Chapter I

Organizational matters

A. Membership

1. In its resolution 43/222 B, the General Assembly decided to retain the Committee on Conferences as a permanent subsidiary organ. Pursuant to the provisions of that resolution, in 2013 the Committee was composed of the following Member States: Austria, Bosnia and Herzegovina, China, the Congo, Côte d'Ivoire, Ethiopia, France, Iraq, Israel, Japan, Libya, Namibia, Peru, the Philippines, the Russian Federation, Senegal, Sri Lanka, the United States of America and Uruguay.¹

B. Officers

2. At its organizational session for 2013 (522nd meeting), held on 29 April 2013, and at its review of the provisional calendar of conferences and meetings in the economic, social and related fields for 2014 and 2015 (523rd meeting), held on 2 July 2013, the Committee elected the following officers to serve in 2013:

Chair:

Chamithri Jayanika Rambukwella (Sri Lanka)

Vice-Chairs:

Brouz Ralph Coffi (Côte d'Ivoire)

Isi Yanouka (Israel)

Imelda Smolcic (Uruguay)

Rapporteur:

Ljilja Grgić-Stojanović (Bosnia and Herzegovina)

3. Also at its organizational session, the Committee agreed in principle that the Chair would undertake informal consultations with a view to determining the composition of its Bureau for 2014 and that the outgoing Chair and members of the Bureau would continue in their capacity until the 2014 Bureau was elected.

C. Organization of work

4. At its organizational session, the Committee decided to adopt at its substantive session the dates for its organizational and substantive sessions for 2014 so that the dates would be included in the calendar of conferences and meetings. The Committee also agreed to follow the guidelines adopted in 1994 and 1995 with regard to its consideration of intersessional departures from the approved calendar of conferences and meetings and to meet, as required, to review proposals affecting the schedule of conferences and meetings during sessions of the General Assembly.

5. Also at its organizational session, the Chair proposed that the Committee meet in order to review the provisional calendar of conferences and meetings in the economic, social and related fields for 2014 and 2015.

6. At the same session, the Under-Secretary-General for General Assembly and Conference Management addressed the Committee.

7. At the 523rd meeting, on 2 July 2013, the Secretary of the Committee introduced the provisional calendar of conferences and meetings in the economic, social and related fields for 2014 and 2015 (E/2013/L.6). The Committee reviewed the provisional calendar and recommended its adoption to the Economic and Social Council. The recommendation of the Committee was transmitted in a letter dated 10 July 2013 from the Chair of the Committee to the President of the Council (E/2013/93).

8. The Committee convened its substantive session from 3 to 9 September 2013 (524th to 528th meetings). At the opening of the substantive session, on 3 September, the Under-Secretary-General introduced the report of the Secretary-General on the pattern of conferences (A/68/122). During the formal meetings, statements were made by the representatives of Austria, China, the Congo, Côte d'Ivoire, Ethiopia, France, Japan, Libya, Peru, the Philippines, the Russian Federation, Senegal, the United States and Uruguay, and by the observer for the International Organization of la Francophonie.

D. Programme of work

9. At its organizational session for 2012 (517th meeting), held on 25 April 2012, the Committee requested that the Secretariat submit the provisional agenda for 2013 to the Committee at its organizational session for 2013. At its organizational session for 2013 (522nd meeting), held on 29 April 2013, the Committee adopted the provisional agenda (A/AC.172/2013/L.1) and requested that the Secretariat submit a provisional agenda for 2014 to the Committee at its organizational session for 2014. The Committee also decided to include in its programme of work for the year, prior to the Committee's substantive session or upon request, informal briefings by the Secretariat on issues relating to conference management of interest to Member States.

E. Participation of observers

10. One Member State, Egypt, was represented as an observer at the organizational session of the Committee. The following three Member States and two intergovernmental organizations were represented as observers at the substantive session: Cuba, Egypt, Qatar, the European Union and the International Organization of la Francophonie.

Chapter II

Calendar of conferences and meetings

A. Requests for exceptions to section I, paragraph 7, of General Assembly resolution 40/243

11. At its 524th meeting, on 3 September 2013, the Committee on Conferences considered the sections of the report of the Secretary-General on the pattern of conferences (see A/68/122, sect. I.A.1, and supplementary information,² sect. I) containing requests for exceptions to section I, paragraph 7, of General Assembly resolution 40/243, by which the Assembly decided that no subsidiary organ of the Assembly might meet at United Nations Headquarters during a regular session of the Assembly unless explicitly authorized by the Assembly.

