Situation of human rights in the Sudan

The General Assembly,

Reaffirming that all Member States have an obligation to promote and protect human rights and fundamental freedoms and the duty to fulfil the obligations that they have undertaken under the various international instruments in this field,

Mindful that the Sudan is a party to the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights,<sup>1</sup> the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights,<sup>1</sup> the Convention on the Rights of the Child,<sup>2</sup> the African Charter on Human and Peoples' Rights<sup>3</sup> and the Geneva Conventions of 12 August 1949 for the protection of victims of war,<sup>4</sup>

Recalling its previous resolutions on the situation of human rights in the Sudan, and taking note of Commission on Human Rights resolution 2002/16 of 19 April 2002,<sup>5</sup>

Taking note of Security Council resolution 1372 (2001) of 28 September 2001,

Noting with appreciation the recent developments within the peace talks led by the Intergovernmental Authority on Development, and expressing its firm belief that human rights should become a key element in the peace talks in view of the link between a sustainable peace and respect for human rights,

1. Welcomes:

(a) The Machakos Protocol of 20 July 2002 and the announcement that both parties have agreed to a cessation of hostilities in all areas following the signature of the memorandum of understanding between the Government of the Sudan and the Sudan People's Liberation Army/Movement on the resumption of negotiations on peace in the Sudan, as well as the agreement on procedures for unimpeded humanitarian aid access signed by the Government of the Sudan, the Sudan People's Liberation Army/Movement and the United Nations;

(b) The extension of the ceasefire agreement in the Nuba Mountains, signed on 19 January 2002 by the Government of the Sudan and the Sudan People's Liberation Army/Movement, as well as the Khartoum agreement to protect civilians and civilian facilities from military attacks, also signed by them on 10 March 2002;

(c) The commitment of the Government of the Sudan to facilitate the establishment of an independent national institution on human rights;

(d) The recent visit of the Secretary-General to the Sudan;

(e) The interim report of the Special Rapporteur of the Commission on Human Rights on the situation of human rights in the Sudan submitted to the General Assembly at its fifty-seventh session<sup>6</sup> and the cooperation extended by the Government of the Sudan to the Special Rapporteur during his visits to the Sudan in February, March and October 2002;

(f) The cooperation extended by the Government of the Sudan and the Sudan People's Liberation Army/Movement to other United Nations mandate holders in the field of human rights, as well as their recent cooperation with the United Nations and other humanitarian agencies, to mitigate the effects of war on civilians, and emphasizes the need to adhere to the principle of full, safe and unhindered access and to strengthen the support to such agencies;

(g) The commitment of the Government of the Sudan to embark on a programme of civic education in democracy and to create an inter-party liaison mechanism in order to foster democratization;

(h) The establishment by the Government of the Sudan of an advisory council for Christians and its commitment to appoint Christians to senior executive positions within the Ministry for Religious Affairs and to promote inter-religious dialogue;

(i) Decree 14/2002 of 26 January 2002 of the President of the Republic of the Sudan re-establishing and further empowering the Committee for the Eradication of Abduction of Women and Children, the Committee's facilitation of flights to repatriate abducted children and its intention to hold tribal conferences in Kordofan and Darfur, as well as the facilitation and support by the Government and the Sudan People's Liberation Army/Movement for the International Eminent Persons Group, that investigated slavery, abduction and forced servitude in the Sudan during their April and May 2002 visit, the report issued by the International Eminent Persons Group on 22 May 2002 and commitment of the Government and the Sudan People's Liberation Army/Movement to consider implementing the Group's recommendations;<sup>7</sup>

(j) The signing of the Optional Protocol to the Convention on the Rights of the Child on the involvement of children in armed conflict;<sup>8</sup>

2. Expresses its deep concern at:

(a) The impact of the ongoing armed conflict on the situation of human rights and its adverse effects on the civilian population, in particular women, children and internally displaced persons, and at the continuing serious violations of human rights, fundamental freedoms and international humanitarian law by all parties to the conflict;

(b) The Government of the Sudan's decision to keep in place the state of emergency until the end of 2002;

