I. INTRODUCTION

1. Over the years, United Nations organs and agencies have endeavoured to ensure to everyone adequate protection against torture and other forms of cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment. 1/ A number of international human rights instruments contain provisions aimed at the prohibition and elimination of torture. Several international conventions contain obligations to that effect, which the ratifying States are required to implement. 2/ The International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, in its article 4, provides that torture cannot be tolerated under any circumstances, even in time of public emergency or armed conflict. Torture in all its forms is prohibited and punishable under the domestic criminal law of many countries.

2. Despite the various measures taken by the United Nations, other international organizations, Member States, judges, lawyers, the media and relevant non-governmental organizations to strengthen the implementation of rules for protection against torture and other cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment, torture is still practised in many countries.

3. According to information supplied to the United Nations, torture, which is one of the most serious violations of the physical integrity of the human person, leads to physical and mental consequences which can last for several, or even several dozen, years, or be irreversible, not only for the victims themselves, but also for their relatives.

4. In order to assist the victims of torture and their families, the General Assembly, by resolution 36/151 of 16 December 1981, created the United Nations Voluntary Fund for Victims of Torture. It thereby redefined the mandate of the United Nations Trust Fund for Chile, which had been established by General Assembly resolution 33/174 of 20 December 1978, to encompass all victims of torture anywhere in the world.

II. PRESENTATION OF THE FUND

A. Mandate

5. Pursuant to General Assembly resolution 36/151, voluntary contributions to the Fund are distributed through established channels of assistance, as humanitarian, legal and financial aid to individuals whose human rights have been severely violated as a result of torture and to relatives of such victims.

6. The Fund provides grants to humanitarian organizations which submit projects involving medical, psychological, psychiatric, social, economic or legal assistance to the victims of torture and their relatives. It also funds projects under which health-care professionals receive training, through seminars or specialized conferences, in the treatment of victims of torture.

B. Administration

7. The Fund is administered, in accordance with the Financial Regulations of the United Nations, by the Secretary-General, assisted by a Board of Trustees composed of five members who possess wide experience in the field of human rights, serve in a personal capacity and are appointed by the Secretary-General for a renewable three-year term of office on the basis of equitable geographical distribution and in consultation with their Governments.

8. The Board of Trustees is composed of Mr. Jaap Walkate (Netherlands), Chairman, Mrs. Elisabeth Odio Benito (Costa Rica), Mr. Ivan Tosevski (the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia), Mr. Ribot Hatano (Japan) and Mr. Amos Wako (Kenya). It holds an annual two-week session, in the spring, at the United Nations Office at Geneva to consider the large number of projects received. It makes recommendations for funding to the Secretary-General on projects which it considers relevant and in keeping with the Fund's mandate.

9. Once the grants are approved by the Secretary-General, the beneficiary organizations are notified, during the summer, of the grants awarded and of any conditions attached to them. These organizations are required to submit narrative and financial reports by the end of the year on the use of the funds granted. The reports are analysed by the Fund secretariat, then submitted for consideration to the Board of Trustees (for more information, see the preceding report of the Secretary-General to the General Assembly (A/50/512), part IV).

10. Throughout the year, the Fund secretariat receives and analyses information, asks for more information if necessary and prepares summaries and comments for the Board on the beneficiary organizations' administrative and financial management of the projects. Upon request, it assists organizations with project development, collects information on project follow-up and ensures that the grant for each project is used in accordance with the recommendations of the Board of Trustees. The Fund secretariat also follows up, with the competent departments, financial matters related to the management of the Fund.

III. THE FUND'S FINANCIAL SOURCES

11. The Fund receives contributions from Governments, non-governmental organizations and private individuals. In order to meet requests for financing during the current year, contributions must be paid into the Fund before May, when the annual session of the Board of Trustees is held. Any contribution made after the session is carried over to the following year.

A. Government contributions

1. Government pledges

12. Government pledges to the Fund are made either directly to the secretariat or at the United Nations Pledging Conference for Development Activities, held in New York, or at the annual session of the Commission on Human Rights, held in Geneva.

13. The following pledges were outstanding as at 15 September 1996:

	United States dollars	Year
Brazil	10 000	1995
	10 000	1996

Chile	4 000	1996
Norway	77 000	1996
Philippines	10 000	1996
Tunisia	1 600	1996

2. Trends in contributions

14. The number of States contributing to the Fund rose from 5 in 1982 to 30 in 1994. Contributions decreased in 1995, as five regular donor countries discontinued their support for the Fund. In 1996, 26 States provided financial support to the Fund, including, for the first time, Saudi Arabia and South Africa.

