PROGRESS REPORT
BY THE FRIEND OF THE CHAIR ON HOST COUNTRY COMMITMENTS
OF THE GOVERNMENT OF AUSTRIA
TO THE CTBT PREPARATORY COMMISSION

GE.96-63715

Background

1. On Monday, 1 July, the Friend of the Chair reported progress in three areas related to addressing the codification of Host Country commitments of the Government of Austria to the CTBT Preparatory Commission (PrepCom). At that time and with the cooperation of all interested delegations, the Friend of the Chair was able to report that the group had decided that the commitments should be recorded in the form of a draft Host Country Agreement that would be agreed ad referendum between the PrepCom and the Government of Austria. In furtherance of this decision, the group had developed a draft text of such an Agreement. Finally, after consultations the Government of Austria had invited a team of CD experts for a site visit to Vienna to tour the facilities offered for use by the PrepCom and assess the degree to which they could meet the projected needs of the PrepCom, the extent of alterations that might be required, and projected costs for the organization.

2. The site visit to Vienna took place during 8-10 July. The team, led by the delegation of the Friend of the Chair, included experts from twelve nations representing all geo-political groups. Their final report, assessment and recommendations were presented to the Ad Hoc Committee and distributed as CD/NTB/WP.339 dated 7 August 1996. The report identified several issues that would require specific attention during the negotiations with the Government of Austria.

Report

3. The Ad Hoc Committee tasked the Friend of the Chair to assemble a negotiating team and begin negotiations with the Government of Austria on the draft Host Country Agreement. On 9 August, the final draft of the CD's text of the prospective Host Country Agreement was distributed and the negotiating team was announced. The team consisted of the Friend of the Chair, Dr. Ola Dahlman (Sweden), Mr. Peter Goosen (South Africa), Mr. Alexander Vorobiev (Russian Federation), and Mr. Muhammed Afzal (Pakistan). They were assisted by several experts in legal and facility issues provided by the delegations of Australia, France, Germany, Iran, Japan, the Russian Federation, South Africa, Sweden, the United Kingdom, and the United States.

4. The schedule for the negotiations was developed in consultation with Austria and provided for discussion of privileges and immunities during the week of August 12 and facilities and services during the week of August 19.

5. Ambassador Kreid led the Austrian team. He was joined during the first week by Ambassador Ferdinand Trauttmansdorff, Head of Section, General International Law, Federal Ministry for Foreign Affairs, and during the second week by Ambassador Helmut Bauer, Head of Section, International Conferences and Headquarter Matters Concerning International Organizations in Vienna, Federal Ministry for Foreign Affairs. At the outset of the negotiations, the Austrians explained that their plan was to work out as many issues as possible here in Geneva and take unresolved issues back to Vienna to present the CD views to their Ministers. The CD team had expected representatives from concerned ministries on the Austrian side.

However, the Austrian side explained that many of the issues in our text would need to be addressed at the Cabinet level, and they believed we could make better progress at this stage with a small Austrian team.

6. The CD team's general approach to the negotiation was to first hear the Austrian reaction to the 9 August agreement text, deliberate with our experts, hold an expert-level meeting with Austria to agree on wording for minor changes and identify where brackets were really required. Finally, the two sides would meet again formally to hand over papers that explained the CD side's position on matters which could not be resolved at this time, and to provide a bracketed revised draft text that reflected the result of our negotiations. Annex I of this report contains the two talking point papers that were provided to the Austrian side at the conclusion of each week. The result of the two weeks of negotiations is the bracketed text of the Draft Host Country Agreement in Annex II.

7. Under the category of privileges and immunities, the CD team is pressing for several benefits, especially in tax relief. These would benefit the entire multilateral international community in Vienna due to the most favored organization clauses included in all headquarters agreements.