(c) The occurrence of restrictions on freedom of thought, conscience, religion and belief and on freedom of association, assembly, opinion and expression;

(d) The cases of torture and ill-treatment of civilians, extrajudicial summary or arbitrary execution, arbitrary arrest, detention without trial and corporal punishment in its cruellest forms;

(e) The negative role of undisciplined southern militias, armed and supported by all parties to the conflict, which are responsible for killings, torture, kidnappings, rape, the burning of villages, the destruction of crops and the theft of livestock;

(f) The forced conscription and displacement, enforced or involuntary disappearances, as well as other acts of intimidation and harassment against the population;

(g) Violation of the rights of women, including discrimination against women and girls, the harassment of women by security forces and serious human rights abuses such as killing, rape, abduction and female genital mutilation;

(h) Violations of the rights of the child, including the recruitment and use of children as soldiers and the subjection of children to forced labour, contrary to human rights and international law;

(i) The extensive use of the death penalty, contrary to the obligations assumed by the Government of the Sudan under the provisions of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights<sup>1</sup> as well as other human rights instruments, the use of special courts, especially in Darfur, with military personnel appointed as judges and with a lack of legal representation, the occurrence of group sentencing and the imposition of the death penalty on persons below eighteen years of age at the time of the commission of their crime, contrary to the obligations assumed by the Government of the Sudan under the Convention on the Rights of the Child,<sup>2</sup> all of which raises serious doubts regarding the validity of the legal processes;

(j) The abduction of women and children by tribal groups and other militias;

<sup>7</sup> Slavery, Abduction and Forced Servitude in Sudan: report of the International Eminent Persons Group, 22 May 2002, United States Department of State.

(k) The numerous and repeated difficulties encountered by United Nations and humanitarian staff in carrying out their mandate in the Sudan and the conditions imposed on humanitarian organizations, in contravention of humanitarian principles, in particular the denial of access to them, which has had grave consequences for the civilian population affected by the armed conflict and led to the withdrawal of many such organizations before the agreement on procedures for unimpeded humanitarian aid access;

(l) The forced displacement of populations in the Sudan as a result of the armed conflict in particular in areas surrounding the oilfields;

(m) The continuation of indiscriminate aerial bombardment of civil targets and indiscriminate artillery shelling against the civilian population, as well as the use of civilian premises for military purposes;

3. Urges all parties to the conflict in the Sudan:

(a) To seize the prospect of peace to ensure continued progress in the fields of human rights, democratization and the rule of law, thereby creating a climate of mutual trust and confidence that will create the basis for a viable peace and facilitate reconciliation;

(b) To respect and protect human rights and fundamental freedoms, to respect fully international humanitarian law, in particular the need to ensure the protection of civilians and civilian premises, thereby facilitating the voluntary return, repatriation and reintegration of refugees and internally displaced persons to their homes, and to ensure that those responsible for violations of human rights and international humanitarian law are brought to justice;

(c) To adhere to initial agreements signed within the Machakos Protocol framework, to take necessary measures to facilitate the peace negotiations and to work actively towards the establishment of a just and viable peace, based on respect of human rights and the principles of democratization and the rule of law, under the auspices of the Intergovernmental Authority on Development peace process;

(d) To enhance the implementation of the Khartoum agreement to protect civilians and civilian facilities from military attacks, and in particular urges the Government of the Sudan to cease immediately all indiscriminate aerial bombardments and attacks against the civilian population and civilian installations and the Sudan People's Liberation Army/Movement and to cease immediately indiscriminate artillery shelling against the civilian population, using civilian premises for military purposes, misappropriating humanitarian assistance and diverting relief supplies, including food, from their civilian recipients;

(e) To refrain from military activities as a demonstration of their willingness to seek a peaceful solution to the long-standing conflict and to adhere to a comprehensive ceasefire as part of a just peace negotiation process;

(f) To stop the support to and use of tribal militias that commit grave human rights abuses;

(g) To continue adhering to the agreement on procedures for unimpeded humanitarian aid access to secure full, safe and unhindered access to all international agencies and humanitarian organizations in order to facilitate by all possible means the delivery of humanitarian assistance, in conformity with relevant provisions of international humanitarian law, to all civilians in need of protection and assistance and to continue to cooperate with the Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs of the Secretariat and Operation Lifeline Sudan;

