modai said at the meeting that the national unity government had to set up 27 new settlements during its term of office, according to the coalition agreement. (Ha'aretz, 16 January 1986)

383. On 27 March 1986, the Central Bureau of Statistics released figures on changes in the population in the State and in the territories. The number of Jewish settlers in the territories increased by 4,800 in 1985, bringing the total to 42,000. (Jerusalem Post, 28 March 1986)

(b) Measures

384. On 6 August 1985, the head of the Jewish Agency's Settlement Department, Mattityahu Drobles, said that the Migdalim settlement, south-east of Nablus, bordering on the Jordan Valley region, would be set up on 1 September 1985. The second of the six settlements that would be created, Neot-Adumim, had its infrastructure under construction, while the remaining four settlements, Peles, Assa'el, Beitar and Avney-Hefetz, were still being planned. (Ha'aretz, 7 August 1985)

385. On 6 August 1985, the secretary-general of Gush Emunim, Daniela Weiss, told the Jerusalem Post that Gush Emunim leaders had concluded that their movement must pass from the stage of spreading out over the area to the stage of strengthening its hold over it. Accordingly, it was decided that Eli, a small new settlement on the Nablus-Ramallah road, should be turned into a full-fledged town. The expansion of Eli should be followed, according to the Gush Emunim planners, by the development of Eilon Moreh, Brakha and Kiryat Arba. On 2 October 1985 the cornerstone-laying ceremony of Eli took place. According to the report the Gush Emunim planned there a town of 2,000 families. Speaking at the ceremony Deputy Prime Minister David Levy said that 8 new settlements had been set up in the West Bank over the past year, and 8 more should be set up in the coming year. Some 6,000 housing units were being built at present. David Levy added that some 250 families were expected to live in Eli initially. At present, only 12 families reportedly lived in the settlement. (Jerusalem Post, 8 August and 3 October 1985)

386. The Israeli Military Objection Committee at Ramallah rejected a petition by Mr. Mohammed al-Nabahin of Ta'amreh village against the confiscation of his 12-dunam plot near Bethlehem. (Al-Fajr, 9 August 1985)

387. On 13 August 1985, it was reported that a police investigation was under way into some 200 complaints by Arab landowners in the West Bank, who maintained that their signatures had been forged on purchase documents and their land had been sold without their knowledge. Some also claimed their land was taken from them through threats, force and extortion. Deputy state attorney, Plia Albeck, the Justice Ministry's expert on West Bank land, reportedly forbade - following the uncovering of several cases of illegally conducted land deals in the area - land sales by Israelis in areas unapproved for settlement, but private entrepreneurs and contracting companies continued to sell land, apparently with political backing from certain quarters (such as the Agriculture Ministry, when Ariel Sharon was Minister and Michael Dekel was his Deputy). It was reported that two more West Bank dealers were arrested in the first week of September 1985, as police continued to investigate land fraud on the West Bank. Thus far, 10 people had been arrested in connection with the case, including two Israeli lawyers - Mr. Uri Ben Yehuda and Mr. Sami Me'olam - and West Bank land dealer Ahmed Odeh. It was also reported that despite police requests, Tel Aviv District Court Judge Hamrah Sharon released three of the principal suspects in the case from police custody. They were suspected of forging signatures on land deeds. Three of them were released on IS 5 million (approximately $3,335) bail each after spending the previous 45 days in detention. On 24 October 1985, new fraudulent deals were discovered after investigation into fraud cases was halted by Israeli authorities. On 10 January 1986 it was reported that nearly two dozen Arabs from Nablus and surrounding villages were being held by police on suspicion of falsifying documents related to the West Bank land-fraud investigation. The police had reportedly questioned the suspects for 14 days but had not yet charged them. It was learnt that formal charges would be brought against only four or five of the suspects. The Arabs had complained to police and the Israel Lands Administration that their land was wrongly taken from them and that they were forced to sell their property under threats, but according to information in the hands of the police, the Arabs had falsified documents in order to show that the land sales were "fraudulent". (Jerusalem Post, 13 August 1985 and 10 January 1986; Al-Fajr, 6 September 1985; Al-Tali'ah, 24 October 1985)

