UNITED NATIONS COMMAND COMMUNIQUE NO. 1,571,
ISSUED IN TOKYO 10:00 A.M., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 1, 1953
(KOREAN TIME)

Three minor enemy probes in the east central sector of the front and routine patrol activity comprised the action in Korea yesterday as ground fighting came to a near-standstill.

Carrier-based aircraft of the United Nations Command Fleet concentrated on targets between Wonsan and Songjin on the east coast and near Haeju in the west. Surface elements shelled frontline positions.

United Nations Command fighter bombers struck at troop and supply centers in central and western North Korea and at anchor points on both ends of the battle line, while light and medium bombers hit other frontline and supply areas.
