I. FINANCIAL REPORT FOR THE BIENNIUM ENDED 31 DECEMBER 1995

Introduction

- 1. The Executive Director has the honour to submit herewith the financial report, together with the accounts of the Fund of the United Nations Environment Programme including associated trust funds and other related accounts for the biennium ended 31 December 1995. The accounts consist of 13 statements supported by 8 schedules, and of notes to the financial statements. The accounts were transmitted to the Board of Auditors on 31 March 1996 in accordance with Financial Regulation 11.4.
- 2. The interim accounts for the first year of the biennium 1994-1995 were made available to the Governing Council at its eighteenth session, held at Nairobi in May 1995. The Board of Auditors conducted an interim audit of those accounts and did not report to the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions any situation that should be brought to the attention of Member States.
- 3. Comparative figures for the biennium 1992-1993, reclassified to conform to current presentation, have been reflected in the financial statements. The length of the financial report has been kept to the minimum in accordance with United Nations guidelines.
- 4. The financial statements and schedules, as well as the notes thereon, are an integral part of the financial report.

Levels of appropriations, allocations/allotments, expenditures and commitments

5. The Governing Council, in its decision 17/32 of 21 May 1993, approved for 1994-1995 an appropriation for Fund programme activities of $120-130 million and an additional appropriation of $10 million for use as and when additional resources became available for a supplementary programme, in particular for further implementation of Agenda 21. In the same decision, the Council also approved an appropriation for the Fund programme reserve of $5 million. By its decision 17/33 of 21 May 1993, the Governing Council also approved an initial appropriation of $41,829,500 for the programme and programme support costs budget. By its decision 18/42 of 25 May 1995, the Governing Council revised the appropriation for the programme and programme support costs to $41,048,900 for the biennium 1994-1995.

6. The total appropriations, allocations/allotments and expenditures for the biennium 1994-1995 were as follows (in United States dollars):

Introduction

- 1. The Board of Auditors has audited the financial statements of the Fund of the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP) for the period 1 January 1994 to 31 December 1995, in accordance with General Assembly resolution 74 (I) of 7 December 1946 and article XIV of the Financial Rules of UNEP. The audit has been conducted in conformity with article XII of the Financial Regulations of the United Nations and the annex thereto, and with the auditing standards of the Panel of External Auditors of the United Nations, the specialized agencies and the International Atomic Energy Agency. These auditing standards require that the Board plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance as to whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement.
- 2. The audit included a general review of financial statements and internal controls and a test examination of the accounting records and other supporting evidence to the extent the Board considered necessary to form an opinion on the financial statements.
- 3. The audit was carried out at the headquarters of UNEP in Nairobi, the Regional Office for Latin America and the Caribbean, in Mexico, and the Regional Office for West Asia, in Bahrain.
- 4. In addition to the audit of the accounts and financial transactions, the Board carried out reviews under article 12.5 of the United Nations Financial Regulations. The reviews concerned the efficiency of budgetary procedures, the internal financial controls, programme planning, monitoring and evaluation and, in general, the administration and management of UNEP, including that of the procurement of goods and services.
- 5. The Board continued its practice of reporting the results of specific audits through management letters to the Administration of UNEP containing detailed observations and recommendations. The practice helped in maintaining an ongoing dialogue with the Administration on audit issues.
- 6. A summary of main findings and recommendations is given in paragraphs 11 to 27. The detailed findings of the audit are reported in paragraphs 28 to 87.
- 7. The present report covers matters that, in the opinion of the Board, should be brought to the attention of the General Assembly. The Board's observations on all matters contained in the report were communicated to the Administration, which has confirmed the facts on which the Board's observations and conclusions were based and provided explanations and answers to its queries. The report is divided into two parts, covering the audit of the financial statements and management issues, respectively.

Follow-up on action taken on previous audit recommendations

8. Pursuant to paragraph 15 of General Assembly resolution 47/211 of 23 December 1992, the Board has reviewed the measures taken to implement its prior recommendations. The Administration has implemented the majority of the recommendations made by the Board in its report for the biennium ended 31 December 1993. Details of the action taken and the comments of the Board are outlined in the annex to the present report.

9. The Board considers that UNEP should take further measures to implement the Board's recommendation that competitive bidding should be maximized through advance planning of purchases (see paras. 69-72).

Overall results

10. Subject to the limitation on the scope of audit indicated in paragraph 31, the Board's examination revealed no weakness or errors considered material to the accuracy, completeness or validity of the financial statements as a whole.

Summary of recommendations

11. The Board recommends that the following corrective actions, presented in order of priority, should be taken:

Programme management

- (a) The policy framework for interaction with non-governmental organizations involved in the field of environment should be further expedited. The catalytic role of UNEP and the role of field offices in programme planning, project formulation and implementation should be clearly defined (see paras. 42 and 43);
- (b) The merits and demerits of the present system of top-down planning and its impact on project implementation should be reviewed to see whether a more composite and timely process should be developed in its place (see para. 44);
- (c) Planning and budgeting processes should be integrated by obtaining all necessary approvals for programmes and projects in accordance with a time schedule. Project implementation should be coordinated in such a way as to avoid an uneven flow of expenditures (see paras. 47 and 49);
- (d) A budgetary control mechanism should be put in place to avoid excess expenditures over allotments and late recording of expenditures (see para. 54);
- (e) UNEP should take measures to obtain the required documents so as to make possible the closure of all completed projects (see para. 58);

Financial management

- (f) Efforts should be continued to ensure that all executing agencies provide audited expenditure statements and audit certificates in respect of monies released from the Environment Fund soon after the financial period is over (see para. 32);
- (g) Budgetary assumptions should be modified to adopt an averaging method of estimating exchange rates and location-specific vacancy rates. UNEP should also prepare more realistic estimations of voluntary contributions (see paras. 37, 39 and 40);

Procurement

(h) The practice of placing piecemeal purchase orders for commonly used commodities should be avoided (see para. 71);

- (i) The established rules and procedures on procurement, including those relating to competitive bidding, should be enforced more rigorously (see para. 76);
- (j) Deliveries of supplies by vendors should be monitored against stipulated time schedules and a vendor performance system should be established early. Inclusion of a penalty clause in contracts, at least on a selective basis, should be considered (see paras. 78 and 80);

Publications

(k) More comprehensive annual publishing programmes should be established in concert with all programme managers. Guidelines should be issued, including the requirement of prior approval of the editorial committee, to prevent unplanned external printing of publications (see paras. 65 and 67);

Consultants

(1) Appointment of consultants should be regulated in line with the established policies; the roster of consultants should be updated periodically. Selection of consultants should be made after considering alternate candidates by widening the search for prospective candidates. Guidelines should be established for determining consultants' fees (see paras. 82 and 83);

Conference services

(m) The possibility of renting out the available surplus capacity of the conference facilities should be considered (see para. 86).

