on 24 February 2023[without reference to a Main Committee (A/77/L.51)]77/274. Scope, modalities, format and organization of the high-level meeting on the fight against tuberculosisThe General Assembly,*

Recognizing that, through the adoption of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development<sup>1</sup> and its Sustainable Development Goals in September 2015, Heads of State and Government made a bold commitment to ending the tuberculosis epidemic by 2030,

Recognizing also that, through the adoption of the Addis Ababa Action Agenda of the Third International Conference on Financing for Development,<sup>2</sup> Heads of State and Government supported research and development of vaccines and medicines, as well as preventive measures and treatments for communicable and non-communicable diseases, in particular those that disproportionately impact developing countries,

Reaffirming its commitment to the political declaration on the fight against tuberculosis adopted at the high-level meeting of the General Assembly in 2018, in which it reiterated, inter alia, the importance of a comprehensive multisectoral and adequately funded response to accelerate efforts towards the achievement of the Sustainable Development Goal 3, in particular target 3.3 of ending the tuberculosis epidemic by 2030, in a manner that addresses the health, social and economic determinants of the epidemic and that protects and fulfils the human rights and dignity of all people,

Recalling that it was decided in the political declaration to convene a high-level meeting on tuberculosis in 2023 in New York, with the aim of undertaking a comprehensive review of the achievement of agreed tuberculosis goals at the national, regional and global levels contained in the 2018 political declaration, to identify gaps and solutions to accelerate progress towards ending the epidemic by 2030,

Taking note of the 2020 report of the Secretary-General on the progress achieved in the implementation of the political declaration, entitled “Progress towards the achievement of global tuberculosis targets and implementation of the political declaration of the high-level meeting of the General Assembly on the fight against tuberculosis”<sup>3</sup> and its recommendation to the World Health Organization to support preparations for a high-level meeting on tuberculosis in 2023 that aligns with the high-level meeting of the General Assembly on universal health coverage also to be held in 2023,

Emphasizing that global actions, financing and investments fall far short of those needed to end the global tuberculosis epidemic,

Taking note of the report of the Director General of the World Health Organization on the global strategy for tuberculosis research and innovation, which was taken note of at the seventy-fifth World Health Assembly,

Recalling the tuberculosis goals and commitments contained in the World Health Organization End TB Strategy endorsed by the sixty-seventh World Health Assembly in 2014, and in the global strategy for tuberculosis research and innovation endorsed by the seventy-third World Health Assembly in 2020,

Taking note of the Stop TB Partnership Global Plan to End TB 2023–2030, which provides a blueprint of priority actions required and a detailed estimate of financial resources needed to end tuberculosis,

Taking note of the Global Tuberculosis Report 2022 of the World Health Organization,

Recalling the Moscow Declaration to End TB adopted at the first World Health Organization Global Ministerial Conference on Ending Tuberculosis in the Sustainable Development Era: A Multisectoral Response, held in 2017,

Expressing deep concern that the global tuberculosis epidemic was responsible for 1.6 million deaths in 2021 and that, despite the gains achieved in the tuberculosis response, including lives saved, progress has been uneven among and within countries and the world is not on track to meet most of the time-bound targets set out in the 2018 political declaration on tuberculosis,

Recognizing that the coronavirus disease (COVID-19) pandemic has a disproportionately heavy impact on health and development gains, thus hampering the achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals and creating additional setbacks to achieving the targets set out in the 2018 political declaration on tuberculosis,

Recognizing that tuberculosis remains an urgent global health and development challenge, and recognizing also the need to address persistent challenges and gaps in tuberculosis research and development, including the development of safe and effective vaccines, diagnostics, medicines and essential health technologies, and their components, as well as equipment, in order to mount an effective tuberculosis response,

Underscoring that the tuberculosis response should be driven by scientific evidence and data, and acknowledging the central role of the World Health Organization in the global tuberculosis response and its key leadership role in the United Nations system for the development of evidence-based policy options;