388. On 28 August 1985, it was reported that the Planning Department of the Jerusalem Municipality had prepared a detailed plan for the expropriation of the south-eastern slopes of the Temple Mount, at present owned by the Waqf. According to the report the plan was not submitted to the local Planning Commission, as it was feared that a political storm could arise, after the Waqf had learned of the plan and threatened to create an "international scandal". Sources in the Jerusalem Municipality, who admitted that such a plan did exist, argued that an expropriation of the area would have had no practical repercussions, since the area, which was at present an archaeological garden, would have remained such a garden, and only its ownership would have been changed. (Ha'aretz, 28 August 1985)

389. On 3 September 1985, it was reported that farmers from the villages of Surif and Jaba, south of the Etzion bloc, recently complained that Kfar Etzion settlers had been preventing them access to an area of 2,000 dunams of farming land that they claimed was theirs for many generations. The farmers were allegedly told by the settlers that the area was State-owned. It was also reported that the assignment of the area would be decided only after the decision to declare it State-land was confirmed. (Ha'aretz, 3 September 1985)

390. On 1 October 1985, it was reported that 200 Jews lived at present in the Muslim Quarter of Jerusalem's Old City, both in houses bought from Arabs and houses that formerly belonged to Jews. (Ha'aretz, 1 October 1985)

391. Israeli authorities reportedly confiscated vast areas of land belonging to the village of Yasuf in the Nablus area for the purpose of expanding the nearby Tafuah settlement. According to the report, 200 dunams were already confiscated in the village for the same purpose. (Al-Fajr, 11 October 1985)

392. A number of Jewish zealots allegedly attempted to seize Arab land in Ras el-Amoud in Jerusalem, claiming graves existed on the 15-dunam plot. (Al-Fajr, 25 October 1985)

393. On 5 November 1985, it was reported that the Investment Committee of the Ministry of Tourism had approved the construction of a hotel in the West Bank settlement of Kedumim. The hotel, the first in the West Bank to be approved by the Commission, would cost $1,000,000. (Ha'aretz, 5 November 1985)

394. Hebron's military governor reportedly notified the Mukhtars of Arab al-Ramadin near Dhahiriya of the decision to confiscate a 15,000-dunam plot extending from Arab al-Ramadin to Wadi al-Khalil. The land was surveyed a week earlier. (Al-Fajr, 8 November 1985)

395. Israeli bulldozers began working on land belonging to the village of Sur Baher, south of Jerusalem, following a decision to confiscate the 1,000-dunam plot. (Al-Fajr, 15 November 1985)

396. According to a report appearing in the Al-Quds newspaper of 15 November 1985, bulldozers have begun digging up a 130-dunam plot south of Nezarim settlement in the northern part of the Gaza Strip. (Al-Fajr, 22 November 1985)

397. On 24 November 1985, it was reported that the IDF on 22 November 1985 prevented some 40 members of the "Jericho nucleus" from settling in the Jericho area. The nucleus members, residents of Kiryat Arba and yeshiva students, intended to settle in an area where ruins of a sixth-century Jewish synagogue were discovered. Security sources said the nucleus members would not be authorized to settle in that area. The IDF stopped the nucleus members at a road-block and took them to a military camp several kilometres away. Ten members reportedly left the army camp and reached the site of the synagogue but they were forced to leave and two of them were arrested. On 26 November 1985, it was reported that another attempt to settle at the Jericho synagogue site was foiled by the army. On 8 December 1985, soldiers and border guards foiled an attempt, the third in one month, to establish a settlement at the ruins of an ancient Jewish synagogue north of Jericho. The settlers, members of a movement called the Faithful of the Land of Israel, stated that the attempts at settling in the area would continue. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 24, 26 and 27 November 1985; 9 December 1985)

