General Introduction

1. This publication lists all documents and publications received by the Documents Index Unit from the United Nations and the specialized agencies, except restricted (confidential) materials and internal papers. In general, each monthly issue covers the documents and publications received by the Unit during that month. Some specialized agencies have assumed responsibility for the information contained in their sections and the listing and indexing of their documents. The documents listed by these agencies are those published at their headquarters during the period covered and are not necessarily available at United Nations headquarters in New York. Periodicals and press release series, first listed in the February issue for 1950, are listed annually thereafter in the December issue.
2. Each issue comprises:
 - (a) General Introduction.
 - (b) List of Abbreviations.
 - (c) Lists of Documents and Publications -- a section for the United Nations, followed by a section for each of the specialized agencies in the alphabetical order of their abbreviations: Bank, FAO, Fund, ICAO, etc. Each section is arranged in three parts: (1) a list of documents and publications; (2) revisions, addenda, corrigenda, and non-English language editions, and (3) republications. In each part, materials are arranged as far as possible in alphabetical order by symbol numbers. Only in part (1) are complete bibliographical details given. Parts (2) and (3) are arranged in tabular form, giving only the information needed to identify the documents and publications in these categories.
 - (d) General Index
3. A single General Index covers all documents and publications listed in every section. All references in this index are to the entry numbers in the respective sections. The United Nations list and each of the specialized agencies lists has its own series of entry numbers, each series being consecutive for one calendar year. Entry numbers have been used because of the divergency of practice among the organizations respecting the use and non-use of symbols and sales numbers, and the complexity of direct reference to these symbols or to titles. The indexes in the monthly issues will be cumulated into an annual index at the end of the year.
4. An asterisk (*) distinguishes those documents and publications which summarize the work of an organ, represent the final results of international conferences or research projects, or are works of reference such as bibliographies, handbooks and yearbooks. This minimum selection from thousands of documents and publications is intended to assist the general user in understanding the current work of the organizations and the relevant documentation.
5. A consolidated list of the depository libraries of the United Nations and the specialized agencies appears in Volume 2, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1951).
6. A consolidated list of the sales agents of the United Nations and the specialized agencies appears in Volume 2, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1951).
7. Detailed information about the organizations whose documents are listed in this publication, such as branch offices, correspondents, etc., appears once a year in the July issue.
8. Information concerning the distribution and sales of documents and publications is contained in the note preceding the list of Documents and Publications of the United Nations and each of the specialized agencies.
9. When a request for documents from a distribution source is based on information supplied by this publication, it is suggested that the request stipulate that revisions, addenda and corrigenda be included.
10. The specialized agencies are responsible for the distribution and sale of their documents and publications. Requests for these materials or for further information concerning them should therefore be addressed to the specialized agency of issue, not to the Secretariat of the United Nations.
11. The United Nations Documents Index is prepared by the Documents Index Unit of the United Nations Library, and is published monthly at an annual subscription rate of $7.50, 50/Stg., Sw. fr. 30.00 post-free. Single copies are available at $.75, 5/Stg., Sw. fr. 3.00. Subscriptions may be placed with the sales agents of United Nations publications (listed on back cover). Orders and enquiries from other countries may be addressed to the Sales and Circulation Section, United Nations, New York, or to Sales Section, European Office of the United Nations, Geneva, Switzerland.
12. The Documents Index Unit has endeavoured to list and index systematically the documents received from the specialized agencies and to supply pertinent information concerning their distribution and sale. Because information available has been incomplete, supplementary information will be given in later issues.
13. Any suggestions for the improvement of the United Nations Documents Index will be welcome. They should be addressed to the Documents Index Unit, United Nations Library, United Nations, New York.

UN

1. The information below applies to documents and publications of all organs of the United Nations except the International Court of Justice.

2. The place of original distribution or publication is given only for documents and publications issued overseas, whether or not they have also been re-issued at United Nations, New York. Where no place is given, United Nations, New York is understood to be the place of original distribution or publication.

3. By decisions taken at the beginning of 1950 by the Publications Board, the Secretariat publishes all printed Official Records of main organs in fascicle form. Official Records of any session are not issued in bound volumes after the close of the session, but instead the record of each meeting is published separately, as an individual booklet or fascicle, immediately after the close of the meeting. At the end of each session there is issued to each recipient of the records a prefatory fascicle which contains all the material that used to be found in the bound volumes previously issued by the Secretariat - a title page, a table of contents, a list of members attending, initial agenda, and other normal "preliminary matter". For ease of recognition, the fascicles of the opening and closing meetings are so identified in the masthead, and the prefatory fascicle is to be placed before the record of the opening meeting. Meeting record and prefatory fascicles of the Official Records of the General Assembly, the Economic and Social Council and the Trusteeship Council are bound together, in sessional volumes, for sales purposes.

4. Prices of printed documents and publications are given in United States dollars. All sales documents and publications are available also in other national currencies through authorized sales agents. A list of authorized sales agents is to be found on the back cover of this publication and also a list of United Nations sales agents appears in Volume 2, No. 4, Part 2

(April 1951). Orders may be sent to:

5. Documents and publications are distributed to Member States, specialized agencies, non-governmental organizations, and depository libraries, under agreed arrangements. Note, however, that documents published outside of United Nations, New York, such as those published in Santiago by ECLA and in Bangkok by ECAFE may be expected to be received later than those originating at Headquarters. Documents of missions in the field are not distributed to depository libraries.

6. The Department of Public Information issues many publications (including press releases) which may be obtained on request by the press, schools, centres of international study, public libraries, and members of the general public. Some other United Nations documents and publications may also be obtained through the Department. Enquiries should be directed to the Department of Public Information, United Nations, New York, or to United Nations Information Centres.

7. Certain mimeographed document series have been sold by subscription. Policy concerning subscriptions to these series is now being reviewed. As soon as policy has been clarified, a statement will be published in a later issue. Further information can be obtained from Sales and Circulation Section, United Nations, New York.

8. A list of United Nations depository libraries appears in Volume 2, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1951).

Fund

Note: Beginning with the issue of September 1951, International Monetary Fund documents are listed and indexed by staff of the organization in Washington, D.C. and copy is forwarded for inclusion in the United Nations Documents Index.

1. Sales distribution. The only sales publications are International Financial Statistics (monthly, $5.00 per year), Balance of Payments Yearbook ($4.00 paper bound; $5.00 cloth bound) and Staff Papers (published three times a year, $3.50 per year), for which payment is accepted in national currencies by the central banks of many member countries.

2. Free distribution. The Articles of Agreement, Annual Reports, Proceedings of Annual Meetings, Schedule of Par Values, International Financial News Survey, press releases, and miscellaneous speeches and issuances are distributed free on request and an extensive mailing list is maintained for their regular distribution.

3. Depository libraries. The Fund has no depositories as such, but through its extensive mailing list and exchange arrangements the Fund sends regularly both free and sales publications to a large number of Government financial and statistical agencies, banks, and financial, economic and statistical organizations, including libraries and universities.

ICAO

A. CATEGORIES OF PUBLICATIONS

1. The publications of the International Civil Aviation Organization comprise the Convention on International Civil Aviation and Annexes thereto; Proceedings of the Assembly and the Council; special records of certain sessions of commissions of the Assembly, constituted committees of the Organization, or other representative bodies; regional and technical manuals; reports of divisional, regional, and special meetings; ICAO Circulars; the Index of ICAO Documents; tables of agreements and arrangements; Digests of Statistics; the ICAO Monthly Bulletin, and others. For a detailed list and the pricing of Salable Publications of ICAO: See the Catalogue of Salable Publications, 1946 - 1951, Montreal, 1951.

2. a) Except as otherwise indicated, these publications are issued either as Documents or Working Papers.

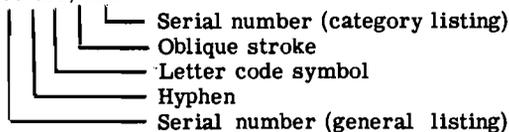

b) A document (Symbol: Doc) is a publication which is considered to have permanent character or special importance. All salable publications are in the category of documents. Some documents may, at the discretion of the Secretary-General, be issued free of charge to individuals requesting them; these non-salable documents include, for instance, the minutes, rules of procedure and ad hoc reports of the Assembly, the Council, and other deliberative bodies of the Organization, lists of agreements and arrangements registered with ICAO, and the weekly list of documents and working papers produced by the Organization.

c) A working paper (Symbol: WP) is any publication, other than a document, intended to serve primarily as a basis for discussion at a meeting, and is normally distributed only to those attending the meeting, for which it was prepared. Copies of working papers may, however, be supplied on specific request, at the discretion of the Secretary-General, within one year after the date of their issue.

B. SYMBOLS OF ICAO DOCUMENTS AND WORKING PAPERS

3. ICAO documents are identified by their title and by a reference symbol. The reference symbol consists of two groups of figures separated by a hyphen, a letter code symbol and an oblique stroke. For example:

Doc 500-AT/200

The first figure (5000 in the example given) is the serial number in the general list of ICAO documents. The code letters (AT in this example) indicate the category of activity concerned (in this case, Air Transport). The second figure (in this case 200) is the serial number allotted to the document within that particular category.

4. For purposes of grouping by issuing body, the United Nations Documents Index lists documents, with symbol components reversed, the category element of the symbol first. However citation of documents should be made with the symbol in the order as in the example above.

1. Coverage. The International Labour Organisation lists in the United Nations Documents Index all printed documents issued by the Organization with the exception of publications of the Division of Public Information. As it is the practice of the I.L.O. to reissue processed documents of permanent interest either as separate printed documents or as annexes to Governing Body documents, processed documents are not included in the Index. An exception to this rule is made in the case of Governing Body documents.

2. Documentation System. There is no general document numbering system for I.L.O. documents. On the whole, however, they follow a fairly simple pattern, and fall into a few easily identifiable groups. These are as follows:

- Governing Body documents
- Documents of the International Labour Conference
- Documents of regional and technical conferences
- Documents of independent committees, of which the industrial committees, first created in 1945, form a distinct group.
- Studies and Reports Series
- Annuals and Periodicals
- Special publications, such as the International Labour Code, Inter-governmental Commodity Control Agreements, etc.

The documents of conferences and committees, particularly in recent years, tend to have identical presentation. They consist of preliminary reports or working papers prepared by the International Labour Office, and the final report or proceedings of the Conference. Preliminary reports have lettered in the upper right corner the words "Report I [II, III, etc.], and following the title the corresponding annotation, "First [second, third] item of the agenda". The spine of the volume usually bears the initial letters of the name of the conference or committee, followed by the number of the session in arabic numbers and the number of the report in roman. The International Labour Conference has in addition a series of Questionnaires.

Governing Body documents in their final form appear as Minutes of the Governing Body. They contain the minutes of the debates, and as annexes the reports and other documents of importance submitted for discussion. The printed documents are at present nearly three years in arrears, although considerable progress in catching up with arrears was made in 1951 and it is hoped that even more rapid progress will be made in 1952. The provisional documents, in mimeographed form, are, however, listed in the Index. These documents have as documents symbol, the letters "G.B.", the number of the session, the number of the item of the agenda, and finally the number of the document within the series for the session in question. For convenience in checking the completeness of the documentation of any given session, the agenda item number is disregarded in the arrangement of documents listed in the United Nations Documents Index.

Studies and Reports, which consists of monographs on various topics, was formerly divided according to subject into separate series designated by the letters A to P; the volumes now bear numbers only, with the designation, New Series.

Most documents in recent years are issued in English, French and Spanish.

3. Availability for Distribution. Processed documents have limited distribution and are not for sale. Those which are considered to have permanent value are reissued later in printed form. All printed documents are for sale.

4. Sources of Information. Information about the documents may be obtained from the headquarters of the International Labour Office in Geneva, or from any of the branch offices or correspondents. Printed sales catalogues in English, French and Spanish editions which contain helpful descriptions of the contents of the documents, are issued by the Sales Service in Geneva from time to time. The latest catalogue, listing all documents still in print, was issued in 1948, and was entitled, "Abridged Catalogue of Publications of the International Labour Office, 27th edition". Annual supplements were issued covering documents issued in 1949 and 1950, and one for 1951 will be available shortly.

The Library of the International Labour Office has prepared and issued mimeographed catalogues of all printed documents issued from 1919 to the end of 1950, in English and French. These catalogues are in two parts, the first an alphabetical arrangement by author, subject and title, the second, a checklist classed as suggested in paragraph 2 of this note. They are entitled: Catalogue of Publications in English of the International Labour Office, 1919-1950. (International Labour Office. Library. Bibliographical Contributions. no. 5, and Catalogue des Publications en Langue Française du Bureau International du Travail, 1919-1950.) (Bureau International du Travail. Bibliothèque. Contributions bibliographiques, no. 6.)

5. Sale of Documents. An inclusive subscription to all ILO publications per year is $45.00, £13.10s. Any publication can be purchased individually. Prices are fixed in the currency of each country; full information and publications may be obtained from Branch Offices and national Correspondents of the ILO who act as sales agents in most countries.

UNESCO

Beginning January 1952, United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization documents are listed and indexed by the staff of United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization in Paris, and copy is forwarded for inclusion in the United Nations Documents Index. The documents listed are those distributed in Paris during the period covered.

1. The documents and publications of UNESCO listed in the United Nations Documents Index belong to the Main Series Category.
2. UNESCO documents are divided into two categories, A) Main Series and B) Working Series.

A) MAIN SERIES DOCUMENTS

Definitions and categories: Main series documents are those which are produced in direct application of programme resolutions, as explained in each case by a brief introductory paragraph stating objective and genesis. They comprise the following categories and are designated as shown in example at right:

1. Executive Board and General Conference documents: code.
e.g. EX/CF/17
5C/PRG/23
2. Departmental documents: general codes consisting of Department symbol, followed by a series number.
e.g. CUA/52

UNESCO

3. Sub-departmental documents: same as 2, except that additional permanent sub-elements, may be established.

e.g. MC/P/231

4. Jointly sponsored documents: same as 3, except that secondary element will identify co-sponsoring organization, and document will be produced under a joint masthead.

e.g. NS/IIAZ/14

5. Serially titled documents: special arrangements may be made of each such series under its own serial title and a special code consisting of Department symbol, abbreviated title, year and continuity number.

e.g. ED/FE/abstracts/50-14

6. Exceptionally, temporary discussion papers. General code is followed by "Temp".

e.g. SS/21/Temp

7. Final reports of conferences, committees or meetings of experts.

e.g. PHS/Conf.6/13

B) WORKING SERIES DOCUMENTS

Working Series documents comprise the four categories listed below. The purpose of each document is expressed in its introductory paragraph.

1. Documents for conferences, meetings or Committees of Experts - and summary records or minutes of such conferences. (General final reports are matters for Main Series release.)

2. Discussion papers sent by sponsoring Department, for information or comment, to a limited number of specialists.

3. Short-lived bibliographical or Clearing House data not suitable for Main Series.

4. Administrative Memoranda, if the necessary internal distribution requires reproduction.

C) PUBLICATIONS

The term "publication", for the purpose of this statement of policy and procedure, applies to all UNESCO works to be published for sale or other public distribution.

3. Documents in the Main Series, which bear in the top right-hand corner a reference consisting of the word "UNESCO", followed by the code letters of the department of origin and a serial number (e.g.; UNESCO/ED/80), are distributed to Member States and National Commissions, and to certain specialists whose names appear on lists drawn up by the department of origin. These documents are, in principle, final issues, constituting a report on a given stage in the implementation of some item in the programme.

Documents in the Working Series, which are identified by the code letters WS in the bottom left-hand corner, are handed over to the department of origin, which is responsible for transmitting them to the experts or specialists directly concerned. The number of copies produced varies according to the purpose for which they are required, but is kept as low as possible.

Main Series documents may be consulted in the Depository Libraries selected by UNESCO in Member States, of which a list can be obtained on request.

Working Series documents are for a limited distribution only and no copy can be obtained in addition to those distributed as indicated above.

4. Information about UNESCO documents may be obtained from:

ARCHIVES UNIT
UNESCO House
19 Avenue Kléber
Paris 16e, France

5. UNESCO issues about eight processed documents a week which provide a continuing picture of the daily work of the Organization: reports of deliberations of expert committees, decisions with regard to particular programme activities, texts of agreements, etc.

It is now possible for everyone to receive all documents intended for distribution to the public, by subscribing to the newly-instituted Documents Subscription Service, at a cost of $30; £10.0.0; 10.000 fr. per annum or the equivalent in local currency.

It has been decided to offer two further services so that those who wish to may receive one copy of everything published by UNESCO. The first of these is the Comprehensive Periodicals Subscription Service, which offers a combined annual subscription to all UNESCO periodicals at a considerable reduction over the total cost of separate subscriptions ($10; £2.10.0; 2.450 fr. per annum).

Subscribers to the two schemes outlined above will be entitled to participate in the Book Subscription Scheme, whereby one copy of each new book will be despatched on publication at the published price (postage extra), payment to be made at the end of each 6-months' period for the total value of the books received during that period. All UNESCO sales agents will accept subscriptions.

WHO

Note: Beginning with the issue of November 1951, World Health Organization documents are listed and indexed by staff of the organization in Geneva and copy is forwarded for inclusion in the United Nations Documents Index.

Mimeographed documents are considered as working documents and are not available for general distribution. Documents of the World Health Organization and the Executive Board are published or summarized in the Official Records of the World Health Organization. Reports of expert committees and other technical advisory bodies are published in the World Health Organization: Technical Report Series.

Original papers, written by WHO experts and consultants on medical and health subjects, although published in the Bulletin of the World Health Organization are indexed and listed in this publication as documents. Reprints of these papers can be obtained.

The Division of Public Information distributes at irregular intervals press releases and articles in the series Special Features which can be obtained on application to:

World Health Organization,
Division of Public Information,
Palais des Nations,
Geneva, Switzerland.

The list of sales agents of WHO publications appears in Volume 2, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1951). All publications are available through these sales agents.

Orders from countries where sales agents have not yet been designated may be sent to:

General Introduction

1. This publication lists all documents and publications received by the Documents Index Unit from the United Nations and the specialized agencies, except restricted (confidential) materials and internal papers. In general, each monthly issue covers the documents and publications received by the Unit during that month. Some specialized agencies have assumed responsibility for the information contained in their sections and the listing and indexing of their documents. The documents listed by these agencies are those published at their headquarters during the period covered and are not necessarily available at United Nations headquarters in New York. Periodicals and press release series, first listed in the February issue for 1950, are listed annually thereafter in the December issue.
2. Each issue comprises:
 - (a) General Introduction.
 - (b) List of Abbreviations.
 - (c) Lists of Documents and Publications -- a section for the United Nations, followed by a section for each of the specialized agencies in the alphabetical order of their abbreviations: Bank, FAO, Fund, ICAO, etc. Each section is arranged in three parts: (1) a list of documents and publications; (2) revisions, addenda, corrigenda, and non-English language editions, and (3) republications. In each part, materials are arranged as far as possible in alphabetical order by symbol numbers. Only in part (1) are complete bibliographical details given. Parts (2) and (3) are arranged in tabular form, giving only the information needed to identify the documents and publications in these categories.
 - (d) General Index
3. A single General Index covers all documents and publications listed in every section. All references in this index are to the entry numbers in the respective sections. The United Nations list and each of the specialized agencies lists has its own series of entry numbers, each series being consecutive for one calendar year. Entry numbers have been used because of the divergency of practice among the organizations respecting the use and non-use of symbols and sales numbers, and the complexity of direct reference to these symbols or to titles. The indexes in the monthly issues will be cumulated into an annual index at the end of the year.
4. An asterisk (*) distinguishes those documents and publications which summarize the work of an organ, represent the final results of international conferences or research projects, or are works of reference such as bibliographies, handbooks and yearbooks. This minimum selection from thousands of documents and publications is intended to assist the general user in understanding the current work of the organizations and the relevant documentation.
5. A consolidated list of the depository libraries of the United Nations and the specialized agencies appears in Volume 2, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1951).
6. A consolidated list of the sales agents of the United Nations and the specialized agencies appears in Volume 2, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1951).
7. Information concerning the distribution and sales of documents and publications is contained in the note preceding the list of Documents and Publications of the United Nations and each of the specialized agencies. Detailed information about the documentation systems of the ICAO, ILO, ITU and UNESCO, and the availability of their documents, appears in the introductions to their respective sections in the issue for January 1952. The detailed information on the documentation of the United Nations will be found in this issue. In future volumes, the expanded introductions will appear in the January issue for each year.
8. When a request for documents from a distribution source is based on information supplied by this publication, it is suggested that the request stipulate that revisions, addenda and corrigenda be included.
9. The specialized agencies are responsible for the distribution and sale of their documents and publications. Requests for these materials or for further information concerning them should therefore be addressed to the specialized agency of issue, not to the Secretariat of the United Nations.
10. The United Nations Documents Index is prepared by the Documents Index Unit of the United Nations Library, and is published monthly at an annual subscription rate of $7.50, 50/Stg., Sw. fr. 30.00 post-free. Single copies are available at $.75, 5/Stg., Sw. fr. 3.00. Subscriptions may be placed with the sales agents of United Nations publications (listed on back cover). Orders and enquiries from other countries may be addressed to the Sales and Circulation Section, United Nations, New York, or to Sales Section, European Office of the United Nations, Geneva, Switzerland.
11. The Documents Index Unit has endeavoured to list and index systematically the documents received from the specialized agencies and to supply pertinent information concerning their distribution and sale. Because information available has been incomplete, supplementary information will be given in later issues.
12. Any suggestions for the improvement of the United Nations Documents Index will be welcome. They should be addressed to the Documents Index Unit, United Nations Library, United Nations, New York.

