NOTE

The resolutions and decisions of the Economic and Social Council are identified as follows:

Resolutions

Until 1977 (up to and including the resumed sixty-third session), the resolutions of the Economic and Social Council were numbered consecutively and were identified by an arabic numeral followed by an indication of the session in parentheses (for example: resolution 1733 (LIV), resolution 1915 (ORG-75), resolution 2046 (S-III), adopted at the fifty-fourth session, the organizational session for 1975 and the third special session, respectively). When several resolutions were adopted under the same number, each of them was identified by a capital letter (for example: resolution 1926 B (LVIII), resolutions 1954 A to D (LIX)). The last resolution so numbered is resolution 2130 (LXIII), of 14 December 1977.

Since 1978, as part of the new system adopted for symbols of Council documents, the resolutions have been numbered on a yearly basis and identified by two arabic numerals separated by an oblique stroke, the first numeral indicating the year, the second the number of the resolution in the annual series (for example: resolution 1990/47).

Decisions

Until 1973 (up to and including the resumed fifty-fifth session), the decisions of the Council were not numbered. From 1974 to 1977 (up to and including the resumed sixty-third session), the decisions were numbered consecutively and were identified by an arabic numeral followed by an indication of the session in parentheses (for example: decision 64 (ORG-75), decision 78 (LVIII), adopted at the organizational session for 1975 and the fifty-eighth session, respectively). The last decision so numbered is decision 293 (LXIII), of 2 December 1977.

Since 1978, as part of the new system adopted for symbols of Council documents, the decisions have been numbered on a yearly basis and identified by two arabic numerals separated by an oblique stroke, the first numeral indicating the year, the second the number of the decision in the annual series (for example: decision 1990/224).

Reaffirming the need to strengthen the United Nations with a view to enhancing its authority and efficiency, as well as its capacity to address effectively, and in accordance with the purposes and principles of the Charter of the United Nations, the full range of development challenges of our time, and emphasizing that operational activities for development of the United Nations system should be valued and assessed on the basis of their impact on the programme countries as contributions to enhancing their capacity to pursue poverty eradication, sustained economic growth and sustainable development,

Acknowledging the importance of delivering assistance in order to overcome the challenges to improving human life through the implementation of resolution 62/208,

Recalling the role of the Economic and Social Council in providing coordination and guidance to the United Nations system so as to ensure that policy orientations established by the General Assembly are implemented on a system-wide basis in accordance with Assembly resolutions 57/270 B of 23 June 2003, 61/16 of 20 November 2006 and 62/208 and other relevant resolutions,

25. Stresses that the contribution of non-resident agencies in country programming processes, in response to the priorities of national Governments, should be appropriately facilitated, as necessary, by working through the resident coordinator system and by strengthening the accountability of the resident coordinator, and underlines the need for participating non-resident agencies, where they have commitments in relation to programme planning and implementation, to provide the resources necessary to fulfil those commitments;

26. Requests United Nations system organizations to support efforts by the United Nations Development Group to strengthen the capability of the United Nations system for improving the process through which resident coordinators are selected and trained, as well as for attracting and retaining suitable and high-performing resident coordinators, without infringing upon or prejudging the decisions of the General Assembly;

30. Encourages the United Nations development system to assess, when appropriate, the adequacy of human resource capacities in United Nations country teams with a view to improving their capacity to deliver results in response to the priorities set out in the United Nations Development Assistance Framework, in line with national development priorities and plans;

32. Recalls paragraphs 125 and 126 of resolution 62/208 and the need to adopt comprehensive policies and strategies for human resources and workforce planning and development, and in this regard stresses the need to address obstacles to inter-agency mobility, the rapid deployment of qualified national and international staff to situations of crisis and the transparency and competitiveness of recruitment processes for senior high-level posts, while not infringing upon or prejudging the decisions of the Assembly, and to integrate these issues into the annual reports on results achieved and measures and processes implemented in follow-up to resolution 62/208;

Funding of operational activities for development of the United Nations system

33. Takes note of the report of the Secretary-General on the comprehensive statistical analysis of the financing of operational activities for development of the United Nations system for 2007⁴ and notes the progress made on broadening and improving the reporting, in line with paragraph 28 of resolution 62/208, and in this regard requests that future reports include further analysis of the current situation and perspectives in respect of core and non-core funding for the United Nations development system;

34. Also takes note of the note by the Secretary-General on the review of trends and perspectives in funding for development cooperation;⁵

35. Stresses that core resources, because of their untied nature, continue to be the bedrock of operational activities for development of the United Nations system;

36. Notes that non-core resources represent an important supplement to the regular resource base of the United Nations development system for supporting operational activities for development, thus contributing to an increase in total resources, while recognizing that non-core resources are not a substitute for core resources and that non-earmarked contributions are vital for the coherence and harmonization of operational activities for development;

37. Notes with concern the continuing imbalance between the core and non-core resources received for operational activities for development of the United Nations system and the potential negative impact of non-core funding on the coordination and effectiveness of United Nations operational activities for development at the country level, while recognizing that thematic trust funds, multi-donor trust funds and other voluntary non-earmarked funding mechanisms linked to organization-specific funding frameworks and strategies, as established by the respective governing bodies, constitute some of the funding modalities that are complementary to regular budgets;

38. Also notes with concern the negative impact of the financial crisis, and urges countries in a position to do so to increase their voluntary contributions to the United Nations development system, on a predictable basis, to support development activities at the country level;

39. Calls upon the United Nations development system to strengthen its ability to support efforts at the country level to mitigate the impact of the crisis;

40. Recalls the request by the General Assembly, in paragraph 23 of its resolution 59/250 of 22 December 2004, that the Economic and Social Council undertake triennially a comprehensive review of trends and perspectives in funding for development cooperation, and requests the Secretary-General to integrate all the elements of that review into his biennial report to the Development Cooperation Forum as of 2012;

⁴ A/64/75-E/2009/59.