Summary of findings

Financial management

- 12. Executing agencies have not provided expenditure statements and audit certificates in respect of substantial amounts released to them for project implementation (see para. 31).
- 13. There was a decline in the liquidity position of the Environment Fund, the general trust funds and the Multilateral Fund from 1:1.95 to 1:1.30 (see para. 33).

Budgetary assumptions

14. The contributions assumptions used in the preparation of the budget for the Governing Council were unrealistic. Estimation of exchange-rate variations and the vacancy factor for the purpose of budget formulation required refinement (see paras. 35, 39 and 40).

Programme management

15. A policy framework has not been clearly established delineating UNEP's role in project formulation and programme management vis-à-vis its executing agencies. The role of regional offices also has not been clearly set out (see paras. 41 and 43).

- 16. Delays in programme planning resulted in delays in start-up of projects for the biennium 1994-1995. An uneven pattern of project expenditures was also noted (see paras. 44 and 46).
- 17. The procedures for project appraisal and approval were deficient. A substantial number of projects were accepted for implementation towards the end of the biennium (see para. 48).
- 18. As compared to earlier periods, project revision was significantly less frequent; this was a positive achievement (see para. 52).
- 19. UNEP's project monitoring procedures were adequate but the system for project evaluation required substantial improvement (see paras. 55 and 59).

Publications

20. Although UNEP had not prepared a publications programme since 1993, a tentative programme had been established for 1996-1997. UNEP also did not ensure full utilization of the internal printing facility before printing jobs were contracted out (see paras. 64 and 66).

Procurement

- 21. UNEP continued to make piecemeal purchases for commonly used items (see paras. 69 and 70).
- 22. Requisitioners were permitted to suggest the names of vendors with whom orders were placed, contrary to the normal concept of separation of duties. In cases in which single tender action was taken, insufficient justification was given (see paras. 73 and 74).
- 23. In spite of persistent delays in delivery by vendors, contracts did not include penalty clauses. The Administration proposed to apply penalty clauses on a selective basis in future (see paras. 78 and 79).

Consultants

- 24. The consultants' roster was not updated. Two countries accounted for 27 per cent of consultants appointed in the biennium 1994-1995. Alternate candidates were not considered before selection of consultants, as required (see para. 81).
- 25. The basis for fixing the remuneration of consultants was not transparent (see para. 84).

Job descriptions

26. Job descriptions have not been prepared in respect of some posts in UNEP; this will impact on recruitment and appraisal procedures (see para. 85).

Conference services

27. There is substantial underutilization of UNEP's conference facilities (see para. 86).

Part I: Financial statements

United Nations System Accounting Standards

28. The General Assembly, in resolution 48/216 C of 23 December 1993, took note of the United Nations System Accounting Standards developed by the Administrative Committee on Coordination (ACC). Those standards were subsequently revised by the ACC to include formats for financial statements (see ACC/1995/20, annex III). The Board noted that UNEP's financial statements for the biennium ended 31 December 1995 generally conformed to the United Nations System Accounting Standards, Revision 1, except that the financial statements do not disclose the value of non-expendable property acquired by cooperating agencies and supporting organizations out of the funds provided by UNEP.

Reconciliation of inter-office vouchers

29. Reconciliation of inter-office vouchers by United Nations Headquarters was carried out only up to 30 September 1994. A total of 205 inter-office vouchers, amounting to $483,648, were processed by UNEP but were shown by Headquarters as outstanding as at 31 December 1995. Similarly, of 361 inter-office vouchers issued by United Nations Headquarters during 1995, UNEP had received only 308. The Board recommends that UNEP should carry out periodic reconciliation of inter-office vouchers in concert with United Nations Headquarters.

Accounts receivable

30. The Board's analysis of other accounts receivable showed that the total amounts outstanding had increased by some 61 per cent over the corresponding figure for the biennium 1992-1993. Some 57 per cent of the accounts receivable related to other United Nations organizations, 31 per cent to staff members and 12 per cent to others. The amounts outstanding from staff included travel advances, amounting to $642,107, in respect of travels undertaken from 1990 onwards. The Board recommends that the Administration should take measures to adjust or recover the advances, in accordance with United Nations rules and policies.

Audit certificates

31. Some $26.9 million of UNEP's total programme expenditure of $121 million was released to supporting organizations, including various Governments, intergovernmental organizations and non-governmental organizations, to fund programme activities during the biennium 1994-1995. UNEP does not receive original accounts documents in respect of the expenditures incurred by these agencies, but the expenditures are included in UNEP's accounts on the basis of statements of expenditures received from them. Under the terms of the project agreements, executing agencies are required to have their accounts audited for submission to UNEP. The Board does not have access to the original records of UNEP's executing agencies. Consequently, the Board relies on the work of other external auditors, as indicated by audit certificates, to gain adequate assurance that the funds advanced to executing agencies and reported in UNEP's financial statements have been properly expended on UNEP projects. However, despite UNEP's persistent efforts, as of July 1996 several executing agencies had not submitted audit certificates in respect of expenditures totalling $12.2 million for the biennium 1994-1995. The Board has therefore restricted the scope of its audit to exclude this expenditure.

