Sir,

I have the honour to transmit herewith the first report of the Committee established in pursuance of resolution 253 (1968), adopted by the Security Council on 29 May 1968.

1. In paragraph 20 of resolution 253 (1968) adopted on 29 May 1968, relating to Southern Rhodesia, the Security Council decided to establish, in accordance with rule 28 of the rules of procedure of the Security Council, a Committee of the Security Council to undertake the following tasks and to report to it with its observations:

"(a) To examine such reports on the implementation of the present resolution as are submitted by the Secretary-General;

"(b) To seek from any States Members of the United Nations or of the specialized agencies such further information regarding the trade of that State (including information regarding the commodities and products exempted from the prohibition contained in operative paragraph 3 (d) above) or regarding any activities by any nationals of that State or in its territories that may constitute an evasion of the measures decided upon in this resolution as it may consider necessary for the proper discharge of its duty to report to the Security Council."

In paragraph 21 of the resolution, the Council requested the United Kingdom, as the administering Power, to give maximum assistance to the Committee and to provide the Committee with any information which it may receive in order that the measures envisaged in resolution 253 (1968) and resolution 232 (1966) may be rendered fully effective. In paragraph 22 of the resolution, it called upon all States Members of the United Nations, or of the specialized agencies, as well as the specialized agencies themselves, to supply such further information as may be sought by the Committee in pursuance of the resolution.

2. On 31 July 1968, the President of the Security Council announced (S/8697 and Corr.1) that the composition of the Committee would be as follows: Algeria, France, India, Paraguay, Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, United Kingdom and the United States. Following informal consultations, it was decided that the representative of India should be chairman of the Committee for three months up to 31 December 1968.

3. The Committee held its first meeting on 28 October 1968 and commenced its work.

4. At its second meeting on 11 November 1968, the Committee noted the failure of a number of States Members of the United Nations and of the specialized agencies to report to the Secretary-General on measures taken by them to implement resolution 253 (1968) as called upon in paragraph 18 of that resolution. At its request, the Secretary-General sent an urgent reminder on 20 November 1968, further to his reminder of 5 November, to States which had not yet replied to the Secretary-General's inquiry.

5. So far eighty-one Member States and four members of the specialized agencies have reported to the Secretary-General on measures taken to implement resolution 253 (1968). The Committee has requested the Secretary-General to issue a further appeal to those States which have still not reported to do so without delay. It has also requested him to invite all States Members of the United Nations or of the specialized agencies to provide information on any further measures taken by them since their last reports.

6. At the request of the Committee, the Secretariat undertook to prepare a statistical analysis to assist the Committee to identify possible violations of sanctions and to reveal areas where further information is necessary. The Committee also requested the Statistical Office to provide consolidated figures for world trade in the years immediately preceding and following UDI and, more particularly, following the adoption of Security Council resolutions 232 (1966) and 253 (1968), concentrating on commodities in which Southern Rhodesia had traditionally traded on a substantial scale and showing, as far as possible, what changes had taken place in the pattern of international trade as a result of the sanctions against Southern Rhodesia.

7. The note prepared by the Secretariat and the relevant statistical tables are reproduced in annex I of this report.

8. The Committee, having particular regard to paragraph 21 of resolution 253 (1968), requested the United Kingdom to provide the Committee with any information which it may receive in order that the measures envisaged in this resolution and resolution 232 (1966) may be rendered fully effective.

9. By letters dated 15 November and 16 December 1968, the representative of the United Kingdom transmitted to the Committee notes relating to tobacco certificates and television material. These notes are reproduced in annex II of this report. The Committee requested the Secretary-General to communicate the two notes to the Governments concerned and to invite their comments. Further notes have been received from the representative of the United Kingdom on possible violations in trade in tobacco and chrome sand. The Secretary-General has been requested to communicate these notes to Governments concerned for their comments. In the meantime, these matters are still under consideration by the Committee. The Committee also considered information about airlines which operate to or from Southern Rhodesia or link up with airlines or aircraft registered in Southern Rhodesia and in regard to the continuing consular and trade representation in Southern Rhodesia and has decided to seek the comments of the Governments concerned.

10. Further, by letter dated 29 November 1968, the representative of the United Kingdom transmitted a note of the assessment of the United Kingdom Government of the effects of sanctions on the economy of Southern Rhodesia up to mid-1968. The note is reproduced in annex III of this report.

11. The statistical data now available, which has been analysed by the Secretariat at the request of the Committee, covers mainly the first half of 1968. Much more data for the second half of 1968 is essential in order to analyse the effectiveness of the implementation of Security Council resolution 253 (1968). The Committee has requested the Secretariat to keep it currently informed so that it can report to the Security Council from time to time.