⁵ E/2009/85.

41. Emphasizes that increasing financial contributions to the United Nations development system is key to achieving the internationally agreed development goals, including the Millennium Development Goals, and in this regard recognizes the mutually reinforcing links among increased effectiveness, efficiency and coherence of the United Nations development system, the achievement of concrete results in assisting developing countries in eradicating poverty and achieving sustained economic growth and sustainable development through operational activities for development, and the overall resourcing of the United Nations development system;

Simplification and harmonization of the United Nations development system

42. Takes note of the actions taken by the executive boards and governing bodies of the United Nations funds and programmes and the specialized agencies in the area of simplification and harmonization of the United Nations development system to reduce transaction costs, to enhance efficiency and to achieve financial savings, to be invested back in country programmes;

43. Encourages United Nations system organizations to continue to work towards simplification and harmonization under the guidance of their executive boards and governing bodies;

44. Notes that, while progress is being made towards the simplification and harmonization of business practices within the United Nations development system, many procedures require further harmonization, as identified in the Plan of Action for the Harmonization of Business Practices in the United Nations System, developed by the High-level Committee on Management of the United Nations System Chief Executives Board for Coordination and its functional networks,⁶ and requests the United Nations funds and programmes and the specialized agencies to explore sources of financing to support the implementation of this Plan, including through discussions with their respective governing bodies on the allocation of funds through their respective support budgets;

45. Urges the Secretary-General, through the High-level Committee, to step up efforts to standardize and harmonize the concepts, practices and cost classifications related to transaction costs and cost recovery, while maintaining the principle of full cost recovery in the administration of all non-core/supplementary/extrabudgetary contributions, including in joint programmes;

46. Recalls the importance of continuing to strengthen national execution, bearing in mind the importance of building national capacity, simplifying procedures and aligning those procedures with national procedures;

47. Requests the United Nations funds and programmes and the specialized agencies that practise cash transfer to accelerate the roll-out of the harmonized approach to cash transfers;

48. Urges the United Nations funds and programmes and encourages the specialized agencies to ensure that adequate information is included in the existing reporting on simplification and harmonization to their respective executive boards and governing bodies so as to enable intergovernmental bodies to make informed decisions on policy changes in a timely manner, and requests the Secretary-General, in his capacity as Chair of the United Nations System Chief Executives Board for Coordination, to ensure that information on the Plan of Action for the Harmonization of Business Practices, as well as periodically updated information on its implementation, including related costs and possible savings, is made available.

2009/6. Joint United Nations Programme on HIV/AIDS (UNAIDS)

The Economic and Social Council,

Recalling its resolution 2007/32 of 27 July 2007,

Welcoming the report of the Executive Director of the Joint United Nations Programme on HIV/AIDS (UNAIDS),²² and expressing its appreciation for the concerted efforts of the secretariat of the Joint Programme and its co-sponsoring agencies in fighting HIV/AIDS,

²¹ A/63/538-E/2009/4, annex.

²² See E/2009/70.

Recalling the goals and targets set forth in the Declaration of Commitment on HIV/AIDS, adopted by the General Assembly at its twenty-sixth special session, held in 2001,²³ the 2005 World Summit Outcome¹⁸ and the Political Declaration on HIV/AIDS, adopted by the Assembly at its High-level Meeting on HIV/AIDS, held in 2006,²⁴ as well as the HIV/AIDS-related goals contained in the United Nations Millennium Declaration of 2000,²⁵

Recognizing that HIV/AIDS constitutes a global emergency, poses one of the most formidable challenges to the development, progress and stability of individual societies and the world at large and requires an exceptional and comprehensive global response, while acknowledging the need to maximize synergies between the AIDS response and the broader health and development agendas in a timely manner,

Expressing serious concern about the continued global spread of HIV/AIDS, which exacerbates poverty and gender inequalities and poses a major public-health challenge and a threat to economic and social development and to food security in heavily affected regions,

Expressing serious concern also about the lack of progress, twenty-eight years into the HIV/AIDS pandemic, in developing effective prevention technologies, including an HIV vaccine, and recognizing that ensuring sustained financial and political support for research and development over the long term will be a critical factor in finding effective prevention technologies,

Acknowledging the adverse impact of the global economic and financial crisis on funding for the AIDS response and the need to mitigate its impact on the gap that already exists between available resources and the human, technical and financial resources necessary to combat HIV/AIDS,

Recognizing the contribution of new, voluntary and innovative financing approaches and initiatives, such as the International Drug Purchase Facility, UNITAID, as well as the need to support and strengthen existing financial mechanisms, including the Global Fund to Fight AIDS, Tuberculosis and Malaria, and relevant United Nations organizations, through the provision of funds in a sustained manner in order to address the funding gap and thereby to ensure an effective and successful response to the HIV/AIDS pandemic,

Reaffirming the importance of global coordination efforts to scale up sustainable, intensified and comprehensive HIV/AIDS responses, in a comprehensive and inclusive partnership, as called for in the Political Declaration on HIV/AIDS, with people living with HIV, vulnerable groups, most affected communities, civil society and the private sector, within the framework of the “Three Ones” principles,

1. Urges the Joint United Nations Programme on HIV/AIDS (UNAIDS) and other relevant organizations and bodies of the United Nations system to intensify their support to Governments, with a view to achieving the goals contained in the United Nations Millennium Declaration²⁵ and the goals and targets contained in the Declaration of Commitment on HIV/AIDS,²³ the 2005 World Summit Outcome¹⁸ and the Political Declaration on HIV/AIDS;²⁴

2. Commends the support provided by the Joint Programme to the process of achieving universal access to prevention, treatment, care and support by 2010, in particular its assistance to countries in setting their national targets for universal access;

3. Welcomes the submission by Member States of a total of one hundred and forty-seven country progress reports in 2008 as part of the reporting process set out in the Declaration of Commitment on HIV/AIDS, which provided the most comprehensive overview to date of the response at the country level, and encourages all Member States to provide full support for the next round of reports, due on 31 March 2010;

²⁵ See General Assembly resolution 55/2.

