INTRODUCTION

Scope of this catalogue

The purpose of this special 10th year catalogue is to provide a convenient and comprehensive guide to the Official Records and publications and periodicals of the United Nations which have been issued since the beginning of the Organization. The catalogue covers the period from 1945 to 1955 (from the 1945 San Francisco Conference to December 1954) and replaces all previous catalogues.

All Official Records of the United Nations can be purchased in final printed form, by the public. The studies and reports of the Secretariat which provide information of a general or technical character are also for sale.

The catalogue also includes information concerning the following: League of Nations publications; documents of the San Francisco Conference and the Preparatory Commission of the United Nations (San Francisco and London, 1945); mimeographed documents of the United Nations; visual material; special informational services in connection with radio and television. The publications of the specialized agencies are not included (see end of Introduction and page 238).

Official Records of the United Nations

Official Records comprise verbatim or summary records of discussions at meetings of the General Assembly, Security Council, Economic and Social Council, Trusteeship Council, Atomic Energy Commission and Disarmament Commission. They are listed by session or year for each organ.

The subjects of discussion at the meetings of the various organs are not shown, with the exception of the Security Council. This information is indicated in the titles of some of the Official Records; precise details will be found in the following:

Index to Proceedings

Check List of United Nations Documents

United Nations Documents Index

The five official languages of the United Nations are English, Chinese, French, Russian, Spanish. The records of the General Assembly, Security Council, Atomic Energy Commission and Disarmament Commission are published in these five languages, while those of the Economic and Social Council are published in English, French and since 1953, Spanish, and in some cases in the other official languages; the records of the Trusteeship Council appear in English and French. It should be noted, however, that all Resolutions issued in the Official Records series are published in the five official languages. Where editions are available in the official languages this is indicated by the appropriate initial in the left-hand column of each page: E (English), F (French), E/F (English-French in one volume), S (Spanish), R (Russian), C (Chinese).

Secretariat studies and reports

For convenience in research and identification, Secretariat studies and reports have been divided into seventeen categories, each of which is indicated by a Roman numeral. Some of these divisions have been further subdivided and these subdivisions are indicated by initials immediately following the Roman numeral, e.g. II.A. Economic Stability and Employment Studies. II.B. Economic Development Studies.

Introduction

Complete identification is provided by the use of a sales number which, in addition to the Roman numeral indicated above, comprises the year of publication and a final identity number of the particular publication. Sales numbers are indicated in the left-hand column of each page, e.g. 1953.I.7 Everyman's United Nations

Within the sales category divisions the publications and periodicals have been arranged by subject matter in order to facilitate research. There is an index at the end of the catalogue.

Secretariat studies and reports are usually published in English and French, and on certain occasions in Spanish. Also, the Department of Public Information arranges for some of its publications to be issued in additional languages to meet specific demands.

Periodicals

The United Nations publishes periodicals covering almost all phases of its work. These periodicals are listed in the catalogue in the relevant category and references are given under Periodicals in the index. They may be purchased separately or by subscription. Generally speaking, subscriptions are paid yearly.

Prices

Prices are given in U.S. dollars, pounds sterling and Swiss francs. All publications can be purchased in other national currencies through the authorized sales agents. The prices quoted do not include postal charges.

How to order United Nations publications

When ordering United Nations publications the following details must be given:

- (1) For Official Records of the General Assembly, Economic and Social Council, and the Trusteeship Council: give the session, the title (indicating whether meetings or annexes) or the supplement number.
- (2) For Official Records of the Security Council, the Atomic Energy Commission and the Disarmament Commission: give the year, the number of the meeting or the title of the supplement.
- (3) For Secretariat studies and reports: give the title and the sales number; the sales number assures accuracy and assists prompt despatch of orders.

In all cases the language required must be stated. If the above procedure is followed, all orders and enquiries can be executed promptly.

Where to place an order

At the end of this catalogue is a list of firms and organizations which have been appointed authorized sales agents from which United Nations publications may be purchased. Consult your sales agent, who will be glad to assist you in the proper selection of United Nations publications and who will be able to obtain any material you require if not in his stock. If there is no local sales agent, or in the event of some special enquiry or circumstance, enquiries should be sent to the Sales and Circulation Section, United Nations, New York; or to the Sales Section, United Nations Office, Palais des Nations, Geneva, Switzerland. The United Nations offices are not staffed or equipped to conduct extensive mail order operations, and therefore faster service is assured for orders sent directly to sales agents.

