ВВЕДЕНИЕ

Генеральная Ассамблея в своей резолюции 2152 (XXI), учреждающей ЮНИДО, потребовала, чтобы Организация осуществляла оперативную деятельность, проводила практические исследования и программы научно-исследовательских работ, включающие, среди прочего, „создание и укрепление в развивающихся странах учреждений и органов управления по вопросам промышленной технологии...“ (пункт 2 [a] [iii]) и „распространение информации о технических изобретениях различных стран и оказание помощи развивающимся странам в осуществлении практических мероприятий в отношении применения такой информации, внедрение существующей техники и развитие новой техники, особенно такой, которая отвечала бы конкретным физическим, социальным и экономическим условиям развивающихся стран путем создания и улучшения, среди прочего, технических исследовательских центров в этих странах“ (пункт 2 [a] [iv]). В соответствии с этими и другими обязательствами ЮНИДО в течение десятилетия осуществила ряд мероприятий в области развития и передачи технологии путем оказания технической помощи, исследований, совещаний групп экспертов, семинаров, программ подготовки и информационного обслуживания.

В результате этих мероприятий, конкретной целью которых является укрепление технических возможностей развивающихся стран, ЮНИДО подготовила большое количество специализированной документации по развитию и передаче технологии. В целях содействия более широкому использованию этой информации развивающимися странами составлен специальный справочник, в котором даны аннотации документов, опубликованных в ЮНИДО по этому вопросу. В справочник включены только аннотации документов, опубликованных с 1970 года, причем в этих аннотациях использовались главные дескрипторы в программе ЭВМ.

Справочник состоит из двух частей: предметного указателя, дающего названия документов, и библиографического списка аннотаций. Предметный указатель составлен в алфавитном порядке в соответствии с дескрипторами. Формат аннотаций описан на странице xiii.

КАК ЗАКАЗАТЬ ПУБЛИКАЦИИ ИЛИ ДОКУМЕНТЫ

Номер, стоящий напротив каждой строки предметного указателя, представляет собой цифровой машинный код аннотированной статьи. Обратите внимание на то, что заявки на материалы, основанные на цифровом коде, не могут быть выполнены. Для того, чтобы подобные заявки могли быть обработаны, они должны включать кодовой номер абстракта.

Платные публикации: заявки на платные публикации ЮНИДО или Организации Объединенных Наций, имеющие соответствующий индекс в этих аннотациях (о месте расположения торгового номера см. также следующий формат аннотаций) необходимо направлять по адресу:

Примечание: Символ (R), стоящий перед некоторыми названиями в предметном указателе, означает, что документ предназначен для ограниченного пользования. Этим символом пользуются, начиная с 1974 года, для обозначения документов, которые не могут поступить в общественное пользование в момент публикации. Политика Организации Объединенных Наций заключается в том, чтобы как можно быстрее открыть доступ для широкой общественности к этим документам.

Все аннотации документов ограниченного пользования заканчиваются дескриптором - „ДЛЯ ОГРАНИЧЕННОГО ПОЛЬЗОВАНИЯ“.

INTRODUCCION

La Asamblea General, en su resolución 2152 (XXI) por la cual se estableció la ONUDI, pidió que la Organización emprendiera actividades operacionales, estudios y programas de investigación orientados hacia la práctica, entre otras cosas, para "crear y fortalecer en los países en desarrollo instituciones y sistemas administrativos en materia de tecnología..." (párr. 2 a) iii) y "difundir información sobre innovaciones tecnológicas originarias de los diversos países y ayudar a los países en desarrollo a aplicar medidas prácticas para el aprovechamiento de esa información, para adaptar a ella la tecnología existente y para desarrollar una nueva tecnología especialmente adecuada a las condiciones físicas, sociales y económicas propias de los países en desarrollo, mediante el establecimiento y el mejoramiento, entre otras cosas, de centros de investigación tecnológica en esos países" (párr. 2 a) iv)). En cumplimiento de este y otros mandatos, la ONUDI ha venido efectuando durante más de un decenio una serie de actividades en la esfera del desarrollo y transferencia de tecnología, mediante prestación de asistencia técnica, estudios, reuniones de expertos, seminarios, programas de capacitación y servicios de información.

Como resultado de estas actividades, que tienen el objetivo particular de fortalecer las capacidades tecnológicas de los países en desarrollo, se ha producido en la ONUDI una cantidad considerable de documentación especializada sobre el desarrollo y la transferencia de tecnología. A fin de facilitar la utilización más amplia de esta información por parte de los países en desarrollo, se presenta a continuación una compilación selectiva de extractos de documentos publicados por la ONUDI sobre esta cuestión. Sólo se incluyen extractos de documentos publicados a partir de 1970, utilizando los principales descriptores del programa de la computadora.