Resolutions

4. Acknowledges the insidious and persistent drivers of the epidemic, in particular stigma, discrimination, gender inequality, socio-economic inequality and lack of respect for human rights, also acknowledges that in some cases food insecurity and displacements, for example, can lead to increased vulnerability, and encourages intensified analysis and advocacy by the Joint Programme to ensure that underlying obstacles to universal access are understood and appropriately addressed at all levels and in all settings, including through services to underserved and vulnerable populations;

5. Emphasizes the importance of comprehensive, evidence-informed HIV prevention programmes as an essential element of national, regional and international responses, through which actions and policies are tailored to the local profile of the epidemic, and commits to further intensifying efforts in this regard;

6. Welcomes the publication entitled “Joint Action for Results: UNAIDS Outcome Framework 2009–2011”,²⁶ for moving towards the goal of universal access, including the recognition by the Joint Programme of the need to improve the effectiveness of efforts to prevent the sexual transmission of HIV, the elimination of vertical transmission from mother to child and the importance of linking HIV and sexual and reproductive health;

7. Recognizes the need to link the AIDS response more closely with the overall response to achieving the Millennium Development Goals, particularly those related to health;

8. Acknowledges the need to address the underlying obstacles to the achievement of the goal of universal access to prevention, treatment, care and support, including the gap in available human, technical and financial resources, as well as inadequately functioning health systems, in order to ensure an effective and successful response to HIV/AIDS;

9. Reaffirms the right to use, to the full, the provisions contained in the World Trade Organization Agreement on Trade-related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights (TRIPS Agreement),²⁷ the Doha Declaration on the TRIPS Agreement and Public Health,²⁸ the decision of the General Council of the World Trade Organization of 30 August 2003 on the implementation of paragraph 6 of the Doha Declaration on the TRIPS Agreement and Public Health,²⁹ and, when formal acceptance procedures have been completed, the amendments to article 31 of the TRIPS Agreement, adopted by the General Council of the World Trade Organization in its decision of 6 December 2005,³⁰ which provide flexibilities for the protection of public health, and, in particular, to promote access to medicines for all, and also calls for a broad and timely acceptance of the amendment to article 31 of the TRIPS Agreement;

10. Recalls the Global Strategy and Plan of Action on Public Health, Innovation and Intellectual Property, adopted by the World Health Assembly,³¹ and urges States, the relevant international organizations and other relevant stakeholders to actively support its wide implementation;

11. Urges Governments to prioritize and expand access to the prevention and treatment of HIV-related opportunistic infections, to promote access to and the effective use of safe and effective antiretroviral drugs of assured quality, at affordable prices, and to support both biomedical and socio-economic research on new products to prevent HIV infection, including those controlled by women, diagnostics, medicines and other treatment commodities and technologies related to HIV;

Taking note with satisfaction of the report of the Secretary-General on the progress made in the implementation of and follow-up to the outcomes of the World Summit at the regional and international levels,³⁵

Taking note of the respective reports of the Council of Europe, the Department of Economic and Social Affairs of the Secretariat, the Economic Commission for Africa, the Economic Commission for Europe, the Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean, the Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific, the Economic and Social Commission for Western Asia, the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, the Global Alliance for Information and Communication Technologies and Development, the Internet Governance Forum, the International Trade Centre UNCTAD/WTO, the International Telecommunication Union, the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, the United Nations Industrial Development Organization, the Universal Postal Union, the World Health Organization, the World Intellectual Property Organization and the World Meteorological Organization, all of which were used as inputs to the report of the Secretary-General,

Taking stock: reviewing the implementation of the outcomes of the World Summit on the Information Society

1. Reaffirms that information and communications technologies have the potential to provide new solutions to development challenges;
2. Recognizes that the economic downturn has led to a slowdown in investment, but at the same time notes the resilience of the information and communications technology sectors and their potential contribution to speeding up global economic recovery;
3. Notes that, while the digital divide may be shrinking in some areas, many challenges remain, with large disparities still existing in terms of access to information and communications technologies and knowledge, penetration and affordability, both between developed and developing countries and within countries and regions, and, moreover, new forms of digital divide emerging with regard to broadband access and local digital content;
4. Stresses the need to bridge the digital divide and to ensure that the benefits of new technologies, especially information and communications technologies, are available to all, a need that poses a challenge for many countries, which are forced to choose between many competing objectives in their development planning and in demands for development funds, while having limited resources;
5. Notes with dissatisfaction that, for the majority of the poor, the developmental promise of science and technology, including information and communications technologies, remains unfulfilled, and emphasizes the need to effectively harness technology, including information and communications technologies, to bridge the digital divide;
6. Recognizes that information and communications technologies present new opportunities and challenges and that there is a pressing need to address the major impediments that developing countries face in accessing new technologies, such as insufficient resources, infrastructure, education, capacity, investment and connectivity and issues related to technology ownership, standards and flows, and in this regard calls upon all stakeholders to provide adequate resources, enhanced capacity-building and transfer of technology to developing countries, particularly the least developed countries;
7. Notes that considerable efforts were undertaken and progress was made in 2008 towards the implementation of the outcomes of the World Summit on the Information Society and that numerous activities have been reported by the different entities of the United Nations system,

³⁵ A/64/64-E/2009/10.

