I. Overview of the Mission

Background, mandate and objective

1. In its resolution 1483 \(2003\), the Security Council requested the Secretary-General to appoint a Special Representative for Iraq to assist the country in its political transition and in meeting its humanitarian, reconstruction and development needs. Subsequently, by its resolution 1500 \(2003\), the Council established the United Nations Assistance Mission for Iraq (UNAMI) to support the Special Representative in the fulfilment of the aforementioned mandate. The mandate of UNAMI was reviewed and expanded by the Council by its resolutions 1770 \(2007\) and 2107 \(2013\), and renewed by its resolutions 1830 \(2008\), 1883 \(2009\), 1936 \(2010\), 2001 \(2011\), 2061 \(2012\), 2110 \(2013\), 2169 \(2014\), 2233 \(2015\) and 2299 \(2016\). In July 2017, the Council adopted its resolution 2367 \(2017\), by which it renewed the mandate of UNAMI until 31 July 2018.

2. The current mandate of UNAMI encompasses, at the request of the Government of Iraq, a number of key areas, including providing advice, support and assistance to the Government and the people of Iraq in advancing inclusive political dialogue and national reconciliation; providing assistance to the electoral process; facilitating regional dialogue between Iraq and its neighbours; promoting the protection of human rights and judicial and legal reform; promoting gender equality; and promoting coordination and enhancing delivery in the humanitarian and development areas. Furthermore, pursuant to Security Council resolution 2107 \(2013\), UNAMI is mandated to promote, support and facilitate efforts of the Government of Iraq regarding the repatriation or return of all Kuwaiti and third-country nationals or their remains and the return of Kuwaiti property, including the national archives, seized by Iraq.

3. Iraq continues to face significant political, humanitarian, human rights and security challenges, notwithstanding significant advances made by the Iraqi security forces, including the popular mobilization forces, the Peshmerga of the Kurdistan region of Iraq and tribal fighters, along with the international coalition, in retaking areas from so-called Islamic State in Iraq and the Levant (ISIL). Major operations against ISIL are expected to conclude by the end of 2017. Nevertheless, the security environment is expected to remain volatile, as terrorists and extremist groups, including ISIL and Al-Qaida, will try to exploit and deepen sectarian, tribal or ethnic divides.

4. The military campaign to retake Ninawa Governorate from ISIL is unlikely to translate immediately into stability across that area. A significant armed presence in the Governorate by the central Government and in the Kurdistan region by Iraq-associated forces is expected to continue, along with a proliferation of local and minority armed groups in the disputed internal boundary areas. Tensions between these forces may arise. Therefore, inclusive and effective political and security arrangements, including effective local administrations, need to be established expeditiously in the liberated areas to ensure the achievement of long-term stability in the post-ISIL phase, including the voluntary and dignified return of internally displaced persons.

5. The governorate and district council elections initially scheduled for 2017 will be postponed and carried over into 2018, when elections to the Council of Representatives are due in the spring. The announcement by the President of the Kurdistan region of Iraq to hold a referendum on independence in the autonomous Kurdistan region of Iraq, as well as in areas under the control of the Peshmerga, including in the disputed territories of Kirkuk Governorate, are likely to define and have an impact on the political agenda in 2018. These unfolding developments may affect the progress of the Prime Minister's reform initiatives, while public discontent with the political establishment, the lack of reforms and pervasive corruption continues. Ongoing differences between the Government of Iraq and the Kurdistan Regional Government persist, notably on oil exports and revenue-sharing, the management of security in liberated territories, and the disputed internal boundaries, including the status of Kirkuk.

6. Iraqi political leaders are increasingly re-engaging in a national reconciliation process, supported by UNAMI on the basis of its mandate. As part of its facilitation role, requested by the Government of Iraq, UNAMI has received multiple vision papers on national reconciliation, including recommendations from minority groups, civil society and youth representatives, and continues to encourage Iraqi stakeholders to participate in the process. While the national reconciliation process is expected to make progress, the search for a final settlement agreement may be delayed as a result of the elections to the Council of Representatives. Ensuing post-electoral negotiations over government formation, however, are likely to reinvigorate the momentum towards national and societal reconciliation.

7. The impact of terrorist activities and the existence of diverse armed groups, militias and criminal gangs have continued to reverberate and undermine the promotion and protection of human rights and the return of internally displaced persons, and erode the credibility and authority of the rule of law. Untold suffering has been inflicted on Iraqi citizens as a result of targeted identity-based cleansing, abductions, physical and sexual abuse, use of non-combatants as human shields and other widespread human rights abuses and violations by ISIL, including the destruction and damage to livelihoods and properties as well as the desecration of religious and cultural sites. Members of the country's diverse ethnic and religious communities, women, girls, sexual minorities and people associated (or perceived to be associated) with the Government were particularly affected.

8. Women and girls, especially in those areas affected by armed conflict, are becoming increasingly vulnerable and continue to be exposed to conflict-related and gender-based sexual violence. If not properly addressed, the consequences of sexual violence, including the status of women affiliated with ISIL and mothers with children born of rape, are likely to raise protection concerns and impede the possibility of intracommunal and intercommunal reconciliation. Advocacy efforts by the United Nations and civil society organizations notwithstanding, limited progress has been made in the context of the national action plan in Iraq for the implementation of Security Council resolution 1325 \(2000\) on women, peace and security. Concerted efforts need to be made to advance women's representation and participation in the political, national reconciliation and electoral processes.

9. Populations outside ISIL-held territories and areas undergoing liberation operations by government forces also continued to suffer from the activities of armed groups, which perpetrated targeted killings and kidnappings and committed other acts of violence and intimidation. Violence and armed conflict, often of a tribal nature, continued to have a corrosive effect on the rights of women and girls, diverse ethnic and religious communities and persons with disabilities, the rights to freedom of expression and assembly and other economic, social and cultural rights.

10. The humanitarian crisis in Iraq is one of the most rapidly unfolding in the world. The pace of displacement, and now of return, is nearly without precedent. More than 5.3 million people have been displaced since the rise of ISIL three and a half years ago. More than 3.3 million people are still displaced; by the end of the military campaign, as many as 3.5 million Iraqis are likely to be outside their homes. At the same time as hundreds of thousands of people have fled their homes, returns have been accelerating across the country. Around 2 million civilians have returned to their communities. The conditions they face vary enormously; some areas are heavily contaminated by mines and unexploded ordnance, while in others, public infrastructure, including schools and health clinics, has been damaged extensively. Tens of thousands of houses have been destroyed and, in many areas, basic services are functioning only minimally.

11. It is anticipated that the end of large-scale military operations against ISIL will shift the focus of the Government of Iraq and the international community towards prioritizing a wide array of fundamental political and electoral, security, human rights and rule of law, governance, reconstruction and economic development issues. Addressing those issues in a comprehensive and inclusive manner while ensuring the participation of youth, women and diverse ethnic and religious communities in Iraq will be paramount if the Government is to achieve national and societal reconciliation and settlement to ensure the future of Iraq as a stable, secure, federal, united and democratically inclusive State in which all of its citizens can fully and equally participate without discrimination and with equal rights and justice.

12. The anticipation of a post-ISIL era and the prospect of upcoming elections are sharpening attention among a range of stakeholders on the role and expectations of UNAMI, most notably regarding its good offices role for the relations between Baghdad and Erbil, the disputed internal boundaries, national and community reconciliation, electoral assistance and the stabilization of liberated areas. Owing to its impartiality, the United Nations will continue to play its role as a leading partner that supports the Government and the people of Iraq to work effectively with all actors to facilitate political dialogue and national reconciliation. Calls for even more engagement by UNAMI to support humanitarian efforts, stabilization, political, economic and social reforms, security sector reform and demobilization, and reconciliation are expected to be voiced increasingly.

Cooperation with other entities

13. The United Nations, in particular UNAMI, works in close cooperation with other government and civil society partners in Iraq to ensure coherence, efficiency and the alignment of programmes, policies and activities in the delivery of relevant areas of the mandate. Coordinating frameworks include the United Nations Development Assistance Framework for the period 2015-2019, in line with priorities identified in partnership with the Government of Iraq, the Iraq humanitarian response plan for 2017 and the integrated strategic framework for the period 2016-2017.

14. UNAMI also engages with representatives of Member States and Iraqi counterparts to enhance the technical capacity-building and support provided to the Government of Iraq in the area of counter-terrorism, and coordinates its initiatives in support of national institutions on security sector reform with the United Nations country team and the Counter-Terrorism Committee Executive Directorate. UNAMI is engaged with the country team in the implementation of a range of activities aimed at promoting respect for and the protection of human rights and the rule of law. The Mission and the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) cooperate to build the capacity of relevant committees of the Council of Representatives and of the Independent High Commission for Human Rights. UNAMI also worked with UNDP on a range of initiatives relating to transitional justice and community reconciliation. In partnership with the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights, the Mission has implemented projects aimed at the legal and institutional reform of the criminal justice system.

15. UNAMI and the United Nations Entity for Gender Equality and the Empowerment of Women (UN-Women) continue to collaborate on the provision of technical support and advice to the Government of Iraq to implement the national action plan on Security Council resolution 1325 (2000) for the period 2014-2018, the national strategy on the advancement of women for the period 2014-2018 and the national strategy to eliminate violence against women for the period 2014-2017. Furthermore, UNAMI supported the implementation by the country team of the gender balance scorecard. UN-Women and the Mission also support initiatives of the Independent High Electoral Commission to promote the inclusive participation of women in elections. In line with Security Council resolution 1612 (2005), UNAMI continues to collaborate with the United Nations Children's Fund, other United Nations agencies and representatives of civil society in the framework of the monitoring and reporting mechanism on grave violations against children in situations of armed conflict, as well as with relevant ministries on issues of child protection.

16. In coordination with the United Nations country team, UNAMI supports the Government of Iraq in the preparation of the national development plan for the period 2018-2022 and its related mechanisms, the poverty reduction strategy and the reconstruction framework, and promotes integration of the Sustainable Development Goals. The Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs of the Secretariat and UNAMI provided support to national and international humanitarian partners in the implementation of emergency operations. UNAMI, in collaboration with UNDP, the Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs and the International Organization for Migration, also provided ongoing support in capacity development to enhance the self-reliance of the central Government and the Kurdistan Regional Government in the coordination and delivery of humanitarian assistance. The Office and UNAMI have worked in coordination with United Nations system agencies, funds and programmes, non-governmental organizations and donors to advocate for the safe and secure return of internally displaced persons to newly accessible areas.

Planning assumptions for 2018

17. Following the likely destruction of the organizational structures of ISIL in Iraq in 2017, the outlook for Iraq in the short-to-medium term is likely to be characterized by positive efforts towards increased stability, security and political, economic and social reforms, national and societal reconciliation and improved and balanced cooperation with the countries in the region, the broader Arab world and the international community. However, the positive aspects notwithstanding, the situation will continue to be characterized by political, security, social and economic volatility owing to insecurity, unmet political demands, sectarian and ethnic tensions, internal displacement, corruption, unequal access to basic services, failure to ensure full respect for and the protection of human rights and the rule of law, and regional dynamics.