8. On the issues of facilities, services and costs, the CD team discovered during the site visit and through the negotiation process that the actual costs of being housed at the Vienna International Center (VIC) cannot be determined as yet but based on available data they are likely to be at, or above, average commercial rates in Vienna. However, the costs associated with the VIC include the cost of services that would not ordinarily be provided by commercial lessors. These costs in the VIC, which include costs for operation and maintenance, security, etc., are determined by agreements among the various international organizations housed at the VIC, and are not directly influenced by the Government of Austria. With respect to major repairs of the VIC facilities, the Government of Austria is a party to the multiparty major repair fund agreement and is involved in the decisions regarding the use of such funds. With respect to conference rooms, availability of such facilities in the VIC is negotiated among the other organizations, and the Government of Austria cannot guarantee the availability of specific facilities. As a result, if a conference must be held outside the VIC because of size or other limitations, it is unclear what costs the PrepCom will have to bear because of present uncertainty about what is included in the offer of the Government of Austria to provide such conference facilities "free of charge". The Austrian delegation said they would give the PrepCom verbal support in the negotiations with the other organizations.

9. At our final meeting on 22 August, Ambassador Kreid explained that his delegation would prepare a draft report that would be presented to the Council of Ministers in Vienna. Since the Council meets once a week and does not resume regular meetings until after 1 September, he predicted that the Austrian side would not have any answers before 9 September, at the earliest.

Annex I

Two Papers Presented to Austrian Side
During the Course of Negotiations

1. Talking Points in Response to Austrian Comments
re: PrepCom Headquarters Agreement
15 August 1996

- Thank you for your comments over the last two days.

- As a preliminary matter, I wish to note that with respect to the general points which you have raised concerning use of language, we are prepared to work with you on a text that to the extent possible uses terms familiar to the various ministries in Austria and the Parliament. It is not our intention to make your job harder than necessary, and we are willing to work with you on the expert level to that end and have even begun to make modifications to the text based on some of our earlier discussions.

- We have discussed your input among ourselves and today would like to focus our attention on the points of most concern to the PrepCom. These are:

- 1) Vat exemption
- 2) Work Access
- 3) Commissary Access
- 4) Parking at the airport
- 5) Transit and Residence of Family Members
- 6) Expedited Visas

1. VAT

The issue of VAT breaks down into three sub-issues that we would like to discuss:

- First, to whom does the exemption apply? The CD has asked that this exemption apply both to all Commission staff and to members of the administrative and technical staff at permanent missions to the PrepCom. We appreciate that this is an expansion of the current regime that restricts this benefit to persons of diplomatic rank. We believe this request is reasonable:

- a) With respect to your comments that diplomatic law distinguishes between persons of different rank, we note that Article 37 of the Vienna Convention on Diplomatic Relations makes no such distinction with respect to tax benefits.
- b) We appreciate your willingness to accredit a wide range of persons as diplomats upon request. This, however, appears like an invitation to abuse, and we have approached this exercise by asking for precisely the benefits we believe necessary - in this case a narrow tax exemption and not the broad array of protections accorded to diplomats.

- c) We stress that sound policy reasons justify such an extension. Staff members earn less money and can ill afford less benefits. Different benefits on this point damages morale.

- Second, there is the issue of the extent of the exemption afforded. This includes upper limit, time for refund, class of items entitled to the refund, lower limit and % of refund:

- With respect to the 20,000 AS refund ceiling, we note that persons are already reaching this ceiling in less than six months. Given the offered reduction of the minimum purchase to 1000 AS, obviously this ceiling will create a real problem. As they say in English, we assume it was not the intention of your government to give with the left hand, but take with the right. The removal of the ceiling is simply a logical extension of the reduction in limit.

- We appreciate your government's active consideration of the at source reduction and hope that this administratively easy modality will be accomplished soon. In the meantime, prompt VAT refund is essential. As receipts can only be submitted twice a year, we understand that in practice it takes approximately nine months from the time of purchase to obtain a refund. This lengthy period is unacceptable, particularly since Switzerland and the United States provide tax exemption immediately at source. We are asking that the total time from point of purchase be reduced to 3-4 months. This would obviously require increasing the frequency of submission of receipts.