1. The information below applies to documents and publications of all organs of the United Nations except the International Court of Justice.

Place of Original Distribution

2. The place of original distribution or publication is given only for documents and publications issued overseas, whether or not they have also been re-issued at New York. Where no place is given, New York is understood to be the place of original distribution or publication.

Distribution Classification

3. The following classification applies to documents of the United Nations:

- (a) General is applied to documents receiving full circulation.
- (b) Limited is applied to documents for which wide circulation is unnecessary for any reason other than that given under (c), and, generally, for documents of a provisional nature, such as provisional summary records, draft resolutions and amendments thereto. Usually, no stocks of limited documents are maintained and secondary distribution cannot therefore be made.
- (c) Restricted is applied exclusively to documents whose content requires that they be treated as confidential or withheld from public circulation.

4. By decisions taken at the beginning of 1950 by the Publications Board, the Secretariat publishes all printed Official Records of main organs in fascicle form. Official Records of any session are not issued in bound volumes after the close of the session, but instead the record of each meeting is published separately, as an individual booklet or fascicle, immediately after the close of the meeting. At the end of each session there is issued to each recipient of the records a prefatory fascicle which contains all the material that used to be found in the bound volumes previously issued by the Secretariat - a title page, a table of contents, a list of members attending, initial agenda, and other normal "preliminary matter". For ease of recognition, the fascicles of the opening and closing meetings are so identified in the masthead, and the prefatory fascicle is to be placed before the record of the opening meeting. Meeting record and prefatory fascicles of the Official Records of the General Assembly, the Economic and Social Council and the Trusteeship Council are bound together, in sessional volumes, for sales purposes.

5. Prices of printed documents and publications are given in United States dollars. All sales documents and publications are available also in other national currencies through authorized sales agents. A list of authorized sales agents is to be found on the back cover of this publication and also a list of United Nations sales agents appears in Volume 2, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1951). Orders may be sent to:

--	----	---

6. Certain periodical publications, such as the United Nations Bulletin and the Monthly Bulletin of Statistics, are offered at a fixed annual subscription. Other publications, such as the Treaty Series and the various Official Records appear at intervals in numbered series, but there is at present no established annual subscription price for them. For the convenience of subscribers, authorized sales agents do accept standing orders for the Treaty Series or for any series of Official Records. Under this arrangement, publications will be mailed to subscribers immediately upon issue and an invoice will be rendered periodically for publications despatched, plus postal charges.

7. The studies and reports prepared by the Secretariat cover a variety of fields. For the convenience of purchasers, the United Nations has established a series of numbered categories for its publications other than periodicals, the Treaty Series and the various Official Records. The following categories have been established.

- I. General Publications (includes rules of procedure, Delegation lists, publications of the Department of Public Information, etc.).
- IIA. Economic Stability and Employment Studies.
- IIB. Economic Development Studies.
- IIC. Economic Report.
- IID. Trade, Financial and Commercial Studies.
- III. Reports of the Economic Commission for Europe.
- IIIF. Reports of the Economic Commission for Asia and the Far East.
- IIG. Reports of the Economic Commission for Latin America.
- III. Health Publications.
- IV. Social Welfare Publications.
- V. Legal Publications.
- VIA. Trusteeship Publications.
- VIB. Studies and Reports on Non-Self-Governing Territories.
- VII. Publications on Political Affairs.
- VIII. Transport and Communications Publications.
- IX. Publications on Atomic Energy and Armaments Control.
- X. Publications on International Administration.
- XI. Publications on Narcotic Drugs.
- XII. Publications on Educational, Scientific and Cultural Affairs.
- XIII. Demographic Publications.
- XIV. Human Rights Publications.
- XV. Relief and Rehabilitation Publications.
- XVI. Fiscal Publications.
- XVII. Statistical Publications.

8. Each printed publication, except for periodicals, the Official Records and the Treaty Series, carries on the inside front cover or on the reverse of the title page, a box containing a United Nations publication sales number consisting of the year of publication, the category number of the publication (in roman numerals) and the number of the publication in this particular category (in arabic numerals). The official document number should not be confused with the publication sales number, and need not be quoted unless the document does not bear a publication sales number.

9. Many sales agents will arrange an annual standing order subscription for persons interested in books or pamphlets in any of the categories listed above. It is at present impossible to establish an annual subscription price in advance for publications in any of these categories.

10. Libraries or individuals desiring a copy of every printed publication issued by the United Nations may arrange with sales agents for an "overall" standing order, whereby all Official Records, Secretariat studies and reports, etc. (except periodicals), will be mailed to them upon publication. Subscriptions to United Nations periodicals must be entered separately, even by libraries and individuals placing an "overall" standing order.

Sales Distribution: Mimeographed Document Series

11. Certain mimeographed document series have been sold by subscription. Policy concerning subscriptions to these series is now being reviewed. As soon as policy has been clarified, a statement will be published in a later issue. Further information can be obtained from Sales and Circulation Section, United Nations, New York.

Free Distribution

12. Documents and publications are distributed to Member States, specialized agencies, non-governmental organizations, and depository libraries, under agreed arrangements. Note, however, that documents published outside of United Nations, New York, such as those published in Santiago by ECLA and in Bangkok by ECAFE may be expected to be received later than those originating at Headquarters. Documents of missions in the field are not distributed to depository libraries.

13. The Department of Public Information issues many publications (including press releases) which may be obtained on request by the press, schools, centres of international study, public libraries, and members of the general public. Some other United Nations documents and publications may also be obtained through the Department. Enquiries should be directed to the Department of Public Information, United Nations, New York, or to United Nations Information Centres.

14. For information concerning free publications of the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund (UNICEF) and the United Nations Appeal for Children (UNAC), address the Information Section, United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund, United Nations, New York.

Depository Libraries

15. A network of depository libraries has been established by the United Nations Library, so that throughout the world there will be reference collections of documents of the United Nations accessible to the public. A consolidated list of depository libraries of the United Nations and the Specialized Agencies appears in Volume 2, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1951).

16. The Library is authorized to designate at least one depository library in each Member State. In States of very large area or population, additional depository libraries may be designated. These depository libraries are entitled to receive all unrestricted mimeographed and printed documents and in return are expected to make the collection available to the public. Many of these depositories send their own publications in exchange. A few depositories, because of limitations of staff, have requested that only printed materials be deposited. Parliamentary libraries may on request be designated as depositories.

17. Centres of international study may also qualify to receive United Nations documents. A few libraries receive United Nations documents on an exchange basis, in return for extensive services and for publications made available to the United Nations Library.

Fund

Note: Beginning with the issue of September 1951, International Monetary Fund documents are listed and indexed by staff of the organization in Washington, D. C. and copy is forwarded for inclusion in the United Nations Documents Index.

1. Sales distribution. The only sales publications are International Financial Statistics (monthly, $5.00 per year), Balance of Payments Yearbook ($4.00 paper bound; $5.00 cloth bound) and Staff Papers (published three times a year, $3.50 per year), for which payment is accepted in national currencies by the central banks of many member countries.

2. Free distribution. The Articles of Agreement, Annual Reports, Proceedings of Annual Meetings, Schedule of Par Values, International Financial News Survey, press releases, and miscellaneous speeches and issuances are distributed free on request and an extensive mailing list is maintained for their regular distribution.

3. Depository libraries. The Fund has no depositories as such, but through its extensive mailing list and exchange arrangements the Fund sends regularly both free and sales publications to a large number of Government financial and statistical agencies, banks, and financial, economic and statistical organizations, including libraries and universities.

4. Requests for documents and further information.

3. Availability for Distribution. Processed documents have limited distribution and are not for sale. Those which are considered to have permanent value are reissued later in printed form. All printed documents are for sale.

4. Sources of Information. Information about the documents may be obtained from the headquarters of the International Labour Office in Geneva, or from any of the branch offices or correspondents. Printed sales catalogues in English, French and Spanish editions which contain helpful descriptions of the contents of the documents, are issued by the Sales Service in Geneva from time to time. The latest catalogue, listing all documents still in print, was issued in 1948, and was entitled, "Abridged Catalogue of Publications of the International Labour Office, 27th edition". Annual supplements were issued covering documents issued in 1949 and 1950, and one for 1951 will be available shortly.

The Library of the International Labour Office has prepared and issued mimeographed catalogues of all printed documents issued from 1919 to the end of 1950, in English and French. These catalogues are in two parts, the first an alphabetical arrangement by author, subject and title, the second, a checklist classed as suggested in paragraph 2 of this note. They are entitled: Catalogue of Publications in English of the International Labour Office, 1919-1950. (International Labour Office. Library. Bibliographical Contributions. no. 5, and Catalogue des Publications en Langue Française du Bureau International du Travail, 1919-1950.) (Bureau International du Travail. Bibliothèque. Contributions bibliographiques, no. 6.)

5. Sale of Documents. An inclusive subscription to all ILO publications per year is $45.00, £13.10s. Any publication can be purchased individually. Prices are fixed in the currency of each country; full information and publications may be obtained from Branch Offices and national Correspondents of the ILO who act as sales agents in most countries.

ILO

1. Coverage. The International Labour Organisation lists in the United Nations Documents Index all printed documents issued by the Organization with the exception of publications of the Division of Public Information. As it is the practice of the I.L.O. to reissue processed documents of permanent interest either as separate printed documents or as annexes to Governing Body documents, processed documents are not included in the Index. An exception to this rule is made in the case of Governing Body documents.

2. Documentation System. A description of the documentation system of the International Labour Organisation appears in the issue for January 1952.

UNESCO

Beginning January 1952, United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization documents are listed and indexed by the staff of United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization in Paris, and copy is forwarded for inclusion in the United Nations Documents Index. The documents listed are those distributed in Paris during the period covered.

1. The documents and publications of UNESCO listed in the United Nations Documents Index belong to the Main Series Category.
2. A description of the documentation system of UNESCO appears in the issue for January 1952.
3. Main Series documents may be consulted in the Depository Libraries selected by UNESCO in Member States, of which a list can be obtained on request.
4. A list of UNESCO depository libraries also appears in Volume 2, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1951).
5. Information about UNESCO documents may be obtained from:

ARCHIVES UNIT
UNESCO House
19 Avenue Kléber
Paris 16e, France

6. It is now possible for everyone to receive all documents intended for distribution to the public, by subscribing to the newly-instituted Documents Subscription Service, at a cost of $30; £10.0.0; 10.000 fr. per annum or the equivalent in local currency.

It has been decided to offer two further services so that those who wish to may receive one copy of everything published by UNESCO. The first of these is the Comprehensive Periodicals Subscription Service, which offers a combined annual subscription to all UNESCO periodicals at a considerable reduction over the total cost of separate subscriptions ($10; £2.10.0; 2.450 fr. per annum).

Subscribers to the two schemes outlined above will be entitled to participate in the Book Subscription Scheme, whereby one copy of each new book will be despatched on publication at the published price (postage extra), payment to be made at the end of each 6-months' period for the total value of the books received during that period. All UNESCO sales agents will accept subscriptions.

7. A list of UNESCO sales agents appears in Volume 2, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1951).

WHO

Note: Beginning with the issue of November 1951, World Health Organization documents are listed and indexed by staff of the organization in Geneva and copy is forwarded for inclusion in the United Nations Documents Index.

Mimeographed documents are considered as working documents and are not available for general distribution. Documents of the World Health Organization and the Executive Board are published or summarized in the Official Records of the World Health Organization. Reports of expert committees and other technical advisory bodies are published in the World Health Organization: Technical Report Series.

Original papers, written by WHO experts and consultants on medical and health subjects, although published in the Bulletin of the World Health Organization are indexed and listed in this publication as documents. Reprints of these papers can be obtained.

The Division of Public Information distributes at irregular intervals press releases and articles in the series Special Features which can be obtained on application to:

World Health Organization,
Division of Public Information,
Palais des Nations,
Geneva, Switzerland.

The list of sales agents of WHO publications appears in Volume 2, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1951). All publications are available through these sales agents.

Orders from countries where sales agents have not yet been designated may be sent to:

World Health Organization,
Sales Section,
Palais des Nations,
Geneva, Switzerland.

A list of WHO depository libraries appears in Volume 2, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1951).

The Division of Public Information publishes monthly A WHO Newsletter intended for non-specialized readers. This publication can be obtained free of charge on request sent to:

World Health Organization,
Division of Public Information,
Palais des Nations,
Geneva, Switzerland.

General Introduction

1. This publication lists all documents and publications received by the Documents Index Unit from the United Nations and the specialized agencies, except restricted (confidential) materials and internal papers. In general, each monthly issue covers the documents and publications received by the Unit during that month. Some specialized agencies have assumed responsibility for the information contained in their sections and the listing and indexing of their documents. The documents listed by these agencies are those published at their headquarters during the period covered and are not necessarily available at United Nations headquarters in New York. Periodicals and press release series, first listed in the February issue for 1950, are listed annually thereafter in the December issue.
2. Each issue comprises:
 - (a) General Introduction.
 - (b) List of Abbreviations.
 - (c) Lists of Documents and Publications -- a section for the United Nations, followed by a section for each of the specialized agencies in the alphabetical order of their abbreviations: Bank, FAO, Fund, ICAO, etc. Each section is arranged in three parts: (1) a list of documents and publications; (2) revisions, addenda, corrigenda, and non-English language editions, and (3) republications. In each part, materials are arranged as far as possible in alphabetical order by symbol numbers. Only in part (1) are complete bibliographical details given. Parts (2) and (3) are arranged in tabular form, giving only the information needed to identify the documents and publications in these categories.
 - (d) General Index
3. A single General Index covers all documents and publications listed in every section. All references in this index are to the entry numbers in the respective sections. The United Nations list and each of the specialized agencies lists has its own series of entry numbers, each series being consecutive for one calendar year. Entry numbers have been used because of the divergency of practice among the organizations respecting the use and non-use of symbols and sales numbers, and the complexity of direct reference to these symbols or to titles. The indexes in the monthly issues will be cumulated into an annual index at the end of the year.
4. An asterisk (*) distinguishes those documents and publications which summarize the work of an organ, represent the final results of international conferences or research projects, or are works of reference such as bibliographies, handbooks and yearbooks. This minimum selection from thousands of documents and publications is intended to assist the general user in understanding the current work of the organizations and the relevant documentation.
5. A consolidated list of the depository libraries of the United Nations and the specialized agencies appears in Volume 2, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1951).
6. A consolidated list of the sales agents of the United Nations and the specialized agencies appears in Volume 2, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1951).
7. Information concerning the distribution and sales of documents and publications is contained in the note preceding the list of Documents and Publications of the United Nations and each of the specialized agencies. Detailed information about the documentation systems of the ICAO, ILO, ITU and UNESCO, and the availability of their documents, appears in the introductions to their respective sections in the issue for January 1952. The detailed information on the documentation of the United Nations will be found in the February issue. In future volumes, the expanded introductions will appear in the January issue for each year.
8. When a request for documents from a distribution source is based on information supplied by this publication, it is suggested that the request stipulate that revisions, addenda and corrigenda be included.
9. The specialized agencies are responsible for the distribution and sale of their documents and publications. Requests for these materials or for further information concerning them should therefore be addressed to the specialized agency of issue, not to the Secretariat of the United Nations.
10. The United Nations Documents Index is prepared by the Documents Index Unit of the United Nations Library, and is published monthly at an annual subscription rate of $7.50, 50/Stg., Sw. fr. 30.00 post-free. Single copies are available at $.75, 5/Stg., Sw. fr. 3.00. Subscriptions may be placed with the sales agents of United Nations publications (listed on back cover). Orders and enquiries from other countries may be addressed to the Sales and Circulation Section, United Nations, New York, or to Sales Section, European Office of the United Nations, Geneva, Switzerland.
11. The Documents Index Unit has endeavoured to list and index systematically the documents received from the specialized agencies and to supply pertinent information concerning their distribution and sale. Because information available has been incomplete, supplementary information will be given in later issues.
12. Any suggestions for the improvement of the United Nations Documents Index will be welcome. They should be addressed to the Documents Index Unit, United Nations Library, United Nations, New York.

UN

1. The information below applies to documents and publications of all organs of the United Nations except the International Court of Justice.

2. The place of original distribution or publication is given only for documents and publications issued overseas, whether or not they have also been re-issued at United Nations, New York. Where no place is given, United Nations, New York is understood to be the place of original distribution or publication.

3. By decisions taken at the beginning of 1950 by the Publications Board, the Secretariat publishes all printed Official Records of main organs in fascicle form. Official Records of any session are not issued in bound volumes after the close of the session, but instead the record of each meeting is published separately, as an individual booklet or fascicle, immediately after the close of the meeting. At the end of each session there is issued to each recipient of the records a prefatory fascicle which contains all the material that used to be found in the bound volumes previously issued by the Secretariat - a title page, a table of contents, a list of members attending, initial agenda, and other normal "preliminary matter". For ease of recognition, the fascicles of the opening and closing meetings are so identified in the masthead, and the prefatory fascicle is to be placed before the record of the opening meeting. Meeting record and prefatory fascicles of the Official Records of the General Assembly, the Economic and Social Council and the Trusteeship Council are bound together, in sessional volumes, for sales purposes.

4. Prices of printed documents and publications are given in United States dollars. All sales documents and publications are available also in other national currencies through authorized sales agents. A list of authorized sales agents is to be found on the back cover of this publication and also a list of United Nations sales agents appears in Volume 2, No. 4, Part 2

(April 1951). Orders may be sent to:

--	----	---

5. Documents and publications are distributed to Member States, specialized agencies, non-governmental organizations, and depository libraries, under agreed arrangements. Note, however, that documents published outside of United Nations, New York, such as those published in Santiago by ECLA and in Bangkok by ECAFE may be expected to be received later than those originating at Headquarters. Documents of missions in the field are not distributed to depository libraries.

6. The Department of Public Information issues many publications (including press releases) which may be obtained on request by the press, schools, centres of international study, public libraries, and members of the general public. Some other United Nations documents and publications may also be obtained through the Department. Enquiries should be directed to the Department of Public Information, United Nations, New York, or to United Nations Information Centres.