El volumen consta de dos partes: un índice de materias, por título, y extractos bibliográficos. El índice de materias está clasificado alfabéticamente por descriptores. En la página xiii se explica la estructura de los extractos.

COMO HACER EL PEDIDO DE PUBLICACIONES O DOCUMENTOS

El número asignado a cada entrada en el índice de materias es el número de acceso a la computadora que corresponde al extracto. Debe advertirse que los pedidos de material impreso no se pueden atender a base del número de acceso a la computadora. Para que puedan tramitarse dichos pedidos, es preciso que se indique la signatura que figura en el extracto propiamente dicho.

Publicaciones destinadas a la venta: Los pedidos de publicaciones de la ONUDI o de las Naciones Unidas destinadas a la venta, clasificadas en estos extractos, (para localizar el número de venta véase también la estructura del extracto en la página siguiente) se deben dirigir a:

Este símbolo se ha utilizado desde 1974 para identificar documentos que, al momento de su publicación, no se podían entregar a la publicidad. Las Naciones Unidas tienen como norma eliminar el carácter reservado de estos documentos tan pronto como sea posible.

Al final de todos los extractos de documentos de distribución reservada figura el descriptor /RESERVADA/.

INTRODUCTION

The General Assembly in its resolution 2152 (XXI) establishing UNIDO requested that it undertake operational activities, action-oriented studies and research programmes concerning, inter alia, "building and strengthening of institutions and administration in the developing countries in the matter of industrial technology . . ." (para. 2 (a) (iii)) and "dissemination of information on technological innovations originating in various countries and, for the developing countries, assistance in the implementation of practical measures for the application of such information, the adaptation of existing technology and the development of new technology especially suited to the particular physical, social and economic conditions of developing countries through the establishment and improvement, inter alia, of technological research centres in these countries" (para. 2 (a) (iv)). In pursuance of this and other mandates UNIDO for over a decade has carried out a series of activities in the field of development and transfer of technology through technical assistance, studies, expert group meetings, seminars, training programmes and information services.

As a result of these activities, which have the particular goal of strengthening the technological capabilities of developing countries, a considerable amount of specialized documentation has been generated in UNIDO on the development and transfer of technology. To facilitate the more extensive use of this information by developing countries, a selective compilation is presented here of abstracts of documents issued by UNIDO on this subject. Only abstracts from 1970 onward using major descriptors in the computer program are included.

The volume consists of two parts: a subject index, by title, and bibliographical abstracts. The subject index is arranged alphabetically by descriptors. The abstract format is explained on page xiii.

INTRODUCTION

L'Assemblée générale, dans sa résolution 2152 (XXI) établissant l'ONUDI, a demandé que l'Organisation entreprenne des activités opérationnelles, des études et des programmes de recherche orientés vers l'action et visant notamment à "créer et renforcer dans les pays en voie de développement des institutions et des services administratifs en matière de technologie..." (par. 2 a iii). La même résolution invitait aussi l'ONUDI à "diffuser des renseignements concernant les découvertes techniques faites dans divers pays et aider les pays en voie de développement à mettre en œuvre des mesures pratiques en vue d'utiliser ces renseignements, d'adapter la technique actuelle et de mettre au point des techniques nouvelles convenant particulièrement aux conditions physiques, sociales et économiques propres aux pays en voie de développement, grâce notamment à la création et à l'amélioration de centres de recherches techniques dans ces pays" (par. 2 a iv). En application de ces dispositions, l'ONUDI a, pendant plus de dix années, mené une série d'activités dans le domaine de la mise au point et du transfert de la technologie au moyen de projets d'assistance technique, d'études, de réunions de groupes d'experts, de séminaires, de programmes de formation et de services d'information.

Ces activités, qui visent en particulier à renforcer le potentiel technologique des pays en développement, ont donné lieu à la production d'une volumineuse documentation spécialisée sur la mise au point et le transfert des techniques. Pour aider les pays en développement à faire un usage accru de ces informations, nous présentons ici un choix de résumés de documents publiés par l'ONUDI sur cette question. Ont été seuls retenus les résumés établis depuis 1970 et correspondant aux rubriques principales du programme d'ordinateur.

Le présent volume est divisé en deux parties : un index des matières, présenté dans l'ordre alphabétique des rubriques générales, et les résumés des études. L'index des matières se présente dans l'ordre alphabétique des descripteurs. On trouvera à la page xiii, avec des explications, un spécimen des fiches établies pour chaque résumé.
