Report of the Committee on Disarmament

The General Assembly,

Recalling the Final Document of the Tenth Special Session of the General Assembly devoted to disarmament, which, in paragraph 75, states that the complete and effective prohibition of the development, production and stockpiling of all chemical weapons and their destruction represent one of the most urgent measures of disarmament,

Convinced of the need for the earliest conclusion of a convention on the prohibition of the development, production and stockpiling of all chemical weapons and on their destruction, which would contribute to general and complete disarmament under effective international control,

Taking into consideration the work done in this area in the Committee on Disarmament as well as in the bilateral negotiations between the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics and the United States of America, which regrettably had been suspended and did not take place in 1981,

Deeming it desirable for States to refrain from taking any action that could delay or further complicate such negotiations,

Expressing profound concern over the production of new types of chemical weapons and other actions, which would intensify the chemical arms race and compromise international efforts to prohibit chemical weapons,

1. Reaffirms the necessity of the earliest elaboration and conclusion of a convention on the prohibition of the development, production and stockpiling of all chemical weapons and on their destruction;

2. Appeals to all States to facilitate in every possible way the conclusion of such a convention;

3. Calls upon the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics and the United States of America to resume at the earliest possible date bilateral negotiations on the prohibition of the development, production and stockpiling of all chemical weapons and on their destruction and to submit their joint initiative to the Committee on Disarmament;

4. Also calls upon all States to refrain from any action which could impede negotiations on the prohibition of chemical weapons, and specifically to refrain from production and deployment of new types of chemical weapons, including binary weapons, and from seeking to station chemical weapons on the territories of States where there are no such weapons at present.