18. On the political front, the Mission will need to make considerable efforts in the areas of electoral technical assistance, political support and the good offices of the Special Representative of the Secretary-General. Political negotiations over government formation are likely to underline the need for greater efforts towards national and societal reconciliation. The Government's ability to tackle security challenges will depend, among other things, on its ability to reform and rebuild an effective national security force and to undertake the security sector reforms necessary to secure a monopoly over violence within its borders. Any deterioration in Baghdad-Erbil relations following the planned referendum of 25 September 2017 on the future status of the Kurdistan region of Iraq would have an impact on legislative activity, governance reform and the stability of those areas with disputed internal boundaries. Some of the minority communities in Ninawa, especially the Yazidis in Sinjar and the Christians in the Ninawa plains, will advocate strongly for more autonomy in their areas through the creation of new administrative units and by appealing to the international community. The Mission is requested to assist the minorities and their counterparts in Baghdad and Erbil in identifying constructive confidence-building measures and solutions.

19. Regional issues are also likely to continue to affect Iraq, including the Syrian conflict and other regional trends marked by heightened sectarian tensions. Efforts to fight the ISIL presence in the Syrian Arab Republic are likely to lead to increased activity and tensions along the Iraqi-Syrian border. This will continue to be relevant to the Iraqi political and security landscape, especially with regard to the popular mobilization forces. The collaboration between the popular mobilization forces and associated groups with regional counterparts have prompted reactions from some of the immediate neighbours of Iraq and other countries in the region, and is likely to influence the regional standing of Iraq. The conflict between the Government of Turkey and the Kurdistan Workers' Party (PKK) is likely to continue to affect foreign attitudes towards Iraq and the Syrian Arab Republic.

20. This volatile situation will also continue to have a potentially negative effect on the rule of law and human rights, in particular the rights of women, children, ethnic and religious minority groups and people with disabilities; political rights, including freedom of expression and non-discriminatory participation in political processes; and equal, non-discriminatory access to basic services. Promoting the protection of and respect for the rights of diverse ethnic and religious minority communities and persons with disabilities and ensuring equal, non-discriminatory access to basic services will remain at the forefront of the Mission's activities, together with the need to foster respect for cultural, social and economic rights.

21. Following the expected liberation of areas under ISIL control, the Government is likely to shift its focus to reconstruction, the return of displaced persons and the long-term objectives of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development. A Government vision for 2030, the national development plan for the period 2018-2022, the reconstruction framework document and the poverty reduction strategy are all expected to be finalized by the end of 2017. UNAMI and the United Nations country team will support the preparation of the new United Nations Development Assistance Framework in 2018, with increased focus on the recovery and resilience framework and the national development agenda. UNAMI will subsequently play an important role in translating the national Development Assistance Framework plans into provincial plans. A countrywide humanitarian response plan has been developed, and funding is being sought to enable partners to accelerate implementation. Depending on ongoing and anticipated military campaigns, as many as 11 million Iraqis may be in need of humanitarian assistance by the end of 2017, forcing them to seek assistance from the Government, religious foundations and humanitarian organizations.

Strategic priorities and plans for 2018

22. The Mission's strategic priorities are based on Security Council resolution 2367 \(2017\). The Mission's presence in the country will continue to be critical for the implementation of its mandate. The regional offices in Erbil, Kirkuk and Basrah and the field offices in Mosul and Najaf will provide support through good offices, as appropriate, for the advancement of an inclusive political dialogue and national reconciliation efforts; facilitate forums to bring together diverse actors to mitigate tensions and conflict; provide assistance to the electoral process; advocate, monitor and report on human rights and judicial and legal reform; and provide the Mission headquarters with reporting and analysis on mandate-related issues and emerging trends. In addition, the offices will continue to work with provincial governors and councils, United Nations system agencies, funds and programmes, non-governmental organizations and civil society to promote coordination and enhance delivery in the humanitarian, stabilization, reconstruction, recovery and development areas.

II. Mission mandate and planned results

Performance information for 2017

23. The UNAMI leadership continued to implement its good offices mandate to assist and help to advance the Iraqi-led and Iraqi-owned national reconciliation process. In support of those efforts, the Mission has liaised with the country's political, religious and community leaders so as to assist the Government of Iraq in developing and implementing a comprehensive and inclusive process of national and community reconciliation, in coordination with the National Reconciliation Committee of the Office of the Prime Minister.

24. In support of national reconciliation, UNAMI undertook various activities. With a focus on youth, who make up more than half of the population of Iraq, UNAMI concluded a project called "Iraq: youth and coexistence", which entailed seven separate forums across the country involving different youth segments. The project concluded with the holding of a national conference in Baghdad on 20 May. Recommendations emanating from the forums were presented by representatives of the participants to the Prime Minister. In order to engage community and civil society leaders in a focused conversation about the post-ISIL phase, the Mission convened six "Iraq after the conflict" round tables across the country and a final national summit in Baghdad, at which key challenges for Iraq after the defeat of ISIL were explored. UNAMI, in close coordination with the National Reconciliation Committee, convened a series of forums for journalists with the aim of familiarizing them with the concept and process of national reconciliation.

25. For the remainder of 2017, UNAMI is planning two additional activities in support of national reconciliation: a project on religious dialogue and a capacity-building engagement with the Minority Directorate of the National Reconciliation Committee. As military operations are ending, UNAMI will implement a research project on land disputes in the northern part of Iraq, which will enable the Mission to respond more effectively to conflicts that may emerge in a post-ISIL environment.

26. In 2017, the Mission intensified its support for the Independent High Electoral Commission through the provision of technical advice on the review of the electoral legal framework, electoral dispute resolution and external outreach activities to help to build the Commission's capacity. UNAMI also continued to advise the Commission on measures to enable voter registration for internally displaced persons to promote their electoral participation. Furthermore, UNAMI provided its expertise on options for adopting technologies in vote counting and the transmission of election results. The Mission engaged with the Commissioner Selection Committee of the Commission to help to improve the inclusiveness and transparency of the selection process. At the invitation of the Council of Representatives, UNAMI provided technical advice on amendments to the Law on Governorate and District Council Elections, the Law on the Council of Representatives Elections and the Law on the Independent High Electoral Commission.

27. UNAMI encouraged the Independent High Electoral Commission and the Kurdistan Independent High Electoral Commission to continue engagement through their regular meetings and to set up working committees in relation to the sharing of the voter registry database and the sharing of electoral expertise, in line with the signed memorandum of cooperation between the two institutions. This has led to an initial dialogue and to an exchange of visits at the technical level.

28. Together with government, judicial and civil society partners, UNAMI continued to work towards criminal justice reforms that would result in due process and fair trial standards in the criminal justice system of Iraq and ensure access to justice for marginalized or at risk groups. UNAMI has also provided training for law enforcement officials and institutionalized training on human rights and the rule of law in their respective training curricula. Training on the protection of civilians and human rights monitoring and reporting was conducted with journalists, State media reporters, human rights defenders and youth groups, with the aim of increasing respect for and protection of the freedom of expression and assembly.

29. In line with its mandate on the implementation of the women, peace and security agenda in Iraq, the Mission will, in the remaining part of 2017 and in early 2018, advocate for strengthening women's full participation in electoral processes, politics and decision-making at all levels, with a particular focus on the areas liberated from ISIL. The Mission remains engaged in programmes to tackle sexual and gender-based violence and conflict-related sexual violence and ensure accountability of the perpetrators of such violence.

30. UNAMI continued to monitor and report on the impact of armed conflict on civilians and to provide real-time information on patterns of human rights violations and abuses to United Nations Headquarters and the international community. In 2017, UNAMI issued two reports on the protection of civilians, two reports on the general human rights situation in Iraq and two ad hoc reports, one on the rights of women after liberation from ISIL, and the other on the protection of minorities. In addition, UNAMI continued to work with the United Nations Office for Project Services in building the capacities of the national human rights institution, the Independent High Commission for Human Rights, and of the Kurdistan Regional Board of Human Rights.

31. The Mission conducted monitoring visits to camps for internally displaced persons and engaged with government authorities to promote compliance with human rights standards at screening centres and camps for internally displaced persons. UNAMI resumed monitoring visits to Ministry of Justice prisons and provided technical advice to prison directors on compliance with international detention standards. Furthermore, UNAMI provided technical support to government and United Nations partners with regard to the establishment of policies, programmes and training on countering terrorism while protecting and respecting human rights; the prevention of radicalization; deradicalization; and ensuring that human rights are integrated into disarmament, demobilization and reintegration and security sector reform training and programmes.

32. UNAMI engaged with the Government in relation to mass graves, including the need for the protection, excavation and transparent investigation of each mass grave and prosecution of perpetrators; accountability for threats, abductions, killings and the destruction of private property of internally displaced persons in Government-controlled areas; and accountability for crimes by ISIL against men, women and children, including minorities, by advocating for mechanisms to ensure that international crimes such as genocide, war crimes and crimes against humanity are justiciable under Iraqi criminal law. Furthermore, the Mission conducted advocacy with relevant parliamentary committees, members of civil society groups and the media towards legislative reforms to promote the compliance of draft bills with international human rights standards.

33. To address police and judicial corruption and its negative impact on the rule of law, UNAMI monitored and reported threats and attacks against those who expose corruption and made recommendations on criminal justice reform. The Mission conducted training-of-trainers and capacity-building sessions for civil society organizations and government officials to strengthen civil society engagement in monitoring and reporting on human rights and in addressing deficiencies in respect for and the protection of human rights at the community level. UNAMI supported the Government of Iraq and the Kurdistan Regional Government in holding consultations to develop a national action plan on human rights on the basis of the recommendations of the universal periodic review of Iraq, which was concluded by the Human Rights Council in March 2015. Similarly, the Mission supported the Kurdistan Regional Government in developing a regional human rights action plan.

34. To facilitate the implementation of level three humanitarian emergency operations in Iraq, UNAMI continued to support and facilitate the coordination of humanitarian assistance with the Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs and the humanitarian country team, providing real-time information and trend analysis. The Mission mobilized support and resources, regionally and internationally, to deliver a rapid and flexible response for the stabilization of recuperated areas. A coordinated approach of external development cooperation was initiated for the national development plan and other strategic frameworks, such as the recovery and resilience framework, the poverty reduction strategy and the national reconstruction framework. To promote and facilitate evidence-based planning and advocacy at the strategic and operational levels, technical support was provided to the central statistical organization in the roll-out of the data revolution initiative.

 - 3 outreach activities in collaboration with other United Nations and non-United Nations entities (for example, TEDx Baghdad) that will contribute to the empowerment of Iraqi youth and encourage and promote their participation in public life, entrepreneurship and peacebuilding

External factors

36. UNAMI is expected to achieve its objectives provided that: (a) the security situation remains sufficiently permissive to access affected populations and key stakeholders in relation to the protection of civilians, and the United Nations has sufficient security and logistical resources to enable the outreach activities of its staff; (b) stakeholders remain committed to inclusive national dialogue, social cohesion and unity in Iraq; (c) there is sufficient political will and consensus among political leaders to finalize and adopt the legal, regulatory and institutional framework required to conduct elections, security conditions remain permissive, allowing for elections to be held in all areas of Iraq, and there is sufficient capacity to repatriate and register internally displaced persons; (d) the Government of Iraq remains committed to promoting respect for and the protection of human rights and the rule of law; (e) sufficient capacity in national and subnational structures and institutions allows continued engagement between the United Nations, the Government of Iraq, the Kurdistan Regional Government and civil society to resolve outstanding governance, security and economic issues; (f) no natural or man-made disasters occur that would negatively affect human and financial resources; (g) events unfolding in the wider region do not adversely affect the internal political stability of Iraq; (h) no additional large cross-border population movements occur as a result of regional conflict; (i) bilateral relationships between Iraq and neighbouring countries, in particular the Islamic Republic of Iran, Saudi Arabia and Turkey, do not deteriorate to the point where the Mission is unable to fully deliver on its mandate; and (j) events in the Syrian Arab Republic do not have a significant negative impact on stability in Iraq and on the Mission's work in the country.