Introduction

United Nations Bookshop

The United Nations Bookshop in the public lobby of the General Assembly Building in New York is maintained for the convenience of visitors to Headquarters. All the publications of the United Nations and also a large selection of the publications of the specialized agencies, and of the International Court of Justice, can be purchased there. The Bookshop is not equipped to deal with mail orders: these must be sent to the sales agents.

Information on current publications

Descriptive brochures and leaflets listing new publications are issued from time to time by the United Nations through its sales agents from whom they may be obtained. Special requests for a bulk-supply of these brochure-catalogs (for organizations wishing to include them in their own mail to their members) may also be addressed to the Sales and Circulation Section, United Nations, New York; or the Sales Section, United Nations Office, Palais des Nations, Geneva, Switzerland. Requests must state: (a) the subject (economic, legal, social, human rights, etc.); (b) professional or occupational interest; (c) name and address in full.

The monthly United Nations Documents Index also contains current information on publications and documents for sale (see page 13).

Standing orders

The United Nations has, through some of its major sales agents, established a plan for filling "standing orders" for all or various series of Official Records and Secretariat studies, but not periodicals. Under this arrangement, publications are mailed by the agent immediately they are available, and later invoices are rendered at intervals for the publications dispatched. Note that subscriptions to periodicals must be entered separately.

Format and binding

The format of United Nations publications is now generally 8½" x 11" or 6" x 9". A few are, however, issued in different sizes, particularly the yearbooks and the booklets prepared by the Department of Public Information.

The majority of the publications are issued in paper-bound editions. Where cloth-bound editions are available, this is indicated.

United Nations mimeographed documents

Printed publications of the United Nations which are for sale should not be confused with documents that are issued in mimeographed form or by other reproduction processes. Such documents include preliminary working versions of Secretariat studies and reports, advances records of meetings, etc. In this preliminary form they are produced primarily for the use of Member States and of the Secretariat. When in final form they are printed and are then available to the public.

Introduction

Whether mimeographed or in any other form, documents that are available, as well as all printed publications, may be consulted in Depository Libraries for United Nations Documents and Publications in many countries throughout the world. (See list beginning on page 240.)

Lists of current documents, whether mimeographed or in any other form, and of all printed publications, will be found, if available, in the United Nations Documents Index described on page 13.

For the convenience of research centres or groups, scholars, and librarians, the United Nations has made the following arrangements to meet special needs:

1. Subscriptions will be received for the mimeographed documents of the various United Nations organs (see pages 234-235). Many of these documents in final form, appear in the printed Official Records.
2. Special requests for the purchase of a supply of a specific document, or a certain number of documents, should be addressed directly to the Publishing Services Division, United Nations, New York.

Document symbols

When ordering United Nations publications the sales number only is required (shown in left-hand margin) or — in the case of Official Records — the organ, session or year, and the item. However, for the convenience of librarians and research workers, the official document numbers of publications are also shown in this catalogue. The document symbol appears in parentheses following the title e.g. (A/2663).

League of Nations publications

League of Nations publications can be obtained from the United Nations. For information concerning these publications please refer to pages 230-232.

Specialized agencies of the United Nations

The specialized agencies of the United Nations have separate publications programmes and their books and periodicals are not included in this catalogue. Enquiries should be addressed directly to the agency concerned; a list of all agencies will be found on pages 238-239 of this catalogue. As part of its information programme, however, the United Nations issues some publications on the general scope and activities of the specialized agencies and these will be found in Category I of this catalogue.

International Court of Justice

For information concerning publications issued by the International Court of Justice see the section on the Court on page 235.

E (ST/LEG/SER.B/4)

Treaties and International Agreements Registered or Filed and Recorded with the Secretariat of the United Nations.

The United Nations Treaty Series is published in accordance with Article 102 of the Charter of the United Nations which provides that: "Every treaty and every international agreement entered into by any Member of the United Nations after the present Charter comes into force shall as soon as possible be registered with the Secretariat and published by it."

The texts of the treaties and international agreements are published in the Treaty Series in their original languages. In addition, English and French translations are provided when the official texts of the treaties or agreements do not appear in these languages.

This Series is, in effect, a continuation of the Treaty Series published for more than twenty-five years by the League of Nations. Copies of the League Series are available.

