Introduction

As at 1 February 1996, the Convention against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment had been ratified or acceded to by 94 States. In addition, 13 States had signed the Convention. The list of States that have signed, ratified or acceded to the Convention, as well as the dates of their signature, ratification or accession, is contained in chapter I of the present document. Chapter II contains the texts of reservations and declarations (part A), withdrawal of reservations (part B), and objections to reservations and declarations (part C), made by States with respect to the Convention since its entry into force, i.e. from 26 June 1987 to 1 February 1996. Declarations made by States parties during the same period, recognizing the competence of the Committee against Torture under articles 21 and 22 of the Convention, are reproduced in chapter II, part D. The provisions of articles 21 and 22 entered into force on 26 June 1987 in accordance with paragraph 2 of article 21 and paragraph 8 of article 22.

Notes

a/ Made the declaration under articles 21 and 22 of the Convention.

b/ Accession.

c/ Succession.

- (i) In its notification of succession, received on 1 September 1993, the Government of Bosnia and Herzegovina indicated that the succession should take effect from 6 March 1992, the date on which it assumed responsibility for its international relations.
- (ii) In its notification of succession, received on 12 October 1992, the Government of Croatia indicated that the succession should take effect from 8 October 1991, date on which the proclamation of independence became effective.
- (iii) In its notification of succession, received on 22 February 1993, the Government of the Czech Republic indicated that succession should take effect from 1 January 1993. The former Czech and Slovak Federal Republic had ratified the Convention on 7 July 1988.

d/ It will be recalled that "through the accession of the German Democratic Republic to the Federal Republic of Germany with effect from 3 October 1990, the two German States have united to form one sovereign State ... As from the date of the unification, the Federal Republic of Germany acts in the United Nations under the designation 'Germany'". The German Democratic Republic had signed the Convention on 7 April 1986 and had ratified it on 9 September 1987.

e/ The instrument of ratification specifies that the Convention is ratified in respect of the Kingdom in Europe, the Netherlands Antilles and Aruba.

f/ By a note transmitted on 26 December 1991, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Russian Federation informed the Secretary-General "that the membership of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics in the United Nations and all of its bodies as well as the participation in all the conventions, agreements and other international legal instruments signed in the framework of the United Nations or under its auspices, is continued by the Russian Federation ... The Russian Federation remains responsible in full for all rights and obligations of the USSR in the United Nations, including the financial obligations".

g/ Made the declaration under article 21.

h/ The instrument of ratification specifies that the Convention is ratified in respect of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, Anguilla, British Virgin Islands, Cayman Islands, Falkland Islands, Gibraltar, Montserrat, Pitcairn, Henderson, Ducie and Oeno Islands, Saint Helena, Saint Helena Dependencies, Turks and Caicos Islands.

On 8 December 1992, the Government of the United Kingdom extended its ratification of the Convention to the following territories: Bailiwick of Guernsey, Bailiwick of Jersey, Isle of Man, Bermuda and Hong Kong. The extension is subject to the same declaration under article 21 of the Convention that accompanied the ratification of the United Kingdom.

II. TEXTS OF DECLARATIONS, RESERVATIONS, WITHDRAWALS AND OBJECTIONS

A. Declarations and reservations

AFGHANISTAN

Upon ratification

While ratifying the above-mentioned Convention, the Democratic Republic of Afghanistan, invoking paragraph 1 of article 28, of the Convention, does not recognize the authority of the Committee as foreseen in article 20 of the Convention.

Also according to paragraph 2 of article 30, the Democratic Republic of Afghanistan will not be bound to honour the provision of paragraph 1 of the same article since according to that paragraph the compulsory submission of disputes in connection with interpretation or the implementation of the provisions of this Convention by one of the parties concerned to the International Court of Justice is deemed possible. Concerning this matter, it declares that the settlement of disputes between the States parties may be referred to arbitration or to the International Court of Justice with the consent of all the parties concerned and not by one of the parties.