7. Certain mimeographed document series have been sold by subscription. Policy concerning subscriptions to these series is now being reviewed. As soon as policy has been clarified, a statement will be published in a later issue. Further information can be obtained from Sales and Circulation Section, United Nations, New York.

8. A list of United Nations depository libraries appears in Volume 2, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1951).

1. Coverage. The International Labour Organisation lists in the United Nations Documents Index all printed documents issued by the Organization with the exception of publications of the Division of Public Information. As it is the practice of the I.L.O. to reissue processed documents of permanent interest either as separate printed documents or as annexes to Governing Body documents, processed documents are not included in the Index. An exception to this rule is made in the case of Governing Body documents.

2. Documentation System. A description of the documentation system of the International Labour Organisation appears in the issue for January 1952.

3. Availability for Distribution. Processed documents have limited distribution and are not for sale. Those which are considered to have permanent value are reissued later in printed form. All printed documents are for sale.

4. Sources of Information. Information about the documents may be obtained from the headquarters of the International Labour Office in Geneva, or from any of the branch offices or correspondents. Printed sales catalogues in English, French and Spanish editions which contain helpful descriptions of the contents of the documents, are issued by the Sales Service in Geneva from time to time. The latest catalogue, listing all documents still in print, was issued in 1948, and was entitled, "Abridged Catalogue of Publications of the International Labour Office, 27th edition". Annual supplements were issued covering documents issued in 1949 and 1950, and one for 1951 will be available shortly.

The Library of the International Labour Office has prepared and issued mimeographed catalogues of all printed documents issued from 1919 to the end of 1950, in English and French. These catalogues are in two parts, the first an alphabetical arrangement by author, subject and title, the second, a checklist classed as suggested in paragraph 2 of this note. They are entitled: Catalogue of Publications in English of the International Labour Office, 1919-1950. (International Labour Office. Library. Bibliographical Contributions. no. 5, and Catalogue des Publications en Langue Française du Bureau International du Travail, 1919-1950.) (Bureau International du Travail. Bibliothèque. Contributions bibliographies, no. 6.)

5. Sale of Documents. An inclusive subscription to all ILO publications per year is $45.00, £13.10s. Any publication can be purchased individually. Prices are fixed in the currency of each country; full information and publications may be obtained from Branch Offices and national Correspondents of the ILO who act as sales agents in most countries.

ITO

1. Documents. The Interim Commission for the International Trade Organization (ICITO) is responsible for the Publication of documents of the Interim Commission and also for the publication of documents on behalf of the Contracting Parties to General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT). Documents in the ICITO series are unrestricted. Documents in the GATT series are nearly all restricted at the time of issue.

2. Sales distribution. ICITO and GATT unrestricted documents may be purchased from the ICITO Geneva Office. Printed ICITO publications may also be purchased from agents of United Nations publications (see list on back cover).

3. Free distribution. Unrestricted and restricted ICITO and GATT documents are distributed free to Governments, the United Nations, the specialized agencies, and some inter-governmental organizations. Unrestricted documents only are distributed free to a small group of non-governmental organizations and libraries.

4. Depository libraries. There are no ITO depository libraries as such; but some libraries receive documents free on request.

5. Requests for documents and further information.
Address:

Interim Commission for the International Trade Organization,
Palais des Nations,
Geneva, Switzerland.

NO DOCUMENTS RECEIVED
DURING MARCH

ITU

1. The documents of the International Telecommunication Union listed below are indexed by staff of the organization in Geneva and copy is forwarded for inclusion in the United Nations Documents Index.
2. A list of the categories of documents produced by the ITU appears in the issue for January 1952.
3. The list of ITU publications with their prices can be obtained at any time from the General Secretariat. This list is regularly published in the monthly organ of the ITU, the Telecommunication Journal.
4. Sales distribution. Orders should be addressed to:

The General Secretariat of the International
Telecommunication Union,
Palais Wilson,
Geneva, Switzerland.

All orders must be accompanied by the amount in Swiss francs. As the General Secretariat of the ITU sells all its publications at cost price, no reduction can be made to booksellers.

UNESCO

Beginning January 1952, United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization documents are listed and indexed by the staff of United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization in Paris, and copy is forwarded for inclusion in the United Nations Documents Index. The documents listed are those distributed in Paris during the period covered.

1. The documents and publications of UNESCO listed in the United Nations Documents Index belong to the Main Series Category.
2. A description of the documentation system of UNESCO appears in the issue for January 1952.
3. Main Series documents may be consulted in the Depository Libraries selected by UNESCO in Member States, of which a list can be obtained on request.
4. A list of UNESCO depository libraries also appears in Volume 2, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1951).
5. Information about UNESCO documents may be obtained from:

ARCHIVES UNIT
UNESCO House
19 Avenue Kléber
Paris 16e, France

6. It is now possible for everyone to receive all documents intended for distribution to the public, by subscribing to the newly-instituted Documents Subscription Service, at a cost of $30; £10.0.0; 10.000 fr. per annum or the equivalent in local currency.

It has been decided to offer two further services so that those who wish to may receive one copy of everything published by UNESCO. The first of these is the Comprehensive Periodicals Subscription Service, which offers a combined annual subscription to all UNESCO periodicals at a considerable reduction over the total cost of separate subscriptions ($10; £2.10.0; 2.450 fr. per annum).

Subscribers to the two schemes outlined above will be entitled to participate in the Book Subscription Scheme, whereby one copy of each new book will be despatched on publication at the published price (postage extra), payment to be made at the end of each 6-months' period for the total value of the books received during that period. All UNESCO sales agents will accept subscriptions.

7. A list of UNESCO sales agents appears in Volume 2, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1951).

UPU

1. The documents of the Universal Postal Union consist of series and lists providing information on postal matters: records of the various congresses, conferences, commissions and sub-commissions; background papers, in pamphlet form, on the organization; bi-weekly circulars and bulletins for the use of the postal administrations of the Members of the organization, as well as the monthly publication Union Postale. The documents which are published by the International Bureau are brought up to date by means of bulletins and supplements.

2. Free distribution. Documents published by the International Bureau are distributed free to the postal administrations of the UPU on a quota basis, and to the United Nations.

3. Depository libraries. None.

4. Sales distribution. The Universal Postal Union does not have sales agents; orders for publications appearing in its "Documents en vente au Bureau International" in Union Postale (Revue mensuelle) should be addressed to the organization.

5. Requests for documents and further information.
Address:

Bureau International de l'Union Postale

WHO

World Health Organization documents are listed and indexed by staff of the organization in Geneva, and copy is forwarded for inclusion in the United Nations Documents Index.

Mimeographed documents are considered as working documents and are not available for general distribution. Documents of the World Health Organization and the Executive Board are published or summarized in the Official Records of the World Health Organization. Reports of expert committees and other technical advisory bodies are published in the World Health Organization: Technical Report Series.

Original papers, written by WHO experts and consultants on medical and health subjects, although published in the Bulletin of the World Health Organization are indexed and listed in this publication as documents. Reprints of these papers can be obtained.

The Division of Public Information distributes at irregular intervals press releases and articles in the series Special Features which can be obtained on application to:

World Health Organization,
Division of Public Information,
Palais des Nations,
Geneva, Switzerland.

The list of sales agents of WHO publications appears in Volume 2, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1951). All publications are available through these sales agents.

Orders from countries where sales agents have not yet been designated may be sent to:

World Health Organization,
Sales Section,
Palais des Nations,
Geneva, Switzerland.

A list of WHO depository libraries appears in Volume 2, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1951).

The Division of Public Information publishes monthly A WHO Newsletter intended for non-specialized readers. This publication can be obtained free of charge on request sent to:

World Health Organization,
Division of Public Information,

General Introduction

1. This publication lists all documents and publications received by the Documents Index Unit from the United Nations and the specialized agencies, except restricted (confidential) materials and internal papers. In general, each monthly issue covers the documents and publications received by the Unit during that month. Some specialized agencies have assumed responsibility for the information contained in their sections and the listing and indexing of their documents. The documents listed by these agencies are those published at their headquarters during the period covered and are not necessarily available at United Nations headquarters in New York. Periodicals and press release series, first listed in the February issue for 1950, are listed annually thereafter in the December issue.

2. Each issue comprises:

(a) General Introduction.

(b) List of Abbreviations.

(c) Lists of Documents and Publications -- a section for the United Nations, followed by a section for each of the specialized agencies in the alphabetical order of their abbreviations: Bank, FAO, Fund, ICAO, etc. Each section is arranged in three parts: (1) a list of documents and publications; (2) revisions, addenda, corrigenda, and non-English language editions, and (3) republications. In each part, materials are arranged as far as possible in alphabetical order by symbol numbers. Only in part (1) are complete bibliographical details given. Parts (2) and (3) are arranged in tabular form, giving only the information needed to identify the documents and publications in these categories.

(d) General Index

3. A single General Index covers all documents and publications listed in every section. All references in this index are to the entry numbers in the respective sections. The United Nations list and each of the specialized agencies lists has its own series of entry numbers, each series being consecutive for one calendar year. Entry numbers have been used because of the divergency of practice among the organizations respecting the use and non-use of symbols and sales numbers, and the complexity of direct reference to these symbols or to titles. The indexes in the monthly issues will be cumulated into an annual index at the end of the year.

4. An asterisk (*) distinguishes those documents and publications which summarize the work of an organ, represent the final results of international conferences or research projects, or are works of reference such as bibliographies, handbooks and yearbooks. This minimum selection from thousands of documents and publications is intended to assist the general user in understanding the current work of the organizations and the relevant documentation.

5. A consolidated list of the depository libraries of the United Nations and the specialized agencies appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

6. A consolidated list of the sales agents of the United Nations and the specialized agencies appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

7. Information concerning the distribution and sales of documents and publications is contained in the note preceding the list of Documents and Publications of the United Nations and each of the specialized agencies. Detailed information about the documentation systems of the ICAO, ILO, ITU and UNESCO, and the availability of their documents, appears in the introductions to their respective sections in the issue for January 1952. The detailed information on the documentation of the United Nations will be found in the February issue. In future volumes, the expanded introductions will appear in the January issue for each year.

8. When a request for documents from a distribution source is based on information supplied by this publication, it is suggested that the request stipulate that revisions, addenda and corrigenda be included.

9. The specialized agencies are responsible for the distribution and sale of their documents and publications. Requests for these materials or for further information concerning them should therefore be addressed to the specialized agency of issue, not to the Secretariat of the United Nations.

10. The United Nations Documents Index is prepared by the Documents Index Unit of the United Nations Library, and is published monthly at an annual subscription rate of $7.50, 50/Stg., Sw.fr. 30.00 post-free. Single copies are available at $.75, 5/Stg., Sw.fr. 3.00. Subscriptions may be placed with the sales agents of United Nations publications (listed on back cover). Orders and enquiries from other countries may be addressed to the Sales and Circulation Section, United Nations, New York, or to Sales Section, European Office of the United Nations, Geneva, Switzerland.

11. The Documents Index Unit has endeavoured to list and index systematically the documents received from the specialized agencies and to supply pertinent information concerning their distribution and sale. Because information available has been incomplete, supplementary information will be given in later issues.

12. Any suggestions for the improvement of the United Nations Documents Index will be welcome. They should be addressed to the Documents Index Unit, United Nations Library, United Nations, New York.

UN

1. The information below applies to documents and publications of all organs of the United Nations except the International Court of Justice.

2. The place of original distribution or publication is given only for documents and publications issued overseas, whether or not they have also been re-issued at United Nations, New York. Where no place is given, United Nations, New York is understood to be the place of original distribution or publication.

3. By decisions taken at the beginning of 1950 by the Publications Board, the Secretariat publishes all printed Official Records of main organs in fascicle form. Official Records of any session are not issued in bound volumes after the close of the session, but instead the record of each meeting is published separately, as an individual booklet or fascicle, immediately after the close of the meeting. At the end of each session there is issued to each recipient of the records a prefatory fascicle which contains all the material that used to be found in the bound volumes previously issued by the Secretariat - a title page, a table of contents, a list of members attending, initial agenda, and other normal "preliminary matter". For ease of recognition, the fascicles of the opening and closing meetings are so identified in the masthead, and the prefatory fascicle is to be placed before the record of the opening meeting. Meeting record and prefatory fascicles of the Official Records of the General Assembly, the Economic and Social Council and the Trusteeship Council are bound together, in sessional volumes, for sales purposes.

4. Prices of printed documents and publications are given in United States dollars. All sales documents and publications are available also in other national currencies through authorized sales agents. A list of authorized sales agents is to be found on the back cover of this publication and also a list of United Nations sales agents appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2

(April 1952). Orders may be sent to:

--	----	---

5. Documents and publications are distributed to Member States, specialized agencies, non-governmental organizations, and depository libraries, under agreed arrangements. Note, however, that documents published outside of United Nations, New York, such as those published in Santiago by ECLA and in Bangkok by ECAFE may be expected to be received later than those originating at Headquarters. Documents of missions in the field are not distributed to depository libraries.

6. The Department of Public Information issues many publications (including press releases) which may be obtained on request by the press, schools, centres of international study, public libraries, and members of the general public. Some other United Nations documents and publications may also be obtained through the Department. Enquiries should be directed to the Department of Public Information, United Nations, New York, or to United Nations Information Centres.

7. Certain mimeographed document series have been sold by subscription. Policy concerning subscriptions to these series is now being reviewed. As soon as policy has been clarified, a statement will be published in a later issue. Further information can be obtained from Sales and Circulation Section, United Nations, New York.

8. A list of United Nations depository libraries appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

ILO

1. Coverage. The International Labour Organisation lists in the United Nations Documents Index all printed documents issued by the Organization with the exception of publications of the Division of Public Information. As it is the practice of the I.L.O. to reissue processed documents of permanent interest either as separate printed documents or as annexes to Governing Body documents, processed documents are not included in the Index. An exception to this rule is made in the case of Governing Body documents.

2. Documentation System. A description of the documentation system of the International Labour Organisation appears in the issue for January 1952.

3. Availability for Distribution. Processed documents have limited distribution and are not for sale. Those which are considered to have permanent value are reissued later in printed form. All printed documents are for sale.

4. Sources of Information. Information about the documents may be obtained from the headquarters of the International Labour Office in Geneva, or from any of the branch offices or correspondents. Printed sales catalogues in English, French and Spanish editions which contain helpful descriptions of the contents of the documents, are issued by the Sales Service in Geneva from time to time. The latest catalogue, listing all documents still in print, was issued in 1948, and was entitled, "Abridged Catalogue of Publications of the International Labour Office, 27th edition". Annual supplements were issued covering documents issued in 1949 and 1950, and one for 1951 will be available shortly.

The Library of the International Labour Office has prepared and issued mimeographed catalogues of all printed documents issued from 1919 to the end of 1950, in English and French. These catalogues are in two parts, the first an alphabetical arrangement by author, subject and title, the second, a checklist classified as suggested in paragraph 2 of this note. They are entitled: Catalogue of Publications in English of the International Labour Office, 1919-1950. (International Labour Office. Library. Bibliographical Contributions. no. 5, and Catalogue des Publications en Langue Française du Bureau International du Travail, 1919-1950.) (Bureau International du Travail. Bibliothèque. Contributions bibliographies, no. 6.)

5. Sale of Documents. An inclusive subscription to all ILO publications per year is $45.00, £13.10s. Any publication can be purchased individually. Prices are fixed in the currency of each country; full information and publications may be obtained from Branch Offices and national Correspondents of the ILO who act as sales agents in most countries.

ITO

1. Documents. The Interim Commission for the International Trade Organization (ICITO) is responsible for the Publication of documents of the Interim Commission and also for the publication of documents on behalf of the Contracting Parties to General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT). Documents in the ICITO series are unrestricted. Documents in the GATT series are nearly all restricted at the time of issue.

2. Sales distribution. ICITO and GATT unrestricted documents may be purchased from the ICITO Geneva Office. Printed ICITO publications may also be purchased from agents of United Nations publications (see list on back cover).

3. Free distribution. Unrestricted and restricted ICITO and GATT documents are distributed free to Governments, the United Nations, the specialized agencies, and some inter-governmental organizations. Unrestricted documents only are distributed free to a small group of non-governmental organizations and libraries.

4. Depository libraries. There are no ITO depository libraries as such; but some libraries receive documents free on request.

5. Requests for documents and further information.
Address:

Interim Commission for the International Trade Organization,
Palais des Nations,
Geneva, Switzerland.

UNESCO

Beginning January 1952, United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization documents are listed and indexed by the staff of United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization in Paris, and copy is forwarded for inclusion in the United Nations Documents Index. The documents listed are those distributed in Paris during the period covered.

1. The documents and publications of UNESCO listed in the United Nations Documents Index belong to the Main Series Category.

2. A description of the documentation system of UNESCO appears in the issue for January 1952.

3. Main Series documents may be consulted in the Depository Libraries selected by UNESCO in Member States, of which a list can be obtained on request.

4. A list of UNESCO depository libraries also appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

5. Information about UNESCO documents may be obtained from:

ARCHIVES UNIT
UNESCO House
19 Avenue Kléber
Paris 16e, France

6. It is now possible for everyone to receive all documents intended for distribution to the public, by subscribing to the newly-instituted Documents Subscription Service, at a cost of $30; £10.0.0; 10.000 fr. per annum or the equivalent in local currency.

It has been decided to offer two further services so that those who wish to may receive one copy of everything published by UNESCO. The first of these is the Comprehensive Periodicals Subscription Service, which offers a combined annual subscription to all UNESCO periodicals at a considerable reduction over the total cost of separate subscriptions ($10; £2.10.0; 2.450 fr. per annum).

Subscribers to the two schemes outlined above will be entitled to participate in the Book Subscription Scheme, whereby one copy of each new book will be despatched on publication at the published price (postage extra), payment to be made at the end of each 6-months' period for the total value of the books received during that period. All UNESCO sales agents will accept subscriptions.

7. A list of UNESCO sales agents appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

UPU

1. The documents of the Universal Postal Union consist of series and lists providing information on postal matters: records of the various congresses, conferences, commissions and sub-commissions; background papers, in pamphlet form, on the organization; bi-weekly circulars and bulletins for the use of the postal administrations of the Members of the organization, as well as the monthly publication Union Postale. The documents which are published by the International Bureau are brought up to date by means of bulletins and supplements.

2. Free distribution. Documents published by the International Bureau are distributed free to the postal administrations of the UPU on a quota basis, and to the United Nations.

3. Depository libraries. None.

4. Sales distribution. The Universal Postal Union does not have sales agents; orders for publications appearing in its "Documents en vente au Bureau International" in Union Postale (Revue mensuelle) should be addressed to the organization.

WHO

World Health Organization documents are listed and indexed by staff of the organization in Geneva, and copy is forwarded for inclusion in the United Nations Documents Index.

Mimeographed documents are considered as working documents and are not available for general distribution. Documents of the World Health Organization and the Executive Board are published or summarized in the Official Records of the World Health Organization. Reports of expert committees and other technical advisory bodies are published in the World Health Organization: Technical Report Series.

Original papers, written by WHO experts and consultants on medical and health subjects, although published in the Bulletin of the World Health Organization are indexed and listed in this publication as documents. Reprints of these papers can be obtained.

The Division of Public Information distributes at irregular intervals press releases and articles in the series Special Features which can be obtained on application to:

World Health Organization,
Division of Public Information,
Palais des Nations,
Geneva, Switzerland.

The list of sales agents of WHO publications appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952). All publications are available through these sales agents.

Orders from countries where sales agents have not yet been designated may be sent to:

World Health Organization,
Sales Section,
Palais des Nations,
Geneva, Switzerland.

A list of WHO depository libraries appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

The Division of Public Information publishes monthly A WHO Newsletter intended for non-specialized readers. This publication can be obtained free of charge on request sent to:

World Health Organization,
Division of Public Information,
Palais des Nations,
Geneva, Switzerland.