398. Seven farmers from Ubaidiyah village in the Bethlehem area were reportedly to go on trial before an Israeli military court on charges of working on their land without permission from military authorities. They were accused of violating article 34 of the 1966 law of organization of cities, villages and buildings by opening a road blocked by authorities in preparation for establishing a new settlement. (Al-Fajr, 29 November 1985)

399. On 1 December 1985, nine families of Ethiopian Jews, totalling some 50 persons, were transferred to Maaleh-Adumim. The Housing and Absorption Ministries reportedly planned to settle some 40 families in Kiryat Arba. (Ha'aretz, 2 December 1985)

400. On 2 December 1985, the inauguration was reported of a new road linking the Jordan Valley to the coastal plain. At the inauguration ceremony Deputy Prime Minister David Levy said that the road had a "political significance" and was therefore given a special priority - so as to remove any doubt regarding the future. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 3 December 1985)

401. On 19 December 1985, Gush Emunim created a fund for redeeming lands, whose objective is to raise contributions and funds in Israel and abroad in order to "redeem lands, particularly in Judea, Samaria and the Gaza district". (Ha'aretz, 20 December 1985)

402. It was reported that an eight-dunum plot belonging to Mr. Musa Ayyad has been confiscated by the Israeli authorities in the village of Sharfat in the Jerusalem area. The land was reportedly given to the Israeli Keren Kayaimet, which started uprooting Mr. Ayyad's olive trees. (Al-Fajr, 20 December 1985)

403. Israeli forces reportedly seized about 2,000 square metres of land near Natzarin settlement (Gaza Strip). The reason given for the seizure was to expand the intersection. The land was owned by the al-Ashram and the Attalah families. (Al-Fajr, 20 December 1985)

404. On 9 January 1986, Israeli military authorities reportedly confiscated hundreds of dunams of Samu' village near Hebron. (Al-Fajr, 17 January 1986)

405. On 20 January 1986, Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of Housing and Construction, David Levy, inaugurated the renovated Hadassa House at Hebron. In the renovation works apartments were built for 11 families, and rooms were set aside for a synagogue and a dormitory for pupils of the yeshiva at the nearby Romano House. An adjacent house, called Hasson House, would also be renovated to accommodate five families (at present three families lived there) and a yeshiva. The main project involved the "Jewish Courtyard", also known as the Abraham the Patriarch compound. According to the plan, low-rise buildings would be built that would blend in with the Arab structures in the area. On 12 February 1986, it was reported that 11 Jewish families from Jerusalem and Kiryat Arba would move shortly into new apartments prepared for them in the Hadassa building in the centre of Hebron. The industrial zone would provide jobs for settlers in the 11 settlements located in the region. Mr. Sharon also announced that he intended to set up a 60-dunam site for high-technology industries in Porcelaine Hill, near Kiryat Arba. On 23 June 1986, it was reported that the High Court of Justice had issued an interim injunction prohibiting the authorities from confiscating a 46-dunam Arab-owned plot to an Israeli settlement north of Rafah. The land was levelled in April 1986 in preparation for the confiscation. Reports also continued about land-levelling works in other areas in the Gaza Strip: some 102 dunams were being levelled near the Amer project, and 22 dunams near Netzarim. Gaza residents reportedly claimed they had documents proving their legal ownership of the lands. (Al-Fajr, 27 June 1986)

421. Land levelling works already started on the site, giving rise to clashes between local residents and security personnel. The creation of the industrial complex was proposed on 20 May 1986 by Minister of Trade and Industry Ariel Sharon. The four families owning the lands, situated in an area known as Beit-Inoun, reportedly had documents proving their legal ownership. In another development it was reported that the military objections committee had concluded earlier in the week that the authorities had erred in confiscating a 400-dunam plot owned by Palestinians near Yatta, south of Hebron. The committee advised the authorities, who declared the land State property, to return it to its owners. It also advised the authorities to return 400 dunams out of a 1,000-dunam plot near Surif, in the Hebron area, to its owners. (Al-Fajr, 27 June 1986)

