I. INTRODUCTION

A. Opening of the session

1. The third session of the United Nations Conference on Straddling Fish Stocks and Highly Migratory Fish Stocks was held in New York from 14 to 31 March 1994. The session was convened in accordance with paragraph 3 of General Assembly resolution 48/194 of 21 December 1993, entitled "United Nations Conference on Straddling Fish Stocks and Highly Migratory Fish Stocks". The first and second sessions of the Conference were held in New York from 19 to 23 April and from 12 to 30 July 1993, respectively. 1/

2. The Chairman of the Conference made a statement at the opening of the session. 2/ He stressed that, on the basis of available information, the gravity of the international fisheries situation as it pertained to highly migratory fish stocks and straddling fish stocks remained unchanged and that there had been reports of fisheries continuing to collapse in some parts of the world and of extreme socio-economic consequences for the fishing communities. He therefore invited all delegates to work constructively in order to find effective solutions that would ensure the long-term and sustainable use of all fish stocks within the framework of the 1982 United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea.

3. The Under-Secretary-General for Legal Affairs, the Legal Counsel, also made a statement.

II. GENERAL DEBATE

9. In accordance with the programme of work agreed at the beginning of the session, during the first week delegates were given the opportunity to make general statements on the negotiating text prepared by the Chairman and contained in document A/CONF.164/13 of 23 November 1993.

10. At the 21st meeting, held on 14 March, statements were made by the Minister of Fisheries and Oceans of Canada, the Honourable Brian Tobin, as well as the representatives of Peru, Mauritania, the European Community, the Republic of Korea, Argentina, Japan, China, the United States, Samoa (on behalf of the members of FFA), Ecuador and the Russian Federation. The representative of FAO and the observer for Greenpeace International also made statements.

11. At the 22nd meeting, held on 14 March, statements were made by the representatives of New Zealand, Poland and Australia. The representative of ICCAT also made a statement.

III. CONSIDERATION OF THE ISSUES

12. From the 22nd to 38th meetings the Conference met in informal sessions and conducted an examination section by section of the negotiating text.

13. The negotiating text was divided into 11 sections and 2 annexes, as follows: (i) the nature of conservation and management measures to be established through cooperation; (ii) mechanisms for international cooperation; (iii) regional fisheries management organizations or arrangements; (iv) duties of the flag State; (v) compliance and enforcement of high seas fisheries conservation and management measures; (vi) port States; (vii) non-parties to subregional or regional organizations or arrangements; (viii) dispute settlement; (ix) compatibility and coherence between national and international conservation measures for the same stock; (x) special requirements of developing countries; (xi) review of the implementation of conservation and management measures; annex 1 on minimum data requirements for the conservation and management of straddling fish stocks and highly migratory fish stocks; and annex 2 on arbitration.

14. In accordance with the understanding reached at the second session, 4/ the Conference decided at the 25th and 31st meetings to entrust the consideration of the questions of the precautionary approach to fisheries management and management reference points to two open-ended working groups. On these questions, the Conference had before it two information papers prepared by FAO 5/ at the request of the Conference at its second session.

15. At the 40th meeting, held on 25 March, the Chairman informed the Conference that he would undertake informal consultations on issues contained in the negotiating text. The consultations took place from 28 to 30 March.

16. Revisions of the negotiating text were issued section by section in the form of conference room papers. During the informal consultations, these revisions were further refined. The results of the consultations are now incorporated in the revised negotiating text.

17. At the 41st meeting, held on 30 March, the Chairman made a report to the Conference on the progress made during his informal consultations.

IV. WORKING GROUPS ON THE PRECAUTIONARY APPROACH IN FISHERIES MANAGEMENT AND ON REFERENCE POINTS FOR FISHERIES MANAGEMENT

18. The Working Group on the Precautionary Approach in Fisheries Management met simultaneously with the plenary meetings from 16 to 18 March, under the chairmanship of Mr. Andrés Couve (Chile).