32. The Administration stated that the delays in receipt of audit certificates were mainly due to the fact that several agencies had fiscal years which did not coincide with UNEP's or did not have adequate resources to cover audit costs. In addition, the Administration informed the Board that a substantial amount of the expenditures in 1994 was incurred under small projects and subprojects for which UNEP had not required audited expenditure statements. The Administration further stated that UNEP is vigorously seeking the submission of outstanding audit certificates and has taken measures to withhold future cash advances from those organizations which have not provided audit certificates. Also, UNEP will not enter into new contractual arrangements with supporting organizations which have not provided necessary audit certificates. The Board welcomes these measures and recommends that efforts should be continued to ensure that all executing agencies provide audited expenditure statements and audit certificates in respect of monies released from the Environment Fund, soon after the end of the financial period.

Liquidity position

33. The Board noted that the ratio of current assets to current liabilities in respect of the Environment Fund, the general trust funds and the Multilateral Fund had declined from 1:1.95 at the end of 1993, to 1:1.30 as at 31 December 1995, mainly because of an increase in current liabilities. However, the Board noted that in each case, even if the unpaid pledges were excluded, the current assets were sufficient to meet the liabilities as and when they fell due.

Write-off of losses of cash, receivables and property

34. According to the information provided by UNEP and as shown in note 10 to the financial statements, 19 cases of uncollectible receivables, amounting to $13,734, were written off during the biennium 1994-1995.

Part II: Management issues

Budgetary assumptions

Estimation of resources

- 35. The actual receipt of contributions of $130.6 million for the biennium 1992-1993 was far below estimated contributions of $235 million included in the budget documents presented to the Governing Council. Similarly, in the biennium 1994-1995, contributions dropped to $122 million against estimated contributions of $168.48 million.
- 36. During 1994-1995 there was an over-expenditure of $33.9 million, or 26.9 per cent of the total income in the Environment Fund. This over-expenditure contributed to a significant reduction of the balance of the Fund, from $38.8 million as at 31 December 1993 to $5.6 million as at 31 December 1995.
- 37. Since the estimation of income has a significant impact on the budgetary and planning process, the Board suggests that the Administration should prepare a more realistic estimation of income, based on past trends and through closer coordination with donor agencies, and establish the programme budget accordingly.

38. According to the Administration, the contributions assumptions used in the preparation of the budget for the Governing Council are no more than an estimation of the contributions that would be required to implement the programme proposed to the Council. Once the Council has approved a programme budget for the following biennium at its current session, another estimate required to implement the approved budget is prepared. This adjusted target was not, in the past, reflected in the report of the Governing Council, but the Administration has informed the Board that this will be done in the future.

Rate of exchange

39. The Board noted that UNEP adopts the latest available rates of exchange for preparation of its programme budget and for recosting purposes, except that the average of 12 months from January to December 1994 was used for the revised appropriations for 1994. Based on an analysis for the Nairobi duty station, the Board pointed out that an exchange rate based on the averaging method would be more realistic. The Administration agreed with the Board and proposes to adopt the averaging method for calculating all future management and administration support cost budgets and trust fund support budgets.

Delayed recruitment factor

40. The Board noted variations between the assumed rates of vacant posts (lapse factor) and the actual rates at different duty stations of UNEP for both the 1992-1993 and 1994-1995 bienniums. The Board therefore pointed out that it would be more realistic to adopt location-specific vacancy rates for determining the budgetary estimates. UNEP has accepted the Board's recommendation.

Programme management

Defining the role of UNEP in programme management

- 41. The Administration has not yet established a policy framework and mechanism for working with non-governmental organizations in the field of environment, in compliance with the directive of the Governing Council of UNEP at its eighteenth session in May 1995. In the absence of such a framework, UNEP continued to take up direct implementation of a substantially large number of projects, which accounted for about 73 per cent of UNEP's programme funds for the biennium 1994-1995. The Administration informed the Board that as of July 1996, the policy framework for interaction with non-governmental organizations involved in the field of environment had been drafted, following a consultation process with selected non-governmental organizations and with the UNEP Executive Committee. Also, UNEP was drawing on contributions from scientific and other communities on emerging environmental issues.
- 42. The Board encourages UNEP to expedite further the development of its policy framework. This should also take into account the recommendations included in the report of the Office of Internal Oversight Services of 8 March 1995 (E/AC.51/1995/3) that UNEP should, in its catalytic role in emerging environmental issues, draw to a greater extent on the contributions of the United Nations system and of international scientific and other professional communities.

Role of field offices in programme formulation

43. The Board's audit of UNEP's regional offices for Latin America and the Caribbean and for West Asia disclosed that they did not have a significant role in project planning, implementation and monitoring. According to the Administration, the Regional Office for Latin America and the Caribbean has a deciding role in selection of projects, most of which are implemented by specialized regional bodies. The Board took note of the steps being taken by the Administration to enhance the role of regional offices and encourages UNEP to strengthen their involvement in project planning, monitoring and evaluation.

Macro-level review of programme planning

- 44. The Board noted delays in preparation of work programmes for the biennium 1994-1995, in approval of projects and in allocation of funds. For instance, mainly due to administrative delays in issuing updated guidelines and in submission of the programme of work to the Governing Council, UNEP's projects for 1994-1995 could be approved by the Executive Director only during the period from March to August 1994, resulting in delays of three to seven months in the start-up of those projects. Those delays were partly the result of the inherent deficiency in the present system of top-down planning. The Board therefore suggested that, prior to determining the level of programme support to be provided, UNEP should assess the need of the beneficiaries in more detail. In addition, the assessed needs and identified projects should be utilized to build up a composite programme, within the approved policy framework, in accordance with an appropriate time schedule. UNEP proposes to adopt this approach in planning the work programme for the biennium 1998-1999.
- 45. The Administration stated that while there were some administrative delays in the preparation of the 1994-1995 programme of work and project approval, no such problems were experienced in the 1996-1997 programme and most projects had been approved by January 1996. The Administration also stated that the present UNEP planning system is already being initiated from the level of programme managers.
- 46. The Board was pleased to note that 97 per cent of allotments were utilized at the global level during the biennium 1994-1995. The Board, however, observed that of the total fund expenditures of $116.6 million during the biennium, 64 per cent were incurred in 1995. As at 30 September 1995, there were some 109 projects in respect of which no expenditures had been incurred at all, and there were 71 other projects with recorded expenditures of less than 25 per cent of the respective allotments. The Board noted that as at 30 September 1995, about 20 per cent of the allocations for 1994 and 45 per cent of the allocations for 1995 remained unutilized.
- 47. According to the Administration, the uneven pattern of expenditures partly reflected delays in recording expenditures already incurred. The Board recommends that in order to avoid a rush of expenditures towards the end of the biennium and to ensure a well-coordinated programme implementation, UNEP should improve its programme planning and expenditure pattern and periodically review the programme expenditures against specified financial targets.

