Crime prevention and criminal justice

Italy: draft resolution

Strengthening the United Nations Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice Programme, in particular its technical cooperation capacity

The General Assembly,

Reaffirming its resolutions 46/152 of 18 December 1991, 60/1 of 16 September 2005, 60/177 of 16 December 2005, 61/252 of 22 December 2006, 64/178 and 64/179 of 18 December 2009 and 64/237 of 24 December 2009,

Taking note with appreciation of the adoption by the Economic and Social Council of the strategy for the period 2008-2011 for the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime,¹ which aims, inter alia, to enhance its effectiveness and flexibility in providing technical assistance and policy services,

Reaffirming its resolutions relating to the urgent need to strengthen international cooperation and technical assistance in promoting and facilitating the ratification and implementation of the United Nations Convention against Transnational Organized Crime and the Protocols thereto,² the United Nations Convention against Corruption³ and all the international conventions and protocols against terrorism, including those that recently entered into force,

Reaffirming also the commitments undertaken by Member States in the United Nations Global Counter-Terrorism Strategy adopted on 8 September 2006,⁴ and its successive reviews of 4 and 5 September 2008⁵ and of 8 September 2010,⁶

¹ Economic and Social Council resolution 2007/12, annex.

³ Ibid., vol. 2349, No. 42146.

⁴ Resolution 60/288.

⁵ See resolution 62/272; see also Official Records of the General Assembly, Sixty-second Session, Plenary Meetings, 117th to 120th meetings (A/62/PV.117-120), and corrigendum.

⁶ Resolution 64/297.

Emphasizing that its resolution 64/137 of 18 December 2009, on the intensification of efforts to eliminate all forms of violence against women, has considerable implications for the United Nations Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice Programme and its activities,

Taking into consideration all relevant resolutions of the Economic and Social Council, in particular resolutions 2008/23, 2008/24 and 2008/25 of 24 July 2008, and all those relating to the strengthening of international cooperation as well as the technical assistance and advisory services of the United Nations Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice Programme of the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime in the field of crime prevention and criminal justice, promotion and reinforcement of the rule of law and reform of criminal justice institutions, including with regard to the implementation of technical assistance,

Welcoming the report of the Secretary-General on protection against trafficking in cultural property⁷ and the outcome of the thematic discussion on trafficking in cultural property held by the Commission on Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice at its nineteenth session, in 2010,

Recalling the high-level meeting of the General Assembly on transnational organized crime and the special treaty event, held in New York on 17 and 21 June 2010, respectively, convened pursuant to resolution 64/179, which marked the renewed political commitment of the international community to tackling transnational organized crime,

Taking note with appreciation of the adoption of the United Nations Global Plan of Action to Combat Trafficking in Persons,⁸

Deeply concerned by the increasing challenge to development, peace and security and human rights posed by transnational organized crime, which undermines the rule of law, negatively affects the security and stability of nations and obstructs the development of sustainable, stable and safe societies, thus representing an increasingly serious obstacle to the achievement of the Millennium Development Goals,

Concerned by the serious challenges and threats posed by the illicit trafficking in firearms, their parts and components and ammunition,

Deeply concerned about the increasing connection and, in many cases, partnership of convenience between transnational organized crime, illicit drugs, illegal arms trafficking, money-laundering and terrorism, and emphasizing the need to enhance coordination of efforts at the national, subregional, regional and international levels in order to strengthen a global response to this serious challenge,

Concerned about the growing extent of the penetration of criminal organizations and their proceeds into the economy,

Recognizing that actions against transnational organized crime and terrorism are a common and shared responsibility, and stressing the need to work collectively to prevent and combat transnational organized crime, corruption and terrorism in all its forms and manifestations,

⁷ E/CN.15/2010/4.

⁸ Resolution 64/293, annex.

Emphasizing that transnational organized crime must be addressed in full respect for the principle of the sovereignty of States and in accordance with the rule of law as part of a comprehensive response to promote durable solutions through the promotion of human rights and more equitable socio-economic conditions,

Recognizing the need to maintain a balance in the technical cooperation capacity of the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime with regard to all relevant priorities identified by the General Assembly and the Economic and Social Council,

Recognizing also that, thanks to its broad membership and the wide scope of its application to all serious crimes, the United Nations Convention against Transnational Organized Crime offers an incomparable basis for international cooperation for extradition, mutual legal assistance and international confiscation and that it represents, in this regard, a yet-to-be exploited potential,

Mindful of the need to ensure universal adherence to and full implementation of the United Nations Convention against Transnational Organized Crime and the Protocols thereto, and encouraging Member States to make full and effective use of these instruments,

Welcoming the adoption by the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime of a regional approach to programming, based on continued consultations and partnerships at the national and regional levels, particularly on its implementation, and focused on ensuring that the Office responds in a sustainable and coherent manner to the priorities of Member States,

Recognizing the general progress made by the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime in the delivery of advisory services and assistance to requesting Member States in the areas of corruption, organized crime, money-laundering, terrorism, kidnapping and trafficking in persons, including the support and protection, as appropriate, of victims, their families and witnesses, as well as drug trafficking and international cooperation, with special emphasis on extradition and mutual legal assistance,

1. Takes note with appreciation of the report of the Secretary-General on the implementation of the mandates of the United Nations Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice Programme, with particular reference to the technical cooperation activities of the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, prepared pursuant to General Assembly resolution 64/179;⁹

2. Welcomes the findings of the high-level meeting of the General Assembly on transnational organized crime and the special treaty event, held in New York on 17 and 21 June 2010, respectively, with particular reference to the Presidential summary of the meeting and the recommendations contained therein;¹⁰

3. Welcomes the political declaration adopted by the Twelfth United Nations Congress on Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice, held in Salvador, Brazil, from 12 to 19 April 2010;¹¹