The offices of the association were transferred to the Hadassa building. (Ha'aretz, 2 July 1986)

The Dheisheh by-pass was planned to link the Etzion bloc area with south Jerusalem. The civil administration had announced its intention to expropriate many plots of land belonging to Khader residents. The appeal committee, which rejected the appeal, explained to the villagers that they would be compensated for damages caused to their plants and trees but not for the loss of their lands, since the expropriation was being carried out for "public needs". The villagers were given three weeks to submit an alternative plan. The head of the local council said he intended to take the case to the High Court of Justice. (Ha'aretz, 10 July 1986)

424. On 4 August 1986, the military court at Ramallah ruled to cancel a four-year-old decision by the military authorities to confiscate a 168-dunam plot south of Tulkarem, which they intended to annex to the nearby settlement of Yakir. The three families owning the land - Jaber, Moqbel and Rayyan - will have the land returned to them. (Al-Fajr, 8 August 1986)

425. On 21 August 1986, the military authorities declared an area of about 3,000 dunams state land. The area was reportedly situated near the villages of Biddu and Surta, in the Tulkarem district. The authorities gave the landowners 45 days to contest the confiscation. The area in question had been allegedly fraudulently bought by Israeli real-estate companies. (Al-Fajr, 22 August 1986)

431. It was reported that the Arab population of the Israeli-occupied Golan Heights called upon the United Nations to send a commission of inquiry to investigate the "intolerable conditions under which the Golan Arabs live". A letter dated 2 December 1985 was sent to the Secretary-General of the United Nations calling upon the international community to act immediately and to pass laws to help lift the "injustice, suppression and oppression" from which this population suffer. The letter reported cited some of the oppressive measures, foremost among which is the problem of income tax. According to some allegations, tax collectors have raided homes and shops, confiscating furniture and agricultural equipment. They also allegedly opened fire on people who refused to obey orders and imprisoned those who dared to ask why such measures were being taken against them. (Al-Fajr, 6 December 1985)

432. On 17 February 1986, it was reported that the police had detained, over the weekend, 7 Druze residents of Majdal Shams and Bukata, on the Golan, on suspicion of disturbing public peace. In demonstrations held to mark the fifth anniversary of Israeli extension of its law and administration to the Golan, hundreds of Druze residents waved Syrian flags, sang Syrian national songs and expressed solidarity with the Syrian régime. Many Syrian Druze arrived at the Syrian side of the border and participated in the demonstrations. On 27 February 1986, it was reported that police had arrested a further 18 Druze residents of Golan villages on suspicion of rioting and injuring policemen during Prime Minister Shimon Peres's visit to Majdal Shams on 25 February 1986. According to the report these arrests brought the total number of Druze detainees following the rioting to 47, including some minors. On 18 March 1986, it was reported that 16 of the detainees had been released on bail, the previous day, by order of the district court in Nazareth. They were told not to leave their villages without police permission and not to leave their homes from the early evening hours until the morning; they were also prohibited from taking part in any gathering. Another two detainees were remanded in custody until their trial. These two were reportedly charged with assaulting policemen. On 28 March 1986, it was reported that the Supreme Court had ruled that five of the detainees who had earlier been released on bail by the district court in Nazareth could be remanded until the end of the legal proceedings against them. (Ha'aretz, 4, 18 and 28 March 1986; Jerusalem Post, 28 March 1986)

434. On 12 March 1986, it was reported that police had, over the past year, seized what was described as "an enormous quantity" of sabotage materials in the Druze villages of the Golan Heights. Most of those involved were reportedly arrested and would be put on trial. (Ha'aretz, 12 March 1986)

