III. Resources to be funded through extrabudgetary sources (Habitat III Trust Fund) for the period 2014–2016

4. By paragraph 13 of its resolution 67/216, the General Assembly decided to establish a trust fund for Habitat III. It urged international and bilateral donors as well as the private sector, financial institutions, foundations and other donors to support the preparations for the conference through voluntary contributions to the trust fund.
5. The Habitat III Trust Fund is operational and administered in conformity with the Financial Regulations and Rules of the United Nations, outlined in Secretary-General's Bulletin ST/SGB/2013/4, the general policies prescribed in Secretary-General's Bulletin ST/SGB/199 and the procedures defined in administrative instruction ST/AI/284.
6. In order to have a qualitative and efficient preparatory process, the extrabudgetary requirements have been estimated at approximately $14 million, once the modalities, including the venue and the duration, of the third session of the Preparatory Committee for Habitat III have been defined.

IV. Habitat III appeal: how to support the preparatory process

7. Focusing on the areas outlined in the table and the figure below, Habitat III will result in a concise, focused, forward-looking and action-oriented outcome document.
8. The preliminary budget estimate required to support an innovative and inclusive preparatory process and Conference, through cash or in-kind contributions from member States or organizations, is estimated at $14 million. Final budget details will be provided after the final decisions on the modalities and arrangements for the full preparatory process and the Conference have been made.
9. Contributions can be provided to support the planning and strategic work of the Habitat III secretariat or any of the four areas of work of the Habitat III preparatory process: knowledge, engagement, policy and operations.