Resolutions

although various relevant activities by non-governmental actors were not reflected by the reporting mechanism in place;

8. Takes note of the respective reports of many United Nations entities, with their own executive summaries, submitted as inputs for the preparation of the annual report of the Secretary-General to the Commission on Science and Technology for Development and published on the website of the Commission, as mandated by the Economic and Social Council in its resolution 2007/8;

9. Notes the holding of the cluster of events related to the World Summit in an improved format, renamed the World Summit on the Information Society Forum 2009, organized by the International Telecommunication Union, the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development and the United Nations Development Programme to facilitate the implementation of the World Summit action lines, and notes that the inclusiveness, interactivity and depth of the discussions of the Forum on the implementation of those action lines in a multi-stakeholder framework can be further enhanced;

10. Recalls the importance of close coordination among the leading action line facilitators and with the secretariat of the Commission;

11. Notes the results of the fourth meeting of the United Nations Group on the Information Society, held in Geneva on 22 May 2009, which included an agreement to organize open consultations on financial mechanisms, as requested by the Economic and Social Council in its resolution 2008/3, and highlights the role of the Group in facilitating the implementation of the outcomes of the World Summit under the United Nations System Chief Executives Board for Coordination, pursuant to paragraph 103 of the Tunis Agenda for the Information Society;³⁶

12. Calls upon international and regional organizations to assess and report on a regular basis on the universal accessibility of nations to information and communications technologies, with the aim of creating equitable opportunities for the growth of the information and communications technology sectors of developing countries;

13. Notes with regret that, more than three years after the second phase of the World Summit, held in Tunis from 16 to 18 November 2005, the updated guidelines for United Nations country teams on preparing common country assessments and United Nations Development Assistance Frameworks³⁷ still do not reflect the recommendations contained in the outcomes of the World Summit and do not contain a component on information and communications technology for development, and urges that the coordinated action necessary for the implementation of the recommendations contained in paragraph 100 of the Tunis Agenda be taken;

14. Reaffirms the principles enunciated in the first phase of the World Summit, held in Geneva from 10 to 12 December 2003, that the Internet has evolved into a global facility available to the public, that its governance should constitute a core issue of the information society agenda and that the international management of the Internet should be multilateral, transparent and democratic, with the full involvement of Governments, the private sector, civil society and international organizations, and should ensure an equitable distribution of resources, facilitate access for all and ensure a stable and secure functioning of the Internet, taking into account multilingualism;

15. Notes the discussions in the Internet Governance Forum, in its capacity as a multi-stakeholder platform for discussing public policy issues related to Internet governance, which were reflected by the Secretary-General in his report,³⁵ expresses appreciation for the work done by the Chair, the secretariat and the host Governments of the Forum, and looks forward to the convening of the fourth meeting of the Forum, to be held in Sharm el-Sheikh, Egypt, from 15 to 18 November 2009;

16. Encourages all stakeholders to contribute to the online consultations regarding the “desirability of the continuation” of the Internet Governance Forum, as envisaged in paragraph 76 of the Tunis Agenda, taking into consideration the stakeholders in developing areas that have been unable to get connected online, and urges the Secretary-General to take all appropriate measures to have broad-based consultations;

17. Notes that paragraph 80 of the Tunis Agenda refers to the development of multi-stakeholder processes at the national, regional and international levels;

18. Recognizes the contribution of the World Telecommunication Standardization Assembly 2008 towards enhanced cooperation;

19. Notes the conclusion reached by the Secretary-General on the basis of performance reports received from ten organizations relevant to Internet governance that, while the efforts made varied in nature among the organizations, the call in the Tunis Agenda for enhanced cooperation has been taken seriously by these organizations, and requests the Secretary-General to report to the Economic and Social Council through the Commission on progress made towards enhanced cooperation;

20. Also notes that topics that were not central at the first and second phases of the World Summit continue to emerge, such as the potential of information and communications technologies to combat climate change, the protection of online privacy and the empowerment and protection, particularly against cyberexploitation and abuse, of vulnerable groups of society, in particular children and young people;

21. Further notes that a rising level of Internet penetration alone does not necessarily guarantee an information society for all and that the information society requires complementary efforts and funds to make access affordable and to facilitate the development of the skills needed to make use of services and equipment and to develop local content;

22. Notes the contribution of the Global Alliance for Information and Communication Technologies and Development to the twelfth session of the Commission, held in Geneva from 25 to 29 May 2009;

23. Welcomes the efforts undertaken by Tunisia, host of the second phase of the World Summit, to organize annually the ICT 4 All Forum and technological exhibition as a platform for promoting a dynamic business environment for the information and communications technology sector worldwide;

24. Calls upon all States, in building the information society, to take steps to avoid and to refrain from taking any unilateral measure not in accordance with international law and the Charter of the United Nations that impedes the full achievement of economic and social development by the population of affected countries and hinders their well-being;

The road ahead

25. Encourages all stakeholders to continue their efforts to implement the World Summit vision of a people-centred, inclusive and development-oriented information society, so as to enhance digital opportunities for all people and thereby help to bridge the digital divide;

26. Calls upon all stakeholders to assist developing countries in their efforts towards narrowing the digital divide, particularly with regard to access, affordability, broadband speed, local content and data privacy;

27. Encourages all stakeholders to continue to cooperate on and to develop information and communications technology partnerships towards capacity-building, transfer of technology and knowledge, and research and development;

Expressing deep concern that attainment of the social development objectives may be hindered by the financial crisis, as well as by challenges brought about by the ongoing food and energy crisis,

