Caribbean Development Co-operation Committee of the Economic Commission for Latin America

The Caribbean Development Co-operation Committee was created in 1975 by the Economic Commission for Latin America to act as a co-ordinating body for activities relating to development and co-operation and as a consultative organ of the Commission.

At its second regular session of 1980, the Economic and Social Council noted with appreciation the results of the fifth session of the Caribbean Development and Co-operation Committee, held at Kingston, and commended to the Economic Commission for Latin America for consideration at its nineteenth session the conclusions reached by that Committee; noted that the Committee at its fifth session had selected, within the framework of the work programme, a limited number of areas and projects to be accorded the highest priority and to be implemented urgently; and requested the Secretary-General to make appropriate provision for the implementation of the priority projects and for the strengthening of the secretariat of the Committee in his supplementary budget estimates for 1981 within the over-all United Nations budget for consideration by the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions and the Fifth Committee of the General Assembly in the course of the thirty-fifth session of the Assembly, bearing in mind the view of the Caribbean Development and Co-operation Committee that the implementation of such projects constituted an urgent need which could not have been foreseen at the time of the adoption of the programme budget for 1980-1981 (resolution 1980/56).

At the thirty-fifth session, the General Assembly will have before it the relevant part of the report of the Economic and Social Council (A/35/3/Add.3).

International years and anniversaries

At its second regular session of 1980, the Economic and Social Council took note with appreciation of the report of the Secretary-General on international years and anniversaries (E/1980/64 and Add.1) submitted pursuant to its decision 1979/64; adopted guidelines, as its criteria and procedures with regard to future proposals for international years; and submitted those guidelines to the General Assembly for consideration at its thirty-fifth session (resolution 1980/67).

At the thirty-fifth session, the General Assembly will have before it the above-mentioned document.

World Communications Year: development of communications infrastructure

At its thirty-second session, the General Assembly proclaimed a Transport and Communications Decade in Africa during the years 1978-1988 and requested the Secretary-General, in consultation with the International Telecommunication Union and other specialized agencies concerned, to propose for consideration, as appropriate, one year during the Decade as a World Communications Year, in view of the importance of transport and communications to other regions of the world and to submit to the Economic and Social Council at its second regular session of 1979 a report containing a detailed programme of measures and activities to be carried out during such a Year (resolution 32/160).

At its second regular session of 1979, the Economic and Social Council, having considered the report of the Secretary-General (E/1979/87), decided to defer a decision on the scope, proposed programme of activities and organizational structure for the World Communications Year to its second regular session of 1980 and to request the Secretary-General to consult with Member States on these matters and report thereon to the Council at that session (decision 1979/63).

At its second regular session of 1980, the Economic and Social Council, having considered the reports of the Secretary-General containing the proposed programme of activities for a World Communications Year and comments thereon (E/1979/87, E/1980/65), recommended to the General Assembly that 1983 would be an appropriate year for the celebration of a World Communications Year, provided that the arrangements necessary for its financing had been made, based on the principle of voluntary contributions; and recommended that the programme of activities and the scope of the Year should be based on activities at the national and international level and should focus on communications infrastructures (resolution 1980/69).

At the thirty-fifth session, the General Assembly will have before it the above-mentioned documents.

Humanitarian assistance and relief to the Kampuchean people

At its first regular session of 1980, the Economic and Social Council, recognizing the grave and urgent need to increase humanitarian assistance to the Kampuchean people and the need of further prompt and effective international assistance in pursuance of General Assembly resolution 34/62, decided that an international meeting should be held to consider humanitarian assistance and relief to the Kampuchean people (resolution 1980/23).

The Meeting on Humanitarian Assistance and Relief to the Kampuchean People was held at Geneva on 26 and 27 May 1980. At the conclusion of the Meeting, it was decided that the statement by the President of the Meeting should be transmitted to all the Members of the United Nations and submitted, through the Economic and Social Council, to the General Assembly at its thirty-fifth session.

At its second regular session of 1980, the Economic and Social Council took note of the statement by the President of the Meeting, contained in the annex to a note by the Secretary-General (A/35/303 and Corr.1) and decided to transmit it to all States Members of the United Nations and to submit it to the General Assembly at its thirty-fifth session (decision 1980/156).

At the thirty-fifth session, the General Assembly will have before it the following documents:

24. Question of Palestine: report of the Committee on the Exercise of the Inalienable Rights of the Palestinian People

The Security Council considered the recommendations of the Committee on the Exercise of the Inalienable Rights of the Palestinian People in March and April 1980, but the recommendations of the Committee were not adopted owing to a negative vote of one of the permanent members of the Council. On the basis of paragraph 8 of resolution 34/65 A, the Committee decided that an emergency special session of the General Assembly should be held to consider the question of Palestine.

