

Economic and Social Council

Distr.: General
6 September 2006

Original: English

---

Resumed substantive session of 2006

September 2006

Agenda item 1

Adoption of the agenda and other organizational matters

Appointment of members of the Committee for Development Policy

Note by the Secretary-General

1. In accordance with Economic and Social Council resolutions 1998/46 and 1998/47, the Secretary-General has the honour to nominate the 24 experts whose names and titles are listed below for appointment, in their personal capacity, as members of the Committee for Development Policy for a three-year term beginning on 1 January 2007 and expiring on 31 December 2009 (see annex I).

2. In making these nominations, the Secretary-General has taken into account the Committee's need to have diversity of development experience comprising ecologists, economists and social scientists, as well as geographical balance, gender balance and a balance between continuity and change in the membership of the Committee. Biographical information on the persons nominated is set out in annex II.

Annex I

Nominees for appointment to the Committee for Development Policy

Bina Agarwal (India) Professor of Economics, Institute of Economic Growth, Delhi University

José Antonio Alonso (Spain) Director, Instituto Complutense de Estudios Internacionales, Complutense University of Madrid

Lourdes Arizpe (Mexico) Professor, Regional Center for Multidisciplinary Research, National University of Mexico

Tariq Banuri (Pakistan) Director, Asia Centre, Stockholm Environment Institute

Albert Binger (Jamaica)* Director, Centre for Environment and Development, University of the West Indies

Olav Bjerkholt (Norway)* Professor of Economics, University of Oslo

Kwesi Botchwey (Ghana) Executive Chairman, Africa Development Policy Ownership Initiative

Gui Ying Cao (China)* Research Scholar, International Institute for Applied Systems Analysis

Ricardo Ffrench-Davis (Chile) Principal adviser at the Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean; Professor of Economics at the University of Chile

Stanisława Golinowska (Poland) Professor, Jagiellonian University

Patrick Guillaumont (France)* Chairman, Centre for Study and Research for International Development

Philippe Hein (Mauritius) Visiting Fellow, Centre for Applied Social Research, University of Mauritius

Hiroya Ichikawa (Japan)* Professor of Economics, Faculty of Liberal Arts and Graduate School for Global Studies, Sophia University

Willene Johnson (United States of America)* Adjunct member of the faculty of Cornell University in the Department of Applied Economics and Management

Martin Khor (Malaysia) Director of Third World Network

Amina Mama (South Africa) Chair of Gender Studies, African Gender Institute, University of Cape Town

Hans Opschoor (the Netherlands) Professor of Sustainable Development Economics, Institute of Social Studies

Suchitra Punyaratabandhu (Thailand)* Associate Professor, Graduate School of Public Administration, National Institute of Development Administration

Fatima Sadiqi (Morocco) President, Center for Studies and Research on Women

---

* Nominated for reappointment as a member of the Committee.

Frances Stewart (United Kingdom) Professor of Development Economics,
University of Oxford

Diana Tussie (Argentina) Director, Research Programme on International Economic Institutions, Facultad Latinoamericana de Ciencias Sociales

Milica Uvalic (Serbia) Professor, Department of Economics, Finance and Statistics, University of Perugia

Anatoly Vishnevsky (Russian Federation) Director, Centre for Demography and Human Ecology, Institute for Economic Forecasting

Samuel Wangwe (United Republic of Tanzania)* Principal Research Associate, Economic and Social Research Foundation

Annex II

Biographical information on the nominees for appointment to the Committee for Development Policy

Bina Agarwal (India). Professor of Economics, Institute of Economic Growth, Delhi University. Also held positions at Harvard University, Princeton University, Columbia University, the University of Michigan, the University of Minnesota, and the University of Sussex. Previous positions include: Vice-President of the International Economic Association; first Southern President of the International Association For Feminist Economics; Board member of the Global Development Network since inception; and founder member of Indian Society for Ecological Economics. An international award-winning author of eight books and numerous professional papers on subjects such as livelihoods and property rights; environment and development; the political economy of gender; poverty and inequality; law; and agriculture and technological change. Received a master's degree in economics from Cambridge University, United Kingdom, and a doctorate degree from Delhi School of Economics, Delhi University.

José Antonio Alonso (Spain). Director, Instituto Complutense de Estudios Internacionales; Director of the postgraduate programme on development and international aid; Professor of Applied Economics, Complutense University of Madrid; Expert for the Development Cooperation Council of Spain; co-founder and President of the Association of Spanish Specialists in Development. Previous positions include: Vice-Chancellor of Menéndez Pelayo International University, Madrid/Santander; Director of Economic Cooperation, Instituto de Cooperación Iberoamericano; and Adviser to the Conference of Ibero-American Planning Ministers. Has published books and articles on growth and economic development, international development cooperation, Spanish and European relations with Latin America, and globalization. Received a doctorate degree from Complutense University of Madrid.