435. On 20 March 1986, income-tax authorities carried out an early morning raid on a fruit-packing plant in the Golan Druze village of Majdal Shams. The plant's owners were accused of refusing to submit reports to the income-tax authorities for the past six years. Following that operation a general strike was proclaimed on 21 March 1986 in the Golan Druze villages and disturbances were reported. According to local residents the Israeli authorities embarked on a harassment campaign against them following the rioting in Majdal Shams during the visit by Prime Minister Peres. (Jerusalem Post, 21 March 1986; Yediot Aharonot, 23 March 1986)

437. On 17 April 1986, over 700 policemen and border guards prevented, by their presence in the four Golan Druze villages, the marking and celebration of the Syrian independence day. Several improvised demonstrations were nevertheless held in Majdal Shams and Ein Kinia, but the public order was maintained. (Ha'aretz, 18 April 1986)

438. On 19 April 1986, a magistrate's court in Zefat, northern Israel, extended by 12 days the detention of Fahed Safadi, aged 18, a Golan Druze suspected of having organized an illegal demonstration on the Syrian independence day. Three other youths from the Golan village of Ein Kinia were also detained for 12 days for participation in an illegal demonstration. (Ma'ariv, 20 April 1986)

439. Defence Minister Itzhak Rabin said on 22 April 1986 that Israel's aim now was to develop and build up the Golan Heights, as an answer to the loud voices and threats emanating from the Syrian Arab Republic. "We want to live in peace and not in war here", he declared. "Our way of reacting to the extremist speeches is to practise restraint, to build and to act, thus making clear we want peace, not war." (Ha'aretz, 23 April 1986)

440. On 21 May 1986, it was reported that the military court at Lod had passed prison sentences of 27 years on five Druze residents of Majdal Shams, convicted of attempting to kidnap a soldier and holding contacts with Syrian agents. Four other members of the group, also from Majdal Shams, were given prison sentences ranging from 7 to 12 years for their part in the case. The eight youths, aged 16 to 21, were all holders of Israeli identity cards. In a related development it was reported that the trial was under way at the Nazareth District Court of 18 Druze residents of the Golan Heights accused of rioting and stoning policemen during a visit to their villages by Prime Minister Peres, two months earlier. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, Ma'ariv, 21 May 1986)

Yasser Sabra, aged 21; Ziad Bathish, aged 20; and Ma'mun Sabag, aged 19, were each sentenced to five years' imprisonment. The three were captured by soldiers of the South Lebanon Army on their way back from the Syrian Arab Republic to the Golan. (Ha'aretz, 16 July 1986)

444. On 16 July 1986, the Nazareth district court convicted 13 youths, aged 18 to 25, from Majdal Shams on the Golan, of rioting during the visit to their village by Prime Minister Shimon Peres in February 1986. The youths were sentenced to prison terms ranging from three to six months. In another development, it was reported that two Druze residents of Mas'ada had been arrested on suspicion of having hoisted Syrian flags over the sports club in their village. The two were named as Shaer Saber, aged 26, and Safdi Salim, aged 18. They were remanded for eight days for further investigation. (Ma'ariv, 17 July 1986)

445. On 10 August 1986, the Supreme Court rejected an appeal by 14 Golan Druze residents against their sentence. They had been sentenced by the Nazareth district court to prison terms of three and six months on charges of participation in an illegal demonstration. (Al-Fajr, 14 August 1986)

446. On 25 August 1986, it was reported that an announcement by the Ministry of the Interior that the Golan Druze residents were included in the voters register for the Knesset had provoked anger in the Golan Druze villages. At an emergency meeting held in Majdal Shams it was decided to send a letter to Interior Minister, Rabbi Yitzhak Peretz, informing him that the Golan Druze residents did not consider themselves to be Israeli citizens. It was also decided to petition the High Court of Justice for an order forcing the Ministry of the Interior to cancel the registration of the Golan Druze residents in the voters register. (Yediot Aharonot, 25 August 1986)