The seventh emergency special session was convened on 22 July 1980 at the request of Senegal (A/ES-7/1).

At its seventh emergency special session, the General Assembly reaffirmed the inalienable rights in Palestine of the Palestinian people, including the right to self-determination without external interference, and to national independence and sovereignty and the right to establish its own independent sovereign State; called upon Israel to withdraw completely and unconditionally from all the Palestinian and other Arab territories occupied since June 1967, including Jerusalem, and urged that such withdrawal from all the occupied territories should start before 15 November 1980; requested and authorized the Secretary-General, in consultation, as appropriate, with the Committee, to take the necessary measures towards the implementation of the recommendations contained in paragraphs 59 to 72 of the report of the Committee to the Assembly at its thirty-first session as a basis for the solution of the question of Palestine; requested the Secretary-General to report to the Assembly at its thirty-fifth session; requested the Security Council, in the event of non-compliance by Israel with the resolution, to adopt effective measures under Chapter VII of the Charter; and decided to adjourn the seventh emergency special session temporarily and to resume its meetings upon request from Member States (resolution ES-7/2).

At the same session, the General Assembly requested the Committee to study thoroughly the reasons for the refusal of Israel to comply with the relevant United Nations resolutions, particularly resolution 31/20, in which the Assembly had endorsed the recommendations of the Committee and the numerous resolutions demanding the withdrawal of Israel from the occupied Palestinian and other Arab territories, including Jerusalem, and to submit the study to the Assembly.

At the thirty-fifth session, the General Assembly will have before it the following documents:

- (a) Report of the Committee on the Exercise of the Inalienable Rights of the Palestinian People called for under resolution 34/65 C: Supplement No. 35 (A/35/35);
- (b) Letters from the Chairman of the Committee: A/35/111, A/35/230, A/35/279-S/13978, A/35/377-S/14089, A/35/378-S/14909, A/35/398-S/14110.

At its thirty-fourth session, the General Assembly inter alia, endorsed UNCTAD resolution 110 (V) concerning the particular problems facing Zaire with regard to transport, transit and access to foreign markets; and requested the Secretary-General to take the necessary steps to enable the Economic Commission for Africa to implement the resolution and to report thereon to the Assembly at its thirty-fifth session (resolution 34/193); decided to convene a third session of the United Nations Conference on an International Code of Conduct on the Transfer of Technology in the first half of 1980 (resolution 34/195); requested the Secretary-General to take the necessary measures with respect to the co-ordination of the treatment of the question of reverse transfer of technology within the United Nations system, bearing in mind relevant paragraphs of Assembly resolution 33/151 and UNCTAD resolution 102 (V); requested the Trade and Development Board, as envisaged in paragraph 6 of resolution 102 (V), to proceed at its twentieth session with the consideration of appropriate arrangements, including the necessity of convening a group of experts, to examine the feasibility of measuring human resource flows; and requested the Secretary-General to carry out a study on the feasibility of the proposals on the establishment of an international labour compensatory facility and to submit to the Assembly a progress report at its thirty-fifth session and a final report at its thirty-sixth session (resolution 34/200).

At the same session, the General Assembly adopted resolutions under this item relating to the United Nations Cocoa Conference (resolution 34/23), assistance to Antigua, St. Kitts-Nevis-Anguilla, Saint Lucia and Saint Vincent (resolution 34/194) (see item 64 (b)), the fifth and sixth sessions of UNCTAD (resolution 34/196), measures to combat the world inflationary phenomenon (resolution 34/197), action in favour of developing island countries (resolution 34/205), and the convening of a resumed session of the United Nations Conference on Restrictive Business Practices (decision 34/447).

United Nations Negotiating Conference on a Common Fund under the Integrated Programme for Commodities

The United Nations Conference on Trade and Development in its resolution 93 (IV) on the Integrated Programme for Commodities agreed that steps would be taken towards the negotiation of a common fund and requested the Secretary-General of UNCTAD to convene a negotiating conference open to all members of UNCTAD on a common fund no later than March 1977. After three preparatory meetings, the first session of the Conference was convened from 7 March to 2 April 1977.

Consequent upon the suspension of its second session on 1 December 1977, the General Assembly reaffirmed the urgency of establishing the common fund and called for a reconvening of the Conference after appropriate consultations (resolution 32/193). Subsequently, the Conference was reconvened from 14 to 30 November 1978.

At its third session, from 12 to 19 March 1979, the Conference, by its resolution 1 (III), reached agreement on the Fundamental Elements of the Common Fund, and requested the Secretary-General of UNCTAD to convene an Interim Committee of the Negotiating Conference to consider the elements requiring further elaboration, to draft the Articles of Agreement and to make recommendations regarding the preparatory work required to bring the Fund into operation. The Interim Committee held five sessions during the period September 1979 to April 1980.