Table of Contents

Information concerning the depository libraries and the sales agents and sales offices of the United Nations and the Specialized Agencies has been consolidated into the following two tables. Additions and corrections to these tables should be transmitted to the Chief of the Processing Section, Library, United Nations, New York, U.S.A., in order to be noted in subsequent issues of the United Nations Documents Index.

CONSOLIDATED LIST OF DEPOSITORY LIBRARIES

The following table lists by brief title only those institutions designated as depository libraries by the United Nations and the Specialized Agencies. It does not include the names of institutions which may be receiving documents and publications solely on the basis of subscription or exchange, or which may be supplied with these materials by the Governments of States which are members of the United Nations or the Specialized Agencies. The notes following the table contain information on the policy of the organizations with respect to depository libraries.

NOTES

(Numbers agree with column numbers in Table)

(Consolidated List of Depository Libraries)

- 1. UN. The United Nations Library has established a network of depository libraries, so that throughout the world there will be reference collections of documents and publications of the United Nations accessible to the public. The Library is authorized to designate at least one depository library in each Member State. In States of very large area or population, additional depository libraries may be designated. These libraries are entitled to receive documents and publications of general and limited distribution, and in return are expected to make the collections available to the public. Many of these depositories send their own publications in exchange. A few depositories, because of limited staff, have requested that printed materials only be deposited. Parliamentary libraries may, on request, be designated as depositories. Centres of international study may also qualify to receive United Nations documents and publications. A few libraries receive United Nations documents on an exchange basis in return for extensive services and publications made available to the United Nations Library.
- 2. INT. COURT The International Court of Justice has designated a number of depository libraries to receive all of its publications, but there are other libraries, institutions, etc. receiving certain series only, whose names do not appear in the list above.
- 3. BANK All depository libraries of the United Nations are on the mailing list of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development to receive all press releases, general publications, and loan agreements issued by the Bank, although the Bank has designated no depository libraries as such. In addition, the Bank sends its publications to a large number of Government financial and statistical agencies, investment institutions, and financial, economic and statistical organizations, as well as libraries and universities.
- 4. FAO The Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations sends free of charge its documents and publications to a limited number of libraries.
- 5. FUND The International Monetary Fund has designated no depository libraries as such, but through its extensive mailing list and exchange arrangements, the Fund sends regularly both free and sales publications to a large number of Government financial and statistical agencies, banks, and financial, economic and statistical organizations, including libraries and universities.
- 6. ICAO The International Civil Aviation Organization sends free its full documentation, with the exception of restricted materials and the Card Index, to a small number of depository libraries.
- 7. ILO The International Labour Organisation has designated no depository libraries as such, but it supplies all its printed papers (excluding those marked "confidential") to the national libraries of a number of countries.
- 8. IMCO The Inter-Governmental Maritime Consultative Organization is not yet established. The Preparatory Committee has not designated any depository libraries.
- 9. IRO The International Refugee Organization has designated no depository libraries; but depository libraries of the United Nations (indicated in column 1 above), and other organizations and institutions, may receive IRO documents and publications on request.

NOTES (continued)
(Consolidated List of Depository Libraries)

- 10. ITO The establishment of the International Trade Organization has been postponed indefinitely. The Interim Commission has designated no depository libraries, but libraries may obtain ICITO documents from the Secretariat on request.
- 11. ITU The International Telecommunication Union has not designated any depository libraries.
- 12. UNESCO The United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization has established network of depository libraries, so that throughout the world there will be reference collections of UNESCO documents and publications available to the public.
- 13. UPU The Universal Postal Union has not designated any depository libraries.
- 14. WHO In order to make reference collections of its publications accessible to the general public, the World Health Organization has designated a number of depository libraries throughout the world. Such depository libraries receive all printed materials of WHO with the exception of the weekly epidemiological publications, and in return are expected to make the collections available to the public.
- 15. WMO The World Meteorological Organization has not yet designated depository libraries.

General Introduction

1. This publication lists all documents and publications received by the Documents Index Unit from the United Nations and the specialized agencies, except restricted (confidential) materials and internal papers. In general, each monthly issue covers the documents and publications received by the Unit during that month. Some specialized agencies have assumed responsibility for the information contained in their sections and the listing and indexing of their documents. The documents listed by these agencies are those published at their headquarters during the period covered and are not necessarily available at United Nations headquarters in New York. Periodicals and press release series, first listed in the February issue for 1950, are listed annually thereafter in the December issue.
2. Each issue comprises:
 - (a) General Introduction.
 - (b) List of Abbreviations.
 - (c) Lists of Documents and Publications -- a section for the United Nations, followed by a section for each of the specialized agencies in the alphabetical order of their abbreviations: Bank, FAO, Fund, ICAO, etc. Each section is arranged in three parts: (1) a list of documents and publications; (2) revisions, addenda, corrigenda, and non-English language editions, and (3) republications. In each part, materials are arranged as far as possible in alphabetical order by symbol numbers. Only in part (1) are complete bibliographical details given. Parts (2) and (3) are arranged in tabular form, giving only the information needed to identify the documents and publications in these categories.
 - (d) General Index
3. A single General Index covers all documents and publications listed in every section. All references in this index are to the entry numbers in the respective sections. The United Nations list and each of the specialized agencies lists has its own series of entry numbers, each series being consecutive for one calendar year. Entry numbers have been used because of the divergency of practice among the organizations respecting the use and non-use of symbols and sales numbers, and the complexity of direct reference to these symbols or to titles. The indexes in the monthly issues will be cumulated into an annual index at the end of the year.
4. An asterisk (*) distinguishes those documents and publications which summarize the work of an organ, represent the final results of international conferences or research projects, or are works of reference such as bibliographies, handbooks and yearbooks. This minimum selection from thousands of documents and publications is intended to assist the general user in understanding the current work of the organizations and the relevant documentation.
5. A consolidated list of the depository libraries of the United Nations and the specialized agencies appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).
6. A consolidated list of the sales agents of the United Nations and the specialized agencies appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).
7. Information concerning the distribution and sales of documents and publications is contained in the note preceding the list of Documents and Publications of the United Nations and each of the specialized agencies. Detailed information about the documentation systems of the ICAO, ILO, ITU and UNESCO, and the availability of their documents, appears in the introductions to their respective sections in the issue for January 1952. The detailed information on the documentation of the United Nations will be found in the February issue. In future volumes, the expanded introductions will appear in the January issue for each year.
8. When a request for documents from a distribution source is based on information supplied by this publication, it is suggested that the request stipulate that revisions, addenda and corrigenda be included.
9. The specialized agencies are responsible for the distribution and sale of their documents and publications. Requests for these materials or for further information concerning them should therefore be addressed to the specialized agency of issue, not to the Secretariat of the United Nations.
10. The United Nations Documents Index is prepared by the Documents Index Unit of the United Nations Library, and is published monthly at an annual subscription rate of $7.50, 50/Stg., Sw.fr. 30.00 post-free. Single copies are available at $.75, 5/Stg., Sw.fr. 3.00. Subscriptions may be placed with the sales agents of United Nations publications (listed on back cover). Orders and enquiries from other countries may be addressed to the Sales and Circulation Section, United Nations, New York, or to Sales Section, European Office of the United Nations, Geneva, Switzerland.
11. The Documents Index Unit has endeavoured to list and index systematically the documents received from the specialized agencies and to supply pertinent information concerning their distribution and sale. Because information available has been incomplete, supplementary information will be given in later issues.
12. Any suggestions for the improvement of the United Nations Documents Index will be welcome. They should be addressed to the Documents Index Unit, United Nations Library, United Nations, New York.

UN

1. The information below applies to documents and publications of all organs of the United Nations except the International Court of Justice.

2. The place of original distribution or publication is given only for documents and publications issued overseas, whether or not they have also been re-issued at United Nations, New York. Where no place is given, United Nations, New York is understood to be the place of original distribution or publication.

3. By decisions taken at the beginning of 1950 by the Publications Board, the Secretariat publishes all printed Official Records of main organs in fascicle form. Official Records of any session are not issued in bound volumes after the close of the session, but instead the record of each meeting is published separately, as an individual booklet or fascicle, immediately after the close of the meeting. At the end of each session there is issued to each recipient of the records a prefatory fascicle which contains all the material that used to be found in the bound volumes previously issued by the Secretariat - a title page, a table of contents, a list of members attending, initial agenda, and other normal "preliminary matter". For ease of recognition, the fascicles of the opening and closing meetings are so identified in the masthead, and the prefatory fascicle is to be placed before the record of the opening meeting. Meeting record and prefatory fascicles of the Official Records of the General Assembly, the Economic and Social Council and the Trusteeship Council are bound together, in sessional volumes, for sales purposes.

4. Prices of printed documents and publications are given in United States dollars. All sales documents and publications are available also in other national currencies through authorized sales agents. A list of authorized sales agents is to be found on the back cover of this publication and also a list of United Nations sales agents appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2

(April 1952). Orders may be sent to:

--	----	---

5. Documents and publications are distributed to Member States, specialized agencies, non-governmental organizations, and depository libraries, under agreed arrangements. Note, however, that documents published outside of United Nations, New York, such as those published in Santiago by ECLA and in Bangkok by ECAFE may be expected to be received later than those originating at Headquarters. Documents of missions in the field are not distributed to depository libraries.

6. The Department of Public Information issues many publications (including press releases) which may be obtained on request by the press, schools, centres of international study, public libraries, and members of the general public. Some other United Nations documents and publications may also be obtained through the Department. Enquiries should be directed to the Department of Public Information, United Nations, New York, or to United Nations Information Centres.

7. Certain mimeographed document series have been sold by subscription. Policy concerning subscriptions to these series is now being reviewed. As soon as policy has been clarified, a statement will be published in a later issue. Further information can be obtained from Sales and Circulation Section, United Nations, New York.

8. A list of United Nations depository libraries appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

ILO

1. Coverage. The International Labour Organisation lists in the United Nations Documents Index all printed documents issued by the Organization with the exception of publications of the Division of Public Information. As it is the practice of the I.L.O. to reissue processed documents of permanent interest either as separate printed documents or as annexes to Governing Body documents, processed documents are not included in the Index. An exception to this rule is made in the case of Governing Body documents.

2. Documentation System. A description of the documentation system of the International Labour Organisation appears in the issue for January 1952.

3. Availability for Distribution. Processed documents have limited distribution and are not for sale. Those which are considered to have permanent value are reissued later in printed form. All printed documents are for sale.

4. Sources of Information. Information about the documents may be obtained from the headquarters of the International Labour Office in Geneva, or from any of the branch offices or correspondents. Printed sales catalogues in English, French and Spanish editions which contain helpful descriptions of the contents of the documents, are issued by the Sales Service in Geneva from time to time. The latest catalogue, listing all documents still in print, was issued in 1948, and was entitled, "Abridged Catalogue of Publications of the International Labour Office, 27th edition". Annual supplements were issued covering documents issued in 1949 and 1950, and one for 1951 will be available shortly.

The Library of the International Labour Office has prepared and issued mimeographed catalogues of all printed documents issued from 1919 to the end of 1950, in English and French. These catalogues are in two parts, the first an alphabetical arrangement by author, subject and title, the second, a checklist classed as suggested in paragraph 2 of this note. They are entitled: Catalogue of Publications in English of the International Labour Office, 1919-1950. (International Labour Office. Library. Bibliographical Contributions. no. 5, and Catalogue des Publications en Langue Française du Bureau International du Travail, 1919-1950.) (Bureau International du Travail. Bibliothèque. Contributions bibliographiques, no. 6.)

5. Sale of Documents. An inclusive subscription to all ILO publications per year is $45.00, £13.10s. Any publication can be purchased individually. Prices are fixed in the currency of each country; full information and publications may be obtained from Branch Offices and national Correspondents of the ILO who act as sales agents in most countries.

Paris 16e, France

6. It is now possible for everyone to receive all documents intended for distribution to the public, by subscribing to the newly-instituted Documents Subscription Service, at a cost of $30; £10.0.0; 10.000 fr. per annum or the equivalent in local currency.

It has been decided to offer two further services so that those who wish to may receive one copy of everything published by UNESCO. The first of these is the Comprehensive Periodicals Subscription Service, which offers a combined annual subscription to all UNESCO periodicals at a considerable reduction over the total cost of separate subscriptions ($10; £ 2.10.0; 2.450 fr. per annum).

Subscribers to the two schemes outlined above will be entitled to participate in the Book Subscription Scheme, whereby one copy of each new book will be despatched on publication at the published price (postage extra), payment to be made at the end of each 6-months' period for the total value of the books received during that period. All UNESCO sales agents will accept subscriptions.

7. A list of UNESCO sales agents appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

2. The place of original distribution or publication is given only for documents and publications issued overseas, whether or not they have also been re-issued at United Nations, New York. Where no place is given, United Nations, New York is understood to be the place of original distribution or publication.

3. By decisions taken at the beginning of 1950 by the Publications Board, the Secretariat publishes all printed Official Records of main organs in fascicle form. Official Records of any session are not issued in bound volumes after the close of the session, but instead the record of each meeting is published separately, as an individual booklet or fascicle, immediately after the close of the meeting. At the end of each session there is issued to each recipient of the records a prefatory fascicle which contains all the material that used to be found in the bound volumes previously issued by the Secretariat - a title page, a table of contents, a list of members attending, initial agenda, and other normal "preliminary matter". For ease of recognition, the fascicles of the opening and closing meetings are so identified in the masthead, and the prefatory fascicle is to be placed before the record of the opening meeting. Meeting record and prefatory fascicles of the Official Records of the General Assembly, the Economic and Social Council and the Trusteeship Council are bound together, in sessional volumes, for sales purposes.

4. Prices of printed documents and publications are given in United States dollars. All sales documents and publications are available also in other national currencies through authorized sales agents. A list of authorized sales agents is to be found on the back cover of this publication and also a list of United Nations sales agents appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2

(April 1952). Orders may be sent to:

Sales and Circulation Section, United Nations, New York	or	Sales Section, European Office of the United Nations Palais des Nations Geneva, Switzerland

5. Documents and publications are distributed to Member States, specialized agencies, non-governmental organizations, and depository libraries, under agreed arrangements. Note, however, that documents published outside of United Nations, New York, such as those published in Santiago by ECLA and in Bangkok by ECAFE may be expected to be received later than those originating at Headquarters. Documents of missions in the field are not distributed to depository libraries.

6. The Department of Public Information issues many publications (including press releases) which may be obtained on request by the press, schools, centres of international study, public libraries, and members of the general public. Some other United Nations documents and publications may also be obtained through the Department. Enquiries should be directed to the Department of Public Information, United Nations, New York, or to United Nations Information Centres.

7. Certain mimeographed document series have been sold by subscription. Policy concerning subscriptions to these series is now being reviewed. As soon as policy has been clarified, a statement will be published in a later issue. Further information can be obtained from Sales and Circulation Section, United Nations, New York.

8. A list of United Nations depository libraries appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

Fund

1. International Monetary Fund documents are listed and indexed by the staff of the organization in Washington, D.C., and copy is forwarded for inclusion in the United Nations Documents Index.

2. Sales distribution. The only sales publications are International Financial Statistics (monthly, $5.00 per year), Balance of Payments Yearbook ($4.00 paper bound; $5.00 cloth bound) and Staff Papers (published three times a year, $3.50 per year), for which payment is accepted in national currencies by the central banks of many member countries.

3. Free distribution. The Articles of Agreement, Annual Reports, Proceedings of Annual Meetings, Schedule of Par Values, International Financial News Survey, press releases, and miscellaneous speeches and issuances are distributed free on request and an extensive mailing list is maintained for their regular distribution.

4. Depository libraries. The Fund has no depositories as such, but through its extensive mailing list and exchange arrangements the Fund sends regularly both free and sales publications to a large number of Government financial and statistical agencies, banks, and financial, economic and statistical organizations, including libraries and universities.

5. Requests for documents and further information.

ICAO

1. The publications of the International Civil Aviation Organization comprise the Convention on International Civil Aviation and Annexes thereto; Proceedings of the Assembly and the Council; special records of certain sessions of commissions of the Assembly, constituted committees of the Organization, or other representative bodies; regional and technical manuals; reports of divisional, regional, and special meetings; ICAO Circulars; the Index of ICAO Documents; tables of agreements and arrangements; Digests of Statistics; the ICAO Monthly Bulletin, and others. For a detailed list and the pricing of Salable Publications of ICAO: See the Catalogue of Salable Publications, 1946 - 1951, Montreal, 1951.

2. Except as otherwise indicated, these publications are issued either as Documents or Working Papers.

3. Descriptive information on documents and working papers, and the meaning of their symbols will be found in the issue for January 1952.

4. For purposes of grouping by issuing body, the United Nations Documents Index lists documents, with symbol components reversed, the category element of the symbol first. However citation of documents should be made with the symbol in proper order.

5. Orders for ICAO Publications together with the appropriate remittance should be sent to the Secretary-General, International Civil Aviation Organization, International Aviation Building, 1080 University Street, Montreal, Canada. (Cable address: ICAO Montreal). Orders are payable in Canadian or U.S. Currency, by bank draft or post office money order to the International Civil Aviation Organization.

6. A list of ICAO sales agents appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

7. A list of ICAO depository libraries appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

ILO

1. Coverage. The International Labour Organisation lists in the United Nations Documents Index all printed documents issued by the Organization with the exception of publications of the Division of Public Information. As it is the practice of the I.L.O. to reissue processed documents of permanent interest either as separate printed documents or as annexes to Governing Body documents, processed documents are not included in the Index. An exception to this rule is made in the case of Governing Body documents.

2. Documentation System. A description of the documentation system of the International Labour Organisation appears in the issue for January 1952.

3. Availability for Distribution. Processed documents have limited distribution and are not for sale. Those which are considered to have permanent value are reissued later in printed form. All printed documents are for sale.

4. Sources of Information. Information about the documents may be obtained from the headquarters of the International Labour Office in Geneva, or from any of the branch offices or correspondents. Printed sales catalogues in English, French and Spanish editions which contain helpful descriptions of the contents of the documents, are issued by the Sales Service in Geneva from time to time. The latest catalogue, listing all documents still in print, was issued in 1948, and was entitled, "Abridged Catalogue of Publications of the International Labour Office, 27th edition". Annual supplements were issued covering documents issued in 1949 and 1950, and one for 1951 will be available shortly.

The Library of the International Labour Office has prepared and issued mimeographed catalogues of all printed documents issued from 1919 to the end of 1950, in English and French. These catalogues are in two parts, the first an alphabetical arrangement by author, subject and title, the second, a checklist classed as suggested in paragraph 2 of this note. They are entitled: Catalogue of Publications in English of the International Labour Office, 1919-1950. (International Labour Office. Library. Bibliographical Contributions. no. 5, and Catalogue des Publications en Langue Française du Bureau International du Travail, 1919-1950.) (Bureau International du Travail. Bibliotheque. Contributions bibliographiques, no. 6.)

5. Sale of Documents. An inclusive subscription to all ILO publications per year is $45.00, £13.10s. Any publication can be purchased individually. Prices are fixed in the currency of each country; full information and publications may be obtained from Branch Offices and national Correspondents of the ILO who act as sales agents in most countries.

ITO

1. Documents. The Interim Commission for the International Trade Organization (ICITO) is responsible for the Publication of documents of the Interim Commission and also for the publication of documents on behalf of the Contracting Parties to General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT). Documents in the ICITO series are unrestricted. Documents in the GATT series are nearly all restricted at the time of issue.

2. Sales distribution. ICITO and GATT unrestricted documents may be purchased from the ICITO Geneva Office. Printed ICITO publications may also be purchased from agents of United Nations publications (see list on back cover).

3. Free distribution. Unrestricted and restricted ICITO and GATT documents are distributed free to Governments, the United Nations, the specialized agencies, and some inter-governmental organizations. Unrestricted documents only are distributed free to a small group of non-governmental organizations and libraries.

4. Depository libraries. There are no ITO depository libraries as such; but some libraries receive documents free on request.

