Subject: LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY EXAMINATIONS

1. The next language proficiency examinations in Arabic, Chinese, English, French, Russian and Spanish will be held in January 1995. The session is scheduled for 24 and 25 January 1995. These examinations are open to:

(a) Students who have completed the highest level of a United Nations language course;

(b) Staff members who have not enrolled in a United Nations language course but who can show evidence that they possess, in the language to be tested, a level of knowledge equivalent to that of students who have completed the relevant United Nations language course.

Non-staff members who have not completed the highest level of a United Nations language course are not eligible to sit for the language proficiency examinations.

2. A staff member may take a language proficiency examination to obtain a certificate establishing proficiency in a second official language and, in certain cases:

(a) To benefit from the relevant provisions of General Assembly resolution 2480 B (XXIII) of 21 December 1968;

(b) To qualify for the first or second language allowance under staff rule 103.6.

3. Resolution 2480 B (XXIII) applies to staff members in the Professional category and above subject to geographical distribution who work in one of the working languages of the Secretariat and who have an adequate and confirmed knowledge of a second official language. The criteria for benefiting from the language incentives provided for under the resolution are set out in administrative instruction ST/AI/207 of 23 December 1971.

4. Under staff rule 103.6, staff members in the General Service and Trades and Crafts categories or in the Field Service category below level 6 are eligible for language allowances. Staff members must be proficient in two official languages and must pass the language proficiency examination in one of them to receive the allowance. To receive a second language allowance they must be proficient in three official languages and must pass the proficiency examination in two of them. Staff members whose mother tongue is an official language of the Organization must pass the examination in another official language, which may be the language in which they are required to be proficient by the terms of their appointment. The language proficiency examination in their mother tongue is waived. Staff members whose mother tongue is not one of the official languages must pass the examination in an official language other than that in which they are required to be proficient by the terms of their appointment. The proficiency examination in that language is waived.

5. Those wishing to take the examination in January 1995 must submit a P.46 application form to the Language Training Programme of the Training Service (room S-606, ext. 3-7056). A separate application must be submitted for each language examination requested. Staff members may register in room S-606 between 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. from Thursday, 5 January to Friday, 20 January 1995, the deadline for registration.

6. Successful candidates must pass BOTH the written and oral parts of the examination with a minimum score of 65 per cent in each part.

7. In certain cases in which candidates receive a score of 80 per cent or more on the written examination but fail the oral, the jury adjudicating the examination will review the cases and may allow candidates to retain their written score for the following examination session, for which they must fill in a new application form. In such cases, candidates will receive written notification of the jury's decision and will have to retake only the oral examination at the following session. The same consideration cannot be given, however, for the oral test or to candidates who have not taken both parts of the examination at the same session.