At its thirty-fourth session, the General Assembly, having taken note of Trade and Development Board resolution 206 (XIX), agreed to make appropriate arrangements to advance the necessary funds up to a total of $1.8 million to enable the financing of the preparatory work required to bring the Common Fund into operation (decision 34/446).

At its fourth session, the Conference adopted the text of the Agreement Establishing the Common Fund for Commodities (TD/IPC/CF/CONF/24) on 27 June 1980. The Final Act of the Conference (TD/IPC/CF/CONF/23) was signed by the representatives of 92 States. The Agreement is open for signature by all States listed in schedule A to the Agreement, and by intergovernmental organizations specified in article 4 (b) of the Agreement, at United Nations Headquarters from 1 October 1980 until one year after the date of its entry into force.

United Nations Conference on a Convention on International Multimodal Transport

In pursuance of a request of the Economic and Social Council contained in resolution 1734 (LIV) of 10 January 1973, the Intergovernmental Preparatory Group on a Convention on International Multimodal Transport was established by the Trade and Development Board by its decision 96 (XII). On 9 March 1979, at its sixth session, the Group adopted the text of a draft convention for a transmittal to the Trade and Development Board at its tenth special session. At its thirty-third session, in 1978, the General Assembly decided that a Conference of Plenipotentiaries on a Convention on International Multimodal Transport should be convened at dates to be determined by the Trade and Development Board after having received the recommendation of the Intergovernmental Preparatory Group (resolution 33/160).

The first part of the United Nations Conference was held from 12 to 30 November 1979 and the resumed session from 8 to 24 May 1980. At the 8th (closing) meeting on 24 May 1980 the Conference adopted the United Nations Convention on International Multimodal Transport of Goods (TD/MT/CONF/16). The Final Act of the Conference was signed by 71 countries (TD/MT/CONF/15). The Convention shall be open for signature at United Nations Headquarters from 1 September 1980 until 31 August 1981 and will remain open for accession thereafter. It will enter into force 12 months after 30 States have become contracting parties either by definitive signature, ratification or accession.

- (n) Examination of long-term trends in economic development: report of the Secretary-General

At its thirtieth session, in 1975, the General Assembly stated that an examination of long-term trends in the economic development of individual regions was of great importance for securing a rapid rate of economic development of all countries, in particular of developing countries, and that such an examination would also contribute towards the elimination of the negative phenomena in the economies of those countries and regions; and requested the Secretary-General to prepare a comprehensive report on the long-term trends and forecasts in the economic development of the various regions and their mutual relationship, including methodological guidelines for the further examination of such trends in the region (resolution 3508 (XXX)).

At its thirty-second session, the General Assembly took note of the report of the Secretary-General on long-term trends in the economic development of the various regions of the world and their mutual relationship and studies of the regional commissions annexed thereto (E/5937 and Corr.1, E/5937/Add.1 and Add.1/Corr.1 and 2, E/5937/Add.2-4 and Add.4/Corr.1); endorsed Economic and Social Council resolution 2090 (LXIII), which contained the recommendation to start, on the basis of the regional studies under way, preparations for the elaboration of an over-all socio-economic perspective of the development of the world economy up to the year 2000, with special emphasis on the years up to 1990 and on the problems of developing countries; and decided to consider the status of the examination of long-term economic trends at its thirty-fourth session as a separate agenda item (resolution 32/57).

At its thirty-third session, in the course of its consideration of the item relating to the report of the Economic and Social Council (see item 12), the General Assembly took note of the progress report of the Secretary-General (E/1978/71) on long-term trends in the economic development of world regions (decision 33/436).

At its thirty-fourth session, the General Assembly requested the Secretary-General and the United Nations organizations, organs and bodies concerned to continue their analytical work devoted to the examination of long-term economic and social trends and to make it available in the process of formulation of economic policies and decision-making, in particular with regard to development of international co-operation; and further requested the Secretary-General, in consultation with the Committee for Development Planning and taking into account the international development strategy for the third United Nations development decade, to submit to the Assembly at its thirty-fifth session his views on the possible outline and method of preparation of an over-all socio-economic perspective of the development of the world economy up to the year 2000, with special emphasis on the period up to 1990 and, in particular, on the problems of the developing countries (resolution 34/57). At the same session, the Assembly adopted a resolution relating to health as an integral part of development (resolution 34/58).

At the thirty-fifth session, the General Assembly will have before it the report of the Secretary-General called for under resolution 34/57 (A/35/345).