III. Resource requirements

^a Actual expenditures as at 31 August 2017 and projections for the remainder of 2017.

37. The proposed resource requirements for UNAMI for the period from 1 January to 31 December 2018 are estimated at $111,041,200 (net of staff assessment), reflecting a net decrease of $6,504,100 compared with the resources approved for the Mission for 2017, as detailed in tables 1 and 16. The net variance between the requirements for 2018 and the approved budget for 2017 reflects mainly:

(a) A net decrease for military and police personnel, attributable primarily to reduced requirements for rations, reflecting a 1 per cent delayed deployment rate applicable to the estimates for 2018, compared with no delayed deployment rate used in 2017;

(b) A net decrease for civilian personnel, attributable primarily to the proposed net reduction of 15 civilian personnel, as detailed in table 3, and the proposed cost-sharing arrangements, for the Deputy Special Representative of the Secretary-General for Development and Humanitarian Affairs at the Assistant Secretary-General level, budgeted in a cost-sharing agreement with UNDP, for which the cost of the salary and common staff costs are budgeted at 50 per cent, and for 14 positions (2 P-4, 3 P-3 and 9 Field Service) for security, for which only 50 per cent of total requirements are budgeted;

(c) A net decrease for operational costs, attributable primarily to reductions under: (i) facilities and infrastructure, owing to reduced contract rates for security and maintenance services and reduced accommodation costs in Basrah resulting from a shift in accommodation for international staff from hotels to the UNDP compound; (ii) air transportation, owing to the reconfiguration of the Mission's air fleet, resulting in lower contractual costs to operate the fleet, and a reduced contract price for petrol, oil and lubricants; and (iii) communications, owing to reduced requirements for the acquisition of equipment, lower satellite transponder charges and Internet connectivity charges, and lower-rate contracts.

Extrabudgetary resources

38. Resources in the amount of $50.7 million were received to fund activities related to the construction of the United Nations integrated compound, as described in paragraphs 108-111.

Proposed overall staffing requirements

39. The total proposed staffing for UNAMI for the period from 1 January to 31 December 2018 is 853 positions, as shown in table 2, and would include 333 international positions (144 Professional and 189 Field Service) and 520 national positions (118 National Professional Officer and 402 Local level), and an authorized strength of 245 contingent personnel of the Guard Unit.

40. Table 3 provides details regarding proposed changes in staffing levels by organizational unit. Table 4 provides details regarding approved and proposed positions by location.

Vacancy rates

41. The following annual average vacancy rates are proposed as part of the estimates for salaries and related staff costs for 2018: 1.0 per cent for military personnel; 8.0 per cent for international staff; 13.0 per cent for National Professional Officers; and 11.0 per cent for Local level staff.

42. The actual deployment of military personnel, United Nations police and all other Mission staff in 2017 is expected to result in the following annual average vacancy rates: 2.0 per cent for military personnel; 6.9 per cent for international staff; 7.8 per cent for National Professional Officers; and 7.2 per cent for Local level staff.

43. The following organizational units of the Mission have a direct reporting line to the Special Representative of the Secretary-General:

(a) Front Office of the Special Representative of the Secretary-General: the Special Representative of the Secretary-General is the head of Mission and undertakes the mandate vested in the Mission by the Security Council, supported by the immediate team in the Office. The Special Representative is also the United Nations designated official for security in Iraq. The Front Office is responsible for supporting the Special Representative in all areas of the work of the Mission, including the provision of substantive and administrative support, as well as liaison with all Mission components and United Nations Headquarters in New York;

(b) The Gender Unit, which is responsible for advising the Special Representative and the senior Mission leadership on strategies for ensuring the effective implementation of existing Security Council resolutions on women, peace and security, as well as on the Department of Peacekeeping Operations and Department of Field Support policy on gender equality in peacekeeping operations and the women, peace and security strategy of the Department of Political Affairs for the period 2016-2020, initiated in response to the peace and security reviews conducted in 2015. The Unit also provides technical advice to substantive Mission components to support gender mainstreaming throughout Mission activities, as well as promoting gender as a cross-cutting issue in Mission activities;

(c) The Women's Protection Unit, which is responsible for establishing the monitoring, analysis and reporting arrangements mechanism on conflict-related sexual violence and for supporting the Government of Iraq in implementing the joint communiqué on the prevention of and response to conflict-related sexual violence, in partnership with the United Nations system. Focused attention on addressing conflict-related sexual violence is crucial for identifying and providing better responses to survivors of sexual violence, pursuing justice and accountability for sexual violence crimes and ultimately contributing to peace and stability in Iraq;

(d) The Child Protection Unit, which is responsible for advising the Special Representative, the Mission leadership and the Government of Iraq on issues related to children and armed conflict and on the implementation of the monitoring and reporting mechanism of the six grave violations described in Security Council resolution 1261 \(1999\) and subsequent thematic resolutions pertaining to children and armed conflict. Furthermore, the Unit engages in advocacy and dialogue to address and develop strategies and mechanisms to end the grave violations, as mandated by the Council in its resolutions 1612 \(2005\), 1882 \(2009\) and 1998 \(2011\);

(e) The Office of the Chief of Staff, which is responsible for ensuring the integrated and coherent functioning of the Mission across all areas, components and locations. The Office is the principal interface on strategic programme planning and coordination within the Mission and with the United Nations country team, the Government of Iraq, embassies and other international and national partners. In that capacity, the Chief of Staff oversees the core mechanisms and processes that enable the integrated delivery of the Mission's mandate, in particular strategic and operational planning, policy coordination, senior-level decision-making and information management. Other responsibilities include support and follow-up on protocol-related and administrative matters that pertain to staff movement and high-level missions to Iraq. The Office also engages with multiple internal and external actors in respect of complex planning processes, monitors implementation, participates in the preparation of the Mission's budget and the review, implementation and monitoring of the Integrated Strategic Framework, and coordinates Mission-level support for the Headquarters-based Iraq Integrated Task Force and equivalent entities on other key planning tools in keeping with the Integrated Assessment and Planning Policy;

(f) The Human Rights Office, which is responsible for a number of core areas that constitute the main human rights and rule of law deficits that underpin the ongoing cycles of violence in Iraq: the protection of civilians from the effects of armed conflict and terrorism; comprehensive criminal justice law/institutional reform, including policies to combat terrorism and violent extremism while respecting and protecting human rights and the rule of law; transitional justice and community reconciliation; comprehensive legal and policy reform on the protection of women and children from sexual and gender-based violence and conflict-related sexual violence; comprehensive legal and policy reform on the protection of minorities and their full and equal participation in the political, economic and social life of Iraq; improving democratic space and ensuring respect for economic, social and cultural rights; and State institutional capacity-building, including of the national human rights institutions, the committees of the Council of Representatives, the judiciary, law enforcement officials and ministries. The Office operates from offices located in Basrah, Mosul, Kirkuk, Erbil, Baghdad and Najaf;

(g) The Public Information Office, which is responsible for providing advice and planning and implementing communications activities aimed at Iraqi society and at external and internal stakeholders in order to strengthen the understanding of the role of UNAMI and the United Nations in the country, as well as a better understanding of Iraq within the United Nations. The Office operates from Baghdad and the regional offices in Erbil and Kirkuk, and takes the lead in the implementation of the Mission's integrated public information strategy, as well as public information and outreach activities in Iraq;

(h) The Security Section, which is responsible for providing security services to all staff of UNAMI and the United Nations agencies, funds and programmes present in Iraq. The Section ensures the provision of an enabling environment for the safe delivery of the United Nations mandate and programmes. The Section is also responsible for the provision of security-related training programmes to all staff of the United Nations security management system organizations, and implements a staff tracking mechanism to control the movement of each and every staff member to and from Iraq and within Iraq. The Section is headed by the Principal Security Adviser (D-1), funded by the Department of Safety and Security, who reports directly to the Special Representative and to the Department. The Section comprises the following four pillars: the Security Strategic Plans and Administrative Support Unit/Office of the Principal Security Adviser; the Government of Iraq Liaison Unit; the Special Investigations Unit; and the Logistical Support and Coordination Unit. Security staff are deployed in Baghdad, the Baghdad International Airport and offices in Basrah, Erbil, Kirkuk and Najaf. The Section includes the Deputy Security Adviser for Operations (P-4, funded by the Department of Safety and Security), who is responsible for all of the operational units, as listed below:

- (i) The Security Information and Operations Centre, which is responsible for security information management, operational planning and support for the activities of security management system organizations. The Centre comprises the Security Plans Unit, the Security Operations Centre and the Security Information Coordination Unit;
- (ii) The Close Protection Unit, which provides personal protection and security services to the Mission leadership and other personnel of the security management system organizations. The Unit has four Close Protection Teams in Baghdad;
- (iii) Area Security Coordination Units, comprising four units deployed in Baghdad, namely, the Area Security Coordination Unit in Baghdad, the Premises Security Subunit, the Baghdad International Airport Forward Support Base and the Security Subunit in Najaf. The Area Security Coordination Unit in the Kurdistan region is responsible for operations at the Kurdistan region of Iraq operational hub, which is led by a Security Officer (P-4, funded by the Department of Safety and Security), who acts as Security Coordination Officer for the Kurdistan region of Iraq. The Area Security Coordination Unit in Kirkuk is responsible for the coordination of security functions at the Kirkuk operational hub. The Area Security Coordination Unit in Basrah is responsible for the coordination of security activities at the Basrah operational hub. The Security Unit in Kuwait serves as the support base of Security Section in Iraq for liaison duties with the host country and the designated official for Kuwait.