7. Incidents

The Temple Mount incidents

447. On 8 January 1986, a group of two dozen Israelis, including five Knesset members, visited the Temple Mount area, in the old city of Jerusalem. The visit, described by a senior police officer as a "courtesy visit", had been arranged in co-ordination with the Ministry of Religious Affairs and the Muslim Waqf, in order to permit the Knesset Interior Committee to examine complaints of illegal Muslim construction in the site. Only three members of the Knesset committee took part in the visit: its chairman, Dov Shilanski (Herut), Ovadia Eli and Jacques Amir - the only Labour Party committee member to have participated. Knesset members Geula Cohen and Yuval Neeman, who were not members of the Knesset Committee, came along, together with other right-wing activists such as Avi Farhan and Gershon Salomon - who heads a group called the Faithful of the Temple Mount, responsible for repeated attempts at organizing Jewish public prayers on the Mount. About 20 border-guards and policemen accompanied the group. After a visit to the Al-Aqsa mosque, which passed without incident, the group went to nearby underground halls known as Solomon's Stables. There, Muslim guards and Arab workmen prevented the group from entering the place with cameras. Knesset members Cohen and Shilanski who tried to force their way in were allegedly punched and beaten. Meanwhile hundreds of Arabs gathered around the group responding to a call by the muezzin, from the top of the minaret to come and defend the mosque. Police closed the gates to the Temple Mount to prevent more Arabs from entering, and used tear gas and baton charges in order to extricate the Knesset members from the area. One Arab youth reportedly fainted as a result of the tear gas. Knesset member Shilanski announced that he intended to complete the visit in the afternoon, but Knesset speaker Shelomo Hillel prohibited any visits by the Interior Committee. Police Minister Haim Bar-Lev ordered Police Inspector-General David Kraus personally to supervise an investigation into the disturbance, following the Committee members' complaints of "police negligence" and Waqf complaints of "provocation". On 9 January 1986 Minister of Industry Ariel Sharon made a 20-minute visit to the Temple Mount and declared that Jews and Arabs had to learn to cohabit in that place. In another incident, a group of Israeli youths, reportedly supporters of the Tehiya Party, waved an Israeli flag and sang the

Israeli national anthem on the Mount. Border guards evicted them and they were taken to a police van to be questioned. Charge sheets would be filed against them for disturbing the public peace. On 14 January 1986, a group of Knesset members, members of the Knesset Interior Committee and others made a return visit to the Temple Mount. Reporters and photographers were barred from accompanying the group, by decision of Police Minister Haim Bar-Lev. Immediately upon entering the Temple Mount, Committee chairman Dov Shilanski told the Knesset members that Gershon Shafat - a Gush Emunim leader who took part in the visit - wished to recite a prayer. At the same time, Knesset member Rabbi Waldman (Tehiya) took out a book of psalms and read from it aloud. Knesset members Shulamit Aloni and Yossi Sarid (Civil Rights Movement) started shouting "this is a provocation", demanding that the prayers be stopped. They then decided to leave the tour, in protest against the prayers. Waqf officials who at the beginning refrained from intervening, at that point also demanded that the prayers be stopped, calling them a provocation. They were joined by some 150 Arabs, mostly local residents and striking Bir Zeit University students who reportedly tried to break through the tight police cordon around the Knesset members. Police used tear gas to disperse them and accompanied the Knesset members to Solomon's Stables, where Arab youths blocked the entrance. The head of the Supreme Islamic Council, Sheikh Saad ed-Din al-Alami told Southern District Police Commander Rahamim Comfort that, due to the public prayer by the Knesset members he decided to prohibit the Knesset members from continuing their visit and entering Solomon's Stables. Comfort then warned Shilanski that, while the police were prepared to force the gates of the Stables open, after they were locked by the Waqf, such an action may result in bloodshed. Meanwhile, hundreds of local worshippers on the Mount chanted hostile slogans, and outside the Mount, at the Majlis Gate, police used force and tear gas to disperse some 150 rioters who wanted to force their way into the Mount. At around 11 a.m. the Knesset members were taken to a police post at the entrance to the Mount and, after a 25-minute discussion voted (by a majority of 8 votes to 3) to discontinue the visit and not to insist on entering Solomon's Stables. In the course of the incident 17 demonstrators were arrested. Police later said that the Knesset members' decision to withdraw had prevented a riot of "disastrous proportions". A general business strike was held in East Jerusalem throughout the day. On 30 January 1986, it was reported that 14 Arabs would be put on trial following the rioting on the Temple Mount during the visit to the place by the Knesset Interior Committee. During the day of the visit 32 persons were arrested, of whom 19 were detained for further questioning. The 14 who would stand trial would be charged with illegal gathering, stone-throwing and taking part in a violent demonstration. Two Gaza Strip residents were also suspected of trying to snatch a weapon from a border guard. Meanwhile, all the suspects were released on bail. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 9, 10 and 15 January 1986; Ha'aretz, 30 January 1986)