AUSTRIA

Upon ratification

Austria will establish its jurisdiction in accordance with article 5 of the Convention irrespective of the laws applying to the place where the offence occurred, but in respect of paragraph 1 (c) only if prosecution by a State having jurisdiction under paragraph 1 (a) or paragraph 1 (b) is not to be expected.

Austria regards article 15 of the Convention as the legal basis for the inadmissibility provided for therein of the use of statements which are established to have been made as a result of torture.

BELARUS

Upon signature and confirmed upon ratification

The Byelorussian Soviet Socialist Republic does not recognize the competence of the Committee against Torture as defined by article 20 of the Convention.

The Byelorussian Soviet Socialist Republic does not consider itself bound by the provisions of article 30, paragraph 1, of the Convention.*

* See the notification of withdrawal of this reservation in part B below.

BULGARIA

Upon signature and confirmed upon ratification

Pursuant to article 28 of the Convention, the People's Republic of Bulgaria states that it does not recognize the competence of the Committee against Torture provided for in article 20 of the Convention, as it considers that the provisions of article 20 are not consistent with the principle of respect for sovereignty of the States parties to the Convention.

Pursuant to article 30, paragraph 2, of the Convention, the People's Republic of Bulgaria states that it does not consider itself bound by the provisions of article 30, paragraph 1, of the Convention, establishing compulsory jurisdiction of international arbitration or the International Court of Justice in the settlement of disputes between States parties to the Convention. The People's Republic of Bulgaria maintains its position that disputes between two or more States can be submitted for consideration and settlement by international arbitration or the International Court of Justice only provided all parties to the dispute, in each individual case, have explicitly agreed to that.*

CHILE

Upon signature

... The Government of Chile does not recognize the competence of the Committee against Torture provided for in article 20 of the Convention.

The Government of Chile does not consider itself bound by the provisions of article 30, paragraph 1, of the Convention.

The Government of Chile reserves the right to formulate, upon ratifying the Convention, any declarations or reservations it may deem necessary in the light of its domestic law.

Upon ratification

The instrument of ratification by the Government of Chile contains the following reservations:

(a) To article 2, paragraph 3, in so far as it modifies the principle of "obedience upon reiteration" contained in Chilean domestic law. The Government of Chile will apply the provisions of that international norm to subordinate personnel governed by the Code of Military Justice, provided that the order patently intended to lead to perpetration of the acts referred to in article 1 is not insisted on by the superior officer after being challenged by his subordinate;*

* Ibid.

(b) To article 3, by reason of the discretionary and subjective nature of the terms in which it is drafted;*

(c) The Government of Chile declares that, in its relations with American States that are parties to the Inter-American Convention to Prevent and Punish Torture, it will apply that Convention in cases where its provisions are incompatible with those of the present Convention;

(d) As provided for in article 28, paragraph 1, the Government of Chile does not recognize the competence of the Committee against Torture as defined by article 20 of the Convention;*

(e) The Government of Chile will not consider itself bound by the provisions of article 30, paragraph 1, of the Convention.

CHINA

Upon signature and confirmed upon ratification

The People's Republic of China ... does not consider itself bound by article 20 and article 30, paragraph 1, of the Convention.

CUBA

Upon ratification

The Government of the Republic of Cuba deplores the fact that even after the adoption of General Assembly resolution 1514 (XV) containing the Declaration on the granting of independence to colonial countries and peoples, a provision such as paragraph 1 of article 2 was included in the Convention against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment.

The Government of the Republic of Cuba declares, in accordance with article 28 of the Convention, that the provisions of paragraphs 1, 2 and 3 of article 20 of the Convention will have to be invoked in strict compliance with the principle of the sovereignty of States and implemented with the prior consent of the States parties.

In connection with the provisions of article 30 of the Convention, the Government of the Republic of Cuba is of the view that any dispute between parties should be settled by negotiation through the diplomatic channel.

* Ibid.

CZECH REPUBLIC*

Upon accession

The Czech Government declares that it considers itself to be bound by the reservation to article 20 of the Convention, made by Czechoslovakia upon signature on 8 September 1986 and confirmed upon ratification on 7 July 1988.