Lourdes Arizpe (Mexico). Professor, Regional Center for Multidisciplinary Research, National University of Mexico; President, International Social Science Council; President, Board of the United Nations Research Institute for Social Development. Member of several national and international bodies such as the Academic Faculty of the Economic Global Forum; Jury for the award for International Scientific Cooperation, American Association for the Advancement of Science; Advisory Council, Institute of Social Studies; Governing Board, Mexican Council to Prevent Discrimination. Previous positions include: Assistant Director-General for Culture, the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO); Secretary, Mexican Academy of Science; and Director, Institute of Anthropological Research. Has published books and articles on culture and development, anthropology, women and migration. Received a doctorate from the London School of Economics and Political Science.

Tariq Banuri (Pakistan). Director, Asia Centre, Stockholm Environment Institute, and Chairman, Board of Governors, International Centre for Trade and Sustainable Development. Member of several advisory bodies and actively involved in several global public policy and research networks. Previous positions include: Senior Research Director, Stockholm Environment Institute, Boston; founding member and chief executive of the Sustainable Development Policy Institute; Environmental Policy Adviser, World Conservation Union-Pakistan; Visiting Lecturer at Harvard University. Has served on various national policy development bodies and published books and articles on sustainable development, public policies and governance. Received a doctorate degree in economics from Harvard University.

Albert Binger (Jamaica). Professor and Director, Centre for Environment and Development, University of the West Indies, Jamaica. Previous positions include: Chair and Director of Global Environment Division of the Rockefeller Foundation, New York; President, Biomass Users Network, Costa Rica; Director of the Agricultural Development Programme, Office of the Prime Minister, Jamaica. Has published articles on energy and environment, with particular focus on renewable energy sources, sustainable development and global environmental protection. Received a doctorate degree in agronomy from the University of Georgia (United States).

Olav Bjerkholt (Norway). Professor of Economics, University of Oslo. Previous positions include: head of research department at Statistics Norway. Has conducted consultancies on fiscal policy, development planning, macroeconomic modelling and environmental statistics for the United Nations, the International Monetary Fund and other international organizations. Has published books and articles in the areas of modelling, natural resource economics, disarmament, among others. Received a master's degree in economics from the University of Oslo.

Kwesi Botchwey (Ghana). Executive Chairman, Africa Development Policy Ownership Initiative; Professor of Practice of Development Economics, The Fletcher School, Tufts University. Previous positions include: Senior Research Scholar, The Earth Institute, Columbia University; Director, Africa Programs and Research, Center for International Development, Harvard University; Development Adviser, Harvard Institute for International Development; Minister of Finance of Ghana. Has been Chairman of the Economic Committee of the Global Coalition for Africa; Chairman of the Executive Board, African Capacity Building Foundation; Member of the African Economic Research Consortium Board; and Chairman of the African Population Advisory Committee. Has published books and articles on economic development in Africa. Received a doctorate degree in juridical science from the University of Michigan Law School.

Gui Ying Cao (China). Research Scholar, International Institute for Applied Systems Analysis, Austria. Previous positions include: Consultant, Ludwig-Boltzmann Institute for China and South Asia Research; Researcher, the Chinese Academy of Social Sciences; Official at the Ministry of Labour and Social Welfare of China, as well as the National Bank of China. Her major publications focus on population, labour, urbanization and related development policies. Received her doctorate degree in sociology from the Department of Economics of the University of Vienna; completed her economics studies at Tianjin University, China, and her demography studies at the Chinese Academy of Social Science.

Ricardo Ffrench-Davis (Chile). Principal adviser at the Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean (ECLAC), and Professor of Economics at the University of Chile. Also co-director of the Macroeconomics Task Force of the Initiative for Policy Dialogue, led by Joseph Stiglitz at Columbia University. Previous positions include: Director of Research, Central Bank of Chile; Vice-President, Center for Economic Research on Latin America. Represented President

Ricardo Lagos in the Initiative to Fight Hunger and Poverty. He has published 19 books and over 120 articles on international trade and finance, development strategies and Latin American economies. Received a doctorate degree in economics from the University of Chicago. In 2005, he was awarded the Chilean National Prize for the Humanities and Social Sciences.

Stanisława Golinowska (Poland). Professor of Social Policy, Economics of Health and Social Security, Jagiellonian University; Manager, Institute for Public Health; and Vice-Chairman and Coordinator of Research Projects, Centre for Social and Economic Research. Previous positions include: Manager, Institute of Labour and Social Studies, and adviser to the Polish Government as a member of the Council of Economic and Social Strategy. Participated in several international research projects and advisory missions. Author and editor of various United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) Human Development Reports for Poland, and has published books and articles on social aspects of economics and social policy reforms in Poland and economies in transition. Received a doctorate degree in economics from Warsaw University.