- We note that VAT exemption is not allowed for food and restaurant purchases for less than ten people. Even if there is difficulty lowering the minimum limit to 500 AS as requested, at a minimum VAT exemption should be granted in these two areas. Clearly, food and dining are critical elements of diplomatic work and are important to the PrepCom's functioning. Such exemption is granted in Switzerland and in the U.S.

- We were amazed to learn that only about 2/3 of VAT paid is refunded. All VAT (the full 20% charged) should be refunded.

- We restate our position that the minimum VAT purchase be lowered to 500 AS.

2. Work Access

- With respect to your concern about the extension of the work access right to spouses of resident representatives (Article XIV), as distinguished from officials, we note that Switzerland affords such access. Resident representatives are accredited to the PrepCom and not to Austria, and their spouses should be able to work.

- With respect to work permits, we are willing to accept your offer of an expedited two-step system patterned after the Swiss model. We would want assurances that the initial certificate will be issued immediately upon legitimate application and the subsequent work permit will be issued promptly upon notification of job offer.

- We are prepared to restrict work access to "spouses, as defined by the sending state, and dependent relatives living in the same household." This would drop the term "forming part of," the household and use the term "living in" as is used in the UN-Austria agreement.

3. Commissary Access

- We are prepared to drop the word "unrestricted" throughout, but would like the privileges extended to all members of permanent missions to the organizations, all members of visiting delegations, and all officials of the Organization. We are encouraged by your indication that some or all of these persons are currently allowed access and would like the right expressly provided for in the agreement as indicated.

4. Definition of Family

- In response to your comments, we believe we could delete the overall definition of family in Article 1, provided that certain persons are expressly covered in the Transit and Residence provisions. In a nutshell, with the exception of who is considered a spouse, we are not seeking to broaden the definition of family or change your practices for privileges and immunities or work access purposes. In the area of Transit and Residence, however, we do, require express provision that dependent relatives be allowed access to Austria. Again, we are concerned with the issue of dependent unwed sisters, grandchildren and the like.

We therefore propose that the definition of family be omitted in Article I, but included as a closing paragraph in Section 34, which applies only to transit and residence, as follows:

"For purposes of this Section, family shall include spouse, as defined by the sending state, minor and dependent adult children, parents and other dependent relatives."

We are also prepared to use the UN-Austria agreement formulation in this Section of "their families and other members of their households" in lieu of the draft agreement's formulation of "forming part of their households."

With respect to spouses, however, we would want to specify in the operative provisions addressing privileges and immunities and work access that spouse be defined "as defined by the sending state."

5. Parking

We appreciate your concern about the vagueness of Section 41 regarding parking. We are willing to delete reference to parking near Permanent Missions and focus solely on parking at the airport. We understand that at present only a handful of spaces are available. Geneva provides a parking lot for diplomats at the airport and we understand that Paris affords diplomats free airport parking. We could accept a provision that provides 2 hours of free parking in existing public spaces.

6. Expedited Visas

With respect to Section 36, we look forward to your language. We would like, however, to put "multiple entry visas" in brackets for now. We understand that such visas will likely be allowed in any event under the new system but that the terminology is in flux. We could accommodate your concern about visas upon entry by adding the phrase "In exceptional circumstances" to the beginning of the last sentence in Section 36.

2. Talking Points in Response to Austrian Comments
re: PrepCom Headquarters Agreement
22 August 1996

- Thank you for your comments over the last few days.

- As a preliminary matter, I wish to note that as with last week, we have, to the extent possible, used language familiar to the various ministries in Austria and the Parliament. It is not our intention to make your job harder than necessary, and we have worked with you on the expert level to make modifications to that end.