Recognizing that capacity-building, knowledge-sharing and best practices are essential for the successful implementation of the New Partnership for Africa's Development,⁸⁹ and recognizing also the need for continued support from the international community,

Bearing in mind that African countries have primary responsibility for their own economic and social development, that the role of national policies and development strategies cannot be overemphasized and that the development efforts of such countries need to be supported by an enabling international economic environment, and in this regard recalling the support given by the International Conference on Financing for Development to the New Partnership,⁹⁰

1. Takes note of the report of the Secretary-General;⁹¹
2. Welcomes the progress made by African countries in fulfilling their commitments in the implementation of the New Partnership for Africa's Development⁸⁹ to deepen democracy, human rights, good governance and sound economic management, and encourages African countries, with the participation of stakeholders, including civil society and the private sector, to intensify their efforts in this regard by developing and strengthening institutions for governance and by creating an environment conducive to attracting foreign direct investment for the development of the region;
3. Also welcomes the good progress that has been made in implementing the African Peer Review Mechanism, as reflected, in particular, by the number of countries that have signed up to participate in the Mechanism, the completion of the peer review process and the progress in implementing the recommendations of those reviews in some countries and the completion of the self-assessment process, the hosting of country support missions and the launching of the national preparatory process for the peer review in others, and urges African States that have not yet done so to join the Mechanism, as a matter of priority, and to strengthen the peer review process so as to ensure its efficient performance;
4. Welcomes in particular the organization of the first session of the African Union Conference of Ministers in charge of Social Development, held in Windhoek from 27 to 31 October 2008, and recalls in this regard the African Common Position on Social Integration and the Social Policy Framework for Africa, both of which have been endorsed by Africa's Heads of State;

2009/24. International cooperation to prevent, combat and eliminate kidnapping and to provide assistance to victims of kidnapping

The Economic and Social Council,

Concerned about the increase in the number of kidnappings in various countries around the world and about the harmful effects of that crime both on victims and on their families, and determined to support measures to assist and protect victims of kidnapping and their families and to promote their recovery,

Reiterating that kidnapping under any circumstances and for any purpose constitutes a serious crime and a violation of individual freedom that undermines human rights and may have a negative impact on the economies, development and security of States,

Concerned about the growing tendency of organized criminal groups and, in certain circumstances, terrorist groups to resort to kidnapping, especially for the purpose of extortion, with a view to consolidating their criminal operations and undertaking other illegal activities, such as trafficking in firearms or drugs, money-laundering and trafficking in persons,

Convinced that any linkage between various illegal activities involving kidnapping poses an additional threat to quality of life and hinders economic and social development,

Convinced also that the United Nations Convention against Transnational Organized Crime,⁹⁷ the applicable provisions of the relevant terrorism conventions and the applicable provisions of other relevant multilateral and bilateral agreements provide the legal framework necessary for international cooperation to prevent, combat and eliminate kidnapping and that, in order to achieve that objective, it is necessary to create opportunities for dialogue among States and for the exchange of experiences and best practices in combating kidnapping,

Recalling General Assembly resolution 59/154 of 20 December 2004, entitled “International cooperation in the prevention, combating and elimination of kidnapping and in providing assistance to victims”, in which the Assembly requested the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime to prepare a handbook, for use by competent authorities, of proven and promising practices in the fight against kidnapping,

Acknowledging the financial and technical contributions made by Member States to the preparation of that handbook,

Recalling General Assembly resolution 61/179 of 20 December 2006, in which the Assembly noted with satisfaction the publication of an operational manual against kidnapping prepared pursuant to its resolution 59/154 and invited Member States to consider the possibility of using the manual in their national efforts to combat kidnapping,

1. Vigorously condemns and rejects once again the offence of kidnapping under any circumstances and for any purpose;

2. Encourages Member States to continue to foster international cooperation, especially extradition, mutual legal assistance, collaboration between law enforcement authorities and the exchange and joint analysis of information, with a view to preventing, combating and eliminating kidnapping, including by denying kidnappers the benefit of substantive concessions;

2009/25. Improving the collection, reporting and analysis of data to enhance knowledge of trends in specific areas of crime

The Economic and Social Council,

Convinced of the importance of relevant United Nations indicators and instruments for the collection and analysis of accurate, reliable and comparable data on all relevant aspects of specific crime issues,

Recognizing the urgent need to improve the quality, scope and completeness of data on international crime trends and specific crime issues for the purpose of developing evidence-based policies for crime prevention and the operations of criminal justice systems,

Recalling that, in its resolution 1992/22 of 30 July 1992, it reaffirmed the request of the General Assembly to the Secretary-General to take the necessary measures to enable the United Nations Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice Programme to continue and improve the surveys of crime trends and the operations of criminal justice systems carried out periodically as a means of obtaining and providing a cross-nationally updated picture of patterns and dynamics of crime in the world,

Bearing in mind the Bangkok Declaration on Synergies and Responses: Strategic Alliances in Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice,¹⁰³ in which Member States declared their intention to improve their responses to crime and terrorism nationally and internationally by collecting and sharing information on crime and welcomed the work done by the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime and the United Nations Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice Programme network in the area of trends in crime and justice,

Bearing in mind also the conclusions and recommendations of the open-ended expert group on crime statistics convened pursuant to Economic and Social Council resolutions 1996/11 of 23 July 1996, 1997/27 of 21 July 1997 and 2005/23 of 22 July 2005,¹⁰⁴

Noting the systems for the collection of data and information on criminal justice already in place at the regional and international levels, including the delinquency observatories, and convinced of the importance of avoiding duplication,