ECUADOR

Upon ratification

Ecuador declares that, in accordance with the provisions of article 42 of its Political Constitution, it will not permit extradition of its nationals.

FRANCE

Upon ratification

The Government of the French Republic declares, in accordance with article 30, paragraph 2, of the Convention that it shall not be bound by the provisions of paragraph 1 of that article.

GERMANY

Upon signature

The Government of the Federal Republic of Germany reserves the right to communicate, upon ratification, such reservations or declarations of interpretation as are deemed necessary especially with respect to the applicability of article 3 of the Convention.

Upon ratification

Declarations

The Government of the Federal Republic of Germany declares the following in respect of article 3 of the Convention: This provision prohibits the transfer of a person directly to a State where this person is exposed to a concrete danger of being subjected to torture. In the opinion of the Federal Republic of Germany, article 3 as well as the other provisions of the Convention exclusively establish State obligations that are met by the Federal Republic of Germany in conformity with the provisions of its domestic law which is in accordance with the Convention.

Also, the Government of the Federal Republic of Germany declares that the said Convention shall also apply to Berlin (West) with effect from the date on which it enters into force for the Federal Republic of Germany.

* See footnote c/ (iii) in chapter I.

 See footnote d/ in chapter I.

GUATEMALA

Upon accession

The instrument of accession by the Government of Guatemala contains reservations in accordance with the provisions of articles 28, paragraph 1, and 30, paragraph 2, of the Convention.*

HUNGARY

Upon signature and confirmed upon ratification*

The Hungarian People's Republic does not recognize the competence of the Committee against Torture as defined by article 20 of the Convention.

The Hungarian People's Republic does not consider itself bound by the provisions of article 30, paragraph 1, of the Convention.

ISRAEL

Upon ratification

In accordance with article 28 of the Convention, the State of Israel hereby declares that it does not recognize the competence of the Committee provided for in article 20.

In accordance with paragraph 2 of article 30, the State of Israel hereby declares that it does not consider itself bound by paragraph 1 of that article.

LUXEMBOURG

Upon ratification

The Grand Duchy of Luxembourg declares that the only sanctions that it recognizes as "lawful sanctions" as used in article 1 [of the Convention] are those that are recognized as such equally under domestic law as under international law.

MONACO

Upon accession

In accordance with paragraph 2 of article 30 of the Convention, the Principality of Monaco declares that it does not consider itself bound by the provisions of paragraph 1 of that article.

* See the notification of withdrawal of these reservations in part B below.

MOROCCO

Upon signature and confirmed upon ratification

In accordance with article 28, paragraph 1, the Government of the Kingdom of Morocco declares that it does not recognize the competence of the Committee provided for in article 20.

In accordance with article 30, paragraph 2, the Government of the Kingdom of Morocco declares further that it does not consider itself bound by paragraph 1 of the same article.

THE NETHERLANDS

Upon ratification

It is the understanding of the Government of the Kingdom of the Netherlands that the term "lawful sanctions", in article 1, paragraph 1 ..., [of the Convention] must be understood as referring to those sanctions which are lawful not only under national law but also under international law.

NEW ZEALAND

Upon ratification

The Government of New Zealand reserves the right to award compensation to torture victims referred to in article 14 of the Convention only at the discretion of the Attorney-General of New Zealand.

PANAMA

Upon ratification

The Republic of Panama declares in accordance with article 30, paragraph 2, of the Convention that it does not consider itself bound by the provisions of paragraph 1 of the said article.

POLAND

Upon signature

Under article 28 the Polish People's Republic does not consider itself bound by article 20 of the Convention.

Furthermore, the Polish People's Republic does not consider itself bound by article 30, paragraph 1, of the Convention.

RUSSIAN FEDERATION*

Upon signature and confirmed upon ratification

The Union of Soviet Socialist Republics does not recognize the competence of the Committee against Torture, as defined by article 20 of the Convention.