5. Requests for documents and further information.

6. It is now possible for everyone to receive all documents intended for distribution to the public, by subscribing to the newly-instituted Documents Subscription Service, at a cost of $30; £10.0.0; 10.000 fr. per annum or the equivalent in local currency.

It has been decided to offer two further services so that those who wish to may receive one copy of everything published by UNESCO. The first of these is the Comprehensive Periodicals Subscription Service, which offers a combined annual subscription to all UNESCO periodicals at a considerable reduction over the total cost of separate subscriptions ($10; £2.10.0; 2.450 fr. per annum).

Subscribers to the two schemes outlined above will be entitled to participate in the Book Subscription Scheme, whereby one copy of each new book will be despatched on publication at the published price (postage extra), payment to be made at the end of each 6-months' period for the total value of the books received during that period. All UNESCO sales agents will accept subscriptions.

7. A list of UNESCO sales agents appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

UPU

1. The documents of the Universal Postal Union consist of series and lists providing information on postal matters: records of the various congresses, conferences, commissions and sub-commissions; background papers, in pamphlet form, on the organization; bi-weekly circulars and bulletins for the use of the postal administrations of the Members of the organization, as well as the monthly publication Union Postale. The documents which are published by the International Bureau are brought up to date by means of bulletins and supplements.

2. Free distribution. Documents published by the International Bureau are distributed free to the postal administrations of the UPU on a quota basis, and to the United Nations.

3. Depository libraries. None.

4. Sales distribution. The Universal Postal Union does not have sales agents; orders for publications appearing in its "Documents en vente au Bureau International" in Union Postale (Revue mensuelle) should be addressed to the organization.

5. Requests for documents and further information
Address:

Bureau International de l'Union Postale

WHO

World Health Organization documents are listed and indexed by staff of the organization in Geneva, and copy is forwarded for inclusion in the United Nations Documents Index.

Mimeographed documents are considered as working documents and are not available for general distribution. Documents of the World Health Assembly and the Executive Board are published or summarized in the Official Records of the World Health Organization. Reports of expert committees and other technical advisory bodies are published in the World Health Organization: Technical Report Series.

Original papers, written by WHO experts and consultants on medical and health subjects, although published in the Bulletin of the World Health Organization are indexed and listed in this publication as documents. Reprints of these papers can be obtained.

The Division of Public Information distributes at irregular intervals press releases and articles in the series Special Features which can be obtained on application to:

World Health Organization,
Division of Public Information,
Palais des Nations,
Geneva, Switzerland.

The list of sales agents of WHO publications appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952). All publications are available through these sales agents.

Orders from countries where sales agents have not yet been designated may be sent to:

World Health Organization,
Sales Section,
Palais des Nations,
Geneva, Switzerland.

A list of WHO depository libraries appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

The Division of Public Information publishes monthly A WHO Newsletter intended for non-specialized readers. This publication can be obtained free of charge on request sent to:

World Health Organization,

General Introduction

1. This publication lists all documents and publications received by the Documents Index Unit from the United Nations and the specialized agencies, except restricted (confidential) materials and internal papers. In general, each monthly issue covers the documents and publications received by the Unit during that month. Some specialized agencies have assumed responsibility for the information contained in their sections and the listing and indexing of their documents. The documents listed by these agencies are those published at their headquarters during the period covered and are not necessarily available at United Nations headquarters in New York. Periodicals and press release series, first listed in the February issue for 1950, are listed annually thereafter in the December issue.
2. Each issue comprises:
 - (a) General Introduction.
 - (b) List of Abbreviations.
 - (c) Lists of Documents and Publications -- a section for the United Nations, followed by a section for each of the specialized agencies in the alphabetical order of their abbreviations: Bank, FAO, Fund, ICAO, etc. Each section is arranged in three parts: (1) a list of documents and publications; (2) revisions, addenda, corrigenda, and non-English language editions, and (3) republications. In each part, materials are arranged as far as possible in alphabetical order by symbol numbers. Only in part (1) are complete bibliographical details given. Parts (2) and (3) are arranged in tabular form, giving only the information needed to identify the documents and publications in these categories.
 - (d) General Index
3. A single General Index covers all documents and publications listed in every section. All references in this index are to the entry numbers in the respective sections. The United Nations list and each of the specialized agencies lists has its own series of entry numbers, each series being consecutive for one calendar year. Entry numbers have been used because of the divergency of practice among the organizations respecting the use and non-use of symbols and sales numbers, and the complexity of direct reference to these symbols or to titles. The indexes in the monthly issues will be cumulated into an annual index at the end of the year.
4. An asterisk (*) distinguishes those documents and publications which summarize the work of an organ, represent the final results of international conferences or research projects, or are works of reference such as bibliographies, handbooks and yearbooks. This minimum selection from thousands of documents and publications is intended to assist the general user in understanding the current work of the organizations and the relevant documentation.
5. A consolidated list of the depository libraries of the United Nations and the specialized agencies appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).
6. A consolidated list of the sales agents of the United Nations and the specialized agencies appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).
7. Information concerning the distribution and sales of documents and publications is contained in the note preceding the list of Documents and Publications of the United Nations and each of the specialized agencies. Detailed information about the documentation systems of the ICAO, ILO, ITU and UNESCO, and the availability of their documents, appears in the introductions to their respective sections in the issue for January 1952. The detailed information on the documentation of the United Nations will be found in the February issue. In future volumes, the expanded introductions will appear in the January issue for each year.
8. When a request for documents from a distribution source is based on information supplied by this publication, it is suggested that the request stipulate that revisions, addenda and corrigenda be included.
9. The specialized agencies are responsible for the distribution and sale of their documents and publications. Requests for these materials or for further information concerning them should therefore be addressed to the specialized agency of issue, not to the Secretariat of the United Nations.
10. The United Nations Documents Index is prepared by the Documents Index Unit of the United Nations Library, and is published monthly at an annual subscription rate of $7.50, 50/Stg., Sw.fr. 30.00 post-free. Single copies are available at $.75, 5/Stg., Sw.fr. 3.00. Subscriptions may be placed with the sales agents of United Nations publications (listed on back cover). Orders and enquiries from other countries may be addressed to the Sales and Circulation Section, United Nations, New York, or to Sales Section, European Office of the United Nations, Geneva, Switzerland.
11. The Documents Index Unit has endeavoured to list and index systematically the documents received from the specialized agencies and to supply pertinent information concerning their distribution and sale. Because information available has been incomplete, supplementary information will be given in later issues.
12. Any suggestions for the improvement of the United Nations Documents Index will be welcome. They should be addressed to the Documents Index Unit, United Nations Library, United Nations, New York.

UN

1. The information below applies to documents and publications of all organs of the United Nations except the International Court of Justice.

2. The place of original distribution or publication is given only for documents and publications issued overseas, whether or not they have also been re-issued at United Nations, New York. Where no place is given, United Nations, New York is understood to be the place of original distribution or publication.

3. By decisions taken at the beginning of 1950 by the Publications Board, the Secretariat publishes all printed Official Records of main organs in fascicle form. Official Records of any session are not issued in bound volumes after the close of the session, but instead the record of each meeting is published separately, as an individual booklet or fascicle, immediately after the close of the meeting. At the end of each session there is issued to each recipient of the records a prefatory fascicle which contains all the material that used to be found in the bound volumes previously issued by the Secretariat - a title page, a table of contents, a list of members attending, initial agenda, and other normal "preliminary matter". For ease of recognition, the fascicles of the opening and closing meetings are so identified in the masthead, and the prefatory fascicle is to be placed before the record of the opening meeting. Meeting record and prefatory fascicles of the Official Records of the General Assembly, the Economic and Social Council and the Trusteeship Council are bound together, in sessional volumes, for sales purposes.

4. Prices of printed documents and publications are given in United States dollars. All sales documents and publications are available also in other national currencies through authorized sales agents. A list of authorized sales agents is to be found on the back cover of this publication and also a list of United Nations sales agents appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2

(April 1952). Orders may be sent to:

--	----	---

5. Documents and publications are distributed to Member States, specialized agencies, non-governmental organizations, and depository libraries, under agreed arrangements. Note, however, that documents published outside of United Nations, New York, such as those published in Santiago by ECLA and in Bangkok by ECAFE may be expected to be received later than those originating at Headquarters. Documents of missions in the field are not distributed to depository libraries.

6. The Department of Public Information issues many publications (including press releases) which may be obtained on request by the press, schools, centres of international study, public libraries, and members of the general public. Some other United Nations documents and publications may also be obtained through the Department. Enquiries should be directed to the Department of Public Information, United Nations, New York, or to United Nations Information Centres.

7. Certain mimeographed document series have been sold by subscription. Policy concerning subscriptions to these series is now being reviewed. As soon as policy has been clarified, a statement will be published in a later issue. Further information can be obtained from Sales and Circulation Section, United Nations, New York.

8. A list of United Nations depository libraries appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

1. Coverage. The International Labour Organisation lists in the United Nations Documents Index all printed documents issued by the Organization with the exception of publications of the Division of Public Information. As it is the practice of the I.L.O. to reissue processed documents of permanent interest either as separate printed documents or as annexes to Governing Body documents, processed documents are not included in the Index. An exception to this rule is made in the case of Governing Body documents.

2. Documentation System. A description of the documentation system of the International Labour Organisation appears in the issue for January 1952.

3. Availability for Distribution. Processed documents have limited distribution and are not for sale. Those which are considered to have permanent value are reissued later in printed form. All printed documents are for sale.

4. Sources of Information. Information about the documents may be obtained from the headquarters of the International Labour Office in Geneva, or from any of the branch offices or correspondents. Printed sales catalogues in English, French and Spanish editions which contain helpful descriptions of the contents of the documents, are issued by the Sales Service in Geneva from time to time. The latest catalogue, listing all documents still in print, was issued in 1948, and was entitled, "Abridged Catalogue of Publications of the International Labour Office, 27th edition". Annual supplements were issued covering documents issued in 1949 and 1950, and one for 1951 will be available shortly.

The Library of the International Labour Office has prepared and issued mimeographed catalogues of all printed documents issued from 1919 to the end of 1950, in English and French. These catalogues are in two parts, the first an alphabetical arrangement by author, subject and title, the second, a checklist classed as suggested in paragraph 2 of this note. They are entitled: Catalogue of Publications in English of the International Labour Office, 1919-1950. (International Labour Office. Library. Bibliographical Contributions. no. 5, and Catalogue des Publications en Langue Française du Bureau International du Travail, 1919-1950.) (Bureau International du Travail. Bibliothèque. Contributions bibliographiques, no. 6.)

5. Sale of Documents. An inclusive subscription to all ILO publications per year is $45.00, £13.10s. Any publication can be purchased individually. Prices are fixed in the currency of each country; full information and publications may be obtained from Branch Offices and national Correspondents of the ILO who act as sales agents in most countries.

ITO

- Documents. The Interim Commission for the International Trade Organization (ICITO) is responsible for the Publication of documents of the Interim Commission and also for the publication of documents on behalf of the Contracting Parties to General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT). Documents in the ICITO series are unrestricted. Documents in the GATT series are nearly all restricted at the time of issue.
- Sales distribution. ICITO and GATT unrestricted documents may be purchased from the ICITO Geneva Office. Printed ICITO publications may also be purchased from agents of United Nations publications (see list on back cover).
- Free distribution. Unrestricted and restricted ICITO and GATT documents are distributed free to Governments, the United Nations, the specialized agencies, and some inter-governmental organizations. Unrestricted documents only are distributed free to a small group of non-governmental organizations and libraries.

4. Depository libraries. There are no ITO depository libraries as such; but some libraries receive documents free on request.

5. Requests for documents and further information.
Address:

Interim Commission for the International Trade Organization,
Palais des Nations,
Geneva, Switzerland.

ITU

- The documents of the International Telecommunication Union listed below are indexed by staff of the organization in Geneva and copy is forwarded for inclusion in the United Nations Documents Index.
- A list of the categories of documents produced by the ITU appears in the issue for January 1952.
- The list of ITU publications with their prices can be obtained at any time from the General Secretariat. This list is regularly published in the monthly organ of the ITU, the Telecommunication Journal.
- Sales distribution. Orders should be addressed to:

The General Secretariat of the International
Telecommunication Union,
Palais Wilson,
Geneva, Switzerland.

All orders must be accompanied by the amount in Swiss francs. As the General Secretariat of the ITU sells all its publications at cost price, no reduction can be made to booksellers.

UNESCO

Beginning January 1952, United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization documents are listed and indexed by the staff of United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization in Paris, and copy is forwarded for inclusion in the United Nations Documents Index. The documents listed are those distributed in Paris during the period covered.

1. The documents and publications of UNESCO listed in the United Nations Documents Index belong to the Main Series Category.

2. A description of the documentation system of UNESCO appears in the issue for January 1952.

3. Main Series documents may be consulted in the Depository Libraries selected by UNESCO in Member States, of which a list can be obtained on request.

4. A list of UNESCO depository libraries also appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

5. Information about UNESCO documents may be obtained from:

ARCHIVES UNIT
UNESCO House
19 Avenue Kléber
Paris 16e, France

6. It is now possible for everyone to receive all documents intended for distribution to the public, by subscribing to the newly-instituted Documents Subscription Service, at a cost of $30; £10.0.0; 10.000 fr. per annum or the equivalent in local currency.

It has been decided to offer two further services so that those who wish to may receive one copy of everything published by UNESCO. The first of these is the Comprehensive Periodicals Subscription Service, which offers a combined annual subscription to all UNESCO periodicals at a considerable reduction over the total cost of separate subscriptions ($10; £2.10.0; 2.450 fr. per annum).

Subscribers to the two schemes outlined above will be entitled to participate in the Book Subscription Scheme, whereby one copy of each new book will be despatched on publication at the published price (postage extra), payment to be made at the end of each 6-months' period for the total value of the books received during that period. All UNESCO sales agents will accept subscriptions.

7. A list of UNESCO sales agents appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

1. The documents of the Universal Postal Union consist of series and lists providing information on postal matters: records of the various congresses, conferences, commissions and sub-commissions; background papers, in pamphlet form, on the organization; bi-weekly circulars and bulletins for the use of the postal administrations of the Members of the organization, as well as the monthly publication Union Postale. The documents which are published by the International Bureau are brought up to date by means of bulletins and supplements.

2. Free distribution. Documents published by the International Bureau are distributed free to the postal administrations of the UPU on a quota basis, and to the United Nations.

3. Depository libraries. None.

4. Sales distribution. The Universal Postal Union does not have sales agents; orders for publications appearing in its "Documents en vente au Bureau International" in Union Postale (Revue mensuelle) should be addressed to the organization.

5. Requests for documents and further information.

WHO

World Health Organization documents are listed and indexed by staff of the organization in Geneva, and copy is forwarded for inclusion in the United Nations Documents Index.

Mimeographed documents are considered as working documents and are not available for general distribution. Documents of the World Health Assembly and the Executive Board are published or summarized in the Official Records of the World Health Organization. Reports of expert committees and other technical advisory bodies are published in the World Health Organization: Technical Report Series.

Original papers, written by WHO experts and consultants on medical and health subjects, although published in the Bulletin of the World Health Organization are indexed and listed in this publication as documents. Reprints of these papers can be obtained.

The Division of Public Information distributes at irregular intervals press releases and articles in the series Special Features which can be obtained on application to:

World Health Organization,
Division of Public Information,
Palais des Nations,
Geneva, Switzerland.

The list of sales agents of WHO publications appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952). All publications are available through these sales agents.

Orders from countries where sales agents have not yet been designated may be sent to:

World Health Organization,
Sales Section,
Palais des Nations,
Geneva, Switzerland.

A list of WHO depository libraries appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

The Division of Public Information publishes monthly A WHO Newsletter intended for non-specialized readers. This publication can be obtained free of charge on request sent to:

World Health Organization,
Division of Public Information,
Palais des Nations,
Geneva, Switzerland.

General Introduction

1. This publication lists all documents and publications received by the Documents Index Unit from the United Nations and the specialized agencies, except restricted (confidential) materials and internal papers. In general, each monthly issue covers the documents and publications received by the Unit during that month. Some specialized agencies have assumed responsibility for the information contained in their sections and the listing and indexing of their documents. The documents listed by these agencies are those published at their headquarters during the period covered and are not necessarily available at United Nations headquarters in New York. Periodicals and press release series, first listed in the February issue for 1950, are listed annually thereafter in the December issue.
2. Each issue comprises:
 - (a) General Introduction.
 - (b) List of Abbreviations.
 - (c) Lists of Documents and Publications -- a section for the United Nations, followed by a section for each of the specialized agencies in the alphabetical order of their abbreviations: Bank, FAO, Fund, ICAO, etc. Each section is arranged in three parts: (1) a list of documents and publications; (2) revisions, addenda, corrigenda, and non-English language editions, and (3) republications. In each part, materials are arranged as far as possible in alphabetical order by symbol numbers. Only in part (1) are complete bibliographical details given. Parts (2) and (3) are arranged in tabular form, giving only the information needed to identify the documents and publications in these categories.
 - (d) General Index
3. A single General Index covers all documents and publications listed in every section. All references in this index are to the entry numbers in the respective sections. The United Nations list and each of the specialized agencies lists has its own series of entry numbers, each series being consecutive for one calendar year. Entry numbers have been used because of the divergency of practice among the organizations respecting the use and non-use of symbols and sales numbers, and the complexity of direct reference to these symbols or to titles. The indexes in the monthly issues will be cumulated into an annual index at the end of the year.
4. An asterisk (*) distinguishes those documents and publications which summarize the work of an organ, represent the final results of international conferences or research projects, or are works of reference such as bibliographies, handbooks and yearbooks. This minimum selection from thousands of documents and publications is intended to assist the general user in understanding the current work of the organizations and the relevant documentation.
5. A consolidated list of the depository libraries of the United Nations and the specialized agencies appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).
6. A consolidated list of the sales agents of the United Nations and the specialized agencies appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).
7. Information concerning the distribution and sales of documents and publications is contained in the note preceding the list of Documents and Publications of the United Nations and each of the specialized agencies. Detailed information about the documentation systems of the ICAO, ILO, ITU and UNESCO, and the availability of their documents, appears in the introductions to their respective sections in the issue for January 1952. The detailed information on the documentation of the United Nations will be found in the February issue. In future volumes, the expanded introductions will appear in the January issue for each year.
8. When a request for documents from a distribution source is based on information supplied by this publication, it is suggested that the request stipulate that revisions, addenda and corrigenda be included.
9. The specialized agencies are responsible for the distribution and sale of their documents and publications. Requests for these materials or for further information concerning them should therefore be addressed to the specialized agency of issue, not to the Secretariat of the United Nations.
10. The United Nations Documents Index is prepared by the Documents Index Unit of the United Nations Library, and is published monthly at an annual subscription rate of $7. 50, 50/Stg., Sw. fr. 30.00 post-free. Single copies are available at $. 75, 5/Stg., Sw. fr. 3.00. Subscriptions may be placed with the sales agents of United Nations publications (listed on back cover). Orders and enquiries from other countries may be addressed to the Sales and Circulation Section, United Nations, New York, or to Sales Section, European Office of the United Nations, Geneva, Switzerland.
11. The Documents Index Unit has endeavoured to list and index systematically the documents received from the specialized agencies and to supply pertinent information concerning their distribution and sale. Because information available has been incomplete, supplementary information will be given in later issues.
12. Any suggestions for the improvement of the United Nations Documents Index will be welcome. They should be addressed to the Documents Index Unit, United Nations Library, United Nations, New York.

UN

1. The information below applies to documents and publications of all organs of the United Nations except the International Court of Justice.

2. The place of original distribution or publication is given only for documents and publications issued overseas, whether or not they have also been re-issued at United Nations, New York. Where no place is given, United Nations, New York is understood to be the place of original distribution or publication.