(h) Not to use or recruit children under the age of eighteen as soldiers, to continue demobilizing child soldiers, to refrain from the practice of forced conscription and to fulfil the commitments made concerning the protection of children affected by war, including cessation of the use of anti-personnel landmines, attacks on sites where there is usually a significant presence of children and the abduction and exploitation of children, as well as to ensure access to and return of displaced and unaccompanied minors and to reunify them with their families;

4. Calls upon the Government of the Sudan:

(a) To comply fully with its obligations under international human rights instruments to which the Sudan is a party and to promote and protect human rights and fundamental freedoms, as well as to respect its obligations under international humanitarian law;

(b) To fulfil its commitments to ratify the Convention against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment,<sup>9</sup> to sign and ratify the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women,<sup>10</sup> and to consider ratifying the Convention on the Prohibition of the Use, Stockpiling, Production and Transfer of Anti-Personnel Mines and on Their Destruction;<sup>11</sup>

(c) To end the state of emergency now that the stated reasons for its imposition have been resolved, namely through the constitutional amendment allowing the Presidential appointment of governors, and to undertake further efforts to promote an environment conducive to a genuine process of democratization that reflects the aspirations of the people and ensures their full participation;

(d) To end impunity for human rights violations and to try perpetrators in accordance with the rule of law, as well as to strengthen the role of the Advisory Council on Human Rights to investigate all reported human rights violations, including acts of torture;

(e) To fulfil its commitment to establish an independent national institution on human rights and to create a general legal framework facilitating the establishment of organizations in the field of human rights and to further encourage and support the Advisory Council on Human Rights in enhancing the promotion of human rights in the Sudan through its various activities, including its advisory services and advocacy activities;

(f) To ensure full respect for freedom of religion and conscience and, in this regard, to undertake measures to end discrimination based on religion;

(g) To ensure full respect for freedom of association, assembly, opinion, thought and expression throughout the territory of the Sudan and to fully implement existing legislation, in particular the Associations and Political Parties Act;

(h) To raise the age of criminal responsibility for children in order to take into account the observations of the Committee on the Rights of the Child;

(i) To continue and reinforce its efforts to prevent and stop the abduction of women and children taking place within the framework of the conflict in southern Sudan;

(j) To make concerted efforts to restrain the activities of Murahaleens and other tribal militias, to stop financing and equipping them and to uphold the suspension of the use of the government train to Bahr-el-Ghazal until peace is established;

(k) To cease the forced displacement of populations by any means, in particular in areas surrounding the oilfields, to continue its efforts to address effectively the worsening problem of internally displaced persons, including by implementing the commitments made to the representative of the Secretary-General on internally displaced persons and ensuring their access to effective protection and assistance;

(l) To liberalize the system for maintaining public order;

(m) To implement the Standard Minimum Rules for the Treatment of Prisoners;<sup>12</sup>

(n) To ensure that capital punishment will not be imposed for crimes other than the most serious and will not be pronounced in disregard of the obligations assumed under the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights and the Convention on the Rights of the Child as well as the provisions of United Nations safeguards;

(o) To make further efforts to implement the commitment made to the Special Representative of the Secretary-General for Children and Armed Conflict not to recruit children under the age of eighteen as soldiers and to enforce national laws that prevent the recruitment of children in armed conflicts;

5. Encourages:

(a) The Government of the Sudan to continue its cooperation with the United Nations in the field of human rights through the Special Rapporteur and the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights and its expert in Khartoum entrusted with the task of advising the Government on the development of national capacity to promote and protect human rights;

(b) The Sudan People's Liberation Army/Movement to allow the people-to-people peace process to develop freely and unhindered and to consider it an important contribution to the peace process;

6. Calls upon the international community to expand its support for activities aimed at improving respect for human rights and humanitarian law in the Sudan, in particular those of the Committee for the Eradication of Abduction of Women and Children, to continue assisting national efforts to build up democratic and civil society structures in the Sudan and to consider how to expand the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights to include a monitoring role;