12. At this stage, the Committee wishes to inform the Security Council of the following.

13. The trade of Southern Rhodesia remained quite substantial in mid-1968, despite the Security Council resolutions of 1965 and 1966, as resolution 232 (1966) called on States to cease trade with that territory only in certain commodities and as some States continued to trade with Southern Rhodesia in contravention of that resolution. The data contained in the annexes to this report indicate that besides South Africa and Portugal there are some countries which continued to have trade with Southern Rhodesia. The Committee decided to investigate further the nature and quantum of this trade and will submit its findings on the extent to which this trade is in violation of sanctions in its subsequent reports.

14. All available evidence indicates that South Africa has become by far the main trading partner of Southern Rhodesia and has ignored the provisions of resolution 232 (1966). According to estimates by the Secretariat, South Africa's imports from Southern Rhodesia amounted to about $80 million in 1967 and South Africa's exports to Southern Rhodesia to about $160 million. The preliminary data for January-March 1968 indicate that South Africa's exports to Southern Rhodesia could have been further expanded during the first half of 1968. While no information on the commodity composition of this trade is available, it has been estimated by the Secretariat that about $25 million of South Africa's exports to Southern Rhodesia in 1966 and 1967 consisted of fuels.

15. Contrary to the provisions of the International Convention relating to Economic Statistics, the Government of South Africa has adopted the practice of showing a single aggregate for trade with African countries which would not disclose the individual countries of origin or destination. The Committee notes that it has not replied to the inquiries from the Secretary-General concerning measures taken by it to implement the provisions of Security Council resolutions 232 (1966) and 253 (1968). It has not responded to the request made by the Secretary-General to all States on 13 January 1967 to supply information on trade with Southern Rhodesia and on trade in certain commodities.

16. The Committee notes that the Government of Portugal has failed to take any measures to implement the provisions of Security Council resolutions 232 (1966) and 253 (1968) and has permitted free flow of goods to and from Southern Rhodesia. The trade statistics for the first half of 1968 published by Portugal indicate imports from Southern Rhodesia of commodities prohibited by resolution 232 (1966) as follows: meat, $0.5 million; sugar, $2.5 million; tobacco, $0.3 million.

17. To assist the Committee in its analysis of the statistics contained in the note prepared by the Secretariat, the Committee decided to request the Secretary-General to send copies of the note to all States Members of the United Nations or of the specialized agencies and to request their comment on the note particularly in cases in which there was evidence of possible violations of sanctions. The Committee authorized the Secretary-General to request Member States to provide such additional statistical information as might be necessary to elucidate the statistics provided for the work of the Committee.

18. The Committee noted that the statistics of reporting countries in certain cases had failed to distinguish Southern Rhodesia as a country of destination of exports or as a country of provenance of imports. This was the case for example with the statistics of South Africa as noted in paragraph 15 above. Portugal has adopted a similar practice in the material it submits to the Statistical Office of the United Nations. However, it continues to show Southern Rhodesia in its published trade volumes. Other countries have ceased to distinguish Southern Rhodesia as a country of provenance and destination because of the cessation of this trade or because it is listed as part of miscellaneous trade or in some other indistinguishable manner. The Committee decided to request the Secretariat to prepare a list of countries which have been trading with Southern Rhodesia but which have ceased to furnish current relevant statistics with a view to the matter being taken up with the Governments concerned.

19. The information provided by the Secretariat indicates a gap of about $80 million in 1967 between the exports reported by the illegal régime of Southern Rhodesia and the corresponding world trade. This gap may be accounted for partly by stocks of tobacco held in bond but which had not yet been reported as imports by the countries concerned. The Committee has decided to request the Secretary-General to seek information from Member States of the United Nations or of the specialized agencies on quantities of tobacco from Southern Rhodesia held in bond in their countries.

ANNEX I

TRADE OF SOUTHERN RHODESIA
(Note prepared by the Secretariat)

Data for 1967

S. Rhodesian Exports

S. Rhodesia reported exports in 1967 amounting to $282 million, but provided no information as to the direction and character of these exports. Using import statistics of the countries reported in the annex, the S. Rhodesian exports can be distributed as follows (in million US dollars): Zambia 45, Federal Republic of Germany 16, Malawi 15, United States 6, Portugal 6, Switzerland 4, Mozambique 4, Netherlands 2, Belgium-Luxembourg 2, France 1, Angola 1, Japan 1, other countries shown in the annex 4, making a total of $107 million. In addition to these, it has been estimated that South Africa received S. Rhodesian exports amounting to $80 million. The sum of these reporting countries plus the estimate for South Africa amounts to $187 million. If the stated figures of S. Rhodesian exports are accepted, it would appear that some $95 million of S. Rhodesian exports have not been reflected in the corresponding import figures of world trade. It may be noted, however, that approximately $19 million of this amount may be accounted for by exports of gold which are not reflected in the merchandise trade statistics. The difference when allowance is also made for c.i.f. valuation would be in the region of $80 million.