The Union of Soviet Socialist Republics does not consider itself bound by the provisions of article 30, paragraph 1, of the Convention.

TOGO

Upon signature

The Government of the Togolese Republic reserves the right to formulate, upon ratifying the Convention, any reservations or declarations which it might consider necessary.

TUNISIA

Upon signature

The Government of Tunisia reserves the right to make at some later stage any reservation or declaration which it deems necessary, in particular with regard to articles 20 and 21 of the said Convention.

TURKEY

Upon ratification

The Government of Turkey declares in accordance with article 30, paragraph 2, of the Convention that it does not consider itself bound by the provisions of paragraph 1 of this article.

UKRAINE

Upon signature and confirmed upon ratification

The Ukrainian Soviet Socialist Republic does not recognize the competence of the Committee against Torture, as defined by article 20 of the Convention.

The Ukrainian Soviet Socialist Republic does not consider itself bound by the provisions of article 30, paragraph 1, of the Convention.

* See footnote f/ in chapter I.

 See the notification of withdrawal of these reservations in part B below.

UNITED KINGDOM OF GREAT BRITAIN AND NORTHERN IRELAND

Upon signature

The United Kingdom reserves the right to formulate, upon ratifying the Convention, any reservations or interpretative declarations which it might consider necessary.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

Upon signature

The Government of the United States of America reserves the right to communicate, upon ratification, such reservations, interpretative understandings, or declarations as are deemed necessary.

Communication made on 3 June 1994

On 3 June 1994, the Secretary-General received a communication from the Government of the United States of America requesting, in compliance with a condition set forth by the Senate of the United States of America, in giving advice and consent to the ratification of the Convention, and in contemplation of the deposit of an instrument of ratification of the Convention by the Government of the United States of America, that a notification should be made to all present and prospective ratifying parties to the Convention to the effect that:

"nothing in this Convention requires or authorizes legislation, or other action, by the United States of America prohibited by the Constitution of the United States as interpreted by the United States".

Upon ratification

I. The Senate's advice and consent is subject to the following reservations:

1. That the United States considers itself bound by the obligation under article 16 to prevent "cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment", only in so far as the term "cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment" means the cruel, unusual and inhumane treatment or punishment prohibited by the Fifth, Eighth, and/or Fourteenth Amendments to the Constitution of the United States.

2. That pursuant to article 30 (2) the United States declares that it does not consider itself bound by article 30 (1), but reserves the right specifically to agree to follow this or any other procedure for arbitration in a particular case.

II. The Senate's advice and consent is subject to the following understandings, which shall apply to the obligations of the United States under this Convention:

1. (a) That with reference to article 1, the United States understands that, in order to constitute torture, an act must be specifically intended to inflict severe physical or mental pain or suffering and that mental pain or suffering refers to prolonged mental harm caused by or resulting from: (1) the intentional infliction or threatened infliction of severe physical pain or suffering; (2) the administration or application, or threatened administration or application, of mind altering substances or other procedures calculated to disrupt profoundly the senses or the personality; (3) the threat of imminent death; or (4) the threat that another person will imminently be subjected to death, severe physical pain or suffering, or the administration or application of mind altering substances or other procedures calculated to disrupt profoundly the senses or personality;

(b) That the United States understands that the definition of torture in article 1 is intended to apply only to acts directed against persons in the offender's custody or physical control;

(c) That with reference to article 1 of the Convention, the United States understands that "sanctions" includes judicially-imposed sanctions and other enforcement actions authorized by United States law or by judicial interpretation of such law. None the less, the United States understands that a State party could not through its domestic sanctions defeat the object and purpose of the Convention to prohibit torture;

(d) That with reference to article 1 of the Convention, the United States understands that the term "acquiescence" requires that the public official, prior to the activity constituting torture, have awareness of such activity and thereafter breach his legal responsibility to intervene to prevent such activity;

(e) That with reference to article 1 of the Convention, the United States understands that non-compliance with applicable legal procedural standards does not per se constitute torture;

2. That the United States understands the phrase, "where there are substantial grounds for believing that he would be in danger of being subjected to torture", as used in article 3 of the Convention, to mean "if it is more likely than not that he would be tortured".

