Item 10 of the provisional agenda*

UNICEF Financial Regulations and Rules

Summary

UNICEF is presenting amendments to its Financial Regulations for approval and Financial Rules for information, with an effective date of 1 January 2012. The primary reasons for amending the Financial Regulations and Rules are to allow for compliance with International Public Sector Accounting Standards (IPSAS) and to update the cost categories for budgeting terminology.

The General Assembly, through its resolution 60/283 of July 2006, approved the adoption of IPSAS to replace the United Nations System Accounting Standards (UNSAS). Under IPSAS, UNICEF will change from a modified accrual method of accounting to a full accrual method of accounting, resulting in improved transparency and accountability. UNICEF will adopt IPSAS in 2012. Revisions to the Financial Regulations and Rules are necessary as they currently conflict with various IPSAS principles.

Similarly, changes in cost categories for budgeting that are mandated by Executive Board decision 2010/20 will require an update of the corresponding Articles in the Financial Regulations and Rules.

Lastly, UNICEF has a supplement to the Financial Regulations and Rules for its Cards and Products Operations (previously termed Greeting Card Operations, or GCO). It, too, must be updated for IPSAS. The Financial Rules in the supplement have been updated to reflect accurately current private fund-raising and partnerships business practices and have been incorporated in these UNICEF Financial Regulations and Rules.

UNICEF Financial Regulations and Rules	7

I. Background

1. The Financial Regulations and Rules govern the broad financial management of UNICEF and the funds administered by UNICEF. Since its establishment, UNICEF had operated under the Financial Regulations and Rules of the United Nations. Then by decision 1987/13, taken at its 1987 Regular Session, the UNICEF Executive Board adopted the UNICEF Financial Regulations. Subsequently, the UNICEF Executive Director established the UNICEF Financial Rules. The UNICEF Financial Regulations and Rules were then published as document E/ICEF/1988/AB/L.3 on 19 January 1988.

2. In accordance with Financial Regulation 2.2, the amendments to the Financial Regulations must be presented to the Executive Board for approval, after consultation with the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions (ACABQ). In accordance with Financial Regulation 12.1, amendments to the Financial Rules must be presented to the Executive Board for information at least sixty (60) days before they become effective.

3. Amendments to the current UNICEF Financial Regulations and Rules and its supplement are necessary to reflect the General Assembly approval of the adoption of IPSAS, through its resolution 60/283, and Executive Board decision 2010/20 approving the new cost categories for budgeting.

4. Given that the UNICEF Financial Regulations and Rules were written in 1988, with the last amendment in 1999, amendments were also made to reflect Executive Board decisions and current business practices.

5. In the interest of achieving greater harmonization with other United Nations funds and programmes, these amendments were discussed and principles were agreed to with the United Nations Secretariat, the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) and the United Nations Population Fund (UNFPA). IPSAS affects all four organizations; the cost categories for budgeting affects UNICEF, UNDP and UNFPA; and the GCO supplement is specific to UNICEF only.

6. UNICEF took a collaborative approach in amending its Financial Regulations and Rules. Consultations were held with United Nations Board of Auditors, the UNICEF Audit Advisory Committee, the United Nations Office of Legal Affairs, the UNICEF Office of Internal Audit and the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions.

II. Amendments to the UNICEF Financial Regulations and Rules

7. The following outlines the amendments made to the UNICEF Financial Regulations and Rules:

A. IPSAS General

8. IPSAS are standards based on the accrual basis of accounting. Accrual basis accounting is a method that measures the performance and position of an entity by recognizing transactions in the period when they occur regardless of when cash transfers. The legacy Financial Regulations and Rules guided some aspects of accounting as UNICEF operated under UNSAS, which are very broad standards which allow individual legislative authorities to have ultimate responsibility for deciding financial arrangements. Proposed Regulations 13.1 and 13.2 mandate that all accounting is guided by IPSAS. As IPSAS are independent, principles-based standards which are updated by the IPSAS Board regularly, application of IPSAS principles will be captured in UNICEF accounting policies and procedures, instead of within the Financial Regulations and Rules. In addition, IPSAS requires various provisions and terminologies to change.

9. The concept of “period” has been clarified in the Financial Regulations and Rules, now specifically referring to a “budget period”, a “financial period” and a “programme period”, which each can have its own distinct length of time. The words “biennial” and “biennium” have been removed as they are currently used to refer to the period of the support budget and the period of the audited financial statements. Removing these words provides flexibility in determining the budget period of the Institutional Budget (refer to section II.E. below), although any change to the existing biennial period would be made only with the advance approval of the Executive Board. With regard to the period of the audited financial statements, IPSAS defines a financial period as one 12-month period. The term “financial period” in the Financial Regulations and Rules will now refer to this 12-month period. The term “programme period” is used to define the period of programmes as set by the Executive Board. All uses of the word “financial period” have been reviewed and replaced with “budget period”, “finance period” or “programme period”, as appropriate.