Proposed organizational changes

44. The following changes in staffing of organizational units reporting directly to the Special Representative of the Secretary-General are proposed for 2018:

(a) Front Office of the Special Representative of the Secretary General: the abolishment of one position of Special Assistant (P-4), which is in line with the streamlining of activities and the optimization of resources of the Mission, as it has been determined that the functions can be covered adequately by the Special Adviser (P-5) and the Special Assistant (P-3);

(b) Gender Unit: the reclassification of one position of Gender Adviser as a Senior Gender Adviser (P-5). The gender and women, peace and security agenda remains a priority for the Mission, and there is a need to refocus the work by stepping up engagement and support for the agenda. Furthermore, in line with the mandate of the Mission and to fulfil the responsibilities of the Department of Political Affairs and UNAMI pursuant to Security Council resolution 2299 \(2016\), there is a need to step up efforts to strengthen the participation of women in post-ISIL reconciliation and electoral efforts. The Unit anticipates an increase in activities to engage senior political actors and tribal and religious leaders across Iraq to enhance women's participation in the aftermath of ISIL in reconciliation, electoral and decision-making processes. In addition, Council resolution 2242 \(2015\) reinforced the need to engage women in countering violent extremism, as women from minorities were the most affected by violent extremism owing to the conflict with ISIL. The proposed upward reclassification would ensure cooperation and partnerships with governmental partners at the federal and regional levels in high-level engagements with the Government and with civil society organizations working on the implementation of the national action plan on Security Council resolution 1325 \(2000\) and supporting the national frameworks and machinery on women's empowerment and gender equality. Moreover, the reclassified position would support advocacy for the implementation of the Ninawa peace initiative by women Members of Parliament from Ninawa, the first initiative by women that has been adopted by the Council of Representatives;

(c) Women's Protection Unit: it is proposed that the unit be established to provide technical support to the Government of Iraq and the United Nations country team in the implementation of the joint communiqué on the prevention of and response to conflict-related sexual violence and internally strengthen the work of the monitoring, analysis and reporting arrangements mechanism. The following are proposed:

(i) The establishment of one position of Senior Women's Protection Adviser (P-5). This position was deployed in 2017 and was funded from extrabudgetary resources for one year. Regularization of the position will ensure continuity in the provision of technical support to the Government and the country team in the implementation of the joint communiqué on the prevention of and response to conflict-related sexual violence and internally strengthen the work of the monitoring, analysis and reporting arrangements mechanism;

(ii) The establishment of one position of Women's Protection Adviser (National Professional Officer) to support the Senior Women's Protection Officer in conducting training, advocacy and outreach with civil society and religious leaders to advance the implementation of the joint communiqué on the prevention and response to conflict-related sexual violence;

(d) Office of the Chief of Staff: the redeployment of one position of Erbil Head of Office (P-5) and one Administrative Officer (National Professional Officer) to the Office of the Deputy Special Representative of the Secretary-General for Political Affairs and Electoral Assistance (Office of Political Affairs) to realign the reporting line so that the heads of the offices in Kirkuk and Basrah report directly to the Chief of the Office of Political Affairs. It is anticipated that the proposed redeployment would have no negative impact on the programme delivery of the respective organizational units;

(e) Security Section:

(i) The redeployment of one position of Field Security Coordination Officer (P-4), currently based at United Nations Headquarters, to the Mission and to reclassify the position as Deputy Security Adviser (P-5), in view of the complexity and criticality of the functions to the operational structure of the Section. The proposal assumes an expansion of the functions of the position to include cross-cutting responsibilities such as supporting the Principal Security Adviser (D-1) in overseeing the security staff in Iraq and managing the Special Investigations Unit, the Security Training Unit and the Logistical Support and Coordination Unit;

(ii) The abolishment of three positions of Security Officer (Field Service) and two positions, Security Assistant (Local level) and Fire Safety Assistant (Local level), in the Basrah office as a result of an internal review of the Mission's operations in the southern hub;

(iii) The abolishment of 14 positions of Close Protection Officer (Field Service) that comprise Close Protection Team 5, which has provided dedicated support to the United Nations country team, as it has been determined that the functions performed by the incumbents of those positions exceed Mission requirements;

(iv) The reclassification of one position of Close Protection Officer (Field Service) as a Close Protection Coordinator (P-3) to manage four Close Protection Teams.

45. The Iraq team of the Middle East and West Asia Division of the Department of Political Affairs provides backstopping to the Mission from United Nations Headquarters. In view of the continued political, economic and security uncertainties in Iraq and key involvement of the United Nations in national and regional reconciliation, reform and elections, the capacity of the Department to respond to backstopping demands will remain essential, with its functions ranging from providing operational support, assisting in identifying and prioritizing critical strategic objectives in line with the Mission's mandate and political needs, and engaging with Member States and other key regional and international partners.

Proposed organizational changes

46. The following changes in staffing of the Iraq team of the Middle East and West Asia Division of the Department of Political Affairs are proposed for 2018:

(a) The establishment of one position of Senior Political Affairs Officer (P-5) to support the Iraq team and the Mission's work in diverse aspects relating to the adoption of strategies and policies on issues relating to Erbil-Baghdad relations. The incumbent will be required to have extensive experience on issues relating to the Kurdistan region of Iraq and tasks will include close monitoring of the political situation in the region, maintaining up-to-date knowledge of events relating to all outstanding issues, with a particular focus on the impact of the independence referendum process, preparing analytical reports and papers on all issues relating to Erbil-Baghdad relations, carrying out regional outreach (both within Iraq and with regional actors), identifying potential spoilers of, as well as opportunities for, mediation and good offices, assessing implications and making recommendations to senior management on possible policies, strategies and other measures to address issues of concern and maintaining contacts with other United Nations stakeholders, other international organizations and Governments on coordination and policy matters;

(b) The redeployment of one position of Field Security Coordination Officer (P-4), currently based at United Nations Headquarters, to the Mission to serve as Deputy Security Adviser for Support.

47. The following organizational units of the Mission have a direct reporting line to the Deputy Special Representative of the Secretary-General for Political Affairs and Electoral Assistance:

(a) Front Office of the Deputy Special Representative of the Secretary-General for Political Affairs and Electoral Assistance: the Deputy Special Representative leads the political pillar of UNAMI and oversees the work of the Office of Political Affairs, the Electoral Assistance Office, the Joint Analysis Unit and the Tehran liaison office;

(b) The Joint Analysis Unit, which is responsible for providing focused, integrated and forward-looking analysis to the Mission in recognition of the fact that integrated United Nations missions require an integrated strategy and capacity to coordinate and collect information from multiple sources to advise senior leaders;

(c) Office of Political Affairs: the Office is central to the Mission's political outreach and engagement. It provides substantive and long-term policy planning and strategic analysis to the Special Representative, the Deputy Special Representative for Political Affairs and Electoral Assistance and United Nations Headquarters. It maintains liaison with political parties, official State institutions, Parliament, the diplomatic community, civil society representatives, women and youth groups, local communities across Iraq and other entities concerned. The Office plays a lead role in providing advice and guidance and making recommendations to the Special Representative and the Deputy Special Representative for Political Affairs and Electoral Assistance, and in developing, organizing, engaging and following up on various initiatives in furthering the Mission's core mandate. The Office also plays a key role in the process of meeting requests by the Government of Iraq to facilitate the national reconciliation process by deploying its resources, including at the grass-roots level through intensive community engagement. The Office also works on building political consensus around reforms proposed by the Prime Minister in response to popular demand. The Office will support the electoral process as well as the government formation process through the good offices of the Special Representative and the Deputy Special Representative for Political Affairs and Electoral Assistance. The Office is expected to work on political initiatives in support of the stabilization and reconstruction activities of the United Nations country team in areas retaken from ISIL control. The Office is organized into teams working on national reconciliation, regional engagement, parliamentary support, governorate affairs, and monitoring and analysis. In addition to national reconciliation engagements, the national reconciliation team monitors regional developments and liaises with the diplomatic community in Baghdad to ensure the coherence of the positions of the international community in support of the Government of Iraq. The Office is represented in and operates from the UNAMI offices located in New York, Amman, Baghdad, Basrah, Mosul, Kirkuk, Erbil and Najaf. In addition, 14 National Professional Officers are based in Babil, Karbala', Najaf, Salah al-Din, Muthanna, Basrah, Diyala, Ninawa, Qadisiyah, Wasit, Anbar, Maysan, Dhi Qar and Dahuk;

(d) The Electoral Assistance Office, which is responsible for supporting the electoral activities carried out by the Mission in line with its mandate. Electoral assistance is currently present in Baghdad, Erbil and New York.

Proposed organizational changes

48. The following changes in staffing of organizational units reporting directly to the Deputy Special Representative of the Secretary-General for Political Affairs and Electoral Assistance are proposed for 2018:

(a) Joint Analysis Unit: the establishment of one position of Research Analysis Officer (National Professional Officer) to strengthen the Unit's capacity for information collation and processing in Arabic to enhance in turn its capacity to facilitate government and counter-terrorism liaison, with qualified national knowledge of the situation on the ground and the enhanced ability to travel in areas inaccessible or not easily accessible to international staff members, including knowledge of local customs and political maturity. Furthermore, it is proposed that one position of Security Officer (Field Service) be abolished in order to establish the above National Professional Officer position, which would support the efforts towards the nationalization of positions;

(b) Office of Political Affairs:

(i) The establishment of one position of Political Affairs Officer (P-4) to head the Office in the city of Mosul. With the liberation of Mosul, and the ISIL presence in Iraq close to its end, Ninawa Governorate, of which Mosul is the provincial centre, will be a high-priority area for the Mission. UNAMI is proposing to open an office in the city of Mosul in order to closely monitor the political and security situation in Ninawa Governorate, including developments with regard to its minority communities, exercise its good offices with the local authorities, communicate with different armed groups and advocate for inclusive dialogue and reconciliation for peace and stability. Furthermore, Ninawa Governorate includes a number of areas (Sinjar and Ninawa plains) that are mostly inhabited by minorities and are claimed by both the federal Government and Kurdistan Regional Government (so-called disputed areas). Some of those areas are likely to remain volatile in a post-ISIL environment and could become flashpoints for conflict between the two parties should the Kurdistan Regional Government continue with the self-determination path. Given that prospect, the deployment of a Political Affairs Officer to Mosul is essential to ensure that the Mission stays abreast of significant trends and developments with regard to preventing a potential eruption of violence, strengthening peace and stability and advancing its mandate;

(ii) The establishment of one position of Administrative Assistant (Local level) for deployment to Mosul to support the head of the Mosul office;

(iii) The redeployment of one position of Erbil Head of Office (P-5) and one position of Administrative Officer (National Professional Officer) from the Office of the Chief of Staff to realign the reporting lines and ensure that other heads of offices, namely those in Kirkuk and Basrah, report directly to the Chief of the Office of Political Affairs. It is anticipated that the proposed redeployment would have no negative impact on the programme delivery of the respective organizational units.

49. The following organizational units of the Mission have a direct reporting line to the Office of the Deputy Special Representative of the Secretary-General for Development and Humanitarian Affairs:

(a) Front Office of the Deputy Special Representative for Development and Humanitarian Affairs: the Deputy Special Representative also assumes the responsibilities of the United Nations Resident Coordinator, Humanitarian Coordinator and UNDP Resident Representative, leading the United Nations country team and the humanitarian country team and overseeing the UNDP Funding Facility for Immediate Stabilization. The Deputy Special Representative focuses on key mandate priorities, including coordinating humanitarian efforts, supporting stabilization in newly liberated areas and the return of displaced populations, promoting and facilitating social cohesion and reconciliation and coordinating support for recovery and development activities, the Government's reconstruction agenda and the national development plan;

(b) The Field Unit, which provides coordination and information support to the Mission, the United Nations country team, governmental authorities and humanitarian and development partners. It also supports stabilization efforts in newly accessible areas, supports the promotion of the safe and voluntary return of displaced populations, facilitates recovery activities, supports reconciliation at the grass-roots level and the Government's development agenda, and coordinates with non-governmental organizations, community-based organizations and donor partners to ensure coherent responses and engagement at the governorate, district and city levels. The Unit has representation and operates in Baghdad, Erbil, Kirkuk and Basrah and in each of the governorates of Anbar, Salah al-Din, Diyala, Ninawa, Dahuk, Sulaymaniyah, Babil, Karbala', Qadisiyah, Wasit, Najaf, Dhi Qar, Muthanna and Maysan;

(c) The Coordination Unit, which is responsible for providing support to the Government of Iraq, serving as the link between the United Nations and the Government within the Joint Coordination and Monitoring Centre; overseeing all relevant policy and planning frameworks; facilitating coordination between the Mission and the United Nations country team, including integrated activities within the United Nations Development Assistance Framework and the Integrated Strategic Framework; and supporting relations with donors, the Government and other stakeholders on reconstruction and development priorities.