3. That it is the understanding of the United States that article 14 requires a State party to provide a private right of action for damages only for acts of torture committed in territory under the jurisdiction of that State party;

4. That the United States understands that international law does not prohibit the death penalty, and does not consider this Convention to restrict or prohibit the United States from applying the death penalty consistent with the Fifth, Eighth and/or Fourteenth Amendments to the Constitution of the United States, including any constitutional period of confinement prior to the imposition of the death penalty;

5. That the United States understands that this Convention shall be implemented by the United States Government to the extent that it exercises legislative and judicial jurisdiction over the matters covered by the Convention and otherwise by the State and local governments. Accordingly, in implementing articles 10-14 and 16, the United States Government shall take measures appropriate to the Federal system to the end that the competent authorities of the constituent units of the United States of America may take appropriate measures for the fulfilment of the Convention.

III. The Senate's advice and consent is subject to the following declarations:

1. That the United States declares that the provisions of articles 1 through 16 of the Convention are not self-executing;

2. That the United States declares, pursuant to article 21, paragraph 1, of the Convention, that it recognizes the competence of the Committee against Torture to receive and consider communications to the effect that a State party claims that another State party is not fulfilling its obligations under the Convention. It is the understanding of the United States that, pursuant to the above-mentioned article, such communications shall be accepted and processed only if they come from a State party which has made a similar declaration.

B. Withdrawal of reservations*

BELARUS

19 April 1989

In a communication received on 19 April 1989, the Government of the Byelorussian Soviet Socialist Republic notified the Secretary-General that it had decided to withdraw the reservation relating to article 30, paragraph 1, made upon ratification.

24 June 1992

In a communication received on 24 June 1992, the Government of Bulgaria notified the Secretary-General that it had decided to withdraw the reservation relating to article 30, paragraph 1, made upon signature and confirmed upon ratification.

CHILE

7 September 1990

In a communication received on 7 September 1990, the Government of Chile notified the Secretary-General that it had decided to withdraw the reservations made upon ratification to article 2, paragraph 3, and article 3, as well as the declaration, under article 28, paragraph 1, by which Chile does not recognize the competence of the Committee against Torture [as defined by article 20 of the Convention].

GUATEMALA

30 May 1990

In a communication received on 30 May 1990, the Government of Guatemala notified the Secretary-General that it has decided to withdraw the reservations concerning the provisions of articles 28, paragraph 1, and 30, paragraph 2, made upon accession to the said Convention.

HUNGARY

13 September 1989

The Government of Hungary notified the Secretary-General, in a communication received on 13 September 1989, that it had decided to withdraw the reservations relating to article 20 and article 30, paragraph 1, of the Convention, made upon ratification.

RUSSIAN FEDERATION*

8 March 1989

In a communication received on 8 March 1989, the Government of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics notified the Secretary-General that it had decided to withdraw the reservation relating to article 30, paragraph 1, made upon ratification.

1 October 1991

The Union of Soviet Socialist Republics recognizes the competence of the Committee against Torture, as defined by article 20 of the Convention in respect of situations and events occurring after the adoption of the present declaration.

SLOVAKIA

17 March 1995

On 17 March 1995, the Government of Slovakia notified the Secretary-General of its decision to withdraw the reservation with regard to article 20 that it maintained upon succession in respect of the above Convention, which reservation was made by Czechoslovakia upon signature and confirmed upon ratification of the Convention.

* See footnote f/ in chapter I.

TUNISIA

Upon ratification

[The Government of Tunisia] confirms that the reservations made at the time of signature of the Convention on Tunisia's behalf on 26 August 1987 have been completely withdrawn.

UKRAINE

20 April 1989

In a communication received on 20 April 1989, the Government of the Ukrainian Soviet Socialist Republic notified the Secretary-General that it had decided to withdraw the reservation relating to article 30, paragraph 1, made upon ratification.