TREATY SERIES

The first part of each volume, indicated by the numeral I in the list below, contains treaties and international agreements registered with the Secretariat. The second part of each volume, indicated by the numeral II in the list below, contains treaties and international agreements filed and recorded with the Secretariat.

Report on the Work of the Permanent Central Opium Board

These reports are issued in compliance with the terms of the Conventions of 19 February 1925 and of 13 July 1931 (1947.XI.4 and 1947.XI.6). With the signing of the Protocol of 11 December 1946, the reports are made by the Board to the Economic and Social Council, the issuing body of this series. With the exception of the first two reports, which were issued before the Protocol came into effect, the reports appear annually in two parts. The first part covers the work of the Board for the given year and includes comments on various aspects and problems of control. A set of synoptic tables derived from statistics gathered from government reports of the previous year is also included in this part of the report. The second part, appearing as an Addendum to the report, contains two tables: "balance sheet" of production and utilization of substances covered by the Convention of 19 February 1925 and a "balance sheet" of substances falling under the Conventions of 19 February 1925 and/or 13 July 1931.

Summary of Annual Reports of Governments

Governments that are contracting parties to the Convention of 13 July 1931 as amended by the Protocol of 11 December 1946, submit annual reports relating to opium and other narcotic drugs. These reports are summarized by the Secretariat of the Department of Economic and Social Affairs for the Commission on Narcotic Drugs of the Economic and Social Council, the issuing body of this series. Each summary contains the following information regarding the control activities of the reporting governments: Laws and publications, administration, drug addiction, control of international trade, international co-operation, illicit traffic, raw materials, manufactured drugs, prepared opium. An annex lists countries and territories which had or had not submitted annual reports for the year under review.

Annual Summary of Laws and Regulations Relating to the Control of Narcotic Drugs

This series is a summary of national laws and regulations relating to the control of narcotic drugs which are primarily designed to give effect to the Convention of 13 July 1931. The information presented is derived from various communications to the Secretariat from governments that are contracting parties to the Convention. The laws and regulations referred to in these annual summaries are not necessarily legislation promulgated during the year of the summary, but represent information communicated to the Secretariat during the calendar year.

Summary of Illicit Transactions and Seizures Reported to the Secretariat of the United Nations

Under the terms of the Convention of 13 July 1931 as amended by the Protocol of 11 December 1946, the Secretariat receives reports of illicit transactions and seizures from governments that are the contracting parties. Periodic publication of the summaries of these reports by the United Nations began in 1946 and since January 1948 these summaries have appeared every two months. A volume number and issue number first appeared as part of the title with Volume III, No. 4.

The summaries, classified according to a particular drug, contain the following information: Time and place of seizure; kind and quantity of narcotics seized; details regarding ships, vehicles and/or aircraft involved; details regarding persons and/or firms involved; origin of narcotics seized; judicial proceedings; an account of the transactions and methods used to bring about seizure and prosecution of offenders. Included in each issue are a list of names of persons, firms, etc.; a list of localities of seizures; commencing with Volume IV, No. 3 a list of ships implicated.

Estimated World Requirements of Narcotic Drugs

Annual statements of estimated world requirements of narcotic drugs are prepared by the Drug Supervisory Body which maintains headquarters in Geneva. These statements first appeared under the United Nations imprint with the publication of the Third Supplement to the Estimated World Requirements of Dangerous Drugs in 1946. The title of the series changed in 1947 to Estimated World Requirements of Narcotic Drugs. The statements are drawn up from information submitted by governments that are contracting parties to the Convention of 13 July 1931 and the Protocols of 11 December 1946 and 19 November 1948. Requirements are estimated for an entire year on the basis of this information and subsequently modified by amendments published regularly as four supplements to the annual statement.

This Bulletin presents current information on traffic in narcotics and on national and international measures relating to the control of narcotics, including the texts of various national laws. A technical section of the Bulletin contains articles dealing with the chemistry and pharmacology of the raw materials used in the manufacture of narcotics. Also, extensive technical and general bibliographies are included.

The Bulletin was first issued in October 1949.