Project planning and formulation

48. The procedures followed by UNEP for formulation and approval of projects needed improvement. The Board observed that although UNEP had decided to close all projects of the 1994-1995 biennium by the end of December 1995, a large number of projects were approved in the last quarter of 1995, including 18 which were started in December 1995. In addition, 11 projects had completion dates in 1996, and in one subprogramme, 6 projects, accounting for some 21 per cent of its total allocation, were not formulated until December 1995.

49. According to the Administration, in most cases actual approval of the projects' documents was received late from the executing agencies, resulting in their late acceptance. In addition, some projects were approved late when additional resources became available. The Administration informed the Board that it plans to establish a project advisory group to review and approve project proposals. The Board trusts that with the establishment of the project advisory group, the Administration will ensure timely approval of projects in future.

Project implementation

- 50. The Board's review of 12 projects implemented by UNEP disclosed that 8 had suffered cost overruns and 9 had undergone time overruns because of difficulties in identifying consultants at the national level, problems associated with national-level contributions and other local conditions. The Administration stated that since UNEP's projects are funded on a voluntary basis, project implementation was subject to the availability of funds, which resulted in time and cost overruns.
- 51. The Board noted that the uneven pattern of utilization of expenditures during the biennium 1994-1995 also may have contributed to the time overruns (see para. 46). The Board is of the view that in order to avoid widespread project delays and cost overruns, UNEP should develop a more detailed programme strategy, taking into account fund constraints and other factors.

Frequent revisions of projects

52. In its report for the biennium ended 31 December 1991, the Board had pointed out that frequent revisions of projects in UNEP indicated either poor project design or inefficient programme implementation. The Board was, however, pleased to note that there were fewer project revisions during the biennium 1994-1995 than in previous years. According to the Administration, the need for frequent project revisions had been drastically reduced by close coordination with programme managers.

Budgetary control

- 53. The Board noted that 59 projects implemented by UNEP had excesses over allotments as at 31 December 1995. In several cases, expenditure exceeded allotments beyond the permissible limit of 20 per cent. In some other cases, expenditures were recorded in the absence of allotments. The Administration stated that as a standard practice, requests for reallocations between budget line items were authorized pending revisions of projects so as to avoid delays in implementation.
- 54. The Board suggests that UNEP should strengthen its project budgetary control and periodically review all cases of negative balances recorded in project accounts, and should take appropriate and timely remedial action.

Project monitoring

- 55. The Board was pleased to note that UNEP has established a detailed procedure for monitoring the projects under implementation. Executing agencies are required to submit a half-yearly progress report and an expenditure report for each project.
- 56. The Board's review of project documents, however, revealed that the follow-up action to be taken by the executing agencies as a result of the review of half-yearly progress reports was not generally documented. The Board recommends that the Administration should record the results of the review and issue instructions to executing agencies regarding the follow-up action required.

Delays in terminating completed projects

- 57. The Board had recommended, in its report for the biennium ended 31 December 1991, that action should be taken to obtain all prescribed reports so as to allow timely closure of completed projects. The Board's review disclosed that in 485 projects the completion dates had expired but the projects had not been formally closed in the absence of required terminal reports, evaluation fact sheets, final audited statements and inventory lists. The Board verified that the completion dates of eight such projects, under a subprogramme, pre-dated 1988. The Board also observed that none of the projects approved in 1994-1995 biennium had been closed although the Administration had decided in principle to close all of them and to start a new programme beginning with the biennium 1996-1997.
- 58. The Board's scrutiny showed that the delays in preparation of the prescribed reports by programme managers were due to the low priority assigned to such work. The Board recommends that UNEP review all such cases and take steps to obtain the required documents to make possible the timely closure of all completed projects.

Evaluation and follow-up

- 59. The Board noted that during the biennium 1994-1995, only 21 ongoing projects were evaluated by UNEP. Of these, three evaluations were carried out by UNEP staff and the rest were undertaken by consultants. The Board did not find evidence of any ex post facto evaluation of projects. In the absence of ex post facto evaluation, terminal reports and self-evaluation fact sheets, it was not possible to assess whether value for money was obtained in respect of those projects.
- 60. The Administration agreed that procedures for project evaluation needed considerable improvement. The Board recommends that the system of evaluation of projects be improved by stronger follow-up action on outstanding terminal reports and evaluation fact sheets. UNEP should also establish more detailed procedures and guidelines for evaluation.

Database of implementing agencies

61. UNEP maintains a database of executing agencies as part of its Project Management System, enabling it to analyse agency performance such as delays in reporting, frequency of revisions and fund utilization. The Administration accepted the recommendation of the Board that the Project Management System should be utilized to weed out inefficient executing agencies.

Inadequate documentation

- 62. The Board observed a lack of sufficient documentation in project document files. These, for instance, did not contain the details of action taken on a half-yearly progress report, nor of an advance given for the project or the grounds for a project revision. The Board therefore recommended that UNEP should consider providing a history sheet in each project document file in which all events in the life of a project could be properly documented. The Board considered that such a system would help in building up institutional memory.
- 63. The Administration stated that with the abolition of its Central Registry, both the Programme and Fund Programme Management Branch of UNEP will maintain a comprehensive filing system for each project which, together with project progress reports, terminal reports and self-evaluation reports, will adequately meet the requirements. The Board will review progress in its future audits.

