ECOSOC RESOLUTION 1296 (XLIV)

PROPOSED DRAFT RESOLUTION

ARRANGEMENTS FOR CONSULTATION WITH NON-GOVERNMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS

PART I

Principles to be applied in the establishment of consultative relations

The following principles shall be applied in establishing consultative relations with non-governmental organizations

1. The organization shall be concerned with matters falling within the competence of the Economic and Social Council with respect to international economic, social, cultural, educational, health, scientific, technological and related matters and to questions of human rights.

1. The organization shall be concerned with matters falling within the competence of the Economic and Social Council and its subsidiary bodies with respect to international economic, social, environmental, cultural, educational, health, scientific, technological, and related matters and to humanitarian and human rights questions (Canada/EU).

1.1 The whole United Nations system, including the United Nations bodies and conferences, dealing not only with the economic, social and sustained economic growth and sustainable development issues but also disarmament, finance, trade, law and humanitarian issues should be open to participation by non-governmental organisations. (G-77)

2. The aims and purposes of the organization shall be in conformity with the spirit, purposes and principles of the Charter of the United Nations.

2. NO CHANGE

3. The organization shall undertake to support the work of the United Nations and to promote knowledge of its principles and activities, in accordance with its own aims and purposes and the nature and scope of its competence and activities.

3. NO CHANGE

3.1 (Alternative #1) Non-governmental organizations shall include private voluntary organizations, major groups as defined in Agenda 21, advocacy groups, service organizations, organizations, representing indigenous peoples, foundations, research institutions and religious organisations, and not-for-profit entities representing business organisations. (CRP.1) (This paragraph should be deleted (G-77))

3.1 (Alternative #2) Except where expressly stated otherwise the term organizations will refer to non-governmental organizations at the national, regional or international levels. For the purpose of this resolution it shall include, but not be limited to, private voluntary organizations, non-profit organizations representing major groups, addressed in Agenda 21, advocacy groups, service organizations, foundations and networks. These designations are subject to evolution. Their use has no implication for decisions on consultative status made by the Council or recommendations by its Committee on Non-Governmental Organizations, but is intended to illustrate the variety of organizations denoted by the term "non-governmental organizations" which may be eligible.

(Australia/Canada/European Union/Russian Federation)

(A possible definition of a network:
A network is a grouping of individual non-profit non-governmental organizations which agree to work together on specific issues in order to pool their resources and increase their effectiveness in working on those issues of joint concern. It has identifiable member organizations, decision-making processes and accountability to its members. A network does not necessarily have a headquarters but can provide a mailing list). (Australia/Canada/European Union)

3.2 (Alternative #1) Consultative relationships may be established with international, regional and national organizations, in conformity with the Charter of the United Nations and the principles and criteria established under the present resolution. (CRP.1) (This paragraph should be deleted (G-77))

3.2 (Alternative #2) Consideration will be given to achieve an equitable balance in the granting of consultative status to non-governmental organizations and their participation in international conferences convened by the United Nations, particularly between national and international non-governmental organizations and non-governmental organizations from developing and developed countries. (G-77)

ECOSOC RESOLUTION 1296 (XLIV)

PROPOSED DRAFT RESOLUTION

3.3 Balance in terms of regions, issues and expertise of the organizations should also be achieved. Greater participation of non-governmental organizations from developing countries in international conferences convened from the United Nations should be encouraged. (G-77)

3.4 (Alternative #1) Regional and national organizations, particularly from developing and transition economy countries, [which are not affiliated to an international organization (Australia proposes deleting this phrase)] already in status, may be admitted provided that they can demonstrate that their programme of work is of direct relevance to the aims and purposes of the United Nations and, in the case of national organizations, after consultation with the Member State concerned. (CRP.1)

3.4 (Alternative #2) Regional and national organizations may be admitted provided that they can demonstrate that their programme of work is of direct relevance to the aims and purposes of the United Nations and, in the case of national organizations, after consultation with the Member State concerned. Such consultation shall allow the member state concerned to be informed that a NGO claiming to be established on its territory is applying for consultative status to communicate its views, if any, to the Secretariat. These views shall be communicated to the NGO concerned, which shall have the opportunity to respond to the views of the member state. (Canada/EU)

3.4 (Alternative #3) Regional and national organizations from developing countries, which are not affiliated to an international organization already in status, may be admitted provided that they can demonstrate that their programme of work is of direct relevance to the aims and purposes of the United Nations and, in the case of national organizations, after consultation with the Member State concerned. (G-77)

4. The organization shall be of representative character and of recognized international standing; it shall represent a substantial proportion, and express the views of major sections, of the population or of the organized persons within the particular field of its competence, covering, where possible, a substantial number of countries in different regions of the world. Where there exist a number of organizations with similar objectives, interests and basic views in a given field, they shall, for the purposes of consultation with the Council, form a joint committee or

4. (Alternative #1) Russian Federation proposes the insertion of the words "or regional" between the words "international" and "standing" in the first sentence of paragraph 4.

