The Security Council continued its consideration of the question at its 1310th and 1312th meetings, on 28 October 1966. At the 1310th meeting, a joint draft resolution (S/7568), co-sponsored by the United Kingdom and United States, was introduced. Under its operative paragraphs, the Security Council would:

(1) deplore the incidents which had been the subject of the debate as well as the loss of human life and casualties caused by them; (2) remind the Government of Syria to fulfil its obligations by taking all measures to prevent the use of its territory as a base of operation for acts constituting a violation of the Armistice Agreement; (3) call for strict adherence to article III (3) of the Syria-Israel General Armistice Agreement providing that no warlike act or act of hostility shall be conducted from the territory of one of the parties against other parties; (4) call upon the Governments of Syria and Israel, in the light of their statements to the Council, to co-operate fully with United Nations machinery, including the Israel-Syria Mixed Armistice Commission established under article VII of the General Armistice Agreement, for the effective implementation of that Agreement, in order to prevent incidents, and for the same purpose to facilitate the work of United Nations Truce Supervision Organization personnel in their tasks of observation and investigation on both sides of the Armistice Demarcation Line; (5) intend to consider further as soon as possible in the interest of the promotion of lasting peace in the Middle East what steps could be taken on the broader question of Arab-Israeli relations; and (6) request the Secretary-General to follow closely the implementation of the resolution and to take such measures as might be necessary to ensure that the Mixed Armistice Commission and the UNTSO could effectively fulfil the functions assigned to them.

At the 1312th meeting it was agreed to request the Secretary-General to submit two reports - one on the inability of the Israel-Syria Mixed Armistice Commission to function, and the second on the current status of the Demilitarized Zones, covering the North Zone in the first part and Jerusalem and the South in the second part.

74. The question of a recommendation regarding the Secretary-General

The Council considered the question of a recommendation regarding the Secretary-General at its 1311th meeting, held in private on 28 October 1966. The Council unanimously adopted resolution 227 (1966) confirming the consensus adopted at its 1301st meeting on 29 September and recalling that, as a part of that consensus, its members had welcomed the statement of the Secretary-General on 19 September that he was ready to consider serving until the end of the twenty-first session of the General Assembly. The resolution then recommended to the General Assembly, pending further consideration by the Security Council of the question of the appointment of the Secretary-General, that it extend the appointment of U Thant as Secretary-General of the United Nations until the end of the twenty-first regular session of the General Assembly.