C. Objections to reservations and declarations*

ARGENTINA

14 April 1989

The Government of Argentina reaffirms its sovereignty over the Malvinas Islands, which form part of its national territory, and, with regard to the Malvinas Islands, formally objects to and rejects the declaration of territorial extension issued by the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland in the instrument of ratification of the Convention against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment, deposited with the Secretary-General of the United Nations on 8 December 1988.

The General Assembly of the United Nations adopted resolutions 2065 (XX), 3160 (XXVIII), 31/49, 37/9, 38/12 and 39/6, in which it recognized the existence of a sovereignty dispute regarding the question of the Malvinas Islands, and has repeatedly requested the Argentine Republic and the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland to resume negotiations in order to find as soon as possible a peaceful and definitive solution to the dispute and their remaining differences relating to that question, through the good offices of the Secretary-General. The General Assembly also adopted resolutions 40/21, 41/40, 42/19 and 43/25, which requested the parties to initiate negotiations with a view to finding the means to resolve peacefully and definitively the problems pending between both countries, including all aspects on the future of the Malvinas Islands.

* The text of reservations and declarations against which objections have been raised is contained in part A above; the notifications of withdrawal of declarations and reservations is contained in part B above.

 See chapter I, footnote h/.

17 April 1991

The Argentine Government rejects the extension of the application of the Convention against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment, signed in New York on 4 February 1985, to the Malvinas Islands, effected by the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland on 8 December 1988,* and reaffirms the rights of sovereignty of the Argentine Republic over those Islands, which are an integral part of its national territory.

The Argentine Republic recalls that the United Nations General Assembly has adopted resolutions 2065 (XX), 3160 (XXVIII), 31/49, 37/9, 38/12, 39/6, 40/21, 41/40, 42/19 and 43/25, in which it recognizes the existence of a sovereignty dispute and requests the Governments of the Argentine Republic and the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland to initiate negotiations with a view to finding the means to resolve peacefully and definitively the pending question of sovereignty, in accordance with the Charter of the United Nations.

AUSTRALIA

7 November 1989

The Government of Australia has examined the reservations made by Chile with respect to article 2, paragraph 3, and article 3 of the Convention, and has come to the conclusion that these reservations are incompatible with the object and purpose of the Convention and therefore are impermissible under article 19 of the Vienna Convention on the Law of Treaties. The Government of Australia therefore objects to these reservations. This objection does not have the effect of preventing the Convention from entering into force between Australia and Chile, and the aforementioned reservations cannot alter or modify, in any respect, the obligations arising from the Convention.

AUSTRIA

9 November 1989

The reservations made by the Republic of Chile with respect to article 2, paragraph 3, and article 3 of the Convention, are incompatible with the object and purpose of the Convention and are therefore impermissible under article 19 (c) of the Vienna Convention on the Law of Treaties. The Republic of Austria therefore objects to these reservations and states that they cannot alter or modify, in any respect, the obligations arising from the Convention for all States parties thereto.

* See chapter I, footnote h/.

BULGARIA

24 January 1990

The Government of the People's Republic of Bulgaria considers the reservations made by Chile with regard to article 2, paragraph 3, and article 3 of the Convention incompatible with the object and the purpose of the Convention.

The Government of the People's Republic of Bulgaria holds the view that each State is obliged to take all measures to prevent any acts of torture and other forms of cruel and inhuman treatment within its jurisdiction, including the unconditional qualification of such acts as crimes in its national criminal code. It is in this sense that article 2, paragraph 3, of the Convention is formulated.

The provisions of article 3 of the Convention are dictated by the necessity to grant the most effective protection to persons who risk to suffer torture or other inhuman treatment. For this reason these provisions should not be interpreted on the basis of subjective or any other circumstances, under which they were formulated.

In view of this the Government of the People's Republic of Bulgaria does not consider itself bound by the reservations.

CANADA

23 October 1989

The Government of Canada hereby formally objects to the reservations made by Chile in respect of article 2, paragraph 3, and article 3 of the Convention. The reservations made by Chile are incompatible with the object and purpose of the Convention and are thus inadmissible under article 19 (c) of the Vienna Convention on the Law of Treaties.