Underscoring the importance of improving data collection tools in order to ensure a simple and more efficient process, thus encouraging and motivating a greater number of Member States to submit the required information on time and ensuring a more representative assessment, at the international level, of all relevant aspects of specific crime issues,

Recognizing the importance of building the capacity of Member States to collect and report such information,

Recognizing also the importance of the work of the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime in the regular collection of information through the United Nations Survey of Crime Trends and Operations of Criminal Justice Systems pursuant to General Assembly resolution 3021 (XXVII) of 18 December 1972 on crime prevention and control and Economic and Social Council resolution 1984/48 of 25 May 1984 on crime prevention and criminal justice in the context of development,

3. Requests the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime to establish an open-ended intergovernmental expert working group, to be convened at least once between sessions of the Commission on Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice, to prepare recommendations on the improvement of tools for the collection of relevant crime data, in particular the United Nations Survey of Crime Trends and Operations of Criminal Justice Systems, and on the improvement of the collection, collation, analysis and reporting processes, in support of the ongoing work of the Office in that area, invites Member States and other donors to provide extrabudgetary resources for that purpose in accordance with the rules and procedures of the United Nations, and notes that the working group should base its work on, inter alia, the following general considerations:

(a) The need to simplify and improve the reporting system of the Survey in order to encourage more Member States to report, in a coordinated and integrated manner, on their efforts, achievements and challenges in specific areas of crime and to provide information relating to the nature and extent of challenges posed by transnational crime;

(b) The need to avoid duplication of efforts to the extent possible by taking into account existing reporting procedures, including those of relevant regional and international bodies;

(c) The need for accurate, reliable and internationally comparable data on all relevant aspects of specific crime issues, bearing in mind the value of comparing such data with previously collected data, including from surveys on victimization, where possible;

(d) The possibility of using for the Survey a shorter, annual questionnaire containing a core set of questions;

(e) The possibility of including in such a core survey of crime trends and operations of criminal justice systems thematic modules reflecting the theme or themes of the thematic discussions of the Commission on Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice;

(f) The importance of learning from the experience acquired by the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime through the data collection mechanisms established in respect of the United Nations Convention against Transnational Organized Crime⁹⁷ and the Protocols thereto⁹⁸ and the United Nations Convention against Corruption,⁹⁹ including in relation to the use of modern technologies, where feasible;

Recalling the Universal Declaration of Human Rights,⁶³ which states, in its article 25, that children are entitled to special care and assistance,

Recalling also the Convention on the Rights of the Child,⁶² in particular its article 37, in which States parties to the Convention agreed to ensure, inter alia, that the deprivation of liberty of persons below the age of eighteen years should be used only as a measure of last resort, and recalling also article 40 of the Convention,

Recalling further the numerous other United Nations standards and norms in the area of child justice, such as the United Nations Standard Minimum Rules for the Administration of Juvenile Justice (The Beijing Rules),¹⁰⁵ the United Nations Rules for the Protection of Juveniles

Noting the adoption by the Committee on the Rights of the Child of General Comment No. 10 (2007) on children's rights in juvenile justice,¹⁰⁹

Noting also the guidance note of the Secretary-General on the United Nations approach to justice for children, of September 2008, and the report of the independent expert for the United Nations study on violence against children, in particular the recommendations contained therein concerning children in care and justice systems,¹¹⁰

Recalling its resolution 1997/30 of 21 July 1997, in which it welcomed the Guidelines for Action on Children in the Criminal Justice System, contained in the annex thereto, and invited the Secretary-General to consider establishing a coordination panel on technical advice and assistance in juvenile justice,

Recalling also its resolution 2007/23 of 26 July 2007 concerning child justice reform,

Welcoming the report of the Secretary-General on the support of national efforts for child justice reform, in particular through technical assistance and improved United Nations system-wide coordination,¹¹¹

Noting that, according to that report, some States have reported on the implementation of effective measures to reduce the use of pretrial detention and imprisonment for juveniles in conflict with the law, while many States still use deprivation of liberty as a rule rather than an exception,

Noting also the increased specialization of institutions and professionals and the provision of appropriate training and retraining in this area and the development of programmes for diversion, restorative justice and alternatives to imprisonment reported by Member States, and encouraging other States to adopt such programmes,

Acknowledging with satisfaction the work of the Interagency Panel on Juvenile Justice and its members, the Department of Peacekeeping Operations of the Secretariat, the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights, the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, the United Nations Children's Fund, the United Nations Development Programme, the United Nations Interregional Crime and Justice Research Institute, the Committee on the Rights of the Child and a number of non-governmental organizations, in particular the coordination of the provision of technical advice and assistance in the area of child justice and the active participation of civil society in that work,

2009/30. A strengthened and more effective intergovernmental inclusive process to carry out the financing for development follow-up

The Economic and Social Council,

Recalling the International Conference on Financing for Development, held in Monterrey, Mexico, from 18 to 22 March 2002, the Follow-up International Conference on Financing for Development to Review the Implementation of the Monterrey Consensus, held in Doha from 29 November to 2 December 2008, and all relevant General Assembly and Economic and Social Council resolutions,¹²²

Recalling also paragraph 89 of the Doha Declaration on Financing for Development, adopted in Doha on 2 December 2008,⁹² in which Heads of State and Government and High Representatives acknowledged the need for a strengthened and more effective intergovernmental inclusive process to carry out the financing for development follow-up and requested the Economic and Social Council to consider the matter at its special high-level meeting with the Bretton Woods institutions, the World Trade Organization and the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development and at its substantive session of 2009, in consultation with all relevant stakeholders, with a view to making appropriate and timely recommendations for final action by the General Assembly as early as possible in its sixty-fourth session,

Taking note of the summary by the President of the Economic and Social Council of the special high-level meeting of the Council with the Bretton Woods institutions, the World Trade Organization and the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development, held in New York on 27 April 2009,¹²³

¹²³ A/64/76-E/2009/60.