10. The Financial Regulations and Rules were not consistent in the use of the word “funds”. Depending on the context, the term meant financial resources or cash. To not confuse the reader with fund accounting, the term “funds” has been replaced with “financial resources,” except when it refers to cash and/or its equivalent.

B. IPSAS Revenue

11. The UNSAS term of income is no longer applicable and has been replaced with the IPSAS term of revenue. Under UNSAS, income represented funds received on a cash basis or contributions accrued. Revenue under IPSAS represents an enforceable right to receive an asset, regardless of the actual transfer of that asset.

C. IPSAS Expense

12. The UNSAS concept of expenditure and obligations is no longer applicable under IPSAS and has been replaced with the terms “expense”, “commitment”, “commitments and disbursements”, “costs” or “utilization of resources”, depending upon the context of the terms. While “expenditure” previously equated to “the sum of disbursement and unliquidated obligations”, in accrual accounting, “expense” is recognized when goods or services are received, regardless of cash transfer. However for budget control purposes, commitments will continue to be credited as utilization of UNICEF financial resources even if goods or services have not been received.

D. Inventory, Property, Plant and Equipment and Intangible Assets

13. Under IPSAS, UNICEF must capitalize inventory, property, plant and equipment, and intangible assets. UNSAS guided the concepts of “non-expendable property”, “land and buildings” and other assets, which included “inventories” without defining the terms. In the UNICEF Financial Regulations and Rules, the terms “supplies” and “cards and gifts” are used to refer to what IPSAS terms inventory. The definition of inventory, property, plant and equipment and intangible assets has been added to the Financial Regulations and Rules and the appropriate replacement of the UNSAS terms for IPSAS terms has been made.

E. Institutional Budget

14. In the context of the harmonized work done by UNICEF, UNDP and UNFPA on the cost classification, the “Support Budget” has been relabelled as the Institutional Budget. The terminology for the cost classification has also been updated throughout the document.

F. Greeting Cards Operations Supplement

15. UNICEF has integrated its supplement to the Financial Regulations and Rules on the UNICEF Cards and Products Operations (previously termed Greeting Card Operations). The language has also been updated to reflect current private fund-raising and partnerships business practices.

G. Business Practices

16. The Financial Regulations and Rules were written in 1988, with the last amendment in 1999. They contain dated terminology and have been updated to reflect Executive Board decisions and current business practices, e.g., terminology of “regular” and “other resources”, programme terminology, electronic documentation, and so forth.

H. Editorial

17. Finally, minor editorial changes were made to the Financial Regulations and Rules for clarity and consistency purposes where the document benefited from improvement in language or format.

18. The complete, amended UNICEF Financial Regulations and Rules are contained in the annex to this document.

The Executive Director may agree to vary this amount in exceptional circumstances and such variations shall be documented.

Regulation 7.3: The estimate of future financial resources shall take into account Contributions and Pledges for the period of the plan or a part thereof and any additional financial resources expected within the plan period. Estimations of future financial resources, including statements of Pledges, shall not imply a commitment on the part of individual donors and shall not prejudice the legislative processes and budgetary practices of donors.

(b) Standardization of inventory, property, plant and equipment or intangible assets is, on the advice of the Contracts Review Committee, considered appropriate; or

(c) Emergency situations or exigencies of the service do not permit the delay attendant upon the issuance of invitations to bid or requests for proposals or the reissue thereof in cases where such solicitation has failed to achieve satisfactory results; or

(d) The proposed contract relates to purchasing from a sole source of supply or to the purchasing of perishable inventory; or

(e) Invitations for bids or requests for proposals will not give satisfactory results or are not, in the particular case, deemed in the interest of UNICEF.

(a) When invitations to bid or requests for proposals have been issued in accordance with Rule 112.29, the award of a contract shall be made, within the period specified for the validity of bids, to the bidder whose responsive bid has been determined to be the lowest evaluated bid, due consideration being given to the utilization of currencies available to UNICEF and which require special management, provided that when the interests of UNICEF require, any or all bids may be rejected. In the latter instance, the reasons for rejection shall be recorded and a determination made whether to invite new competitive tenders.

(b) If the accounts of the programme have been closed, the proceeds shall be credited to Regular Resources; or