S. Rhodesian Imports

S. Rhodesia reported imports of $262 million. Of this amount, the countries which have reported their data (see annex) accounted for $60 million as follows (in million US dollars): Zambia 3, Malawi 2, Federal Republic of Germany 12, United States 4, Portugal 2, Switzerland 2, Mozambique 4, Netherlands 5, Belgium-Luxembourg 2, France 4, Japan 14, United Kingdom 3, Italy 1, Austria 1, Australia 1. It has been estimated that, in addition to these reporting countries, a large part of the remainder was imports from South Africa.

Trade in January-June 1968

3. The data made available to the Secretary-General by the reporting countries (see annex) show that the imports into these countries from S. Rhodesia amounted to $24 million in the first half of 1968 (compared with $362 million in the year 1965). The countries accounting for the greater part of these imports were (in million US dollars): Federal Republic of Germany 9.4, Portugal 3.6, Malawi 3.1 (January-March only), Switzerland 1.4, United States 1.1. Where explanations for these imports are available, they are shown in the notes to the tables of the annex.

4. Exports of the reporting countries to S. Rhodesia amounted to $27 million in the first half of 1968 (compared with $215 million in the year 1965). Countries accounting for the greater part of these exports were (in million US dollars): Federal Republic of Germany 7.3, Japan 4.5, Netherlands 2.5, Australia 1.5 (January-March only), United States 1.8, France 1.6, Switzerland 1.2, Belgium-Luxembourg 1.0, United Kingdom 0.9, and Portugal 0.9.

Specific Commodity Groups

5. Imports from S. Rhodesia into the reporting countries of the eleven commodity groups specified in resolution 232 (1966), paragraph 2(a), amounted to $15 million in the first half of 1968 (compared with $225 million in the year 1965 and $39 million in the year 1967).

Tobacco

6. The most important S. Rhodesian export commodity is tobacco, exports of which amounted to $132 million in 1965. Normally, S. Rhodesian exports of tobacco account for approximately 13 per cent of all world exports of unmanufactured tobacco and over 25 per cent of flue-cured tobacco. It has been possible to analyse the data for this commodity more conclusively than is possible for any of the other aggregates in the situation where comprehensive information for all trading nations is not available. The recorded imports of the reporting countries amounting to $2.2 million in the first half of 1968 were explained by the Federal Republic of Germany ($0.8 million), Belgium-Luxembourg and Switzerland ($0.4 million each), Portugal ($0.3 million) and Netherlands ($0.2 million) as having been, in some cases, bonded stores of earlier data. In these circumstances, an analysis was made of sources of supply of world tobacco markets to ascertain how the requirements of world consumption of tobacco had been met in the absence of S. Rhodesian supplies.

7. The data for world trade in unmanufactured tobacco indicate that the drastic curtailment of S. Rhodesian exports during the years 1966 and 1967 has resulted in world requirements being met from other sources of supply. In these two years, S. Rhodesia would normally have supplied a total of 240,000 metric tons of flue-cured tobacco to world markets. In these two years the reporting countries have received only 45,000 tons. The short-fall in world markets caused by the curtailment of S. Rhodesian exports would, therefore, amount to 195,000 tons. This short-fall appears to have been met by an expansion of exports of flue-cured tobacco by other countries (mainly the United States which has supplied 67,000 tons of additional exports in the two years, and South Korea, Thailand and Mainland China, which have supplied 36,000 tons of additional supplies). The expanded exports from these countries reduce the short-fall to a figure of 92,000 tons, and this short-fall is confirmed by the fact that world exports of flue-cured tobacco (confirmed also by world imports) showed a reduction from the 1965 level amounting to about 100,000 tons over the two year 1966 and 1967.

8. Analysis has been made of the means by which world demand has been met in the face of an apparent fall of world exports by a figure in the region of 100,000 tons over the two years, 1966 and 1967. It appears that a number of countries have met part of their requirements by withdrawals from stocks, but complete data on this subject are not available. The depletion of stocks in some countries is known to be substantial. For example, the United Kingdom stock figures show a reduction of about 39,000 tons over the two years 1966 and 1967. In the absence of complete stock data, however, it cannot be assumed that all countries have made similar reductions.