Publications

- 64. Although UNEP is required to prepare an annual programme covering all proposals for publications, which should be approved by the editorial committee, the Board noted that no such programme had been prepared by UNEP since 1993. The Administration's efforts to collect details of the proposed publications relating to project outputs did not succeed because of poor responses from the project managers concerned. The Board noted that external printing of publications was generally arranged directly by the programme managers without the intervention of UNEP's Information and Public Affairs Division, since funds are released to them without the approval of the editorial committee. The Board considers that the existing practice does not ensure economy and efficiency in publications activities.
- 65. The Administration informed the Board that a new publications board and a tentative publications programme for 1996-1997 had been established. The Board suggests that UNEP should collect advance information from programme managers on proposals for publication of project outputs. UNEP should also prepare a comprehensive annual publishing programme covering all of its publications so as to help in the formulation of a strategy for production and dissemination. UNEP should also ensure that no publication is printed without the approval of the editorial committee.

External printing of publications

- 66. The UNEP publications manual provides that external printing of publications should be resorted to only if internal printing was not possible, but the Administration has not issued any guidelines to implement this policy. The Board noted that the capacity of the print shop was never fully utilized; printing of a large number of publications was contracted out, incurring relatively higher costs.
- 67. The Administration attributed the inability of the print shop to do high-quality printing and the difficulties of distributing publications from Nairobi as the main reasons for external printing. It also stated that the print shop gives priority to conference documents. The Board suggests that the Administration should carry out a detailed review of the in-house capability of printing publications and establish norms and guidelines for external printing of project outputs, after assessing the comparative costs and other factors.

Pricing policy of publications

68. UNEP had not priced most of its publications because of the absence of a pricing policy. As recommended by the Board, UNEP has since established an appropriate pricing policy for its publications and has also revised its publications manual to cover pricing.

Procurement

- 69. In its report for the biennium ended 31 December 1993, the Board had pointed out the need to maximize competitive bidding through advance planning. The Executive Director had assured the Governing Council that action would be taken to initiate advance procurement planning wherever possible. The Board's review disclosed that UNEP was yet to establish an annual procurement plan. Lack of procurement planning prevents the consolidation of orders, depriving procurement of the benefits of economies of scale and overall competitiveness.
- 70. The Board noted that during 1995, out of a total of 718 purchase orders placed for over $4.6 million, orders for a value of $1.5 million were for EDP equipment and software. The orders were issued to various firms at different times and on a piecemeal basis. Similarly, over 143 orders were placed for articles of stationery, 27 orders for photocopying machines and spares and 12 orders for facsimile machines. As a result of piecemeal processing of purchase orders, only 4 out of the 718 orders were submitted to the local committee on contracts for advice.
- 71. The Board also noticed a rush of expenditures towards the end of the biennium. During 1995, out of the 718 purchase orders, 98 (29 per cent of the total value) were placed in December 1995. Further, purchase actions continued to be made on an urgent basis for procurement of items which could have been assessed in advance. The Board therefore recommended that UNEP should discourage placing of piecemeal purchase orders, as well as frequent unplanned purchases on an urgent basis and a rush of expenditures towards the end of the biennium. For this purpose, UNEP must ensure that each substantive unit prepares a purchase plan based on need, which collectively should form UNEP's annual procurement plan.
- 72. The Board was informed by UNEP that it has since prepared an annual procurement plan under the United Nations Office in Nairobi. UNEP also proposes to submit its procurement plan for 1997 to the United Nations Office in Nairobi. The Board welcomes this measure.

Observance of financial rules on contracts and purchases

- 73. The relevant financial rules and procedures relating to procurement were not always adhered to in the area of requisitioning of supplies and invitations for bids. For example, in several of the cases reviewed, requisition forms were not raised and in other cases the requisitions were not signed by the appropriate certifying officers. Additionally, the Board was concerned that requisitioning departments were invited to propose the names of the vendors with whom the orders were to be placed, contrary to the normal separation of duties.
- 74. The Board reviewed 20 purchase orders, including 16 for amounts in excess of $20,000 each. Although the financial rules provide for inviting sealed bids for purchases over $20,000, the Board noted that sealed bids were not invited, as required, in 14 out of the 16 cases for amounts in excess of $20,000 each.

The Board also noted that 82 of the 718 purchase orders issued in 1995 were placed on single tender basis and that insufficient justification was given in respect of those single tender activities.

- 75. In many cases, the abstract of quotations did not allow for a comparative analysis of bids. For instance, relevant conversion rates were not quoted for bids received in currencies other than United States dollars. In some cases, rates for all specified items, including terms of freight/insurance charges, terms of payment and delivery period, were not included, as required under the established procedures.
- 76. The Board recommended that UNEP enforce more rigorously the established rules and procedures on procurement, including those relating to competitive bidding. In addition, requisitioners should be discouraged from suggesting the names of vendors to the procurement officer so as to avoid any conflict of interest.
- 77. The Administration concurred with the Board's recommendation concerning the enforcement of established rules and procedures of procurement, including those relating to competitive bidding. The United Nations Office in Nairobi, however, considered that the practice of requisitioning units suggesting names of vendors was acceptable, since this was permissible under the Procurement Manual. The Board would, however, discourage the United Nations Office in Nairobi from following this policy.

Delays in delivery of goods

- 78. The Board had, in its previous report, pointed out several instances of delays in delivery of goods by vendors. These were compounded by the non-inclusion of a suitable penalty clause in the purchase orders. The Board noted that delays of up to six months in the delivery of goods persisted, but no action was taken against the vendors concerned. The Board therefore reiterated its recommendation that the Administration should include a penalty clause to guard against such delays.
- 79. The Administration stated that the Contract and Procurement Unit under the United Nations Office in Nairobi was closely monitoring the delivery schedules through a newly set up database and that penalty clauses would be applied on a selective basis.

Vendor performance appraisal

80. The Board drew UNEP's attention to the need to develop a system to monitor vendor performance. The Administration has agreed to develop a system based on four parameters, namely, timely delivery, quality, price and service. The Board recommends early establishment of this system.

