1. On 26 May 2008, the National Assembly adopted the Republic of Armenia Law on Combating Money Laundering and Financing of Terrorism. The purpose of this Law is protecting the rights, freedoms, and legitimate interests of the society and the State through the establishment of legal structures for countering money-laundering and terrorism financing, as well as providing legal mechanisms for ensuring stability of the economic system of the Republic of Armenia. This Law regulates the relationships pertaining to combating money-laundering and terrorism financing, defines the system of bodies engaged in combating money-laundering and terrorism financing, the procedures and conditions for cooperation between these bodies, as well as the issues related to the supervision and to the imposition of sanctions in activities against money-laundering and terrorism financing.
2. On 22 March 2005, the National Assembly of the Republic of Armenia adopted the Law on Fight against Terrorism. This law defines the legal and organizational framework of the fight against terrorism in the Republic of Armenia and regulates the relations relating to the conduct of the fight against terrorism. The organization of the fight against terrorism in the Republic of Armenia shall aim at: (a) preventing, detecting, forestalling and curbing the terrorist activities and eliminating the consequences thereof; (b) protecting the humans, the public and the state against terrorism; and (c) detecting and eliminating the causes and conditions sustaining terrorist activities.
3. On 24 June 2004, the Republic of Armenia ratified the European Convention on the Suppression of Terrorism. The Convention is designed to facilitate the extradition of persons having committed acts of terrorism. To this end, it lists the offences that Parties undertake not to consider as political offences, or as offences connected with political offences, or as offences inspired by political motives, namely, acts of particular gravity, hijacking of aircraft, kidnapping and taking of hostages, the use of bombs, grenades, rockets, letter or parcel bombs, if their use endangers persons. Moreover, the Convention empowers Parties not to consider as a political offence any act of violence against the life, physical integrity or liberty of a person. It is expressly provided that nothing in the Convention shall be interpreted as imposing an obligation upon a Party to extradite a person who might then be prosecuted or punished solely on the grounds of race, religion, nationality or political opinion.
4. On 15 March 2004, the Republic of Armenia ratified the International Convention for the Suppression of the Financing of Terrorism. The objective of the Convention is to enhance international cooperation among States in devising and adopting effective measures for the prevention of the financing of terrorism, as well as for its suppression through the prosecution and punishment of its perpetrators.
5. The Republic of Armenia has acceded to the 1990 Council of Europe Convention on Laundering, Search, Seizure and Confiscation of the Proceeds From Crime (ratified by the NA of the RA on 8 October 2003) and the 2005 Council of Europe Convention on Laundering, Search, Seizure and Confiscation of the Proceeds from Crime and on the Financing of Terrorism (ratified by the National Assembly on 18 March 2008). By virtue of accession to the Council of Europe in 2001, the Republic of Armenia has a full member status in the Council of Europe's Committee of Experts on the Evaluation of Anti-Money Laundering Measures and the Financing of Terrorism (MONEYVAL). Since 2006, Armenia gained observer status in the Eurasian Group of Combating Money Laundering and Terrorism Financing.