9. It will be seen from what was said above (paragraph 1) that the reported exports of S. Rhodesia had been accounted for in the import statistics of other countries to an amount of only $187 million, leaving a difference when allowance is made for c.i.f. valuation in the region of $80 million. There is a distinct possibility, therefore, that stocks of tobacco held in bond which have not yet been recorded as imports in a number of countries may account for this difference. To establish this fact, it would be necessary to obtain from reporting countries information on S. Rhodesian goods held in bond in these countries which have not yet been recorded in their import statistics. It is a known phenomenon in the tobacco trade for tobacco to lie in bond for long periods. Such stocks are, in many countries, not reported in the trade statistics until they are withdrawn from bond.

10. In connection with the relatively small tobacco exports of Mozambique, it should be emphasised that for such relatively small quantities the type of reconciliation of export and import statistics utilised above is somewhat inconclusive. The complex of transport facilities in the region is such that countries may attribute to Mozambique, from which many consignments are made, exports which in fact originate in Zambia and Malawi as well as S. Rhodesia. When the tobacco exports of Zambia, Malawi and Mozambique are taken together they are as follows: 1965 - 18,000 tons, 1966 - 22,000 tons, 1967 - 22,000 tons. Tracing these exports in the recorded returns of other countries reveals corresponding imports of: 1965 - 20,000 tons, 1966 - 18,000 tons, and 1967 - 21,000 tons. The difficulty of reconciliation is increased by the time lag between export and import and the practice of holding tobacco in bond for long periods before it is declared as an import.

Other Commodities

11. The next most important export commodity is asbestos, S. Rhodesian exports of which amounted to $30 million in 1965. In the first half of 1968, the recorded imports of the reporting countries amounted to $1.7 million (compared with $24 million in the year 1965, and $3.4 million in 1967). This amount was accounted for by the Federal Republic of Germany ($1.2 million) and the United States ($0.5 million). The United States explained its imports as shipments before 16 December 1966, the effective date of resolution 232 (1966). It may be noted that imports of the reporting countries from South Africa, an important producer of asbestos, amounted to $28 million in the first half of 1968 (compared with $40 million in the year 1965 and $56 million in the year 1967). Japan imported $5.1 million from South Africa in January-June 1968 (compared with $4.5 million in 1965 and $10.5 million in 1967), the United Kingdom $6.0 million (compared with $8.2 million in 1965 and $12.7 million in 1967), Italy $3.5 million (compared with $3.2 million in 1965 and $4.4 million in 1967), Federal Republic of Germany $2.2 million (compared with $2.5 million in 1965 and $2.5 million in 1967) and France $2.0 million (compared with $1.3 million in 1965 and $2.7 million in 1967). It will be noted that prior to 1966 South Africa had been exporting asbestos at a steady level (e.g., during 1960-1963 at a level of about $35 million and during 1964-1965 of about $39 million). Data for recent periods on imports into South Africa from S. Rhodesia are not available.

12. S. Rhodesia's copper exports in 1965 amounted to $18.3 million. Of this amount, $10.6 million were exports to the Federal Republic of Germany, $1.8 million to Poland, $1.5 million to the United Kingdom, $1.4 million to Italy, $1 million to West Malaysia, and $2 million were distributed among the other countries listed in the table on copper. Most of the reporting countries shown in the table appear to have ceased to import copper from S. Rhodesia in 1967 and in the first half of 1968. The Federal Republic of Germany has provided data on its trade in 1967 and 1968 which have been of considerable help in this review. In the case of copper, certain considerations of confidentiality have made it necessary to utilize published statistics from the Federal Republic of Germany for the table in the annex. However, the possibility exists that certain imports of copper into the Federal Republic of Germany amounting to $7 million in the first half of 1968 were of S. Rhodesian origin. This figure is taken from Commodity Trade Statistics which shows imports of copper amounting to slightly over $7 million from undisclosed countries. There is reason to believe that these imports originated in S. Rhodesia.

13. The chief importer of S. Rhodesia's chromite has been, traditionally, the United States, to which S. Rhodesia sent $5 million worth of chromite out of total exports of $10.7 million in 1965. In 1967, the United States imported $3.4 million worth of chromite which was explained by the authorities as goods shipped from S. Rhodesia before 16 December 1966, and in January-June 1968 imports of S. Rhodesia chromite appear to have ceased. In 1965, S. Rhodesia exported chromite to South Africa amounting to $3.7 million. Data for recent periods on imports into South Africa from S. Rhodesia are not available.

14. Other commodities exported by S. Rhodesia and mentioned in resolution 232 (1966), paragraph 2(a), are meat and meat products, sugar, hides, skins and leather, iron ore and pig iron. Imports of these commodities into the reporting countries from S. Rhodesia in the first half of 1968 amounted to $3.9 million (compared with $48 million in the year 1965 and $12.0 million in the year 1967). Because of the small magnitude of the trade involved, no meaningful analysis is possible for these commodities at present.