Human resources management

Selection of consultants

81. The Board noted that the consultants' roster was neither updated nor used. Of the first 100 consultants hired during 1994-1995, for instance, only one was from the available roster. Further, two countries accounted for over 240 (27 per cent) of the 880 consultancy assignments. The Board's scrutiny of 36 special service agreements revealed that in a number of cases alternative candidates were not considered and that where additional names were included, no details other than the educational qualifications of comparators were available. A comparative evaluation of the merits of comparators was, thus, not possible.

- 82. The Board therefore recommended that UNEP should periodically update the consultants' roster, which should include a full range of candidates selected on a wide geographical basis. The Board also recommended that UNEP should document its evaluation of candidates, showing full justification for the selection.
- 83. The Administration informed the Board that UNEP was in the process of updating its roster of consultants and has issued revised guidelines for recruitment of consultants to ensure that consultancies are awarded on the basis of established need, expertise and value for money. UNEP will also make every effort to select consultants from the full range of countries, including developing countries and countries with economies in transition, with due consideration for geographical and gender balance.

Level of remuneration of consultants

84. The Board's test check of the fees paid for 75 consultancy assignments during the biennium showed wide variations in the level of fees paid for assignments of a broadly similar nature. For instance, amounts paid for project works varied from $1,000 for a four-month project to $37,765 for a six-month project. Similarly, fees paid for report work of four months' duration varied from $1,000 to $25,000. In another case, a consultancy contract for $25,000 was awarded to a person as an out-of-court settlement of his claim for compensation for the withdrawal of job offer. The fees offered to him for writing four articles for a journal appeared to be excessive, although, according to the Administration, the engagement of the consultant was essential to guarantee the continuation of the publication. The Board recommended that UNEP should establish guidelines for determining consultancy fees.

Finalization of job descriptions

85. The Board observed that job descriptions did not exist in respect of several posts in UNEP. Absence of job descriptions affects the objectivity of the recruitment procedure and personnel performance appraisals. UNEP had not completed this task, although a classification officer was appointed in 1994 and two consultants were hired for the purpose. The Administration stated that it was giving priority to the classification exercise but that limited staff resources impacted on the progress of the work. The Board recommends that the Administration take effective measures to finalize expeditiously job descriptions for all posts.

Conference services

86. The Board's review of the utilization of eight conference rooms in UNEP disclosed that there is substantial spare capacity, after taking into account the overall requirements of all United Nations organizations in Nairobi. The Board therefore recommended that UNEP consider the possibility of hiring out the conference facilities to outside organizations as a revenue-earning measure. The Board was told that the United Nations Office in Nairobi is already in the process of implementing the recommendation.

Cases of fraud and presumptive fraud

87. The Administration informed the Board that no case of fraud or presumptive fraud had come to its notice during the biennium 1994-1995.

Acknowledgement

Annex

Follow-up on actions taken to implement the recommendations of the Board of Auditors in its report for the biennium ended 31 December 1993 a/

I. RECOMMENDATION 10 (a)

1. Value for money considerations should be given adequate attention, not only while planning a project but also during its implementation, monitoring and evaluation. Further, methods and procedures should be devised to facilitate delivery of outputs of expected quality in accordance with the work plan and timetable set out in the project documents.

Measures taken by the Administration

- 2. Delivery of project outputs is closely monitored by the Accountability, Monitoring and Reporting Unit in the Corporate Planning and Accountability Service. In 1994-1995, 64 per cent of the postponed outputs were implemented, 23 per cent were terminated and 12 per cent were postponed to the 1996-1997 biennium.
- 3. The Accountability, Monitoring and Reporting Unit was preparing a report on implementation of the UNEP programme in 1994-1995 to be distributed to Governments as an inter-sessional Governing Council document. The report has two parts: the first part shows each activity as described in the 1994-1995 programme of work and the corresponding projects designed and approved to implement each activity; the second part contains a fact sheet on each project, showing the needs which the project meets, the results of the project, the activities undertaken and the outputs.

Comments of the Board

4. The Board's review indicated that there was further scope for improvement in project planning, implementation and evaluation as discussed in the present report under "Programme management".

II. RECOMMENDATION 10 (b)

5. The format of project progress reports, terminal reports and self-evaluation fact sheets should be suitably changed to enable a more meaningful monitoring and evaluation of projects. The review of the UNEP manual on design, approval and evaluation, and the revision of procedures of evaluation, should be done early to ensure evaluation of a larger number of ongoing projects.

Measures taken by the Administration

6. The format of progress reports and terminal reports was reviewed, and formats were changed by the Fund Programme Management Branch in 1995, in line a/ Official Records of the General Assembly, Forty-ninth Session, Supplement No. 5F (A/49/5/Add.6), sect. II, para. 10.

with the new UNEP manual which was being rewritten by the Project Design and Evaluation Unit and the Corporate Planning and Accountability Service (PDEU/CPAS). The self-evaluation fact sheet was completely revised in 1994 by PDEU/CPAS, and the new version, which is more objective and better focused, was used for the first time in 1995.

- 7. The review of the UNEP manual on design, approval and evaluation was completed in 1995 by PDEU/CPAS and was being rewritten to make it more relevant, given present developments. It will also be made more user-friendly and will simplify project processing and improve the quality of projects.
- 8. The evaluation procedures were reviewed in 1994 and are reflected in the UNEP evaluation strategy paper. In the biennium 1994-1995, three times more projects were evaluated than in the 1992-1993 biennium. UNEP continues to increase the number of evaluations and to improve the quality of evaluation as a whole.

Comments of the Board

9. UNEP has a well-established project monitoring system. However, the evaluation procedures are deficient, especially with reference to post-project assessments. This has been discussed in the present report.

III. RECOMMENDATION 10 (c)

10. Effective follow-up of seminars and training workshops should be instituted to ensure that the benefits of the related projects continue to reach the target groups, that the projects do not remain one-time activities and that they have the desired impact.

Measures taken by the Administration

11. Follow-up action on seminars and workshops improved substantially in 1994-1995. Programme personnel are now better organized and are sending questionnaires to participants. During the biennium 1994-1995, PDEU/CPAS received more than double the numbers of questionnaires from participants as compared to the 1992-1993 biennium.