Proposed organizational changes

50. The following changes in staffing of organizational units reporting directly to the Office of the Deputy Special Representative of the Secretary-General for Development and Humanitarian Affairs are proposed for 2018:

(a) Field Unit: the abolishment of one position of Humanitarian Affairs Officer (National Professional Officer), as it has been determined that the functions associated with the position will no longer be required as a result of an assessment of the existing coordination capacity of UNAMI in the province;

(b) Coordination Unit:

(i) The abolishment of one position of Humanitarian Affairs Officer (P-4), as it has been determined that the functions associated with the position will no longer be required as a result of a shift in Mission priorities following the liberation of Mosul;

(ii) The establishment of one position of Civilian Affairs Officer (P-4) in Baghdad to support efforts across the humanitarian, development and peace and security pillars on coordination for reconciliation and supporting the Government of Iraq/Kurdistan Regional Government in shifting from humanitarian towards a position-crisis recovery and development;

(iii) The establishment of one position of Monitoring and Evaluation Officer/Programme Officer (National Professional Officer) to strengthen the role of the Integrated Coordination Office for Development and Humanitarian Affairs in supporting the Government-led monitoring of the implementation of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development across the country and to support results-based management.

51. Mission support is under the overall responsibility of the Chief of Mission Support, who coordinates and supervises the work of three main areas, namely the Office of the Chief of Mission Support, the Office of the Chief of Supply Chain Management and the Office of the Deputy Chief of Mission Support. For 2018, it is proposed that the Office of the Deputy Chief of Mission Support be abolished and an Operations and Resource Management pillar be established.

52. The Chief of Mission Support acts as the principal adviser to the Head of Mission on all matters pertaining to administrative and technical support, and is supported by the Deputy Chief of Mission Support, who has responsibility for undertaking coordination and operational oversight and ensuring that key enabling services are delivered to the clients, and the Chief of Supply Chain Management and Service Delivery, who has responsibility for managing and coordinating the flow of supply chain goods and services and the provision of technical services. The responsibility of deputizing for the Chief of Mission Support will be on a rotational basis between the Chief of Operations and Resource Management and the Chief of Supply Chain and Service Delivery.

53. Mission support will continue to focus on the progressive alignment of its organizational structures established under the global field support strategy. The Mission support management team will remain focused on location-dependent, in-Mission critical functions while being better positioned to deliver enhanced quality service, advice and support to the Special Representative of the Secretary-General for the fulfilment of the Mission's mandate.

54. The following organizational units of the Mission have a direct reporting line to the Chief of Mission Support:

(a) The Front Office of the Chief of Mission Support, from which the Chief of Mission Support will continue to provide strategic advice to the senior Mission leadership on the managerial, logistical and administrative support required to implement the Mission's mandate, including the implementation of the global field support strategy;

(b) The Budget and Finance Unit, which is responsible for implementing budgetary policies and procedures, preparing the Mission's budget and performance report, monitoring and implementing the approved budget, overseeing the implementation of the budget of the Trust Fund in support of the construction and renovation of the United Nations Integrated Compound in Baghdad and preparing various reports and analyses;

(c) The Contract Management Unit, which is responsible for the management of the Mission's contracts for goods and services;

(d) The regional offices (Erbil and Kirkuk), which are responsible for carrying out operational support activities in the UNAMI regional representation office in Erbil and in the UNAMI compound in Kirkuk;

(e) The Information Management Unit, which is responsible for the management of all Mission correspondence;

(f) The Planning, Monitoring and Compliance Unit, which is responsible for carrying out comprehensive planning in all areas of Mission support while consolidating the monitoring, coordination and compliance functions to ensure that the Mission adheres to all administrative circulars, directions and reports from the Board of Auditors and the Office of Internal Oversight Services, among others;

(g) The Human Resources Section, which is responsible for the management of the Mission's human resources. The Chief Human Resources Officer is the functional adviser on human resources policies and practices in the Mission and liaises with the Kuwait Joint Support Office to ensure that Mission personnel receive timely and effective services. The Section comprises the following units: (i) the Recruitment Unit; (ii) the Client Support Desk; (iii) the Specialist Support Unit; and (iv) the Organizational Management Cell.

Proposed organizational changes

55. The following changes in staffing of organizational units reporting directly to the Office of the Chief of Mission Support are proposed for 2018:

(a) Planning, Monitoring and Compliance Unit: the abolishment of one position of Planning Officer (P-3) that has been unencumbered for over two years;

(b) Human Resources Section: the redeployment of the Section, including one Chief Human Resources Officer (P-4), four Human Resources Assistants (Field Service), one Administrative Assistant (Field Service) and five Human Resources Assistants (Local level), from under the proposed Office of Operations and Resource Management (presently the Office of the Deputy Chief of Mission Support) to the Office of the Chief of Mission Support, given that the Section works closely with the Office of the Chief of Mission Support and so as to reflect a better alignment of the accountability chain. It is also proposed that one Welfare Officer (National Professional Officer) be redeployed from the Staff Counselling Unit (presently under the Office of the Deputy Chief of Mission Support).

56. The position of Deputy Chief of Mission Support in UNAMI was established in 2014 following the recommendation of the civilian staffing review carried out in 2013. The incumbent was responsible for overseeing the management of the procurement, medical, training, human resources, staff counselling, facilities management and property management functions.

57. The proposed Operations and Resource Management pillar will the comprise procurement, staff counselling, training, property management and facilities management functions, as well as medical services.

Proposed organizational changes

58. It is proposed that the Office of the Deputy Chief of Mission Support be abolished and the Operations and Resource Management pillar be established. It is also proposed that the position of Deputy Chief of Mission Support (P-5) be abolished and a position of Chief of Operations and Resource Management (P-5) be established.

59. It is further proposed that the remaining positions in the Office of the Deputy Chief of Mission Support (1 Field Service and 4 Local level) be redeployed to the proposed Office of Operations and Resource Management.

60. The following organizational units of the Mission have a direct reporting line to the Chief of Operations and Resource Management:

(a) The Office of the Chief of Operations and Resource Management, which is responsible for the provision of general support and the management of operations and Mission resources;

(b) The Medical Services Section, which is responsible for the provision of health and medical care and the well-being of Mission civilian and non-civilian personnel. The main office is located in Baghdad and a level 1 clinic is located in each of Erbil and Kirkuk offices;

(c) The Staff Counselling Unit, which is responsible for building a respectful work environment and supporting the development of well-prepared and resilient employees who are able to cope with work stress and demands. The Unit is based in Erbil, with support staff in Baghdad;

(d) The Facilities Management and Services Section, which is responsible for the provision of contractual services for cleaning, laundry, gym maintenance, garbage collection, sewage removal and mail and pouch, courier and accommodation services in support of staff at all the locations. The Section has offices in Baghdad, the Baghdad International Airport, Kuwait, Erbil and Kirkuk;

(e) The Procurement Section, which is responsible for ensuring the coordinated, efficient and economical purchase and delivery of goods and services to the Mission. The Section comprises four units based in Baghdad, Erbil and Kuwait;

(f) The Training Section, which is responsible for implementing the United Nations learning and development policy to address skill gaps and facilitate the career growth and development of UNAMI staff members, including the coordination of delivery of internal and external training. The Section has offices in Erbil, Baghdad and Kuwait;

(g) The Property Management Section, which is responsible for the provision of support services in property management, including property control and inventory, receipt and inspection of goods, claims processing, property survey board, asset disposal and fixed assets management. The Section comprises four units: (i) the Property Control and Inventory Unit, in Baghdad, Kuwait and Erbil; (ii) the Receiving and Inspection Unit, in Baghdad, Kuwait and Erbil; (iii) the Claims and Property Survey Board Unit, in Baghdad and Kuwait; and (iv) the Property Disposal Unit, in Baghdad.

Proposed organizational changes

61. The following changes in staffing of organizational units reporting directly to the Office of the Chief of Operations and Resource Management are proposed for 2018:

(a) Office of the Chief of Operations and Resource Management: the establishment of the Office to oversee the procurement, staff counselling, training, property management and facilities management functions, as well as medical services. It is also proposed that one position of Chief of Operations and Resource Management (P-5) be established to oversee the aforementioned functions, and that one Field Service position and four Local level positions be redeployed from the former Office of the Deputy Chief of Mission Support;

(b) Human Resources Section: the redeployment of the entire Section, with its staffing, to the Office of the Chief of Mission Support to enhance the operational functionality of the Section and to reflect a better alignment of the accountability chain;

(c) Staff Counselling Unit: the redeployment of one Welfare Officer (National Professional Officer) to the Human Resources Section under the Office of the Chief of Mission Support to streamline the placement of welfare functions across missions, whereby those functions are placed under the human resources component.

62. The following organizational units of the Mission have a direct reporting line to the Chief of Supply Chain Management and Service Delivery:

(a) Office of the Chief of Supply Chain Management and Service Delivery: the Chief of Supply Chain Management and Service Delivery is responsible for the acquisition, storage, issuance, management and service delivery processes to ensure a streamlined acquisition and service delivery process;

(b) The Central Warehouse Section, which is responsible for the provision of general supplies; the management of contracts for security services, medical services, and public information services; the management of life support and fuel support services; forecasting supply and support requirements; budgeting, requisitioning, provisioning and inventory management for the issuance and distribution of supplies and equipment; administering short-term and long-term contracts for life support, security services and public information services; consolidating specialized warehouses into a central warehouse with smaller regional depots close to the Mission's areas of operation and centrally managing goods and commodities; and managing the provision of fuel for vehicles and generators;

(c) The Engineering Section, which is responsible for the effective and efficient planning, management, refurbishment, maintenance and operation of premises, including construction-related projects;

(d) The Surface Transport Section, which is responsible for the provision of ground transportation facilities and services to all staff members and military contingents in all UNAMI locations, and to the United Nations country team on a cost-reimbursable basis;

(e) The Aviation and Movement Control Section, which is responsible for the planning and management of the Mission's aviation and movement control operations. The Section comprises the Movement Coordination Centre and the Technical Support and Budget/Administration Unit, both located at the UNAMI Forward Support Base at the Baghdad International Airport. The Section maintains liaison offices at headquarters in central Baghdad and in the Erbil and Kuwait offices;

(f) The Geospatial, Information and Telecommunications Technology Section, which is responsible for the planning, installation and maintenance of all geospatial, information technology and telecommunications infrastructure and systems in the Mission area.

Proposed organizational changes

63. The following changes in staffing of organizational units reporting directly to the Office of the Chief of Supply Chain Management and Service Delivery are proposed for 2018:

(a) Surface Transport Section: the reclassification of one position of Chief Transport Officer (P-4) as a Transport Officer (Field Service) to manage the Section in line with the reduction of the Mission's ground fleet, caused by the write-off and transfer of vehicles, as well as the non-acquisition of additional vehicles and the non-replacement of the Mission's ageing fleet of vehicles since 2013, and increased needs for specialized maintenance supervision and the transport management trends; and the establishment of two positions of Driver (Local level) to support the increased movement in Erbil resulting from the Mission's movements into the Ninawa Governorate (Mosul) and the liberated parts of the Kurdistan region of Iraq. It is anticipated that the proposed reclassification would have no negative impact on the programme delivery of the respective organizational units;

(b) Geospatial, Information and Telecommunications Technology Section: the abolishment of one position of Information Technology Assistant (Local level), as the position has been vacant for two years and it has been determined that the functions associated with the position will no longer be required.