4. (Alternative #2) The organization shall be of recognized standing within the particular field of its competence or of a representative character. Where there exist a number of organizations with similar objectives, interests and basic views in a given field, they shall, for the purposes of consultation with the Council, form a joint committee or other body authorized to carry on such consultation for the group as a whole. (Australia/Canada/EU)

5. The organization shall have an established headquarters, with an executive officer. It shall have a democratically adopted constitution, a copy of which shall be deposited with the Secretary-General of the United Nations, and which shall provide for the determination of policy by a conference, congress or other representative body, and for an executive organ responsible to the policy-making body.

5. NO CHANGE

6. The organization shall have authority to speak for its members through its authorized representatives. Evidence of this authority shall be presented, if requested.

6. NO CHANGE

7. Subject to paragraph 9 below, the organization shall be international in its structure, with members who exercise voting rights in relation to the policies or action of the international its members. (EU)] Any such organization which is not established by any governmental entity or intergovernmental agreement shall be considered as a non-governmental organization for the purpose of these arrangements, including organizations which accept members designated by governmental authorities, provided that such membership does not interfere with the free expression of views of the organization. (CRP.1) (This paragraph should be deleted (G-77)). [An organization which is established by a governmental entity is not precluded from admission if it can demonstrate its independence from the establishing entity. (Canada)]

8. The basic resources of the international organization shall be derived in the main part from contributions of the national affiliates or other components or from individual members. Where voluntary contributions have been received, their amounts and donors shall be faithfully revealed to the Council Committee on Non-Governmental Organizations. Where, however, the above criterion is not fulfilled and an organization is financed from other sources, it must explain to the satisfaction of the Committee its reasons for not meeting the requirements laid down in this paragraph. Any financial contribution or other support, direct or indirect, from a Government to the international organization shall be openly declared to the Committee through the Secretary-General and fully recorded in the financial and other records of the organization and shall be devoted to purposes in accordance with the aims of the United Nations.

9. National organizations shall normally present their views through international non-governmental organizations to which they belong. It would not, save in exceptional cases, be appropriate to admit national organizations which are affiliated to an international non-governmental organization covering the same subjects on an international basis. National organizations, however, may be admitted after consultation with the Member State concerned in order to help achieve a balanced and effective representation of non-governmental organizations reflecting major interests of all regions and areas of the world, or where they have special experience upon which the Council may wish to draw.

9. (Alternative #1) National organizations should normally present their views through international or regional non-governmental organizations to which they belong. National organizations whether they are affiliated to an international or regional non-governmental organization or not, may, however, be admitted after consultations with a member state concerned in order to help achieve a balanced and effective representation of non-governmental organizations reflecting major interests of regions and areas of the world, or where they have special experience upon which the Council may wish to draw, or where they can demonstrate that they are capable of offering a new perspective and the effective international or regional organization does not object on the basis of its statutory relations with the affiliate seeking admission. (Russian Federation) (This paragraph is proposed by the Russian Federation on the understanding that paragraph 3.4 above (CRP.1) will be deleted.

9. (Alternative #2) National organizations which are affiliated to an international or regional non-governmental organization covering the same subjects may be admitted unless the international or regional non-governmental organization concerned objects on the basis of its statutory relations with the affiliate seeking admission. (Canada/EU).

10. Consultative arrangements shall not normally be made with an international organization which is a member of a committee or group composed of international organizations with which consultative arrangements have been made.