Comments of the Board

12. The Board is pleased to note these improvements.

IV. RECOMMENDATION 10 (d)

13. Activities directly undertaken by UNEP should always form part of internal projects and these should be monitored and evaluated properly. An operational project should not be used to provide temporary assistance for general programme management, as that practice vitiates budgetary control.

Measures taken by the Administration

14. The format of progress reports was changed in 1995 to enable the reporting to become more objective and the monitoring meaningful. Further work will be done on progress reports in 1996 when the UNEP manual is rewritten. The progress reports format will be made similar to the new self-evaluation fact sheet, which is already proving to be an important monitoring tool.

Comments of the Board

15. The Board is pleased to note these improvements.

V. RECOMMENDATION 10 (e)

16. An annotated bibliography of all UNEP publications should be issued and updated periodically to inform all concerned of the outputs available and to help avoid possible duplication of efforts.

Measures taken by the Administration

17. It has proved to be difficult to implement this audit recommendation, as the same point was raised during the 1992-1993 audit. A new publications board has been constituted by the Executive Director and has been given the task of studying all audit recommendations on this subject to determine the best course of action.

Comments of the Board

18. The Board's further comments on UNEP's publications activities have been included in the present report.

VI. RECOMMENDATION 10 (f)

19. The proposed overall review of the entire procurement system should, among other things, address the need to maximize competitive bidding through advance planning of purchases, discourage delays in vendor deliveries by incorporating a suitable penalty clause in purchase orders, assess the advantages of local rather than international procurement for appropriate purchase action, and improve the documentation of procurement cases.

Measures taken by the Administration

20. The Administration has informed the Board that an annual procurement plan has been prepared for 1996 under the United Nations Office in Nairobi.

Comments of the Board

21. The Board welcomes the action taken by the Administration.

VII. RECOMMENDATION 10 (g)

22. Adequate checks and balances should be built into the process of engagement of consultants and a periodic review should be instituted to ensure that there is no violation or circumvention of the well-established procedures and regulations in future.

Measures taken by the Administration

23. All divisions, regional and out-posted offices, and convention secretariats are now required to provide to the Executive Director's office a detailed quarterly report on consultants. Additionally, as a result of the merging of the administrations of Habitat and UNEP on 1 January 1996, a comprehensive review is being undertaken to improve the comparative evaluation of consultants and related procedures; this was expected to be in place by 30 June. The Administration has also taken steps to issue guidelines on recruitment of consultants.

Comments of the Board

24. The Board has included its further observations in the present report. In view of the restructuring of the administrations of Habitat and UNEP, the Board will review the position in its future audits.

VIII. RECOMMENDATION 10 (h)

25. The system documentation of the existing electronic data processing systems should be improved. A method should be devised to evaluate periodically the utilization of available information technology facilities, and there should be a proper systems analysis before undertaking new computerization projects.

Measures taken by the Administration

26. The work of the task force on information systems has led to a complete reorganization of information technology activities. Systems development activities have been consolidated in the Management Information Service of the United Nations Office in Nairobi. All new systems development activities are being carried out with state-of-the-art systems analysis and design techniques, in keeping with the changeover to state-of-the-art software products used for systems implementation (Unix/Sybase client-server technology). Documentation of old systems is being revised for systems maintenance purposes. Feasibility and cost/benefit analyses are conducted through periodic meetings with users. Designs are reviewed, using design documents and proto-figures before implementation.

Comments of the Board

27. In view of the clarifications, the Board has no further comments. The position will be reviewed further after implementation of the Integrated Management Information System (IMIS) in UNEP.

III. AUDIT OPINION

We have examined the following appended financial statements numbered I to IX, properly identified, and schedules 1.1-1.3, 2.1-2.3, 3.1 and 4.1 of the funds of the United Nations Environment Programme for the financial period ended 31 December 1995, in accordance with the Common Auditing Standards of the panel of External Auditors of the United Nations, the specialized agencies and the International Atomic Energy Agency. Our examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of the accounting records and other supporting evidence as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

Except for the effect of any adjustments that may be found to be necessary upon receipt of outstanding audited expenditure statements relating to executing agencies, it is our opinion that the financial statements present fairly the financial position of the organization as at 31 December 1995 and the results of its operations for the financial period then ended; that they were prepared in accordance with the stated accounting policies, which were applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding financial period; and that the transactions were in accordance with the Financial Regulations and legislative authority.

In accordance with our usual practice, we have issued a long form report on our audit of the United Nations Environment Programme's financial statements as provided for in the Financial Regulations.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Note 1. The United Nations Environment Programme and its objectives

On 15 December 1972, the General Assembly adopted resolution 2997 (XXVII), which created the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP), comprising a Governing Council, a secretariat, an Environment Fund and a Coordination Board. The primary objectives of UNEP are the following:

To promote international cooperation in the field of the environment and to recommend policies to that end;

To provide general policy guidance for environmental programmes within the United Nations system;

To keep under review the world environmental situation in order to ensure that emerging environmental problems of wide international significance receive consideration;

To promote the acquisition, assessment and exchange of environmental knowledge and information and to provide technical advice on the formulation and implementation of environmental programmes within the United Nations system;

To review the impact of national and international environmental policies on developing countries as well as the problem of additional costs of implementation in developing countries and to ensure the compatibility of environmental programmes and projects with the plans and priorities of those countries;

To advise intergovernmental bodies of the United Nations system on the formulation and implementation of environmental programmes;

To secure the effective cooperation of and contributions from relevant scientific and other professional communities;

To finance, wholly or partly, new environmental initiatives undertaken within and outside the United Nations system so as to fulfil the policy-guidance role of UNEP;

To finance programmes of general interest, such as monitoring, assessment, data-collecting systems, improvement of environmental quality management, environmental research, information exchange and dissemination, public education and training, environmental institutions, and technological development suited to economic growth compatible with environmental safeguards;

To coordinate environmental programmes within the United Nations system, review their implementation and assess their effectiveness;

To report on the cooperation and coordination among all bodies concerned in the implementation of environmental programmes.