64. The Kuwait Joint Support Office will continue to be supported by UNAMI and the United Nations Assistance Mission in Afghanistan (UNAMA). Accountability for the performance of the Office remains with both Missions. The resources for the Office are determined on the basis of the number of clients (international and national staff and uniformed personnel) that are supported. The Kuwait Joint Support Office Steering Committee, composed of the Chiefs of Mission Support of UNAMI and UNAMA, representatives of the Department of Field Support and the management team of the Kuwait Joint Support Office, has responsibility for ensuring a high level of service delivery quality in all areas of finance, human resources and travel supported by the Kuwait Joint Support Office.

65. The Kuwait Joint Support Office has assumed additional delegation of authority for the delivery of finance and human resources support services to the United Nations Regional Centre for Preventive Diplomacy for Central Asia, based in Ashgabat. Support has also been extended to the Office of the Special Envoy of the Secretary-General for Yemen in 2017.

66. The Office, which has an approved staffing strength in 2017 of 33 positions funded by UNAMI and 39 positions funded by UNAMA, is assigned dual responsibilities and supports both UNAMI and UNAMA in carrying out administrative tasks, including in the areas of human resources, finance and travel.

In addition to funding the positions within the Office, UNAMI and UNAMA also contribute towards covering the operating costs of the Office.

67. UNAMI and UNAMA both contribute positions to the Joint Support Office. Table 15 below provides information on the positions they contribute to the Office in 2017 and the proposed contributions for 2018.

^a Actual expenditures as at 31 August 2017 and projections for the remainder of 2017.

A. Military contingents

	Appropriation 2016-2017	Estimated expenditures 2016-2017	Variance	Total requirements 2018	Approved budget 2017	Variance 2017-2018
Military contingents	16 275.2	15 298.4	(976.8)	8 261.4	8 287.0	(25.6)

68. The amount of $8,261,400 would provide for requirements for the deployment of 245 military contingent personnel, taking into account an estimated standard troop cost reimbursement ($4,095,700), travel costs ($912,900), recreational leave allowance and daily allowance ($190,300), death and disability compensation ($98,000), rations ($2,424,300), contingent-owned equipment for reimbursement for major equipment brought by the respective contingent on a wet-lease basis, in line with the respective memorandum of understanding ($8,300) and freight and deployment of contingent-owned equipment to cover the cost of air cargo and unaccompanied luggage, based on the existing contract ($531,900). A vacancy rate of 1.0 per cent has been applied in the calculation of the cost estimates for 2018.

69. The variance between the 2018 requirements and the 2017 approved budget is due mainly to reduced requirements for rations, reflecting a 1 per cent delayed deployment rate applicable to the estimates for 2018, compared with no delayed deployment rate used in 2017.

70. The projected unencumbered balance for 2016-2017 is due mainly to the lower contractual rates for air tickets for travel on emplacement, rotation and repatriation, as well as for freight and the deployment of contingent-owned equipment.

B. Civilian personnel

	Appropriation 2016-2017	Estimated expenditures 2016-2017	Variance	Total requirements 2018	Approved budget 2017	Variance 2017-2018
International staff	121 735.7	122 703.2	967.5	58 798.2	60 613.4	(1 815.2)

71. The amount of $58,798,200 would provide for salaries ($28,936,900) and common staff costs ($25,986,100) for a staffing complement of 333 international staff (144 Professional officer and 189 Field Service), and danger pay allowance at the established monthly rate of $1,600 for an eligible staff strength of 266 ($3,875,200). A vacancy rate of 8.0 per cent has been applied in calculating the cost estimates for continuing positions for 2018. For positions being proposed for establishment, a vacancy rate of 50 per cent has been applied.

72. The variance between the 2018 requirements and the 2017 approved budget reflects mainly the proposed net reduction in staffing levels, and the proposed cost-sharing arrangements for the Deputy Special Representative of the Secretary-General for Development and Humanitarian Affairs at the Assistant Secretary-General level and 14 positions (2 P-4, 3 P-3 and 9 Field Service) for security.

73. The anticipated overrun in 2016-2017 is due mainly to lower vacancy rates than budgeted (an average of 6.9 per cent projected instead of 12 per cent budgeted).

74. The provision for salaries is based on the net average monthly salary rates for international staff deployed in all Mission locations. The provision for common staff costs is budgeted at 89.7 per cent of net international salaries.

	Appropriation 2016-2017	Estimated expenditures 2016-2017	Variance	Total requirements 2018	Approved budget 2017	Variance 2017-2018
National staff	40 517.4	43 418.0	2 900.6	20 694.4	20 657.0	37.4

75. The amount of $20,694,400 would provide for salaries ($14,507,100) and common staff costs ($4,420,000) for a staffing complement of 520 national staff (118 National Professional Officers and 402 Local level); danger pay allowance for 327 staff at a rate of $585 per month ($1,692,300); and estimated overtime charges ($75,000). In calculating the cost estimates for continuing positions for 2018, vacancy rates of 13.0 per cent and 11.0 per cent have been applied for National Professional Officers and Local level staff, respectively. For positions being proposed for establishment, vacancy rates of 50 per cent and 35 per cent have been applied, respectively.

76. The projected overrun for 2016-2017 is due mainly to the higher salaries, common staff costs and danger pay caused by actual lower actual vacancy rates than budgeted (an average of 7.8 per cent projected for National Professional Officers instead of 20 per cent budgeted, and an average of 7.2 per cent projected for national General Service staff instead of 12 per cent budgeted), as well as higher expenditures for staff with dependants.

77. The provision for salaries is budgeted using salary scales for Iraq, with effect from 1 January 2016, for National Professional Officers and Local level staff. The provision for salaries of Local level staff deployed in Kuwait is budgeted using salary scales for Kuwait with effect from 1 April 2008.

78. The provision for common staff costs is budgeted at 30.6 per cent of net national salaries.

C. Operational costs

	Appropriation 2016-2017	Estimated expenditures 2016-2017	Variance	Total requirements 2018	Approved budget 2017	Variance 2017-2018
Consultants	443.7	606.8	163.1	299.7	200.0	99.7

79. The amount of $299,700 reflects requirements for the engagement of consultants for the provision of technical and specialized expertise with regard to non-training activities carried out to support substantive areas of the Mission, including electoral and political issues ($254,400) and training activities for Mission personnel ($45,300).

80. The variance between the 2018 requirements and the 2017 approved budget is due mainly to increased requirements for consultancy services resulting from the need to conduct substantive activities relating to the scheduled elections in Iraq in 2018.

81. The projected overrun for 2016-2017 is due mainly to an additional requirement by the Security Council in its resolution 2367 \(2017\) for an independent, external assessment of the Mission's structure and staffing to ensure that the Mission and the United Nations country team in Iraq are configured to most appropriately and efficiently fulfil mandated tasks.

	Appropriation 2016-2017	Estimated expenditures 2016-2017	Variance	Total requirements 2018	Approved budget 2017	Variance 2017-2018
Official travel	2 927.1	2 866.1	(61.0)	1 390.9	1 469.7	(78.8)

82. The amount of $1,390,900 would provide for requirements for official travel to carry out non-training activities ($940,700) and training activities ($450,200).

83. The proposed requirements for the official travel of staff for non-training activities include travel within and outside the Mission area, as follows:

(a) Travel within the Mission area includes the travel of staff for consultations with government counterparts, donors non-governmental organizations, overseeing United Nations operations in regional and field offices, political consultations with local entities and human rights assessment missions;

(b) Travel outside the Mission area includes the official travel of the Special Representative of the Secretary-General and senior members of his staff in connection with the implementation of the Mission's mandate to attend various high-level political consultations within and outside the region with various entities, meetings with high-level counterparts from United Nations Headquarters and briefings to the Security Council.

84. The proposed requirements for the official travel of staff for training activities include a provision for travel to the United Nations Logistics Base at Brindisi, Italy, the Regional Service Centre in Entebbe, Uganda, the United Nations Interim Force in Lebanon or other training locations for training courses in administrative areas.

85. The variance between the 2018 requirements and the 2017 approved budget is due mainly to the reduced number of official trips resulting from the increased and frequent use of information and communications technology tools available in-house.

	Appropriation 2016-2017	Estimated expenditures 2016-2017	Variance	Total requirements 2018	Approved budget 2017	Variance 2017-2018
Facilities and infrastructure	16 672.5	13 560.0	(3 112.5)	7 489.9	8 963.4	(1 473.5)

86. The amount of $7,489,900 would provide for requirements for facilities and infrastructure, including:

(a) Acquisitions valued at $1,448,400, comprising prefabricated facilities, accommodation and refrigeration equipment ($160,000); engineering supplies ($203,700); generators and electrical equipment ($371,000); water treatment and fuel distribution equipment ($13,500); office furniture ($321,800); office equipment ($5,000); and security and safety equipment ($373,400);

(b) Rental of premises in Amman, Tehran, Basrah and Mosul and Mission-wide conference facilities ($744,900);

(c) Utilities and waste disposal services ($1,416,600);

(d) Various maintenance services for closed-circuit television systems, public address systems, photocopiers, access control systems, satellite services, maintenance service contracts for facilities, generators, plumbing, electrical, air conditioning and heating systems, water purification and waste treatment systems, and water testing services ($1,821,700);

(e) Security services and personnel, including for 22 unarmed private company guards at a projected annual rate of $97,152 for Kuwait and 16 guards at a projected annual rate of $79,680 for Erbil, and explosive-detection dogs at three different locations at a projected average annual rate of $121,600 per location ($541,700);

(f) Alteration and renovation of facilities, mainly for security enhancements in various locations in Baghdad, Erbil, Kirkuk and Kuwait ($230,000);

(g) Petrol, oil and lubricants for generators, on the basis of an estimated consumption of 1,096,000 litres of generator fuel at an average of $0.77 per litre in Erbil, $0.65 per litre in the rest of Iraq and $0.40 per litre in Kuwait ($823,000);

(h) Other costs, including stationery and office supplies ($169,500); spare parts and supplies ($116,100); field defence supplies ($105,000); and sanitation and cleaning materials ($73,000).

87. The variance between the 2018 requirements and the 2017 approved budget is due mainly to reduced contract rates for security and maintenance services and reduced accommodation costs in Basrah resulting from a shift in accommodation for international staff from hotels to the UNDP compound.

88. The projected unencumbered balance for 2016-2017 is due mainly to underexpenditures for: (a) maintenance services, as a result of reduced contract prices; (b) rental of premises, as a result of not establishing a physical presence in Najaf owing to security reasons; (c) security services, as a result of reduced contract prices; and (d) alteration and renovation services, as a result of mostly utilizing the Trust Fund in support of the construction and renovation of the United Nations Integrated Compound in Baghdad for the maintenance of the Baghdad compound.