3. By decisions taken at the beginning of 1950 by the Publications Board, the Secretariat publishes all printed Official Records of main organs in fascicle form. Official Records of any session are not issued in bound volumes after the close of the session, but instead the record of each meeting is published separately, as an individual booklet or fascicle, immediately after the close of the meeting. At the end of each session there is issued to each recipient of the records a prefatory fascicle which contains all the material that used to be found in the bound volumes previously issued by the Secretariat - a title page, a table of contents, a list of members attending, initial agenda, and other normal "preliminary matter". For ease of recognition, the fascicles of the opening and closing meetings are so identified in the masthead, and the prefatory fascicle is to be placed before the record of the opening meeting. Meeting record and prefatory fascicles of the Official Records of the General Assembly, the Economic and Social Council and the Trusteeship Council are bound together, in sessional volumes, for sales purposes.

4. Prices of printed documents and publications are given in United States dollars. All sales documents and publications are available also in other national currencies through authorized sales agents. A list of authorized sales agents is to be found on the back cover of this publication and also a list of United Nations sales agents appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2

(April 1952). Orders may be sent to:

--	----	---

5. Documents and publications are distributed to Member States, specialized agencies, non-governmental organizations, and depository libraries, under agreed arrangements. Note, however, that documents published outside of United Nations, New York, such as those published in Santiago by ECLA and in Bangkok by ECAFE may be expected to be received later than those originating at Headquarters. Documents of missions in the field are not distributed to depository libraries.

6. The Department of Public Information issues many publications (including press releases) which may be obtained on request by the press, schools, centres of international study, public libraries, and members of the general public. Some other United Nations documents and publications may also be obtained through the Department. Enquiries should be directed to the Department of Public Information, United Nations, New York, or to United Nations Information Centres.

7. Certain mimeographed document series have been sold by subscription. Policy concerning subscriptions to these series is now being reviewed. As soon as policy has been clarified, a statement will be published in a later issue. Further information can be obtained from Sales and Circulation Section, United Nations, New York.

8. A list of United Nations depository libraries appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

ICAO

1. The publications of the International Civil Aviation Organization comprise the Convention on International Civil Aviation and Annexes thereto; Proceedings of the Assembly and the Council; special records of certain sessions of commissions of the Assembly, constituted committees of the Organization, or other representative bodies; regional and technical manuals; reports of divisional, regional, and special meetings; ICAO Circulars; the Index of ICAO Documents; tables of agreements and arrangements; Digests of Statistics; the ICAO Monthly Bulletin, and others. For a detailed list and the pricing of Salable Publications of ICAO: See the Catalogue of Salable Publications, 1946 - 1951, Montreal, 1951.

2. Except as otherwise indicated, these publications are issued either as Documents or Working Papers.

3. Descriptive information on documents and working papers, and the meaning of their symbols will be found in the issue for January 1952.

4. For purposes of grouping by issuing body, the United Nations Documents Index lists documents, with symbol components reversed, the category element of the symbol first. However citation of documents should be made with the symbol in proper order.

5. Orders for ICAO Publications together with the appropriate remittance should be sent to the Secretary-General, International Civil Aviation Organization, International Aviation Building, 1080 University Street, Montreal, Canada. (Cable address: ICAO Montreal). Orders are payable in Canadian or U.S. Currency, by bank draft or post office money order to the International Civil Aviation Organization.

6. A list of ICAO sales agents appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

7. A list of ICAO depository libraries appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

International Standards and Recommended Prac- tices. Amendments Numbered 7-11 to the International Standards and Recommended Prac- tices for Aeronautical Telecommunications. Annex 10, Errata	E

1. Coverage. The International Labour Organisation lists in the United Nations Documents Index all printed documents issued by the Organization with the exception of publications of the Division of Public Information. As it is the practice of the I. L. O. to reissue processed documents of permanent interest either as separate printed documents or as annexes to Governing Body documents, processed documents are not included in the Index. An exception to this rule is made in the case of Governing Body documents.

2. Documentation System. A description of the documentation system of the International Labour Organisation appears in the issue for January 1952.

3. Availability for Distribution. Processed documents have limited distribution and are not for sale.
Those which are considered to have permanent value are reissued later in printed form. All printed documents are for sale.

4. Sources of Information. Information about the documents may be obtained from the headquarters of the International Labour Office in Geneva, or from any of the branch offices or correspondents. Printed sales catalogues in English, French and Spanish editions which contain helpful descriptions of the contents of the documents, are issued by the Sales Service in Geneva from time to time. The latest catalogue, listing all documents still in print, was issued in 1948, and was entitled, "Abridged Catalogue of Publications of the International Labour Office, 27th edition". Annual supplements were issued covering documents issued in 1949 and 1950, and one for 1951 will be available shortly.

The Library of the International Labour Office has prepared and issued mimeographed catalogues of all printed documents issued from 1919 to the end of 1950, in English and French. These catalogues are in two parts, the first an alphabetical arrangement by author, subject and title, the second, a checklist classified as suggested in paragraph 2 of this note. They are entitled: Catalogue of Publications in English of the International Labour Office, 1919-1950. (International Labour Office. Library. Bibliographical Contributions. no. 5, and Catalogue des Publications en Langue
Française du Bureau International du Travail, 1919-1950.) (Bureau International du Travail. Bibliotheque.
Contributions bibliographiques, no. 6.)

5. Sale of Documents. An inclusive subscription to all ILO publications per year is $45.00, £13.10s.
Any publication can be purchased individually. Prices are fixed in the currency of each country; full information and publications may be obtained from Branch Offices and national Correspondents of the ILO who act as sales agents in most countries.

ITO

1. Documents. The Interim Commission for the International Trade Organization (ICITO) is responsible for the Publication of documents of the Interim Commission and also for the publication of documents on behalf of the Contracting Parties to General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT). Documents in the ICITO series are unrestricted. Documents in the GATT series are nearly all restricted at the time of issue.

2. Sales distribution. ICITO and GATT unrestricted documents may be purchased from the ICITO Geneva Office. Printed ICITO publications may also be purchased from agents of United Nations publications (see list on back cover).

3. Free distribution. Unrestricted and restricted ICITO and GATT documents are distributed free to Governments, the United Nations, the specialized agencies, and some inter-governmental organizations. Unrestricted documents only are distributed free to a small group of non-governmental organizations and libraries.

4. Depository libraries. There are no ITO depository libraries as such; but some libraries receive documents free on request.

5. Requests for documents and further information.

Beginning January 1952, United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization documents are listed and indexed by the staff of United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization in Paris, and copy is forwarded for inclusion in the United Nations Documents Index. The documents listed are those distributed in Paris during the period covered.

1. The documents and publications of UNESCO listed in the United Nations Documents Index belong to the Main Series Category.
2. A description of the documentation system of UNESCO appears in the issue for January 1952.
3. Main Series documents may be consulted in the Depository Libraries selected by UNESCO in Member States, of which a list can be obtained on request.
4. A list of UNESCO depository libraries also appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).
5. Information about UNESCO documents may be obtained from:

ARCHIVES UNIT
UNESCO House
19 Avenue Kléber
Paris 16e, France

6. It is now possible for everyone to receive all documents intended for distribution to the public, by subscribing to the newly-instituted Documents Subscription Service, at a cost of $30; £10.0.0; 10.000 fr. per annum or the equivalent in local currency.

It has been decided to offer two further services so that those who wish to may receive one copy of everything published by UNESCO. The first of these is the Comprehensive Periodicals Subscription Service, which offers a combined annual subscription to all UNESCO periodicals at a considerable reduction over the total cost of separate subscriptions ($10; £2.10.0; 2.450 fr. per annum).

Subscribers to the two schemes outlined above will be entitled to participate in the Book Subscription Scheme, whereby one copy of each new book will be despatched on publication at the published price (postage extra), payment to be made at the end of each 6-months' period for the total value of the books received during that period. All UNESCO sales agents will accept subscriptions.

7. A list of UNESCO sales agents appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

WHO

World Health Organization documents are listed and indexed by staff of the organization in Geneva, and copy is forwarded for inclusion in the United Nations Documents Index.

Mimeographed documents are considered as working documents and are not available for general distribution. Documents of the World Health Assembly and the Executive Board are published or summarized in the Official Records of the World Health Organization. Reports of expert committees and other technical advisory bodies are published in the World Health Organization: Technical Report Series.

Original papers, written by WHO experts and consultants on medical and health subjects, although published in the Bulletin of the World Health Organization are indexed and listed in this publication as documents. Reprints of these papers can be obtained.

The Division of Public Information distributes at irregular intervals press releases and articles in the series Special Features which can be obtained on application to:

World Health Organization,
Division of Public Information,
Palais des Nations,
Geneva, Switzerland.

The list of sales agents of WHO publications appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952). All publications are available through these sales agents.

Orders from countries where sales agents have not yet been designated may be sent to:

World Health Organization,
Sales Section,
Palais des Nations,
Geneva, Switzerland.

A list of WHO depository libraries appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

General Index	Center Fascicle

General Introduction

1. This publication lists all documents and publications received by the Documents Index Unit from the United Nations and the specialized agencies, except restricted (confidential) materials and internal papers. In general, each monthly issue covers the documents and publications received by the Unit during that month. Some specialized agencies have assumed responsibility for the information contained in their sections and the listing and indexing of their documents. The documents listed by these agencies are those published at their headquarters during the period covered and are not necessarily available at United Nations headquarters in New York. Periodicals and press release series, first listed in the February issue for 1950, are listed annually thereafter in the December issue.
2. Each issue comprises:
 - (a) General Introduction.
 - (b) List of Abbreviations.
 - (c) Lists of Documents and Publications -- a section for the United Nations, followed by a section for each of the specialized agencies in the alphabetical order of their abbreviations: Bank, FAO, Fund, ICAO, etc. Each section is arranged in three parts: (1) a list of documents and publications; (2) revisions, addenda, corrigenda, and non-English language editions, and (3) republications. In each part, materials are arranged as far as possible in alphabetical order by symbol numbers. Only in part (1) are complete bibliographical details given. Parts (2) and (3) are arranged in tabular form, giving only the information needed to identify the documents and publications in these categories.
 - (d) General Index
3. A single General Index covers all documents and publications listed in every section. All references in this index are to the entry numbers in the respective sections. The United Nations list and each of the specialized agencies lists has its own series of entry numbers, each series being consecutive for one calendar year. Entry numbers have been used because of the divergency of practice among the organizations respecting the use and non-use of symbols and sales numbers, and the complexity of direct reference to these symbols or to titles. The indexes in the monthly issues will be cumulated into an annual index at the end of the year.
4. An asterisk (*) distinguishes those documents and publications which summarize the work of an organ, represent the final results of international conferences or research projects, or are works of reference such as bibliographies, handbooks and yearbooks. This minimum selection from thousands of documents and publications is intended to assist the general user in understanding the current work of the organizations and the relevant documentation.
5. A consolidated list of the depository libraries of the United Nations and the specialized agencies appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).
6. A consolidated list of the sales agents of the United Nations and the specialized agencies appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).
7. Information concerning the distribution and sales of documents and publications is contained in the note preceding the list of Documents and Publications of the United Nations and each of the specialized agencies. Detailed information about the documentation systems of the ICAO, ILO, ITU and UNESCO, and the availability of their documents, appears in the introductions to their respective sections in the issue for January 1952. The detailed information on the documentation of the United Nations will be found in the February issue. In future volumes, the expanded introductions will appear in the January issue for each year.
8. When a request for documents from a distribution source is based on information supplied by this publication, it is suggested that the request stipulate that revisions, addenda and corrigenda be included.
9. The specialized agencies are responsible for the distribution and sale of their documents and publications. Requests for these materials or for further information concerning them should therefore be addressed to the specialized agency of issue, not to the Secretariat of the United Nations.
10. The United Nations Documents Index is prepared by the Documents Index Unit of the United Nations Library, and is published monthly at an annual subscription rate of $7.50, 50/Stg., Sw. fr. 30.00 post-free. Single copies are available at $.75, 5/Stg., Sw. fr. 3.00. Subscriptions may be placed with the sales agents of United Nations publications (listed on back cover). Orders and enquiries from other countries may be addressed to the Sales and Circulation Section, United Nations, New York, or to Sales Section, European Office of the United Nations, Geneva, Switzerland.
11. The Documents Index Unit has endeavoured to list and index systematically the documents received from the specialized agencies and to supply pertinent information concerning their distribution and sale. Because information available has been incomplete, supplementary information will be given in later issues.
12. Any suggestions for the improvement of the United Nations Documents Index will be welcome. They should be addressed to the Documents Index Unit, United Nations Library, United Nations, New York.

UN

1. The information below applies to documents and publications of all organs of the United Nations except the International Court of Justice.

2. The place of original distribution or publication is given only for documents and publications issued overseas, whether or not they have also been re-issued at United Nations, New York. Where no place is given, United Nations, New York is understood to be the place of original distribution or publication.

3. By decisions taken at the beginning of 1950 by the Publications Board, the Secretariat publishes all printed Official Records of main organs in fascicle form. Official Records of any session are not issued in bound volumes after the close of the session, but instead the record of each meeting is published separately, as an individual booklet or fascicle, immediately after the close of the meeting. At the end of each session there is issued to each recipient of the records a prefatory fascicle which contains all the material that used to be found in the bound volumes previously issued by the Secretariat - a title page, a table of contents, a list of members attending, initial agenda, and other normal "preliminary matter". For ease of recognition, the fascicles of the opening and closing meetings are so identified in the masthead, and the prefatory fascicle is to be placed before the record of the opening meeting. Meeting record and prefatory fascicles of the Official Records of the General Assembly, the Economic and Social Council and the Trusteeship Council are bound together, in sessional volumes, for sales purposes.

4. Prices of printed documents and publications are given in United States dollars. All sales documents and publications are available also in other national currencies through authorized sales agents. A list of authorized sales agents is to be found on the back cover of this publication and also a list of United Nations sales agents appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2

(April 1952). Orders may be sent to:

--	----	---

5. Documents and publications are distributed to Member States, specialized agencies, non-governmental organizations, and depository libraries, under agreed arrangements. Note, however, that documents published outside of United Nations, New York, such as those published in Santiago by ECLA and in Bangkok by ECAFE may be expected to be received later than those originating at Headquarters. Documents of missions in the field are not distributed to depository libraries.

6. The Department of Public Information issues many publications (including press releases) which may be obtained on request by the press, schools, centres of international study, public libraries, and members of the general public. Some other United Nations documents and publications may also be obtained through the Department. Enquiries should be directed to the Department of Public Information, United Nations, New York, or to United Nations Information Centres.

7. Certain mimeographed document series have been sold by subscription. Policy concerning subscriptions to these series is now being reviewed. As soon as policy has been clarified, a statement will be published in a later issue. Further information can be obtained from Sales and Circulation Section, United Nations, New York.

8. A list of United Nations depository libraries appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

ICAO

1. The publications of the International Civil Aviation Organization comprise the Convention on International Civil Aviation and Annexes thereto; Proceedings of the Assembly and the Council; special records of certain sessions of commissions of the Assembly, constituted committees of the Organization, or other representative bodies; regional and technical manuals; reports of divisional, regional, and special meetings; ICAO Circulars; the Index of ICAO Documents; tables of agreements and arrangements; Digests of Statistics; the ICAO Monthly Bulletin, and others. For a detailed list and the pricing of Salable Publications of ICAO: See the Catalogue of Salable Publications, 1946 - 1951, Montreal, 1951.

Except as otherwise indicated, these publications are issued either as Documents or Working Papers.

Descriptive information on documents and working papers, and the meaning of their symbols will be found in the issue for January 1952.

For purposes of grouping by issuing body, the United Nations Documents Index lists documents, with symbol components reversed, the category element of the symbol first. However citation of documents should be made with the symbol in proper order.

2. Sales distribution. Orders for ICAO Publications together with the appropriate remittance should be sent to the Secretary-General, International Civil Aviation Organization, International Aviation Building, 1080 University Street, Montreal, Canada. (Cable address: ICAO Montreal). Orders are payable in Canadian or U.S. Currency, by bank draft or post office money order to the International Civil Aviation Organization.

A list of ICAO sales agents appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

3. Depository libraries. A list of ICAO depository libraries appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

2. Sales distribution. An inclusive subscription to all ILO publications per year is $45.00, £13.10s. Any publication can be purchased individually. Prices are fixed in the currency of each country; full information and publications may be obtained from Branch Offices and national Correspondents of the ILO who act as sales agents in most countries.

3. Free distribution. Processed documents have limited distribution and are not for sale. Those which are considered to have permanent value are reissued later in printed form. All printed documents are for sale.

4. Sources of information. Information about the documents may be obtained from the headquarters of the International Labour Office in Geneva, or from any of the branch offices or correspondents. Printed sales catalogues in English, French and Spanish editions which contain helpful descriptions of the contents of the documents, are issued by the Sales Service in Geneva from time to time. The latest catalogue, listing all documents still in print, was issued in 1948, and was entitled, "Abridged Catalogue of Publications of the International Labour Office, 27th edition". Annual supplements were issued covering documents issued in 1949 and 1950, and one for 1951 will be available shortly.

The Library of the International Labour Office has prepared and issued mimeographed catalogues of all printed documents issued from 1919 to the end of 1950, in English and French. These catalogues are in two parts, the first an alphabetical arrangement by author, subject and title, the second, a checklist classed as suggested in paragraph 2 of this note. They are entitled: Catalogue of Publications in English of the International Labour Office, 1919-1950. (International Labour Office. Library. Bibliographical Contributions. no. 5, and Catalogue des Publications en Langue Française du Bureau International du Travail, 1919-1950.) (Bureau International du Travail. Bibliothèque. Contributions bibliographiques, no. 6.)

ITO

1. Documents. The Interim Commission for the International Trade Organization (ICITO) is responsible for the Publication of documents of the Interim Commission and also for the publication of documents on behalf of the Contracting Parties to General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT). Documents in the ICITO series are unrestricted. Documents in the GATT series are nearly all restricted at the time of issue.
2. Sales distribution. ICITO and GATT unrestricted documents may be purchased from the ICITO Geneva Office. Printed ICITO publications may also be purchased from agents of United Nations publications (see list on back cover).
3. Free distribution. Unrestricted and restricted ICITO and GATT documents are distributed free to Governments, the United Nations, the specialized agencies, and some inter-governmental organizations. Unrestricted documents only are distributed free to a small group of non-governmental organizations and libraries.
4. Depository libraries. There are no ITO depository libraries as such; but some libraries receive documents free on request.
5. Requests for documents and further information.

UNESCO

1. United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization documents are listed and indexed by the staff of United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization in Paris, and copy is forwarded for inclusion in the United Nations Documents Index. The documents listed are those in the Main Series Category distributed in Paris during the period covered.

A description of the documentation system of UNESCO appears in the issue for January 1952.

2. Sales distribution. It is now possible for everyone to receive all documents intended for distribution to the public, by subscribing to the newly-instituted Documents Subscription Service, at a cost of $30; £10.0.0; 10.000 fr. per annum or the equivalent in local currency.

It has been decided to offer two further services so that those who wish to may receive one copy of everything published by UNESCO. The first of these is the Comprehensive Periodicals Subscription Service, which offers a combined annual subscription to all UNESCO periodicals at a considerable reduction over the total cost of separate subscriptions ($10; £ 2. 10. 0; 2.450 fr. per annum).

Subscribers to the two schemes outlined above will be entitled to participate in the Book Subscription Scheme, whereby one copy of each new book will be despatched on publication at the published price (postage extra), payment to be made at the end of each 6-months' period for the total value of the books received during that period. All UNESCO sales agents will accept subscriptions.

A list of UNESCO sales agents appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

3. Depository libraries. Main Series documents may be consulted in the Depository Libraries selected by UNESCO in Member States, of which a list can be obtained on request.

