Security Council Committee established pursuant to resolution 1718 (2006)*Note verbale dated 10 June 2016 from the Permanent Mission of Spain to the United Nations addressed to the Chair of the Committee

The Permanent Mission of Spain to the United Nations presents its compliments to the Chair of the Security Council Committee established pursuant to resolution 1718 (2006) concerning the Democratic People's Republic of Korea and has the honour to submit herewith the national report of Spain on the implementation of Security Council resolution 2270 (2016) in accordance with paragraph 40 of that resolution (see annex).

Annex to the note verbale of 10 June 2016 from the Permanent Mission of Spain to the United Nations addressed to the Chair of the Committee

Implementation report submitted by Spain to the Security Council pursuant to paragraph 40 of Security Council resolution 2270 (2016)

Introduction

1. The Permanent Mission of Spain to the United Nations presents its compliments to the Chair of the Security Council Committee established pursuant to resolution 1718 (2006) and, pursuant to paragraph 40 of Security Council resolution 2270 (2016), has the honour to submit herewith the report of Spain on the concrete measures taken to ensure effective implementation of the provisions of that resolution.

2. Spain wishes to take this opportunity to reiterate its firm and resolute commitment to the maintenance of international peace and security. As a non-permanent member of the Security Council, Spain strongly supported the establishment of the new package of international sanctions adopted by means of Security Council resolution 2270 (2016) and is firmly committed to implementing those sanctions.

3. In addition, and in line with European Union policies, Spain considers that the attitude shown by the North Korean regime poses a serious threat to international peace and security, and has actively supported the establishment of additional restrictive measures by the European Union.

Legal framework

4. Security Council resolutions establishing international sanctions are incorporated into the relevant European Union legal instruments, namely Common Foreign and Security Policy decisions adopted by the Council of the European Union and the relevant European Union regulations, which are directly applicable in Spain. Moreover, the Council of the European Union may decide to adopt its own additional restrictive measures to complement those agreed by the United Nations. Those additional measures are applicable only within the jurisdiction of the European Union.

5. In response to the nuclear test conducted by the Democratic People's Republic of Korea on 6 January 2016 and the subsequent launches of ballistic missiles, including those launched on 7 February, the Security Council adopted resolution 2270 (2016) imposing fresh international sanctions against the regime of that country and expanding the scope of measures previously adopted.

6. Immediately following the adoption of Security Council resolution 2270 (2016), the European Union adopted Council Decisions (CFSP) 2016/319 and (CFSP) 2016/476 of 4 and 31 March 2016, respectively, amending Decision 2013/183/CFSP concerning restrictive measures against the Democratic People's Republic of Korea and implementing the sanctions regime adopted by the United Nations. In addition, the European Union adopted Commission Implementing Regulation (EU) 2016/315 of 4 March 2016 and Council Regulation (EU) 2016/682 of 29 April 2016 to ensure proper implementation of these measures by the States members of the European Union.

7. Subsequently, on 27 May 2016, the European Union adopted Council Decision (CFSP) 2016/849 which, for the sake of clarity, lists all the measures adopted in the above-mentioned decisions and consolidates those legal texts into a single decision, and imposes additional autonomous restrictive measures adopted by the European Union. Furthermore, on the same date, the European Union adopted Council Regulation (EU) 2016/841 amending Regulation (EC) No. 329/2007 concerning restrictive measures against the Democratic People's Republic of Korea. The provisions of that Regulation are directly applicable in Spain for private economic agents, meaning that it is not necessary to adopt national laws to implement its provisions.

8. However, Spain also has comprehensive national legislation in various areas which are closely related to some of the matters covered by Security Council resolution 2270 (2016) and are therefore relevant to the sanctions regime imposed on North Korea, such as non-proliferation, international trade in certain types of goods and efforts to combat money-laundering.