	Appropriation 2016-2017	Estimated expenditures 2016-2017	Variance	Total requirements 2018	Approved budget 2017	Variance 2017-2018
Ground transportation	2 095.5	1 563.1	(532.4)	860.4	966.9	(106.5)

89. The amount of $860,400 would provide for requirements for the ground transportation fleet of the Mission, which comprises 378 vehicles, including 177 passenger vehicles (all armoured, except for 22 that are soft-skinned) and 134 other vehicles (4x4 armoured vehicles for the operational reserve, 13 trucks, 12 material handling equipment vehicles, 4 ambulances, 3 cargo vans, 6 mine-hardened RG-32 vehicles and 7 medium buses). The proposed requirements for 2018 include:

(a) The acquisition of vehicles and workshop equipment and tools ($170,200);

(b) The rental of specialized vehicles and heavy equipment for engineering use ($33,000);

(c) Repair and maintenance services for vehicles ($143,400);

(d) Liability insurance requirements ($27,300);

(e) Spare parts ($290,900);

(f) Petrol, oil and lubricants, on the basis of an estimated consumption of 275,000 litres at an average cost of $0.28 per litre ($195,600).

90. The variance between the 2018 requirements and the 2017 approved budget is due mainly to reduced requirements for petrol, oil and lubricants, resulting from an anticipated higher cost-recovery from the United Nations country team and reduced requirements for repairs and maintenance.

91. The projected unencumbered balance for 2016-2017 is due mainly to lower expenditures for the acquisition of spare parts, resulting from restricted ground movement in Iraq, and a reduction in fuel consumption owing to the implementation of carpooling services and restrictions on ground movement in Iraq, both as a result of the security situation.

	Appropriation 2016-2017	Estimated expenditures 2016-2017	Variance	Total requirements 2018	Approved budget 2017	Variance 2017-2018
Air transportation	13 376.7	11 361.7	(2 015.0)	4 393.4	5 971.0	(1 577.6)

92. The amount of $4,393,400 would provide for requirements for the Mission air fleet, which comprises two fixed-wing aircraft, operating an estimated total of 975 flight hours, as follows:

(a) Air transportation services ($8,200);

(b) Landing fees and ground handling charges ($190,100);

(c) Air crew subsistence allowance ($11,700);

(d) Petrol, oil and lubricants, on the basis of an estimated consumption of 583,363 litres of aviation fuel at a rate of $0.98 per litre ($571,700);

(e) Liability insurance ($16,600);

(f) Rental and operation ($3,595,100).

93. After security conditions, as a primary driver in the determination of UNAMI air capability, improved in 2016, it was determined that two high-performance executive jet aircraft could be replaced with one turboprop fixed-wing aircraft and one lower-performance executive jet that together could carry out all estimated air support operations. In addition to the cost difference for the rental of the lower-cost aircraft, an additional efficiency in the long-term agreement was realized by contracting an operator to provide and operate both aircraft deployed to the Mission. It is also proposed that the estimated flight hours be reduced from 1,125 in 2017 to 975 in 2018.

94. The variance between the 2018 requirements and the 2017 approved budget is due mainly to the reconfiguration of the Mission's air fleet, resulting in lower contractual costs to operate the fleet, and a reduced contract price for petrol, oil and lubricants.

95. The projected unencumbered balance for 2016-2017 is due mainly to the reconfiguration of the Mission's air fleet in 2016, resulting in lower costs for its rental and operation.

	Appropriation 2016-2017	Estimated expenditures 2016-2017	Variance	Total requirements 2018	Approved budget 2017	Variance 2017-2018
Communications	10 567.0	6 455.6	(4 111.4)	3 976.6	5 133.1	(1 156.5)

96. The amount of $3,976,600 would provide for:

(a) The acquisition and replacement of radio, satellite, telephone and miscellaneous equipment ($1,050,800);

(b) Commercial communications, including satellite transponder lease charges, Internet connectivity charges, fibre-optic backbone and leased lines charges in Iraq, European redundant very small aperture terminal (VSAT) Internet charges, lines to the United Nations Logistics Base at Brindisi, Italy, connectivity to Valencia, Spain, satellite, mobile and landline phone charges, and vehicle tracking system service charges ($2,024,300);

(c) Maintenance of equipment and communications support services, including videoconferencing and teleconferencing charges, Cisco advance services, communications manager upgrade and licensing, local technician services, fibre cabling/networking services, Motorola advance services and wired and wireless charges ($460,600);

(d) Spare parts and supplies ($231,700);

(e) The acquisition of public information equipment ($16,300);

(f) Public information services, including printing and reproduction and supplies ($137,700);

(g) Subscriptions to international and local media ($55,200).

97. The variance between the 2018 requirements and the 2017 approved budget is due mainly to reduced requirements for: (a) acquisition of equipment, resulting from a sufficient inventory from 2017; (b) commercial communications, resulting from lower satellite transponder charges and Internet connectivity charges; and (c) maintenance of equipment and communication support devices, resulting from lower contract rates.

98. The projected unencumbered balance for 2016-2017 is due mainly to lower expenditures for the acquisition of communications equipment and charges for commercial communications, including the non-provision of Internet services in Dahuk and Najaf as the Mission did not establish a presence in those areas owing to the security situation.

	Appropriation 2016-2017	Estimated expenditures 2016-2017	Variance	Total requirements 2018	Approved budget 2017	Variance 2017-2018
Information technology	3 828.5	6 571.8	2 743.3	2 083.0	1 920.5	162.5

99. The amount of $2,083,000 would provide for:

(a) The replacement of desktop and laptop computers, monitors, servers, network switch and routers, network firewalls and miscellaneous equipment ($637,900);

(b) The acquisition, support and maintenance of various software packages and applications and the cost of enterprise licences ($239,000);

(c) Centralized information technology support services and data storage ($700,600);

(d) The maintenance and repair of information technology equipment ($314,700);

(e) Spare parts and supplies ($190,800).

100. The variance between the 2018 requirements and the 2017 approved budget is due mainly to increased requirements for replacement of equipment, as the majority of it has reached the end of its useful life cycle, and increased requirements for maintenance and repair of equipment, resulting from the prolonged usage of existing equipment.

101. The projected overrun for 2016-2017 is due mainly to increased expenditures for: (a) the additional acquisition of information technology equipment, resulting from the need to replace more laptops and storage devices than budgeted; (b) information technology services, resulting from a centralization of such services that involved new cabling and the upgrade of other information and communications technology infrastructure, which caused additional requirements during its implementation stages, and the additional provision of support for new laptops and storage devices at the headquarters in Baghdad; and (c) additional maintenance and repair of information technology equipment.

	Appropriation 2016-2017	Estimated expenditures 2016-2017	Variance	Total requirements 2018	Approved budget 2017	Variance 2017-2018
Medical	892.8	242.7	(650.1)	387.1	508.8	(121.7)

102. The amount of $387,100 would provide for medical services to Mission staff deployed at all locations in Iraq, including medical evacuations and the hospitalization of military personnel in non-Mission hospitals ($216,400), and the acquisition of medical supplies ($170,700).

103. The variance between the 2018 requirements and the 2017 approved budget is due mainly to the non-acquisition of equipment, and reduced requirements for medical services and supplies.

104. The projected unencumbered balance for 2016-2017 is due mainly to a reduced number of medical evacuations carried out and the existence of sufficient stocks of medical supplies brought forward from 2017.

	Appropriation 2016-2017	Estimated expenditures 2016-2017	Variance	Total requirements 2018	Approved budget 2017	Variance 2017-2018
Other supplies, services and equipment	6 636.0	8 065.6	1 429.6	2 406.2	2 854.4	(448.2)

105. The amount of $2,406,200 would provide for:

- (a) Welfare costs for United Nations guard units and civilian staff ($64,400);
- (b) Uniforms for security personnel and accoutrements for 245 United Nations guard units, including related freight ($40,500);
- (c) Training fees, supplies and services ($292,100);
- (d) Other services, such as cleaning and janitorial services, laundry services and garbage collection ($1,547,500);
- (e) Hospitality ($45,000); general insurance ($45,000); bank charges ($55,000); miscellaneous claims ($8,000); freight-related costs ($102,600); and rations ($206,100).

106. The variance between the 2018 requirements and the 2017 approved budget is due mainly to reduced contract prices for rations and full cost recovery for services provided to the United Nations country team.

107. The projected overrun for 2016-2017 is due mainly to higher cleaning and garbage collection costs for the expanded compound in the Baghdad international zone, as a result of the addition of new accommodation units from the construction undertaken, utilizing the Trust Fund in support of the construction and renovation of the United Nations Integrated Compound in Baghdad.

V. Status of the planned renovation project for an integrated headquarters compound in Baghdad

108. The Trust Fund in support of the construction and renovation of the United Nations Integrated Compound in Baghdad was established for the construction of an integrated compound in Baghdad that would accommodate all the United Nations agencies, funds and programmes operating in Iraq.

109. On 31 March 2010, the Trust Fund received $25 million from the Government of Iraq and a further amount of $760,644 from the Governments of Czechia, Greece, Italy, Luxembourg, Poland and Sweden, by the transfer of their funds from the former Trust Fund to Support the Distinct Entity Created to Provide Security for the United Nations Presence in Iraq. On 7 June 2011, a further contribution of $25 million was received from the Government of Iraq, bringing total contributions received by the Trust Fund to $50,760,644.

110. As at 31 July 2017, the Trust Fund had been allotted a cumulative $47,105,706, of which $19,143,175 had been expended on various renovation and construction projects, with a further $13,401,649 in pre-commitments, leaving an unconsumed budget of $14,560,882.

111. The Trust Fund projects that are currently ongoing or are in the final stages of procurement processes include the construction and furnishing of 79-unit accommodation buildings A and B ($8,172,131); the construction and furnishing of the three-storey, 116-unit accommodation building C ($13,061,777); upgrading of communications and information technology networks ($1,021,333); and the refurbishment of all existing buildings and landscaping works ($1,598,015). Projects under design include the construction of a four-storey offices building ($10,400,000); the upgrading of service facilities ($650,000); the upgrading of fire alarm and firefighting systems ($378,275); the refurbishment of a transport workshop ($180,000); and the refurbishment of the main office building ($695,000), all located in Baghdad.