Patrick Guillaumont (France). Chairman, Centre for Study and Research for International Development, and Professor, University of Auvergne; President, Fondation pour les études et recherches sur le développement international; Director, Revue d'économie du développement; and member of several national and international advisory bodies on Africa and development issues, notably on least developed countries. Previous positions include: member, National Science Research Council; Chairman of the Commission for the Study of Research and Teaching of International Development, Dean of the Faculty of Economics, University of Clermont-Ferrand; Professor at the University of Dakar. Has published books and articles on economic development. Received a doctorate degree from the University of Paris.

Philippe Hein (Mauritius). Visiting Fellow, Centre for Applied Social Research, University of Mauritius. Previous positions include: United Nations Conference on Trade and Development, where he worked on issues related to least developed countries and island developing countries, as well in the management of technical cooperation programmes; joined the United Nations in the context of the preparation of the First United Nations Conference on Least Developed Countries in 1981; Director of the Mauritius Employers Federation; senior manager in a leading business corporation based in Mauritius. He has undertaken assignments in more than 35 developing countries. Has published on trade and development issues. Received a doctorate degree from the University of Aix-Marseille.

Hiroya Ichikawa (Japan). Professor of Economics, Faculty of Liberal Arts and Graduate School for Global Studies, Sophia University. Currently member of the advisory committee on Japan-China Environmental Cooperation for the Minister of Environment. Previous positions include: Director, Sophia University Institute of Comparative Culture; Visiting Scholar at Oxford University; member of advisory committee to Minister for Foreign Affairs for Japanese official development assistance (ODA) policy; senior positions in Keidanren (Japanese Federation of Economic Organizations); economic attaché at the Japanese Embassy in the United Kingdom; and consultant on United States-Japan trade issues in Washington, D.C.. Has published books and articles on econometrics, Japanese macroeconomic policies, environmental issues, development issues and World Trade Organization negotiations. Received a doctorate degree from Victoria University of Wellington.

Willene Johnson (United States of America). Adjunct member of the faculty of Cornell University, Department of Applied Economics and Management. Previous positions include: Adviser, Division of International Finance, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System; United States Executive Director, African Development Bank, Abidjan; and Vice-President, Federal Reserve Bank of New York, with assignments in economic research, foreign exchange, international financial markets and international affairs. Conducted research on education in the United States and on anthropology and maternal and child health in South America. Active in several professional organizations. Has written extensively covering a wide area of development issues. Received a doctorate degree in economic development from Columbia University.

Martin Khor (Malaysia). Director of Third World Network, a network of several non-government organizations in different parts of the developing world. He is also honorary secretary of the Consumers' Association of Penang in Malaysia, and a board member of the South Centre in Geneva and the International Forum on Globalization. Previous positions include: Vice-Chairman of the Expert Group on the Right to Development of the United Nations Commission on Human Rights; involved in several United Nations research studies; Lecturer in economics, Science University of Malaysia. He is also managing editor of Third World Resurgence and editor of Third World Economics, and has authored books and articles on trade, development and environment issues. Received a master's degree in economics from the University of Cambridge.

Amina Mama (South Africa). Chair of Gender Studies, African Gender Institute, University of Cape Town; Chair of the Board of Directors, Global Fund for Women; Member, Board of Directors of the United Nations Research Institute for Social Development and of the Institute for African Studies, University of Ghana; Member of editorial and advisory boards of eight academic journals in the areas of feminist studies, development studies and human rights. Previous positions include: Director and academic Head of Department, African Gender Institute, and positions at the Institute of Social Studies, The Hague, and the University of Bradford. She has also been engaged in development work and research in Africa and the Caribbean. She has published books and articles on gender issues and development. Carried out her graduate studies at the London School of Economics and Political Science and Birbeck College.

Hans Opschoor (the Netherlands). Professor of Sustainable Development Economics, Institute of Social Studies; Professor of Environmental Economics, Free University Amsterdam; Member, Board of Supervisors, Royal Haskoning BV; and Member, Royal Netherlands Academy of Sciences. Previous positions include: Rector, Institute of Social Studies; Chair, Netherlands' Advisory Council on Nature and Environmental Research; Director, Institute of Environmental Studies, Free Universiteit Amsterdam; and Senior Research Fellow and Acting Director, National Institute for Research, University of Botswana. He holds honorary professorships at the Chinese Academy of Sciences (Research Centre for Eco-Environmental Studies, Beijing) and at Nanjing Agricultural University (College of Land Management). Has edited and published books and articles on issues related to sustainable development. Received a doctorate degree from Free University Amsterdam.