XIII. DEMOGRAPHY

- 1950.XIII.3 Methods of Using Census Statistics for the Calculation of Life Tables and Other Demographic Measures—
E F S With Application to the Population of Brazil.
 (ST/SOA/SER.A/7). By Giorgio Mortara, Technical Consultant of the National Census Commission of Brazil. This volume contains four articles by Dr. Mortara which were published elsewhere over a period of time in the course of his work in conducting an investigation of the demographic characteristics of the population of Brazil. The first two articles describe techniques for computing life tables and estimating the birth-rate. The last two articles deal with methods for computing marriage rates, reproduction rates and other indices. Text includes eight tables. 60 pp. . . . . $0.60 4/6
 Sw. fr. 2.50
- 1950.XIII.4 Data on Urban and Rural Population in Recent
E F S Censuses.
 (ST/SOA/SER.A/8); This study was prepared by the Food and Agriculture Organization in collaboration with the Population Division and the Statistical Office of the United Nations. It is a discussion of the possible types of classifications as well as a survey of the methods of defining and tabulating urban and rural population used in recent censuses and is an amplification of the subject briefly touched upon in Population Census Methods mentioned above. Text includes six tables. 27 pp. . . . . $0.25 1/9
 Sw. fr. 1.00
- 1951.XIII.2 Application of International Standards to Census Data
E F S on the Economically Active Population.
 (Doc.ST/SOA/SER.A/9); This report brings together and describes recent recommendations of international agencies on the subject of collecting, classifying and tabulating data on economic activities. Particular emphasis is placed on methods of adapting the international standard classifications of occupation, industry, and status (as employer, employee, etc.) for use in population censuses. 139 pp. . . . $1.50 11/-
 Sw. fr. 6.00
- 1953.XIII.7 Training in Techniques of Demographic Analysis.
E F S (ST/SOA/SER.A/18); This report presents a plan of a detailed pilot program for the organization of national training courses, seminars, and internships in techniques of demographic analysis. 17 pp. . . . . $0.25 1/9
 Sw. fr. 1.00

Population Estimates

- 1949.XIII.3 World Population Trends, 1920-1947.
E F (ST/SOA/SER.A/3); This report presents estimates of population, birth and death rates, life expectancy and age structure of the population, for the world and its principal regions. The data presented are supported by statistical tables. 16 pp. . . . . $0.15 1/-
 Sw. fr. 0.50

XIII. DEMOGRAPHY

- 1952.XIII.5 Methods of Estimating Total Population for Current Dates.

Monthly Bulletin of Statistics.

The foremost source of current, official statistics on world economic and social conditions. Each issue contains information on more than 60 subjects from more than 70 countries in the following fields.

XVII. INTERNATIONAL STATISTICS

Population	Mining	Internal Trade
Manpower	Manufacturing	External Trade
Forestry	Construction	Wages and Prices
Industrial	Transport	National Income
Production	Electricity and
Finance	Gas Production

In addition to the regular tables, statistical data on special subjects of current interest are included. Each table shows annual figures for 1937 and 1938 and from 1948 and each year thereafter, as well as monthly figures for the most recent eighteen-month period.

A special feature of each issue of the Bulletin is a section describing certain of the main economic and social trends indicated in the statistical tables.

The annual Supplement appears in separate English, French and Spanish editions and contains detailed definitions and explanatory notes to the various statistical series.

The first issue appeared in January 1947.

Direction of International Trade (Monthly).

This periodical gives the value in United States dollars of imports and exports of about 95 countries from and to each of the countries with which they conduct trade and from and to a number of regions of economic importance. Summaries are also given of the trade of each country with regions of economic importance obtained by grouping the partner countries in various ways.

In the monthly issues current figures, cumulative from 1 January are compared with those for the corresponding period of the previous year. The annual issue provides a comparison with several earlier years and also includes extensive summaries showing the flow of trade between regions. The factors which are appropriate for the conversion to United States dollars of trade figures in national currency are tabulated in each issue.

Published jointly by the United Nations Statistical Office, the International Monetary Fund and the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development.

Commodity Trade Statistics (Quarterly).

In this periodical the trade of the principal trading nations is analysed into 150 groups of commodities of commercial importance and the quantity and value of imports and exports of these commodities is shown together with details of the countries of their origin and destination. More than 29 countries report their imports and exports quarterly to the United Nations in terms of the Standard International Trade Classification (1952.XVII.9).

The data are aggregated into seven large commodity classes for which origin and destination are shown by region as well as by country. Tables of total imports and exports are shown for the same regions and countries. Value figures are in United States dollars.

The first issue offered on an annual subscription basis was Vol. II, No. 1, January-March 1952.