15. Exports of the reporting countries to S. Rhodesia of the four commodity groups specified in resolution 232 (1966), paragraph 2 (d)-(f) namely, motor vehicles and their parts, petroleum products, crude petroleum and aircraft and their parts, amounted to approximately $0.1 million in the first half of 1968 (compared with $36 million in the year 1965 and $1.2 million in the year 1967).

16. Among the four commodity groups, motor vehicles and parts are the most important group. In the first half of 1968 the reporting countries exported $0.03 million of these commodity to S. Rhodesia (compared with $34 million in the year 1965 and $1.0 million in the year 1967).

17. As to petroleum supplies to S. Rhodesia, no meaningful evaluation of the status is possible from the data reported by the reporting countries listed in the annex. The reason for this is that the traditional suppliers were countries in the Middle East region, none of which has as yet reported its data to the Secretary-General. It is known, however, that, following the closure of the only S. Rhodesian refinery at Umtali in January 1966, no imports of crude petroleum are required. Iran, Bahrain and Saudi Arabia were normal major suppliers of petroleum products not only to S. Rhodesia but also to South Africa, Mozambique and Angola. However, based on available statistics, there is indication that major sources of supply of this commodity to S. Rhodesia were shifted to South Africa in 1966 and 1967. It is estimated that between $20-$25 million worth of fuel was exported by South Africa to S. Rhodesia in these two years against a normal requirement of about $33 million.

3/ "The Swiss importer is authorized to make use of his yearly quota any time of the year, e.g., in the early months of the year 1967. The quotas are compounded on the basis of the average import quantity of the commodity during the previous three years. Fluctuations are furthermore possible between the years, as the use of a yearly quota requested in December may only appear in the trade statistics of the first three months of the following year, the reason being that the import licences granted within the quota are generally valid for three months."

IMPORTS OF TOBACCO

* TOTAL EXPORTS OF SOUTHERN RHODESIA* IN 1965, TO ALL DESTINATIONS (IN THOUSAND US$) 131 511.

1/ REFERS TO TRADE WITH THE FEDERATION OF RHODESIA AND NYASALAND.

2/ REPRESENTS INDIRECT SHIPMENT THAT ARRIVED IN THE UNITED STATES IN DECEMBER 1966. STATISTICAL ENTRY WAS DELAYED UNTIL JANUARY 1967.

3/ ONLY IMPORTS FROM WAREHOUSES OF THE SURVEY AREA ORIGINATING FROM THE 1965 HARVEST OR EARLIER HARVESTS.

4/ THESE IMPORTS ARISE FROM THE FACT THAT PRIOR TO THE ADOPTION OF SECURITY COUNCIL RESOLUTION 232, CONSIDERABLE QUANTITIES OF RHODESIAN TOBACCO WERE HELD BY DUTCH IMPORTERS AND TOBACCO MANUFACTURERS IN BONDED STORAGE IN VARIOUS PORTS OUTSIDE RHODESIA. SINCE THESE STOCKS CONSIST OF TOBACCO EXPORTED FROM SOUTHERN RHODESIA PRIOR TO DECEMBER 16, 1966, THE PROVISIONS OF RESOLUTION 232 DO NOT APPLY TO THEM. THIS TOBACCO IS ONLY GRADUALLY TAKEN OUT OF BONDED STORAGE ACCORDING TO THE NEEDS OF THE TOBACCO INDUSTRY. AS SUCH STOCKS ARE STILL CONSIDERABLE, IT IS TO BE EXPECTED THAT THEY WILL NOT BE EXHAUSTED BEFORE THE END OF 1967 AND POSSIBLY EVEN LATER. THE NETHERLANDS GOVERNMENT HAS TAKEN STRICT MEASURES TO ENSURE THAT ONLY RHODESIAN TOBACCO EXPORTED FROM THAT TERRITORY BEFORE DECEMBER 16, 1966, CAN BE IMPORTED INTO THE NETHERLANDS.

5/ SEE THE OFFICIAL DECLARATION OF THE SWISS GOVERNMENT CONTAINED IN ANNEX II TO UNITED NATIONS DOCUMENT S/7781.