VI. Summary of follow-up action taken to implement relevant recommendations of internal and external oversight bodies and the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions

Report of the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions (A/71/595)

The Advisory Committee points out, nevertheless, that the presentation of indicators of achievement for some missions needs further refinement. For example, one of the indicators of achievement for the Office of the Special Envoy for Syria includes increased engagement of the representatives of the Government and the whole spectrum of Syrian opposition groups. Upon enquiry, the Committee was informed that the whole spectrum did not include those groups listed by the Security Council as terrorist organizations. In UNAMI, the Mission includes as indicators of achievement “Number of laws adopted by the Council of Representatives to implement key provisions of the Constitution” and “Adoption of the required number of laws and regulatory framework to conduct elections”. In UNAMA, one of the indicators of achievement is “Improved respect for international human rights and humanitarian laws to ensure the protection of civilian in armed conflict”. These activities appear to fall under the responsibility of State authorities. In the Office of the Special Envoy for Sudan and South Sudan, the mission included among expected accomplishments “Consolidation of peace and stability within the Sudan and South Sudan”. The Committee expects that the mission will refine further the wording of the expected accomplishment to better reflect its mandate. In UNSMIL, the Mission states as expected accomplishments “Adoption of a constitution that meets minimum international standards”. The Advisory Committee reiterates its view that some expected accomplishments and related indicators of Indicators have been amended to reflect what UNAMI can realistically achieve and be held accountable for during 2018: the indicator “Number of laws adopted by the Council of Representatives to implement key provisions of the Constitution” has been amended to read “Number of advocacy engagements to advance adoption of key legislative priorities”; the indicator “Number of governmental and independent institutions established or renewed in accordance with the Constitution” has been replaced with “Number of advocacy engagements to promote effective relations between the federal Government and governorate authorities”; and the indicator “Adoption of the required number of laws and regulatory framework to conduct elections” to “Electoral legal framework amended and in line with Iraqi constitutional provisions, and technical advice provided to relevant committees in the Council of Representatives and Council of Ministers as well as the Independent High Electoral Commission on amending the relevant laws required to conduct elections”.

achievement can be improved to better reflect what could realistically be achieved by the respective missions and the activities for which the mission could be held accountable during the relevant performance period (see A/69/628, para. 35, and A/70/7/Add.10, para. 47). (para. 45)

The Advisory Committee notes that annex VIII to the report provides information on support provided free of charge by the host country to special political missions. The Committee points out, however, that this information does not contain the estimated value of such support. Upon request, the Committee was provided with the annual estimate of contributions from host countries (see A/71/595, annex IV). The Committee is of the view that budget submissions for special political missions should also indicate in-kind contributions by the Government and other United Nations entities. The Committee was informed, upon enquiry, that, for example, airport fees for embarkation/disembarkation at all airports in Iraq and Kuwait were waived for UNAMI. The Committee trusts that detailed information on in-kind contributions from host countries will be included in future budget submissions for the special political missions. As regards services and assets, the Committee trusts that relevant information provided by other United Nations entities will be included in future budget submissions and performance reports for special political missions and that the corresponding information, including on any related income, will be included in the reports of the entities providing such services or assets. (para. 47)

In-kind contributions largely remain the same for 2017 and are also expected to be the same in 2018. They are continually under review.

United Nations Assistance Mission for Iraq

Report of the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions (A/71/595/Add.5)

With respect to the proposed abolishment of a total of 11 national positions (2 National Professional Officer and 9 Local level), the Advisory Committee was informed, upon enquiry, that it was the policy of UNAMI to retain national staff and to only abolish positions whose functions are no longer required. In this connection, the Advisory Committee reiterates its recommendation that the Secretary-General undertake efforts to strengthen the Mission's national staffing complement, whenever appropriate, by nationalizing positions, considering the availability of qualified individuals in the local labour market (see also A/70/7/Add.15, para. 19). (para. 18)

One Field Service position in the Joint Analysis Unit is proposed for nationalization in 2018.

Brief description of the recommendationAction taken to implement the recommendation

The Secretary-General indicates that the Office of Supply Chain Management and Service Delivery includes the Central Warehouse Section, following a merger with the Acquisition Management Section, which was aimed at consolidating the processes of planning, acquisition of life support and major supply items, warehousing and inventory, and asset management. The Secretary-General also indicates that information on efficiencies achieved and lessons learned as a result of the merger is under discussion in the Department of Field Support (see A/71/365/Add.5, annex I, and A/70/7/Add.15, paras. 20 and 21). The Advisory Committee reiterates its request that information on the efficiencies achieved and lessons learned as a result of the aforementioned merger be included in the Secretary-General's next report on UNAMI (see A/70/7/Add.15, para. 21). The Committee requested, but did not receive, an organization chart of the Office of Supply Chain Management and Service Delivery showing staffing and related lines of responsibility vis-à-vis the various locations, and trusts that such information will be provided to the General Assembly at the time of its consideration of the present report. (para. 20)

Report of the Board of Auditors (Volume I) (A/72/5 \(Vol. I\) and A/72/5 \(Vol. I\)/Corr.1)

The Board recommends that UNAMA and UNAMI prepare their training budgets on the basis of a training needs analysis and ensure that the training is properly followed up. (chap. II, para. 328)

The Board recommends that UNAMI strengthen its internal control mechanism over management of weapons and ammunition. (chap. II, para. 346)

This has been reflected in the annex to the present report, in organizational charts B (Mission support) and C (Kuwait Joint Support Office).

UNAMI implemented a comprehensive training needs assessment in May 2015. The findings were taken into consideration for the 2016 training planning and budget preparation. A half-day workshop on preparing and monitoring the training budget was held on 30 September 2016, followed by reviews with section chiefs on 22 November 2016 and 26 January and 29 March 2017. The next review is scheduled for November 2017 and will review budget expenditure in line with the approved UNAMI 2017 training budget and Mission guidelines.

Internal control mechanisms have been strengthened by UNAMI to ensure physical accountability of weapons and ammunition. Weapons custodians and deputies have been appointed countrywide. Daily and monthly physical counts of weapons and ammunition have been put into practice. The access to and the security of the weapons armouries have been significantly enhanced.

The recommendation is noted. However, the current property management and inventory management practice, which includes joint physical inspections with Mission support personnel and secure access to weapons and ammunition, has proved to be effective. No discrepancies have been noted since implementation.

Brief description of the recommendation

Action taken to implement the recommendation

The Board further recommends that UNAMI should consider adopting the International Ammunition Technical Guidelines on inventory management for ammunition and weapons. (chap. II, para. 347)

The International Ammunition Technical Guidelines have been adopted in the current standard operating procedures for the management of weapons and ammunition.

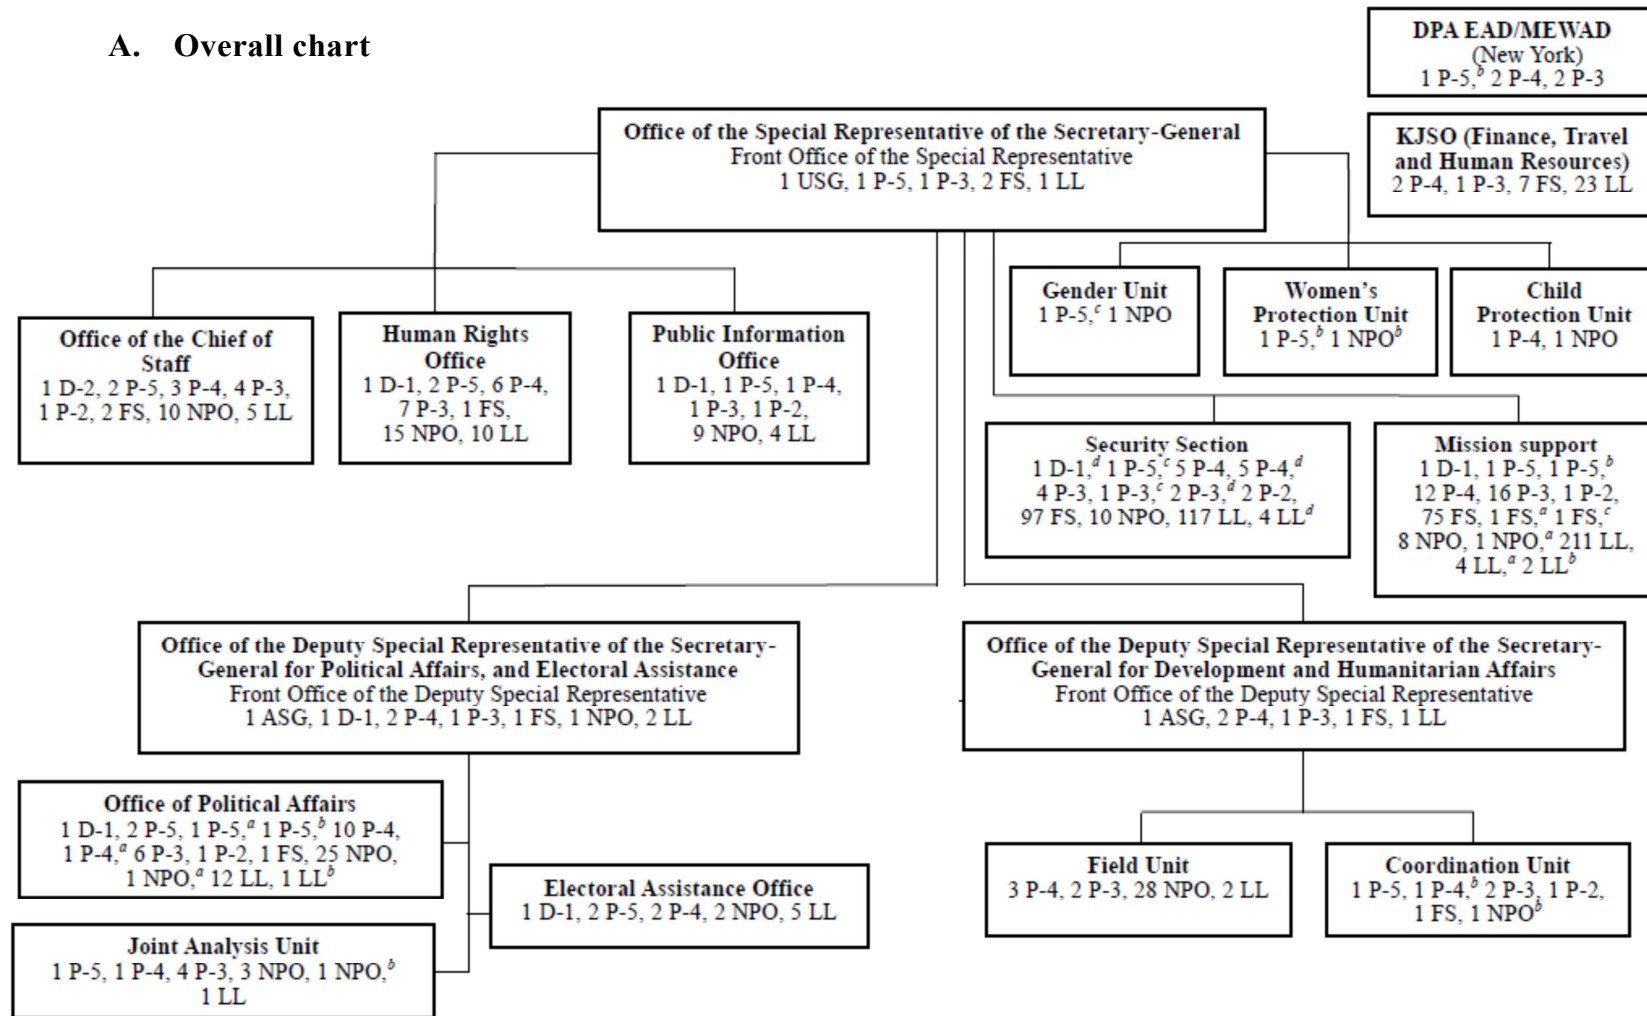

The Board recommends that the Administration consider the assignment of all the functions related to UNAMA and UNAMI to the Kuwait Joint Support Office within a reasonable time frame. (chap. II, para. 353)

The Kuwait Joint Support Office was established to carry out back-office operations in the areas of finance and human resources. The UNAMI units based in Kuwait are the Procurement Section, the Surface Transport Section, the Information and Communications Technology Section (incorporated under the Geospatial, Information and Telecommunications Technologies Section), the Security Section, the Central Warehouse Section and the Engineering Section. The Procurement Section conducts local sourcing from the Kuwait market for Iraq; the Information and Communications Technology Section maintains the mission's backup site; the Central Warehouse Section stores the Mission's goods before dispatch to Iraq; and the Security, Surface Transport and Engineering Section provide services required to secure, maintain and run the compound. Kuwait also provides a hub where the Mission could relocate easily should the security of the Mission be compromised.