19. The Working Group on Reference Points for Fisheries Management also met simultaneously with the plenary meetings from 21 to 23 March, under the chairmanship of Mr. Andrew Rosenberg (United States of America).

20. At the 38th meeting, held on 24 March, the Chairmen of the two working groups introduced their reports to the plenary. These reports are contained in documents A/CONF.164/WP.1 and A/CONF.164/WP.2.

21. Following the introduction of the reports of the working groups, statements were made by the representatives of Argentina, Peru and Canada.

22. At the 39th and 40th meetings, held on 25 March, further statements were made by the representatives of the United States, the European Community, Sweden, Chile, Canada, Australia, the Philippines, the Republic of Korea, Ukraine, New Zealand, Peru, Argentina, China, the Russian Federation, Poland, Trinidad and Tobago, Indonesia and Japan. The observers for WWF, the Alaska Marine Conservation Council and the Ocean Caucus (Canadian Environmental Network) also made statements.

V. CREDENTIALS COMMITTEE

23. The Credentials Committee met on 28 March 1994. The report of the Committee is contained in document A/CONF.164/18.

VI. VOLUNTARY FUND

24. At the 42nd meeting, held on 31 March 1994, the Chairman of the Conference made an appeal to delegations for contributions to the voluntary fund established for the purpose of assisting developing countries to participate fully and effectively in the Conference, so as to enable as many States as possible to participate in the Conference. Three contributions to the fund were made in advance or during the third session of the Conference by Canada, Japan and Norway. Travel to the present session has been financed or will be reimbursed in respect of representatives of 14 States falling under the provisions of paragraph 9 of resolution 47/192.

VII. CLOSING OF THE SESSION

25. At the 42nd meeting, held on 31 March 1994, the Chairman made a closing statement observing, inter alia, that as a result of the consultations during the session, he was able to issue a revision of his negotiating text (A/CONF.164/13/Rev.1). He noted that the Conference had moved closer to agreement on a number of issues. He also indicated that the revised negotiating text as a whole reflected the progress made at the session on all substantive matters. He suggested that at the summer session the Conference should continue the process of informal consultations and should devote as much time as possible to resolving outstanding issues since such an approach had proved to be most productive during the session.

26. At the same meeting, statements were made by the representatives of Argentina, the European Community, New Zealand, Peru, Ecuador, Japan, the Russian Federation, Tunisia, Samoa, Canada, Norway, the United States, the Republic of Korea, Trinidad and Tobago, China, Australia, Poland, Chile,

Mauritania and Sierra Leone. The representatives of OLDEPESCA and CPPS made statements. Statements were also made by the observers of Coordinadora de Tripulantes Pesqueros Industriales del Cono Sur América Latina, Greenpeace International, the Fisheries Council of Canada, the National Audubon Society and the Federation of Japan Tuna Fisheries Cooperative Associations.

27. The Conference adopted the recommendations contained in the report of the Credentials Committee.

Notes

1/ For reports on the first and second sessions of the Conference, see A/CONF.164/9 and 16, respectively. For the report of the Secretary-General on the implementation of the decisions and recommendations of the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development: sustainable use and conservation of the marine living resources of the high seas: United Nations Conference on Straddling Fish Stocks and Highly Migratory Fish Stocks, see A/48/479 and Corr.1.

2/ A/CONF.164/17.

3/ Rule 2 of the rules of procedure of the Conference (A/CONF.164/6) provides that:

"The representatives of the European Economic Community shall participate in the Conference in matters within its competence without the right to vote. Such representation shall in no case entail an increase of the representation to which the States members of the European Economic Community would otherwise be entitled".

In a letter dated 24 March 1994, the Chargé d'affaires a.i. of the Permanent Mission of Greece to the United Nations, in his capacity as the representative of the country holding the Presidency of the Council of the European Union, informed the Secretary-General of the United Nations that the European Economic Community had changed its name to the European Community. The modification was intended to reflect the provisions of article G (A) of the Treaty on European Union.