448. On 19 January 1986, 12 Kach Party members were arrested when they tried to force their way through the Muqrabi Gate after Waqf authorities refused them entry to the Temple Mount. The group came with Israeli flags and placards reading: "No place for Arabs on Jewish holy grounds". Two of the 12 were reportedly expected to be charged the next day with disturbing the peace and resisting arrests. The other 10 were released after questioning. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, 20 January 1986)

449. On 20 January 1986, the Director-General of the Jerusalem Municipal Council, Aharon Sarig, told the Knesset Interior Committee that allegations of unlicensed construction work on the Temple Mount were unfounded. Municipal inspectors reported that the only works carried out on the Mount were plastering and painting in Solomon's Stables, and paving near the Golden Gate; such works did not require a building permit. Sarig said he knew of nothing to substantiate allegations that the Muslims had built new prayer pulpits on the Temple Mount during the past year. Police Inspector-General David Kraus told the Committee that in the wake of a High Court ruling, the police did not permit Jewish prayer on the Temple Mount, but if an individual Jew wanted to pray he could do so, as long as his prayer did not take demonstrative form. Another speaker, Deputy Attorney-General Yoram Bar-Sela, told the Committee: "the laws of the State of Israel, including the Building and Planning Law, and the Antiquities Law, are all in force on the Temple Mount". (Jerusalem Post, 21 January 1986)

450. On 30 January 1986, the Sephardi Chief Rabbi Mordekhai Eliyahu told a delegation of members of the "Temple Mount Faithful" that a synagogue should be built on the south-eastern or north-eastern corner of the Temple Mount, and that such a synagogue should be "taller than the mosques". While Knesset member Geula Cohen praised the Chief Rabbi for his declaration, Knesset member Yossi Sarid tabled an urgent motion for the agenda to discuss it. (Yediot Aharonot, 31 January 1986)

451. On 14 August 1986, four Tehiya Knesset members, Geula Cohen, Yuval Neeman, Rafael Eitan and Gershon Shafat, visited the Temple Mount. They were accompanied by some 80 policemen. The Knesset members visited Solomon's Stables, the underground Crusader structure located under the Al-Aqsa mosque, which they had unsuccessfully attempted to visit in February 1986. The head of the Supreme Muslim Council, Sheikh Saad ed-Din al-Alami, said after the visit that he had agreed to it and that anyone who wanted to visit the site was welcome. Reacting to declarations on Jewish sovereignty on the Temple Mount, Sheikh al-Alami said that the site was, and would remain, a Muslim mosque. Earlier in the day police prevented two groups of "Temple Mount Faithful" members from entering the site. (Ha'aretz, Jerusalem Post, Yediot Aharonot, 15 August 1986)

452. The Special Committee followed the situation in the occupied territories according to the information before it, including reports of incidents appearing in the press during the period covered by the report. In the table reproduced hereunder a representative cross-section of these reports is given; the list is not to be considered exhaustive as it is intended to reflect the frequency, location and type of such events. The "remarks" column is meant to assist in clarifying the context of such reports. Certain periods are not subject to tabulation but are reflected in a summary; this is due to the intensity of reports that would have taken up considerable volume to list individually.