Conclusions and recommendations

12. The Committee on Conferences recommended that the General Assembly explicitly authorize the following bodies to meet in New York during the main part of its sixty-eighth session, on the understanding that all such meetings would be allocated conference services on an “as available” basis, in such a way that the work of the Assembly and its Main Committees would not be impeded:

- (a) Open Working Group on Sustainable Development Goals;
- (b) Committee on Relations with the Host Country;
- (c) Disarmament Commission;
- (d) Independent Audit Advisory Committee;
- (e) Committee on the Exercise of the Inalienable Rights of the Palestinian People;
- (f) United Nations System Chief Executives Board for Coordination;
- (g) Executive Board of the United Nations Entity for Gender Equality and the Empowerment of Women;
- (h) Working Group on the Financing of the United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees in the Near East;
- (i) Intergovernmental Committee of Experts on Sustainable Development Financing;
- (j) Commission on Sustainable Development.

B. Adoption of the draft biennial calendar of conferences and meetings for 2014 and 2015 and related matters

13. At its 524th meeting, on 3 September 2013, the Committee reviewed the draft biennial calendar of conferences and meetings for 2014 and 2015 (A/AC.172/2013/L.2).

C. Intersessional departures for 2013 and related matters

14. The General Assembly, in its resolution 67/237, approved the draft revised calendar of conferences and meetings of the United Nations for 2013, as submitted by the Committee on Conferences, and authorized the Committee to make any adjustments that might become necessary as a result of actions and decisions taken by the Assembly at its sixty-seventh session. The calendar was issued as document A/AC.172/2013/2.

15. At its 373rd meeting, on 26 August 1994, the Committee decided that, in future, requests for intersessional departures submitted to the Committee should be reviewed by the Bureau, in consultation with the Secretariat, for subsequent action.

16. At its 379th meeting, on 23 March 1995, the Committee agreed that proposed changes to the calendar that did not have programme budget implications could be dealt with by the Secretariat, in consultation with the Bureau of the Committee.

17. At its substantive session of 1995, the Committee decided that requests for intersessional departures submitted to the Committee that involved a change of venue should be referred to the members for approval. Departures that involved other types of changes, as decided upon by the Committee at its substantive session of 1994, should be reviewed by the Bureau, in consultation with the Secretariat, for subsequent action.

18. The Committee on Conferences approved several requests in 2013 from the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions for additional meetings and extended meeting hours. The Committee also approved a request from the Advisory Board on Disarmament Matters for a change of venue from New York to Geneva. The Committee noted the request of the Fifth Committee for an additional meeting to conclude its work at its second resumed session.

Chapter III

Meetings management

A. Utilization of conference-servicing resources and facilities

1. Meeting statistics of United Nations organs and consultations with bodies concerning the utilization of conference-servicing resources

19. At its 524th meeting, on 3 September 2013, the Committee on Conferences considered the section of the report of the Secretary-General on the pattern of conferences containing statistical data and analysis of the utilization of conference resources allocated to a core sample of bodies that met in New York, Geneva, Vienna and Nairobi (see A/68/122, paras. 6-17, and supplementary information, sect. II). Pursuant to General Assembly resolution 67/237, the Department for General Assembly and Conference Management had worked closely with the secretariats and bureaux of the six intergovernmental bodies whose utilization factor over the past 10 years had fallen below the benchmark of 80 per cent, offering a number of specific suggestions to improve their use of conference services.

20. The Committee considered the Secretary-General's specific suggestions on measures to improve the utilization factor of those intergovernmental bodies whose average has for the past 10 years been below the benchmark of 80 per cent. While delegations agreed to urge those intergovernmental bodies to take their utilization factor into account when planning their future sessions in order to achieve the benchmark, some delegations insisted that more practical measure to reduce the costs of conference servicing, such as planning fewer meetings and shortening the duration of meetings, be considered. Given the lack of agreement on specific language to add to General Assembly resolution 67/237, the Committee decided to refer the issue to the Fifth Committee for its consideration.