Table 1. Trend in the number of States contributing to the Fund

Year	Donor States	Amount of contribution (United States dollars)
1982	5	410 100
1983	8	361 846
1984	18	497 900
1985	13	515 859
1986	21	814 091
1987	19	783 602

15. Subsequent to the Secretary-General's previous report to the General Assembly at its fiftieth session (A/50/512, annex I), the following Governments made voluntary contributions to the Fund between 15 September 1995 and 16 September 1996.

Table 2. Government contributions from 15 September 1995 to 16 September 1996

16. The following should be noted with respect to table 2:

(a) For the third consecutive year, the United States of America has made a contribution of $1.5 million to the Fund. This represents 15 times more than its contribution for previous years;

(b) Saudi Arabia and South Africa contributed to the Fund for the first time;

(c) Andorra and Israel contributed to the Fund for the second time;

(d) Austria, Canada, the Czech Republic, France, Germany, Greece, Japan, New Zealand, Spain, Sweden, Tunisia and the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland contribute to the Fund regularly. Denmark, Ireland and Luxembourg, which are also regular donors, increased their contributions, while the Netherlands donated more than twice the amount of its 1994 contribution;

(e) Thus, as at 16 September 1996, there has been a slight increase in contributions as compared to 1995, even though the number of donor States has stabilized. It must be recalled, however, that some contributions were received after 31 May 1996, the last day of the fifteenth session of the Board of Trustees of the Fund, and therefore had to be carried over for use after the Board's next session, in 1997, whereas they normally should have been allocated to the grants paid out in 1996.

B. Contributions from non-governmental organizations and private individuals

17. Some organizations have contributed to the Fund since its inception. The Friends World Committee for Consultation (Quakers) has provided grants to the Fund for several years. In 1996, this grant amounted to $156.

18. In addition, in May 1996, the Sharp Corporation of Geneva donated the use of high-speed photocopiers, which in a few hours produced 13,000 photocopies needed to prepare sets of documents for the members of the Board of Trustees at its fifteenth session.

19. It should also be noted that a regular contributor to the Fund, Mr. Girardot (France), donated an amount of $198 this year.

IV. ASSISTED PROJECTS

20. For a detailed description of the guidelines for the processing of funding proposals and assisted projects (selection criteria, submission of grant applications, role of the Fund secretariat and the Board of Trustees, types of applications received), see the previous reports (A/50/512, part IV, and A/48/520, annex I (consolidated report on 10 years (1982-1992) of the United Nations Voluntary Fund for Victims of Torture)).

21. Every year, since its first session, the Board of Trustees has adopted and, where necessary, revised its guidelines on the processing of the funding proposals received and the assisted projects, transmitted its recommendations to the Secretary-General for approval and reported thereon to the General Assembly and the Commission on Human Rights (these guidelines appear in document

A/48/520, annex I, part III and appendices II, IV and V, and annex V), pursuant to the practice established by the United Nations in this field for boards of trustees of human rights assistance funds (ibid., annex III).

A. Fifteenth session of the Board of Trustees of the Fund

22. The Board of Trustees held its fifteenth session in Geneva from 20 to 31 May 1996. The session included one more working day than in previous years to enable the Board to deal with the overload of work and to provide more information to States on the meeting. A press release concerning this session was issued in Geneva on 18 July 1996. 4/

1. Funds available

23. In accordance with the rules governing the Voluntary Fund, 15 per cent of estimated annual expenditures must be earmarked as a reserve for the following year, and 13 per cent is the rate set for programme support costs.

24. After these amounts were deducted, the total amount available in May 1996 for grants to projects to assist victims of torture came to $2,535,500 (of which $100,000 was earmarked for the emergency fund for crisis situations outside the annual session of the Board of Trustees). The Board made project funding recommendations in the full amount of the funds available.

2. Amount of requests for funding

25. The number of requests for funding to assist victims of torture received by the Fund secretariat came to more than $5 million in 1996 for 96 projects or subprojects in 54 countries.

3. Recommendations of the Board of Trustees

26. On 21 June 1996, the High Commissioner for Human Rights, on behalf of the Secretary-General, approved the Board's recommendations on grants to 96 projects submitted by 92 humanitarian organizations (see table 3). During the session, the Board of Trustees heard, in closed meetings, nine representatives of organizations carrying out 25 different projects. Despite the financial crisis experienced before and during the session of the Board of Trustees, owing to the late payment of pledged amounts and the small number of contributors (26 out of 185 Member States), the Board made an effort to honour every request for funding which met the selection criteria it had established, in a proportion of 30 to 48 per cent of the budget requested, according to the importance of the treatment offered and the number of victims assisted. Priority was given to the organizations which had most fully met the Board's requirements in terms of the submission of narrative and financial reports on the use of previous grants.