6/ THE SWISS IMPORTER IS AUTHORIZED TO MAKE USE OF HIS YEARLY QUOTA ANY TIME OF THE YEAR, E.G. IN THE EARLY MONTHS OF THE YEAR 1967. THE QUOTAS ARE COMPOUNDED ON THE BASIS OF THE AVERAGE IMPORT QUANTITY OF THE COMMODITY DURING THE PREVIOUS THREE YEARS. FLUCTUATIONS ARE FURTHERMORE POSSIBLE BETWEEN THE YEARS, AS THE USE OF A YEARLY QUOTA REQUESTED IN DECEMBER MAY ONLY APPEAR IN THE TRADE STATISTICS OF THE FIRST THREE MONTHS OF THE FOLLOWING YEAR, THE REASON BEING THAT THE IMPORT LICENCES GRANTED WITHIN THE QUOTA ARE GENERALLY VALID FOR THREE MONTHS.

7/ TOBACCO DESPATCHED FROM SOUTHERN RHODESIA PRIOR TO 18 JANUARY 1966, THE DATE OF THE ORDER BY THE GOVERNMENT OF IRELAND UNDER WHICH IMPORTS OF TOBACCO FROM SOUTHERN RHODESIA INTO IRELAND WERE PREVENTED.

8/ TOBACCO WAREHOUSED IN JANUARY 1966, EX WAREHOUSE IN JANUARY AND FEBRUARY 1967.

ANNEX II

A. Note dated 15 November 1968 from the Representative of the United Kingdom

Investigation by the Government of the United Kingdom in co-operation with the Government of Malawi of a consignment of tobacco recently exported from Beira which was suspected of being of Rhodesian origin has shown that the certificate of origin purporting to show this as being of Malawi origin was forged and that the seal and signature on the accompanying certificate of origin and non-manipulation were also forgeries. (The latter certificate is issued by the Office of H.M. Consul at Beira normally, but not always, to enable an importer in a Commonwealth country to obtain the benefit of Commonwealth preference.)

To make it more difficult for Rhodesian tobacco to be exported under forged Malawi certificates, the Government of Malawi have decided that in future all tobacco exported from Malawi must be covered by valid certificates of origin whether or not such documentation is required by an importing country. These certificates will only be issued by the Tobacco Control Commission of Malawi. The Government of Malawi have also expressed their willingness to make available to any interested Government the particulars of their official certificate of origin.

It seems probable, given that the investigation by the Governments of the United Kingdom and Malawi has shown that forged documents have been used to cover tobacco exported to one destination, that other consignments also purporting to be Malawi tobacco may have been sent to other destinations under cover of forged documentation. The Government of the United Kingdom suggest that the Sanctions Supervisory Committee might now consider informing all tobacco importing countries of the results of the investigation carried out by the United Kingdom and Malawi Governments with a view to recommending that the Governments concerned should verify with the Government of Malawi that certificates covering Malawi tobacco imported into their countries have been validly issued.

The Government of the United Kingdom for their part are prepared to examine on request from any of the Governments concerned the authenticity of certificates of origin purporting to have been issued by the Office of H.M. Consul at Beira for Malawi tobacco imported into their territories.

B. Note dated 16 December 1968 from the Representative of the United Kingdom

Though some stocks may have been built up in anticipation of the imposition of sanctions, the supplies of topical material available to Rhodesian television are not thought to be extensive and recent indications are that Rhodesian television is showing more "live" shows and locally produced documentaries. It is therefore possible that before long Rhodesian television will try to buy overseas material, even though old and second-hand, of which there are believed to be considerable quantities in the hands of distributors in a number of countries.

The United Kingdom Government are bringing this matter to the notice of the Committee in order to suggest that the Committee might consider reminding States Members of the United Nations or of the specialized agencies, especially those whose language is English, of the importance of ensuring that the ban imposed under operative paragraph 3 (d) of resolution No. 255 is not evaded with regard to the supply of entertainment material to Rhodesia.

ANNEX III

Letter dated 29 November 1968 from the Representative

United Kingdom Assessment of the Effects of Sanctions on the Rhodesian Economy up to mid-1968

Balance of payments

1. According to the régime's published figures, sanctions reduced Rhodesia's exports from £R164 million to £R104 million in the first year after IDI, and have since kept them down to £R101 million in 1967 and an estimated £R90-100 in 1968. The commodity most seriously hit has been tobacco, exports of which have fallen from £R49 million in 1965 to perhaps £R15 million in 1968. Most of Rhodesia's other main exports have also suffered falls of varying degrees. Purchases by countries outside southern and central Africa of goods invoiced as Rhodesian products have been reduced to less than £R15 million a year.* Rhodesia's other current annual exports probably consist of about £R45 million sold to countries in southern and central Africa, £R7 million in the form of gold; and the remainder (perhaps £R30) in the form of goods which escape the control systems of countries enforcing the embargoes and thus remain unrecorded.