21. The Committee also heard a report by the Chair on her mandate to hold consultations with the intergovernmental bodies whose utilization factor had fallen below the 80 per cent benchmark over the past three consecutive years: the Committee on Information, the Committee on Contributions and the Executive Board of the United Nations Children's Fund. As a result of those efforts, those bodies had tentatively agreed to either reduce the length of their meetings, reduce the number of meetings scheduled, in accordance with their needs, or provide advance notice of meeting cancellations.

2. Provision of interpretation services to meetings of bodies entitled to meet "as required"

22. At the same meeting, the Committee considered the section of the report of the Secretary-General on the pattern of conferences concerning the provision of interpretation services to meetings of bodies entitled to meet "as required" (see A/68/122, para. 18, and supplementary information, sect. III). In New York, the number of requests had increased sharply, from 577 in 2011 to 687 in 2012; 97 per cent of requests had been met in 2012, compared with 96 per cent in 2011. Geneva had continued to meet 100 per cent of requests.

3. Provision of interpretation services to meetings of regional and other major groupings of Member States

23. Also at the same meeting, the Committee considered the section of the report of the Secretary-General on the pattern of conferences concerning the provision of interpretation services to meetings of regional and other major groups of Member States (see A/68/122, para. 19, and supplementary information, sect. IV). In New York, 95 per cent of requests had been met in 2012, compared with 92 per cent in 2011. In Geneva, 86 per cent of requests had been met in 2012 as compared with 89 per cent in 2011.

4. Utilization of conference facilities at the United Nations Office at Nairobi

24. Also at its 524th meeting, the Committee considered the section of the report of the Secretary-General on the pattern of conferences concerning utilization of conference facilities at the United Nations Office at Nairobi (A/68/122, para. 20).

5. Utilization of the conference centre at the Economic Commission for Africa

25. At the same meeting, the Committee considered the section of the report of the Secretary-General on the pattern of conferences concerning the utilization of the conference centre at the Economic Commission for Africa (A/68/122, paras. 21-27).

B. Impact of the capital master plan, strategy IV (phased approach), on meetings held at Headquarters during its implementation

26. Also at the same meeting, the Committee considered the section of the report of the Secretary-General on the pattern of conferences concerning the impact of the implementation of the capital master plan on meetings held at Headquarters (see A/68/122, para. 28, and supplementary information, sect. V). In accordance with the restacking plan, staff had been relocated to the Secretariat Building and the Albano Building. Newly renovated rooms had been reopened in the Conference Building. The General Assembly Hall had been closed for the final phase of the renovation since June 2013.

27. The Committee noted with concern that several problems had been encountered in the newly renovated conference rooms, but that it had not been able to reach agreed language to address the concerns. Consequently, the Committee decided to refer the issue to the Fifth Committee for its consideration.

Chapter IV

Integrated global management

A. Status report, performance measurement and evaluation of the quality of conference services

28. At its 524th meeting, on 3 September 2013, the Committee on Conferences considered the section of the report of the Secretary-General on the pattern of conferences concerning integrated global management (see A/68/122, paras. 29-43, and supplementary information, sect. VI). Member States were supportive of the concept, which held that conferences should be not only serviced but also managed; the four duty stations should share resources and apply the same conference management policies and practices; and the workload and the capacities should be integrated and managed from a global perspective.

29. The global document management system, gDoc, would be completed in 2013. A complementary global project, called gText, would offer referencing, terminology and computer-assisted translation features with a view to improving consistency in translations and standardizing and automating the documentation process. Both projects would be implemented in the biennium 2014-2015.

30. Several delegations enquired why the Department for General Assembly and Conference Management had not yet codified the division of responsibilities for conference management between the Under-Secretary-General for General Assembly and Conference Management and the Directors-General of the United Nations Offices at Geneva, Nairobi and Vienna.

31. In response to the delegates' enquiries, a representative of the Secretariat said that, under the existing regulations, the Directors-General of the United Nations Offices at Geneva, Nairobi and Vienna were responsible for activities at their duty stations, while the budgets for conference management were managed by the Department. The General Assembly, in its resolution 67/237, had called for a report on progress in resolving the issue. In that regard, discussions were under way regarding the amendment of the relevant Secretary-General's bulletins. It was expected that the matter would be finalized by the sixty-ninth session of the General Assembly.