Note 2. Summary of significant accounting policies

The following are the significant accounting policies of the United Nations and the United Nations Environment Programme:

(a) The accounts are maintained in accordance with the Financial Regulations of the United Nations as adopted by the General Assembly, the rules formulated by the Secretary-General as required under the regulations, including the Financial Rules of the Fund of the United Nations Environment Programme, specific decisions of the Governing Council of UNEP and administrative issuances, and in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

The United Nations and the United Nations Environment Fund follow the common accounting standards of the United Nations system (A/48/530), and where departures from the standards occur as a result of decisions of the legislative authorities of individual organizations, attention is drawn to each instance in the statement of significant accounting policies included in the financial statements.

- (b) Regular budget of the United Nations. The regular budget of the United Nations meets part of the costs of the secretariat of the United Nations Environment Programme established under resolution 2997 (XXVII). Details of the expenditure may be found in the financial report and audited financial statements of the United Nations. They are not considered further in this report.
- (c) Financial reserve. As stated in rule 209.2 of the Financial Rules of the Fund, the purpose of the financial reserve is to guarantee the financial liquidity and integrity of the Fund, to compensate for uneven cash flows and to meet such other similar requirements as may be decided upon by the Governing The level of the financial reserve is determined from time to time by the Governing Council, and in accordance with paragraph 14 of decision 14/36 of 16 June 1987, the Executive Director last adjusted the financial reserve in 1988 to a level equivalent to 7.5 per cent of the total programme of the Environment Fund approved by the Council for 1988-1989. The reserve has remained unchanged since 1988. The Governing Council, in its decision 18/40, paragraph 9, authorized the Executive Director to increase gradually the level of the financial reserve to $20 million by 1999 by using the under-utilized Fund resources. However, in view of the fact that there was no under-utilization of the Fund resources in 1995 and the balance of the Fund at the end of 1995 being no more than $5.6 million, the Executive Director decided to defer any increase in the financial reserve to a later date.
- (d) Revolving Fund. The Governing Council, by its decision 11/(II) of 22 March 1974, established a Revolving Fund (Information) to finance the production of information materials in support of national programmes of public information and education in the environment field. The Council further decided that the income from the sale or rental of information materials, the production of which was financed from the Revolving Fund (Information) shall be credited to that Fund.
- (e) The financial statements are prepared on the historical cost basis of accounting and have not been adjusted to reflect the effects of changing prices for goods and services.
- (f) Fund accounting. The accounts are maintained on a "fund accounting" basis and each fund is maintained as a distinct financial and accounting entity with a separate self-balancing double-entry group of accounts. Separate financial statements are prepared for each fund or for a group of funds of the same nature.

- (g) The financial period of UNEP is a biennium and consists of two consecutive calendar years.
- (h) The income and expenditure and assets and liabilities are recognized on the accrual basis of accounting.
- (i) Project expenditures with respect to UNEP projects undertaken by cooperating agencies and supporting organizations are recorded in the UNEP accounts on the basis of actual expenditure of funds reported by them to UNEP. Since 1979, UNEP has also recognized as expenditures the unliquidated obligations of cooperating agencies. The unspent balances of the remittances held by agencies and organizations are recorded as advances in the UNEP accounts.
- (j) Translation of currencies. The accounts of UNEP are presented in United States dollars. Accounts maintained in other currencies are translated into United States dollars at the time of the transaction at rates of exchange established by the Controller of the United Nations. In respect of such currencies, the financial statements reflect the cash, investments and unpaid pledges in currencies other than United States dollars, translated at the applicable United Nations rates of exchange in effect as at the date of the statements.

Differences arising from the conversion of currencies at the United Nations rate of exchange are accounted for as gain or loss on exchange. In accordance with rule 205.2 of the Financial Rules of the Fund, losses and gains on exchange arising from the payment of voluntary contributions from Governments are recorded as a credit or debit to such contributions.

- (k) Contributions. Pledges are recorded as income on the basis of a written commitment by prospective donors to pay monetary contributions at a specified time or times. Pledges received for future years are recorded as deferred income.
- (1) Investments. Funds on deposit in interest-bearing bank accounts, certificates of deposit, time deposits and call accounts are shown in the statements of assets and liabilities as cash.
- (m) Deferred charges. Deferred charges comprise expenditure items which are not properly chargeable in the current financial period and which will be charged as expenditure in a subsequent financial period. For balance sheet statement purposes, only that portion of the education grant advance which is assumed to pertain to the scholastic year completed as at the date of the financial statement is shown under deferred charges. The full amount of the advance is maintained in the accounts receivable from staff members until such time as the staff member produces the required proof of entitlement to the education grant, at which time the budgetary account is charged and the advance recovered.
- (n) Fixed assets. Furniture, equipment and other non-expendables are not included in the assets of UNEP. Acquisitions are charged against the appropriate budget accounts in the year of purchase.
- (o) Contingencies. No provision is made in the Environment Fund for repatriation grant entitlements. However, provision to meet contingent liabilities for compensation payments under appendix D to the Staff Rules of the United Nations for personnel financed under trust funds and the Environment Fund has been made and is calculated on the basis of 1 per cent of net base pay.

- (p) Miscellaneous income consists of the following items:
- (i) Refunds of expenditures charged to prior financial periods;
- (ii) Monies accepted in respect of which no purpose is specified;
- (iii) Uncashed cheques one year from their date of issuance;
- (iv) The proceeds from the sale of surplus property;
  - (v) Balance of the Revolving Fund in excess of $200,000 as at the end of the biennium.
- (q) Trust funds. UNEP follows the general provisions of the Secretary-General's bulletin on the establishment and management of trust funds (ST/SGB/188) and its supporting administrative instructions (ST/AI/285 and ST/AI/286), although, as indicated in paragraph 3 of document ST/SGB/188, that bulletin does not apply to such funds as the Fund of the United Nations Environment Programme, which are subject to the administrative authority of their executive heads.
- (r) At the 11th meeting of the Executive Committee of the Multilateral Fund for the Implementation of the Montreal Protocol, it was decided that promissory notes did constitute committable resources and that the deposit of a promissory note would be considered to be payment of a country's contribution to the Multilateral Fund. Consequently, promissory notes received from member countries have been reflected in the accounts of the Fund.