- We have discussed your input among ourselves and today would like to focus our attention on the points of most concern to the PrepCom. As with last week, we would ask that you take these concerns to Vienna with the hope of resolving the issues when we reconvene. These areas are:
 - 1) Repair and Alteration Costs
 - 2) Major Repair Costs
 - 3) Guarantees of Access to Meeting Space
 - 4) Other Costs

1. Repair and Alteration Costs

In reading the Austrian offer, we had understood it to include Austrian payment for repairs and alterations necessary to prepare the facilities to meet the specific needs of the Commission. We saw this as a fairly standard aspect of such an agreement and had developed language that would reflect that such payments would, indeed be provided by the Austrian Government. Recognizing that the specific requirements of the Commission have not been defined, we drafted language that would allow the Headquarters Agreement to proceed, while leaving the specific repairs and alterations to be identified at a later date in an annex.

In discussions of this matter, it appears that the Austrian position is that the VIC can be occupied by the Commission with little or no repairs or alterations. We believe that the repairs and alterations required will be more substantial. For resolution of this problem, the Austrian side has only indicated that such matters can be the subject of negotiations, but that such negotiations must take into account the cost and necessity of such repairs. However, the Austrian side has also indicated that no funds have been set aside for this effort. Taking all this information into account, it appears to us that while we could now agree in the Headquarters Agreement to specific wording, this would only move the problem to later negotiations on an annex for specific repairs and alterations and merely conceal the fundamental disagreement. This would result in difficult future negotiations on that annex, with serious adverse financial consequences likely to be the result to the Commission. We are therefore reluctant to settle on such language, with such a basic difference outstanding.

We would request that the Austrian side be prepared to make specific commitments on the scope of the repairs and alterations in preparation for occupation by the Commission. In particular, as the actual repairs and alterations are not yet identified, and indeed will only become clearer over a period of time, we believe that an acceptable alternative solution would be the identification of, at a minimum, the initial proposed budgetary amount. At the same time, we understand that requests for repairs and alterations should be limited to those required for start-up, although this will take place over a period of time.

2. Major Repair Costs

It is our belief that the Commission should not be responsible for the costs of major repairs as a result of prior occupancy. In addition, the Commission should only be responsible for future repairs on a pro-rata basis. Your proposal would leave major repair costs to be negotiated in the future with other organizations that are not party to this agreement. Our solution to this issue in this bilateral agreement is to request that for a period of time, the Austrian Government assume the Commission's share of major repair costs, and subsequently, assume any such costs above the Commission's pro rata share, should there be any. We feel this request is not unreasonable, given that the Commission will be occupying space that has been in use for many years, and the extent to which repairs will be needed is unknown to us.

3. Guarantees of Access to Meeting Space

There are two issues we would like to address.

The first issue is in regard to meetings that cannot be accommodated at the VIC. It was recognized, for example, that the conference facilities in the VIC would be inadequate to support meetings of the full Plenary. While we believe this issue is resolved, we are concerned that the discussions appeared to raise the possibility that the Commission would be asked to pay for meetings outside of the VIC. The discussions reached agreed language providing "free of charge" facilities for "meetings organized by the Commission or otherwise convened under the Treaty, if such meetings cannot be accommodated in the conference facilities in the VIC." In our opinion, the agreement is clear that these meetings would be "free of charge." Nevertheless, we want to be certain that Austria shares our understanding on this point.

Our second issue is in regard to facilities for the Executive Council. It is clear that the Commission will need a site for the Executive Council to meet. A commitment of priority to the Commission in one appropriate major conference room, when needed, is a minimum. The Austrian position was that conference rooms in the VIC are managed by the other occupants and their allocation is subject to negotiation between those parties, and that the Government has no role. The Government has expressed only a willingness to provide verbal assistance. We need concrete assurances that the Commission will be provided first priority for at least one major conference room. (This may require that the Commission be the operator of such a conference room).

4. Other Costs

We note the offer to provide the seat of the Commission for 1 Austrian Schilling per year. However, upon closer examination, we were disturbed to discover that there are many other costs, some of them quite substantial, that the Commission will be responsible to pay that could well bring the costs to the Commission up to or even beyond commercially available rates.