32. The gDoc and gText initiatives were not intended to reduce staff numbers, but rather to improve the quality of their work. For example, the technology would allow translators to identify previously translated text quickly, thus saving time and ensuring consistency across documents. The Department could not afford to reduce its valuable human capital; savings were instead being sought through reductions in equipment and travel costs. Quality was of paramount importance to the Department; feedback from Member States was collected through the language-specific informational meetings and the annual global e-survey. The four duty stations and the regional commissions worked together to apply the proximity rule. The savings cited in the report had been achieved through reduced travel costs and the principle of delivering as one. However, it should be noted that meeting conditions and opportunities could fluctuate greatly from year to year; it was thus impossible for the Department to predict the potential savings resulting from the implementation of the rule.

33. The Committee did not agree on a proposal to request the Secretary-General to propose ways to enhance the system of assessment of the quality of services provided. Consequently, the Committee decided to refer the issue to the Fifth Committee for its consideration.

B. Videoconference on global opportunities in addressing common challenges in conference services

34. At its 526th meeting, on 4 September 2013, the Committee and the representatives of conference services at the United Nations Offices at Geneva, Nairobi and Vienna held a videoconference to discuss the topic of global opportunities in addressing common challenges in conference services. For the past several years, such videoconferences have been opportunities for the Committee to be briefed by the conference managers at the four duty stations about initiatives, possibilities and concerns. Emerging concepts and ideas are being shared with the Committee and the feedback received is being incorporated in the development of policies and practices. A representative of the Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific introduced the topic, which the Commission had presented as the host of the 2013 International Annual Meeting on Language Arrangements, Documentation and Publications, the primary discussion forum available to conference managers from international organizations around the world. His statement was followed by presentations by the conference managers of the duty stations.

35. Several delegations expressed regret that the initiatives presented by the duty stations, including gCMA, the global terminology portal, telecommuting arrangements and the impact of the United Nations treaty body reform process on conference services, had not been included in the report of the Secretary-General on the pattern of conferences (A/68/122) or other documentation for the session. Delegations also wondered whether there were disadvantages to telecommuting, whether staff had been specifically recruited to work under telecommuting arrangements and whether staff had requested such arrangements owing to issues related to work-life balance. Responses to those and other enquiries were provided by the Secretariat orally as well as in writing.

36. One delegation pointed out that providing guidance to States parties to United Nations treaty bodies by setting a word limit for their periodic reports would allow the Secretary-General to better plan its documentation workload and allocate resources accordingly.

Chapter V

Matters related to documentation and publications

37. At its 524th meeting, on 3 September 2013, the Committee on Conferences considered section III of the report of the Secretary-General on the pattern of conferences, concerning matters related to documentation and publications (see A/68/122, paras. 44-57, and supplementary information, sect. VII), and the report of the Secretary-General on the PaperSmart concept (A/68/123). In 2012, the overall rate of timely submission of documents had been 88 per cent at United Nations Headquarters, 85 per cent at the United Nations Office at Geneva, 60 per cent at the United Nations Office at Vienna and 5 per cent at the United Nations Office at Nairobi.

38. The Department of Public Information was continuing to digitize important older United Nations documents and upload them to the Official Document System. Since May 2013, staff of the Department's publishing services had been reassigned to assist with the process. The output of the Department's printing operation had decreased from 300 million page impressions in 2009 to 40 million in 2012. Meeting participants could request the regular delivery of electronic documents, including the Journal of the United Nations, through the United Nations eSubscription portal and download them from the Official Document System. All documents continued to be available on paper.

39. The Department was increasingly providing documents to participants in official meetings through the PaperSmart approach, which combined a web-based portal with print-on-demand and e-publishing services and portable media solutions.

40. Several delegations remained concerned about the late issuance of documents for the Fifth Committee of the General Assembly, and suggested adjusting the wording of the draft resolution in order to improve timely submission.

41. A number of delegations expressed satisfaction at the savings achieved through the PaperSmart approach, but were concerned that the system was not fully and equally accessible to speakers of the six official languages of the United Nations. One said that it should be easily accessible to persons with disabilities. Others said that the system did not justify the abandonment of paper documents and meeting records, and that the risks of switching from paper to electronic media should be fully assessed.

