Necessity of ending the economic, commercial and financial embargo imposed by the United States of America against CubaLetter dated 19 October 2004 from the Permanent Representative of Cuba to the United Nations addressed to the Secretary-General

I have the honour to transmit to you herewith the text of the declaration of the Cuban non-governmental organizations participating in the second Forum against the Embargo, held on 15 October 2004 in Havana.

I should be grateful if you would arrange for this letter and its annex to be circulated as a document of the General Assembly under agenda item 28, entitled "Necessity of ending the economic, commercial and financial embargo imposed by the United States of America against Cuba".

Annex to the letter dated 19 October 2004 from the Permanent Representative of Cuba addressed to the Secretary-General

Declaration of the Cuban Non-Governmental Organizations participating in the second Forum against the Embargo

On 28 October 2004 the General Assembly of the United Nations will again discuss and vote on the draft resolution entitled “Necessity of ending the economic, commercial and financial embargo imposed by the United States of America against Cuba”. We all recall, with infinite satisfaction, the nearly unanimous support of the international community for the draft resolution on the item submitted by our country in 2003, calling for an end to the application of extraterritorial laws and measures which contravene universally recognized principles of international law.

As a follow-up to the first Forum against the Embargo, held in October 2003, we, the representatives of Cuban non-governmental organizations, are meeting to demand the immediate and total abolition by the Government of the United States of America of the laws and regulations which support the application of this genocidal policy against Cuba.

The participants meeting in the second Forum against the Embargo have agreed to make the following declaration:

1. The policy of imposing an embargo against Cuba has its origin in the expansionist designs of the United States of America, reflected in our case in the historic desire to annex or dominate Cuba, which has been regarded as government policy by successive United States administrations. The United States intervention in the Spanish-Cuban war in the late nineteenth century cut short the aspirations of the Cuban people, forged through 30 years of hard struggle, for independence and freedom. In 1902 we were granted formal independence. The imposition of the Platt Amendment conferred on the United States the right to intervene in Cuban affairs; despite its repeal, Cuba experienced over half a century of interference and full neocolonial control by the United States over its national life.

2. Since the revolutionary victory, 10 United States administrations have applied, expanded and strengthened the most prolonged economic, commercial and financial embargo in history. Its design and implementation reflect the aim of converting a free and sovereign Cuba into one that would be dependent on and subordinate to the United States. The Cuban people have resisted every kind of assault on their physical and spiritual integrity. They have had to bear this heavy burden in order to support their aspiration for independence and freedom.

3. The fundamental aim of the embargo policy has been and is to defeat the Cuban revolution and the example it sets for the world, to abolish its undeniable and exemplary social and economic gains, in an attempt to erase from the world’s consciousness any hope that a different and better world is possible.

4. The embargo is an illegal act which violates important principles of international law and qualifies as an international crime of genocide, in accordance with the Convention on the Prevention and Punishment of the Crime of Genocide, of 9 December 1948. Several international legal instruments condemn such acts as contrary to the peace and security of humanity.

5. The embargo is the main obstacle to the economic and social development of the Cuban people and has a negative impact on the quality of life of our citizens. Its application, expansion and renewal violate the human rights of all Cubans.

6. The losses to the Cuban economy during the years of the embargo are estimated at $79.325 billion. The true magnitude of the human and moral injury inflicted on our people is incalculable. Nevertheless, we wish to reaffirm our deepest conviction that the embargo is doomed to total failure. The moral values created by the Cuban revolution have defeated the arrogance and strength of the empire. Day by day, the Cuban people accomplish a heroic deed: resisting, under glaringly unequal conditions, the tightest embargo ever imposed and maintained for over 40 years.

7. The embargo prevents Cuba from developing normal economic, commercial, financial, scientific and technical, and cultural ties with the international community — including United States citizens, professionals and businesspeople — in an effort to bring about our country's isolation and surrender by force, hunger and disease. We assert the right to maintain mutually beneficial economic, scientific and technical, and cultural relations without interference, pursuant to internationally recognized norms.

8. The information embargo has sought to conceal the truth about Cuba from the world by fostering a distorted image of our reality and ignoring the great successes achieved by our people in a vain attempt to mar the example of the Revolution and demobilize progressive sectors that defend our ideas of justice and dignity.

9. Cuba poses no threat to the security of the United States. No credible argument can be made to support such a charge. We, however, have been victims of systematic acts of harassment and State terrorism contrary to all ethical and legal principles. The United States Government has been held responsible by Cuban and international courts for illegal acts against our people.

10. We defend the sovereign right of our people to govern themselves in accordance with the social and political system which we have chosen of our own accord and which has been reaffirmed on numerous occasions. Our model of popular participation is an example of genuine democracy adapted to our specific circumstances.

11. We recognize the tremendous efforts being made by our revolutionary Government to maintain and enhance the social gains that distinguish us, in spite of the difficulties our country is facing amid markedly adverse economic conditions, particularly for third world countries. We, the participants in the Forum, reaffirm our full support for the actions undertaken by the revolutionary Government to defeat the attempts to thwart our right to build a better life.

12. We reject and condemn the new measures contained in the report of the so-called Commission for Assistance to a Free Cuba, endorsed with great fanfare on 6 May 2004 by United States President George W. Bush, which not only tighten the restrictions imposed by the embargo but constitute a detailed programme for recolonization of our country by attacking the very foundations of the existence of the Cuban nation. Neither these nor other, even crueller, decisions will end our unwavering support for the revolutionary social project which we have freely chosen.

13. We extend our deepest gratitude to the growing international movement which rejects the escalation of aggression by the United States Government against Cuba, even within the United States; to the intellectuals, parliamentarians, representatives of NGOs, fighters for social justice and all who defend the right of the Cuban nation to exist in the face of pressures and blackmail of every kind.

14. We call upon global civil society to repudiate the embargo and the hostile policy of the United States towards Cuba, and urge the Member States of the United Nations to vote in favour of the draft resolution submitted by our country, calling for the immediate cessation of the genocidal embargo which violates international law and affects other countries in the world community.

15. We, the representatives of Cuban non-governmental organizations, declare our unconditional loyalty to our homeland, to socialism and to Fidel. We reaffirm our identification with the goals of the Revolution and its destiny, which are the same as ours.