A list of UNESCO depository libraries also appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

Addenda to the Consolidated Lists (Vol. 3, No. 4, Part 2)	End of Center Fascicle

General Introduction

1. This publication is prepared by the Documents Index Unit of the United Nations Library. It lists all documents and publications received by the Documents Index Unit from the United Nations and specialized agencies, except restricted (confidential) materials and internal papers. In general, each monthly issue covers the documents and publications received by the Unit during that month. Some specialized agencies have assumed responsibility for the information contained in their sections and the listing and indexing of their documents. The documents listed by these agencies are those published at their headquarters during the period covered and are not necessarily available at United Nations headquarters in New York. Periodicals and press release series, first listed in the February issue for 1950, are listed annually thereafter in the December issue.
2. Each issue comprises:
 - (a) General Introduction.
 - (b) List of Abbreviations.
 - (c) Lists of Documents and Publications -- a section for the United Nations, followed by a section for each of the specialized agencies in the alphabetical order of their abbreviations: Bank, FAO, Fund, ICAO, etc. Each section is arranged in three parts: (1) a list of documents and publications; (2) revisions, addenda, corrigenda, and non-English language editions, and (3) republications. In each part, materials are arranged as far as possible in alphabetical order by symbol numbers. Only in part (1) are complete bibliographical details given. Parts (2) and (3) are arranged in tabular form, giving only the information needed to identify the documents and publications in these categories.
 - (d) General Index
3. A single General Index covers all documents and publications listed in every section. All references in this index are to the entry numbers in the respective sections. The United Nations list and each of the specialized agencies lists has its own series of entry numbers, each series being consecutive for one calendar year. Entry numbers have been used because of the divergency of practice among the organizations respecting the use and non-use of symbols and sales numbers, and the complexity of direct reference to these symbols or to titles. The indexes in the monthly issues will be cumulated into an annual index at the end of the year.
4. An asterisk (*) distinguishes those documents and publications which summarize the work of an organ, represent the final results of international conferences or research projects, or are works of reference such as bibliographies, handbooks and yearbooks. This minimum selection from thousands of documents and publications is intended to assist the general user in understanding the current work of the organizations and the relevant documentation.
5. A consolidated list of the depository libraries of the United Nations and the specialized agencies appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).
6. A consolidated list of the sales agents of the United Nations and the specialized agencies appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).
7. Information concerning the distribution and sales of documents and publications is contained in the note preceding the list of Documents and Publications of the United Nations and each of the specialized agencies. Detailed information about the documentation systems of the ICAO, ILO, ITU and UNESCO, and the availability of their documents, appears in the introductions to their respective sections in the issue for January 1952. The detailed information on the documentation of the United Nations will be found in the February issue. In future volumes, the expanded introductions will appear in the January issue for each year.
8. When a request for documents from a distribution source is based on information supplied by this publication, it is suggested that the request stipulate that revisions, addenda and corrigenda be included.
9. The specialized agencies are responsible for the distribution and sale of their documents and publications. Requests for these materials or for further information concerning them should therefore be addressed to the specialized agency of issue, not to the Secretariat of the United Nations.
10. The United Nations Documents Index is published monthly at an annual subscription rate of $7.50, 50/Stg., Sw.fr.30.00 post-free. Single copies are available at $.75, 5/Stg., Sw.fr.3.00. Subscriptions may be placed with the sales agents of United Nations publications (listed on back cover). Orders and enquiries from other countries may be addressed to the Sales and Circulation Section, United Nations, New York, or to Sales Section, European Office of the United Nations, Geneva, Switzerland.
11. The Documents Index Unit has endeavoured to list and index systematically the documents received from the specialized agencies and to supply pertinent information concerning their distribution and sale. Because information available has been incomplete, supplementary information will be given in later issues.
12. Any suggestions for the improvement of the United Nations Documents Index will be welcome. They should be addressed to the Documents Index Unit, United Nations Library, United Nations, New York.

1. The information below applies to documents and publications of all organs of the United Nations except the International Court of Justice.

2. The place of original distribution or publication is given only for documents and publications issued overseas, whether or not they have also been re-issued at United Nations, New York. Where no place is given, United Nations, New York is understood to be the place of original distribution or publication.

3. By decisions taken at the beginning of 1950 by the Publications Board, the Secretariat publishes all printed Official Records of main organs in fascicle form. Official Records of any session are not issued in bound volumes after the close of the session, but instead the record of each meeting is published separately, as an individual booklet or fascicle, immediately after the close of the meeting. At the end of each session there is issued to each recipient of the records a prefatory fascicle which contains all the material that used to be found in the bound volumes previously issued by the Secretariat - a printed cover, a title page, a table of contents, a list of members attending, initial agenda, and other normal "preliminary matter". For ease of recognition, the fascicles of the opening and closing meetings are so identified in the masthead, and the prefatory fascicle is to be placed before the record of the opening meeting.

4. Prices of printed documents and publications are given in United States dollars. All sales documents and publications are available also in other national currencies through authorized sales agents. A list of authorized sales agents is to be found on the back cover of this publication and also a list of United Nations sales agents appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2

(April 1952). Orders may be sent to:

--	----	---

5. Documents and publications are distributed to Member States, specialized agencies, non-governmental organizations, and depository libraries, under agreed arrangements. Note, however, that documents published outside of United Nations, New York, such as those published in Santiago by ECLA and in Bangkok by ECAFE may be expected to be received later than those originating at Headquarters. Documents of missions in the field are not distributed to depository libraries.

6. The Department of Public Information issues many publications (including press releases) which may be obtained on request by the press, schools, centres of international study, public libraries, and members of the general public. Some other United Nations documents and publications may also be obtained through the Department. Enquiries should be directed to the Department of Public Information, United Nations, New York, or to United Nations Information Centres.

7. Certain mimeographed document series have been sold by subscription. Policy concerning subscriptions to these series is now being reviewed. As soon as policy has been clarified, a statement will be published in a later issue. Further information can be obtained from Sales and Circulation Section, United Nations, New York.

8. A list of United Nations depository libraries appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

Fund

1. International Monetary Fund documents are listed and indexed by the staff of the organization in Washington, D.C., and copy is forwarded for inclusion in the United Nations Documents Index.

2. Sales distribution. The only sales publications are International Financial Statistics (monthly, $5.00 per year), Balance of Payments Yearbook ($4.00 paper bound; $5.00 cloth bound) and Staff Papers (published three times a year, $3.50 per year), for which payment is accepted in national currencies by the central banks of many member countries.

3. Free distribution. The Articles of Agreement, Annual Reports, Proceedings of Annual Meetings, Schedule of Par Values, International Financial News Survey, press releases, and miscellaneous speeches and issuances are distributed free on request and an extensive mailing list is maintained for their regular distribution.

4. Depository libraries. The Fund has no depositories as such, but through its extensive mailing list and exchange arrangements the Fund sends regularly both free and sales publications to a large number of Government financial and statistical agencies, banks, and financial, economic and statistical organizations, including libraries and universities.

ICAO

1. The publications of the International Civil Aviation Organization comprise the Convention on International Civil Aviation and Annexes thereto; Proceedings of the Assembly and the Council; special records of certain sessions of commissions of the Assembly, constituted committees of the Organization, or other representative bodies; regional and technical manuals; reports of divisional, regional, and special meetings; ICAO Circulars; the Index of ICAO Documents; tables of agreements and arrangements; Digests of Statistics; the ICAO Monthly Bulletin, and others. For a detailed list and the pricing of Salable Publications of ICAO: See the Catalogue of Salable Publications, 1946 - 1951, Montreal, 1951.

Except as otherwise indicated, these publications are issued either as Documents or Working Papers.

Descriptive information on documents and working papers, and the meaning of their symbols will be found in the issue for January 1952.

For purposes of grouping by issuing body, the United Nations Documents Index lists documents, with symbol components reversed, the category element of the symbol first. However citation of documents should be made with the symbol in proper order.

2. Sales distribution. Orders for ICAO Publications together with the appropriate remittance should be sent to the Secretary-General, International Civil Aviation Organization, International Aviation Building, 1080 University Street, Montreal, Canada. (Cable address: ICAO Montreal). Orders are payable in Canadian or U.S. Currency, by bank draft or post office money order to the International Civil Aviation Organization.

A list of ICAO sales agents appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

3. Depository libraries. A list of ICAO depository libraries appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

ILO

1. International Labour Organisation documents are listed by the staff of the International Labour Office in Geneva and copy is forwarded for inclusion in the United Nations Documents Index. The International Labour Organisation lists in the United Nations Documents Index all printed documents issued by the Organisation with the exception of publications of the Division of Public Information. As it is the practice of the I.L.O. to reissue processed documents of permanent interest either as separate printed documents or as annexes to Governing Body documents, processed documents are not included in the Index. An exception to this rule is made in the case of Governing Body documents.

Documentation system. A description of the documentation system of the International Labour Organisation appears in the issue for January 1952.

2. Sales distribution. An inclusive subscription to all ILO publications per year is $45.00, £13.10s. Any publication can be purchased individually. Prices are fixed in the currency of each country; full information and publications may be obtained from Branch Offices and national Correspondents of the ILO who act as sales agents in most countries.

3. Free distribution. Processed documents have limited distribution and are not for sale. Those which are considered to have permanent value are reissued later in printed form. All printed documents are for sale.

4. Sources of information. Information about the documents may be obtained from the headquarters of the International Labour Office in Geneva, or from any of the branch offices or correspondents. Printed sales catalogues in English, French and Spanish editions which contain helpful descriptions of the contents of the documents, are issued by the Sales Service in Geneva from time to time. The latest catalogue, listing all documents still in print, was issued in 1948, and was entitled, "Abridged Catalogue of Publications of the International Labour Office, 27th edition". Annual supplements were issued covering documents issued in 1949 and 1950, and one for 1951 will be available shortly.

The Library of the International Labour Office has prepared and issued mimeographed catalogues of all printed documents issued from 1919 to the end of 1950, in English and French. These catalogues are in two parts, the first an alphabetical arrangement by author, subject and title, the second, a checklist classed as suggested in paragraph 2 of this note. They are entitled: Catalogue of Publications in English of the International Labour Office, 1919-1950. (International Labour Office. Library. Bibliographical Contributions. no. 5, and Catalogue des Publications en Langue Française du Bureau International du Travail, 1919-1950.) (Bureau International du Travail. Bibliothèque. Contributions bibliographiques, no. 6.)

ITO

1. Documents. The Interim Commission for the International Trade Organization (ICITO) is responsible for the Publication of documents of the Interim Commission and also for the publication of documents on behalf of the Contracting Parties to General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT). Documents in the ICITO series are unrestricted. Documents in the GATT series are nearly all restricted at the time of issue.

2. Sales distribution. ICITO and GATT unrestricted documents may be purchased from the ICITO Geneva Office. Printed ICITO publications may also be purchased from agents of United Nations publications (see list on back cover).

3. Free distribution. Unrestricted and restricted ICITO and GATT documents are distributed free to Governments, the United Nations, the specialized agencies, and some inter-governmental organizations. Unrestricted documents only are distributed free to a small group of non-governmental organizations and libraries.

4. Depository libraries. There are no ITO depository libraries as such; but some libraries receive documents free on request.

5. Requests for documents and further information.

UNESCO

1. United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization documents are listed and indexed by the staff of United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization in Paris, and copy is forwarded for inclusion in the United Nations Documents Index. The documents listed are those in the Main Series Category distributed in Paris during the period covered.

A description of the documentation system of UNESCO appears in the issue for January 1952.

2. Sales distribution. It is now possible for everyone to receive all documents intended for distribution to the public, by subscribing to the newly-instituted Documents Subscription Service, at a cost of $30; £10.0.0; 10.000 fr. per annum or the equivalent in local currency.

It has been decided to offer two further services so that those who wish to may receive one copy of everything published by UNESCO. The first of these is the Comprehensive Periodicals Subscription Service, which offers a combined annual subscription to all UNESCO periodicals at a considerable reduction over the total cost of separate subscriptions ($10; £2.10.0; 2.450 fr. per annum).

Subscribers to the two schemes outlined above will be entitled to participate in the Book Subscription Scheme, whereby one copy of each new book will be despatched on publication at the published price (postage extra), payment to be made at the end of each 6-months' period for the total value of the books received during that period. All UNESCO sales agents will accept subscriptions.

A list of UNESCO sales agents appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

3. Depository libraries. Main Series documents may be consulted in the Depository Libraries selected by UNESCO in Member States, of which a list can be obtained on request.

A list of UNESCO depository libraries also appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

4. Requests for further information.

General Introduction

1. This publication is prepared by the Documents Index Unit of the United Nations Library. It lists all documents and publications received by the Documents Index Unit from the United Nations and specialized agencies, except restricted (confidential) materials and internal papers. In general, each monthly issue covers the documents and publications received by the Unit during that month. Some specialized agencies have assumed responsibility for the information contained in their sections and the listing and indexing of their documents. The documents listed by these agencies are those published at their headquarters during the period covered and are not necessarily available at United Nations headquarters in New York. Periodicals and press release series, first listed in the February issue for 1950, are listed annually thereafter in the December issue.
2. Each issue comprises:
 - (a) General Introduction.
 - (b) List of Abbreviations.
 - (c) Lists of Documents and Publications -- a section for the United Nations, followed by a section for each of the specialized agencies in the alphabetical order of their abbreviations: Bank, FAO, Fund, ICAO, etc. Each section is arranged in three parts: (1) a list of documents and publications; (2) revisions, addenda, corrigenda, and non-English language editions, and (3) republications. In each part, materials are arranged as far as possible in alphabetical order by symbol numbers. Only in part (1) are complete bibliographical details given. Parts (2) and (3) are arranged in tabular form, giving only the information needed to identify the documents and publications in these categories.
 - (d) General Index
3. A single General Index covers all documents and publications listed in every section. All references in this index are to the entry numbers in the respective sections. The United Nations list and each of the specialized agencies lists has its own series of entry numbers, each series being consecutive for one calendar year. Entry numbers have been used because of the divergency of practice among the organizations respecting the use and non-use of symbols and sales numbers, and the complexity of direct reference to these symbols or to titles. The indexes in the monthly issues will be cumulated into an annual index at the end of the year.
4. An asterisk (*) distinguishes those documents and publications which summarize the work of an organ, represent the final results of international conferences or research projects, or are works of reference such as bibliographies, handbooks and yearbooks. This minimum selection from thousands of documents and publications is intended to assist the general user in understanding the current work of the organizations and the relevant documentation.
5. A consolidated list of the depository libraries of the United Nations and the specialized agencies appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).
6. A consolidated list of the sales agents of the United Nations and the specialized agencies appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).
7. Information concerning the distribution and sales of documents and publications is contained in the note preceding the list of Documents and Publications of the United Nations and each of the specialized agencies. Detailed information about the documentation systems of the ICAO, ILO, ITU and UNESCO, and the availability of their documents, appears in the introductions to their respective sections in the issue for January 1952. The detailed information on the documentation of the United Nations will be found in the February issue. In future volumes, the expanded introductions will appear in the January issue for each year.
8. When a request for documents from a distribution source is based on information supplied by this publication, it is suggested that the request stipulate that revisions, addenda and corrigenda be included.
9. The specialized agencies are responsible for the distribution and sale of their documents and publications. Requests for these materials or for further information concerning them should therefore be addressed to the specialized agency of issue, not to the Secretariat of the United Nations.
10. The United Nations Documents Index is published monthly at an annual subscription rate of $7.50, 50/Stg., Sw.fr. 30.00 post-free. Single copies are available at $.75, 5/Stg., Sw.fr. 3.00. Subscriptions may be placed with the sales agents of United Nations publications (listed on back cover). Orders and enquiries from other countries may be addressed to the Sales and Circulation Section, United Nations, New York, or to Sales Section, European Office of the United Nations, Geneva, Switzerland.
11. The Documents Index Unit has endeavoured to list and index systematically the documents received from the specialized agencies and to supply pertinent information concerning their distribution and sale. Because information available has been incomplete, supplementary information will be given in later issues.
12. Any suggestions for the improvement of the United Nations Documents Index will be welcome. They should be addressed to the Documents Index Unit, United Nations Library, United Nations, New York.

2. The place of original distribution or publication is given only for documents and publications issued overseas, whether or not they have also been re-issued at United Nations, New York. Where no place is given, United Nations, New York is understood to be the place of original distribution or publication.

3. By decisions taken at the beginning of 1950 by the Publications Board, the Secretariat publishes all printed Official Records of main organs in fascicle form. Official Records of any session are not issued in bound volumes after the close of the session, but instead the record of each meeting is published separately, as an individual booklet or fascicle, immediately after the close of the meeting. At the end of each session there is issued to each recipient of the records a prefatory fascicle which contains all the material that used to be found in the bound volumes previously issued by the Secretariat - a printed cover, a title page, a table of contents, a list of members attending, initial agenda, and other normal "preliminary matter". For ease of recognition, the fascicles of the opening and closing meetings are so identified in the masthead, and the prefatory fascicle is to be placed before the record of the opening meeting.

4. Prices of printed documents and publications are given in United States dollars. All sales documents and publications are available also in other national currencies through authorized sales agents. A list of authorized sales agents is to be found on the back cover of this publication and also a list of United Nations sales agents appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2

(April 1952). Orders may be sent to:

--	----	---

5. Documents and publications are distributed to Member States, specialized agencies, non-governmental organizations, and depository libraries, under agreed arrangements. Note, however, that documents published outside of United Nations, New York, such as those published in Santiago by ECLA and in Bangkok by ECAFE may be expected to be received later than those originating at Headquarters. Documents of missions in the field are not distributed to depository libraries.

6. The Department of Public Information issues many publications (including press releases) which may be obtained on request by the press, schools, centres of international study, public libraries, and members of the general public. Some other United Nations documents and publications may also be obtained through the Department. Enquiries should be directed to the Department of Public Information, United Nations, New York, or to United Nations Information Centres.

7. Certain mimeographed document series have been sold by subscription. Policy concerning subscriptions to these series is now being reviewed. As soon as policy has been clarified, a statement will be published in a later issue. Further information can be obtained from Sales and Circulation Section, United Nations, New York.

8. A list of United Nations depository libraries appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

ICAO

1. The publications of the International Civil Aviation Organization comprise the Convention on International Civil Aviation and Annexes thereto; Proceedings of the Assembly and the Council; special records of certain sessions of commissions of the Assembly, constituted committees of the Organization, or other representative bodies; regional and technical manuals; reports of divisional, regional, and special meetings; ICAO Circulars; the Index of ICAO Documents; tables of agreements and arrangements; Digests of Statistics; the ICAO Monthly Bulletin, and others. For a detailed list and the pricing of Salable Publications of ICAO: See the Catalogue of Salable Publications, 1946 - 1951, Montreal, 1951.

Except as otherwise indicated, these publications are issued either as Documents or Working Papers.

Descriptive information on documents and working papers, and the meaning of their symbols will be found in the issue for January 1952.

For purposes of grouping by issuing body, the United Nations Documents Index lists documents, with symbol components reversed, the category element of the symbol first. However citation of documents should be made with the symbol in proper order.

2. Sales distribution. Orders for ICAO Publications together with the appropriate remittance should be sent to the Secretary-General, International Civil Aviation Organization, International Aviation Building, 1080 University Street, Montreal, Canada. (Cable address: ICAO Montreal). Orders are payable in Canadian or U.S. Currency, by bank draft or post office money order to the International Civil Aviation Organization.

A list of ICAO sales agents appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

3. Depository libraries. A list of ICAO depository libraries appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

ILO

1. International Labour Organisation documents are listed by the staff of the International Labour Office in Geneva and copy is forwarded for inclusion in the United Nations Documents Index. The International Labour Organisation lists in the United Nations Documents Index all printed documents issued by the Organisation with the exception of publications of the Division of Public Information. As it is the practice of the I.L.O. to reissue processed documents of permanent interest either as separate printed documents or as annexes to Governing Body documents, processed documents are not included in the Index. An exception to this rule is made in the case of Governing Body documents.

Documentation system. A description of the documentation system of the International Labour Organisation appears in the issue for January 1952.

