Contribution of confidence- and security-building measures to international peace and security

The General Assembly,

Mindful of the importance of confidence-building, particularly in the regional context, for the peaceful settlement of existing international problems and for the improvement and promotion of international relations based on justice, co-operation and solidarity,

Recognizing that commitment to confidence-building measures could significantly contribute to preparing for further progress in disarmament,

Recalling previous resolutions on the subject of confidence-building, in particular resolution 43/78 H of 7 December 1988,

1. Welcomes the implementation of confidence-building measures as contained in the Final Act of the Conference on Security and Co-operation in Europe 1/ and on that basis the positive experience gathered since 1987 with the implementation, by the thirty-five States members of the Conference, of the measures agreed at the Stockholm Conference on Confidence- and Security-building Measures and Disarmament in Europe;

1/ The Final Act was signed at Helsinki on 1 August 1975.

2. Expects the ongoing Vienna negotiations on confidence- and security-building measures to build upon and expand the results already achieved at the Stockholm Conference with the aim of elaborating and adopting a new set of mutually complementary confidence- and security-building measures designed to reduce the risk of military confrontation in Europe;

3. Reaffirms its invitation to all States to consider the possible introduction of confidence-building measures in their particular regions and, where possible, to negotiate on them in keeping with conditions and requirements prevailing in the respective region;

4. Welcomes the consideration of confidence-building measures in the framework of United Nations regional disarmament workshops such as those held at Lagos in 1989 and to be held at Kathmandu in 1990.
