Situation of human rights in Haiti

The General Assembly,

Guided by the principles embodied in the Charter of the United Nations, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights,¹ the International Covenants on Human Rights² and other international human rights instruments, including the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women,³

Recalling its resolution 53/159 of 9 December 1998, and taking note of Commission on Human Rights resolution 1999/77 of 28 April 1999,⁴

Recognizing the interdependence and mutual reinforcement between democracy, development and respect of human rights and fundamental freedoms and the commitment of the international community to supporting, strengthening and promoting this principle,

Taking note with appreciation of the report of the independent expert of the Commission on Human Rights on the situation of human rights in Haiti, Adama Dieng,⁵ and encouraging active follow up to the recommendations contained therein,

Recognizing the important contributions of the International Civilian Mission in Haiti, the United Nations Civilian Police Mission in Haiti and the National Commission for Truth and Justice to the task of restoring and strengthening democracy in Haiti and of establishing a climate of freedom and tolerance conducive to respect for human rights in that country,

Commending the Organization of American States for its contribution to the International Civilian Mission in Haiti and invites the Organization to pursue, as appropriate, its cooperation with the United Nations in Haiti,

Welcoming the establishment of the new Provisional Electoral Council, and the decision taken to organize general elections on 19 March 2000 and in April 2000, as a step towards re-establishing a functional legislature,

Welcoming also the continued improvements in the human rights situation in Haiti since the restoration of its democratic regime and noting the declared commitment of the Government of Haiti to uphold human rights,

Expressing its concern at the security problems faced by Haitian society, some of which are due to the difficult social and economic conditions and which both account for and result from the limitations of the judicial and police systems, as indicated in the reports of the independent expert,

Welcoming Economic and Social Council resolution 1999/11 of 27 July 1999, in which the Council, inter alia, emphasized the need to establish the necessary mechanisms to develop, on a priority basis, a long-term strategy and programme of support for Haiti,

1. Expresses its gratitude to the Secretary-General, his Special Representative for Haiti and the independent expert of the Commission on Human Rights on the situation of human rights in Haiti for their continuing efforts in favour of the consolidation of democratic institutions in Haiti and respect for human rights in that country;

2. Commends the United Nations Civilian Police Mission in Haiti for its successful training and mentoring assistance to the Haitian National Police, as well as the efforts of the International Civilian Mission in Haiti in monitoring human rights and promoting democratic reform and assisting the Haitian authorities in the field of institution-building;

3. Draws attention to the need for the Haitian National Police to continue receiving technical assistance to enable it to perform its functions efficiently, within a framework of respect for human rights;

4. Commends the United Nations Development Programme for its technical assistance to the Haitian National Police, the penitentiary system and in the organization of the forthcoming electoral process, and also commends the international community for the provision of other assistance, including that for judicial reform, and invites them to continue to provide appropriate assistance;

5. Invites the Government of Haiti to ratify the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights,² the Convention against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment,⁶ and the Optional Protocols to the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights;⁷

6. Strongly supports the efforts made to enable the people of Haiti to express their political will in the forthcoming legislative and local elections, invites all the political leaders of the country to involve themselves in a constructive dialogue and, in this connection, invites the Government of Haiti to ensure the necessary political and security environment for the holding of free and fair elections in accordance with the schedule recently announced by the Provisional Electoral Council;

7. Calls upon the Government of Haiti to continue structural reforms in the police and the judicial system and the improvement of the prison sector, to investigate properly politically motivated crimes and prosecute perpetrators of such crimes in accordance with Haitian law, to take vigorous action to eliminate any continuing human rights violations, including illegal arrests and detentions, and to ensure due process within a reasonable time;

8. Reaffirms the importance, for combating impunity and for the realization of a genuine and effective process of transition and national reconciliation, of the investigations undertaken by the National Commission for Truth and Justice, and once again calls upon the Government of Haiti to institute legal proceedings against the perpetrators of human rights violations identified by the National Commission for Truth and Justice and to create effective facilities for support to the victims, in particular women, children and members of their families, and in this context reiterates the recommendations contained in the report of the independent expert of the Commission on Human Rights on the situation of human rights in Haiti;⁵

9. Welcomes the initiative of the Government of Haiti, in collaboration with the international community and women's groups, to put in place measures to address the human rights of women and, inter alia, violence against women, including the development of training programmes for judicial and legal personnel and the incorporation of the human rights of women in all levels of the education system;

10. Encourages the Government of Haiti to further promote the rights of children, in particular their right to education;

11. Invites the Secretary-General and the Government of Haiti to contribute to the strengthening of the Office of Protection of the Citizen through the establishment of a programme of technical cooperation, in close collaboration with the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights, and invites the international community to assist in this effort;

12. Decides to continue its consideration of the situation of human rights and fundamental freedoms in Haiti at its fifty-fifth session.