11. In considering the establishment of consultative relations with a non-governmental organization, the Council will take into account whether the field of activity of the organization is wholly or the international conferences convened by the United Nations is the prerogative of Member States exercised through the Committee on Non-Governmental Organizations. Likewise, only Member States can interpret any norm or decision regarding this matter. When the Committee on Non-Governmental Organizations has reservations in granting, suspending or withdrawing consultative status and accreditation to the international conferences convened by the United Nations, the non-governmental organizations concerned should have the right to be informed and respond to the objections before any final decision is made. (G-77)

11.2 The provisions of the present resolution shall apply to the United Nations regional commissions and their subsidiary bodies mutatis mutandis. [Accordingly, supportive secretariat arrangements should be put in place at the headquarters of each regional commission. (EU/Russian Federation propose deleting this sentence)]. (CRP.1)

11.3 The Economic and Social Council invites the Executive Boards of UNDP/UNFPA and UNICEF and the [Executive Board] of WFP to examine ways and means of strengthening their cooperation with non-governmental organizations at the national and regional levels in relation to operational activities within the framework of the implementation of Assembly resolution 47/199. (CRP.1) ~~(This paragraph should be deleted (EU/US/Russian Federation/G-77))~~

11.4 The governing bodies of the organs, organizations and bodies of the United Nations system should examine the principles and practices in relation to their cooperation with NGOs and to take the necessary action to harmonize them wherever possible in the light of the provisions of the present resolution. (G-77) ~~(This paragraph should be deleted (EU/Russian Federation/US))~~

11.5 In recognizing the evolving relationship between the United Nations and non-governmental organizations, the Economic and Social Council will consider reviewing the consultative arrangements every five years to facilitate in the most effective manner possible the contributions of non-governmental organizations to the work of the United Nations in the economic and social spheres. (Canada/EU).

Part I

PRINCIPLES GOVERNING THE NATURE OF THE CONSULTATIVE ARRANGEMENTS

12. A clear distinction is drawn in the Charter of the United Nations between participation without vote in the deliberations of the Council and the arrangements for consultation. Under Articles 69 and 70, participation is provided for only in the case of States not members of the Council, and of specialized agencies. Article 71, applying to non-governmental organizations, provides for suitable arrangements for consultation. This distinction, deliberately made in the Charter, is fundamental and the arrangements for consultation should not be such as to accord to non-governmental organizations the same rights of participation as are accorded to States not members of the Council and to the specialized agencies brought into relationship with the United Nations.
13. The arrangements should not be such as to overburden the Council or transform it from a body for coordination of policy and action, as contemplated in the Charter, into a general forum for discussion.
12. NO CHANGE
13. NO CHANGE

14. Decisions on arrangements for consultation should be guided by the principle that consultative arrangements are to be made, on the one hand, for the purpose of enabling the Council or one of its bodies to secure expert information or advice from organizations having special competence in the subjects for which consultative arrangements are made, and, on the other hand, to enable organizations which represent important elements of public opinion in a large number of countries to express their views. Therefore, the arrangements for consultation made with each organization should involve only the subjects for which that organization has a special competence or in which it has a special interest. The organizations given consultative status should be limited to those whose international activities in fields set out in paragraph 1 above qualify them to make a significant contribution to the work of the Council and should, in sum, as far as possible reflect in a balanced way the major viewpoints or interests in these fields in all areas and regions of the world.

14. (Alternative #1) Australia/Canada/EU propose the deletion of the following:

- "in a large number of countries" from the first sentence of paragraph 14;

- "in all areas and regions of the world" from the last sentence of paragraph 14.

14. (Alternative #2) EU proposes replacing the words "involve only" with "relate to" in the second sentence of para.14.

14. (Alternative #3) G-77 proposes no change.

Part III

ESTABLISHMENT OF CONSULTATIVE RELATIONSHIPS

15. NO CHANGE

15. In establishing consultative relationships with each organization, regard shall be had to the nature and scope of its activities and to the assistance it may be expected to give to the Council or its subsidiary bodies in carrying out the functions set out in Chapters IX and X of the Charter of the United Nations.

16. In establishing consultative relations with organizations, the Council will distinguish between:

discrimination and ethnic cleansing and other gross violations of human rights and fundamental freedoms. (G-77)

18. Major organizations one of whose primary purposes is to promote the aims, objectives and purposes of the United Nations and a furtherance of the understanding of its work may be accorded consultative status in category II.

19. Other organizations which do not have general or special consultative status but which the Council, or the Secretary-General of the United Nations in consultation with the Council or its Committee on Non-Governmental Organizations considers can make occasional and useful contributions to the work of the Council or its subsidiary bodies or other United Nations bodies within their competence shall be included in a list (to be known as the Roster). This list may also include organizations in consultative status or similar relationship with a specialized agency or a United Nations body. These organizations shall be available for consultation at the request of the Council or its subsidiary bodies. The fact that an organization is on the Roster shall not in itself be regarded as a qualification for
