1674 (XVI). Balanced and co-ordinated economic and social development

The General Assembly,

Affirming its belief that economic development and social development are interrelated and that the fullest possible satisfaction of social needs must be the ultimate goal of all measures designed to foster economic development,

Recalling its resolution 1392 (XIV) of 20 November 1959 on the interrelationship of the economic and social factors of development,

Recalling also its resolution 1161 (XII) of 26 November 1957 on balanced and integrated economic and social progress, as well as its resolution 1258 (XIII) of 14 November 1958 requesting the Economic and Social Council, in collaboration with the specialized agencies concerned, to consider social programmes and policies designed to accelerate economic growth, meet the problems resulting from economic and technological change, and raise standards of living by, inter alia, avoiding an inequitable distribution of national income,

Being conscious, therefore, of the importance of planning for balanced and co-ordinated development in the economic and social fields,

Noting the useful work on this subject accomplished so far by some organs of the United Nations, including the regional economic commissions,

Considering that further study of this question may be of particular value to the economically less developed countries,

Noting Economic and Social Council resolutions 830 A (XXXII) and 830 H (XXXII) of 2 August 1961 concerning the Report on the World Social Situation<sup>4</sup> and balanced co-ordinated economic and social development,

1. Endorses the decision of the Economic and Social Council to continue the study of the question of balanced and co-ordinated economic and social development,

2. Recommends that the Economic and Social Council, the regional economic commissions, the Committee for Industrial Development, the Social Commission and the specialized agencies concerned should continue to pay special attention to problems of balanced economic and social development, taking into account the interaction of economic growth and social development and all valuable experience of countries of various economic and social systems;

3. Requests the Economic and Social Council to recommend, after appropriate studies, measures which may be helpful primarily to the less developed countries in planning for balanced and co-ordinated economic and social development;

4. Recommends further that the Special Fund should take this question into consideration when providing assistance to requesting countries;

5. Expresses the wish that the regional institutes of economic development which are in the process of being created in the various regions under United Nations auspices would include in their terms of reference the study of social factors affecting economic development;

6. Believes that an exchange of experience in the field of co-ordination of economic and social development will be fruitful.

1675 (XVI). Strengthening of the work of the United Nations in the social field

The General Assembly,

Recalling its resolution 1392 (XIV) of 20 November 1959 in which it recognized that economic development and social development are interrelated and that social progress is an end in itself as well as a means of furthering economic development,

Having considered chapters VI and VIII of the report of the Economic and Social Council to the General Assembly,<sup>5</sup>

1. Notes with satisfaction the action taken by the Economic and Social Council to strengthen the activities of the United Nations in the social field, particularly the decision to enlarge the Social Commission and to convene it annually, the establishment of the ad hoc group of experts on the relation of community development programmes to national development programmes including land reform, the establishment of the ad hoc group of experts on housing and urban development, and the Council's request that the Social Commission reappraise its basic direction with a view to giving increased attention to matters of social policy;

4. Expresses its satisfaction that the Economic and Social Council will give consideration, at its thirty-third session, to having a combined plenary debate on world economic trends and the world social situation at its thirty-fourth session, thus giving practical recognition to the interdependence of economic and social factors in development;

5. Requests that the Economic and Social Council, on the basis of the information gathered in the implementation of General Assembly resolution 1508 (XV), consider proposals to expand and co-ordinate international programmes and give assistance, at the request of Governments, to national programmes in the field of low-cost housing and related community facilities;

6. Expresses its strong support of the hope expressed in Economic and Social Council resolution 840 J (XXXII) of 2 August 1961 that all necessary provision will be made to enable the Department of Economic and Social Affairs to discharge effectively its responsibilities in the social field, in particular those relating to research, operational programmes, United Nations Children's Fund projects concerned with social services for children and those arising from the increased activities in the social field of the regional economic commissions.

The General Assembly,

Having noted Economic and Social Council resolution 830 B (XXXII) of 2 August 1961 in which the Council approved the proposal for concerted international action in the field of urbanization,

Recognizing the magnitude of problems stemming from the growing concentration of population in urban and metropolitan areas, inter alia, the increasing volume of investment required to provide sufficient employment and to establish and maintain social and physical services and facilities in those areas,

Recognizing further the difficulty of adaptation to urban life of people from rural areas, the inadequacy of urban institutions designed to facilitate such adaptation and transition, and the lack of basic research, studies and evaluation of successful techniques in those fields,