DENMARK

7 September 1989

The Government of Denmark hereby enters its formal objection to the reservations to article 2, paragraph 3, and article 3 of the Convention, made by the Government of Chile upon ratification of the Convention on 30 September 1988.

The Danish Government considers the said reservations as being incompatible with the object and purpose of the Convention and therefore invalid.

This objection is not an obstacle to the entry into force of the said Convention between Denmark and Chile.

FINLAND

20 October 1989

The Government of Finland hereby enters its formal objection to the reservations to article 2, paragraph 3, and article 3 of the Convention, made by the Government of Chile upon ratification of the Convention on 30 September 1988.

The Government of Finland considers the said reservations as being incompatible with the object and purpose of the Convention and therefore invalid.

This objection is not an obstacle to the entry into force of the said Convention between Finland and Chile.

FRANCE

20 September 1989

Upon its ratification of the Convention, Chile made reservations to article 2, paragraph 3, and article 3 of the Convention.

France considers that the reservations made by Chile are not valid as being incompatible with the object and purpose of the Convention.

Such objection is not an obstacle to the entry into force of the Convention between France and Chile.

GREECE

13 October 1989

Greece does not accept the reservations made by Chile in respect of article 2, paragraph 3, and article 3, since they are incompatible with the purpose and object of the Convention.

The above-mentioned objection is not an obstacle to the entry into force of the Convention between Greece and Chile.

ITALY

14 August 1989

The Government of Italy considers that the reservations entered by Chile in respect of article 2 (3) and article 3 of this Convention are not valid, as they are incompatible with the object and purpose of the Convention. The present objection is in no way an obstacle to the entry into force of this Convention between Italy and Chile.

LUXEMBOURG

12 September 1989

At the time of its ratification of the Convention, on 30 September 1988, Chile made reservations regarding article 2, paragraph 3, and article 3 of the Convention.

The Grand Duchy of Luxembourg objects to those reservations, which are incompatible with the intent and purpose of the Convention.

This objection does not represent an obstacle to the entry into force of the said Convention between the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg and Chile.

NETHERLANDS

7 November 1989

The Government of the Kingdom of the Netherlands objects to the reservations to article 2, paragraph 3, and article 3 of the Convention, made by Chile upon ratification on 30 September 1988, as being contrary to the object and purpose of that Convention.

Since the purpose of the Convention is the strengthening of the existing prohibition of torture and similar practices, the reservation to article 2, paragraph 3, to the effect that an order from a superior officer or a public authority may - in some cases - be invoked as a justification for torture, must be rejected as contrary to the object and purpose of the Convention.

For similar reasons, the reservation to article 3 must be regarded as incompatible with the object and purpose of the Convention.

These objections are not an obstacle to the entry into force of this Convention between the Kingdom of the Netherlands and Chile.

NEW ZEALAND

Upon ratification

Concerning reservations made by Chile; the Government of New Zealand hereby presents its formal objection to the reservations made by Chile when ratifying the Convention relating to article 2, paragraph 3, and article 3 of the Convention against Torture. The New Zealand Government considers the said reservations to be incompatible with the object and purpose of the Convention.

This objection does not constitute an obstacle to the entry into force of the Convention between New Zealand and Chile.

NORWAY

28 September 1989

The Government of Norway hereby objects to the reservations to article 2, paragraph 3, and article 3 of the Convention, made by the Government of Chile upon ratification of the Convention on 30 September 1988. The Government of Norway considers the said reservations as being incompatible with the object and purpose of the Convention and therefore invalid.

This objection is not an obstacle to the entry into force of the said Convention between Norway and Chile.

PORTUGAL

6 October 1989

The Government of Portugal hereby presents its formal objection to the reservations to article 2, paragraph 3, and article 3 of the Convention, made by the Government of Chile upon ratification of the said Convention.

The Government of Portugal considers such reservations to be incompatible with the object and purpose of this Convention and therefore invalid.

