SUMMARY BUDGET ESTIMATES OF THE UNITED NATIONS AND THE SPECIALIZED AGENCIES FOR THE FINANCIAL YEAR 1949

Report of the Secretary-General

Regulation 6 of the Provisional Financial Regulations adopted at the second session of the General Assembly (resolution 163 (II)), provides that the annual budget estimates shall be accompanied by an information annex containing the budgets or proposed budgets of the specialized agencies, or such summaries thereof as the Secretary-General may deem appropriate and useful.

Accordingly, attached hereto, as table A, is a summary of the budgets or proposed budgets for 1949 of the United Nations and the several specialized agencies. Arrangements have been made, as well, to have available, for distribution to members of the Fifth (Administrative and Budgetary) Committee, copies of the budget documents in English and French for the following specialized agencies:

(a) International Labour Organisation ;

(b) Food and Agriculture Organization ;

(c) United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization ;

(d) International Civil Aviation Organization; and

(e) World Health Organization.

Table A presents a detailed object of expenditure breakdown of the 1949 estimates of the United Nations (as they appear in the Budget Estimates, document A/556) and of the estimates of the specialized agencies specified in the preceding paragraph. The total of these estimates is $59 839 341. This compares with appropriations for 1948 of $59 382 127 and expenses of $43 875 920 for 1947 for the same agencies. It should be borne in mind in making comparisons with 1947, and with 1948, that both the United Nations and some of the agencies have only recently reached formal constitutional status, and that following formal constitution there has been, of necessity, a period of growth as each organization has assumed its designated role in international affairs. In the case of the World Health Organization, the 1949 budget reflects the Organization's first full year of activity as a formally-established specialized agency. The 1949 totals, by agency, compared with the preceding two years are shown hereunder :

It should be mentioned that the budgetary items in table A do not in all cases represent the same types of costs—for example, some organizations make provision for travel of delegates to sessions of the assemblies and general conferences, others do not. Further, the expenses actually provided for cover a wide range—for example, an amount of $268 010 is included in the UNESCO budget for grants-in-aid to organizations in the UNESCO field of interest, while the WHO budget includes $500 000 for fellowships and $150 000 for medical literature and teaching equipment.

Total estimated miscellaneous income of the several agencies for 1949 is $882 550 as shown in table A. Comparative estimated miscellaneous income for 1948 and total actual miscellaneous income for 1947 are $839 092 and $586 384 respectively. This income arises from such items as sale of publications, interest on investment of funds temporarily surplus to requirements, sale of equipment, services rendered to other agencies, and from other sources of a related nature.

Table A represents the first results of efforts made to achieve comparability between the budgets of the United Nations and the specialized agencies by the use of a common pattern of objects of expenditure into which each of the several budgets could be readily translated. The table has been developed by the staffs of the United Nations and the specialized agencies following upon the request made by the General Assembly in resolution 125 (II) that the Secretary-General consult with the specialized agencies concerning "measures for achieving greater uniformity in presentation of the budgets of the United Nations and the specialized agencies with a view to providing a basis for comparison of the several budgets". The pattern of the objects of expenditure will be revised as may be required in the light of experience gained this year.

Also attached is table B showing, in summary form the budget or proposed budget of each agency individually according to the basic budget pattern of each agency. This table provides a comparison of the main budget forms now in use and is not intended for comparisons between individual amounts shown in the respective budgets.

In all, the United Nations has entered into formal agreements with nine specialized agencies including the five agencies dealt with above and the following additional organizations :

- (a) International Bank for Reconstruction and Development;
- (b) International Monetary Fund ;
- (c) International Telecommunications Union; and
- (d) Universal Postal Union.

Draft agreements have been concluded by the Economic and Social Council and await approval by the General Assembly at its third session for the recently-constituted International Refugee Organization and the Inter-Governmental Maritime Consultative Organization (Preparatory Commission).

Draft agreements have not yet been negotiated with the World Meteorological Organization and the Interim Commission for the International Trade Organization.

Under the terms of the agreements with the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development and the International Monetary Fund, these organizations are not required to transmit their administrative budgets for recommendation by the United Nations, primarily because these budgets are not financed directly by contributions from the Member Governments.

The budget of the International Refugee Organization is based on a fiscal year covering the period 1 July to 30 June. The administrative budget for 1947-1948 (75 per cent ratification and contribution basis) was $3 591 000, and the operating budget, on the same basis, was $117 007 000. The Plan of Expenditure now being considered by the first General Council for the fiscal year 1948-1949 is: administrative budget, $3 515 348; operational budget (Part I), $159 065 233, and operational budget (Part II, Voluntary Contributions) $48 712.

The 1949 budgets of the Universal Postal Union and the International Telecommunications Union have not yet been received by the Secretary-General.

* * *

In addition to the above administrative budgets to be financed by contributions from members of each organization, some of the agencies have received, in 1947 and 1948, grants from UNRRA to carry out, on behalf of UNRRA, specific functions in their particular fields of interest, and some of these funds may be expected to carry over into 1949.