Measures adopted for the effective implementation of the provisions of Security Council resolution 2270 (2016)

- (a) Measures related to the embargo on conventional weapons and weapons of mass destruction, as well as materials, goods, equipment and related technology (paragraphs 5, 6, 8 and 27)

9. With regard to the decision contained in paragraph 6 of Security Council resolution 2270 (2016) to extend the ban on the direct or indirect supply, sale or transfer to the Democratic People's Republic of Korea of nuclear-related, ballistic missile-related or other weapons of mass destruction-related items, materials, equipment, goods and technology to all arms and related materiel, including small arms and light weapons, Council Decision (CFSP) 2016/849 concerning restrictive measures against the Democratic People's Republic of Korea and repealing Decision 2013/183/CFSP, adopted on 27 May 2016, is applicable.

10. In addition, Spain has its own legislation on the control of foreign trade in defence-related and dual-use materials, which subjects such transactions to strict prior controls and, where the export of such materials is not prohibited, the requirement to obtain the relevant administrative licence from the competent national authority. The applicable national legislation is Act No. 53/2007 of 28 December 2007 on the control of foreign trade in defence-related and dual-use materials and Royal Decree No. 679/2014 of 1 August 2014 approving the Regulations on the control of foreign trade in defence-related material, other material and dual-use items and technology. Currently, and pursuant to the above-mentioned legislation, there is no trade in weapons and related goods between Spain and the Democratic People's Republic of Korea.

11. The above legislation applies to the ban on the direct or indirect supply, sale or transfer to the Democratic People's Republic of Korea of nuclear-related, ballistic missile-related or other weapons of mass destruction-related items, materials, equipment, goods and technology (paragraph 27). In these specific cases, in addition to Council Decision (CFSP) 2016/849 and the provisions of Act No. 53/2007 and Royal Decree No. 679/2014, Council Regulation (EC) No. 428/2009 of 5 May 2009 setting up a Community regime for the control of exports, transfer, brokering and transit of dual-use items is also noteworthy. This Regulation gives member States the power to prevent the brokering of any goods or materials that could be used in connection with a weapons-of-mass-destruction programme in their destination country, or of any dual-use material with possible military use in a State subject to an arms embargo. As a European Union instrument, this Regulation is directly applicable in member States without the need for a national implementation law.

(b) Control of imports and exports (paragraphs 29, 30 and 31)

12. Pursuant to Security Council resolution 2270 (2016), the European Union adopted Council Regulation (EU) 2016/841 of 27 May 2016 amending Regulation (EC) No. 329/2007, which now provides that “It shall be prohibited to (a) import, purchase or transfer gold, titanium ore, vanadium ore and rare-earth minerals, as listed in Annex Ic, or coal, iron and iron ore, as listed in Annex Id, from North Korea, whether or not originating in North Korea; (b) import, purchase or transfer from North Korea petroleum products, as listed in Annex If, whether or not originating in North Korea; and (c) participate, knowingly and intentionally, in activities the object or effect of which is to circumvent the prohibitions referred to in points (a) and (b).”

13. Council Decision (CFSP) 2016/849 and the above-mentioned national legislation on the control of foreign trade are also applicable.

14. Applications for licences are examined on a case-by-case basis by the competent national authority, which shall grant the required export licence only once it has been verified that the conditions established by the relevant national, international and European Union provisions have been met.

15. In the case of exports to countries considered sensitive or subject to an embargo, a strengthened and exhaustive examination is conducted before any licence is granted. Spain has an alert system in place that was established by the Customs and Excise Department, which is the department responsible for identifying both imports from and exports to countries subject to restrictive measures and stopping the customs clearance of the goods concerned. These filters were established for any goods originating in or headed to the Democratic People’s Republic of Korea.

16. The export of such goods without the required licence constitutes an offence in accordance with the criminal legislation in force, in particular Organic Act No. 12/1995 of 12 December 1995 on countering smuggling.