This objection does not constitute an obstacle to the entry into force of the Convention between Portugal and Chile.

SPAIN

26 September 1989

The Government of the Kingdom of Spain declares that it objects to the reservations made by Chile to article 2, paragraph 3, and article 3 of the Convention, because the aforementioned reservations are contrary to the purposes and aims of the Convention.

The present objection does not constitute an obstacle to the entry into force of the Convention between Spain and Chile.

SWEDEN

25 September 1989

The Swedish Government has examined the reservations made by Chile with respect to article 2, paragraph 3, and article 3 of the Convention, and has come to the conclusion that these reservations are incompatible with the object and purpose of the Convention and are therefore impermissible under article 19 (c) of the Vienna Convention on the Law of Treaties. For this reason the Government of Sweden objects to these reservations.

This objection does not have the effect of preventing the Convention from entering into force between Sweden and Chile, and the said reservations cannot alter or modify, in any respect, the obligations arising from the Convention.

SWITZERLAND

8 November 1989

The Swiss Government objects to the following reservations made by the Republic of Chile upon ratification [of the Convention] on 30 September 1988:

Reservation (a), according to which the Government of Chile will not apply article 2, paragraph 3, in so far as it modifies the principles of "obedience upon reiteration" contained in Chilean domestic law;

Reservation (b) to article 3 (principle of non-refoulement).

These reservations are not compatible with the object and purpose of the Convention, which are to improve respect for a human right of fundamental importance and to make more effective the struggle against torture throughout the world.

This objection does not have the effect of preventing the Convention from entering into force between the Swiss Confederation and the Republic of Chile.

TURKEY

3 November 1989

The Government of Turkey presents its formal objection to the reservation regarding article 2, paragraph 3, of the Convention, made by the Government of Chile upon ratification of the said Convention.

The Government of Turkey considers such reservations to be incompatible with the object and purpose of this Convention and therefore invalid.

This objection does not constitute an obstacle to the entry into force of the Convention between Turkey and Chile.

23 July 1991

With reference to the ratification by Cyprus of the Convention, the Government of Turkey states the following:

"The Republic of Cyprus" which was established, in accordance with international treaties, on the basis of a partnership between the two peoples of the island, has ceased to exist as such after its constitution was unilaterally and unlawfully abrogated in 1963 by the Greek Cypriot side by the use of force, despite the protestations and the resistance of the Turkish Cypriot side. The Greek Cypriot Administration has ever since represented exclusively the Greek Cypriots and their interests. As a guarantor power under the 1960 Treaty of Guarantee, Turkey does not recognize this Administration or any of its illegitimate claims.

There is no single authority which, in fact or in law, jointly represents or is competent to represent the Turkish Cypriots and the Greek Cypriots, and consequently Cyprus as a whole. This is the reason why a negotiating process is being pursued between the Turkish Cypriot and the Greek Cypriot leaders on the basis of equality.

The Turkish Cypriot people are represented by the Government of the Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus which was recognized by Turkey in 1983.

Therefore, the instrument of ratification deposited on behalf of the so-called Government of Cyprus is, in fact, the instrument of ratification of only the Greek Cypriot Administration and is devoid of any legal basis as regards its applicability to Cyprus in its entirety.

UNITED KINGDOM OF GREAT BRITAIN AND NORTHERN IRELAND

8 November 1989

(a) The reservations to article 28, paragraph 1, and to article 30, paragraph 1, being reservations expressly permitted by the Convention, do not call for any observations by the United Kingdom.

(b) The United Kingdom takes note of the reservation referring to the Inter-American Convention to Prevent and Punish Torture, which cannot, however, affect the obligations of Chile in respect of the United Kingdom, as a non-party to the said Convention.

(c) The United Kingdom is unable to accept the reservation to article 2, paragraph 3, or the reservation to article 3 [made by Chile upon ratification of the Convention].

D. Declarations by States Parties recognizing the competence of the Committee against Torture under articles 21 and 22 of the Convention or under one of these two articles