A number of CD delegations have already expressed concern over the anticipated budget of the Commission. This is a major point of concern and we need to report such costs as accurately as possible to the Preparatory Commission. Therefore, we would request your full and unqualified assistance in identifying and quantifying all costs involved.

In conclusion, I would like to thank the participants on both sides for their hard work over the last two weeks. I will be providing a status report to the Ad Hoc Committee Chairman in the next few days, summarizing the work done and identifying the open issues. In addition, I will need to inform him of our planned next steps.

I believe that many of these issues will be decided by Ministers in Vienna. While we do not know how long this may take, can we, at this time, tentatively set a date to reconvene?

Section 2

(a) The Government grants to the Commission, and the Commission accepts from the Government, the use and occupation of the area, including the land and buildings, shown on the map attached to this Agreement as the seat of the Commission in Vienna.

(b) The seat of the Commission in Vienna [shall be within the area specified in this section and] shall not be removed therefrom unless the

Any such land or buildings, in or outside of Vienna, used for purposes of the Commission, shall be temporarily included in the seat of the Commission. Before any permanent addition can be made to the seat of the Commission the Government must concur. For all such uses, the present Agreement shall apply mutatis mutandis.

Section 5

If the Commission should vacate the seat of the Commission, it shall surrender the area occupied by that seat to the Government in as good a condition as reasonable wear and tear will permit, provided, however, that the Commission shall not be required to restore the area to its shape and state prior to any alteration or change that may have been executed by the Commission or the Government in accordance with this Agreement.

Article III

REPAIRS AND ALTERATIONS

Section 6

(a) Repairs and alterations with respect to any of the buildings [or parts thereof] forming part of the seat of the Commission that are [required] [appropriate] to make the buildings [or parts thereof] suitable for [the initial] occupation by the Commission, in accordance with the space, technical, and security requirements of the Commission, shall be carried out at the expense of the Government. Such repairs and alterations shall be agreed between the Commission and the Government and set forth in writing in an Annex to this Agreement. [This Annex may be amended by agreement between the Commission and the Government.]

(b) Alterations with respect to any of the buildings forming part of the seat of the Commission that may result in a change of a structural nature or architectural appearance, may be carried out by the Commission at its own expense and without the right to reimbursement only after having obtained the consent of the Government.

seat of the Commission shall be the subject of a separate agreement among the Commission, the Government, and other international organizations at the VIC, provided, however, that for a period of 15 years, the Government shall assume the Commission's share of any such repair and replacement costs. After 15 years, the Government shall assume any such costs allocated to the Commission over and above a pro rata share based on time and space of the Commission's occupation of the VIC.]

Section 9

Whenever the Commission has concluded an insurance contract to cover its liability for damages arising from the use of the seat of the Commission and suffered by juridical or natural persons who are not officials of the Commission, any claim concerning the Commission's liability for such damages may be brought directly against the insurer before Austrian courts, and the insurance contract shall so provide.

Article IV

EQUIPMENT AND FACILITIES

Section 10

(a) Without prejudice to the essential conditions set forth in relevant Austrian standards and established international practice, the Commission shall have the right to acquire from any source it chooses (by purchase, loan or otherwise), install, operate, maintain and replace, equipment and facilities needed for the purposes and functions of the Commission, including, inter alia, radio, telephone, telex, telemetry, satellite, computer, facsimile, and television equipment.

outside of Austria. The Commission has the right to use the most cost-effective source and is not required to use any Austrian national system. The Commission has the right to connect all such equipment at appropriate points within Austria to independent systems or to Austria's public telecommunication networks, in accordance with the European interconnection regime and exchange traffic as required by the Commission.

(c) The Commission shall operate its equipment and facilities in accordance with the applicable international standards and the requirements of the Commission. Section 12

[All equipment acquired by or used by the Commission, and all communications of or to the Commission, shall be free of fees and any other charges of the Government or any competent Austrian authorities, except for charges directly related to the cost of providing a service, which shall not exceed the lowest comparable rates accorded to Austrian governmental administrations.]