2. In order to avoid unacceptable strain on Rhodesia's very low foreign exchange reserves, imports were cut back by the régime from £R120 million in 1965 to £R85 million in the first year after IDI and have since then been held to £R94 million in 1967 and an estimated £R90-95 million in 1968. Nevertheless, because of an unavoidable deficit (£R19 million in 1967) on invisible items, Rhodesia's current account surplus of £R15 million in 1965 was eliminated in 1966 and turned into a deficit of £R10 million in 1967. This year as well is likely to result in a sizable deficit, illustrating the continued lack of room for manoeuvre in Rhodesia's external payments position.

National income

3. Despite the 30 per cent fall in trade turnover since 1965, the latest figures published by the régime show a rise of about 5 per cent in national income from £R365 million in 1965 to £R383 million in 1967. Although in part a reflection of a successful programme of import substitution and agricultural diversification, the implication of increased prosperity is more apparent than real: a 4.6 per cent rise in prices accounted for most of the increase, and because of population growth real income per head in fact fell by some 6 per cent. Furthermore, in both 1966 and 1967 between 5 and 10 per cent of total income was derived directly, and an additional unknown proportion derived indirectly, from the production of export goods which had to be stockpiled. Net increases in stocks amounted in fact to £R46 million between the end of 1965 and the beginning of 1968. What the figures suggest, therefore, is that Rhodesia has been successful in preventing any fall in general income (a small drop in 1966 was followed by a recovery in 1967), but has nevertheless only been able to stand still in economic terms over the past three years. The 1968 figures, when they become available, are unlikely to show much real rise on 1967 levels.

* See appendix A for details of Rhodesia exports to its main pre-IDI trading partners.

Production

4. The severity of the impact of sanctions has of course varied from sector to sector. Agriculture has perhaps been worst hit. Although total farm output rose by 7 per cent (£R6 million) between 1965 and 1967, nearly 10 per cent of the 1967 total must have consisted of stockpiled tobacco, and the maize crop, which, with an increase of well over 50 per cent (£R6 million) over the two years has been the main factor in the over-all rise, has had to be heavily subsidized by the régime. The tobacco crop for 1968 was further reduced to only 158 million lbs. (250 million lbs. in 1966 and 186 million lbs. in 1967), and the drought early in the year halved the maize harvest, so that total farm output is expected by the régime themselves to have fallen by 10 per cent this year. Even so, the over-all figures do not reveal the extent to which the drop in tobacco production has reduced the profitability of agriculture, and caused a marked rise in the level of farmers' debts.

5. Mining output fell by about 2 per cent in volume between 1965 and 1967 but because of the very much higher copper prices in world markets, the value of output rose by about 5 per cent (compared with a 35 per cent increase in the two years prior to IDI). No figures have been released for 1968: it is believed that chrome and asbestos have become more difficult to sell, but any consequent fall in production has probably been more than offset by increases in nickel output and in the prices secured for gold sales.

6. Successful import substitution has enabled manufacturing output to recover the ground lost in 1966 when its main export markets were cut off, and in the first half of 1968 output was approximately back to 1965 levels. This is unquestionably an impressive achievement. However, it is noteworthy that in 1967 an increase of 5 1/2 per cent in industrial output required a 7 per cent increase in imports into the industrial sector, and that in 1968 the rate of growth has been slower than in 1967. It would seem that further expansion is dependent both on finding new markets outside Rhodesia despite intensified sanctions, and on a favourable over-all export trend to permit increased industrial imports.

7. The other sectors of the economy - distribution, transport, services, etc. - have in general followed the trends in the primary producing sectors. The contribution of transport to the national output has been falling steadily (by about 12 per cent in all between 1965 and 1967), presumably reflecting the effects of reduced trade levels, and the diversion of part of Zambia's trade to alternative routes, on the traffic and profits of the railways. It may also be worth noting that the over-all rise in domestic output (GDP) of £R13 million between 1965 and 1967 was achieved with the help of an officially estimated rise of about 30 per cent (£R6.5 million) in the tribal as opposed to the money economy. This is almost certainly due to the exceptionally good harvests enjoyed in 1967, and is unlikely to have been repeated in 1968.

Employment and migration

8. Official figures show that European employment since IDI has fallen in agriculture (by about 400) and commerce (1,000), but risen in mining (200), manufacturing (1,000) and, most noticeably, in government administration (1,200). The figures do not show that, in addition, about 1,000 tobacco farmers - one third of the total number - have had to give up tobacco farming to turn to less profitable crops; nor do they show that in some cases government direction has prevented firms from dismissing redundant labour. Net European immigration is now running at about 7,000 per annum, compared with 4,500 in 1965, largely due to an increased influx from Zambia: in 1967, the net inflow from countries other than Zambia and Malawi was only 1,400, less than half the comparable 1965 level.