2. Sales distribution. An inclusive subscription to all ILO publications per year is $45.00, £13.10s. Any publication can be purchased individually. Prices are fixed in the currency of each country; full information and publications may be obtained from Branch Offices and national Correspondents of the ILO who act as sales agents in most countries.

3. Free distribution. Processed documents have limited distribution and are not for sale. Those which are considered to have permanent value are reissued later in printed form. All printed documents are for sale.

4. Sources of information. Information about the documents may be obtained from the headquarters of the International Labour Office in Geneva, or from any of the branch offices or correspondents. Printed sales catalogues in English, French and Spanish editions which contain helpful descriptions of the contents of the documents, are issued by the Sales Service in Geneva from time to time. The latest catalogue, listing all documents still in print, was issued in 1948, and was entitled, "Abridged Catalogue of Publications of the International Labour Office, 27th edition". Annual supplements were issued covering documents issued in 1949 and 1950, and one for 1951 will be available shortly.

The Library of the International Labour Office has prepared and issued mimeographed catalogues of all printed documents issued from 1919 to the end of 1950, in English and French. These catalogues are in two parts, the first an alphabetical arrangement by author, subject and title, the second, a checklist classed as suggested in paragraph 2 of this note. They are entitled: Catalogue of Publications in English of the International Labour Office, 1919-1950. (International Labour Office. Library. Bibliographical Contributions. no. 5, and Catalogue des Publications en Langue Française du Bureau International du Travail, 1919-1950.) (Bureau International du Travail. Bibliothèque. Contributions bibliographiques, no. 6.)

ITO

1. Documents. The Interim Commission for the International Trade Organization (ICITO) is responsible for the Publication of documents of the Interim Commission and also for the publication of documents on behalf of the Contracting Parties to General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT). Documents in the ICITO series are unrestricted. Documents in the GATT series are nearly all restricted at the time of issue.

2. Sales distribution. ICITO and GATT unrestricted documents may be purchased from the ICITO Geneva Office. Printed ICITO publications may also be purchased from agents of United Nations publications (see list on back cover).

3. Free distribution. Unrestricted and restricted ICITO and GATT documents are distributed free to Governments, the United Nations, the specialized agencies, and some inter-governmental organizations. Unrestricted documents only are distributed free to a small group of non-governmental organizations and libraries.

4. Depository libraries. There are no ITO depository libraries as such; but some libraries receive documents free on request.

5. Requests for documents and further information.

UNESCO

1. United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization documents are listed and indexed by the staff of United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization in Paris, and copy is forwarded for inclusion in the United Nations Documents Index. The documents listed are those in the Main Series Category distributed in Paris during the period covered.

A description of the documentation system of UNESCO appears in the issue for January 1952.

2. Sales distribution. It is now possible for everyone to receive all documents intended for distribution to the public, by subscribing to the newly-instituted Documents Subscription Service, at a cost of $30; £10.0.0; 10.000 fr. per annum or the equivalent in local currency.

It has been decided to offer two further services so that those who wish to may receive one copy of everything published by UNESCO. The first of these is the Comprehensive Periodicals Subscription Service, which offers a combined annual subscription to all UNESCO periodicals at a considerable reduction over the total cost of separate subscriptions ($10; £2.10.0; 2.450 fr. per annum).

Subscribers to the two schemes outlined above will be entitled to participate in the Book Subscription Scheme, whereby one copy of each new book will be despatched on publication at the published price (postage extra), payment to be made at the end of each 6-months' period for the total value of the books received during that period. All UNESCO sales agents will accept subscriptions.

A list of UNESCO sales agents appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

3. Depository libraries. Main Series documents may be consulted in the Depository Libraries selected by UNESCO in Member States, of which a list can be obtained on request.

A list of UNESCO depository libraries also appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

4. Requests for further information.

UPU

1. The documents of the Universal Postal Union consist of series and lists providing information on postal matters: records of the various congresses, conferences, commissions and sub-commissions; background papers, in pamphlet form, on the organization; bi-weekly circulars and bulletins for the use of the postal administrations of the Members of the organization, as well as the monthly publication Union Postale. The documents which are published by the International Bureau are brought up to date by means of bulletins and supplements.

2. Sales distribution. The Universal Postal Union does not have sales agents; orders for publications appearing in its "Documents en vente au Bureau International" in Union Postale (Revue mensuelle) should be addressed to the organization.

3. Free distribution. Documents published by the International Bureau are distributed free to the postal administrations of the UPU on a quota basis, and to the United Nations.

4. Depository libraries. None.

5. Requests for documents and further information.

WHO

1. World Health Organization documents are listed and indexed by staff of the organization in Geneva, and copy is forwarded for inclusion in the United Nations Documents Index.

Mimeographed documents are considered as working documents and are not available for general distribution. Documents of the World Health Assembly and the Executive Board are published or summarized in the Official Records of the World Health Organization. Reports of expert committees and other technical advisory bodies are published in the World Health Organization: Technical Report Series.

Original papers, written by WHO experts and consultants on medical and health subjects, although published in the Bulletin of the World Health Organization are indexed and listed in this publication as documents. Reprints of these papers can be obtained.

The Division of Public Information distributes at irregular intervals press releases and articles in the series Special Features which can be obtained on application to:

World Health Organization,
Division of Public Information,
Palais des Nations,
Geneva, Switzerland.

2. Sales distribution. The list of sales agents of WHO publications appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952). All publications are available through these sales agents.

Orders from countries where sales agents have not yet been designated may be sent to:

World Health Organization,
Sales Section,
Palais des Nations,
Geneva, Switzerland.

3. Depository libraries. A list of WHO depository libraries appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

4. Requests for further information. The Division of Public Information publishes monthly a WHO Newsletter intended for non-specialized readers. This publication can be obtained free of charge on request sent to:

World Health Organization,
Division of Public Information,
Palais des Nations,
Geneva, Switzerland.

General Introduction

1. This publication is prepared by the Documents Index Unit of the United Nations Library. It lists all documents and publications received by the Documents Index Unit from the United Nations and specialized agencies, except restricted (confidential) materials and internal papers. In general, each monthly issue covers the documents and publications received by the Unit during that month. Some specialized agencies have assumed responsibility for the information contained in their sections and the listing and indexing of their documents. The documents listed by these agencies are those published at their headquarters during the period covered and are not necessarily available at United Nations headquarters in New York. Periodicals and press release series hitherto listed in the December issue will be listed henceforth, more completely, in the February issue of each volume.
2. Each issue comprises:
 - (a) General Introduction.
 - (b) List of Abbreviations.
 - (c) Lists of Documents and Publications -- a section for the United Nations, followed by a section for each of the specialized agencies in the alphabetical order of their abbreviations: Bank, FAO, Fund, ICAO, etc. Each section is arranged in three parts: (1) a list of documents and publications; (2) revisions, addenda, corrigenda, and non-English language editions, and (3) republications. In each part, materials are arranged as far as possible in alphabetical order by symbol numbers. Only in part (1) are complete bibliographical details given. Parts (2) and (3) are arranged in tabular form, giving only the information needed to identify the documents and publications in these categories.
 - (d) General Index
3. A single General Index covers all documents and publications listed in every section. All references in this index are to the entry numbers in the respective sections. The United Nations list and each of the specialized agencies lists has its own series of entry numbers, each series being consecutive for one calendar year. Entry numbers have been used because of the divergency of practice among the organizations respecting the use and non-use of symbols and sales numbers, and the complexity of direct reference to these symbols or to titles. The indexes in the monthly issues will be cumulated into an annual index at the end of the year.
4. An asterisk (*) distinguishes those documents and publications which summarize the work of an organ, represent the final results of international conferences or research projects, or are works of reference such as bibliographies, handbooks and yearbooks. This minimum selection from thousands of documents and publications is intended to assist the general user in understanding the current work of the organizations and the relevant documentation.
5. A consolidated list of the depository libraries of the United Nations and the specialized agencies appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).
6. A consolidated list of the sales agents of the United Nations and the specialized agencies appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).
7. Information concerning the distribution and sales of documents and publications is contained in the note preceding the list of Documents and Publications of the United Nations and each of the specialized agencies. Detailed information about the documentation systems of the ICAO, ILO, ITU and UNESCO, and the availability of their documents, appears in the introductions to their respective sections in the issue for January 1952. The detailed information on the documentation of the United Nations will be found in the February issue. In future volumes, the expanded introductions will appear in the January issue for each year.
8. When a request for documents from a distribution source is based on information supplied by this publication, it is suggested that the request stipulate that revisions, addenda and corrigenda be included.
9. The specialized agencies are responsible for the distribution and sale of their documents and publications. Requests for these materials or for further information concerning them should therefore be addressed to the specialized agency of issue, not to the Secretariat of the United Nations.
10. The United Nations Documents Index is published monthly at an annual subscription rate of $7.50, 50/Stg., Sw.fr. 30.00 post-free. Single copies are available at $.75, 5/Stg., Sw.fr. 3.00. Subscriptions may be placed with the sales agents of United Nations publications (listed on back cover). Orders and enquiries from other countries may be addressed to the Sales and Circulation Section, United Nations, New York, or to Sales Section, European Office of the United Nations, Geneva, Switzerland.
11. The Documents Index Unit has endeavoured to list and index systematically the documents received from the specialized agencies and to supply pertinent information concerning their distribution and sale. Because information available has been incomplete, supplementary information will be given in later issues.
12. Any suggestions for the improvement of the United Nations Documents Index will be welcome. They should be addressed to the Documents Index Unit, United Nations Library, United Nations, New York.

1. The information below applies to documents and publications of all organs of the United Nations except the International Court of Justice.

2. The place of original distribution or publication is given only for documents and publications issued overseas, whether or not they have also been re-issued at United Nations, New York. Where no place is given, United Nations, New York is understood to be the place of original distribution or publication.

3. By decisions taken at the beginning of 1950 by the Publications Board, the Secretariat publishes all printed Official Records of main organs in fascicle form. Official Records of any session are not issued in bound volumes after the close of the session, but instead the record of each meeting is published separately, as an individual booklet or fascicle, immediately after the close of the meeting. At the end of each session there is issued to each recipient of the records a prefatory fascicle which contains all the material that used to be found in the bound volumes previously issued by the Secretariat - a printed cover, a title page, a table of contents, a list of members attending, initial agenda, and other normal "preliminary matter". For ease of recognition, the fascicles of the opening and closing meetings are so identified in the masthead, and the prefatory fascicle is to be placed before the record of the opening meeting.

4. Prices of printed documents and publications are given in United States dollars. All sales documents and publications are available also in other national currencies through authorized sales agents. A list of authorized sales agents is to be found on the back cover of this publication and also a list of United Nations sales agents appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2

(April 1952). Orders may be sent to:

--	----	---

5. Documents and publications are distributed to Member States, specialized agencies, non-governmental organizations, and depository libraries, under agreed arrangements. Note, however, that documents published outside of United Nations, New York, such as those published in Santiago by ECLA and in Bangkok by ECAFE may be expected to be received later than those originating at Headquarters. Documents of missions in the field are not distributed to depository libraries.

6. The Department of Public Information issues many publications (including press releases) which may be obtained on request by the press, schools, centres of international study, public libraries, and members of the general public. Some other United Nations documents and publications may also be obtained through the Department. Enquiries should be directed to the Department of Public Information, United Nations, New York, or to United Nations Information Centres.

7. Certain mimeographed document series have been sold by subscription. Policy concerning subscriptions to these series is now being reviewed. As soon as policy has been clarified, a statement will be published in a later issue. Further information can be obtained from Sales and Circulation Section, United Nations, New York.

8. A list of United Nations depository libraries appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

ICAO

1. The publications of the International Civil Aviation Organization comprise the Convention on International Civil Aviation and Annexes thereto; Proceedings of the Assembly and the Council; special records of certain sessions of commissions of the Assembly, constituted committees of the Organization, or other representative bodies; regional and technical manuals; reports of divisional, regional, and special meetings; ICAO Circulars; the Index of ICAO Documents; tables of agreements and arrangements; Digests of Statistics; the ICAO Monthly Bulletin, and others. For a detailed list and the pricing of Salable Publications of ICAO: See the Catalogue of Salable Publications, 1946 - 1951, Montreal, 1951.

Except as otherwise indicated, these publications are issued either as Documents or Working Papers.

Descriptive information on documents and working papers, and the meaning of their symbols will be found in the issue for January 1952.

For purposes of grouping by issuing body, the United Nations Documents Index lists documents, with symbol components reversed, the category element of the symbol first. However citation of documents should be made with the symbol in proper order.

2. Sales distribution. Orders for ICAO Publications together with the appropriate remittance should be sent to the Secretary-General, International Civil Aviation Organization, International Aviation Building, 1080 University Street, Montreal, Canada. (Cable address: ICAO Montreal). Orders are payable in Canadian or U.S. Currency, by bank draft or post office money order to the International Civil Aviation Organization.

A list of ICAO sales agents appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

3. Depository libraries. A list of ICAO depository libraries appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

ILO

1. International Labour Organisation documents are listed by the staff of the International Labour Office in Geneva and copy is forwarded for inclusion in the United Nations Documents Index. The International Labour Organisation lists in the United Nations Documents Index all printed documents issued by the Organisation with the exception of publications of the Division of Public Information. As it is the practice of the I.L.O. to reissue processed documents of permanent interest either as separate printed documents or as annexes to Governing Body documents, processed documents are not included in the Index. An exception to this rule is made in the case of Governing Body documents.

Documentation system. A description of the documentation system of the International Labour Organisation appears in the issue for January 1952.

2. Sales distribution. An inclusive subscription to all ILO publications per year is $45.00, £13.10s. Any publication can be purchased individually. Prices are fixed in the currency of each country; full information and publications may be obtained from Branch Offices and national Correspondents of the ILO who act as sales agents in most countries.

3. Free distribution. Processed documents have limited distribution and are not for sale. Those which are considered to have permanent value are reissued later in printed form. All printed documents are for sale.

4. Sources of information. Information about the documents may be obtained from the headquarters of the International Labour Office in Geneva, or from any of the branch offices or correspondents. Printed sales catalogues in English, French and Spanish editions which contain helpful descriptions of the contents of the documents, are issued by the Sales Service in Geneva from time to time. The latest catalogue, listing all documents still in print, was issued in 1948, and was entitled, "Abridged Catalogue of Publications of the International Labour Office, 27th edition". Annual supplements were issued covering documents issued in 1949 and 1950, and one for 1951 will be available shortly.

The Library of the International Labour Office has prepared and issued mimeographed catalogues of all printed documents issued from 1919 to the end of 1950, in English and French. These catalogues are in two parts, the first an alphabetical arrangement by author, subject and title, the second, a checklist classed as suggested in paragraph 2 of this note. They are entitled: Catalogue of Publications in English of the International Labour Office, 1919-1950. (International Labour Office. Library. Bibliographical Contributions. no. 5, and Catalogue des Publications en Langue Française du Bureau International du Travail, 1919-1950.) (Bureau International du Travail. Bibliothèque. Contributions bibliographiques, no. 6.)

ITO

1. Documents. The Interim Commission for the International Trade Organization (ICITO) is responsible for the Publication of documents of the Interim Commission and also for the publication of documents on behalf of the Contracting Parties to General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT). Documents in the ICITO series are unrestricted. Documents in the GATT series are nearly all restricted at the time of issue.

2. Sales distribution. ICITO and GATT unrestricted documents may be purchased from the ICITO Geneva Office. Printed ICITO publications may also be purchased from agents of United Nations publications (see list on back cover).

3. Free distribution. Unrestricted and restricted ICITO and GATT documents are distributed free to Governments, the United Nations, the specialized agencies, and some inter-governmental organizations. Unrestricted documents only are distributed free to a small group of non-governmental organizations and libraries.

4. Depository libraries. There are no ITO depository libraries as such; but some libraries receive documents free on request.

5. Requests for documents and further information.

ITU

1. The documents of the International Telecommunication Union listed below are indexed by staff of the organization in Geneva and copy is forwarded for inclusion in the United Nations Documents Index. A list of the categories of documents produced by the ITU appears in the issue for January 1952.

2. Sales distribution. Orders should be addressed to:

The General Secretariat of the International
Telecommunication Union,
Palais Wilson,
Geneva, Switzerland.

All orders must be accompanied by the amount in Swiss francs. As the General Secretariat of the ITU sells all its publications at cost price, no reduction can be made to booksellers.

3. Sources of information. The list of ITU publications with their prices can be obtained at any time from the General Secretariat. This list is regularly published in the monthly organ of the ITU, the Telecommunication Journal.

UNESCO

1. United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization documents are listed and indexed by the staff of United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization in Paris, and copy is forwarded for inclusion in the United Nations Documents Index. The documents listed are those in the Main Series Category distributed in Paris during the period covered.

A description of the documentation system of UNESCO appears in the issue for January 1952.

2. Sales distribution. It is now possible for everyone to receive all documents intended for distribution to the public, by subscribing to the newly-instituted Documents Subscription Service, at a cost of $30; £10.0.0; 10.000 fr. per annum or the equivalent in local currency.

It has been decided to offer two further services so that those who wish to may receive one copy of everything published by UNESCO. The first of these is the Comprehensive Periodicals Subscription Service, which offers a combined annual subscription to all UNESCO periodicals at a considerable reduction over the total cost of separate subscriptions ($10; £2.10.0; 2.450 fr. per annum).

Subscribers to the two schemes outlined above will be entitled to participate in the Book Subscription Scheme, whereby one copy of each new book will be despatched on publication at the published price (postage extra), payment to be made at the end of each 6-months' period for the total value of the books received during that period. All UNESCO sales agents will accept subscriptions.

A list of UNESCO sales agents appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

3. Depository libraries. Main Series documents may be consulted in the Depository Libraries selected by UNESCO in Member States, of which a list can be obtained on request.

A list of UNESCO depository libraries also appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

UPU

1. The documents of the Universal Postal Union consist of series and lists providing information on postal matters: records of the various congresses, conferences, commissions and sub-commissions; background papers, in pamphlet form, on the organization; bi-weekly circulars and bulletins for the use of the postal administrations of the Members of the organization, as well as the monthly publication Union Postale. The documents which are published by the International Bureau are brought up to date by means of bulletins and supplements.

2. Sales distribution. The Universal Postal Union does not have sales agents; orders for publications appearing in its "Documents en vente au Bureau International" in Union Postale (Revue mensuelle) should be addressed to the organization.

3. Free distribution. Documents published by the International Bureau are distributed free to the postal administrations of the UPU on a quota basis, and to the United Nations.

4. Depository libraries. None.

5. Requests for documents and further information. Address:

Bureau International de l'Union Postale

WHO

1. World Health Organization documents are listed and indexed by staff of the organization in Geneva, and copy is forwarded for inclusion in the United Nations Documents Index.

Mimeographed documents are considered as working documents and are not available for general distribution. Documents of the World Health Assembly and the Executive Board are published or summarized in the Official Records of the World Health Organization. Reports of expert committees and other technical advisory bodies are published in the World Health Organization: Technical Report Series.

Original papers, written by WHO experts and consultants on medical and health subjects, although published in the Bulletin of the World Health Organization are indexed and listed in this publication as documents. Reprints of these papers can be obtained.

The Division of Public Information distributes at irregular intervals press releases and articles in the series Special Features which can be obtained on application to:

World Health Organization,
Division of Public Information,
Palais des Nations,
Geneva, Switzerland.

2. Sales distribution. The list of sales agents of WHO publications appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952). All publications are available through these sales agents.

Orders from countries where sales agents have not yet been designated may be sent to:

World Health Organization,
Sales Section,
Palais des Nations,
Geneva, Switzerland.

3. Depository libraries. A list of WHO depository libraries appears in Volume 3, No. 4, Part 2 (April 1952).

4. Requests for further information. The Division of Public Information publishes monthly a WHO Newsletter intended for non-specialized readers. This publication can be obtained free of charge on request sent to:

World Health Organization,
Division of Public Information,
Palais des Nations,
Geneva, Switzerland.