Resolutions

Mindful that Member States and other stakeholders have put forward concrete proposals on the subject of strengthening the financing for development follow-up process,

Having considered the suggestions and proposals contained in the note by the Secretary-General entitled “Coherence, coordination and cooperation in the context of the implementation of the Monterrey Consensus and the Doha Declaration on Financing for Development”, prepared for the special high-level meeting,¹²⁴

1. Reaffirms the importance of staying fully engaged, nationally, regionally and internationally, to ensure proper and effective follow-up to the implementation of the Monterrey Consensus⁹⁰ and of continuing unremitting efforts to build bridges between all relevant stakeholders within the holistic agenda of the financing for development process, as reaffirmed in the Doha Declaration on Financing for Development;⁹²

2. Also reaffirms the role played by the United Nations as a focal point for the financing for development follow-up process and the need to maintain that role in order to ensure the continuity and dynamism of the process, while reaffirming the need to further intensify the engagement of all stakeholders, including the United Nations system, the World Bank, the International Monetary Fund and the World Trade Organization, in the follow-up to and implementation of the commitments made in Monterrey and Doha;

3. Reiterates that maintaining a comprehensive and diverse multi-stakeholder follow-up process, including with civil society and the private sector, is critical, recognizes the core responsibility of all participants in the financing for development process to exercise ownership of that process and to implement their respective commitments in an integrated fashion, including through the continued engagement of all relevant ministries, in particular ministries of development, finance, trade and foreign affairs, also recognizes that an integrated treatment of financing for development issues in national development plans is also important in enhancing national ownership and implementation of financing for development, and further recognizes that the international community should continue to draw upon the expertise, data and analysis available in multiple forums, while enhancing information-sharing and dialogue among the various United Nations and non-United Nations bodies that monitor progress on financing for development issues, while noting that there is substantial room to enhance the sharing of best practices;

4. Reaffirms the need for a strengthened and more effective intergovernmental inclusive process for carrying out the financing for development follow-up, which would review progress in the implementation of commitments, identify obstacles, challenges and emerging issues, and propose concrete recommendations and actions;

5. Emphasizes that the financing for development follow-up process should encompass a continuum of events, each contributing to and feeding into the next, thereby ensuring the holistic nature of the process and making better and more effective use of existing mechanisms and resources;

6. Recommends to the General Assembly in this regard the following modalities for a strengthened and more effective intergovernmental process for carrying out the financing for development follow-up:

(a) The special high-level meeting of the Economic and Social Council with the international financial and trade institutions could last, instead of one day, as at present, for up to two days; it should normally be held before the spring meetings of the Bretton Woods institutions and be timed appropriately, at least five weeks before those meetings, so as to meet the needs of all parties and be conducive to high-level participation; discussions at the first segment would concentrate on a topic of current interest, to be determined by the President of the Council in consultation with the participants, while the second segment would be organized under the overall theme of “Coherence, coordination and cooperation in the context of the implementation of the Monterrey Consensus and the Doha Declaration on Financing for Development” and would include a holistic review of the Monterrey Consensus, with special emphasis on one or two topics to be determined in advance of the meeting by the President of the Council in consultation with the participants; the meeting will result in a President’s summary, which should clearly identify key elements of the discussion and be formally presented to all the participants, including the major institutional stakeholders, as appropriate, in a timely manner; increased interaction and coordination at the staff level with the institutions involved prior to the holding of the Council’s special high-level meeting, including the possibility of appropriate preparatory sessions, are especially encouraged; the President of the Council, in consultation with Member States, is encouraged to continue to work with the appropriate representatives of the Bretton Woods institutions, the World Trade Organization and the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development to improve, inter alia, the format of the Council’s special high-level meeting;

Resolutions

(b) The Economic and Social Council should continue to strengthen its role in promoting coherence, coordination and cooperation in the context of the implementation of the Monterrey Consensus and the Doha Declaration on Financing for Development and as a forum for multi-stakeholder involvement; consideration of the agenda item on financing for development should be given more prominence in the work of the annual substantive session of the Council and should be allotted up to two full days within its four-week annual session; the Council should normally adopt a substantive resolution, taking into account, inter alia, the outcome of the preceding special high-level meeting;

(c) The General Assembly should give more prominence to its annual agenda item entitled “Follow-up to and implementation of the outcome of the 2002 International Conference on Financing for Development and the 2008 Review Conference”; it may also wish to reaffirm the importance of its biennial high-level dialogues on financing for development as the intergovernmental focal point for general follow-up to the 2002 International Conference on Financing for Development and the 2008 Review Conference, placing a particular emphasis on new challenges and emerging issues;

(d) The Secretariat should continue to ensure that all documents relevant to the agenda item on financing for development are made available in a timely manner, both to the Economic and Social Council and to the General Assembly; to further enhance the quality of its reports, the Secretariat should continue to make full use of all existing analytical work and relevant data, including those available from the institutional stakeholders and the specialized agencies;

(e) Participation in this strengthened process will continue to be open to all the relevant financing for development stakeholders, including specialized agencies, funds and programmes, regional commissions, other international organizations, civil society entities and business sector groups, through application of the traditional financing for development accreditation and participation modalities; prominent experts may also be invited to provide inputs to the discussions;

