Agenda item 150

Report of the International Law Commission on the work of its fiftieth session

Report of the Sixth Committee

Rapporteur: Mr. Rytis Paulauskas (Lithuania)

I. Introduction

1. At its 3rd plenary meeting, on 15 September 1998, the General Assembly, on the recommendation of the General Committee, decided to include in the agenda of its fifty-third session the item entitled “Report of the International Law Commission on the work of its fiftieth session” and to allocate it to the Sixth Committee.
2. The Sixth Committee considered the item at its 13th to 22nd, 32nd and 34th meetings, from 26 to 29 October, and from 2 to 5 and on 17 and 19 November 1998. The views of the representatives who spoke during the Committee’s consideration of the item are reflected in the relevant summary records (A/C.6/53/SR.13–22, 32 and 34).
3. For its consideration of the item, the Committee had before it the report of the International Law Commission on the work of its fiftieth session.¹
4. The Chairman of the International Law Commission at its fiftieth session introduced the report of the Commission: chapters I to V at the 13th meeting, on 26 October; chapters VI, VIII and IX at the 17th meeting, on 29 October; and chapters VII and X at the 19th meeting, on 3 November (see A/C.6/53/SR.13, 17 and 19). At the 22nd meeting, on 5 November, the Chairman of the Commission made a statement in the light of the debate (see A/C.6/53/SR.22).

II. Consideration of draft resolution A/C.6/53/L.16

5. At the 32nd meeting, on 17 November, the representative of Lesotho introduced a draft resolution entitled “Report of the International Law Commission on the work of its fiftieth session” (A/C.6/53/L.16), which had been proposed by the Bureau.

6. At the 34th meeting, on 19 November, the representative of Lesotho orally revised the draft resolution by inserting a new operative paragraph 9 which read:

“9. Takes note of paragraphs 562 and 563 of the report of the International Law Commission regarding the holding of split sessions as of 2000, requests the Commission to examine the advantages and disadvantages of such split sessions, and decides to return to this matter at its fifty-fourth session”.

7. Before the adoption of draft resolution A/C.6/53/L.16, statements in explanation of position were made by the representatives of Mexico, Côte d’Ivoire and France (see A/C.6/53/SR.34).

8. At its 34th meeting, the Committee adopted draft resolution A/C.6/53/L.16, as orally revised, without a vote (see para. 10).

9. After the adoption of the draft resolution, statements in explanation of position were made by the representatives of New Zealand, Portugal, the United States of America, Ireland, Sweden (on behalf of the Nordic States), Austria, Argentina, Venezuela, Greece, Costa Rica and the Netherlands (see A/C.6/53/SR.34).

III. Recommendation of the Sixth Committee

10. The Sixth Committee recommends to the General Assembly the adoption of the following draft resolution:

Report of the International Law Commission on the work of its fiftieth session

The General Assembly,

Having considered the report of the International Law Commission on the work of its fiftieth session,²

Emphasizing the importance of furthering the progressive development of international law and its codification as a means of implementing the purposes and principles set forth in the Charter of the United Nations and in the Declaration on Principles of International Law concerning Friendly Relations and Cooperation among States in accordance with the Charter of the United Nations,³

Emphasizing also the role of the International Law Commission in the fulfilment of the objectives of the United Nations Decade of International Law,

Recognizing the desirability of referring legal and drafting questions to the Sixth Committee, including topics that might be submitted to the International Law Commission for closer examination, and of enabling the Sixth Committee and the Commission further to enhance their contribution to the progressive development of international law and its codification,

Recalling the need to keep under review those topics of international law which, given their new or renewed interest for the international community, may be suitable for the progressive development and codification of international law and therefore may be included in the future programme of work of the International Law Commission,

Stressing the usefulness of structuring the debate on the report of the International Law Commission in the Sixth Committee in such a manner that conditions are provided for concentrated attention to each of the main topics dealt with in the report,

Wishing to enhance further the interaction between the Sixth Committee as a body of governmental representatives and the International Law Commission as a body of independent legal experts, with a view to improving the dialogue between the two organs,

Noting the holding of a split session of the International Law Commission in 1998,

