of Discrimination against Women<sup>3</sup> and the Convention against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment,<sup>4</sup>

Noting the Inter-American Convention on the Prevention, Punishment and Eradication of Violence Against Women, adopted by the General Assembly of the Organization of American States, held in Belém, Brazil, in 1994, and general recommendation 19 adopted by the Committee on the Elimination of Discrimination Against Women at its eleventh session,<sup>5</sup>

Concerned that violence against women is an obstacle to the achievement of equality, development and peace, as recognized in the Nairobi Forward-looking Strategies for the Advancement of Women,<sup>6</sup> and the Beijing Platform for Action<sup>7</sup> which recommended a set of integral measures to prevent and eliminate violence against women, and to the full implementation of the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women,

Also concerned that some groups of women, such as women belonging to minority groups, indigenous women, refugee women, migrant women, women living in rural or remote communities, destitute women, women in institutions or in detention, the girl child, women with disabilities, elderly women and women in situations of armed conflict, are especially vulnerable to violence,

Recognizing that violence against women is a manifestation of historically unequal power relations between men and women, which have led to domination over and discrimination against women by men and to the prevention of their full advancement, and that violence against women is one of the crucial social mechanisms by which women are forced into subordinate positions, compared with men,

Recognizing that the human rights of women and of the girl child are an inalienable, integral and indivisible part of universal human rights,<sup>8</sup> and the need to promote and protect all human rights of women and girls,<sup>9</sup>

Alarmed that women do not fully enjoy their human rights and fundamental freedoms, and concerned about the long-standing failure to protect and promote those rights and freedoms in relation to violence against women,<sup>10</sup>

Recognizing with satisfaction the cooperation provided by the relevant agencies, bodies, funds and organs of the United Nations system to different countries in the fight to eradicate violence against women, in the fulfilment of their respective mandates,

Recognizing also the efforts made by civil society and non-governmental organizations that have contributed to create worldwide social conscience of the negative impact, both on social and economic life, of violence against women,
