Members of permanent missions to the United Nations

From: The Director of Personnel

Subject: LANGUAGE AND COMMUNICATION SKILLS TRAINING - ACADEMIC YEAR 1994/95

1. Language training courses in Arabic, Chinese, English, French, Russian and Spanish are organized in order to promote linguistic balance within the Secretariat and to improve the language capabilities of its staff as mandated by General Assembly resolutions 2480 B (XXIII) of 21 December 1968 and 43/224 D of 21 December 1988. The purpose of these courses is to provide staff members with the opportunity to achieve proficiency in other official languages, bearing in mind their needs and their office hours. The United Nations language proficiency examination is the official test of a staff member's knowledge of a language and may be taken both by participants who have completed the last level of a language course and by staff members who have achieved proficiency from outside sources.

I. ELIGIBILITY

2. (a) All staff members who have appointments for at least six months beyond the deadline of the registration period for the term in question or who have the expectancy of continued employment, as certified by their Executive Office, may register for language courses. Priority for admission is given to staff members; members of permanent missions to the United Nations will be admitted as space permits. Applications from other categories of non-staff members (consultants, staff of non-governmental organizations, press correspondents accredited to the United Nations and staff of other organizations of the common system) will be considered in the light of available resources (see para. 8 below for information on fees);

(b) Consular staff, spouses and children are not admitted to United Nations language courses. However, the Hospitality Committee for United Nations delegations offers courses for spouses of staff members, for spouses of members of missions and for consular staff. Further information about these courses may be obtained from Mr. Frank Werth, Hospitality Committee English School, General Assembly Building, room 101, tel. (212) 755-1685 or 570-2525.

(a) Registration for September 1994 term

31 May-10 June 1994
29 August-2 September 1994

(b) Registration for January 1995 term

Procedure

5. (a) New participants may register for a language course by filling out a registration form, which may be obtained from the Language Training Programme, room S-606, during the established registration period between 1 and 3 p.m. and returning it to the same room before the published deadline. Those who have some prior knowledge of the language they wish to study must make an appointment for a placement test when they register;

(b) Once registered in a language course, participants will be given an opportunity in class before the end-of-term examination to renew their registration for regular courses in subsequent terms. Participants who fail to re-register at that time will be dropped from the programme unless they have submitted a written explanation of their special circumstances to the appropriate language coordinator;

(c) All those who wish to participate in conversation classes or other special courses, such as the advanced reading workshops, the guided self-study workshops, the pronunciation workshops or communication skills courses, must fill out the appropriate registration form, which may be obtained in room S-606 during the registration period;

(d) Returning participants who have been absent from a course of study for two terms or more will be required to take a placement test in order to re-enrol in the programme.

Language of study

6. Prospective participants should exercise particular care in choosing the language in which they wish to take either a regular or an accelerated course, for they may register for only one such course each term and may not interrupt a course of study in one language in order to begin studying another without the authorization of the Training Service. Students in the programme must write to the Training Officer in charge of Language Training to request such a change.

Notification of enrolment

7. Staff members and other participants whose registration is current or who have registered within the established registration period should check the class lists, which will be posted on the sixth floor of the Secretariat building in the SA-B classroom area and on the second floor of UNDC-2 building during the week before the beginning of each term.

Tuition fees

8. (a) Members of the United Nations Secretariat and staff of other organizations of the common system are admitted to regular and accelerated language courses free of charge. Tuition fees of $350 per term for each regular or accelerated course are payable by non-staff members as referred to in paragraph 2 (a) above. In accordance with section XVII of General Assembly resolution 36/235 of 18 December 1981, accredited (diplomatic) staff of permanent missions at Headquarters may enrol free of charge in regular and accelerated language courses during the established registration periods. All other staff of permanent missions (administrative, technical and service) will be charged the standard fee of $350. No tuition fees will be refunded after the second week of classes;

(b) Tuition fees of $100 per term for all one-hour-per-week special language courses, such as reading workshops in Arabic, Chinese and Russian, and $200 for two-hours-per-week courses, such as conversation, the English and Arabic pronunciation workshops, etc., are payable by non-staff members as referred to in paragraph 2 (a) above;

(c) Staff of the United Nations Secretariat and staff of other organizations of the common system who repeat a regular or accelerated course at any level will be charged a repeater fee of $100; however, the repeater fee will not be chargeable if they need to repeat a course as a result of absences of three weeks or more attributable either to certified sick leave or to a mission assignment of which they were unaware at the time they enrolled in the course. Participants who have been assigned to mission service must provide written notification from their executive/administrative officer or, in the case of mission personnel, their supervisor, giving particulars of the dates and duration of the assignment.

IV. LANGUAGE TRAINING

9. Four types of language training courses are offered each term: regular, accelerated, conversation and specialized courses. In addition, the Training Service also designs and conducts special job-related language training courses to meet specific language needs at the request of departments.

Regular courses

10. (a) Depending on the level, regular courses meet for one-hour periods, three or four times a week, with the lower levels receiving extra laboratory work each week, starting in the second week of the term;

(b) Classes are offered at the following times:

Before work: 8.30 a.m.

Lunch hour: 12 p.m.
1 p.m.
2 p.m.