Section 13

(a) The Commission may establish and operate storage, research, documentation, laboratory, and other technical facilities of any type. These facilities shall be subject to appropriate safeguards that, in the case of facilities which might create hazards to health or safety or interfere with property, shall be agreed upon with the competent Austrian authorities.

(b) The facilities provided for in this Article may, to the extent necessary for efficient operation, be established and operated outside the seat of the Commission. The competent Austrian authorities shall, at the request of the Commission, make arrangements on such terms and in such manner as may be agreed upon by supplementary agreement, for the acquisition or use by the Commission of appropriate premises for such purposes, and for the inclusion of such premises in the seat of the Commission in accordance with sub-section (c) of Section 2.

Section 14

The Government shall place at the disposal of the Commission, free of charge, such conference facilities at the Austria Center Vienna or at equivalent facilities, as are required for meetings organized by the Commission or otherwise convened under the Treaty, if such meetings cannot be accommodated in the conference facilities at the VIC.

Article V

Section 15

(a) The Government recognizes the inviolability of the seat of the Commission, which shall be under the control and authority of the Commission as provided in this Agreement.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement and subject to any regulation enacted pursuant to Section 16, the laws of Austria shall apply within the seat of the Commission.

(c) Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement, the courts or other competent organs of Austria shall have jurisdiction, as provided in applicable laws, over acts done and transactions taking place within the seat of the Commission.

Section 16

No law of Austria which is inconsistent with a regulation of the Commission authorized by this Section shall, to the extent of such inconsistency, be applicable within the seat of the Commission. Any dispute between the Commission and the Government as to whether a regulation of the Commission is authorized by this Section or as to whether a law of Austria is inconsistent with any regulation of the Commission authorized by this Section, shall be promptly settled by the procedure set out in Article XVIII. Pending such settlement, the regulation of the Commission shall apply and the law of Austria shall be inapplicable in the seat of the Commission to the extent that the Commission claims it to be inconsistent with its regulation.

(b) The Commission shall from time to time inform the Government, as may be appropriate, of regulations made by it in accordance with sub-section (a).

(c) This Section shall not prevent the reasonable application of fire protection or sanitary regulations of the competent Austrian authorities.

Section 17

(a) The seat of the Commission shall be inviolable. No officer or official of the Government or other competent Austrian authorities, or other person exercising any public authority within Austria, shall enter the seat of the Commission to perform any duties therein except with the consent of, and under conditions approved by, the Executive Secretary. Such permission may, however, be presumed in the event of fire or life threatening emergency. Any officer or official of Austria, or other person exercising any public authority within Austria who has entered the seat of the Commission with presumed permission shall, if so requested by or on behalf of the Executive Secretary, leave the seat of the Commission immediately.

(b) The seat of the Commission, its fixtures, furnishings, and other property thereon, and the means of transport of the Commission shall be immune from, inter alia, search, requisition, attachment, or execution.

(c) The archives, records, and documents of the Commission shall be inviolable at any time and wherever they may be.

(d) The service of legal process, including the seizure of private property, shall not take place within the seat of the Commission except with the express consent of, and under conditions approved by, the Executive Secretary.

(e) Without prejudice to Article XIII of this Agreement, the Commission shall prevent the seat of the Commission from being used as a refuge by persons who are avoiding arrest under any law of Austria, who are required by the Government for extradition to another country or for deportation, or who are endeavouring to avoid service of legal process.

Article VI

PROTECTION OF THE SEAT OF THE COMMISSION

Section 18

(a) The Government and the competent Austrian authorities shall exercise due diligence to ensure that the tranquillity of the seat of the Commission is not disturbed by any person or group of persons attempting unauthorized entry into or creating disturbances in the immediate vicinity of the seat of the Commission, and shall provide at the boundaries of the seat of the Commission such police protection as may be required for these purposes.
