Commission on Narcotic Drugs

Fifty-fifth session

Vienna, 12-16 March 2012

Item 4 of the provisional agenda*

Implementation of the international drug control treaties

United States of America: draft resolution

One hundredth anniversary of the Opium Convention

The Commission on Narcotic Drugs,

Highlighting the International Opium Commission, the first multilateral initiative in the field of drug control, which was convened in Shanghai, China, from 1 to 26 February 1909, and that representatives of thirteen States, namely, Austria-Hungary, China, France, Germany, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, the Netherlands, Persia,<sup>1</sup> Portugal, Russia, Siam<sup>2</sup> and the United States of America, participated in the deliberations,

Noting that the first-ever multilateral drug control convention, the International Opium Convention signed at The Hague on 23 January 1912<sup>3</sup> by the same 13 States and an additional 76 States, formed the basis for international drug control,

Underscoring that the international community further recognized the importance of expanding controls to promote adequate availability of internationally controlled licit drugs for medical and scientific purposes while preventing their diversion and abuse, including in the following conventions:

(a) The Single Convention on Narcotic Drugs of 1961 as amended by the 1972 Protocol,<sup>4</sup> in which it is recognized that the medical use of narcotic drugs continues to be indispensable for the relief of pain and suffering and that adequate provision must be made to ensure the availability of narcotic drugs for such purposes, while at the same time limiting such use exclusively to scientific and medicinal purposes;

(b) The Convention on Psychotropic Substances of 1971,<sup>5</sup> in which it is recognized that the use of psychotropic substances for medical and scientific purposes is indispensable and that their availability for such purposes should not be unduly restricted,

Recalling the United Nations Convention against Illicit Traffic in Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances of 1988,<sup>6</sup> which recognizes the links between illicit traffic in narcotic drugs and psychoactive substances and other related organized criminal activities which undermine the legitimate economies and threaten the stability, security and the sovereignty of States,

Reaffirming the important role entrusted to the International Narcotics Control Board to ensure, in cooperation with Governments, the availability of narcotic drugs for medical and scientific purposes and prevent illicit trafficking in and use of drugs,

Recognizing the great progress made by the international community in international drug control efforts,

Aware of the challenges that remain in the field of global drug control,

Stressing the importance of commitment, common and shared responsibility and international cooperation in efforts to fight the world drug problem,

Expressing the determination to strengthen action and cooperation at the national, regional and international levels towards the ultimate goal of an international society free of drug abuse and trafficking,

1. Urges all Member States to commemorate the centennial of the International Opium Convention signed at The Hague on 23 January 1912,<sup>7</sup> including by calling attention to the common and shared responsibility of all States to address drug production, trafficking and consumption;

2. Reaffirms that the three international drug control conventions, as well as the United Nations Convention against Transnational Organized Crime and its three Protocols,<sup>8</sup> the United Nations Convention against Corruption<sup>9</sup> and other relevant international instruments, constitute the international framework for countering drug trafficking and transnational organized crime;

3. Affirms that the three international drug control conventions, which are moving towards universal adherence, seek to achieve a balance between ensuring the availability of narcotic drugs and psychotropic substances under international control for medical and scientific purposes and preventing their diversion and abuse;
