"The Commission on Human Rights,

1. Vigorously condemns the occupation of the residence of the Ambassador of Japan in Lima, Peru, and the hostage-taking there by terrorist elements, as well as hostage-taking all over the world;

2. Recalls that it has repeatedly and firmly condemned hostage-taking as acts aimed at the destruction of human rights;

3. Expresses its solidarity with the Governments of Peru and Japan, as well as with the Governments of all countries concerned, and with the hostages and their families;

4. Strongly supports the efforts of the Governments of Peru and Japan to resolve the situation in a peaceful manner and encourages the continuation of the conversations between the interlocutor of the Government of Peru and the Tupac Amaru Revolutionary Movement, in order to arrive at prompt results;

5. Strongly demands that the hostages taken in the residence of the Ambassador of Japan in Lima and all other hostages held in any other country be released immediately."

18. At the 66th meeting, on 16 April 1997, the Chairman, on behalf of the Commission, made the following statement concerning the situation of human rights in Colombia:

"The Commission on Human Rights warmly welcomes the opening of the permanent office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights in Santa Fe de Bogotá. It welcomes the commitment of the High Commissioner and of the Government of Colombia to the establishment of this office, as can be seen in the intensive negotiations leading to the successful conclusion and signing, on 29 November 1996, of the agreement between the aforementioned parties on the establishment of the said office. The Commission would have expected the office to open more promptly, and expresses the hope that it will initiate its operational activities immediately. In accordance with the statement by the Chairman of this Commission on 23 April 1996, the office is to assist the Colombian authorities in developing policies and programmes for the promotion and protection of human rights and to observe violations of human rights in the country, making reports thereon to the High Commissioner.

The Commission also acknowledges the efforts carried out by the Government of Colombia in the field of human rights and its willingness to cooperate with the Commission's special rapporteurs and working groups.

Notwithstanding the above, the Commission on Human Rights remains deeply concerned that the situation of endemic violence and the situation of internal armed conflict affecting many parts of the country have had serious consequences for human rights.

The Commission on Human Rights is also deeply concerned at the persistence of thousands of violations of the right to life, and the increasing involvement therein of so-called "paramilitary groups". This conflict entails serious and continuous abuses and violations of human rights and humanitarian law by both State agents and guerrilla groups.

The Commission urges the Government of Colombia to continue to strengthen its support, through all institutions of the State, for all those who promote the defence of human rights.

The Commission urges the guerrilla groups in Colombia to respect the norms of international humanitarian law and, especially, to abandon the use of kidnapping, hostage-taking, anti-personnel landmines, indiscriminate killings and all attacks on the civilian population. The Commission calls for the liberation, on humanitarian grounds, of the 70 Colombian soldiers held by a guerrilla group since August 1996.

The Commission on Human Rights acknowledges that the Government of Colombia has taken steps for the application of humanitarian standards in the conflict, and welcomes its continued cooperation with the International Committee of the Red Cross and the facilitation of its humanitarian activities in the country.

The Commission on Human Rights remains deeply preoccupied at the numerous cases of disappearance, as reflected in the report of the Working Group on Enforced or Involuntary Disappearances (E/CN.4/1997/34). The application at the national level of the Declaration on the Protection of all Persons from Enforced Disappearance faces several obstacles, generating impunity.

The Commission on Human Rights calls for the urgent adoption of more effective legislative, administrative, judicial or other measures to prevent and terminate acts of enforced disappearance, in accordance with article 3 of the Declaration.

The Commission on Human Rights remains concerned at the alarming level of impunity, in particular concerning abuses by State agents that continue to fall under the jurisdiction of military courts; it encourages the Government of Colombia to continue and conclude the process of reform of the military penal code, in accordance with the recommendations made by the thematic rapporteur, inter alia as far as the exclusion from the jurisdiction of military courts of human rights violations, and in particular of crimes against humanity, is concerned. It welcomes the important advances made in a number of cases of gross violations of human rights by the Human Rights Unit of the Office of the General Prosecutor which is investigating and indicting State agents, guerrillas and members of 'paramilitary groups' responsible for violations of human rights or humanitarian law.

The Commission on Human Rights is deeply concerned also at the persistence of the practice of torture. The information before the Committee against Torture indicates that the law in Colombia is not yet in accordance with several obligations under the Convention against Torture. It calls on the Government of Colombia to combat the occurrence of torture and ill-treatment, as well as the impunity which permits them to continue, as stated by the Special Rapporteur on torture in his report (E/CN.4/1997/7).

The Commission on Human Rights urges the Government of Colombia to continue strengthening ordinary justice versus special systems of justice, the misuse of which can lead to serious violations of human rights and denial of a fair trial.

While encouraging the work of the Special Commission set up by the Government of Colombia for the analysis, follow-up and implementation of the recommendations of international human rights bodies, the Commission on Human Rights considers that the implementation of these recommendations, in particular those of the thematic rapporteurs and working groups, is still not sufficient.

The Commission expects that the activities of the new human rights office in Bogotá will contribute to improving the human rights situation in Colombia and to promoting a climate of trust between the Government and all sectors involved in the conflict, encouraging a process of constructive dialogue involving non-governmental organizations and other sectors of civil society, and to preventing violations of human rights and international humanitarian law.

The Commission on Human Rights requests the High Commissioner to present a comprehensive analytical report to the Commission at its fifty-fourth session on the setting up of the office and its activities, and on developments in the human rights situation in Colombia."