9. The chief change in African employment has been a decrease of over 40,000 in the number employed in agriculture, to some extent offset by a rise of about 20,000 in employment elsewhere. This has emphasized the failure to create enough jobs for the 50,000 or so African school-leavers annually - one of the country's persistent long-term problems, although partially alleviated by a steady reduction in the migrant labour force: net migration of non-indigenous African males amounts to over 25,000 since IDI.

Finance

10. The impact of sanctions on official finance has shown itself in a heavy rise in expenditure. This is now 60 per cent above the pre-IDI level, and the public debt is over 20 per cent higher. Most of the increase is a direct result of the need to meet the costs of sanctions, and in particular to finance the tobacco stockpile which had already cost over £R34 million before the expenditure on the current crop had begun. The actual raising of large amounts of money for stockpiling without causing inflation - prices have risen only by about 7 per cent since 1965 - has been possible because of the continued buoyancy of tax receipts, because of the money locked inside Rhodesia by exchange control and because of restraint in private consumption and investment. However, there has been little permanent benefit to the economy: for example, of the increase of £R11 million in the loan vote expenditure for 1968-69, only £R3 million represents development expenditure. The rest consists mainly of agricultural subsidies.

Impact of sanctions up to mid-1968

11. Although sanctions have kept exports down to only 60 per cent of the 1965 level, economic activity as a whole has recovered the ground lost in 1966 under the immediate impact of sanctions and is now at or slightly above the 1965 level in real terms. This relatively good performance has been due partly to successful import substitution by secondary industry, agricultural diversification and a continued high level of mining output. It has also been partly due to the accident of excellent harvests (until 1968) and to the diversion of valuable resources to the building-up of large stockpiles which have still to be disposed of. Indeed, there has been no growth in real income and no indication of a capacity to achieve sustained growth while sanctions remain in force.

Recent developments and future outlook

12. No relevant official statistics covering the period since the introduction of comprehensive sanctions are available. It is not therefore possible at this stage to do more than record a few impressions of the effect they are having and are likely to have on the Rhodesian economy.
13. We believe that Rhodesia's exports are currently about 10 per cent lower than at this time last year, reflecting a deterioration which began about the middle of the year. Comprehensive sanctions are only one of the factors which have contributed to this recent trend. The others are the drought early in 1968, which is now resulting in lower maize exports; the ending by West Germany of her long-term contracts for Rhodesian asbestos (in March) and of copper (in September); the continued slow fall in exports to Zambia; some evidence, albeit inconclusive, that chrome, ferrochrome and iron ore are becoming more difficult to sell; and the restrictions on some manufactured exports imposed in mid-year by South Africa, which have prevented anticipated rises above 1967 levels.
14. Corresponding to the fall in exports, Rhodesia has reduced her import level by about 5 per cent for the current quota period and is widely reported to be considering a further reduction of up to 10 per cent for the next period (December 1968-March 1969).
15. This somewhat scanty information suggests that - as had been anticipated by the régime - the first half of 1969 is likely to prove a period of strain on Rhodesia's external payments position, with imports held down to a minimum while exports remain below 1967 and 1968 levels. The régime will hope that after mid-1969 a good harvest and increased sales of mineral products (especially nickel), combined with evasions of sanctions at least on the current scale, will ease the position. At the moment, however, it seems equally possible that some of the improvements derived from a good harvest and new mineral products will be offset by diminishing sales of traditional goods because of the cumulative effects of sanctions.
16. Clearly the prospects for the economy internally depend very much on the trend of external trade. Apart from this, however, two factors can be traced - the excellence or otherwise of the harvest next March-April; and the ability of secondary industry to continue its expansion serving the home market. Given a good harvest, agricultural output could rise significantly. Prospects for secondary industry are less encouraging: local industry is in danger of being squeezed both by marginal shortages in and increased costs of imports, and by lack of growth of demand. A further query on Rhodesia's ability to maintain current levels of activity relates to the extent of stockpiling: in 1966 and 1967 it amounted to over £R20 million annually, and despite the further reduction in the tobacco crop it is likely to have been substantial in 1968. If the financial burden of this becomes too great, the sectors concerned may have to reduce their levels of output to correspond with sales. This has to a large extent already occurred in agriculture: a similar realignment of some mining activity is possible.

17. In short, the crucial question for the success of comprehensive mandatory sanctions in 1969 is the willingness of United Nations Member States who are co-operating over sanctions to close the existing sanctions gaps, under which Rhodesian exports worth some £R30 million are still being imported into their countries.