(f) Seminars, panel discussions and briefings may be organized as part of the preparations for and contribution to the above events in order to raise visibility, attract interest and participation and promote substantive discussions on a continuing basis; a programme of multi-stakeholder consultations, including civil society and the private sector, could be reinitiated by the Financing for Development Office of the Department of Economic and Social Affairs of the Secretariat, drawing on a broad range of financing for development-related topics, as well as a wider and more effective use of the financing for development web page as an information tool;

(g) The Department of Economic and Social Affairs, and especially the Financing for Development Office, are encouraged to maintain a regular interaction at the staff level with the World Bank, the International Monetary Fund, the World Trade Organization and the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development, in the interest of greater coherence, coordination and cooperation, each acting in accordance with its respective intergovernmental mandate, for their mutual benefit;

7. Reiterates its appeal to Member States and other potential donors to consider contributing generously to the Trust Fund for the Follow-up to the International Conference on Financing for Development, which would facilitate the carrying out of many of the activities outlined above;

8. Underscores the fact that the modalities of the financing for development follow-up process should be reviewed, as appropriate, within a time frame to be determined by the General Assembly.

¹³⁷ A/56/1026-S/2002/932, annex II, resolution 14/221.

Resolutions

Convinced that the Israeli occupation has gravely impeded the efforts to achieve sustainable development and a sound economic environment in the Occupied Palestinian Territory, including East Jerusalem, and in the occupied Syrian Golan, and expressing grave concern about the consequent deterioration of economic and living conditions,

Gravely concerned, in this regard, about Israel's continuation of settlement activities and other related measures in the Occupied Palestinian Territory, particularly in and around occupied East Jerusalem, as well as in the occupied Syrian Golan, in violation of international humanitarian law and relevant United Nations resolutions,

Gravely concerned also by the serious repercussions on the economic and social conditions of the Palestinian people caused by Israel's construction of the wall and its associated regime inside the Occupied Palestinian Territory, including in and around East Jerusalem, and the resulting violation of their economic and social rights, including the right to work, to health, to education, to property and to an adequate standard of living,

Recalling, in this regard, the advisory opinion rendered on 9 July 2004 by the International Court of Justice on the *Legal Consequences of the Construction of a Wall in the Occupied Palestinian Territory*¹³⁸ and General Assembly resolution ES-10/15, and stressing the need to comply with the obligations mentioned therein,

Expressing grave concern also over the continued policy of home demolitions and displacement of the population in and around occupied East Jerusalem in particular, as well as over measures to further isolate the city from its natural Palestinian environs, including through the accelerated construction of settlements, the construction of the wall and the imposition of checkpoints, which have seriously exacerbated the already dire socio-economic situation being faced by the Palestinian population,

Expressing grave concern further about continuing Israeli military operations and the continuing Israeli policy of closures and severe restrictions on the movement of persons and goods, including humanitarian personnel and food, medical, fuel and other essential supplies, via the imposition of crossing closures, checkpoints and a permit regime throughout the Occupied Palestinian Territory, including East Jerusalem, and the consequent negative impact on the socio-economic situation of the Palestinian people, which remains that of dire humanitarian crisis, particularly in the Gaza Strip, where grave hardships continue to mount as a result of Israel's imposition of a blockade and siege as collective punishment of the entire civilian population,

Deploring the Israeli military aggression against the Gaza Strip that was launched on 27 December 2008, which caused heavy casualties among civilians, including hundreds of children and women, and widespread damage to homes, vital infrastructure, hospitals, schools and several United Nations facilities, gravely impacting the provision of vital health and social services to Palestinian women and their families, and in this regard calling for the expeditious commencement of the reconstruction process in the Gaza Strip with the assistance of donor countries, including the disbursement of funds pledged at the International Conference in Support of the Palestinian Economy for the Reconstruction of Gaza, held in Sharm el-Sheikh, Egypt, on 2 March 2009, ¹³⁸ See A/ES-10/273 and Corr.1; see also Legal Consequences of the Construction of a Wall in the Occupied Palestinian Territory, Advisory Opinion, I.C.J. Reports 2004, p. 136.

Resolutions

Expressing grave concern at the increasing number of deaths and injuries among civilians, including children and women, and emphasizing that the Palestinian civilian population must be protected in accordance with international humanitarian law,

Emphasizing the importance of the safety and well-being of all civilians, and calling for the cessation of all acts of violence, including all acts of terror, provocation, incitement and destruction, and all firing of rockets,

Conscious of the urgent need for the reconstruction and development of the economic and social infrastructure of the Occupied Palestinian Territory, including East Jerusalem, as well as the urgent need to address the dire humanitarian crisis facing the Palestinian people,

Commending the important work being done by the United Nations, the specialized agencies and the donor community in support of the economic and social development of the Palestinian people, as well as the assistance being provided in the humanitarian field,

Recognizing the efforts being undertaken by the Palestinian Authority, with international support, to rebuild, reform and strengthen its damaged institutions and promote good governance, and emphasizing the need to preserve the Palestinian institutions and infrastructure and to ameliorate economic and social conditions,

Stressing the importance of national unity among the Palestinian people, and emphasizing the need for the respect and preservation of the territorial integrity and unity of the Occupied Palestinian Territory, including East Jerusalem,

Calling upon both parties to fulfil their obligations under the road map¹³⁹ in cooperation with the Quartet,

1. Calls for the lifting of all mobility restrictions imposed on the Palestinian people, including those arising from ongoing Israeli military operations and the multilayered closures system, and also calls for other urgent measures to be taken to alleviate the desperate humanitarian situation in the Occupied Palestinian Territory, especially in the Gaza Strip;

2. Stresses the need to preserve the national unity and the territorial integrity of the Occupied Palestinian Territory, including East Jerusalem, and to guarantee the freedom of movement of persons and goods throughout the Occupied Palestinian Territory, including East Jerusalem, as well as to and from the outside world;