DOCUMENTS OF THE UNITED NATIONS CONFERENCE ON INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATION

San Francisco, 1945

The documents of the United Nations Conference on International Organization were published in 1945 by the United Nations Information Organizations (London and New York) in co-operation with the Library of Congress and are available from the United Nations.

This edition of the principal documents of the United Nations Conference on International Organization, held in San Francisco from 25 April to 25 June 1945, presents the texts in as nearly an exact facsimile as possible and in a subject arrangement which makes them convenient for use. All documents are presented (if they were so issued) in the two working languages of the Conference: English and French. The final documents, however, the Charter, Statute of the International Court of Justice and the Interim Arrangements, are presented in the five official languages: Chinese, English, French, Russian and Spanish. There has been no textual editing in this edition. The material has been reproduced photo-lithographically from the mimeographed, printed or photo-lithographed originals.

PUBLICATIONS OF THE PREPARATORY COMMISSION OF THE UNITED NATIONS

London, 16 August to 23 December 1945

At the conclusion of the San Francisco Conference in June 1945, the Delegates who had signed the United Nations Charter established the Preparatory Commission of the United Nations which was responsible for making provisional arrangements for the first sessions of the General Assembly, the Security Council, the Economic and Social Council and the Trusteeship Council, for the establishment of the Secretariat and for the convening of the International Court of Justice. When the Preparatory Commission was not in session, its powers and functions were exercised by the Executive Committee of the Preparatory Commission.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS PUBLICATIONS

The Publications of the former League of Nations are still available through United Nations Sales Agents. During the years 1920-1946, the League of Nations issued a very large number of studies and reports in a variety of fields, many of which continue to be of interest and value.

In addition to the Official Journal and the Records of the Assembly, the Council and the various Commissions, the League of Nations regularly published studies in the following fields: economics, finance, health, social questions, legal matters, mandates, slavery, political questions, communications and transport, disarmament, narcotic drugs, intellectual co-operation, refugees, etc.

Catalogues of League of Nations publications are no longer in print. Inquiries regarding titles, content, language, prices and availability should be directed to the Sales and Circulation Section, United Nations, New York, or to the Sales Section, United Nations European Office, Palais des Nations, Geneva, Switzerland.

Listed below are a few of the League of Nations publications which are still in considerable demand.

League of Nations Treaty Series

During the years 1920-1946, the League of Nations issued 205 volumes containing the texts of all treaties and international agreements registered by Member States with the League Secretariat. These volumes are variously priced. To accompany the Treaty Series, the League Secretariat also published a total of nine General Index Volumes at various prices.

UNITED NATIONS AUDIO-VISUAL MATERIALS

The Department of Public Information issues many types of materials in the form of film strips, motion picture films, posters and picture displays. Radio programmes and telecasts are produced and arranged. For information about these materials and broadcast and telecast schedules, inquiries should be directed to the nearest United Nations Information Centre or the Department of Public Information, United Nations, New York. Listed below are a few of these materials.

AUDIO-VISUAL MATERIALS

FILM STRIPS

More than eighteen 35mm film strips on United Nations subjects are available in English, French, Spanish and other languages. A Catalogue of United Nations Film Strips providing detailed information on content, language and cost is available on request.

MOTION PICTURE FILMS

The United Nations through the United Nations Film Board has produced over sixty films. These films are all sound films in 16mm and 35mm versions and are available in several languages. A Catalogue of United Nations Films providing detailed information on content, language and arrangements for renting or purchasing films is available on request.

BROADCASTS AND TELECASTS

Latest United Nations news and special United Nations programmes are broadcast and televised over stations in more than 60 countries and territories. A schedule of these broadcasts and telecasts is available on request. Also available are materials to assist in organizing planned discussions, and in producing radio and television programmes on United Nations themes.

INTERNATIONAL COURT OF JUSTICE

The International Court of Justice is one of the organs of the United Nations as established under the Charter of the United Nations and its Statute forms an integral part of the Charter.

The International Court of Justice issues its own publications. They include the following: (a) Reports of Judgments, Advisory Opinions and Orders; (b) Pleadings, Oral Arguments, Documents; (c) Acts and Documents concerning the Organization of the Court; (d) Collection of Texts governing the Jurisdiction of the Court; (e) Yearbooks.

These publications are not listed in this Catalogue. They are sold by official agents of the Court in more than twenty-five countries. Most of these agents are also sales agents for United Nations publications. Inquiries may be directed to the agents or to the Sales Section, European Office of the United Nations, Geneva, Switzerland.