After work: 5.45 p.m. (6.15 p.m. during the General Assembly session)

It should be noted that not all levels of a given language are offered at each of these times. Draft schedules, posted in room S-606, should be consulted at the time of registration. Every effort will be made to place registrants according to the time preferences they indicate; however, because the number of places in lunch-hour courses is limited, there is no guarantee that registrants will be given the time they have chosen.

Accelerated courses

11. Accelerated courses are offered as an intensive alternative to the regular programme. Classes meet five days a week from 9.15 to 10.15 a.m. Written authorization is required for staff members wishing to take such courses. This authorization must be renewed each time the staff member re-registers for an accelerated course.

Conversation courses

12. Conversation courses are provided for staff members who have passed the language proficiency examination or who have a sufficiently advanced knowledge of the language. Those enrolled in the upper four levels of a language programme are also eligible to participate. The purpose of these courses is to develop oral expression and to supplement the instruction provided in the other courses. Conversation classes meet two hours a week.

Special courses

13. Specialized language workshops in different language skill areas are offered; advanced reading, listening and pronunciation skills workshops are available. These workshops allow participants to focus on and improve their abilities in specific skill areas. At the time of registration, participants may check which workshops are available in the language they wish to study.

V. COMMUNICATION SKILLS TRAINING

14. To address the needs of the Organization for staff members to develop their communications skills for job-related purposes, training courses have been developed as part of the management training plan outlined in the report of the Secretary-General on the training programme in the Secretariat (A/C.5/47/9).

15. The writing training component of communication skills training addresses the need to improve the drafting skills of staff members whose functions require them to draft in a working language of the Organization. The writing workshops and eligibility requirements are described below. Writing workshops generally meet from 3 to 5 p.m. one day a week.

Expository writing

16. Expository writing workshops are open to staff members who wish to improve their basic writing skills and who have passed the language proficiency examination in English or have completed the last level of the English programme. They are also open to native English speakers. The workshops emphasize paragraph development, clear topic sentences, cohesion and unity. Staff members must apply during the registration period, obtain written authorization from their supervisors and take a placement examination.

Drafting letters and memoranda

17. Drafting letters and memoranda writing workshops in English and French, the working languages of the Secretariat at Headquarters, are available to those staff members whose function requires them to draft letters and memoranda and who have passed the language proficiency examination or are native speakers of the language. The goal of these courses is to develop the participants' abilities to write clearly, concisely and correctly, using the style appropriate to United Nations letters and memoranda. Staff members wishing to take such courses must have written authorization and take a placement examination.

Principles of report-writing workshop in English

18. The principles of report-writing workshops cover the format and style recommended for writing reports for the Organization. Emphasis is placed on writing action-oriented reports that present essential information as briefly and clearly as possible. The workshops are open to those whose function requires them to draft reports in English. Applicants must submit a report they have recently written along with their application.

VI. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Language laboratory

19. The Training Service operates a language laboratory (UNDC-2, room 203), consisting of a teaching laboratory and a laboratory for individual study. The hours during which the language laboratory is open are posted on the bulletin board on the second floor of the UNDC-2 building at the beginning of each term.

Lunch-hour attendance of language courses

20. Staff members attending classes during their lunch hour are allowed 20 minutes for a quick meal before resuming their work.

Absenteeism

21. Participants who fail to attend class during the first week of the term will automatically be dropped from the class list, and their places may be allotted to persons on the waiting list. Absences from class should be explained in writing to the appropriate language coordinator.

Course materials

22. Participants will be informed on the first day of class of the materials that will be used during the course. It should be noted that course materials produced by the Training Service are intended for use exclusively by participants in the language courses offered by that Service.

End-of-term examinations

23. (a) Examination schedules are posted during the last month of classes. Examinations are an integral part of the teaching programme, and it is mandatory to take them. Participants who do not sit for the end-of-term examination will be dropped from the programme unless they have submitted adequate written explanation to the appropriate coordinator in advance of their absence;

(b) Examinations are given after the last week of classes for regular and accelerated courses to determine whether a participant will pass to a higher level or repeat the course. The examinations consist of written and oral components, both of which must be passed to enable a participant to go on to the next level. Participants who fail a course may arrange to have a general discussion of the results of their examination by making an appointment with the appropriate language coordinator one week after the beginning of a term;

(c) Participants who are prevented by compelling circumstances from taking the examination as scheduled and who wish to request a make-up examination must write a memorandum to the coordinator of the language they are studying. Those who are authorized will be notified of the exact date of the make-up examination.

Language proficiency examination

24. The language proficiency examination is given twice in every calendar year. This examination is the official test of a staff member's knowledge of a language. The examination is open to all students who have completed the last level of a United Nations language course and to staff members who have achieved proficiency from outside sources. Application to take this examination must be made separately. Further details are given in information circular ST/IC/1993/64. There are no make-up examinations for the language proficiency examination.

Cancellation of registration

25. Students who believe that they will be unable to complete the course in which they are enrolled and wish to withdraw must do so by completing the change-of-registration form in room S-606 within the first two weeks of the term. If these students wish to re-register for the same course in a subsequent term, they must come in person to room S-606 during the announced registration period to complete the necessary registration forms. Those who cancel their registration after this two-week period will be considered repeaters if they re-register for the same course. Therefore, staff members and other non-paying participants will be charged a $100 fee to repeat a course.