Suchitra Punyaratabandhu (Thailand). Associate Professor, Graduate School of Public Administration, National Institute of Development Administration (NIDA); Vice-President, Foundation for the Promotion of Women and Youth Welfare Under the Royal Patronage of H.H. the Princess Galyani Nivadhana; Chairperson, Foundation for Thirty Years of Public Administration. Previous positions include: Dean, School of Public Administration, NIDA; President, Faculty Senate; Vice President for Administration, NIDA; Director, NIDA Research Center; membership on several national committees addressing public administration, management and structural adjustment. Has published books and articles in the areas of public administration, public policy and urban government. Received a doctorate degree in political science from the University of California, Berkeley.

Fatima Sadiqi (Morocco). President, Centre for Studies and Research on Women and the newly created non-governmental organization ISIS for Women and Development (Fez); Professor of Linguistics and Gender Studies (University of Fez); Visiting Professor of Women Studies and Islamic Religious Studies, Harvard University; Editor-in-Chief of the journal Languages and Linguistics; Member, editorial board of Gender and Language; and National Coordinator of SafetyNET. Has organized four international conferences and served on national and international committees such as the Language-Based Area Studies initiative on China, Japan, Eastern Europe and the Arabic-speaking world. She has published books and articles on women, gender, Islam and language. Received a doctorate degree in theoretical linguistics from Essex University.

Frances Stewart (United Kingdom). Professor of Development Economics and Director, Centre for Research on Inequality, Human Security and Ethnicity, Queen Elizabeth House and Fellow of Somerville College, University of Oxford. Previous positions include: Consultant to the World Bank, the Ford Foundation, the International Development Research Centre, the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development, and United Nations agencies; Special Adviser on Adjustment Policies to the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF); Lecturer at the University of East Africa in Nairobi. She has contributed to, edited and published books and articles on international development topics. Specializes in human development and the economic and social causes and consequences of conflict. Received a doctoral degree in economics from the University of Oxford.

Diana Tussie (Argentina). Director, Research Programme on International Economic Institutions, and Professor, Department of International Relations, Facultad Latinoamericana de Ciencias Sociales, Argentina; Director, Latin American Trade Network; and Professor, National Foreign Service Institute of Argentina. Previous positions include: Member of the Panel for Strategic Review of Technical Assistance of the World Trade Organization; Member, High Level External Advisory Panel, World Bank, Trade Assistance Evaluation; engaged in the evaluation of the Group of 24 for the International Development Research Centre, Canada; evaluation of the Strategy for Regional Integration, Inter-American Development Bank; consultant to national and international organizations. Has published books and articles on economic development. Received a doctorate degree in international relations and economics from the London School of Economics and Political Science.

Milica Uvalic (Serbia). Professor in Economics, Department of Economics, Finance and Statistics, University of Perugia. Previous positions include: Director, Institute of Economic Studies, University of Perugia; Vice-Minister, Federal Ministry for Foreign Economic Relations, Federal Republic of Yugoslavia; Researcher, European University Institute; consultant to national organizations such as the Slovenian Ministry for Higher Education, the National Bank of Yugoslavia, the Swedish National Labour Market Board, and United Nations agencies. Author and editor of books and articles on economies in transition, regional cooperation and integration. Received a doctorate degree in economics from the European University Institute, Florence.

Anatoly Vishnevsky (Russian Federation). Director, Centre for Demography and Human Ecology, Institute for Economic Forecasting, Russian Academy of Sciences; member of Scientific Board, Security Council of the Russian Federation. Previous positions include: Head of department of demography, Institute for Socio-Economic Studies of Population, USSR Academy of Sciences and the State Committee for Labour; member of Resource Group of the High-level Panel on Threats, Challenges and Change established by the Secretary-General; and member of the Steering Committee of the UNESCO Management of Social Transformations programme. He has also been a visiting professor at universities in France. Author and editor of books and articles on demographic processes and development. Received a doctorate degree in economics from the Institute for Systems Studies, USSR Academy of Sciences.

Samuel Wangwe (United Republic of Tanzania). Principal Research Associate, Economic and Social Research Foundation; Chairman of Daima Associates Limited, a development consulting firm in the United Republic of Tanzania. Previous positions include: Policy Adviser Coordination, President's Office, Public Service Management, in Dar es Salaam; Executive Director, Economic and Social Research Foundation; Senior Research Fellow, United Nations University, the Institute for New Technologies in Maastricht; and Professor of Economics, Department of Economics, University of Dar es Salaam. Was awarded visiting fellowships to various universities and research institutions and consulted for national, regional and international organizations. Has written books and articles on economic development and Africa. Received a doctorate degree in economics from the University of Dar es Salaam.

---