42. The Committee considered the report of the Secretary-General on the PaperSmart concept (A/68/123), based on lessons learned from almost 500 meetings at which it had been used on a trial basis with the authorization of intergovernmental bodies. A draft of a consolidated text on the PaperSmart concept had been discussed by the Committee without agreement having been reached on the matter. Some delegations felt that the PaperSmart concept should be endorsed, while others preferred to have it continue on a trial basis. There was nevertheless a consensus that the PaperSmart concept should be further developed within existing resources, with some delegations requesting that the Secretariat advance several areas about which they were concerned. Consequently, the Committee decided to refer the issue to the Fifth Committee for its consideration.

43. A representative of the Secretariat said that the rate of timely issuance of documents for the Fifth Committee had improved steadily in recent years. However, a small number of sensitive and lengthy documents were often issued late, resulting in a strong reaction from the Member States. The reasons for late issuance included the fact that no detailed programme of work was available well in advance of the Committee's meetings; the difficulty of staggering the production of long documents; delays encountered by authors in receiving information from field offices; and the need for authors to await the end of the calendar or fiscal year or the results of sessions of other bodies or to take account of changes in inflation or exchange rates before completing their draft reports. The Department for General Assembly and Conference Management had provided the presiding officers of intergovernmental bodies with lists of documents issued for their sessions, including information on the time required for their processing and distribution, so that Member States could provide feedback on its performance. The interdepartmental task force on documentation, led by the Assistant Secretary-General for General Assembly and Conference Management, was working with author departments to ensure their timely issuance.

Chapter VI

Matters related to translation and interpretation

44. At its 525th meeting, on 3 September 2013, the Committee on Conferences considered the section of the report of the Secretary-General on the pattern of conferences concerning matters related to translation and interpretation (see A/68/122, paras. 58-65, and supplementary information, sect. VI). As part of the academic outreach programme of the Department for General Assembly and Conference Management, the third conference of universities that had signed memorandums of understanding with the United Nations had been held in Shanghai, China, in April 2013. The language internship programme, in which 90 people participated in 2012, had proved to be a means of expanding the pool of language professionals: since 2007, 30 former interns had passed a competitive language examination and 110 had passed a freelance test that has made them eligible for temporary appointments.

45. In response to enquiries from delegates, a representative of the Secretariat said that coaching systems were in place to ensure the transfer of experience to new staff. The statutory retirement age allowed the Department to accurately predict the demographic transition in the language services and schedule competitive language examinations accordingly. The examination system itself was to be remodelled to better reflect the working conditions in the language services and ensure a consistent intake of new recruits.

46. All memorandums of understanding with universities were based on the same text, which had not been altered since the start of the outreach programme. Delegations were encouraged to propose universities in their countries in order to improve the representation of Spanish in the outreach programme. The “African project” for the training of language staff was in its infancy, and it was not yet clear which universities had the appropriate structures and teaching staff to become centres of excellence. The scope of the internship programme had been broadened through the participation of students from universities that had signed memorandums of understanding with the United Nations and of candidates who had narrowly failed to pass the competitive language examinations.

47. No written criteria dictated whether a document should be translated by in-house staff, short-term staff or contractors, but great care was taken by managers to assign texts, on a case-by-case basis, to translators with the appropriate expertise. The quality of the work done by contractors was managed in-house; more senior reviser posts had been established for that purpose. The use of off-site staff and contractors, made possible through recent technological advances, allowed the Department to preserve quality while making better use of resources through reductions in travel expenditure. Other questions raised by Member States were subsequently answered orally or in writing.

48. The Committee did not reach agreement on a proposal by one delegation on the need for the Secretary-General to report to the General Assembly on the criteria used to determine which documents would be translated by staff members and which by external contractors. Consequently, the Committee decided to refer the issue to the Fifth Committee for its consideration.

49. One delegation raised a concern that the Secretariat sometimes changed agreed texts of both draft and adopted resolutions beyond purely grammatical and editorial points of view, and requested the Secretariat to refrain from making any changes of a substantive nature to agreed texts of either draft or adopted resolutions. The delegation also expressed its concern that it was neither efficient nor effective for the Secretariat to review such agreed texts multiple times. All delegations shared those concerns. The representative of the Secretariat explained that documentation workflows, including measures to enhance the efficient and cost-effective management of editing and editorial support processes, were currently being systematically reviewed under the “Languages for the future” initiative.