Table 3. Geographical distribution of grants recommended in 1996

Region	Number of countries	Number of projects	Number of organizations	Grants (in United States dollars)
Africa	15	16	16	396 000
North America	2	11	10	277 000
Latin America and the Caribbean	10	18	16	525 000
Asia and the Middle East	10	17	17	564 500
Western Europe	10	26	26	564 500
Central and Eastern Europe	7	8	7	108 500
Total	54	96	92	2 435 500

27. From the establishment of the Fund until 16 September 1996, 255 project files were started by the Fund secretariat. One organization may submit several projects, which may give rise to a number of subprojects. Some projects received may fall outside the purview of the Fund, fail to meet all the criteria, be abandoned by their sponsors, become impracticable because of armed conflict, or be rejected because the Fund secretariat and the Board of Trustees believe that the organization fails to provide guarantees of proper project implementation. In addition, each year, about a dozen projects are held in abeyance pending the receipt of further information.

28. To monitor the implementation of assisted projects more effectively, inter alia, to obtain more information on a given project and verify the use of the grants, the Fund secretariat collaborates with other competent services of the Centre for Human Rights, the United Nations Secretariat and United Nations agencies, programmes and funds in the field, particularly the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) and the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR). UNDP has been directly involved in the implementation of some projects, with the agreement of the managers, and a policy of coordination with UNHCR in the provision of assistance to refugee torture victims has existed since the Fund's establishment.

29. At the end of its fifteenth session, the Board of Trustees held a press conference and, for the first time, an information briefing with States interested in the outcome of its work.

30. Given the large number of applications to review during the session and the lack of time for full treatment of substantive issues (revision of guidelines, fund-raising, etc.), the Board of Trustees recommended, as it had done at its preceding session (A/50/512, para. 39), that the General Assembly should approve the extension of its annual session to a maximum of 10 days.

V. FUND-RAISING

A. Resolutions of the General Assembly and the Commission on Human Rights

31. In its resolution 36/151 of 16 December 1981, by which it established the Fund, the General Assembly authorized the Board of Trustees to promote and solicit contributions and pledges. It also requested the Secretary-General to give the Board of Trustees all the assistance it might require and appealed to all Governments to respond favourably to requests for contributions to the Fund.

32. In keeping with the programme of work it outlined in decision 48/431 of 20 December 1993, the General Assembly adopts resolutions concerning the Fund only in even years. Resolution 49/176 of 23 December 1994 is the latest one it has adopted on the matter. The Assembly, in this resolution, and the Commission on Human Rights, in resolution 1996/33 of 19 April 1996, appealed to all Governments, organizations and individuals in a position to do so to respond favourably to requests for contributions to the Fund, if possible on a regular basis and annually before the meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Fund. The General Assembly should adopt a resolution concerning the Fund this year.

33. During the fifty-second session of the Commission on Human Rights, the High Commissioner for Human Rights alerted Member States to the precarious financial situation of the Fund and invited them to make contributions before the fifteenth session of the Board of Trustees. 5/ As of 10 April 1996, only one month before the Board's annual session, the Fund had only $330,000. A meeting with contributing States, sponsored by the High Commissioner, was also organized for this purpose. A message from the Chairman of the Board of Trustees was distributed at this meeting, requesting, inter alia, that States which had made pledges should pay their contributions before 15 May so that the Board could take them into account during the current year.

34. The Secretary-General's latest report on the Fund to the Commission on Human Rights 6/ contains an assessment of needs in terms of assistance to victims of torture worldwide, prepared by the International Rehabilitation Council for Torture Victims (IRCT, Copenhagen). This assessment, which covers only rehabilitation centres, estimates such needs at $26,500,000 in 1996 and $36,500,000 in 1997. 7/

B. Letters to States

35. The Board of Trustees greatly appreciated the initiative of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights in sending, on 20 October 1995, a letter to the Ministers for Foreign Affairs of States that had never contributed to the Fund, inviting them to do so for the first time, and another letter to States that were regular contributors, encouraging them to increase their support (cf. supra, para. 14).

36. At the beginning of the year, the High Commissioner for Human Rights also sent a letter to the Governments which had made pledges, expressing the hope that they would make good on them before the session of the Board of Trustees. Liechtenstein, Luxembourg and Monaco responded positively to this invitation.

C. Action by non-governmental organizations

37. Some organizations are bringing information on the activities of the Fund to the attention of their Governments. The United States organization Center for Victims of Torture, based in Minneapolis, Minnesota, has lobbied the United States Government and members of Congress extensively. For instance, it addressed a letter to the United States Congress asking, inter alia, that the Government's contribution to the Fund should be maintained at $1.5 million for 1996.