(c) Ban on exporting certain luxury goods (annex IV)

17. The ban on selling, supplying, transferring or exporting, directly or indirectly, certain luxury goods is contained in article 4 of Council Regulation (EC) No. 329/2007 as amended by Council Regulation (EU) 2016/841. The list of specific goods covered by this ban is contained in annex III of that Regulation. Under current Spanish legislation, violating that ban constitutes a criminal offence punishable by law.

(d) Inspection of cargo (paragraph 18)

18. Security Council resolution 2270 (2016) requires all States to inspect the cargo within or transiting through their territory, including in their airports, seaports and free trade zones, that has originated in the Democratic People's Republic of Korea, or that is destined for the Democratic People's Republic of Korea, or has been brokered or facilitated by the Democratic People's Republic of Korea or its nationals, or by individuals or entities acting on their behalf or at their direction, or entities owned or controlled by them, or by designated individuals or entities, or that is being transported on Democratic People's Republic of Korea-flagged aircraft or maritime vessels, for the purposes of ensuring that no items are transferred in violation of resolutions 1718 (2006), 1874 (2009), 2087 (2013), 2094 (2013) and 2270 (2016). This provision was incorporated into Council Regulation (EC) No. 329/2007 concerning restrictive measures against the Democratic People's Republic of Korea, which is directly applicable in Spain, by virtue of its most recent amendment by means of Council Regulation (EU) 2016/841.

19. The Customs and Excise Department is responsible for inspecting vessels and aircraft in accordance with Directive 2009/16/EC. According to the relevant databases, since 1 January 2013, no vessels bearing the flag of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea have been recorded as arriving in Spanish ports.

(e) Ban on entry and travel restrictions

20. Annex I to Security Council resolution 2270 (2016) contains a list of individuals subject to a travel ban. By means of Council Decision (CFSP) 2016/849 and Council Regulation (EU) 2016/841, the European Union has incorporated that list of individuals into its own list of individuals who are banned from entering European Union territory. Together with Council Regulation (EC) No. 539/2001, that Decision and Regulation provide the basis for denying entry to European Union territory.

21. With regard to Spain's policy on foreign nationals, the applicable text is Organic Act No. 4/2000 of 11 January 2000 on the rights and freedoms of aliens in Spain and their social integration.

(f) Transport restrictions (paragraphs 19-22)

22. With regard to maritime restrictions, these measures have little impact given that there is limited maritime traffic between Spain and the Democratic People's Republic of Korea. However, the measures have been duly incorporated into Spanish legislation by means of the relevant European Union instruments.

23. Maritime Navigation is responsible for granting authorization to enter ports located on Spanish territory in accordance with article 7 of Act No. 14/2014 of 24 July 2014.

24. There is currently no direct air connection between Spain and the Democratic People's Republic of Korea and there are no plans to operate commercial flights between the two countries. However, Spain has a licensing department and any future requests relating to flights to or from the Democratic People's Republic of Korea will be subject to the relevant legislation.

(g) Financial measures and asset freezing (paragraphs 10, 12, 15, 23 and 32-38)

25. All financial measures and measures relating to the freezing of funds and assets have been incorporated into Spanish legislation by means of the above-mentioned European Union instruments, which were updated most recently on 27 May 2016. In that regard, annex V to Council Regulation (EC) No. 329/2007 incorporates the list of sanctioned individuals and entities whose funds are to be frozen.

26. In addition, Spain has specific legislation on countering money-laundering and international terrorist financing. Article 42 of Act No. 10/2010 of 28 April 2010 on preventing money-laundering and terrorist financing explicitly mentions the freezing of funds in accordance with international sanctions and is fully applicable to the Democratic People's Republic of Korea.

27. The following table shows the implementation by Spain of certain measures imposed in relation to the Democratic People's Republic of Korea in Security Council resolutions 1718 (2006), 1874 (2009), 2087 (2013), 2094 (2013) and 2270 (2016).

Optional checklist: measures contained in Security Council resolutions 1718 (2006), 1874 (2009), 2087 (2013), 2094 (2013) and 2270 (2016) relevant to Member States' national implementation reports