1. Takes note of the report of the International Law Commission on the work of its fiftieth session,² and expresses its appreciation to the Commission for the work accomplished at that session, in particular the completion of the first reading of the draft articles on the prevention part of the topic “International liability for injurious consequences arising out of acts not prohibited by international law”;

2. Draws the attention of Governments to the importance for the International Law Commission of having their views on all the specific issues identified in chapter III of its report, and invites them to submit comments and observations in writing by 1 January 2000 on the draft articles on international liability for injurious consequences arising out of acts not prohibited by international law (prevention of transboundary damage from hazardous activities);

3. Recommends that, taking into account the comments and observations of Governments, whether in writing or expressed orally in debates in the General Assembly, the International Law Commission should continue its work on the topics in its current programme;

4. Welcomes the valuable work done by the Commission on the topic “International liability for injurious consequences arising out of acts not prohibited by international law”, and requests the Commission, while continuing its work on prevention, to examine other issues arising out of the topic, taking into account comments made by Governments, either in writing or in the Sixth Committee, and to submit its recommendations on the future work to be done on these issues to the Sixth Committee;

5. Invites Governments to submit the most relevant national legislation, decisions of domestic courts and State practice relevant to diplomatic protection in order to assist the International Law Commission in its future work on the topic “Diplomatic protection”;

6. Takes note of the consideration by the International Law Commission of its long-term programme of work and encourages the Commission to proceed with the selection of new topics for its next quinquennium;

7. Welcomes with appreciation the steps taken by the International Law Commission in relation to its internal matters, as contained in paragraphs 543 and 544 of its report,² and encourages it to continue enhancing its efficiency and productivity, taking into consideration the discussion held by the General Assembly at its fifty-third session;

8. Endorses the decision by the International Law Commission on the duration of its session in 1999, as presented in paragraph 562 of its report;²

9. Takes note of paragraphs 562 and 563 of the report of the International Law Commission² regarding the holding of split sessions as of 2000, requests the Commission to examine the advantages and disadvantages of such split sessions, and decides to return to this matter at its fifty-fourth session;

10. Stresses the desirability of enhancing dialogue between the International Law Commission and the Sixth Committee and, in this context, requests the Commission to submit any recommendations to that effect;

11. Requests the International Law Commission to continue to pay special attention to indicating in its annual report, for each topic, those specific issues, if any, on which expressions of views by Governments, either in the Sixth Committee or in written form, would be of particular interest in providing effective guidance for the Commission in its further work;

12. Also requests the International Law Commission to continue the implementation of article 16, paragraph (e), and article 26, paragraphs 1 and 2, of its statute in order to further strengthen cooperation between the Commission and other bodies concerned with international law, having in mind the usefulness of such cooperation, and invites the Commission to provide the Sixth Committee at the fifty-fourth session with updated information in this regard;

13. Notes that consulting with national organizations and individual experts concerned with international law may assist Governments in considering whether to make comments and observations on drafts submitted by the Commission and in formulating their comments and observations;

14. Reaffirms its previous decisions concerning the role of the Codification Division of the Office of Legal Affairs of the Secretariat and those concerning the summary records and other documentation of the International Law Commission;

15. Takes note of the inclusion of information about the work of the International Law Commission in its Web site;⁴

16. Once again expresses the wish that seminars will continue to be held in conjunction with the sessions of the International Law Commission and that an increasing number of participants from developing countries will be given the opportunity to attend those seminars, appeals to States that can do so to make the voluntary contributions that are urgently needed for the holding of the seminars, and requests the Secretary-General to provide the seminars with adequate services, including interpretation, as required;

17. Requests the Secretary-General to forward to the International Law Commission, for its attention, the records of the debate on the report of the Commission at the fifty-third session of the General Assembly, together with such written statements as delegations may circulate in conjunction with their oral statements, and to prepare and distribute a topical summary of the debate, following established practice;

18. Takes note with satisfaction of the fiftieth anniversary of the International Law Commission, which was fittingly commemorated by a seminar held at Geneva on 21 and 22 April 1998 and by other events;

19. Recommends that the debate on the report of the International Law Commission at the fifty-fourth session of the General Assembly commence on 25 October 1999.
